sabet, Quene of England, France, & Ireland, &c. Your humble subiects of the English Church at Geneva, wish grace and peace from God the Father through Christ Iesus our Lord.

NOw hard a thing it is, and what great impedimentes let, to enterprise any worthie act, not only dailie experience sufficiently sheweth (moste noble and vertuous Quene) but also that notable prouerbe doeth cōfirme the same, which admonisheth vs, that all thīgs are hard which are faire and excellēt. And what enterprise can there be of greater importance, and more acceptable vnto God, or more worthie of singuler commendation, then the building of the Lords Temple, the house of God, the Church of Christ, where of the Sonne of God is the head and perfection?

When Zerubbabel went about to builde the material Temple, according to the commandement of the Lord, what difficulties and staves daily arose to hinder his worthy indeuours, y books of Ezra & Esdras playnely witnesse: how that not on ly he and the people of God were sore molested with foreyn aduersaries, (whereof some maliciously warred against them, and corrupted the Kings officers: and others craftely practised vnder pretence of religion) but also at home with domesticall enemies, as false Prophetes, craftie worldlings, faint hearted soldiers, and oppressors of their brethren, who aswel by false doctrine and lyes, as by subtil counsel, cowardies, and extortion, discouraged the heartes almoste of all: so that the Lords worke was not only interrupted and left of for a long tyme, but scarcely at the length with great labour and danger after a sort brought to passe.

Which thing when we weigh aright, and consider earnestly how much greater charge God hath laid vpon you in making you a builder of his spiritual Temple, we can not but partely feare, & knowing the crafte and force of Satan our spiritual enemy, and the weakenes and vnabilitie of this our nature: and partely be feruent in our prayers toward God that he wolde bring to perfection this noble worke which he hath begon by you: and therefore we indeuour our selues by all meanes to ayde, & to bestowe our whole force vnder your graces standard, whome God hath made as our Zerubbabel for the erecting of this moste excellent Temple, and to plant and maynteyn his holy worde to the aduancement of his glorie, for your owne honour and saluatiō of your soule, and for the singuler comfort of that great flocke which Christ Iesus the great shepherd hath bought with his precious blood, and committed vnto your charge to be fed both in body and soule.

Considering therefore how many enemies there are, which by one meanes or other, as the aduersaries of Iudah and Benjamin went about to stay the building of that Temple, so labour to hinder the course of this building (whereof some are Papistes, who vnder pretence of fauoring Gods worde, traiterously seke to erect idolatrie and to destroy your maiestie: some are worldlings, who as Demas haue forsake Christ for the loue of this worlde: others are ambitious prelates, who as Amasiah & Diotrophes can abide none but them selues: and as Demetrius many practised sedition to maynteyne their errors) we perswaded our selues that there was no way so expedient and necessarie for the preservation of the one, and destruction of

orde for y mayntenace of Gods

the other, as to present vnto your Maiestie the holy Scriptures faithfully and playnely translated according to the langages wherein thei were first written by the holy Gost. For the worde of God is an euident token of Gods loue and our assurance of his defence, wheresoeuer it is obediently receyued: it is the trial of the spirits: and as the Prophet saith, It is as a fyre and hammer to breake the stonie heartes of them that resist Gods mercies offered by the preaching of the same. Yea it is sharper then any two edged sworde to examine the very thoghtes and to iudge the affections of the heart, and to discouer whatsoeuer lyeth hid vnder hypocrisie and wolde be secret from the face of God and his Church. So that this must be the first fundacion and groundworke, according whereunto the good stones of this building must be framed, and the euil tried out and reiected.

Now as he that goeth about to lay a fundacion surely, first taketh away suche impedimentes, as might iustely ether hurt, let or difforme the worke: so is it necessarie that your graces zeale appeare herein, that nether the craftie persuation of man, nether worldly policie, or natural feare dissuade you to roote out, cut downe and destroy these wedes and impedimentes which do not only deface your building, but vtterly indeuour, yea & threaten the ruine thereof. For when the noble Iosias entreprised the like kinde of worke, among other notable and many things he destroyed, not only with vtter confusion the idoles with their appertinances, but also burnt (in signe of detestatiō) the idolatrous priests bones vpon their altars, and put to death the false prophetes and sorcerers, to performe the wordes of the Lawe of God: and therefore the Lord gaue him good successe & blessed him wonderfully, so long as he made Gods worde his line and rule to followe, and enterprised nothing before he had inquired at the mouth of the Lord.

And if these zealous begynnings seme dangerous and to brede disquietnes in your dominions, yet by the storie of King Afa it is manifest, that the quietnes and peace of kingdomes standeth in the vtter abolishing of idolatrie, and in aduancing of true religion: for in his dayes Iudah lyued in rest and quietnes for the space of fyue and thirtie yere, til at length he began to be colde in the zeale of the Lord, feared the power of man, imprisoned the Prophet of God, and oppressed the people: then the Lord sent him warres, & at length toke him away by death.

Wherefore great wisdom, not worldelie, but heauenly is here required, which your grace must earnestly craue of the Lord, as did Salomon, to whome God gaue an vnderstanding heart to iudge his people aright, and to discerne betwene good and bad. For if God for the furnishing of the olde temple gaue the Spirit of wisdom & vnderstanding to them that shulde be the workemen thereof, as to Bezael, Aholiab, and Hiram: how much more wil he indewe your grace and other godly princes and chefe gouernours with a principal Spirit, that you may procure and commande things necessarie for this moste holy Temple, forese and take hede of things that might hinder it, and abolish and destroy whatsoeuer might impere and ouerthrowe the same?

Moreouer the maruelous diligence and zeale of Iehoshaphat, Iosiah, and Hezekiah are by the singuler prouidence of God left as an example to all godly rulers to reforme their countreys and to establiish the worde of God with all spede, lest the wrath of the Lord fall vpon them for the neglecting thereof. For these excellent Kings did not onely imbrace the worde promptly and ioyfully, but also procured earnestly and commanded the same to be taught, preached and maynteyned through all their countreys and dominions, bynding them and all their subiectes bothe great and smale with solemne protestations and couenantes before God to obey the worde, and to walke after the waies of the Lord. Yea and in the daies of of Kyng Asa it was enacted that whosoever wolde not seke the Lord God of Israel, shulde be slayne, whether he were smale or great, man or woman. And for the establishing hereof and performance of this solemne othe, as well Priests as Iudges were appointed and placed through all the cities of Iudah to instruct the people in the true knollage and feare of God, and to minister iustice according to the worde, knowing that, except God by his worde dyd reigne in the heartes and soules, all mans diligence and indeuors were of none effect: for without this worde we can not discerne betwene iustice, and iniurie, protection and oppression, wisdom and foolishnes, knollage and ignorance, good and euil. Therefore the Lord, who is the chefe gouernour of his Church, willeth that nothing be attempted before we haue inquired thereof at his mouth. For seing he is our God, of duetie we must giue him this preeminence, that of our selues we entreprise nothing, but that which he hath appointed, who only knoweth all things, and gouerneth them as may best serue to his glorie and our saluation. We ought not therefore to preuent him, or do any thing without his worde, but as sone as he hath reueiled his wil, immediately to put it in execution.

Now as concerning the maner of this building, it is not according to man, nor after the wisdom of the flesh, but of the Spirit, & according to the worde of God, whose waies are diuers from mans waies. For if it was not lawfull for Moses to build the material Tabernacle after any other sorte then God had shewed him by a pattern, nether to prescribe any other ceremonies & lawes then suche as the Lord had expressely commaded: how can it be lawfull to procede in this spiritual building any other waies, then Iesus Christ the Sonne of God, who is bothe the fundacion, head and chief corner stone thereof, hath commanded by his worde? And for as muche as he hath established and left an order in his Church for the building vp of his body, appointing some to be Apostles, some Prophetes, others Euangelistes, some pastors, and teachers, he signifieth that euery one according as he is placed in this body which is the Church, ought to inquire of his ministres concerning the wil of the Lord, which is reueiled in his worde. For thei are, saith Ieremiah, as the mouth of the Lord: yea he promiseth to be with their mouth, & that their lippes shal kepe knollage, & that the trueth & the law shalbe in their mouth. For it is their office chesely to vnderstand the Scriptures & teache them. For this cause the people of Israel in matters of difficultie vsed to aske the Lord ether by the Prophetes, or by the meanes of the hie Priest, who bare Vrim & Thummim, which were tokens of light & knollage, of holines & perfectio which shulde be in the hie Priest. Therefore when Iehoshaphat toke this order in the Church of Israel, he appointed Amariah to be the chief concerning the worde of God, because he was moste expert in the law of the Lord, and colde gyue counsell and gouerne according vnto the same. Els there is no degre or office which may haue that autoritie and priuiledge to decise concerning Gods worde, except withall he hath the Spirit of God, and sufficient knollage and iudgement to define according thereunto. And as euery one is indued of God with greater giftes, so ought he to be herein chesely heard, or at least that without the expresse worde none be heard: for he that hath not the worde, speaketh not by the mouthe of the Lord. Agayne, what danger it is to do any thing, seme it neuer so godly or necessarie, without consulting with Gods mouth, the examples of the Israelites, deceiued hereby through the Gibeonites: and of Saul, whose intention semed good and necessarie: and of Iosiah also, who for great considerations was moued for the defence of true religion & his people, to fight against Pharaoh Necho King of Egypt, may sufficiently admonish vs.

Last of all (moste gracious Quene) for the aduancement of this building and rearing vp of the worke, two things are necessarie, First, that we haue a lyuely & stedfast faith in Christ Iesus, who must dwell in our heartes, as the only meanes and assurance of our saluation: for he is the ladder that reacheth from the earth to heauen: he lifteth vp his Church and setteth it in the heauenly places: he maketh vs lytely stones and buildeth vs vpon him selfe: he ioyneth vs to him selfe as the members and body to the head: yea he maketh him selfe and his Church one Christ. The next is, that our faith bring forth the good fruites, so that our godly conuersation may serue vs as a witness to confirme our election, and be an example to all others to walke as apperteyneth to the vocation whereunto they are called: lest the worde of God be euil spoken of, and this building be stayed to growe vp to a iust height, which can not be without the great prouocation of Gods iuste vengeance and discouraging of many thousandes through all the worlde, if they shulde see that our life were not holy and agreeable to our profession. For the eyes of all that feare God in all places beholde your countreyes as an example to all that beleue, and the prayers of all the godly at all tymes are directed to God for the preseruatiō of your maiestie. For considering Gods wonderful mercies toward you at all seasons, who hath pulled you out of the mouthe of the lyons, and how that from your youth you haue bene broght vp in the holy Scriptures, the hope of all men is so increased, that they can not but looke that God shulde bring to passe some wonderful worke by your grace to the vniuersal comfort of his Church. Therefore euen aboue strength you must shewe your selfe strong and bolde in Gods matters: and thogh Satan lay all his power and craft together to hurt and hinder the Lorders building: yet be you assured that God wil fight from heauen against this great dragon, the ancient serpent, which is called the deuil and Satan, til he haue accomplished the whole worke and made his Church glorious to him selfe, without spot or wrinkle. For albeit all other kingdomes and monarchies, as the Babylonians, Persians, Grecians & Romaines haue fallen & taken end: yet the Church of Christ euen vnder the Crosse hath from the begynning of the worlde bene victorious, and shalbe euerlastingly. Trueth it is, that sometyme it semeth to be shadowed with a cloude, or driuen with a stormie persecution, yet suddenly the beames of Christ the sunne of iustice shine and bring it to light and libertie. If for a tyme it lie couered with ashes, yet it is quickly kindled agayne by the wynde of Gods Spirit: thogh it seme drowned in the sea, or parched and pyned in the wildernes, yet God giueth euer good successe. for he punisheth the enemies, and deliuereth his, nourisheth them and stil preserueth them vnder his wyngs. This Lord of lorders & King of kings who hath euer defended his, strengthē, cōfort and preserue your maiestie, that you may be able to builde vp the ruines of Gods house to his glorie, the discharge of your conscience, and to the comfort of all them that loue the comming of Christ Iesus our Lord.

TO OVR BELOVED IN

THE LORD THE BRETHREN OF ENgland, Scotland, Ireland, &c. Grace, mercie and peace, through Christ Iesus.

BEsidēs the manifolde and continual benefites which almightie God bestoweth vpon vs, bothe corporal and spiritual, we are especially bounde (deare brethren) to giue him thanks without ceasing for his great grace and vnspeakable mercies, in that it hath pleased him to call vs vnto this meruelous light of his Gospel, & mercifully to regarde vs after so horrible backesliding and falling away from Christ to Antichrist, from light to darcknes, from the liuing God to dumme and dead idoles, & that after so cruel murder of Gods Saintes, as alas, hath bene among vs, we are not altogether cast of, as were the Israelites, and many others for the like, or not so manifest wickednes, but receyued agayne to grace with moſte euident signes and tokens of Gods especial loue and fauour. To the intent therefore that we may not be vnmyndeful of these great mercies, but seke by all meanes (according to our duetie) to be thankful for the same, it behoueth vs so to walke in his feare and loue, that all the daies of our life we may procure the glorie of his holy name. Now forasmuche as this thing chesely is atteyned by the knollage and practising of the worde of God (which is the light to our paths, the keye of the kingdome of heauen, our comfort in affliction, our shielde and sworde against Satan, the schoole of all wisdome, the glasse wherein we beholde Gods face, the testimonie of his fauour, and the only foode and nourishment of our soules) we thought that we coulde bestowe our labours & studie in nothing which coulde be more acceptable to God and comfortable to his Church then in the translating of the holy Scriptures into our natie tongue: the which thing, albeit that diuers heretofore haue indeuored to atchieue: yet considering the infancie of those tymes and imperfect knollage of the tongues, in respect of this ripe age and cleare light which God hath now reueiled, the translations required greatly to be perused and reformed. Not that we vendicat any thing to our selues aboue the least of our brethren (for God knoweth with what feare and trembling we haue bene now, for the space of two yeres and more day and night occupied herein) but being earnestly desired, and by diuers, whose learning and godlynes we reuerence, exhorted, and also encouraged by the ready willes of suche, whose heartes God likewise touched, not to spare any charges for the furtherance of suche a benefite and fauour of God toward his Church (thogh the tyme then was moſte dangerous and the persecution sharpe and furious) we submitted our selues at length to their godly iudgements, and seing the great oportunitie and occasions, which God presented vnto vs in this Church, by reason of so many godly and learned men: and suche diuersities of translations in diuers tongues, we vndertoke this great and wonderful worke (with all reuerence, as in the presence of God, as intreating the worde of God, whereunto we thinke our selues vnsufficient) which now God according to his diuine prouidence and mercie hath directed to a moſte prosperous end. And this we may with good conscience protest, that we haue in euery point and worde, according to the measure of that knollage which it pleased al mightie God to giue vs, faithfully rendred the text, and in all hard places moſte sincerely expounded the same. For God is our witnes that we haue by all meanes indeuored to set forthe the puritie of the worde and right sense of the holy Gost for the edifying of the brethren in faith and charitie.

Now as we haue chiefly obserued the sense, and laboured alwaies to restore it to all integritie: so haue we moſte reuerently kept the proprietie of the wordes, considering that the Apostles who spake and wrote to the Gentiles in the Greke tongue, rather conſtrayned them to the liuely phrase of the Ebrewe, then entreprised farre by mollifying their langage to speake as the Gentils did. And for this and other causes we haue in many places reserued the Ebrewe phrases, notwithstanding that thei may seme somewhat hard in their eares that are not wel practised and also delite in the swete sounding phrases of the holy Scriptures. Yet lest ether the simple shulde be discouraged, or the malicious haue any occasion of iust cauillation, seing some translations read after one sort, and some after another, whereas all may serue to good purpose and edification, we haue in the margent noted that diuersitie of speache or reading which may also seme agreeable to the mynde of the holy Gost and propre for our langage with this marke.

A gayne where as the Ebrewe speache semed hardly to agre with ours, we haue noted it in the margent after this sort, vsing that which was more intelligible. And albeit that many of the Ebrewe names be altered from the olde text, and restored to the true writing and first original, whereof thei haue their signification, yet in the vsual names litle is changed for feare of troubling the simple readers. Moreouer whereas the necessitie of the sentence required any thing to be added (for suche is the grace and proprietie of the Ebrewe and Greke tongues, that it can not but ether by circumlocution, or by adding the verbe or some worde be vnderstand of them that are not wel practised therein) we haue put it in the text with another kynde of lettre, that it may easely be discerned from the common lettre. As touching the diuision of the verses, we haue followed the Ebrewe examples, which haue so euen from the begynning distinct them. Which thing as it is moste profitable for memorie: so doeth it agre with the best translations, & is moste easie to finde out both by the best Concordances, and also by the cotations which we haue dilygently herein perused and set forth by this starre *. Besides this the principal matters are noted and distincted by this marke ¶. Yea and the argumentes bothe for the booke and for the chapters with the nombre of the verse are added, that by all meanes the reader might be holpen. For the which cause also we haue set ouer the head of euery page some notable worde or sentence which may greatly further aswel for memorie, as for the chief point of the page. And considering how hard a thing it is to vnderstand the holy Scriptures, and what errors, sectes and heresies growe dailie for lacke of the true knollage thereof, and how many are discouraged (as thei pretend) because thei can not atteine to the true and simple meaning of the same, we haue also indeuored bothe by the diligent reading of the best commentaries, and also by the conference with the godly and learned brethren, to gather brief annotations vpon all the hard places, aswel for the vnderstanding of suche wordes as are obscure, and for the declaratiō of the text, as for the application of the same as may moste apperteine to Gods glorie and the edification of his Church. Forthermore whereas certeyne places in the bookes of Moses, of the Kings and Ezekiel semed so darke that by no description thei colde be made easie to the simple reader, we haue so set them forth with figures and notes for the ful declaration thereof, that thei which can not by iudgement, being holpen by the annotations noted by the letters a b c. &c. atteyn thereunto, yet by the perspectiue, and as it were by the eye may sufficiently knowe the true meaning of all suche places. Whereunto also we haue added certeyne mappes of Cosmographie which necessarily serue for the perfect vnderstanding and memorie of diuers places and countreys, partely described, and partely by occasion touched, bothe in the olde and newe Testament. Finally that nothing might lacke which might be bought by labors, for the increase of knowlage and fortherance of Gods glorie, we haue adioyned two moste profitable tables, the one seruing for the interpretation of the Ebrewe names: and the other conteyning all the chiefe and principal matters of the whole Bible: so that nothing (as we trust) that any colde iustly desire, is omitted. Therefore, as brethren that are partakers of the same hope and saluation with vs, we beseeche you, that this riche perle and inestimable treasure may not be offred in vayne, but as sent from God to the people of God, for the increase of his kingdome, the comfort of his Church, and discharge of our conscience, whome it hath pleased him to raise vp for this purpose, so you wolde willingly receyue the worde of God, earnestly studie it and in all your life practise it, that you may now appeare in dede to be the people of God, not walking any more according to this worlde, but in the frutes of the Spirit, that God in vs may be fully glorified through Christ Iesus our Lord, who lyueth and reigneth for euer. Amen. From Geneva, 10. April. 1560.

THE FIRST BOKE OF

Moses, called * Genesis.

THE ARGUMENT.

MOSESES in effect declareth the things, which are here chiefly to be considered: First, that the worlde & all things therein were created by God, & that man being placed in this great tabernacle of the worlde to beholde Gods wonderful workes, & to praise his Name for the infinite graces, wherewith he had endued him, fel willingly from God through disobedience: who yet for his owne mercies sake restored him to life, & confirmed him in the same by his promes of Christ to come, by whome he shulde overcome Satan, death and hel. Secondely, that the wicked, vnmindful of Gods moste excellent benefites, remained stil in their wickednes, & so falling moste horribly from sinne to sinne, prouoked God (who by his preachers called them continually to repentance) at length to destroye the whole worlde. Thirdly, he assureth vs by the exampls of Abraham, Isaac, Iacob & the rest of the Patriarkes, that his mercies neuer faile them; whome he chuseth to be his Church, and to professe his Name in earth, but in all their afflictions and persecutions he euer assisteth them, sendeth comforte, & deliuereth them. And because the beginning, increase, preseruacion and successe thereof might be onely attributed to God, Moses sheweth by the examples of Cain, Ishmael, Esau and others, which were noble in mans iudgement, that this Church dependeth not on the estimation and nobilitie of the worlde: and also by the fewenes of them, which haue at all times worshipped him purely according to his worde, that it standeth not in the multitude, but in the poore and despised, in the smale flocke and litle number, that man in his wisdom might be confounded, & the Name of God euer more praised.

CHAP. I.

1 God created the heauen & the earth, 2 The light & the darkenes, 3 The firmament. 4 He separateth the water from the earth 5 He createth the sunne, the moone, & the starres. 6 He createth the fish, birdes, beastes. 7 He createth man and giueth him rule ouer all creatures, 8 And prouideth nourishment for man and beast.

IN THE beginning * God created y heauen and the earth.
And the earth was without forme & voyde, and <sup>c</sup> darkenes was vpon the depe, & the Spirit of God <sup>d</sup> moued vpon the waters.

3 Then God said, * Let there be light: and there was <sup>c</sup> light.

4 And God sawe y light that it was good, and God separated the light from the darkenes.

5 And God called the light, Day, and the darkenes, he called Night. || So the euenig and the morning were the first day.

6 ¶ Againe God said, * Let there be <sup>a</sup> firmament in the middes of the waters: and let it separate the waters from the waters.

7 Then God made the firmament, & parted the waters, which were <sup>f</sup> vnder the firmament, from the waters which were <sup>a</sup> about the firmament, and it was so.

8 And God called the firmament, <sup>b</sup> Hea-
uen. || So the euenig and the morning were the seconde day.

9 ¶ God said againe, * Let the waters vnder the heauē be gathered into one place, & let the drye land appeare, and it was so.

10 And God called the drye land, Earth, & he called y gathering together of the waters, Seas: & God sawe that it was good.

11 Then God said, <sup>h</sup> Let the earth budde forthe the budde of the herbe, that sedeth sede, the fruteful tre, w beareth frute according to his kinde, which maie haue his sede in it self vpon the earth. & it was so.

12 And the earth brought forth the budde of the herbe, that sedeth sede accordig to his kinde, also the tre that yeldeth frute, w hathe his sede in it selfe according to his kinde: & God <sup>i</sup> sawe that it was good.

13 || So the euenig and the morning were the third daie.

14 ¶ And God said, * Let there be <sup>k</sup> lightes in the firmament of the heauen, to <sup>l</sup> separate the daie from the night, & let them be for <sup>m</sup> signes, and for seasons, and for daies and yerres.

15 And let them be for lightes in the firmament of the heauen to giue light vpo the earth, and it was so.

16 God then made two <sup>n</sup> great lightes: the greater light <sup>o</sup> to rule the daie, & the lesse light to rule <sup>y</sup> night: he made also <sup>p</sup> starres.

17 And God set them in the firmament of the heauen, to shine vpon the earth, 18 And to <sup>q</sup> rule in the daie, & in the night, and to separate the light from the darkenes: and God sawe that it was good.

19 || So the euenig and the morning were the fourth daie.

21 Then God created the great whales, & euerie thing liuing & mouing, w the <sup>v</sup> waters brought forth in abundāce, accordig to their kinde, & euerie feathered soule according to his kinde: & God sawe that it was good.

Or, the original beginning.

22 Then God blessed them, saying, Bring forth the frute and multiplie, and fil the waters in the seas, & let the foule multiplie in the earth.

23 So the euening & the morning were the fift day.

24 ¶ Moreouer God said, Let the earth bring forth the liuing thing according to his kinde, cattel, & that which crepeth, & the beast of the earth, according to his kinde, and it was so.

25 And God made y beast of the earth according to his kinde, and the cattel according to his kinde, & euerie creping thing of y earth according to his kinde: & God sawe that it was good.

26 Furthermore God said, ¶ Let vs make man in our image according to our likenes, and let them rule ouer the fish of the sea, and ouer the foule of the heauen, and ouer the beastes, & ouer all the earth, and ouer euerie thing that crepeth & moueth on the earth.

27 ¶ Thus God created the man in his image: in the image of God created he him: he created them male and female.

28 And God blessed them, and God said to them, ¶ Bring forth the frute and multiplie, and fil the earth, and subdue it, and rule ouer the fish of the sea and ouer the foule of the heauen, & ouer euerie beast that moueth vpon the earth.

29 And God said, Beholde, I haue giuen vnto you euerie herbe bearing sēde, which is vpon all the earth, & euerie tre, wherein is the frute of a tre bearing sēde: that shalbe to you for meat.

30 Likewise to euerie beast of the earth, and to euerie foule of the heauen, & to euerie thing that moueth vpon the earth, which hath life in it selfe, euerie grene herbe shalbe for meat, and it was so.

31 ¶ And God sawe all that he had made, & lo, it was very good. ¶ So the euening and the morning were the sixt day.

CHAP. II

God resteth the seuenth day, and sanctifieth it. 1. He setteth man in the garden. 2. He createth the womā. 3. Marriage is ordeined.

1 Thus the heauens and the earth were finished, & all the holte of them.

2 For in the seuenth day God ended his worke which he had made, & the seuenth daye he rested from all his worke, which he had made.

3 So God blessed the seuenth day, & sanctified it, because that in it he had rested from all his worke, which God had created and made.

4 ¶ These are the generacions of the heauens & of the earth, when they were created, in the day that the Lord God made the earth and the heauens,

5 And euerie plant of the field, before it was in the earth, and euerie herbe of the field, before it grewe: for the Lord God had not caused it to raine vpo the earth,

6 But a myst went vp from the earth, and watred all the earth.

7 ¶ The Lord God also made the mā of the dust of the ground, and breathed in his face breath of life, and the man was a liuing soule.

8 And the Lord God plāted a garden Eastwarde in Eden, and there he put the man whome he had made.

9 (For out of the ground, made the Lord God, to growe euerie tre pleasant to the sight, and good for meat: the tre of life also in the middes of the garden, and the tre of knowledge of good and of euil.

10 And out of Eden went a riuer to water the garden, and from thence it was deuided, and became into foure heades.

11 The name of one is Pishon: the same compasseth the whole land of Hauilah, where is golde.

12 And the golde of that land is good: there is also bdellium, and the onix stone.

13 And the name of the secōde riuer is Gihon: the same compasseth the whole land of Cush.

14 The name also of y third riuer is Hiddekel: this goeth towarde the Eastside of Asshur: and the fourth riuer is Perath).

15 ¶ Then the Lord God toke the man, and put him into the garden of Eden, that he might dresse it and kepe it.

16 And the Lord God commanded the man, saying, Thou shalt eat frely of euerie tre of the garden, 17 But as touching the tre of knowledge of good and euil, thou shalt not eat of it: for whensoever thou eatest thereof, thou shalt dye the death.

18 Also the Lord God said, It is not good that the man shulde be him selfe alone: I wil make him an helpe more for him.

19 So the Lord God formed of the earth euerie beast of the field, and euerie foule of the heauen, & broght them vnto the mā to se how he wolde call the: for howsoever the man named the liuing creature, so was the name thereof.

20 The man therefore gaue names vnto all cattel, and to the foule of the heauen, and to euerie beast of the field: but for Adam founde he not an helpe more for him.

21 ¶ Therefore the Lord God caused an heauie slepe to fall vpon the man: & whiles he slept, he toke one of his rybbes and closed vpo the flesh in steade thereof.

22 And the rybbe which the Lord God had taken from the man, made he a woman, and broght her to the man.

Because mention is made in the tenth verse of this seconde chapter of the river that watered the garden, we must note that Euphrates and Tygris called in Hebrew Perath and Hiddekel; were called but one river where they joyned together, els they had foure heades: that is, two as their springs, & two where they fell into the Persian sea. In this country and moste plentiful land Adam dwelt, and this was called Paradise: that is, a garden of pleasure, because of the frutesfulness and abundance thereof. And whereas it is said that Pishon compasseth the land of Haulah, it is meant of Tygris, which in some place, as it passed by divers places, was called by sundry names, as some time Diglito, in other places Pasitigris, & of some Phasin or Pishon. Likewise Euphrates towarde the country of Cush or Ethiopia, or Arabia was called Gihon. So that Tygris and Euphrates (which were but two rivers, and some time when they joyned together, were called after one name) were according to divers places called by these foure names, so that they might seeme to have bene foure divers rivers.

CHAP. III.

NOW the serpent was more subtil then any beast of the field, which the Lord God had made: and he said to the woman, Yea, hath God in dede said, Ye shall not eat of every tree of the garden? And the woman said unto the serpent, We eat of the frute of the trees of the garden, But of the frute of the tree, which is in the middes of the garden, God hath said, Ye shall not eat of it, neither shall ye touche it, lest ye dye.

4 Then the serpent said to the woman, Ye shall not dye at all, But God doth knowe, that when ye shall eat thereof, your eyes shall be opened, & ye shall be as gods, knowing good and euil. So the woman (seeing that the tree was good for meat, and that it was pleasant to the eyes, & a tree to be desired to get knowledge) took of the frute thereof, and did eat, and gave also to her husband with her, and he did eat.

7 Then the eyes of them both were opened, & they knewe that they were naked, and they sewed fig tree leaves together, and made them selves breeches.

the Lord God walking in the garden in the coole of the day, and the man and his wife hid them selues from the presence of the Lord God among the trees of the garden.

9 But the Lord God called to the man, and said vnto him, Where art thou?

10 Who said, I heard thy voyce in the garden, and was afraied: because I was naked, therefore I hid my self.

11 And he said, Who tolde thee, that thou wast naked? Hast thou eaten of the tre, whereof I commanded thee that thou shuldest not eat in no case?

12 Then the man said, The woman which thou gauest to be with me, she gaue me of the tre, and I did eat.

13 And the Lord God said to the woman, Why hast thou done this? And the woman said, The serpent beguyled me, and I did eat.

14 ¶ Then the Lord God said to the serpent, Because thou hast done this, thou art cursed aboue all cattel, and aboue euery beast of the field: vpon thy belly shalt thou go, and dust shalt thou eat all the dayes of thy life.

15 I wil also put enimitie betwene thee and the woman, & betwene thy seede & her seede. He shal breake thine head, & thou shalt bruise his heele.

16 ¶ Vnto the woman he said, I wil greatly increase thy sorowes, & thy conceptions, In sorowe shalt thou bring forth the childre, and thy desire shal be subiect to thine husband, and he shal rule ouer thee.

17 ¶ Also to Adám he said, Because thou hast obeyed the voyce of thy wife, and hast eaten of the tre (whereof I commanded thee, saying, Thou shalt not eat of it) cursed is the earth for thy sake: in sorowe shalt thou eat of it all the dayes of thy life.

18 ¶ Thornes also, and thistles shal it bring forth to thee, and thou shalt eat the herbe of the field.

19 In the sweat of thy face shalt thou eat bread, til thou returne to the earth: for out of it wast thou taken, because thou art dust, and to dust shalt thou returne.

20 (And the man called his wiues name Heuáh; because she was the mother of all liuing)

21 Vnto Adám also and to his wife did the Lord God make coates of skinnies, and clothed them.

¶ And the Lord God said, Beholde, the man is become as one of vs, to knowe good and euil. And now lest he put forth his hand, and take also of the tre of life and eat and liue for euer, 23 Therefore the Lord God sent him forth from the garden of Eden, to til the earth, whence he was taken.

24 Thus he cast out man, and at the Eastside of the garden of Eden he set the Cherubims, and the blade of a sworde shaken, to kepe the waye of the tre of life.

¶ Afterwarde the man knewe Heuáh his wife, which conceiued & bare Káin, & said, I haue obtained a man by the Lord. And againe she brought forth his brother Hábel, and Hábel was a keeper of shepe, & Káin was a tiller of the grounde.

¶ And in processe of time it came to passe, that Káin brought an oblation vnto the Lord of the frute of the grounde.

¶ And Hábel also him selfe brought of the first frutes of his shepe, and of the fat of them, and the Lord had respect vnto Hábel, and to his offering,

But vnto Káin and to his offering he had no regarde: wherefore Káin was exceeding wroth, & his countenance fel downe.

¶ Then the Lord said vnto Káin, Why art thou wroth? and why is thy countenance cast downe?

If thou do wel, shalt thou not be accepted? and if thou doest not wel, sinne lieth at the dore: also vnto thee his desire shal be subiect, and thou shalt rule ouer him.

¶ Then Káin spake to Hábel his brother. And when they were in the field, Káin rose vp against Hábel his brother, and slewe him.

¶ Then the Lord said vnto Káin, Where is Hábel thy brother? Who answered, I can not tel. Am I my brothers keeper?

¶ Again he said, What hast thou done? the voyce of thy brothers blood cryeth vnto me from the grounde.

¶ Now therefore thou art cursed from the earth, which hath opened her mouth to receiue thy brothers blood from thine hand.

¶ When thou shalt til the grounde, it shal not henceforth yelde vnto thee her strength: a vagabonde and a renegade shalt thou be in the earth.

¶ Then Káin said to the Lord, My punishment is greater, then I can beare.

¶ Beholde, thou hast cast me out this day from the earth, and from thy face shal I be hid, and shal be a vagabonde and a renegade in the earth, & whosoever findeth me, shal slaye me.

¶ Then the Lord said vnto him, Douteles whosoever slayeth Káin, he shal be punished seven folde. And the Lord set a marke vpon Káin, lest anie man finding him shulde kil him.

¶ Then Káin went out from the presence of the Lord and dwelt in the land of Nod towards the Eastside of Eden.

because he did punish him so sharply. Or, my fate is greater then I can beare.

17 Káin also knewe his wife, which cōceiued and bare Henóch: and he buylt a citie and called the name of the citie by the name of his sonne, Henóch.

18 And to Henóch was borne Irád, and Irád begate Mehuiáel, and Mehuiáel begate Methushaél, and Methushaél begate Láméch.

19 ¶ And Láméch toke to him two wiues: the name of the one was Adáh, and the name of the other Zilláh.

20 And Adáh bare Iabál, who was the father of suche as dwel in the tentes, and of suche as haue cattel.

21 And his brothers name was Iubál, who was the father of all that playe on the harpe and organes.

22 And Zilláh also bare Tubal-káin, who wrought cunningly euerie crafte of brasle and of yron: and the sister of Tubal-káin was Naamáh.

23 Then Láméch said vnto his wiues Adáh and Zilláh, Heare my voyce, ye wiues of Láméch: hearken vnto my speche: for I wolde slaye a man in my woude, & a yong man in mine hurt.

24 If Káin shalbe auenged seuen folde, truly Láméch, seuentie times seuen folde.

25 ¶ And Adám knewe his wife againe, and she bare a sonne, and she called his name Sheth: for God, said she, hath appointed me another seide for Hábel, because Káin slewe him.

26 And to the same Sheth also there was borne a sonne, and he called his name Enósh. Then began men to call vpon the Name of the Lord.

CHAP. V.

The genealogie: s Age and death of Adám, & His succession vnto Noah and his children.

THIS is the booke of the generacions of Adám. In the day that God created Adám, in the likenes of God made he him, Male and female created he the, & blessed them, and called their name Adám in the day that they were created.

¶ Now Adám liued an hūdreth and thirtie yeres and begate a childe in his owne likenes after his image, and called his name Sheth.

¶ And the dayes of Adám, after he had begotten Sheth, were eight hundreth yeres, and he begate sonnes and daughters.

So all the dayes that Adám liued, were nine hundreth and thirtie yeres: and he dyed.

¶ And Sheth liued an hūdreth, and fyue yeres, and begate Enósh.

¶ And Sheth liued, after he begate Enósh, eight hundreth and seuen yeres, and begate sonnes and daughters.

So all the dayes of Sheth were nine hūdreth and twelue yeres: & he dyed.

¶ Also Enósh liued ninety yeres & begate Kenán.

¶ And Enósh liued, after he begate Kenán, eight hundreth and fiftene yeres, and begate sonnes and daughters.

So all the daies of Enósh were nine hundreth and fyue yeres: and he dyed.

¶ And Kenán liued, after he begate Mahalaleél, eight hundreth and fourty yeres, & begate sonnes and daughters.

So all the dayes of Kenán were nine hūdreth and ten yeres: and he dyed.

¶ Mahalaleél also liued sixty & fyue yeres and begate Iéred.

¶ Also Mahalaleél liued, after he begate Iéred, eight hundreth and thirtie yeres, & begate sonnes and daughters.

So all the dayes of Mahalaleél were eight hundreth ninety and fyue yeres: and he dyed.

¶ And Iéred liued an hundreth sixty and two yeres, and begate Henóch.

¶ Then Iéred liued, after he begate Henóch, eight hundreth yeres, and begate sonnes and daughters.

So all the dayes of Iéred were nine hundreth sixty and two yeres: & he dyed.

¶ Also Henóch liued sixty and fyue yeres, and begate Methushélah.

¶ And Henóch walked with God, after he begate Methushélah, thre hundreth yeres, and begate sonnes and daughters.

So all the daies of Henóch were thre hūdreth sixty and fyue yeres.

¶ And Henóch walked with God, and he was no more sene: for God toke him away.

¶ Methushélah also liued an hundreth eighty and seuen yeres, and begate Láméch.

¶ And Methushélah liued, after he begate Láméch, seuen hundreth eighty and two yeres, and begate sonnes and daughters.

So all the dayes of Methushélah were nine hundreth sixty and nine yeres: and he dyed.

¶ Then Láméch liued an hūdreth eighty and two yeres, and begate a sonne,

¶ And called his name Nóah, saying, This same shal comforte vs concerning our worke and sorowe of our hands, as touching the earth, which the Lord hath cursed.

¶ And Láméch liued, after he begate Nóah, fyue hundreth ninety and fyue yeres, and begate sonnes and daughters.

So all the dayes of Láméch were seue hundreth seuentie and seuen yeres: and he dyed.

The chief cause of long life in the first age was the multiplicatiō of mankind that accordig to Gods commandement at the beginning the worlde might be increased with people, which might vniuersally praise his Name.

That is, he led an vpright & godlie life.

To shewe there was a better life prepared, & to be a testimonie of the immortality of soules & bodies. As to inquire where he became, is mere curiositie.

Láméch had respect to the promes, Chap. 3. 15. and desired to see the deliuerer, & shulde be sent, & yet sawe but a figure thereof. he also spake this by the Spirit of prophetic, because Nóah deliuered the Church, and preferred it by his obedience.

31 And Noah was five hundred yere olde. And Noah begate Shem, Ham and Iapheth.

SO when men began to be multiplied vpon the earth, and there were daughters borne vnto them,

Then the sonnes of God sawe the daughters of men that they were faire, and they toke them wiues of all that they liked,

Therefore the Lord said, My Spirit shal not alway striue with man, because he is but flesh, & his dayes shal be an hundred and twentie ye; es,

There were gyantes in the earth in those dayes: yea, and after that the sonnes of God came vnto the daughters of me, and they had borne them children, these were mightie men, which in olde time were men of renoume.

When the Lord sawe that the wickednes of man was great in the earth, and all the imaginacions of the thoghts of his heart were onely euil continually,

Then it repeted the Lord, that he had made man in the earth, and he was sorie in his heart.

Therefore the Lord said, I wil destroye from the earth the man, whome I haue created, from man to beast, to the creeping thing, & to the foule of the heauen: for I repent that I haue made them.

But Noah founde grace in the eyes of the Lord.

These are the generacions of Noah. Noah was a iuste and vpright man in his time, and walked with God.

And Noah begate thre sonnes, Shem, Ham and Iapheth.

The earth also was corrupt before God:

for the earth was filled with crueltie.

Then God looked vpo the earth, and beholde, it was corrupt: for all flesh had corrupt his way vpon the earth.

And God said vnto Noah, An end of all flesh is come before me: for the earth is filled with crueltie through them: and beholde, I wil destroye them with the earth.

Make thee an Arke of pine trees: thou shalt make cabines in the Arke, and shalt pytch it within and without with pytch.

And thus shalt thou make it: The legth of the Arke shalbe thre hundred cubites, the breadth of it fiftie cubites, and the height of it thirtie cubites.

A windowe shalt thou make in the Arke, and in a cubite shalt thou finish it aboue, and the dore of the Arke shalt thou set in the side thereof: thou shalt make it with the lowe, seconde and third rounne.

And I, beholde, I wil bring a flood of waters vpon the earth, to destroye all flesh, wherein is breath of life vnder the heauen: all that is in the earth shal perish.

But with thee wil I establish my covenant, & thou shalt go into the Arke, thou, and thy sonnes, and thy wife, and thy sonnes wiues with thee.

And of euerie liuing thing, of all flesh two of euerie sorte shalt thou cause to come into the Arke, to kepe them aliue with thee: they shalbe male and female.

Of the foules after their kinde, and of the cattel after their kinde, of euerie creeping thing of the earth after his kinde, two of euerie sorte shal come vnto thee, that thou maicst kepe them aliue.

And take thou with thee of all meat that is eat: & thou shalt gather it to thee, that it may be meat for thee & for them.

Noah therefore did according vnto all, that God commanded him: euen so did he.

CHAP. VII.

1 Noah and his entre into the Arke. 20 The flood destroyeth all the rest vpon the earth.

1 And the Lord said vnto Noāh, Entre thou and all thine house into the Arke: for thee haue I sene <sup>a</sup> righteous before me in this age.

2 Of euerie <sup>b</sup> cleane beast thou shalt take to thee by seuens, the male and his female: but of vncleane beastes by couples, y male and his female.

3 Of the foules also of the heauen by seuens, male and female, to kepe sede aliue vpon the whole earth.

4 For seuen dayes hence I wil cause it raine vpon the earth fourty dayes & fourty nights, and all the substance that I haue made, wil I destroye from of the earth.

5 *Noāh therefore did according vnto all that the Lord commanded him.

6 And Noāh was six hundreth yeres olde, when the flood of waters was vpon the earth.

7 ¶ So Noāh entred and his sonnes, & his wife, and his sonnes wiues with him into the Arke, because of the waters of the flood.

8 Of the cleane beastes, and of the vncleane beastes, and of the foules, & of all that crepeth vpon the earth, 9 There came two & two vnto Noāh into the Arke, male & female, as God had commanded Noāh.

10 And so after seuen dayes the waters of the flood were vpon the earth.

11 ¶ In the six hundreth yere of Noāhs life in the <sup>c</sup> seconde moneth, the seuententh day of the moneth, in the same day were all the <sup>d</sup> fountaines of the great depe broken vp, and the windowes of heauen were opened, 12 And the raine was vpon the earth fourty dayes and fourty nights.

13 In the selfe same day entred Noāh with Shem, & Ham and Iapheth, the sonnes of Noāh, and Noāhs wife, and the thre wiues of his sonnes with the into the Arke.

14 They and euerie beast after his kinde, & all cattel after their kinde, & euerie thing that crepeth and moueth vpon the earth after his kinde, & euerie foule after his kinde, <sup>e</sup> euen euerie birde of euerie fether.

15 For they came to Noāh into the Arke, two and two, <sup>f</sup> of all flesh wherein is the breath of life.

16 And they entring in, came male & female of all flesh, as God had comāded him: and the Lord shut him in.

17 Then the flood was fourty dayes vpon the earth, and the waters were increased, & bare vp y Arke, which was liue vp aboue the earth.

18 The waters also waxed strong, and were increased exceedingly vpon the earth, and the Arke went vpon the waters.

19 The waters <sup>g</sup> preuailed so exceedingly vpon the earth, that all the high mountaines, that are vnder the whole heauen, were couered.

20 Fiftene cubites vpwarde did the waters preuaile, when the mountaines were couered.

21 *Then all flesh perished that moued vpon the earth, bothe foule and cattel and beast, & euerie thing that crepeth & moueth vpon the earth, and euerie man.

22 Euerie thing in whose nostrels the spirit of life did breathe, whatsoeuer they were in the drye land, they dyed.

23 So <sup>h</sup> he destroyed euerie thing that was vpon the earth, from man to beast, to the creping thing, and to the foule of the heauen: they were euen destroyed from the earth. and Noāh onely <sup>i</sup> remained, & they that were with him in the Arke.

24 And the waters preuailed vpon the earth an hundreth and fiftie dayes.

CHAP. VIII.

13 The flood ceaseth. 16 Noāh is commanded to come forth of the Arke with his. 20 He sacrificeth to the Lord. 22 God promiset that all things shal continue in their first ordre.

1 Now God <sup>a</sup> remembred Noāh & <sup>b</sup> euerie beast, & all the cattel that was with him in the Arke: therefore God made a winde to passe vpon the earth, and the waters ceased.

2 The fountaines also of the depe & the windowes of heauen were stopped & the raine from heauen was restrained,

3 And the waters returned from aboue the earth, going and returning: and after the end of the hundreth and fiftieth day the waters abated.

4 And in the <sup>c</sup> seuenth moneth, in the seuententh day of the moneth, the Arke <sup>d</sup> rested vpon the mountaines of Ararat.

5 And the waters were going & decreasing vntil the <sup>e</sup> tenth moneth: in the tenth moneth, & in the first day of the moneth were the toppes of the mountaines sene.

6 ¶ So <sup>f</sup> after forty dayes, Noāh opened y windowe of the Arke, which he had made,

7 And sent forth a rauen, which went out going forthie and returning, vntil the waters were dried vp vpon the earth.

8 Again he sent a doue from him, that he might se if the waters were diminished from of the earth.

9 But the doue founde no rest for the sole of her foote: therefore she returned vnto him into the Arke (for the waters were vpon the whole earth) & he <sup>g</sup> put forth his hand, & toke her, and pulled her to him into the Arke.

10 And he abode yet other seven dayes, and againe he sent forth the doue out of the Arke.

11 And the doue came to him in the euenig, & lo, in her<sup>e</sup> mouthe was an<sup>e</sup> oliue leafe that she had pluckt: whereby Nóah knewe that y<sup>e</sup> waters were abated from of y<sup>e</sup> earth.

12 Notwithstanding he waited yet other seven dayes, & sent forth the doue, which returned not againe vnto him any more.

13 ¶ And in the six hundredth and one yere, in the first daie of the 8 first moneth the waters were dried vp from of the earth: & Nóah remoued the couering of the Arke & looked, & beholde, the vpper parte of the grounde was drye.

14 And in the seconde moneth, in the seven and twentieth day of the moneth was the earth drye.

15 ¶ Then God spake to Nóah, saying,

16 Go forth of y<sup>e</sup> Arke, thou & thy wife, & thy sonnes & thy sonnes wiues wth thee.

17 Bring forth the with thee euerie beast that is with thee, of all flesh, bothe foule and cattel, & euerie thing that creepeth & moueth vpon the earth, that thei maie brede abundantly in the earth, & bring forth the frute and increase vpon the earth.

18 So Nóah came forth, and his sonnes, & his wife, and his sonnes wiues with him.

19 Euerie beast, euerie creeping thing, & euerie foule, all that moueth vpon the earth after their kindes went out of the Arke.

20 ¶ Then Nóah buylt an altar to y<sup>e</sup> Lord and toke of euerie cleane beast, & of euerie cleane foule, and offered burnt offerings vpon the altar.

21 And the Lord smelled a<sup>s</sup> sauour of rest, & y<sup>e</sup> Lord said in his heart, I wil henceforth curse the ground no more for mās cause: for the imaginacion of mans<sup>e</sup> heart is euil, euen frō his youth: nether wil I smite anie more all things liuing, as I haue done.

22 Hereafter I sēde time & haruest, & colde & heate, & sommer and winter, & daie & night shal not cease, so long as the earth remaineth.

The confirmaciō of marriage. 3 Permissiō of meates. 6 The power of the sword. 14 The rainebow is the signe of Gods promes. 21 Nóah is drunken & mocked of his sonne, whome he curseth. 39 The age & death of Nóah.

And God blessed Nóah & his sōnes, and said to them, Bring forth the frute, and multiplie, and replenish the earth.

Also the<sup>e</sup> feare of you, and the dread of you shalbe vpon euerie beast of the earth, and vpon euerie foule of the heauen, vpon all that moueth on the earth, & vpon all the fishes of the sea: into your hand are thei deliuered.

Euerie<sup>e</sup> thing that moueth & liueth, shalbe meat for you: as y<sup>e</sup> grene herbe, haue I giuen you all things.

4<sup>d</sup> But flesh with the life thereof, I mean<sup>e</sup>, with the blood thereof, shal ye not eat.

5 For surely I wil require your blood, wherein your liues are: at the hand of euerie beast wil I require it: and at the hand of man, euen at the hand of a mās<sup>e</sup> brother wil I require the life of man.

6 Whoso<sup>e</sup> sheddeth mans blood, by man shal his blood be shed: for in the 8 image of God hathe he made man.

7 But bring ye forth the frute and multiplie: growe plētifully in the earth, and increase therein.

8 ¶ God spake also to Nóah & to his sonnes with him, saying,

9 Beholde, I, euen I establish my<sup>e</sup> couenāt with you, and with your<sup>e</sup> sēde after you,

10 And with euerie liuing creature that is with you, with the foule, with the cattel, & with euerie beast of the earth with you, from all that go out of the Arke, vnto euerie beast of the earth.

11 And my couenāt wil I establish with you, that from henceforth the all flesh shal not be rooted out by the waters of the flood, nether shal there be a flood to destroye the earth any more.

12 Then God said, This is the token of the couenāt which I make betwene me and you, & betwene euerie liuing thing, that is with you vnto perpetual generacions.

13 I haue set my<sup>e</sup> bowe in the cloude, and it shalbe for a signe of the couenāt betwene me and the earth.

14 And when I shal couer the earth with a cloude, and the bowe shal be sene in the cloude, 15 Then wil I remēber my<sup>e</sup> couenāt, which is betwene me and you, & betwene euerie liuing thing in all flesh, & there shalbe no more waters of a flood to destroy all flesh.

16 Therefore y<sup>e</sup> bowe shalbe in the cloude, y<sup>e</sup> I may se it, & remember the euerlasting couenāt betwene God, and euerie liuing thing in all flesh that is vpon the earth.

17 God said yet to Nóah, This is the signe of the couenāt, which I haue established betwene me and all flesh that is vpon the earth.

18 ¶ Now the sonnes of Nóah going forth of the Arke, were Shem & Ham & Iápheth. And Ham is the father of Canaan.

19 These are the thre sonnes of Nóah, and of them was the<sup>e</sup> whole earth ouerspred.

20 Nóah also began to be an housband mā and planted a vineyard.

21 And he drōke of y<sup>e</sup> wine & was drōnkē, & was vncouered in y<sup>e</sup> middes of his tent.

22 And when Ham the father of Canaan sawe the nakednes of his father, he tolde his two brethren without.

26 He said moreouer, Blessed be the Lord God of Shem, and let Canaan be his seruant.

27 God persuaide Iapheth, that he may dwell in the tentes of Shem, and let Canaan be his seruant.

28 And Nôah liued after y<sup>e</sup> flood thre hundred and fifty yeres.

29 So all the dayes of Nôah were nine hundred and fifty yeres: and he dyed.

CHAP. X.

The increase of mankinde by Nôah and his sonnes.
The beginning of cities, countreies and nations.

Now these are the generations of y<sup>e</sup> sonnes of Nôah, Shem, Ham & Iapheth: vnto whome sonnes were borne after the flood.

1 The sonnes of Iapheth were Gômer and Magôg, and Madâi, and Iauân, and Tubâl and Méshech, and Tirás.

2 And the sonnes of Gômer, Ashkenáz, and Riphâth and Togarmâh.

3 Also y<sup>e</sup> sonnes of Iauân, Elishâh and Tarshish, Kittim, and Dodanim.

4 Of these were the yles of the Gentiles deuided in their landes, euerie man after his tongue, and after their families in their nacions.

5 Moreouer y<sup>e</sup> sonnes of Ham were Cush, and Mizráim, and Put, and Canaan.

6 And the sonnes of Cush, Sebâ and Hauilâh, and Sabtâh, and Raamâh, and Sabtechâ: also the sonnes of Raamâh were Shebâ and Dedân.

7 And Cush begate Nimród, who began to be mighty in the earth.

8 He was a mighty hunter before the Lord. wherfore it is said, As Nimród y<sup>e</sup> mighty hunter before the Lord.

9 And the beginning of his kingdome was Babel, and Erech, and Accád, and Calnéh, in the land of Shinâr.

10 Out of that land came Asshûr, & buylded Niniueh, and the citie Rehobôth, and Calah:

11 Resen also betwene Niniueh and Calah: this is a great citie.

12 And Mizráim begate Ludim, and Anamim, and Lehabim, and Naphtuhim.

13 Pathrusim also, and Casluhim (out of whome came the Philistims) and Caph-torims.

14 Also Canaan begate Zidon his first borne, and Heth,

16 And Iebusi, and Emori, and Girgashí,

17 And Hiui, and Arki, and Siní,

18 And Aruadi, and Zemari, & Hamathi: & afterwarde were the families of y<sup>e</sup> Canaanites spred abroad.

19 Then the border of the Canaanites was from Zidon, as thou comest to Gerar vntil Azzâh, & as thou goest vnto Sodom, and Gomorah, and Admâh, & Zeboiim, euen vnto Lâsha.

20 These are y<sup>e</sup> sonnes of Ham according to their families, according to their tongues in their countreies and in their nacions.

21 Vnto Shem also the father of all the sonnes of Eber, and elder brother of Iapheth were children borne.

22 The sonnes of Shem were Elâm and Asshûr, and Arpachshád, and Lud, and Arám.

23 And the sonnes of Arám, Vz & Hul, and Gether and Mash.

24 Also Arpachshád begate Shélah, and Shélah begate Eber.

25 Vnto Eber also were borne two sonnes: the name of the one was Péleg: for in his dayes was the earth diuided: & his brothers name was Ioktân.

26 Then Ioktân begate Almodád and Shéleph, & Hazarmâueth, and Iérâh, 27 And Hadorâm, & Vzâl, and Dicklâh,

28 And Obâf, & Abimaél, and Shebâ,

29 And Ophir, and Hauilâh, and Iobâb. all these were the sonnes of Ioktân.

30 And their dwelling was from Meshá, as thou goest vnto Sephâr a mount of the East.

31 These are y<sup>e</sup> sonnes of Shem according to their families, according to their tongues, in their countreies and nacions.

32 These are the families of the sonnes of Nôah, after their generacions amôg their people: and out of these were the nacions diuided in the earth after the flood.

Then the whole earth was of one language and one speache.

2 And as they went from the East, they founde a plaine in the land of Shinâr, & there they abode.

3 And they said one to an other, Come let vs make brycke, and burne it in the fire. So thei had brycke for stone, and slyme had they in steade of morter.

4 Also they said, Go to, let vs buylde vs a citie and a tower, whose toppe may reach vnto the heauen, that we may get vs a name, lest we be scatred vpon y<sup>e</sup> whole earth.

14 ¶ Now, when Abrám was come into Egypt, the Egyptians beheld the woman: for she was very faire.

15 And the princes of Pharaóh sawe her, and commended her vnto Pharaóh: so the woman was taken into Pharaóhs house:

16 Who intreated Abrám wel for her sake, and he had shepe, and beues, and he asses, and men seruantes and maide seruantes, and she asses, and camelles.

17 But the Lord plagued Pharaóh and his house with great plagues, because of Sarái Abrams wife.

18 Then Pharaóh called Abrám and said, Why hast y done this vnto me? Wherefore didest thou not tel me, that she was thy wife?

19 Why saidest thou, She is my sister, that I shulde take her to be my wife? Now therefore beholde thy wife, take her and go thy way.

1 Abrám departeth out of Egypt. 11 Lot departeth from him. 13 The wickednes of the Sodomites. 14 The promes made to Abrám renewed. 18 Abrám buyldeth an altar to the Lord.

1 Then Abrám went vp from Egypt, he, and his wife, and all that he had, & Lot with him toward the South.

2 And Abrám was very riche in cattel, in siluer and in golde.

3 And he wēt on his iourney frō the South toward Beth-él, to the place where his tent had bene at the beginning, betwene Beth-él and Haái,

5 ¶ Lot also, who wēt with Abrám, had shepe cattel and tentes,

6 So that the land colde not beare them, that they might dwel together: for their substance was great, so that they colde not dwel together.

7 Also there was debate betwene the herdmen of Abrams cattel, & the herdmen of Lots cattel. (and the Canaanites & the Perizzites dwelled at that time in y lād)

8 Then said Abrám vnto Lot, Let there be no strife, I pray thee, betwene thee & me, nether betwene mine herdmen and thine herdmen: for we be brethren.

9 Is not the whole lād before thee? departe I pray thee frō me: if thou wilt take y left hand, then I wil go to the right: or if thou go to the right hand, then I wil take the left.

10 So when Lot lifted vp his eies, he sawe y all the plaine of Iordén was watered euerie where: (for before the Lord destroyed Sodom and Gomoráh, it was as the garden of the Lord, like the land of Egypt, as thou goest vnto Zóar)

11 The Lot chose vnto him all y plaine of Iordén and toke his iourney frō the East: & they departed the one from y other.

12 Abrám dwelled in the land of Canaan, and Lot abode in the cities of the plaine, and pitched his tent euen to Sodom.

13 Now the men of Sodom were wicked & exceding sinners against the Lord.

14 ¶ The Lord said vnto Abrám, (after that Lot was departed from him) Lift vp thine eies now, and loke from the place, where y art, Northward, and Southward, and Eastward, and Westward:

15 For all the land, which thou seest, wil I giue vnto thee and to thy sede for euer, 16 And I wil make thy sede, as the dust of y earth: so that if a man can number y dust of the earth, then shal thy sede be nobred.

17 Arise, walke through the land, in the length thereof, and bredth thereof: for I wil giue it vnto thee.

18 Then Abrám remoued his tent, and came and dwelled in the plaine of Mamré, which is in Hebrón, & buylded there an altar vnto the Lord.

1 After these things, y<sup>e</sup> worde of y<sup>e</sup> Lord came vnto Abrám in a visio, saying, Feare not, Abrám, I am thy buckler, and thine exceeding great rewarde.

2 And Abrám said, O Lord God, what wilt thou giue me, seing I go childeles, and the stuarde of mine house is this Eliézer of Damascus?

3 Againe Abrám said, Beholde, to me thou hast giuen no sede: wherfore lo, a seruant of mine house shalbe mine heire.

2 And Sarái said vnto Abrám, Beholde now, the Lord hath restrayned me from childe bearing. I pray thee go in vnto my maide: it may be y I shal receiue a childe by her. And Abrám obeyed the voice of Sarái.

3 Then Sarái Abrams wife toke Hagár her maide the Egyptian, after Abrám had dwelled ten yere in the land of Canaan, and gaue her to her housband Abrám for his wife.

4 And he wēt in vnto Hagár, & she con-

15 ¶ Afterward God said vnto Abrahám, Sarái thy wife shalt thou not call Sarái, but<sup>o</sup> Saráh<sup>o</sup> shalbe her name.

16 And I wil blesse her, & wil also giue thee a sonne of her, yea, I wil blesse her & she shalbe the mother of nations: Kings also of people shal come of her.

17 Thē Abrahám fel vpō his face, &<sup>f</sup> laughed, & said in his heart, Shal a childe be borne vnto him, that is an hundreth yere olde? and shal Saráh that is ninety yere olde beare?

18 And Abrahám said vnto God, *Oh, that Ishmaél might liue in thy sight.

19 Thē God said, Saráh thy wife shal beare thee a sonne in dede, & thou shalt call his name Izhák: & I wil establiish my couenāt with him for an euerlasting couenāt, and with his sēde after him.

20 And as cōcerning Ishmaél, I haue heard thee: lo, I haue blessed him, and wil make him fruteful, and wil multiplie him<sup>g</sup> exceedingly: twelue princes shal he beget, and I wil make a great nacion of him.

21 But my couenant wil I establiish with Izhák, which Saráh shal beare vnto thee, y next<sup>h</sup> yere at this season.

22 And he left of talking with him, and God went vp from Abrahám.

23 ¶ Then Abrahám toke Ishmaél his sonne and all that were borne in his house, & all that was boght with his money, that is, euerie man childe among the men of Abrahams house, and<sup>h</sup> he circumcised the foreskinne of their flesh in that self same day, as God had commanded him.

24 Abrahám also him selfe was ninety yere olde & nine, when the foreskinne of his flesh was circumcised.

25 And Ishmaél his sonne was thirtene yere olde, when the foreskinne of his flesh was circumcised.

26 The selfe same day was Abrahám circumcised, and Ishmaél his sonne:

27 And all the men of his house, bothe borne in his house, and boght with money of the strāger, were circumcised with him.

4 But before thei went to bed, the men of the citie, even the men of Sodóm compassed the house round about from the yong to the olde, <sup>d</sup> all the people from all quarters.

5 Who cryig vnto Lot said to him, Where are y<sup>e</sup> men, which came to thee this night? bring them out vnto vs that we maie knowe them.

35 So thei made their father drinke wine y<sup>e</sup> night also, and the yonger arose, and laie with him, but he perceiued not, when she laie downe, nether when she rose vp.

36 Thus were bothe the daughters of Lot with childe by their father.

37 And the elder bare a sonne, & she called his name Moáb: the same is the father of y<sup>e</sup> Moabites vnto this daie.

38 And the yonger bare a sonne also, and she called his name Ben-ammi: the same is y<sup>e</sup> father of y<sup>e</sup> Ammonites vnto this daie.

CHAP. XX.

1 Abraham dwelleth as a stranger in the land of Gerár.

2 Abimelech taketh awaie his wife. 3 God reproveth the King. 4 And the King. Abrahám. 5 Sarah is restored with great gifts. 6 Abraham praieth, and the King and his are healed.

Afterwarde Abraham departed thence toward the South countrie and dwelled betwene Cadésh & Shur, and sojourned in Gerár.

2 And Abraham said of Sarah his wife, She is my sister. The Abimelech King of Gerár sent and toke Sarah.

3 But God came to Abimelech in a dreame by night and said to him, Beholde, thou art but dead, because of the womā, which thou hast taken: for she is a mans wife.

4 (Notwithstanding Abimelech had not yet come nere her) And he said, Lord, wilt thou slaie euen the righteous nation? Said not he vnto me, She is my sister? yea, and she her selfe said, He is my brother: wth an vpright minde, and innocēt hāds haue I done this.

6 And God said vnto him by a dreame, I knowe y<sup>e</sup> thou didest this euen with an vpright minde, & I kept thee also that thou shuldest not sinne against me: therefore suffered I thee not to touche her.

7 Now then deliuer y<sup>e</sup> man his wife againe: for he is a Prophet, & he shall praye for thee y<sup>e</sup> thou mayest liue: but if thou deliuer her not againe, be sure y<sup>e</sup> thou shalt die the death, thou, & all that thou hast.

8 Then Abimelech rising vp early in the morning called all his seruātes, and tolde all these things vnto them, and the men were sore afraide.

9 Afterward Abimelech called Abraham, and said vnto him, What hast thou done vnto vs: and what haue I offended thee, that thou hast brought on me and on my kingdome this great sinne: thou hast done things vnto me that ought not to be done.

Thus God permitted him to fall more horribly in y<sup>e</sup> solitarie mooraynes, whome the wickednes of Sodóm could not ouercome. (Who as they were borne in more horrible incest, so were they and their posteritie vile and wicked. That is, some of my people: signifying, that they rather reioiced in their sinne, then repented for the same.

i For y<sup>e</sup> prayer of y<sup>e</sup> godlie is of force towards God. k The wickednes of the King bringeth Gods wrath vpon y<sup>e</sup> whole realm.

10 So Abimélech said vnto Abrahám, What sawest thou that thou hast done this thing?

11 Then Abrahám answered, Because I thought thus, Surely thou fearest of God is not in this place, and they will slay me for my wiues sake.

12 Yet in very dede she is my sister: for she is the daughter of my father, but not the daughter of my mother, & she is my wife.

13 Now when God caused me to wandre out of my fathers house, I said the to her, This is thy kindenes that thou shalt shewe vnto me in all places where we come, * Say thou of me, He is my brother.

14 Then toke Abimélech shepe & beues, & men seruantes, and women seruantes, and gaue them vnto Abrahám, and restored him Saráh his wife.

15 And Abimélech said, Behold, my land is before thee: dwel where it pleaseth thee.

16 Likewise to Saráh he said, Beholde, I haue giuen thy brother a thousand peces of silver: beholde, he is thy vaile of thine eies to all that are with thee, and to all others: and she was thus reprovéd.

17 ¶ Then Abrahám praied vnto God, & God healed Abimélech, and his wife, and his maid seruantes: and they bare children.

18 For the Lord had shut vp euerie wombe of the house of Abimélech, because of Saráh Abrahams wife.

1 Izhák is borne. 2 Ishmaél mocketh Izhák. 3 Hagár is cast out with her sonne. 17 The Angel comforteth Hagár. 22 The couenāt betwene Abimélech & Abrahám.

1 Now the Lord visited Saráh, as he had said, and did vnto her according as he had promised.

2 For Saráh conceived, & bare Abrahám a sonne in his olde age, at the same season that God tolde him.

3 And Abrahám called his sonnes name that was borne vnto him, which Saráh bare him, Izhák.

4 Then Abrahám circumcised Izhák his sonne, when he was eight daies olde, * as God had commanded him.

5 So Abrahám was an hundreth yere olde, when his sonne Izhák was borne vnto him.

6 ¶ The Saráh said, God hath made me to reioyce: all that heare wil reioyce w me.

7 Again she said, Who wolde haue said to Abrahám, that Saráh shulde haue giuen children sucke? for I haue borne him a sonne in his olde age.

8 Then the childe grewe & was weaned: & Abrahám made a great feast the same day that Izhák was weaned.

9 ¶ And Saráh sawe the sonne of Hagár the Egyptiā (which she had borne vnto Abrahám) * mocking.

10 Wherefore she said vnto Abrahám, Cast out this bond woman and her sonne: for the sonne of this bond woman shal not be heire with my sonne Izhák.

11 And this thing was very grieuous in Abrahams sight, because of his sonne.

12 ¶ But God said vnto Abrahám, Let it not be grieuous in thy sight for the childe, and for thy bond womā: in all that Saráh shal saie vnto thee, heare her voice: for in Izhák shal thy sede be called.

13 As for the sonne of the bond womā, I wil make him a naciō also, because he is thy sede.

14 So Abrahám arose vp early in the morning, and toke bread, and a bottel of water, and gaue it vnto Hagár, putting it on her shulder and the childe also, and sent her away: who departing wanded in the wildernes of Beer-sheba.

15 And when the water of the bottel was spent, she cast the childe vnder a certeine tre.

16 Then she went and sate her ouer against him a farre of about a bowe shote: for she said, I wil not se the death of the childe. and she sate downe ouer against him, and lift vp her voyce and wept.

17 Then God heard the voyce of the childe, and the Angel of God called to Hagár from heauen, and said vnto her, What aileth thee, Hagár? feare not, for God hath heard thy voyce of the childe where he is.

18 Arise, take vp the childe, and holde him in thine hand: for I wil make of him a great people.

19 And God opened her eies, & she sawe a well of water. so she went and filled the bottel with water, & gaue the boye drinke.

20 So God was with the childe & he grewe and dwelt in the wildernes, and was an archer.

21 And he dwelt in the wildernes of Parān, and his mother toke him a wife out of the land of Egypt.

22 ¶ And at that same time Abimélech and Phichól his chief captaine spake vnto Abrahám, saying, God is with thee in all that thou doest.

23 Now therefore sweare vnto me here by God, that thou wilt not hurt me, nor my children, nor my childrens children: thou shalt deale with me, and with my countrie, where thou hast bene a stranger, according vnto the kindenes that I haue shewed thee.

24 Then Abrahám said, I wil sweare.

25 And Abrahám rebuked Abimélech for a well of water, which Abimelechs seruantes had violently taken away.

26 And Abimélech said, I knowe not who hath done this thing: also thou toldest me not, nether heard I of it but this daie.

27 Then Abrahám toke shepe, and beues, and gaue them vnto Abimélech: and they two made a couenant.

1 And after these things God did<sup>a</sup> proue Abrahám, & said vnto h<sup>i</sup>, Abrahám. Who answered, Here am I.

2 And he said, Take now thine onely sonne Izhák whome thou louest, & get thee vnto the lande of<sup>a</sup> Moriáh, and<sup>b</sup> offre him there for a burnt offering vpon one of the mountaines, which I wil shewe thee.

3 Then Abrahám rose vp early in the morning, and saddled his asse, and toke two of his seruants with him, and Izhák his sonne, and cloue wood for the burnt offering, and rose vp and went to the place, which God had tolde him.

4 ¶ Then y third day Abrahám lift vp his eyes, and sawe the place a farre of,

5 And said vnto his seruants, Abide you here wth the asse: for I & the childe wil go y order & worship, & come againe vnto you.

6 Then Abrahám toke the wood of y burnt offering, & laied it vpon Izhák his sonne, & he toke the fire in his hand, & the knife: and they went bothe together.

7 Then spake Izhák vnto Abrahám his father, & said, My father. And he answered, Here am I, my sonne. And he said, Beholde the fire & the wood, but where is the lambe for the burnt offering?

8 The Abrahám answered, My sonne, God wil<sup>d</sup> prouide him a lambe for a burnt offering: so they went bothe together.

9 Whē they came to y place wth God had shewed h<sup>i</sup>, Abrahám buylded an altar there, & couched y wood, & bound Izhák his sonne, & laied him on y altar vpon y wood.

10 And Abrahám stretching forth his hand, toke the knife to kil his sonne.

11 But y Angel of the Lord called vnto him from beauc, saying, Abrahám, Abrahám.

And he answered, Here am I.

12 Then he said, Lay not thine hand vpon the childe, nether do anie thing vnto him: for now I knowe that thou fearest God, seing for my sake<sup>e</sup> thou hast not spared thine onely sonne.

13 And Abrahám lifting vp his eyes, looked: & beholde, there was a ram behinde him caught by y hornes in a bushe. then Abrahám wēt & toke the ram & offered him vp for a burnt offering in y stede of his sonne.

14 And Abrahám called the name of that place, Iehouáh-iireh. as it is said this day, In the mount wil the Lord be sene.

15 ¶ And the Angel of the Lord cryed vnto Abrahám from heauen the seconde time,

16 And said, By<sup>h</sup> my selfe haue I sworne (saith y Lord) because thou hast done this thig, & hast not spared thine onely sonne, 17 Therefore wil I surely blesse thee, and wil greatly multiplie thy sede, as y starres of the heauen, and as y sande which is vpon the seashore, and thy sede shal possesse the gate of his enemies.

18 ¶ And in thy sede shal all y naciōs of the earth be blessed, because thou hast obeyed my voyce.

19 Then turned Abrahám againe vnto his seruants, and they rose vp and went together to Beer-sheba: and Abrahám dwelt at Beer-sheba.

20 ¶ And after these things one tolde Abrahám, sayig, Beholde Milcáh, she hathe also borne children vnto thy brother Nahór:

21 To wit, Vz his eldest sonne, & Buz his brother, & Kemuel the father of Arám, 22 And Chesed and Hazó, & Pildásh, & Iidláph, and Bethuél.

23 And Bethuél begate Rebekáh: these eight did Milcáh beare to Nahór Abrahams brother.

24 And his concubine called Reumah, she bare also Tébah, & Gáhan & Tháhash & Maacháh.

1. Abrahám lamenteth the death of Saráh. 4 He bieth a field, to bury her, of the Hittites. 13 The equitie of Abrahám. 19 Saráh is buried in Machpeláh.

1 When Saráh was an hūdreth twenty and seuen yere olde ( so long liued she )

2 Then Saráh dyed in Kiriath-arbá: the same is Hebrón in the land of Canaan. & Abrahám came to mourne for Saráh and to wepe for her.

3 ¶ Then Abrahám rose vp frō y sight of his corps, & talked wth the Hittites, saying,

4 I am a stranger, & a foriner among you, giue me a possession of buryal with you, that I may bury my dead out of my sight.

5 Then the Hittites answered Abrahám, saying vnto him,

7 Then Abrahám stode vp, & bowed him selfe before the people of the land of the Hittites.

8 And he communed with them, saying, If it be<sup>a</sup> your minde, y I shal bury my dead out of my sight, heare me, and intreat for me to Ephrón the sonne of Zóhar, 9 That he wolde giue me ycaue<sup>b</sup> of Machpeláh, which he hathe in the end of his field: y he wolde giue it me for as muche<sup>c</sup> money as it is worthe, for a possession to bury in among you.

10 (For Ephrón dwelt among y Hittites) Then Ephrón the Hittite answered Abrahám in the audience of all the Hittites y went in at the gates of his citie; saying, No, my lord, heare me: the field giue I thee, and the caue, that therein is, I giue it thee: even in the presence of the sonnes of my people giue I it thee, to bury thy dead.

11 Then Abrahám<sup>d</sup> bowed him self before the people of the land, 12 And spake vnto Ephrón in the audience of the people of the cōtrei, saying, Seing y wilt giue it, I praye thee, hoare me, I wil giue y price of the field: receiue it of me, and I wil bury my dead there.

13 Ephrón then answered Abrahám, saying vnto him,

14 My Lord, hearkē vnto me: y land is worthe four hūdreth shekels of siluer: what is y betwene me & thee: bury therefore thy dead.

15 So Abrahám hearkened vnto Ephrón, & Abrahám weyed to Ephrón the siluer, which he had named, in the audience of the Hittites, even foure hūdreth siluer shekels of currant money among marchātes.

16 ¶ So y field of Ephrón which was in Machpeláh, & ouer against Mamré, even y field & the caue y was therein, and all the trees y were in the field, which were in all the borders roundabout, was made sure 17 Vnto Abrahám for a possession, in the sight of the Hittites, even of all that went in at the gates of his citie.

18 And after this, Abrahám buried Saráh his wife in the caue of the field of Machpeláh ouer against Mamré: the same is Hebrón in the land of Canaan.

19 Thus bothe the field and the caue, y is therein, was made sure vnto Abrahám for a possession of buryal<sup>e</sup> by the Hittites.

1 Abrahám causeth his seruant to sweare to take a wife for Izhák in his owne kinred. 12 The seruant prayeth to God. 34 His fidelitie toward his master. 50 The friends of Rebekáh commit the matter to God. 58 They aske her consent and she agreeth. 67 And is married to Izhák.

Now Abrahám was olde, and<sup>f</sup> stricken in yeres, and the Lord had blessed Abrahám in all things.

2 Therefore Abrahám said vnto his eldest oseruant of his house, which had the rule ouer all that he had, <sup>a</sup> Put now thine hand vnder my thigh,

3 And I wil make thee<sup>b</sup> sweare by the Lord God of y heauen, & God of y earth, that thou shalt not take a wife vnto my sonne of the daughters of the Canaanites amōg whome I dwel.

4 But thou shalt go vnto my<sup>c</sup> cōtrie, & to my kinred, & take a wife vnto my sonne Izhák.

5 And the seruant said to him, What if the woman wil not come w me to this land: shal I bring thy sonne againe vnto the lad from whence thou camelt?

6 To whome Abrahám answered, Beware y y bring not my sonne<sup>d</sup> thether againe.

7 ¶ The Lord God of heauen, who toke me from my fathers house, & from y lād where I was borne, and that spake vnto me, & that sware vnto me, saying, Vnto thy sēde wil I giue this land, he shal send his Angel before thee, and thou shalt take a wife vnto my sonne from thence.

8 Neuertheles if the womā wil not followe thee, then shalt thou be<sup>e</sup> discharged of this mine othe: onely bring not my sonne thether againe.

9 Then the seruant put his hand vnder the thigh of Abrahám his master, & sware to him for this matter.

10 ¶ So the seruant toke ten camels of the camels of his master, and departed: for he had all his masters goods in his hād, & so he arose, and went to Arām Naharām, vnto the<sup>f</sup> citie of Nahór.

11 And he made his camels to<sup>g</sup> lie downe without the citie by a well of water, at euē about the time that women come out to drawe water.

12 And he said, O Lord God of my master Abrahám, I beseeche thee, send me good spede this day, and shewe mercie vnto my master Abrahám.

13 Lo, I stand by the well of water, whiles the mēs daughters of this citie come out to drawe water.

<sup>19</sup> And when she had giuen him drinke, she said, I wil drawe water for thy camels also vntil thei haue drunken ynough.

<sup>23</sup> And he said, Whose daughter art thou? tel me, I praie thee, Is there roume in thy fathers house for vs to lodge in?

<sup>33</sup> Afterward the meat was set before him: but he said, I wil not eat, vntil I haue said my message: And he said, Speake on.

uer, and golde, and men, seruantes, & maide seruantes, and camels, and asses.

<sup>45</sup> And before I had made an end of speaking in mine <sup>1</sup> heart, beholde, Rebekāh came forth, and her pitcher on her shuldre, & she went downe vnto the well, and drewe water. Thē I said vnto her, Giue me drinke, I praie thee.

22 But the children stroue together within her: therefore she said, Seig it is so, why am I thus? wherefore she wēt to aske y Lord.

23 And the Lord said to her, two nations are in thy wombe, and two maner of people shalbe deuided out of thy bowels, and the one people shalbe mightier then the other, and the elder shal serue y younger.

24 ¶ Therefore when her time of deliuerā- ce was fulfilled, beholde, twinnes were in her wombe.

25 So he that came out first was red, and he was all ouer as a rough garment, and they called his name Esau.

26 * And afterwarde came his brother out, and his hand held Esau by the heele: there- fore his name was called Iaakób. Now Izhák was thre score yere olde when Re- bekáh bare them.

27 And the boyes grewe, & Esau was a cun- ning hunter, & lived in y fields: but Iaa- kób was a plaine man, and dwelt in tētes.

28 And Izhák loued Esau, for venison was his meat, but Rebekáh loued Iaakób.

29 Now Iaakób sodde pottage, & Esau came from the field and was wearie.

30 Then Esau said to Iaakób, Let me eat, I pray thee, of y pottage so red, for I am wea- ry. Therefore was his name called Edóm.

31 And Iaakób said, Sel me euen now thy birthright.

32 And Esau said, Lo, I am almost dead, what is then this birthright to me?

33 Iaakób then said, Swear to me euē now. And he sware to him, & solde his birth- right vnto Iaakób.

34 Then Iaakób gaue Esau bread and pot- tage of lentiles: and he did eat and drinke and rose vp, & went his way: So Esau cō- temned his birthright.

CHAP. XXVI.

1 God prouideth for Izhák in the famine. 3 He renueth his promises. 9 The king blameth him for denying his wife.

14 The Philistims hate him for his riches. 15 Stoppe his welles. 16 And driue him away. 24 God comforteth him. 31 He maketh alliance with Abimélech.

ANd there was a famine in the land besides the first famine that was in the dayes of Abraham. wherefore Izhák went to Abimélech King of the Philistims vnto Gerár.

2 For the Lord appeared vnto him, & said, Go not downe into Egypt, but abide in the land which I shal shewe vnto thee.

3 Dwel in this land, & I wil be with thee, and wil blesse thee: for to thee, and to thy seed I wil giue all these countreys: and I wil perfo me the othe which I sware vnto Abraham thy father.

4 Also I wil cause thy sede to multiplie: as the starres of heauen, and wil giue vnto thy sede all these countreys: & in thy sede shal all the naciōs of the earth be blessed,

5 Because that Abraham obeyed my voy- ce and kept mine ordinance, my com- mandementes, my statutes, and my Lawes.

6 ¶ So Izhák dwelt in Gerár.

7 And the men of the place asked him of his wife, & he said, She is my sister: for he feared to say, She is my wife, lest, said he, the men of the place shulde kil me, be- cause of Rebekáh: for she was beautiful to the eie.

8 So after he had bene there long time, Abimélech King of the Philistims looked out at a window, and lo, he sawe Izhák sporting with Rebekáh his wife.

9 Then Abimélech called Izhák, and said, Lo, she is of a suretie thy wife, & why saidst y, She is my sister? To whome Izhák answered, Because I thought this, It maie be that I shal die for her.

10 Then Abimélech said, Why hast thou done this vnto vs? one of the people had almost lien by thy wife, so shuldest thou haue broght sinne vpon vs.

11 Thē Abimélech charged all his people, saying, He that toucheth this man, or his wife, shal die the death.

12 Afterward Izhák sowed in that land, and founde in the same yere an hūdreth folde by estimacion: and so y Lord blessed him.

13 And the man waxed mightie, and til increased, til he was exceeding great,

14 For he had flockes of shepe, and herdes of cattel, and a mightie housholde: therefore the Philistims had enuie at him, 15 In so muche that y Philistims stopped & filled vp with earth all the wells which his fathers seruants digged in his father Abrahams time.

16 Then Abimélech said vnto Izhák, Get thee from vs, for thou art mightier thē we a great deale.

17 ¶ Therefore Izhák departed thēce & pitched his tent in the vallei of Gerár, and dwelt there.

18 And Izhák returning, digged the wel- les of water, which thei had digged in the dayes of Abraham his father: for the Philistims had stopped them after the death of Abraham, & he gaue thē the same names, which his father gaue them.

19 Izhaks seruants then digged in the val- lei, & found there a well of liuing water.

20 But the herd men of Gerár did strue w Izhaks herd mē sayig, The water is ours: therefore called he the name of the well Esék, because thei were at strief w him.

21 Afterward thei digged another well, and stroue for that also, and he called the na- me of it Sitnáh.

22 Then he remoued thence, & digged an other well, for the w thei stroue not: therefore called he the name of it <sup>Rehobóth</sup>, & said, Because <sup>ý</sup> Lord hath now made vs rourne, we shal encrease vpon <sup>ý</sup> earth.

23 So he went vp thence to Beer-sheba.

24 And the Lord appeared vnto him the same night, and said, I am the God of Abraham thy father: feare not, for I am with thee, and wil blesse thee and multiplie thy fede for my seruant Abrahams sake.

25 Thē he buylt an <sup>alt</sup> altar there, and called vpon the name of the Lord, & there spred his tent: where also Izhaks seruants digged a well.

26 ¶ Then came Abimélech to him frō Gerár, and Ahuzzáth one of his friends, and Phichól the captaine of his armie.

27 To whome Izhák said, Wherefore come ye to me, seing ye hate me and haue put me awaie from you?

28 Who answered, We sawe certainly that the Lord was with thee, and we thought thus, Let there be now an othe betwene vs, euen betwene vs and thee, and let vs make a couenant with thee.

29 Thou shalt do vs no hurt, as we haue not touched thee, and as we haue done vn to thee nothing but good, and sent thee awaie in peace: thou now, the blessed of the Lord, do this.

30 Then he made them a feast, & thei did eat and drinke.

31 And thei rose vp betimes in the morning, and sware one to an other: then Izhák let them go, and thei departed from him in peace.

32 And that same daye Izhaks seruants came & tolde him of a well, which thei had digged, & said vnto him, We haue found water.

33 So he called it <sup>Shibáh</sup>: therefore the name of the citie is called <sup>Beer-sheba</sup> vnto this daye.

34 ¶ Now when Esáu was fourtie yere olde, he toke to wife Iudith, the daughter of Beerí an Hittite, & Bassemáth <sup>ý</sup> daughter of Elón an Hittite also.

35 And thei were a grief of minde to Izhák and to Rebekáh.

CHAP. XXVII.

1 Iakób getteth the blessing from Esáu by his mothers counsel. 38 Esáu by weeping moueth his father to pittie him. 41 Esáu hateth Iakób and threateneth his death. 43 Rebekáh sendeth Iakób awaie.

1 And when Izhák was olde, & his eies were dimme (so that he colde not se) he called Esáu his eldest sonne, and said vnto him, My sonne. And he answered him, I am here.

2 Then he said, Beholde, I am now olde and knowe not the daie of my death:

3 Wherefore now, I praie thee take thine instruments, thy quier and thy bowe, & get thee to the field, that thou maiest take me some venison.

4 Then make me sauourie meat, such as I loue, and bring it me that I maie eat, and <sup>ý</sup> my soule maie blesse thee, before I dye.

5 (Now Rebekáh heard, when Izhák spake to Esáu his sonne) and Esáu went into the field to hunt for venison, and to bring it.

6 ¶ Then Rebekáh spake vnto Iakób her sonne, saying, Beholde, I haue heard thy father talking w Esáu thy brother, saying,

7 Bring me venison, and make me sauourie meat, that I maie eat and blesse thee before the Lord, afore my death.

8 Now therefore, my sonne, heare my voyce in that which I commande thee.

9 Get thee now to the flocke, & bring me thence two good kyds of the goates, that I maie make pleasant meat of them for thy father, such as he loueth.

10 Then thou shalt bring it to thy father, and he shal eat, to the intent that he maie blesse thee before his death.

11 But Iakób said to Rebekáh his mother, Beholde, Esáu my brother is rough, and I am smothe.

12 My father maie possibly fele me, and I shal seme to him to be a mocker: so shal I bring a curse vpon me, and not a blessing.

13 But his mother said vnto him, Vpō me be thy curse, my sonne: onely heare my voyce, and go and bring me them.

14 So he went and fet them, and broght them to his mother: and his mother made pleasant meat, such as his father loued.

15 And Rebekáh toke faire clothes of her elder sonne Esáu, which were in her house, and clothed Iakób her yonger sonne:

16 And she couered his hands and the smothe of his necke with the skinnies of the kyds of the goates.

17 Afterwarde she put the pleasant meat and bread, which she had prepared, in the hand of her sonne Iakób.

18 ¶ And whē he came to his father, he said, My father. Who answered, I am here: who art thou, my sonne?

19 And Iakób said to his father, I am Esáu thy first borne, I haue done as <sup>ý</sup> badest me, arise, I praie thee: sit vp and eat of my venison, that thy soule maie blesse me.

20 Then Izhák said vnto his sonne, How hast thou founde it so quickly my sonne? Who said, Because the Lord thy God broght it to mine hand.

21 Againe said Izhák vnto Iakób, Come nere now, that I maie fele thee, my sonne, whether thou be that my sonne Esáu or not.

22 Then Iakób came nere to Izhák his father, and he felt him and said, The voyce is Iakobs voyce, but the hāds are the handes of Esáu.

Or, borne.

c Ebr. before his eies. Or, as though I wolde deceiue him.

Or, I wil take the danger on me.

c The assurance of Gods decre made her bolde.

d Although Iakób was assured of this blessing by faith: yet he did euil to feke it by lies and the more because he abuseth Gods Name therun to.

e This declarereth that he suspected some thing, yet God wolde not haue his decre altered.

23 (For he knewe him not, because his handes were rough as his brother Esaus handes: wherefore he blessed him)

24 Again he said, Art thou that my sonne Esau? Who answered, "Yea."

25 Then said he, Bring it me hether, and I wil eat of my sonnes venisō, that my soule may blesse thee. And he brought it to him and he ate: also he brought him wine, and he dranke.

26 Afterwarde his father Izhák said vnto him, Come nere now, and kisse me, my sonne.

27 And he came nere and kissed him. Then he smelled the sauour of his garments, & blessed him, and said, Beholde, the smel of my sonne is as the smel of a field, which y Lord hath blessed.

28 * God giue thee therefore of the dewe of heauen, and the fatnes of the earth, and plentie of wheat and wine.

29 Let people be thy seruants, and nations bowe vnto thee: be lord ouer thy brethre, and let thy mothers childre honour thee. Cursed be he that curseth thee, and blessed be he that blesseth thee.

30 And when Izhák had made an end of blessing Iakób, and Iakób was scace gone out from the presence of Izhák his father, then came Esau his brother from his hunting.

31 And he also prepared sauourie meat and brought it to his father, and said vnto his father, Let my father arise, and eat of his sonnes venison, that thy soule may blesse me.

32 But his father Izhák said vnto him, Who art thou? And he answered, I am thy sōne, even thy first borne Esau.

33 Then Izhák was stricken with a meruelous great feare, & said, Who and where is he that hunted venison, and brought it me, and I haue eat of all before thou camest? and I haue blessed him, therefore he shal be blessed.

34 When Esau heard the wordes of his father, he cryed out with a great crye and bitter, out of measure, and said vnto his father, Blesse me, even me also, my father.

35 Who answered, Thy brother came with subtiltie, and hath taken away thy blessing.

36 Then he said, Was he not iustely called Iakób? for he hath deceiued me these two times: he toke my birthright, and lo, now hath he taken my blessing. Also he said, Hast thou not reserved a blessing for me?

37 Then Izhák answered, and said vnto Esau, Beholde, I haue made him thy lord, and all his brethren haue I made his seruantes: also with wheat and wine haue I furnished him, and vnto thee now what 42 And it was tolde to Rebekáh of y wordes of Esau her elder sonne, and she sent and called Iakób her yonger sonne, and said vnto him, Beholde, thy brother Esau is comforted against thee, meaning to kill thee:

m He hath good hope to reconce his birthright by killing thee.

43 Now therefore my sōne, heare my voyce: arise, and flee thou to Harán, to my brother Labán, 44 And tary with him a while vntil thy brothers scarcenes be swaged, 45 And til thy brothers wrath turne away from thee, and he forget the things, which thou hast done to him: then wil I send and take thee from thence: why shulde I be deprived of you bothe in one day?

46 Also Rebekáh said to Izhák, * I am weary of my life, for the daughters of Heth. If Iakób take a wife of the daughters of Heth like these of the daughters of the land, what auaieth it me to liue?

CHAP. XXVIII.

1 Izhák forbiddeth Iakób to take a wife of the Canaanites: 6 Esau taketh a wife of the daughters of Ishmael against his fathers wil: 12 Iakób in the way to Harán seeth a ladder reaching to heauen: 14 Christ is promised: 20 Iakób asketh of God onely meat and clothing.

Then Izhák called Iakób and blessed him, and charged him, and said vnto him, Take not a wife of the daughters of Canaan.

b The godlie fathers were put in minde continually, y they were but strangers i this world: to this end that they shuld liue vp their eyes to y heauen, where they shulde haue a sure dwelling.

5 Thus

5 Thus Izhák sent for the Iaakób, and he went to Padán Arám vnto Labán sonne of Bethuél the Aramite, brother to Rebekáh, Iaakób's and Esau's mother.

6 ¶ Whē Esau sawe that Izhák had blessed Iaakób, and sent him to Padán Arám, to set him a wife thence, and giuen him a charge when he blessed him, saying, Thou shalt not take a wife of the daughters of Canaan,

7 And that Iaakób had obeyed his father & his mother, & was gone to Padán Arám:

8 Also Esau seing y<sup>e</sup> the daughters of Canaan displeased Izhák his father, 9 Then went Esau to Ishmaél, & toke vnto y<sup>e</sup> wiues, which he had, Mahaláth the daughter of Ishmaél Abrahams sonne, the sister of Nabaióth, to be his wife.

10 ¶ Now Iaakób departed frō Beer-sheba, and went to Harán, 11 And he came vnto a certeine place, & tarried there all night, because y<sup>e</sup> sonne was downe, and toke of the stones of the place and laied vnder his head and slept in the same place.

12 Then he dreamed, and beholde, there stode a ladder vpon the earth and the top of it reached vp to heauen: and lo, the Angels of God went vp and downe by it.

13 ¶ And beholde, the Lord stode aboue it, and said, I am the Lord God of Abraham thy father, & the God of Izhák: the land, vpon the which thou sleepest, wil I giue thee and thy sede.

14 And thy sede shal be as the dust of the earth, and thou shalt spreade abroad* to y<sup>e</sup> West, and to the East, and to the North, and to the South, and in thee and in thy sede shal all the * families of the earth be blessed.

15 And lo, I am with thee, & wil kepe thee whither soeuer thou goest, and wil bring thee againe into this land: for I wil not forsake thee vntil I haue performed that, that I haue promised thee.

16 ¶ Then Iaakób awoke out of his slepe, and said, Surely the Lord is in this place, and I was not aware.

17 And he was afraid and said, How fearful is this place! this is none other but the house of God, and this is the gate of heauen.

18 Then Iaakób rose vp early in the morning, and toke the stone that he had laied vnder his head, and set it vp as a pillar, and powred oyle vpon the top of it.

19 And he called the name of that place Beth-él: notwithstanding the name of the citie was at the first called Luz.

20 Then Iaakób vowed a vowe, saying, If God wil be with me, and wil kepe me in this journey which I go, and wil giue me bread to eat, and clothes to put on:

21 So that I come againe vnto my fathers house in safety, then shal the Lord be my God.

22 And this stone, w<sup>h</sup> I haue set vp as a pillar, shal be Gods house: & of all that y<sup>e</sup> shalt giue me, wil I giue the tenth vnto thee.

24 And Laban gaue his maide Zilpah to his daughter Leah, to be her seruant.

25 But when the morning was come, beholde, it was Leah. Then said he to Laban, Wherefore hast thou done thus to me? did not I serue thee for Rachel? wherefore then hast thou beguiled me?

4 Then she gaue him Bilháb her maide to wife, and Iaakób went in to her.

5 So Bilháh conceiued and bare Iakób a sonne.

6 Thē said Rahél, God hath giuen sentēce on my side, & hath also heard my voyce.

and hath giuen me a sonne : therefore called she his name, Dan.

7 And Bilhah Rahels maide conceiued againe, and bare Iaakób the seconde sonne.

8 Then Rahél said, With <sup>an</sup> excellēt wrestlings have I wrestled with my syster and have gotten the vpper hand : and she called his name, Naphtali.

9 And when Leah sawe that she had left bearing, she toke Zilpah her maide, and

10 And Zilpáh Leahs maide bare Jaakób a

11. Then said I eab d A companie cometh:

and she called his name, Gad.

12. Then said I ahy: Ah blessed day I fear

13 Then said Leah, Ah, blessed am I, for the daughters will blesse me. and she called his name, Asher.

14 ¶ Now Reubén went in the dayes of the wheat haruest and found e mandrakes in the field & brought them vnto his mother Leáh. Then said Rahél to Leáh. Giue me.

I pray thee, of thy sonnes mandrakes.
15 But she answered her. Is it a smale matter for thee to take mine housbād, except thou take my sonnes mādrakes also. The saide Rahel, Therefore he shal slepe with thee this night for thy sonnes mandrakes.

16 And Jaakób came from the field in the evening, and Leáh went out to meet him.

& said, Come in to me, for I haue" boght and payed for thee with my sonnes man-

And God heard Leah and she conceived.

17 And God heard Isaac and the voice, and bare ynto Iaakób the fifth sonne.

18 Then

And Leah conceived and bare a sonne and she called his name Reuben: for she said, Because the Lord hath looked vpon my tribulation, now therefore mine housband wil loue me.

33 And she conceived againe and bare a sonne, and said, Because the Lord heard that I was hated, he hath therefore giuen me this sonne also, and she called his name Simcón.

34 And she conceived againe and bare a sonne, and said, Now at this time wil my housbād kepe me companie, because I haue borne him thre sonnes: therefore was his name called Leui.

35 Moreover she conceived againe and ba-

God had rewarded her therefore.*

18 The said Leáh, God hath giuen me my rewarde, because I gaue my maide to my housband, & she called his name Issachár.

19 After, Leáh conceiued againe, and bare Iaakób the sixt sonne.

20 The Leáh said, God hath endued me wth a good dowrie: now wil mine housbād dwel with me, because I haue borne him six sones: & she called his name Zebulún.

21 After that, she bare a daughter, and she called her name Dináh.

22 ¶ And God remembred Rahél, and God heard her, and opened her wombe.

23 So she conceiued and bare a sonne, and said, God hath taken away my rebuke.

24 And she called his name Ioseph, saying, The Lord wil giue me yet another sonne.

25 ¶ And as sone as Rahél had borne Ioseph, Iaakób said to Labán, Séd me away that I may go vnto my place and to my country.

26 Giue me my wiues and my children, for whome I haue serued thee, and let me go: for thou knowest what seruice I haue done thee.

27 To whome Labán answered, If I haue now founde fauour in thy sight, take I haue perceiued that the Lord hath blessed me for thy sake.

28 Also he said, Appoint vnto me thy wages, and I wil giue it thee.

29 But he said vnto h<sup>i</sup>, Thou knowest, what seruice I haue done thee, and in what taking thy cattel hath bene vnder me.

30 For the litle, that thou haddest before I came, is increased into a multitude: and the Lord hath blessed thee by my coming: but now whē shal I trauel for mine owne house also?

31 Then he said, What shal I giue thee? And Iaakób answered, Thou shalt giue me nothing at all: if thou wilt do this thing for me, I wil retorne, sede, and kepe thy shepe.

32 I wil passe through all thy flockes this day, and separat from them all the shepe with litle spotted and great spotted, & all blacke lambes among the shepe, and the great spotted, and litle spotted among the goates: and it shal be my wages.

33 So shal my righteousness answere for me hereafter, when it shal come for my rewarde before thy face, & euerie one that hath not litle or great spotted among the goates, and blacke among the shepe, the same shal be theft with me.

34 Then Labán said, Go to, wolde God it might be according to thy saying.

35 Therefore he toke out the same day the he goates that were party coloured, and with great spotted, and all the she goates with litle and great spotted, and all y<sup>e</sup> had white in the, and all the blacke among y<sup>e</sup> shepe, & put the in y<sup>e</sup> keeping of his sones.

36 And he set thre daies iourney betwene him selfe and Iaakób. & Iaakób kept the rest of Labans shepe.

37 ¶ Then Iaakób toke rodde of grene popular, and of haseh, and of the chesnut tre, and pilled white strakes in them, and made the white appeare in the rodde.

38 Then he put y<sup>e</sup> rodde, which he had pilled, in the gutters and watering troghes, when the shepe came to drinke, before y<sup>e</sup> shepe: (for they were in heate, when they came to drinke)

39 And the shepe were in heate before the rodde, & afterward broght forth the yong of party colour, and with smale & great spotted.

40 And Iaakób parted these lambes, and turned the faces of the flocke towards these lambes party coloured and all maner of blacke, among the shepe of Labán: so he put his owne flockes by them selues, & put them not with Labans flocke.

41 And in euerie ramming tyme of the stronger shepe, Iaakób laied the rodde before the eies of the shepe in the gutters y<sup>e</sup> they might conceiue before the rodde.

42 But when the shepe were feble, he put them not in: and so y<sup>e</sup> febler were Labans, and the stronger Iaakobs.

43 So the man encreased exceedingly, and had manie flockes, and maide seruants, and men seruants, and camels and asses.

CHAP. XXXI.

1 Laban children murmure against Iaakób. 2 God commandeth him to retorne to his country. 3 The care of God for Iaakób. 4 Rahél stealeth her fathers idoles. 5 Laban followeth Iaakób. 6 The couenant betwene Laban and Iaakób.

1 Now he heard the wordes of Labán sones, saying, Iaakób hath takē away all that was our fathers, and of our fathers goods hath he gottē all this honour.

2 Also Iaakób behelde the countenance of Labán, that it was not towards him as in times past:

3 And the Lord had said vnto Iaakób, Turne againe into the land of thy fathers, and to thy kinred, and I wil be with thee.

4 Therefore Iaakób sent and called Rahél and Leáh to the field vnto his flocke.

5 The said he vnto them, I se your fathers countenance, that it is not towards me as it was wonte, and the God of my father hath bene with me.

6 And ye knowe that I haue serued your father with all my might.

7 But your father hath deceiued me, and changed my wages ten times: but God suffred him not to hurt me.

8 If he thus said, The spotted shal be thy wages, the all the shepe bare spotted: & if he said thus, The partie coloured shal be thy reward, the bare all y<sup>e</sup> shepe partie coloured.

9 Thus hath God taken awaie your fathers substance, and giuen it me.
10 ¶ For in ramming time I lifted vp mine eies and sawe in a dreame, and beholde, the he goates leaped vpō the she goates, that were partie coloured with litle and great spottes spotted.
11 And the Angel of God said to me in a dreame, Iaakób. And I answered, Lo, I am here.
12 And he said, lift vp now thine eies, and se all the he goates leaping vpon the she goates that are partie coloured, spotted with litle & great spottes: for I haue sene all that Labán doeth vnto thee.
13 ¶ I am the God of Beth-él, where thou anointedst y piller, where thou vowedst a vowe vnto me. Now arise, get thee out of this countrei & returne vnto the land where thou wast borne.
14 Then answered Rahél and Leáh, and said vnto him, Haue we anie more porcion and enheritance in our fathers house?
15 Doeth not he count vs as strangers? for he hath solde vs, and hath eaten vp & consumed our monie.
16 Therefore all y riches, which God hath taken from our father, is ours and our childrés: now then what soeuer God hath said vnto thee do it.
17 ¶ The Iaakób rose vp, and set his sonnes and his wiues vpon camels.
18 And he caried awaie all his flockes, and all his substance which he had gotten, to wit, his riches, which he had gotten in Padán Arám, for to go to Izhák his father vnto the land of Canaan.
19 When Labán was gone to shere his she-pe, then Rahél stole her fathers idoles.
20 Thus Iaakób stole awaie the heart of Labán the Aramite: for he tolde him not that he fled.
21 So fled he with all that he had, & he rose vp, and passed the riuer, and set his face toward mount Gileád.
22 The third day after was it tolde Labán, that Iaakób fled.
23 Then he toke his brethren with him, & followed after him seuen dayes iourney, and ouertoke him at mount Gileád.
24 And God came to Labán the Aramite in a dreame by night, and said vnto him, Take hede that thou speake not to Iaakób
"oght saue good.
25 ¶ Then Labán ouertoke Iaakób, & Iaakób had pitched his tent in the mount: & Labán also with his brethren pitched vp-on mount Gileád.
26 Then Labán said to Iaakób, What hast thou done? thou hast euen stollen away mine heart & caried away my daughters as thogh they had bene taken captiues w the sworde.

27 Wherefore diddest thou flee so secretly & steale away from me, & diddest not tel me, that I might haue sent thee forth with mirth & with songs, with timbrel & with harpe?
28 But thou hast not suffered me to kisse my sonnes and my daughters: now thou hast done foolishly in doing so.
29 I am able to do you euil: but the God of your father spake vnto me yester night, saying, Take hede that thou speake not to Iaakób oght saue good.
30 Now thogh thou wentest thy way, because thou greatly longedst after thy fathers house: yet wherefore hast thou stollē my gods?
31 The Iaakób answered, & said to Labán, Because I was afraid, & thogh that thou woldest haue taken thy daughters from me.
32 But with whome thou findest thy gods, let him not liue. Serche thou before our brethren what I haue of thine, and take it to thee (but Iaakób wist not that Rahél had stollen them)
33 Then came Labán into Iaakobs tent, & into Leahs tent, and into the two maides tentes, but founde them not. so he wēt out of Leahs tent, & entred into Rahels tent.
34 (Now Rahél had takē the idoles & put them in the camels litter & sate downe vpon them) & Labán serched all the tent, but founde them not.
35 Then said she to her father, My lord, be not angry that I cannot rise vp before thee: for the custome of womē is vpon me:
so he serched, but found not the idoles.
36 ¶ The Iaakób was wroth, & chode with Labán: Iaakób also answered and said to Labán, What haue I trespassed? what haue I offended, that thou hast pursued after me?
37 Seing thou hast serched all my stuffe, what hast y founde of all thine housholde stuffe? put it here before my brethren and thy brethren, that they may iudge be-twene vs bothe.
38 This twēty yere I haue bene with thee:
thine ewes and thy goates haue not calt their yong, & the rams of thy flocke haue
I not eaten.
39 What soeuer was torne of beastes, I broght it not vnto thee, but made it good my selfe: of mine hāde diddest thou require it, were it stollen by day or stollen by night.
40 I was in the day consumed with heat, and with frost in the night, and my slepe departed from mine eies.
41 Thus haue I bene twenty yere in thine house, and serued thee fourtēth yeres for thy two daughters, and six yeres for thy shepe, and thou hast changed my wages ten times.

Or, I sleep not.

42 Except the God of my father, the God of Abraham, & the feare of Izhák had bene with me, surely thou haddest sent me away now empty: but God behelde my tribulacion, & the labour of mine handes, & rebuked thee yester night.

43 Then Labán answered, & said vnto Iaakób, These daughters are my daughters, and these sonnes are my sonnes, and these shepe are my shepe, and all that thou seest, is mine, and what can I do this day vnto these my daughters, or to their sonnes which they haue borne?

44 Now therefore come and let vs make a couenant, I and thou, which may be a witness betwene me and thee.

45 Then toke Iaakób a stone, and set it vp as a pillar:

46 And Iaakób said vnto his brethren, Gather stones: who brought stones, and made an heape, and they did eat there vpon the heape.

47 And Labán called it Iegár-sahaduthá, and Iaakób called it Galeéd.

48 For Labán said, This heape is witness betwene me & thee this day: therefore he called the name of it Galeéd. Also he called it Mizpáh, because he said, The Lord looke betwene me & thee, when we shalbe departed one from another, 49 If y<sup>e</sup> shalt uexe my daughters, or shalt take wiues beside my daughters: there is no man with vs, beholde, God is witness betwene me and thee.

50 Moreover Labán said to Iaakób, Beholde this heape, & beholde, the pillar, which I haue set betwene me and thee, 51 This heape shalbe witness, and the pillar shalbe witness, y<sup>e</sup> I wil not come ouer this heape to thee, and that y<sup>e</sup> shalt not passe ouer this heape & this pillar vnto me for euil.

52 The God of Abraham, & the God of Nahór, & y<sup>e</sup> God of their father be iudge betwene vs: but Iaakób sware by the feare of his father Izhák.

53 Then Iaakób did offre a sacrifice vpon the mount, and called his brethren to eat bread, and they did eat bread, & taried all night in the mount.

54 And early in the morning Labán rose vp and kissed his sonnes & his daughters, & blessed them, and Labán departing, went vnto his place againe.

CHAP. XXXII.

God comforteth Iaakób by his Angels. 9-10 He prayeth vnto God confessing his Unworthines. 13 He sendeth presentes vnto Esau. 24-28 He wrestled with the Angel who nameth him Israel.

Now Iaakób wēt forthe on his iourney & the Angels of God met him. And when Iaakób sawe them, he said, This is Gods host, & called the name of the same place Mahanáim.

3 Then Iaakób sent messengers before him to Esau his brother, vnto the land of Seir into the countrey of Edóm:

4 To whome he gaue commandemēt, saying, Thus shal ye speake to my lord Esau: Thy seruant Iaakób saith thus, I haue bene a stranger with Labán & taried vnto this time.

5 I haue beues also & asses, shepe, & men seruantes, and women seruantes, and haue sent to shewe my lord, that I may finde grace in thy sight.

6 So the messengers came againe to Iaakób, saying, We came vnto thy brother Esau, and he also commeth against thee and foure hundred men with him.

7 Then Iaakób was greatly afraid, and was sore troubled, & deuided the people that was with him, and the shepe, and the beues, and the camels into two cōpanies.

8 For he said, if Esau come to the one companie and smite it, the other companie shal escape.

9 Moreover Iaakób said, O God of my father Abraham, and God of my father Izhák: Lord, which saidest vnto me, Returne vnto thy countrei & to thy kinned, and I wil do thee good,

10 I am not worthy of the least of all the mercies & all the trueth, which thou hast shewed vnto thy seruant: For w<sup>h</sup> my staffe came I ouer this Iordén, and now haue I gotten two bandes.

11 I pray thee, Deliuer me from the hand of my brother, from the hand of Esau: for I feare him, lest he wil come and smite me, & the mother vpon the children.

12 For y<sup>e</sup> saidest, I wil surely do thee good, and make thy sede as the sand of the sea, which can not be nombred for multitude.

13 And he taried there the same night, & toke of that which came to hand, a presente for Esau his brother:

14 Two hundred she goates and twenty he goates, two hundred ewes and twentie rammes:

15 Thirty milche camels with their coltes, fourtie kine, & ten bullockes, twetic she asses and ten soles.

16 He deliuered them into the hand of his seruantes, euerie droue by them selues, & said vnto his seruantes, Passe before me, and put a space betwene droue & droue.

17 And he commanded the foremost, saying, If Esau my brother mete thee, and aske thee, saying, Whose seruant art thou? & whither goest thou? and whose are these before thee?

18 Then thou shalt say, they be thy seruant Iaakób: it is a presente sent vnto my lord Esau: and beholde, he him selfe also is behinde vs.

Or, Tent.

b He remembered his brother in worldly things, because he chiefly looked to be preferred to y<sup>e</sup> spiritual promises.

c Albeit he was comforted by the Angels, yet the inhumane of y<sup>e</sup> flesh doeth appeare.

d Ebr. I am less than all thy mercies.

d That is, poore, & without all prouision.

e Meaning, he wil put all to death: this proverbe cometh of them which kille the birde together with her young ones.

f Not distrusting Gods assistance, but using such means as God had giue him.

19 So likewise commanded he the seconde & the third, & all that followed the droues, saying, After this maner, ye shal speake vnto Esau, when ye finde him.

20 And ye shal say moreover, Beholde, thy seruant Iaakób commeth after vs (for he thought, I wil appease his wrath with the present that goeth before me, and afterward I wil see his face: it may be that he wil accept me)

21 So went the present before him: but he taried that night with the companie.

22 And he rose vp the same night, and toke his two wiues, and his two maides, and his eleue children, & went ouer the forde Iabbók.

23 And he toke them, & sent them ouer the riuier, & sent ouer that he had.

24 ¶ When Iaakób was left him selfe alone, there wrestled a man with him vnto the breaking of the day.

25 And he sawe that he coulde not preuaile against him: therefore he touched his holow of his thigh, & the holow of Iaakobs thigh was loosed, as he wrestled with him.

26 And he said, Let me go, for my morning appeareth. Who answered, I wil not let thee go except thou blesse me.

27 Then said he vnto him, What is thy name? And he said, Iaakób.

28 Then said he, Thy name shal be called Iaakób no more, but Israél: because thou hast had power with God, thou shalt also preuaile with men.

29 Then Iaakób demaied, saying, Tel me, I pray thee, thy name. And he said, Wherefore now dost thou aske my name? And he blessed him there.

30 And Iaakób called the name of the place, Peniél: for, said he, I haue sene God face to face, and my life is preserued.

31 And the sunne rose to him as he passed Peniél, and he halted vpon his thigh.

32 Therefore the children of Israél eat not of the sinew that shranke in the holow of the thigh, vnto this day: because he touched the sinew that shranke in the holow of Iaakobs thigh.

CHAP. XXXIII.

4. Esau and Iaakób mete and are agreed. 17. Esau receiueth his gifts. 19. Iaakób byeth a wife. 20. And buyldeth an altar.

1 And as Iaakób lift vp his eyes, and looked, beholde, Esau came, and with him foure hundred men: and he divided the children to Leah, and to Rahél, and to the two maides,

2 And he put the maides, & their children formost, and Leah and her children after, and Rahél, and Ioseph hindermost.

3 So he went before thé and bowed him selfe to the grounde seven times, vntil he came nere to his brother.

4 Then Esau ran to mete him and embraced him, and fel on his necke and kissed him, and thei wept.

5 And he lift vp his eyes, and sawe the women, and the children, and said, Who are these with thee? And he answered, Thei are my childre whome God of his grace hath giuen thy seruant.

6 Then came my maides nere, thei, and their children, and bowed them selues.

7 Leah also with her children came nere and made obeisance: and after Ioseph & Rahél drewe nere and did reuerence.

8 Then he said, What meanest thou by all this droue, which I met? Who answered, I haue sent it, that I maie finde fauour in thy sight of my lord.

9 And Esau said, I haue ynough, my brother: kepe that thou hast to thy selfe.

10 But Iaakób answered, Nay, I pray thee: if I haue founde grace now in thy sight, then receiue my present at mine hand: for

I haue sene thy face, as though I had sene the face of God, because thou hast accepted me.

11 I praie thee take my blessing, that is broght thee: for God hath had mercie on me, & therefore I haue all things: so he compelled him, and he toke it.

12 And he said, Let vs take our iourney & go, and I wil go before thee.

13 Then he answered him, My lord knoweth, that the children are tendre, and the ewes & kine with yong vnder mine hand: & if thei shulde ouerdriue them one day, all the flocke wolde dye.

14 Let now my lord go before his seruāt, and I wil driue softly, according to the passe of the cattel, which is before me, and as the children be able to endure, vntil

I come to my lord vnto Seir.

15 Then Esau said, I wil leaue thé some of my folke with thee. And he answered, What needeth this? let me finde grace in the sight of my lord.

16 ¶ So Esau returned, and went his way that same day vnto Seir.

17 And Iaakób went forward towarde Succoth, & buylt him an house, and made boothes for his cattel: therefore he called the name of the place Succoth.

18 ¶ Afterwarde, Iaakób came safe to Shechem a citie, which is in the land of Canaan, when he came from Padan Arám, and pitched before the citie.

19 And there he bought a parcel of groude, where he pitched his tent, at the hand of the sonnes of Hamór Shechems father, for an hundred pieces of money.

20 And he set vp there an altar, and called it, The mightie God of Israél.

m The faithfull so ouercome their tētations, what thei fele the smart thereof, to the intent that thei shulde not glorie, but i their humilitie.

n That if the one part were assailed, the other might escape.

o By this gesture he partly did reuerence to his brother, & partly praied to God to mitigate Esaus wrath.

e Iaakób and his familie are the image of y Church vnder the yoke of tyrants, & for teare are broght to subiection.

d In that that his brother embraced him so louingly, contrary to his expectation, he accepted it as a plaine signe of Gods preiudice.

for his sonne. 22. The Shechemites are circumcised at the request of Iaakób's sonnes, and the persuasion of Hamor. 23. The whoredome is reuenged. 24. Iaakób reprobates his sonnes.

THEN Dináh the daughter of Leáh, which she bare vnto Iaakób, wēt out to se the daughters of that countrey.

Whome when Shechém the sonne of Hamór the Hiuite lord of that countrey sawe, he toke her, and lay wth her, & defiled her.

So his heart claue vnto Dináh y<sup>e</sup> daughter of Iaakób: and he loued the maide, & spake kindly vnto the maide.

Thē said Shechém to his father Hamór, saying, Get me this maide to wife.

(Now Iaakób heard that he had defiled Dináh his daughter, and his sonnes were with his cattel in y<sup>e</sup> field: therefore Iaakób helde his peace, vntil they were come)

¶ Then Hamór the father of Shechém went out vnto Iaakób to commune with him.

And when the sonnes of Iaakób were come out of the field and heard it, it grieved the men, & they were very angrie, because he had wrought vilennie in Israël, in that he had liē with Iaakób's daughter: which thing oghr not to be done.

And Hamór comuned with them, saying, The soule of my sonne Shechém longeth for your daughter: giue her him to wife, I pray you.

So make affinitie wth vs: giue your daughters vnto vs, and take our daughters vnto you,

And ye shal dwel with vs, and the land shal be before you: dwel, and do your busines in it, and haue your possessions therein.

Shechém also said vnto her father and vnto her brethren, Let me finde fauour in your eies, and I wil giue whatsoeuer ye shal appoint me.

"Alke of me abundantly bothe dowrie and giftes, & I wil giue as ye appoint me, so that ye giue me the maide to wife.

Thē the sonnes of Iaakób answered Shechém and Hamór his father, talking among them selues deceitfully, because he had defiled Dináh their sister,

And they said vnto them, We can not do this thing, to giue our sister to an vncircumcised man: for that were a reprove vnto vs.

But in this wil we consent vnto you, if ye wil be as we are, that euerie mā childe among you be circumcised:

Then wil we giue our daughters to you, and we wil take your daughters to vs, and wil dwel with you, and be one people.

But if ye wil not hearken vnto vs to be circumcised, then wil we take our daughter & departe.

Now their wordes pleased Hamór, and Shechém Hamors sonne.

And the yong man deferde not to do the thīg because he loued Iaakób's daughter: he was also the moste set by of all his fathers house.

¶ Then Hamór and Shechém his sonne went vnto the gate of their citie, & comuned with the men of their citie, saying,

These men are peaceable with vs: & y<sup>e</sup> they may dwel in the land, and do their affaires therein (for beholde, the land hath the rounge ynough for them) let vs take their daughters to wiues, and giue them our daughters.

Onely herein wil y<sup>e</sup> men consent vnto vs for to dwel with vs, and to be one people, if all the men children among vs be circumcised as they are circumcised.

Shal not their flockes and their substance and all their cattel be ours: onely let vs consent herein vnto thē, and they wil dwel with vs.

And vnto Hamór, & Shechém his sonne hearkened all that went out of the gate of his citie: and all the men children were circumcised, even all that went out of the gate of his citie.

And on the third day (when they were fore) two of the sonnes of Iaakób, Simeón and Leui, Dinahs brethren toke ether of them his sworde & went into the citie boldely, and slewe euerie male.

They slewe also Hamór and Shechém his sonne with the edge of the sworde, & toke Dináh out of Shechems house, and went their way.

Againe the other sonnes of Iaakób came vpon the dead, and spoiled the citie, because they had defiled their sister.

They toke their shepe, and their beues, and their asses, and whatsoeuer was in the citie, and in the fields.

Also they caried away captiue and spoiled all their goods, and all their children and their wiues, and all that was in the houses.

Then Iaakób said to Simeón and Leui, Ye haue troubled me, & made me stinke among the inhabitants of the land, as wel the Canaanites, as the Perizzites, and I being fewe in nombre, they shal gather them selues together against me, and slay me, and so shal I, and my house be destroyed.

And they answered, Shulde he abuse our sister as a whore?

g As God is said to descend, when he sheweth some signe of his presence: so he is said to ascend, when his vision is ended.

h The Ebrewe worde signifieth as much ground as one may go five bayte to bayte, & is take for halfe a days journey.

1 Then God said to Jaakób, Arise, go vp to Beth-él & dwel there, & make there an altar vnto God, that appeared vnto thee, whē thou fleddest from Esāu thy brother.

2 Then said Jaakób vnto his housholde & to all that were with him, Put away the strange gods that are among you, & cleanse your selues, and change your garments:

3 For we wil rise and go vp to Beth-él, and I wil make an altar there vnto God, which heard me in the day of my tribulacion, & was with me in the way which I went.

4 And they gaue vnto Jaakób all the strange gods, which were in their hands, and all their eearings, which were in their eares, and Jaakób hid them vnder an oke, which was by Shechem.

5 Then they went on their iourney, and the feare of God was vpon the cities, that were round about them: so that they did not followe after the sonnes of Jaakób.

6 So came Jaakób to Luz, which is in the land of Canaan: (the same is Beth-él) he and all the people that was with him.

7 And he buylt there an altar, & had called the place, The God of Beth-él, because that God appeared vnto him there; whē he fled from his brother.

8 Then Deborah Rebekahs nurse dyed, and was buried beneth Beth-él vnder an oke: and he called the name of it Allón bachúth.

9 Againe God appeared vnto Jaakób, after he came out of Padan Arám, and blessed him.

10 Moreouer God said vnto him, Thy name is Jaakób: thy name shal be no more called Jaakób, but Israël shal be thy name: and he called his name Israël.

11 Againe God said vnto him, I am God all sufficiēt. growe, & multiplie: a nation & a multitude of natiōs shal sprig of thee, and Kings shal come out of thy loynes.

12 Also I wil giue y land, which I gaue to Abraham and Izhák, vnto thee: & vnto thy fede after thee wil I giue that land.

13 So God ascended from him in the place where he had talked with him.

14 And Jaakób set vp a pillar in the place where he talked with him, a pillar of stone, and powred drinke offering thereon: also he powred oyle thereon.

15 And Jaakób called the name of the place, where God spake with him, Beth-él.

16 Then they departed from Beth-él, & whē there was about halfe a days journey of ground to come to Ephrath, Rahel trauiled, and in trauieling she was in peril.

17 And when she was in peines of her labour, the midwife said vnto her, Feare not: for thou shalt haue this sonne also.

18 Then as she was about to yelde vp the goste (for she dyed) she called his name Ben-oni, but his father called him Benjamin.

19 Thus dyed Rahel, & was buried in the way to Ephrath, which is Beth-léhem.

20 And Jaakób set a pillar vpon her graue: This is the pillar of Rahels graue vnto this day.

21 The Israël went forward, & pitched his tent beyonde Migdal-éder.

22 Now, when Israël dwelt in that land, Reubén went, and laye with Bilháh his fathers concubine, and it came to Israels eare. And Jaakób had twelue sonnes.

23 The sonnes of Leah: Reubén Jaakobs eldest sonne, and Simeón, & Leui, & Iudáh, & Issachár, & Zebulún.

24 The sonnes of Rahel: Ioseph and Benjamin.

25 And y sonnes of Bilháh Rahels maide: Dan and Naphtalí.

26 And the sonnes of Zilpáh Leahs maide: Gad and Ashér. these are the sonnes of Jaakób, which were borne him in Padan Arám.

27 Then Jaakób came vnto Izhák his father to Mamré a citie of Arbáh: this is Hebrón, where Abraham and Izhák were strangers.

28 And the dayes of Izhák were an hundredth and foure score yeres.

29 And Izhák gaue vp the goste and dyed, and was gathered vnto his people, being olde and ful of daies: & his sonnes Esāu and Jaakób buried him.

1 The winter of Esāu. 7 Jaakób and Esāu are riches. 9 The genealogie of Esāu. 24 The finding of mules.

1 Now these are the generations of Esāu, which is Edóm.

2 Esāu toke his wiues of the daughters of Canaan: Adáh the daughter of Elón an Hittite, and Aholibamáh the daughter of Anáh, the daughter of Zibeón an Hiuire,

3 And toke Basemáth Ishmaels daughter, sister of Nebaióth.

4 And Adáh bare vnto Esāu, Elipház: & Basemáth bare Reuel.

5 Also Aholibamáh bare Ieúsh, & Iaalam, and Kórah: these are the sonnes of Esāu which were borne to him in the land of Canaan.

6 So Esāu toke his wiues and his sonnes, & his daughters, & all the soules of his house, and his flockes, and all his cattel, and all his substance, which he had gotten in the land of Canaan, & went into another countrei from his brother Jaakób.

7 For their riches were so great that they colde not dwel together, & the land, wherein they were strangers, colde not receiue them because of their flockes.

31 ¶ And these are y<sup>e</sup> Kings that reigned in the lād of Edóm, before there reigned any King ouer the children of Israël.

32 The Béla the sonne of Beór reigned in Edóm, and the name of his citie was Dinhabah.

33 And when Béla dyed, Iobáb the sonne of Zéráh of Bozrá reigned in his stede.

34 When Iobáb also was dead, Hushám of the lād of Temaní reigned in his stede.

35 And after the death of Hushám, Hadád the sonne of Bedád, which slewe Midián in the field of Moáb, reigned in his stede, and the name of his citie was Auith.

36 When Hadád was dead, then Samláh of Masrekáh reigned in his stede.

37 When Samláh was dead, Shaúl of Rehobóth by the riuier, reigned in his stede.

38 When Shaúl dyed, Baal-hanán the sonne of Achbór reigned in his stede.

39 And after the death of Baal-hanán the sonne of Achbór, Hadád reigned in his stede, and the name of his citie was Páu: & his wiues name Mehetabél the daughter of Matréd, the daughter of Mezaháb.

Or, nece. 40 Then these are the names of the dukes of Esau according to their families, their places and by their names: duke Timná, duke Aluáh, duke Iethéth,

41 Duke Aholibamáh, duke Eláh, duke Pinón,

42 Duke Kenáz, duke Temán, duke Mibzár,

43 Duke Magdiél, duke Irám: these be the dukes of Edóm, according to their habitations, in the land of their inheritance. This Esau is the father of Edóm.

olde age, and he made him a coate of many colours.

4 So when his brethren saw that their father loved him more than all his brethren, then they hated him, and could not speak peaceably unto him.

e God revealed to him by a dreame, what shulde come to passe.

5 ¶ And Ioseph dreamed a dreame, and tolde his brethren, who hated him so much the more.

6 For he said unto them, Heare, I pray you, this dreame which I haue dreamed.

7 Beholde now, we were binding sheaves in y middes of the field: & lo, my shefe arose and also stode vpright, & beholde, your sheues compassed rounde about, and did reuerence to my shefe.

8 Then his brethren said to him, What, shalt thou reigne ouer vs, and rule vs? or shalt thou haue altogether dominio<sup>n</sup> ouer vs? And they hated him so much the more, for his dreames, & for his wordes.

d The more God sheweth him selfe honorable to his, y more doeth the malice of y wicked rage against them.

9 ¶ Again he dreamed an other dreame, & tolde it his brethren, & said, Beholde, I haue had one dreame more, and beholde, the sunne and the moone and eleuen starrs did reuerence to me.

e Not despising the vision, but seeking to appease his brethren.

10 Then he tolde it unto his father & to his brethren, and his father rebuked him, & said unto him, What is this dreame, which thou hast dreamed? shal I, & thy mother, and thy brethren come in dede and fall on the ground before thee?

11 And his brethren enuied him, but his father noted the saying.

Or, kept diligently. f He knewe that God was autor of the dreame, but he vnderstood not the meaning.

12 ¶ Then his brethren went to kepe their fathers shepe in Shechem.

13 And Israel said unto Ioseph, Do not thy brethren kepe in Shechem? come & I will send thee to them.

14 And he answered him, I am here. Then he said unto him, Go now, se whether it be wel with thy brethren, and how the flockes prosper, and bring me worde againe. so he sent him from the vale of Hebron, and he came to Shechem.

15 ¶ Then a man founde him, for lo, he was wandring in the field, and the man asked him, saying, What sekest thou?

16 And he answered, I seke my brethren: tel me, I pray thee, where they kepe shepe.

17 And the man said, They are departed hence: for I heard them say, Let vs go vnto Dothan. Then went Ioseph after his brethren, and found them in Dothan.

18 And when they saw him a far of, euen before he came at them, they conspired against him for to slaie him.

g The holy Ghost conuerteth not mens fautes, as do vaine writers & make vice vertue.

19 For they said one to an other, Beholde, this dreamer commeth.

Or, master of dreamers.

20 Come now therefore, & let vs slaie him, and cast him into some pit, & we wil say, A wicked beast hath deuoured him: the we shal se, what wil come of his dreames.

21 ¶ But when Reuben heard that, he deliuered him out of their hands, & said, Let vs not kil him.

Chap. 42. 22. "Ebr. let vs not smite his life."

22 Also Reuben said vnto them, Shed not blood, but cast him into this pit that is in the wilderness, & lay no hand vpon him. Thus he said, that he might deliuer him out of their hand, and restore him to his father againe.

23 ¶ Now when Ioseph was come vnto his brethren, they stript Ioseph out of his coat, his particoloured coate y was vpon him.

24 And they toke him, & cast him into a pit, & the pit was empty, without water in it.

h Their hypocritie apparet in this y they feared not more then God: & thought it was not murder, if they shed not his blood: or els had an excuse to couer their fault.

25 Then they sat them downe to eat bread: and they lift vp their eyes and looked, and beholde, there came a company of Ishmeelites from Gilead, and their camels laden with spicerie, and rosen, and myrrhe, and were going to carie it downe into Egypt.

26 The Iudah said vnto his brethren, What auaileth it, if we slaie our brother, though we kepe his blood secret?

27 Come and let vs sel him to the Ishmeelites, and let not our hands be vpon him: for he is our brother & our flesh: and his brethren obeyed.

28 Then the Midianites marchant men passed by, and they drewe forth, and lift Ioseph out of the pit, and solde Ioseph vnto the Ishmeelites for twentie pieces of silver: who brought Ioseph into Egypt.

Wisd. 10. 13. p sal. 105. 17.

29 ¶ Afterward Reuben returned to y pit, and beholde, Ioseph was not in the pit: then he rent his clothes, 30 And returned to his brethren, & said, The childe is not y<sup>e</sup>der, & I, whether shal I go? And they toke Iosephs coate, and killed a kid of the goates, and depped the coate in the blood.

31 So they sent that particoloured coate, & they brought it vnto their father, & said, This haue we founde: se now, whether it be thy sonnes coate, or no.

32 Then he knew it and said, It is my sonnes coat: a wicked beast hath deuoured him: Ioseph is surely torne in pieces.

Chap. 44. 28.

33 And Iacob rent his clothes, & put sackcloth about his loynes, & sorowed for his sonne a long season.

34 Then all his sonnes & all his daughters rose vp to comforte him, but he wolde not be comforted, but said, Surely I wil go downe into y graue vnto my sonne mourning: so his father wept for him.

Or, I will mourne for him so long as I liue.

35 And the Midianites solde him into Egypt vnto Potiphar an Eunuche of Pharaohs, and his chief stuarde.

ANd at that time Iudáh went downe from his brethren, and turned in to a man called Hiráh an Adullamite.

And Iudáh gave there the daughter of a man called Shuah a Canaanite: and he took her to wife, and went in vnto her.

So she conceived and bare a sonne, & he called his name Er.

* And she conceived againe, and bare a sonne, and she called his name Onán.

Moreover she bare yet a sonne, whome she called Sheláh: and Iudáh was at Chezib when she bare him.

Then Iudáh took a wife to Er his first borne sonne whose name was Tamar.

* Now Er the first borne of Iudáh was wicked in the sight of the Lord: therefore the Lord slewe him.

Then Iudáh said to Onán, Go in vnto thy brothers wife, and do the office of a kinsman vnto her, & raise up seed vnto thy brother.

And Onán knewe the seede should not be his: therefore when he went in vnto his brothers wife, he spilled it on the ground, lest he should give seed vnto his brother.

And it was wicked in the eyes of the Lord, which he did: wherefore he slewe him also.

Then said Iudáh to Tamar his daughter in lawe, <sup>d</sup> Remaine a widowe in thy fathers house, til Sheláh my sonne growe up (for he thought thus, Lest he die aswell as his brethren) So Tamar went & dwelt in her fathers house.

¶ And in processe of time also the daughter of Shuah Iudahs wife dyed. Then Iudáh, when he had left mourning, went up to his shepe shepers to Timnáh, he, and his neighbour Hiráh the Adullamite.

And it was tolde Tamar, saying, Beholde, thy father in lawe goeth up to Timnáh, to see his shepe.

Then she put her widowes garments off from her, & couered her with a vail, and wrapped her selfe, & sate downe in Petháh-enaim, which is by the way to Timnáh, because she sawe Sheláh was grown, & she was not giue vnto him to wife.

When Iudáh sawe her, he iudged her an whore: for she had couered her face.

And he turned to the way, towards her, & said, Come, I pray thee, let me lye with thee. (for he knewe not that she was his daughter in lawe) And she answered, What wilt thou giue me for to lye with me?

Then said he, I will send thee a kid of the goates from the flocke. & she said, Well, if thou wilt giue me a pledge, til I send it.

Then he said, What is the pledge that I shall giue thee? And she answered, Thy signet, & thy cloke, and thy staffe that is in thine hand. So he gaue it her, and lay by her, and she was with childe by him.

Then she rose, and went & put her vail from her & put on her widowes raymet.

Afterward Iudáh sent a kid of the goates by the hand of his neighbour the Adullamite, for to receive his pledge from the womans hand: but he founde her not.

Then asked he the men of that place, saying, Where is the whore, that sate in Enaim by the way side? And they answered, There was no whore here.

He came therefore to Iudáh againe, & said, I can not finde her, & also the men of the place said, There was no whore there.

Then Iudáh said, Let her take it to her, lest we be ashamed: beholde, I sent this kid, and thou hast not founde her.

¶ Now after thre moneths, one tolde Iudáh, saying, Tamar thy daughter in lawe hath played the whore, and lo, with playing the whore, she is great with childe. Then Iudáh said, Bring ye her forth, and let her be burnt.

When she was brought forth, she sent to her father in law, saying, By the man, vnto whome these things pertaine, am I with childe: & said also, Loke, I pray thee, whose these are, the seale, & the cloke, and the staffe.

Then Iudáh knewe them, and said, She is more righteous than I: for she hath done it because I gaue her not to Sheláh my sonne. So he laye with her no more.

¶ Now, when the time was come that she should be deliuered, beholde, there were twinnes in her wombe.

And when she was in trauel, the one put out his hand: & the midwife took and bounde a red thred about his hand, saying, This is come out first.

But when he plucked his hand backe againe, lo, his brother came out, & the midwife said, How hast thou broken the breache vpon thee? & his name was called Phárez.

And afterwarde came out his brother, who had the red thred about his hand, and his name was called Zárah.

NOW Joseph was brought downe into Egypt: & Potiphar an Eunuche of Pharaohs (and his chief stuard an Egyptian) bought him at the hand of the Ishmeelites, which had brought him thither.

And the Lord was with Joseph, and he was a man that prospered and was in the house of his master the Egyptian.

And his master sawe that the Lord was with him, and that the Lord made all that he did to prosper in his hand.

So Joseph founde fauour in his sight, & serued him: and he made him ruler of his house, and put all that he had in his hand.

j Ebr in the pri son house. i His euil intreatment in the prison may be gathered of the psal 105. 18. k Ebr. inclined mercie was him. l Or, lords.

5 And fro that time that he had made him ruler ouer his house & ouer all that he had, the Lord<sup>d</sup> blessed the Egyptias house for Iosephs sake: & the blessing of the Lord was vpon all that he had in y house, and in the field.

6 Therefore he left all y he had in Iosephs had, & toke accompte of nothig, that was w him, saue onely of the bread, which he did eat. And Ioseph was a faire personne, and wel fauoured.

7 ¶ Now therefore after these thigs, his masters wife cast her eyes vpon Ioseph, and said, I Lye with me.

8 But he refused & said to his masters wife, Beholde, my master knoweth not what he hathe in the house with me, but hathe committed all that he hathe to mine hand.

9 There is no man greater in this house then I: nether hathe he kept any thing fro me, but only thee, because thou art his wife: how then can I do this great wickednes & so sinne against God?

10 And albeit she spake to Ioseph day by day, yet he hearkened not vnto her, to lye with her, or to be in her companie.

11 Then on a certeine day Ioseph entred into the house, to do his busines: & there was no man of the housholde in the house:

12 Therefore she caught him by his garment, sayig, Slepe w me: but he left his garment in her hand and fled, & got him out.

13 Now when she sawe that he had left his garment in her hand, and was fled out, 14 She called vnto the men of her house, and tolde them, saying, Beholde, he hathe brought i an Ebrewe vnto vs<sup>e</sup> to mocke vs: who came into me for to haue slept with me: but I<sup>h</sup> cryed with a loude voyce.

15 And when he heard y I lift vp my voyce and cryed, he left his garment with me, & fled away, and got him out.

16 So she layed vp his garment by her, vntil her lord came home.

17 Then she tolde him<sup>i</sup> according to these wordes, saying, The Ebrewe seruant, w thou hast brogt vnto vs, came into me to mocke me.

18 But asone as I lift vp my voyce and cryed, he left his garmēt w me, & fled out.

19 Then when his master heard the wordes of his wife, which she tolde him, saying, After this maner did thy seruāt to me, his angre was kindled.

20 And Iosephs master toke him and put him in<sup>j</sup> prison, in the place, where the Kings prisoners lay bounde: and there he was in prison.

21 ¶ But y Lord was with Ioseph, & shewed him mercie, and got him fauour in the sight of the<sup>k</sup> master of the prison.

22 And the keeper of the prison committed to Iosephs had all the prisoners that were in the prison, and whatsoeuer they did there, that did he.

23 And the keeper of the prison looked vnto nothing that was vnder his hand, seing that the Lord was with him: for whatsoeuer he did, the Lord made it to prosper.

CHAP. XL.

¶ The interpretation of dreames of God. 12. 19. Ioseph expoundeth the dreames of the two prisoners. 23 The ingratitude of the butler.

1 And after these thigs, the butler of y King of Egypt and his baker offended their lord the king of Egypt.

2 And Pharaoh was angry against his two officers, against the chief butler, and against the chief baker.

3 Therefore he put them in warde in his chief stuardes house, in the prison and place where<sup>a</sup> Ioseph was bounde.

4 And the chief stuarde gaue Ioseph charge ouer them, & he serued them: and they continued a season in warde:

5 ¶ And they bothe dreamed a dreame, ether of the his dreame in one night, b eche one according to y interpretation of his dreame, lo the y butler & the baker of the King of Egypt, w were bounde in the prison.

6 And when Ioseph came in vnto them in the morning, and looked vpon them, beholde, they were sad.

7 And he asked Pharaohs officers, that were with him in his masters warde, saying, Wherefore<sup>c</sup> loke ye so sadly to day?

8 Who answered him, We haue dreamed, eche one a dreame, & there is none to interpret the same. Then Ioseph said vnto the, Are not interpretations of God? tel them me now.

9 So the chief butler tolde his dreame to Ioseph, and said vnto him, In my dreame, beholde, a vine was before me,

10 And in the vine were thre branches, and as it budded, her floure came forth: & the clusters of grapes waxed ripe.

11 And I had Pharaohs cup in mine hand, & I toke the grapes, and wrong them into Pharaohs cup, and I gaue the cup into Pharaohs hand.

13 Within thre dayes shal Pharaoh lift vp thine head, & restore thee vnto thine<sup>e</sup> office, and thou shalt giue Pharaohs cup into his hand after the olde maner, when y wast his butler.

14 But haue me in remembrance with thee, when thou art in good case, & shewe mercie, I pray thee, vnto me, and make mencion of me to Pharaoh, that thou maiest bring me out of this house.

16 And when the chief baker sawe that the interpretaciō was good, he said vnto Ioséph, Also me thoght in my dreame that I had thre white baskets on mine head.

17 And in the vppermost basket there was of all maner bakē meates for Pharaoh: & the birdes did eat them out of the basket vpon mine head.

18 Then Ioséph answered, & said, This is the interpretacion thereof: The thre baskets are thre dayes:

19 Within thre daies shal Pharaoh take thine head from thee, & shal hang thee on a tre, and the birdes shal eat thy flesh from of thee.

20 ¶ And so the third day, which was Pharaohs birthday, he made a feast vnto all his seruantes: and he lifted vp the head of the chief butler, and the head of the chief baker among his seruantes.

21 And he restored the chief butler vnto his butlership, who gaue the cup in to Pharaohs hand, 22 But he hanged the chief baker, as Ioséph had interpreted vnto them.

23 Yet the chief butler did not remembre Ioséph, but forgot him.

CHAP. XII.

24 Pharaohs dreames are expounded by Ioséph. 40 He is made ruler ouer all Egypt. 51 He hath two sonnes: Manasseh and Ephraim. 54 The famine beginneth throughout the worlde.

1 And two yeres after, Pharaoh also dreamed, and beholde, he stode by a riuer,

2 And lo, there came out of the riuer seuen goodlie kine and fatfleshed, and they fed in a meadow:

3 And lo, seuen other kine came vp after them out of the riuer, euilfaoured and leane fleshed, and stode by the other kine vpon the brinke of the riuer.

4 And the euilfaoured and leane fleshed kine did eat vp the seuen wellfaoured & fat kine: so Pharaoh awoke.

5 Againe he slept, and dreamed the seconde time: and beholde, seuen eares of corne grewe vpon one stalke, ranke and goodlie.

6 And lo, seuen thinne eares, & blasted with the East winde, sprang vp after them:

7 And the thinne eares deuoured the seuen ranke and ful eares: then Pharaoh awaked, and lo, it was a dreame.

8 Now when the morning came, his spirite was troubled: therefore he sent and called all the sothesaiers of Egypt, & all the wise men thereof, and Pharaoh tolde them his dreames: but none coulde interpret them to Pharaoh.

9 Then spake the chief butler vnto Pharaoh, saying, I call to minde my fautes this day.

10 Pharaoh being angry with his seruantes, put me in warde in the chief stuardes house, bothe me and the chief baker.

11 The we dreamed a dreame in one night, bothe I, and he: we dreamed eche man according to the interpretacion of his dreame.

12 And there was with vs a yong man, an Ebrewe, seruant vnto the chief stuarde, whome when we tolde, he declared our dreames to vs, to euerie one he declared according to his dreame.

13 And as he declared vnto vs, so it came to passe: for he restored me to mine office, and hanged him.

14 ¶ Then sent Pharaoh, and called Ioséph, and they broght him hastily out of prison, and he shaued him, and changed his raiment, and came to Pharaoh.

15 Then Pharaoh said to Ioséph, I haue dreamed a dreame, and no man can interpret it, and I haue heard say of thee, that when thou hearest a dreame, thou canst interpret it.

16 And Ioséph answered Pharaoh, saying, Without me God shal answer for the welth of Pharaoh.

17 And Pharaoh said vnto Ioséph, In my dreame, beholde, I stode by the banke of the riuer:

18 And lo, there came vp out of y riuer seuen fatfleshed, and wellfaoured kine, and they fed in the medow.

19 Also lo, seuen other kine came vp after them, poore and very euilfaoured, and leane fleshed: I neuer sawe the like in all the land of Egypt, for euilfaoured.

20 And the leane and euilfaoured kine did eat vp the first seuen fat kine.

21 And when they had eaten them vp, it colde not be knowne that they had eaten them, but they were stil as euilfaoured, as they were at the beginning: so did I awake.

22 Moreouer I sawe in my dreame, and beholde, seuen eares sprang out of one stalke, ful and faire.

23 And lo, seuen eares, withered, thinne, and blasted with the East winde, sprang vp after them.

24 And the thinne eares deuoured the seuen good eares. Now I haue tolde the sothesaiers, and none can declare it vnto me.

25 ¶ Then Ioséph answered Pharaoh, Bothe Pharaohs dreames are one. God hath shewed Pharaoh, what he is about to do.

26 The seuen good kine are seuen yeres, & the seuen good eares are seuen yeres: this is one dreame.

27 Likewise the seuen thinne and euilfaoured kine, that came out after them, are seuen yeres: and the seuen emptie eares

Which was an occasion to appoint his officers and so to examine the that were in prison.

As at the end of two yeres of Adm.

This dreame was not so much for Pharaoh, as to be a meane to deliver Ioséph, and to provide for his Church.

All these meanes God vied to deliver his seruant, & to bring him in to fauour and autoritie.

This feare was ynough to moue him, that this vision was sent of God.

The wife of the worlde yn her hand not God's secrets, but to his seruants his will sheweth. The wife of the worlde yn her hand not God's secrets, but to his seruants his will sheweth.

Bothe his dreames tend to one end.

blasted with the East winde are seuen yeres of famine.

28 This is the thing, which I haue said vnto Pharaóh, that God hath shewed vnto Pharaóh, what he is aboute to do.

29 Beholde, there come seuen yeres of great plentie in all the land of Egypt.

Or, abundance and surpluse.

30 Againe, there shal arise after them seuen yeres of famine, so that all the plentie shalbe forgotten in the land of Egypt, and the famine shal consume the land:

Or, they shal remembre no more the plentie.

31 Nether shal the plentie be knowen in the land, by reason of this famine that shal come after: for it shalbe exceeding great.

32 And therefore the dreame was doubled vnto Pharaóh the second time, because the thing is established by God, & God halteth to performe it.

The office of a true Prophet is not onely to shewe & euils to come, but also the remedies for the same.

33 Now therefore let Pharaóh prouide for a man of vnderstanding and wisdom, & set him ouer the land of Egypt.

34 Let Pharaóh make and appoint officers ouer the lād, and take vp the fiftie parte of y lād of Egypt in y seuen plenteous yeres.

35 Also let them gather all the fode of these good yeres that come, and lay vp corne vnder the hand of Pharaóh for fode, in the cities, and let them kepe it.

36 So the fode shalbe for the prouision of the land, against the seuen yeres of famine, which shalbe in the land of Egypt, that the land perish not by famine.

37 ¶ And y saying pleased Pharaóh and all his seruantes.

38 Then said Pharaóh vnto his seruantes, Can we finde suche a man as this, in whome is the k Spirit of God?

k None shuld be preferred to honour, haue not gifts of God mete for the same.

39 The Pharaóh said to Ioséph, For as muche as God hath shewed thee all this, there is no man of vnderstanding, or of wisdom like vnto thee.

41 Moreouer Pharaóh said to Ioséph, Beholde, I haue set thee ouer all the land of Egypt.

42 And Pharaóh toke of his ring from his hand, and put it vpon Iosephs hand, and araied him in garments of fine linen and put a golden chaine about his necke.

43 So he set him vpon the best charet that he had, saue one: & they cryed before him, Abrech, and placed him ouer all the land of Egypt.

44 Againe Pharaóh said vnto Ioséph, I am Pharaóh, & without thee shal no man lift vp his hand or his fote in all the land of Egypt.

45 And Pharaóh called Iosephs name Zaphnath-paaneáh: and he gaue him to wife Asenath y daughter of Poti-phérah prince of On, then went Ioséph abroad in the land of Egypt.

46 ¶ And Ioséph was a thirty yere olde when he stode before Pharaóh King of Egypt: and Ioséph departing from the presence of Pharaóh, went through out all the land of Egypt.

Or, made for gatherings.

47 And in the seuen plenteous yeres the earth broght forth the store.

48 And he gathered vp all the fode of the seuen plenteous yeres, which were in the land of Egypt, and layed vp fode in the cities: the fode of the field, that was round about euery citie, layed he vp in the same.

49 So Ioséph gathered wheat, like vnto the sand of y sea in multitude out of measure, vntil he left nombring: for it was without nombre.

50 Now vnto Ioséph were borne two sonnes (before the yeres of famine came) Asenath the daughter of Poti-phérah prince of On bare vnto him.

Chap. 46. 26. & 48. 5.

51 And Ioséph called the name of the first borne Manasséh: for God, said he, hath made me forget all my labour & all my fathers householde.

52 Also he called the name of the seconde Ephraim: for God, said he, hath made me fruteful in the land of mine affliction.

o Notwithstanding that his fathers house was the true Church of God: yet y compaie of the wicked & prosperitie caused him to forget it.

Psal. 105. 16.

53 ¶ So the seuen yeres of the plentie that was in the land of Egypt were ended.

54 *The began the seuen yeres of famine to come, according as Ioséph had said: & the famine was in all landes, but in all the land of Egypt was bread.

Or, fode.

55 At the length all the land of Egypt was affamished and the people cryed to Pharaóh for bread. And Pharaóh said vnto all the Egyptians, Go to Ioséph: what he saith to you, do ye.

56 When the famine was vpon all the lād, Ioséph opened all places, wherein the store was and solde vnto the Egyptians: for the famine waxed sore in the land of Egypt.

57 And all countreis came to Egypt to bye corne of Ioséph, because the famine was sore in all landes.

Or, came to Egypt to bye corne.

25 ¶ So Ioseph commanded that thei shulde fille their sackes with wheat, and put euerie mans money againe in his sacke, & giue them vitaille for the iourney: and thus did he vnto them.

26 And they laied their vitaille vpon their asses, and departed thence.

27 And as one of them opened his sacke for to giue his asse prouandre in the ynne, he espied his money: for lo, it was in his sackes mouth.

28 Then he said vnto his brethren, My money is restored: for lo, it is euen in my sacke. And their heart failed them, & they were astonnished, and said one to an other, What is this, that God hath done vnto vs?

29 ¶ And they came vnto Iaakob their father vnto the land of Canaan, and tolde him all that had befallen them, saying, 30 The man, who is lord of the land, spake roughly to vs, and put vs in prison as spies of the cōntrei.

31 And we said vnto him, We are true mē, and are no spies.

32 We be twelue brethren, sonnes of our father: one is not, and the yongest is this day with our father in the lād of Canaan.

*Or, can 10th

33 Then the lord of the countrei said vnto vs, Hereby shal I knowe if ye be true mē: Leaue one of your brethren with me, and take fode for the famine of your houses & departe, 34 And bring your yongest brother vnto me, that I may knowe that ye are no spies, but true mē: so wil I deliuer you your brother, and ye shal occupie in the land.

35 ¶ And as they emptied their sackes, beholde, euerie mans bundel of money was in his sacke: and when they and their father sawe the bñdels of their money, they were afraied.

36 Then Iaakob their father said to them, Ye haue robbed me of my childre: Ioseph is not, and Simeon is not, and ye wil take Bēiamin: all these thigs are against me.

37 Then Reuben answered his father, saying, Slay my two sōnes, if I brig him not to thee againe: deliuer him to mine hand, and I wil bring him to thee againe.

38 But he said, My sōne shal not go downe w you: for his brother is dead, & he is left alone: if death come vnto him by y way, which ye go, then ye shal bring my graie head with sorowe vnto the graue.

<sup>i</sup> Our chief trust ought to be in God and not in worldelie meanes. He speaketh these wordes not so much of despaire, as to make his sonnes more careful to bring againe their brother.

NOW great a famine was in the land. And when they had eaten vp the vitaille, which they had broght from Egypt, their father said vnto them, Turne againe, and bye vs a litle fode.

And Iudā answered him, saying, The man charged vs by an othe, saying, * Neuer se my face, except your brother be with you.

If thou wilt send our brother with vs, we wil go downe, and by thee fode:

But if thou wilt not send him, we wil not go downe: for the man said vnto vs, * Loke me not in the face, except your brother be with you.

And Israël said, Wherefore delt ye so euil with me, as to tel the man, whether ye had yet a brother or no?

And they answered, The man asked straitly of our selues and of our kinred, sayig, Is your father yet aliue? haue ye any brother? And we tolde him according to these wordes: colde we knowe certainly y he wolde say, Bring your brother downe?

Then said Iudā to Israël his father, Sēd the boye with me, that we may rise & go, and that we may liue and not dye, both we, and thou, and our children.

I wil be suretie for him: of mine hand shalt thou require him. * If I bring him not to thee, & set him before thee, then let me beare the blame for euer.

For except we had made this tarying, doutles by this we had returned the seconde time.

Then their father Israël said vnto them, If it must nedes be so nowe, do thus: take of the best frutes of the land in your vessels, and bring the man a present, a litle rosen, and a litle honie, spices and myrrer, nuttes, and almondes:

And take<sup>b</sup> double money in your hand, and the money, that was broght againe in your sackes mouthes: carie it againe in your hand, lest it were some ouer sight.

Take also your brother and arise, and go againe to the man.

And<sup>c</sup> God almightie giue you mercie in the sight of the man, that he maie deliuer you your other brother, and Benjamin: but I shalbe<sup>d</sup> robbed of my childe, as I haue bene.

Thus y men toke this present, and toke twise so muche money in their hand with Benjamin, and rose vp, and went downe to Egypt and stode before Ioseph.

And when Ioseph sawe Benjamin w<sup>e</sup>thē, he said to his stuard, Bring these men home and kil meat and make readie: for the men shal eat with me at noone.

And y man did as Ioseph bad, & broght the men vnto Iosephs house.

Now when the mē were broght into Io-sephs house, thei were<sup>e</sup> afraied, and said, Because of the money, that came in our sackes mouthes at the first time, are we broght, that he maie<sup>f</sup> pike a quarel agais<sup>g</sup> vs, and<sup>h</sup> laie some thing to our charge, and bring vs in bondage and our asses.

Therefore came thei to Iosephs stuard, and communed with him at the dore of the house.

And said, Oh syr, * we came i dede downe hether at the first time to bye fode,

And as we came to an ynne and opened our sackes, behold, euerie mans money was in his sackes mouth, <sup>i</sup> even our money in ful weight, but we haue broght it againe in our hands.

Also other money haue we broght in o handes to bye fode, but we cā not tel, who put our money in our sackes.

And he said, Peace be vnto you, feare not: your God and the God of your father hathe giuen you that treasure in your sackes, I had your money: and he broght forth the Simeon to them.

So the man led the in to Iosephs house, and gaue them water to wash their fete, and gaue their asses prouander.

And thei made redy their presēt agais<sup>t</sup> Ioseph came at none, (for thei heard saie, that thei shulde eat bread there.)

When Ioseph came home, thei broght the present into the house to him, which was in their hands, and bowed downe to the ground before him.

And he asked them of<sup>j</sup> their prosperitie, and said, Is your father the olde man, of whome ye tolde me, in good health? is he yet aliue?

Who answered, Thy seruāt our father is in good helth, he is yet aliue: and they bowed downe, and made obeisance.

And he lifting vp his eies, behelde his brother Benjamin his<sup>k</sup> mothers sonne, & said, Is this your yonger brother, of whome ye tolde me? And he said, God be merciful vnto thee, my sonne.

And Ioseph made haste (for his<sup>l</sup> affection was inflamed toward his brother, and soght<sup>m</sup> where to wepe) and entred into his chambre, and wept there.

Afterward he washed his face, and came out, and refrained him selfe, and said, Set on<sup>n</sup> meat.

And they<sup>o</sup> prepared for him by him selfe, and for them by them selues, and for y Egyptians, which did eat with him, by them selues, because the Egyptians might not eat bread with y Ebrewes: for that was an<sup>p</sup> abomination vnto the Egyptians.

So they sate before him: the eldest according vnto his age, and the yongest according vnto his youthe, and the men marueiled

CHAP. XLIIII.

- 15 Ioséph accuseth his brother of these. 33 Iudáh offereth him selfe to be seruant for Benjamin.

1 A fterwarde he cōmanded his stuard, saying, Fil the mens sackes with fode, as muche as thei can cary, and put euerie mans money in his sackes mouthe.

2 And<sup>a</sup> put my cup, I meane the siluer cup, in the sackes mouthe of the yongest, and his corne money. And he did according to the commandement that Ioséph gaue him.

3 And in the<sup>b</sup> morning the men were sent away, thei, and their asses.

4 And when thei went out of the citie not farre of, Ioséph said to his stuard, Vp, followe after the men: & whē thou doest ouertake them, say vnto them, Wherefore haue ye rewarded euil for good?

5 Is that not the cup, wherein my lord drinke<sup>b</sup> and in the which he doeth deuine and prophecie? ye haue done euil in so doing.

6 ¶ And whē he ouertoke thē, he said those wordes vnto them.

7 And thei answered him, Wherefore saiest my lord suche wordes? God forbid that thy seruants shulde do suche a thing.

8 Beholde, the money which we found in our sackes mouthe, we broght againe to thee out of the land of Canaan: how then shulde we steale out of thy lordes house siluer, or golde?

9 With whome soeuer of thy seruants it be founde, let him dye, and we also wil be my lords bondmen.

10 And he said, Now then let it be according vnto your wordes: he with whome it is founde, shalbe my seruant, & ye shal be<sup>c</sup> blameles.

11 Then at once euerie mā toke downe his sacke to the grounde, and euerie one opened his sacke.

12 And he searched, and began at the eldest and left at the yongest: and the cup was founde in Beniamins sacke.

13 Then thei<sup>e</sup> rent their clothes, and laded euerie man his asse, and went againe into the citie.

14 ¶ So Iudáh & his brethren came to Ioséphs house (for he was yet there) and thei fel before him on the grounde.

15 Thē Ioséph said vnto thē, What acte is this, which ye haue done? Knowe ye not that suche a man as I, can deuine & prophecie?

16 Then said Iudáh, What shal we say vnto my lord? what shal we speake? & how can we iustifie our selues? God hath founde out the wickednes of thy seruantes: beholde we are seruants to my lord, bothe we, and he, with whome the cup is founde.

17 But he answered, God forbid, y I shulde do so, but the man, with whome the cup is founde, he shalbe my seruant, & go ye in peace vnto your father.

18 ¶ Thē Iudáh drewe nere vnto him, and said, Oh my lord, let thy seruant now speake a worde in my lords eares, and let not thy wrath be kindled against thy seruant: for thou art euen<sup>e</sup> as Pharaōh.

19 My lord asked his seruants, saying, Haue ye a father, or a brother?

20 And we answered my lord, We haue a father that is olde, and a yong<sup>b</sup> childe, which he begate in his age: and his brother is dead, & he alone is left of his mother, and his father loueth him.

21 Now y<sup>f</sup> saidest vnto thy seruants, Bring him vnto me, that I may<sup>g</sup> set mine eie vp on him.

22 And we answered my lord, The childe can not departe from his father: for if he leaue his father, his father wolde dye.

23 Then saidest thou vnto thy seruants, Except your yonger brother come downe with you, loke in my face no more.

24 So when we came vnto thy seruant our father, and shewed him what my lord had said,

25 And our father said vnto vs, Go againe, bye vs a litle fode, 26 Thē we answered, We can not go downe: but if our yongest brother go with vs, then wil we go downe: for we may not se the mas face, except our yongest brother be with vs.

27 Then thy seruant my father said vnto vs, Ye knowe that my<sup>f</sup> wife bare me two sonnes, 28 And the one went out from me, and I said, Of a surety he is torne in pieces, and I sawe him not since.

29 Now ye take this also away from me: if death take him, then s ye shal bring my gray head in sorowe to the graue.

30 Now therefore, whē I come to thy seruant my father, and the childe be not with vs (seing that his<sup>h</sup> life dependeth on the childe's life)

31 Then when he shal se that the childe is not come, he wil dye: so shal thy seruants bring the gray head of thy seruant our father with sorowe to the graue.

32 Doutles thy seruant became suretie for the childe to my father, and said, If I bring him not vnto thee againe, thē I wil beare the blame vnto my father for euer.

33 Now therefore, I pray thee, let me thy seruant bide for the childe, as a seruant to f.i.

10 And thou shalt dwel in the land of Goshen, and shalt be nere me, thou and thy children, & thy childrens childrē, & thy shepe, & thy bestes, & all that thou hast.

11 Also I wil nourish thee there (for yet remaine fīue yeres of famine) lest thou perissh through pouertie, thou & thy household, and all that thou hast.

12 And beholde, your eies do se, & the eies of my brother Benjamin, y<sup>e</sup> d my mouth speaketh to you.

d That is, that I speake in your owne language, and haue none interpreter.

13 Therefore tel my father of all mine honour in Egypt, & of all that ye haue sene, & make haste, & bring my father hether.

14 Then he fel on his brother Beniamins necke, and wept, & Benjamin wept on his necke.

15 Moreouer he kissed all his brethren, and wept vpon them: and afterwarde his brethren talked with him.

16 ¶ And the tydings came vnto Pharaohs house, so that thei said, Iosephs brethren are come: and it pleased Pharaoh wel, & his seruants.

21 And the children of Israel did so: and Ioséph gaue them charets according to the commādemēt of Pharaoh: he gaue them vitaille also for the iourney.

22 He gaue the all, none except, change of raiment: but vnto Benjamin he gaue thre hundredth pieces of siluer, & fīue sutes of rayment.

23 And vnto his father likewise he sent ten asses laden with the best things of Egypt, and ten she asses ladē with wheat, & bread, & meat for his father by the way.

Or, he sent as much as wis, silver, as vers. 22. & ten asses.

24 So sent he his brethren away, and thei departed: and he said vnto them, g Fall not out by the way.

g Seing he had remitted the same done toward him, he wolde not y<sup>e</sup> thei shulde accuse one another.

25 ¶ Then thei wēt vp from Egypt, & came vnto the land of Canaan vnto Iakób their father, 26 And tolde him, saying, Ioséph is yet aliue, and he also is gouernour ouer all the lād of Egypt, and Iakobs heart h failed: for he beleued them not.

h As one betwene hope & feare.

27 And thei tolde him all the wordes of Ioséph, which he had said vnto them: but when he sawe the charets, which Ioséph had sent to cary him, then the spirit of Iakób their father reuiued.

28 And Israel said, I haue ynough: Ioséph my sonne is yet aliue: I wil go and se him yer I dye.

for I wil there make of thee a great nation.

I wil go downe with thee into Egypt, and I wil also bring thee vp againe, and Ioseph shal put his had vpon thine eyes.

Then laakób rose vp from Beer-sheba: and the sonnes of Israël caried laakób their father, and their children, and their wiues in the charets, which Pharaóh had sent to cary him.

And thei toke their cattel & their goods, which they had gotten in the land of Canaan, and came into Egypt, bothe laakób and all his fede with him,

His sonnes and his sonnes sonnes with him, his daughters and his sonnes daughters, and all his fede broght he with him into Egypt.

And these are the names of the children of Israël, which came into Egypt, euen laakób & his sonnes: Reubén, laakóbs first borne.

And the sonnes of Reubén: Hanóch, and Phallú, and Hezrón and Carmí.

And the sonnes of Simeón: Iemuél, & Iamín, and Ohad, and Iachín, & Zóhar, & Shaúl & sonne of a Canaanitish womā.

Also sonnes of Leuí: Gershón, Koháth and Merarí.

Also the sonnes of Iudáh: Er, and Onán, and Sheláh, and Phárez, and Zérah: (but Er, and Onán dyed in the land of Canaan) And the sonnes of Phárez were Hezrón and Hamúl.

Also the sonnes of Issachár: Tolá, & Phuuáh, and Iob, and Shimrón.

Also the sonnes of Zebulún: Séred, & Elón, and Iahleél.

These be the sonnes of Leáh, which she bare vnto laakób in Padán Arám, with his daughter Dináh. All the soules of his sonnes & his daughters were thirty & thre.

Also the sonnes of Gad: Ziphíón, and Haggi, Shuní, and Ezbón, Eri, and Arodí, and Arelí.

Also the sonnes of Ashér: Iimnáh, & Ishuáh, and Isuí, and Beriáh, and Sérah their sister. And the sonnes of Beriáh: Héber, and Malchiél.

These are the childre of Zilpáh, whome Labán gaue to Leáh his daughter: & these she bare vnto laakób, euen sixtene soules.

The sonnes of Rahél laakóbs wife were Ioseph, and Beniamín.

And vnto Ioseph in the lād of Egypt were borne Manasséh, & Ephraím, which Asenáth the daughter of Poti-phérah prince of On bare vnto him.

Also sonnes of Beniamín: Bélah, & Bécher, & Ashbél, Gerá, and Naamán, Ehi, & Rosh, Muppím, & Huppím, & Ard.

These are the sonnes of Rahél, which were borne vnto laakób, foureene soules in all.

Also the sonnes of Dan: Hushím.

Also the sonnes of Nephthalí: Iahzeél, and Guní, and Iézer, and Shillém.

These are the sonnes of Bilháh, which Labán gaue vnto Rahél his daughter, & she bare these to laakób, in all, seuen soules.

All the soules, that came with laakób into Egypt, which came out of his loynes (beside laakóbs sonnes wiues) were in the whole, thre score and sixe soules.

Also the sonnes of Ioseph, which were borne him in Egypt, were two soules: so that all the soules of the house of laakób, which came into Egypt, are seuen & e.

Then he sent Iudáh before him vnto Ioseph, to direct his way vnto Góshen, and they came into the land of Góshen.

Then Ioseph made ready his charet & went vp to Góshen to mete Israël his father, and presented him selfe vnto him, & fel on his necke, and wept vpon his necke a good while.

And Israël said vnto Ioseph, Now let me dye, since I haue sene thy face, and that thou art yet aliue.

Then Ioseph said to his brethren, and to his fathers house, I wil go vp and shewe Pharaóh, and tel him, My brethren and my fathers house, which were in the land of Canaan, are come vnto me,

And the men are shepherdes, & because they are shepherdes, they haue broght their shepe & their cattel, & all thei haue.

And if Pharaóh call you, and aske you, What is your trade?

The ye shal say, Thy seruants are men occupied about cattel, fro our childhode euen vnto this time, bothe we and our fathers: that ye may dwel in the lād of Góshen: for euerie shepekeeper is an abominacion vnto the Egyptians.

Then came Ioseph and tolde Pharaóh, and said, My father, & my brethrē, & their shepe, & their cattel, and all thei haue, are come out of the land of Canaan, & beholde, they are in the land of Góshen.

And Ioseph toke parte of his brethrē, euen five men, & presented the vnto Pharaóh.

The Pharaóh said vnto his brethrē, What is your trade? And thei answered Pharaóh, Thy seruants are shepherdes, bothe we and our fathers.

Thei said moreouer vnto Pharaóh, For to sojourne in the land are we come: for thy seruants haue no pasture for their shepe, sofore is the famine in the land of Canaan. Now therefore, we pray thee, let thy seruants dwel in the land of Góshen.

f For except the ground be tilled & sowed, it perisheth & is, as it were dead.

5 Then spake Pharaoh to Ioseph, saying, Thy father and thy brethren are come vnto thee.

6 The land of Egypt is before thee: in y<sup>e</sup> best place of the land make thy father and thy brethren dwell: let them dwell in the land of Goshen: and if thou knowest that there be men of aduinitie among them, make them rulers ouer my cattel.

7 Ioseph also brought Iakob his father, & set him before Pharaoh. And Iakob saluted Pharaoh.

8 Then Pharaoh said vnto Iakob, How olde art thou?

9 And Iakob said vnto Pharaoh, The whole time of my pilgrimage is an hundred & thirty yeres: fewe and euil haue the dayes of my life bene, & I haue not attained vnto the yeres of the life of my fathers, in y<sup>e</sup> dayes of their pilgrimages.

10 And Iakob toke leaue of Pharaoh, & departed from y<sup>e</sup> presence of Pharaoh.

11 And Ioseph placed his father, and his brethren, and gaue them possession in the land of Egypt, in the best of the land, euen in the land of Ramesses, as Pharaoh had commanded.

12 And Ioseph nourished his father, and his brethren, and all his fathers household with bread, euen to the yong children.

13 Now there was no bread in all the land: for the famine was exceeding sore: so that the land of Egypt & the land of Canaan were famished by the reason of y<sup>e</sup> famine.

14 And Ioseph gathered all the money, that was founde in the land of Egypt, and in the land of Canaan, for the corne which they bought, & Ioseph laied vp the money in Pharaohs house.

15 So when money failed in the land of Egypt, and in the land of Canaan, then all the Egyptians came vnto Ioseph, and said, Giue vs bread: for why shulde we dye before thee? for our money is spent.

16 Then said Ioseph, Bring your cattel, & I wil giue you for your cattel, if your money be spent.

17 So they brought their cattel vnto Ioseph, & Ioseph gaue them bread for the horses, and for the flockes of shepe, and for the herdes of cattel, and for the asses: so he fed them with bread for all their cattel that yere.

18 But when the yere was ended, they came vnto him the next yere, & said vnto him, We wil not hide from my lord, that since our money is spent, & my lord hathe the herdes of the cattel, there is nothing left in the sight of my lord, but our bodies & our grounde.

19 Why shal we perish in thy sight, bothe we, and our land: bye vs and our land for bread, and we and our land wil be bonde to Pharaoh: therefore giue vs sede, y<sup>e</sup> we may liue and not dye, and that the land go not to waste.

20 So Ioseph bought all the land of Egypt for Pharaoh: for y<sup>e</sup> Egyptians solde euery man his grounde because the famine was sore vpon them: so the land became Pharaohs.

21 And he removed the people vnto the cities, from one side of Egypt euen to the other.

22 Onely the land of the Priestes bought he not: for the Priestes had an ordinarie of Pharaoh, and they did eat their ordinarie, which Pharaoh gaue the: wherefore they solde not their grounde.

23 Then Ioseph said vnto the people, Beholde, I haue bought you this day and your land for Pharaoh: lo, here is sede for you: so we therefore the grounde.

24 And of the encrease ye shal giue the fift parte vnto Pharaoh, and foure partes shal be yours for the sede of the field, and for your meat, and for them of your householdes, and for your children to eat.

25 Then they answered, Thou hast saued our liues: let vs finde grace in the sight of my lord, & we wil be Pharaohs seruats.

26 Then Ioseph made it a lawe ouer the land of Egypt vnto this day, that Pharaoh shulde haue the fift parte, except the land of the Priestes onely, w<sup>h</sup> was not Pharaohs.

27 And Israel dwelt in the land of Egypt, in the countrey of Goshen: and they had their possessions therein, and grewe and multiplied exceedingly.

28 Moreouer, Iakob liued in the land of Egypt seuentene yeres, so that the whole age of Iakob was an hundred & fourtie & seuen yere.

29 Now when the time drewe nere y<sup>e</sup> Israel must dye, he called his sonne Ioseph, and said vnto him, If I haue now founde grace in thy sight, put thine hand vnder my thigh, and deale mercifully and truly wth me: bury me not, I pray thee, in Egypt.

30 But when I shal slepe with my fathers, thou shalt cary me out of Egypt, and bury me in their burial. And he answered, I wil do as thou hast said.

31 Then he said, Swear vnto me. And he sware vnto him. And Israel worshipped toward the beds head.

12 Iaakób is buried. 19 Joseph forgiveth his brethren. 23 He seeth his childrens children. 25 He dyeth.

1 Then Joseph fel vpon his fathers face and wept vpon him, and kissed him.

2 And Joseph commanded his seruantes the phisicians, to enbaume his father, & the phisicians enbaumed Israel.

3 So forty daies were accomplished (for so long did the daies of them that were enbaumed last) and the Egyptians bewailed him seventy daies.

4 And when the daies of his mourning were past, Joseph spake to the house of Pharaoh, saying, If I haue now founde fauour in your eyes, I pray you, in thy cares of Pharaoh, and say,

5 My father made me sweare, saying, Lo, I dye, bury me in my graue, which I haue made me in the land of Canaan: now therefore let me go, I praie thee, & bury my father and I wil come againe.

6 The Pharaoh said, Go vp and bury thy father, as he made thee to sweare.

7 ¶ So Joseph went vp to bury his father, and with him went all the seruantes of Pharaoh, both the elders of his house and all the elders of the land of Egypt.

8 Likewise all the house of Joseph, and his brethren, and his fathers house: onely their children, and their shepe, and their cattel left they in the land of Goshen.

9 And there went vp with him bothe chariots and horsemen: and they were an exceeding great companie.

10 And they came to Góren Atád, which is beyonde Iordén, and there they made a great and exceeding sore lamentacion: and he mourned for his father seuen daies.

11 And when the Canaanites the inhabitants of the land sawe the mourning in Góren Atád, they said, This is a great mourning vnto the Egyptians: wherefore the name thereof was called Abél Mizráim, which is beyonde Iordén.

12 So his sonnes did vnto him according as he had commanded them:

14 ¶ Then Ioseph returned into Egypt, he and his brethren, & all that went vp with him to bury his father, after that he had buried his father.

15 And whē Iosephs brethrē sawe that their father was dead, they said, It may be y Ioseph wil hate vs, and wil paye vs againe all the euil, which we did vnto him.

16 Therefore they sent vnto Ioseph, sayig, Thy father commanded before his death, saying, 17 Thus shal ye say vnto Ioseph, Forgiue now, I pray thee, y trespass of thy brethrē, and their sinne: for they rewarded thee euil. And now, we pray thee, forgiue y trespass of the seruants of thy fathers God. And Ioseph wept, when they spake vnto him.

18 Also his brethrē came vnto him, and fel downe before his face, & said, Beholde, we be thy seruantes.

19 To whome Ioseph said, Feare not: for am not I vnder God?

20 When ye thought euil against me, God disposed it to good, that he might bring to passe, as it is this day, and saue much people aline.

21 Feare not now therefore, I wil nourish you, and your children: and he comforted them, and spake kindly vnto them.

22 ¶ So Ioseph dwelt in Egypt, he, and his fathers house: and Ioseph liued an hundred and ten yere.

23 And Ioseph sawe Ephraims children, euen vnto the third generacion: also the sonnes of Machir the sonne of Manassch were broght vp on Iosephs knees.

24 And Ioseph said vnto his brethrē, I am ready to dye, & God wil surely viset you, and bring you out of this land vnto the land, which he sware vnto Abraham, vnto Izhak, and vnto Iaakob.

25 And Ioseph toke an othe of the childrē of Israel, saying, God wil surely viset you, and ye shal cary my bones hence.

26 So Ioseph dyed, when he was an hundred and ten yere olde: and they embalmed him & put him in a chest in Egypt.

THE SECONDE BOKE of Moses, called Exodus.

THE ARGUMENT.

AFTER that Iaakob by Gods commandement Gen. 46.3. had broght his familie into Egypt, where they remained for the space of foure hundred yeres, and of seventy persones grew to an infinite nombre, so that the King and the countrey grudged and endeoured lothe by tyrannie and cruel slavery to suppress them: the Lord according to his promise Gen. 15.14. had compassion of his Church & deliuered them, but plagued their enemies in most strange and sondry sortes. And the more that the tyrannie of the wicked enraged against his Church, the more did his heauy iudgements increase against them, til Pharaoh & his armie were drowned in the same Sea, which gave an entrie and passage to the childrē of God. But as the ingratitude of man is great, so did they immediatly forget Gods wonderful benefites: & albeit he had giuen them the Passeouer to be a signe & memorial of the same, yet they fel to distrust, & tempted God with sondry murmurings and grudginges against him and his ministers: sometime moued with ambition, sometime for lacke of drinke or meate to content their lustes, sometime by idolatrie, or suche like. Wherefore God visited them with sharpe rodde and plagues that by his corrections they might seke to him for remedy against his scourges & earnestly repent them for their rebellious & wickednes. And because God loveth the to the end, whome he hath once begone to love, he punished the not according to their desert, but dealt with them in great mercies, and euer with new benefites labored to ouercome their malice: for he stil gouerned them and gaue the his worde & Law, bothe concerning the maner of seruing him, & also the forme of iudgements and ciuil policie: to the intent that thei shoulde not serue God after their owne inuentions, but according to that ordre, which his heauenlie wisdom had appointed.

11 Therefore did they set taskmasters ouer them, to kepe them vnder with burdens: and they buylt the cities Pithom & Raamses for the treasures of Pharaoh.

12 But the more they vexed them, the more they multiplied and grewe: therefore they were more grieued against the children of Israel.

13 Wherefore the Egyptians by crueltie caused the children of Israel to serue.

14 Thus they made them weary of their liues by sore labour in claye and in bricke, and in all worke in the field, with all manner of bondage, which they laied vpon them mozte cruelly.

15 Moreover the King of Egypt commanded the midwiues of the Ebrewes women, (of which the ones name was Shiphrath, and the name of the other Puah)

16 And said, When ye do the office of a midwife to the women of the Ebrewes & se them on their stollles, if it be a sonne, the ye shal kil him: but if it be a daughter, then let her liue.

17 Notwithstanding the midwiues feared God, & did not as the King of Egypt commanded them, but preserued aliue the me children.

18 Then the King of Egypt called for the midwiues, & said vnto the, Why haue ye done thus, and haue preserued aliue the men children?

19 And the midwiues answered Pharaoh, Because the Ebrewes women are not as the women of Egypt: for they are liuelie, and are deliuered yer y midwife come at the.

20 God therefore prospered the midwiues, and the people multiplied & were very mightie.

21 And because the midwiues feared God, therefore he made them houses.

22 Then Pharaoh charged all his people, saying, Euerie man childe that is borne, cast ye into the riuer, but reserue euerie maidchilde aliue.

6 Then she opened it, and sawe it was a childe: and beholde, the babe wept: so she had compassion on it, and said, This is one of the Ebrewes children.

8 And Pharaohs daughter said to her, Go. So the maid went and called the childes mother.

9 To whome Pharaohs daughter said, Take this childe away, and nurse it for me, & I wil rewarde thee. The woman toke the childe and nurced him.

10 Now the childe grewe, and she brought him vnto Pharaohs daughter, & he was as her sonne, and she called his name Moses, because, said she, I drewe him out of the water.

11 ¶ And in those dayes, when Moses was growē, he went forth vnto his brethre, and looked on their burdens: also he sawe an Egyptia smiting an Ebrewe one of his brethren.

12 And he looked rounde about, & when he sawe no man, he slew the Egyptian, and hid him in the sand.

13 Againe he came forth the seconde day, and beholde, two Ebrewes stroue: and he said vnto him that did the wrōg, Wherefore smitest thou thy fellowe?

14 And he answered, Who made thee a mā of autoritie & a iudge ouer vs? Thinkest thou to kil me, as thou killedst the Egyptian? Then Moses feared and said, Certenly this thing is knowen.

15 Now Pharaoh heard this matter, and sought to slay Moses: therefore Moses fled from Pharaoh, & dwelt in the lād of Midian, and he sate downe by a well.

16 And y Priest of Midian had seue daughters, which came and drewe water, and filled the troghes, for to watter their fathers shepe.

17 Then the shepherdes came and droue them away: but Moses rose up & defended them, and wattered their shepe.

18 And when they came to Reuel their father, he said, How are ye come so sone to day?

19 And they said, A man of Egypt deliuered

20 Then he said vnto his daughters, And where is he? why haue ye so left the man? & call him that he may eat bread.

21 And Mosés agreed to dwel with the mā: who gaue vnto Mosés Zipporáh his daughter:

22 And she bare a sonne, * whose name he called Geršóm: for he said, I haue bene a stranger in a strange land.

23 ¶ Then in procelle of time, the King of Egypt dyed, & the childrē of Israël sigh- ed for the bondage and <sup>h</sup> cryed: & their crye for the bondage came vp vnto God.

24 Then God heard their mone, and God remembred his couenant with Abrahám, Izhák, and Iaakób.

25 So God looked vpon the children of Israël, and God <sup>i</sup> had respect vnto them.

CHAP. III.

1 Mosés kept shepe, and God appeareth vnto him in a bushe. 10 He sendeth him to deliuer the children of Israël. 14 The name of God. 16 God teacheth him what to do.

1 WHen Mosés kept the shepe of Iethró his father in lawe, Priest of Midian, & droue the flocke to the <sup>a</sup> backe side of the desert, and came to the <sup>b</sup> Mountaine of God, <sup>b</sup> Horéb,

2 Then the Angel of the Lord appeared vnto him in a flame of fyre, out of the middes of a <sup>c</sup> bushe: & he looked, & beholde, the bushe burned with fyre, and the bushe was not consumed.

3 Therefore Mosés said, I wil turne aside now, & se this great sight, why the bushe burneth not.

4 And when the <sup>d</sup> Lord saw that he turned aside to se, God called vnto him out of the middes of the bushe, and said, Mosés, Mosés. And he answered, I am here.

5 Then he said, Come not hither, <sup>e</sup> put thy shooes of thy fete: for the place whereon thou standest is <sup>f</sup> holy grounde.

6 Moreouer he said, * I am the God of thy father, the God of Abrahám, the God of Izhák, & the God of Iaakób. Then Mosés hid his face: for he was <sup>g</sup> afraied to loke vpon God.

7 ¶ Then the Lord said, I haue surely sene the trouble of my people, which are in Egypt, & haue heard their crye, because of their <sup>h</sup> taskmasters: for I knowe their sorowes.

8 Therefore I am come downe to deliuer them out of the hand of the Egyptians, and to bring them out of that land into a good lād & a large, into a lād that <sup>i</sup> floweth with milke & hony, <sup>i</sup> even into the place of the Canaanites, and the Hittites, & the Amorites, and the Perizzites, and the Hiuites, and the Iebusites.

9 <sup>k</sup> And now lo, the crye of the children of Israël is come vnto me, and I haue also sene the oppressiō, wherewith the Egyptians oppress them.

10 Come now therefore, and I wil send thee vnto Pharaóh, that thou maiest brig my people the children of Israël out of Egypt.

11 ¶ But Mosés said vnto God, Who am <sup>l</sup> I, that I shulde go vnto Pharaóh, and that I shulde bring the children of Israël out of Egypt?

12 And he answered, <sup>m</sup> Certainly I wil be with thee: & this shalbe a tokē vnto thee, that I haue set thee, After that thou hast brought the people out of Egypt, ye shal serue God vpon this Mountaine.

13 Then Mosés said vnto God, Beholde, when I shal come vnto the children of Israël, and shal say vnto them, The God of your fathers hath sent me vnto you: if thei say vnto me, What is his Name? what answere shal I giue them?

14 And God answered Mosés, I <sup>n</sup> AM THAT I AM. Also he said, Thus shalt thou say vnto the children of Israël, I AM hath sent me vnto you.

15 And God spake further vnto Mosés, Thus shalt thou say vnto the children of Israël, The Lord God of your fathers, the God of Abrahám, the God of Izhák, and the God of Iaakób hath sent me vnto you: this is my Name for euer, & this is my memorial vnto all ages.

16 Go and gather the Elders of Israël together, & thou shalt say vnto them, The Lord God of your fathers, <sup>o</sup> God of Abrahám, Izhák, & Iaakób appeared vnto me, & said, I haue surely remēbred you, & that which is done to you in Egypt.

17 Therefore I did say, I wil bring you out of the affliction of Egypt vnto the land of the Canaanites, and the Hittites, and the Amorites, and the Perizzites, & the Hiuites, and the Iebusites, vnto a land that floweth with milke and hony.

18 Then shal thei obeie thy voyce, & thou and the Elders of Israël shal go vnto the King of Egypt, and saie vnto him, The Lord God of the Ebrewes hath <sup>p</sup> met w vs: we pray thee now therefore, let vs go thre dayes iourney in the wildernes, that we may <sup>q</sup> sacrifice vnto <sup>o</sup> Lord our God.

19 ¶ But I knowe, that the King of Egypt wil not let you go, but by strong hand.

20 Therefore wil I stretch out mine hād, and smite Egypt with all my wonders, & I wil do in the middes thereof: and after that shal he let you go.

21 And I wil make this people to be fauored of the Egyptians: so that when ye go, ye shal not go emptie.

CHAP. V.

Moses and Aaron do their message to Pharaoh, who letteth not the people of Israel departe but oppresseth them more and more. 20 They crye out vpon Moses & Aaron therefore, and Moses complaineth to God.

Then afterward Moses & Aaron went & said to Pharaoh, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Let my people go, that they maie celebrate a feast vnto me in the wilderness.

And Pharaoh said, Who is the Lord, y<sup>e</sup> I shulde heare his voyce, & let Israel go? I knowe not the Lord, nether wil I let Israel go.

And they said, We worship the God of y<sup>e</sup> Ebrewes: we pray thee, suffre vs to go thre daies iournēi in the desert and to sacrifice vnto the Lord our God, lest he bring vpon vs the pestilence or sworde.

Thē said the King of Egypt vnto them, Moses and Aaron, why cause ye the people to cease from their workes? get you to your burdens.

Pharaoh said furthermore, Beholde, much people is now in the land, & ye make them leaue their burdens.

Therefore Pharaoh gaue commādemēt the same day vnto the taskemasters of the people, and to their officers, saying,

Ye shal giue the people no more strawe, to make bricke (as in time past) but let them go and gather them straw them selues:

Notwithstanding lay vpon them the nōbre of bricke, which they made in time past, diminish nothing thereof: for they be idle, therefore thei crye, saying, Let vs go to offre sacrifice vnto our God.

Lay more worke vpon the men, and cause them to do it, and let them not regarde vaine wordes.

Then went the taskemasters of y<sup>e</sup> people & their officers out, and tolde the people, saying, Thus saith Pharaoh, I wil giue you no more straw.

Go your selues, get you straw where ye can finde it, yet shal nothing of your labour be diminished.

Then were the people scatred abroad throughout all the land of Egypt, for to gather stubble in stede of straw.

And the taskemasters hastened thē, saying, Finish your dayes worke euerie dayes taske, as ye did when ye had straw.

And the officers of the children of Israel, which Pharaohs taskemasters had set ouer them, were beaten, and demanded, Wherefore haue ye not fulfilled your taske in making bricke yesterday and to day, as in times past?

Thē the officers of the childrē of Israel came, & cryed vnto Pharaoh, sayig, Wherefore dealest thou thus with thy seruants?

There is no straw giuen to thy seruants, and they say vnto vs, Make bricke: and lo, thy seruants are beaten, and thy people is blamed.

But he said, Ye are to muche idle: therefore ye say, Let vs go to offre sacrifice to the Lord.

Go therefore now & worke: for there shal no straw be giuen you, yet shal ye deliuer the whole tale of bricke.

Then the officers of the children of Israel sawe thē selues in an euil case, because it was said, Ye shal diminish nothing of your bricke, nor of euerie daies taske,

And they met Moses & Aaron, which stode in their way as they came out from Pharaoh,

To whome they said, The Lord loke vpon you and iudge: for ye haue made our sauour to stincke before Pharaoh & before his seruants, in that ye haue put a sworde in their hand to slay vs:

Wherefore Moses returned to y<sup>e</sup> Lord, and said, Lord, why hast thou afflicted this people? wherefore hast thou thus sent me?

For since I came to Pharaoh to speake in thy Name, he hath vexed this people, and yet thou hast not deliuered thy people.

CHAP. VI.

God reneweth his promes of the deliuerance of the Israelites. 9 Moses speaketh to the Israelites, but they beleue him not. 10 Moses and Aaron are sent againe to Pharaoh. 14 The genealogie of Reuben, Simeon, and Levi, of whome came Moses and Aaron.

Thē the Lord said vnto Moses, Now shalt thou se, what I wil do vnto Pharaoh: for by a strong hand shal he let them go, and euen be constrained to driue thē out of his land.

Moreouer God spake vnto Moses, and said vnto him, I am the Lord,

And I appeared vnto Abraham, to Izhak, and to Iakób by the Name of Almighty God: but by my Name Ichouah was I not known vnto them.

Furthermore as I made my couenāt with them to giue them the land of Canaan, the lād of their pilgrimage, wherein they were strangers:

So I haue also heard the groning of the children of Israel, whome the Egyptians kepe in bondage, & haue remembred my couenant.

Or, thy people the Egyptians are in the fault.

Or, idle, ye are idle.

Or, loke sad on them, which said.

It is a grievous thing to the seruants of God to be accused of euil, specially of their brethren, when they do as their duty requireth.

Or, all sufficient.

Whereby he signifieth that he wil performe in dede y<sup>e</sup> which he promised to their fathers: for this Name declareth y<sup>e</sup> he is constant & will performe his promes.

6 Wherefore say thou vnto the childre of Israël, I am the Lord, and I wil bring you out from the burdens of the Egyptians, and wil deliuer you out of their bondage, and wil redeme you in a stretched out arme, and in great iudgements.

Or, plagues.
b He meaneth, as touching the outward vocatiō: for election to life euēlastig is immurable.
"Ebr. list vp mine hand."

7 Also I wil take you for my people, and wil be your God: then ye shal knowe y I the Lord your God bring you out from y burdens of the Egyptians.

8 And I wil bring you into the land which I sware that I wolde giue to Abraham, to Izhák and to Iaakób, and I wil giue it vnto you for a possession: I am the Lord.

9 ¶ So Mofes tolde the children of Israël thus: but thei hearkened not vnto Mofes, for anguish of spirit & for cruel bōdage.

c So hard a thing it is to shewe true obedience vnder the crosse.

10 Then the Lord spake vnto Mofes, saying,

11 Go speake to Pharaóh King of Egypt, that he let the children of Israël go out of his land.

12 But Mofes spake before y Lord, saying, Beholde, the children of Israël hearken not vnto me, how then shal Pharaóh heare me, which am of vncircumcised lippes?

d Or, barbarous and rude in speache. & by this worde (vncircumcised) is signified the whole corruption of mans nature.

13 Then the Lord spake vnto Mofes and vn to Aaron, & charged them to go to the children of Israël and to Pharaóh King of Egypt, to bring the children of Israël out of the land of Egypt.

e This genealogie sheweth of whome Mofes and Aaron came.

14 ¶ These be the heades of their fathers houses: the sonnes of Reubén the first borne of Israël are Hanóh and Pallú, Hezrón and Carmi: these are the families of Reubén.

15 Also the sonnes of Simeón: Iemuél & Iámín, & Ohád, and Iachín, & Zóar, and Shaúl the sonne of a Canaanitish womā: these are the families of Simeón.

16 ¶ These also are the names of the sonnes of Leui in their generacions: Gershón & Koháth and Merari (and the yeres of the life of Leui were an hundreth thirty and seuen yere)

f For he was 43 yere olde, when he came into Egypt, and there liued 94

17 The sonnes of Gershón were Libní & Shimí by their families.

18 And the sonnes of Koháth, Amráh and Izhár, & Hebrón and Vzziel. (& Koháth liued an hundreth thirty and thre yere)

19 Also the sonnes of Merari were Mahali and Mushi: these are the families of Leui by their kinreds.

g Which kinde of marriage was after in lawe forbidden, Leuit 18, 12.

20 And Amráh toke Iochébed his s fathers sister to his wife, and she bare him Aaron and Mofes (and Amráh liued and hundreth thirty and seuen yere) h Mofes and he were brethrens childre, whose rebellion was punished, Nomb. 16, 1.

21 ¶ Also the sonnes of Izhár: b Kórah, & Népheg, and Zichrí.

22 And the sonnes of Vzziel: Mishaél, and Elzaphán, and Sithrí.

i Who was a Prince of Iudáh, Nom. 25.

23 And Aaron toke Elisheba daughter of Amminadáb, sister of Nahashón to his wife, which bare him Nadáb, and Abihú, Eleazár and Ithamar.

24 Also the sonnes of Kórah: Afsír, & Elkanáh, & Abiasaph: these are the families of the Korhites.

25 And Eleazár Aarons sonne toke him one of the daughters of Putiél to his wife, which bare him Phinehás: these are the principal fathers of the Leuites through out their families.

Nomb. 25, 10.

26 These are Aaron and Mofes to whome the Lord said, Bring the childre of Israël out of the land of Egypt, according to their armies.

k For their families were so great, y they might be compared to armies.

27 These are y Mofes & Aaron, w spake to Pharaóh King of Egypt, that they might bring the childre of Israël out of Egypt.

28 ¶ And at that time when the Lord spake vnto Mofes in the land of Egypt, 29 When the Lord, I say, spake vnto Mofes, saying, I am the Lord, speake thou vnto Pharaóh the King of Egypt all that I say vnto thee, l The disobedience both of Mofes and of y people sheweth y their deliurance came onely of Gods free mercie.

30 Then Mofes said before the Lord, Beholde. I am of vncircumcised lippes, and how shal Pharaóh heare me?

CHAP. VII.

3 God hardeneth Pharaohs heart. 10 Mofes and Aaron do the miracles of the serpent, and the blood: and Pharaohs sorcerers do the like.

1 The Lord said to Mofes, Beholde, I haue made thee Pharaohs God, & Aaron thy brother shal be thy Prophet.

m I haue giue thee power & autoritie to speake in my name and to execute my iudgements vpon him.

2 Thou shalt speake all that I commanded thee: and Aaron thy brother shal speake vnto Pharaóh, that he suffre the children of Israël to go out of his land.

n Or, shal speake for thee (as for Pharaoh)

3 But I wil harden Pharaohs heart, and multiplie my miracles and my wondres in the land of Egypt.

4 And Pharaóh shal not hearkē vnto you, that I may lay mine hand vpon Egypt, & bring out mine armies, euē my people, the childre of Israël out of the lād of Egypt, by great iudgements.

b To strengthen Mofes faith, God promisseth against to punish the moste sharply the oppression of his Church.

5 Then the Egyptians shal know that I am y Lord, when I stretch forth mine hand vpon Egypt, and bring out the children of Israël from among them.

6 So Mofes and Aaron did as the Lord commanded them, euē so did they.

7 (Now Mofes was foure score yere olde, & Aaron foure score and thre, when thei spake vnto Pharaóh) c Mofes liued in affliction & banishment 40 yere before he enioyed his office to deliuer Gods people.

8 ¶ And the Lord had spoken vnto Mofes and Aaron, saying,

9 If Pharaóh speake vnto you, saying, Shewe a miracle for you, then y shalt say vnto Aaron, Take thy rod & cast it before Pharaóh, and it shal be turned into a serpent.

o Or, dragon

10 ¶ Then went Mofes and Aaron vnto Pharaóh, and did euē as the Lord had commanded: and Aaron caste forth his rod rod before Pharaoh and before his servants, and it was turned into a serpent.

 11 Then Pharaoh called also for the wise men and forcerers: and those charmers also of Egypt did in like maner with their enchantements.
 12 For they cast downe euerie man his rod, and they were turned into serpents: but Aarons rod deuoured their rods.
 13 So Pharaohs heart was hardened, & he hearkned not to the, as the Lord had said.
 14 ¶ The Lord then said vnto Moses, Pharaohs heart is obstinat, he refuseth to let the people go.
 15 Go vnto Pharaoh in the morning, (lo, he wil come vnto the water) & thou shalt stand & mete him by the riuers brinke, and the rod, which was turned into a serpent, shalt thou take in thine hand.
 16 And thou shalt say vnto him, The Lord God of y Ebrews hath sent me vnto thee, saying, Let my people go, that they may serue me in the wilderness: & beholde, hitherto thou woldest not heare.
 17 Thus saith the Lord, In this thou shalt knowe that I am the Lord: beholde, I wil smite with the rod that is in mine hand vpon y water that is in the riuer, & it shalbe turned to blood.
 18 And the fish that is in the riuer shal dye, and the riuer shal stinke, & it shal greue y Egyptiās to drinke of y water of y riuer.
 19 ¶ The Lord then spake to Moses, Say vn to Aaron, Take thy rod, & stretch out thine hand ouer the waters of Egypt, ouer their streames, ouer their riuers, and ouer their poudes, and ouer all pooles of their waters, and they shalbe blood, and there shalbe blood through out all y land of Egypt, bothe in vessels of wood, & of stone.
 20 So Moses and Aaron did euē as the Lord commanded: and he lift vp the rod, and smote the water that was in the riuer in y sight of Pharaoh, and in the sight of his seruants: and all the water that was in the riuer, was turned into blood.
 21 And the fish that was in the riuer dyed, and the riuer stanke: so that the Egyptiās colde not drinke of the water of the riuer: and there was blood through out all the land of Egypt.
 22 And the enchanters of Egypt did like wise w their sorceries: & the heart of Pharaoh was hardened: so y he did not hearken vnto them, as the Lord had said.
 23 Then Pharaoh returned, & wet againe into his house, nether did this yet entre into his heart.
 24 All y Egyptiās the digged round about y riuer for waters to drinke: for they colde not drinke of the water of the riuer.
 25 And this continued fully seue daies after the Lord had smitten the riuer.

CHAPTER VII.
 1 Frogs are sent. 23 Moses prayeth and they dye. 27 Lice are set, whereby the forcerers acknowledge Gods power. 28 Egypt is plagued with misse flies. 30 Moses prayeth againe: 32 But Pharaohs heart is hardened.
 1 Afterwarde the Lord said vnto Moses, Go vnto Pharaoh, and tel him, Thus saith the Lord, Let my people go, y they may serue me:
 2 And if thou wilt not let them go, beholde, I wil smite all thy countrey with frogges:
 3 And the riuer shal scrall ful of frogges, which shal go vp and come into thine house: and into thy chambre, where thou sleepest, and vpon thy bed, & into the house of thy seruants, and vpon thy people, and into thine ouens, and into thy kneading troghes.
 4 Yea, the frogges shal climbe vp vpon thee, and on thy people, and vpon all thy seruants.
 5 ¶ Also the Lord said vnto Moses, Say thou vnto Aaron, Stretch thine hand with thy rod vpon the streames, vpon the riuers, and vpon the poudes, and cause frogges to come vp vpon the land of Egypt.
 6 Then Aaron stretched his hand vpon the waters of Egypt, and the frogges came vp, and couered the land of Egypt.
 7 And y forcerers did likewise with their sorceries, and brought frogges vp vpon the land of Egypt.
 8 Then Pharaoh called for Moses & Aaron, & said, Pray ye vnto the Lord that he may take away the frogges from me, and from my people, & I wil let the people go, that they may do sacrifice vnto the Lord.
 9 And Moses said vnto Pharaoh, As concerning me, euē commande when I shal praye for thee, and for thy seruants, and for thy people, to destroye the frogges fro thee and from thine houses, that they may remaine in the riuer onely.
 10 The he said, To morowe. And he answered, Be it as y hast said, that thou maiest knowe, that there is none like vnto the Lord our God.
 11 So the frogges shal departe fro thee, & from thine houses, and from thy seruants, and from thy people: onely they shal remaine in the riuer.
 12 Then Moses and Aaron went out from Pharaoh: and Moses cryed vnto the Lord concerning the frogges, which he had sent vnto Pharaoh.
 13 And the Lord did according to the saying of Moses: so the frogges dyed in the houses, in the townes, & in the fields.
 14 And they gathered them together by heapes, and the land stanke of them.
 15 But whē Pharaoh sawe that he had rest giuen him, he hardened his heart, and hearkened not vnto them, as the Lord had said.

16 ¶ Againe the Lord said vnto Moses, Say vnto Aaron, Stretche out thy rod, & smite the dust of the earth, that it may be turned to llyce throughout all the land of Egypt.

17 And they did so: for Aaron stretched out his hand with his rod, and smote the dust of the earth: and llyce came vpon man & vpon beast: all the dust of the earth was llyce throughout all the land of Egypt.

18 Now y<sup>e</sup> encharers assailed likewise with their enchantments to bring forth the llyce, but they coulde not. so the llyce were vpon man and vpon beast.

19 Then said y<sup>e</sup> encharers vnto Pharaoh, This is the finger of God. But Pharaohs heart remained obstinat, and he hearkened not vnto them, as the Lord had said.

20 ¶ Moreouer the Lord said to Moses, Rise vp early in y<sup>e</sup> morning, and stand before Pharaoh (lo, he wil come forth vnto the water) & say vnto him, Thus saith y<sup>e</sup> Lord, Let my people go, that they may serue me.

21 Els, if y<sup>e</sup> wilt not let my people go, behold, I wil send swarmes of flies bothe vpon thee, & vpon thy seruants, and vpon thy people, & into thine houses: and the houses of the Egyptians shalbe ful of swarmes of flies, and the ground also whereon they are.

22 But the land of Goshen, where my people are, wil I cause to be wonderful in that day, so that no swarmes of flies shal be there, y<sup>e</sup> thou maiest knowe that I am the Lord in the middes of the earth.

23 And I wil make a deliuerance of my people from thy people: to morowe shal this miracle be.

24 And the Lord did so: for there came great swarmes of flies into the house of Pharaoh, and into his seruants houses, so that through all the land of Egypt the earth was corrupt by the swarmes of flies.

25 Then Pharaoh called for Moses and Aaron, & said, Go, do sacrifice vnto your God in this land.

26 But Moses answered, It is not mete to do so: for then we shulde offre vnto the Lord our God that, which is an abomination vnto the Egyptians. Lo, can we sacrifice the abomination of the Egyptians before their eies, and they not stone vs? 27 Let vs go thre daies journey in the desert, & sacrifice vnto the Lord our God, as he hath commanded vs.

28 And Pharaoh said, I wil let you go, y<sup>e</sup> ye may sacrifice vnto the Lord your God in the wilderness: but go not farre away, pray for me.

29 And Moses said, Beholde, I wil go out from thee, and pray vnto the Lord, that y<sup>e</sup> swarmes of flies may departe fro Pharaoh, from his seruants, and from his people to morowe: but let Pharaoh fro henceforth deceiue no more, in not suffering y<sup>e</sup> people to sacrifice vnto the Lord.

30 So Moses went out from Pharaoh and prayed vnto the Lord.

31 And the Lord did according to y<sup>e</sup> saying of Moses, and the swarmes of flies departed from Pharaoh, from his seruants, and fro his people, & there remained not one.

32 Yet Pharaoh hardened his heart euen then also, & did not let the people go.

CHAP. IX.

1 The moraine of beastes. 10 The plague of botches & sores. 23 The horrible haile, thundre, and the lightning. 26 The land of Goshen euer is excepted. 27 Pharaoh confesseth his wickednes. 33 Moses prayeth for him, 35 Ten is he obstinat.

1 Then the Lord said vnto Moses, Go to Pharaoh, and tel him, Thus saith y<sup>e</sup> Lord God of the Ebrewes, Let my people go, that they may serue me.

2 But if thou refuse to let them go, & wilt yet holde them stil,

3 Beholde, the hand of the Lord is vpon thy flocke which is in the field: for vpon y<sup>e</sup> horses, vpon the asses, vpon the camels, vpon the cattel, & vpon the shepe shalbe a mighty great moraine.

4 And the Lord shal do wonderfully betwene the beastes of Israel, and the beastes of Egypt: so that there shal nothing dye of all, y<sup>e</sup> pertaineth to the childre of Israel.

5 And the Lord appointed a time, saying, Tomorowe the Lord shal finish this thing in this land.

6 So the Lord did it on the morowe, & all the cattel of Egypt dyed: but of the cattel of the children of Israel dyed not one.

7 Then Pharaoh sent, and beholde, there was not one of the cattel of the Israelites dead: and the heart of Pharaoh was obstinat, and he did not let the people go.

8 ¶ And the Lord said to Moses & to Aaron, Take your handful of ashes of the fornace, and Moses shal sprinkle them toward the heauen in the sight of Pharaoh, 9 And they shalbe turned to dust in all the land of Egypt: & it shalbe as a scab breaking out into blisters vpon man and vpon beast throughout all the land of Egypt.

10 Then they toke ashes of the fornace, and stode before Pharaoh: and Moses sprinkled them toward the heauen, and there came a scab breaking out into blisters vpon man, and vpon beast.

11 And the forcerers coulde not stand before Moses, because of y<sup>e</sup> scab: for the scab was vpon the encharers, & vpon all the E-

¶ For the Egyptians worshipped diuers beastes, as the ox, the shepe & such like, & the Israelites offered in sacrifice.

12 And the Lord hardened the heart of Pharaoh, and he hearkened not vnto the Lord, as the Lord had said vnto Moses.

13 ¶ Also the Lord said vnto Moses, Rise vp early in the morning, and stand before Pharaoh, and tel him, Thus saith the Lord God of the Hebrewes, Let my people go, that they may serue me.

14 For I wil at this time send all my plagues vpon thine heart, and vpon thy seruants, & vpon thy people, that thou maiest know that there is none like me in all the earth.

15 For now I wil stretche out mine hand, that I may smite thee & thy people with the pestilence: & thou shalt perish from the earth.

16 And in dede, for this cause haue I appointed thee, to shewe my power in thee, & to declare my Name throughout all the world.

17 Yet thou exaltest thy selfe against my people, and lettest them not go.

18 Beholde, tomorowe this time I wil cause to raine a mightie great haile, suche as was not in Egypt since the fundatiō thereof was laid vnto this time.

19 Send therefore now, and gather thy cattel, and all that thou hast in the field: for vpon all the men, & the beastes, which are founde in the field, and not brought home, the haile shall fall vpon them and they shall dye.

20 Suche then as feared the worde of the Lord among the seruantes of Pharaoh, made his seruants & his cattel flee into the houses:

21 But suche as regarded not the worde of the Lord, left his seruants, and his cattel in the field.

22 ¶ And the Lord said to Moses, Stretche forth the thine hād toward heauen, that there may be haile in all the land of Egypt, vpon man and vpon beast, and vpon all y herbes of the field in the land of Egypt.

23 Then Moses stretched out his rod toward heauen, and the Lord sent thundre & haile, and lightening vpon the ground: and the Lord caused haile to raine vpon the land of Egypt.

24 So there was haile, & fire mingled with the haile, so grienous, as there was none throughout all the land of Egypt, since it was a nation.

25 And the haile smote throughout all the lād of Egypt all that was in y field, bothe man and beast: also the haile smote all y herbes of the field, and brake to pieces all the trees of the field.

26 Onely in the land of Gōshen (where the children of Israël were) was no haile.

27 Then Pharaoh sent and called for Moses and Aaron, and said vnto them, I haue now sinned: the Lord is righteous, but I and my people are wicked.

28 Pray ye vnto y Lord (for it is ynough) that there be no more mightie thunders & haile, and I wil let you go, and ye shall tary no longer.

29 Then Moses said vnto him, As sone as I am out of y citie, I wil spreade mine handes vnto the Lord, and the thunder shall cease, nether shall there be any more haile, that thou maiest know that the earth is the Lords.

30 Now I knowe that thou, and thy seruantes feare the Lord God, before I pray.

31 (And the flaxe, and the barley were smitten: for the barley was eared, and the flaxe was bolled.

32 But the wheat & the rye were not smitten, for they were hid in the grounde)

33 Then Moses went out of the citie from Pharaoh & spread his hands to the Lord, and the thundre and the haile ceased, nether rained it vpon the earth.

34 And when Pharaoh saw that the raine and the haile and the thundre were ceased, he sinned againe, and hardened his heart bothe he, and his seruants.

35 So the heart of Pharaoh was hardened: nether wolde he let the children of Israël go, as the Lord had said by Moses.

CHAP. X.

7 Pharaohs seruants counsel him to let the Israelites departe. 13 Greshoppers destroye the countrey. 16 Pharaoh confesseth his sinne. 22 Darcenes is sent. 23 Pharaoh forbiddeth Moses to come any more in his presence.

1 ¶ Again the Lord said vnto Moses, Go to Pharaoh: for I haue hardened his heart, & the heart of his seruants, that I might worke these my miracles in the middes of his realme.

2 And that thou maiest declare in the eares of thy sonne, and of thy sonnes sonne, what things I haue done in Egypt, & my miracles, which I haue done among them: that ye may know that I am the Lord.

3 Then Moses and Aaron came vnto Pharaoh, and said vnto him, Thus saith the Lord God of the Hebrewes, How long wilt thou refuse to humble thy selfe before me? Let my people go, that they may serue me.

4 But if thou refuse to let my people go, beholde, tomorowe wil I bring greshoppers into thy coastes.

5 And they shall couer the face of the earth, that a man can not see the earth: and they shall eat the residue which remaineth vnto you, and haue escaped from the haile: & they shall eat all your trees that bud in the field.

a The miracles shoulde be so great, y they shoulde be spoke of for euer, where also we see y duetie of parents toward their childre.

b The end of afflictions is, to humble our selues v true repentance vnder the hand of God.

Or, I haue refused.

6 And they shal fil thine houses, & all thy seruants houses, and the houses of all the Egyptians, as nether thy fathers, nor thy fathers fathers haue sene, since the time they were vpon the earth vnto this day. So he returned, and went out from Pharaoh.

7 Then Pharaohs seruants said vnto him, How long shal he be an offence vnto vs? let the men go, that they may serue the Lord their God: wilt thou first knowe y Egypt is destroyed?

8 So Moses and Aaron were brought againe vnto Pharaoh, & he said to them, Go, serue the Lord your God, but who are they that shal go?

9 And Moses answered, We wil go with our yong and with our olde, with our sonnes and with our daughters, with our shepe and with our cattel wil we go: for we must celebrate a feast vnto the Lord.

10 And he said vnto them, Let the Lord so be with you, as I wil let you go and your children: beholde, for euil is before your face.

11 It shal not be so: now go ye that are me, and serue the Lord: for that was your desire. Then they were thrust out from Pharaohs presence.

12 After, y Lord said vnto Moses, Stretch out thine hand vpon the land of Egypt for the gresnoppers, that they may come vpon the land of Egypt, and eat all the herbes of the land, euen all that the haile hath left.

13 Then Moses stretched forth his rod vpon the land of Egypt: and the Lord brought an East winde vpon the land all that day, and all that night: and in the morning, y East winde brought the gresnoppers.

14 So the gresnoppers went vp vpon all the land of Egypt, and remained in all quarters of Egypt: so grievous gresnoppers, like to these were neuer before, nether after them shal be suche.

15 For they couered all the face of y earth, so that the land was darcke: and they did eat all the herbes of the land, and all the frutes of the trees, which y haile had left, so y there was no grene thing left vpon the trees, nor among y herbes of the field throughout all the land of Egypt.

16 Therefore Pharaoh called for Moses and Aaron in haste, and said, I haue sinned against the Lord your God, and against you.

17 And nowe forgiue me my sinne onely this once, and pray vnto the Lord your God, that he may take away from me this death onely.

18 Moses then went out from Pharaoh, and praied vnto the Lord.

19 And the Lord turned a mightie strong West winde, and toke away the gresnoppers, and violently cast the into the red Sea, so that there remained not one gresnopper in all the coast of Egypt.

20 But the Lord hardened Pharaohs heart, and he did not let the children of Israel go.

21 Againe the Lord said vnto Moses, Stretch out thine hand toward heauen, y there may be vpon y land of Egypt darcknes, euen darcknes that may be felt.

22 Then Moses stretched forth his hand toward heauen, and there was a blacke darcknes in all the land of Egypt three dayes.

23 No man saw an other, nether rose vp fro the place where he was for three dayes: but all the children of Israel had light where they dwelt.

24 Then Pharaoh called for Moses and said, Go, serue the Lord: onely your shepe and your cattel shal abide, and your children shal go with you.

25 And Moses said, Thou must giue vs also sacrifices, and burnt offrings that we may do sacrifice vnto the Lord our God.

26 Therefore our cattel also shal go w vs: there shal not an hoofe be left, for thereof must we take to serue the Lord our God: nether do we knowe how we shal serue the Lord, vntil we come thither.

27 (But y Lord hardened Pharaohs heart, and he wolde not let them go)

28 And Pharaoh said vnto him, Get thee fro me: loke thou se my face no more: for whensoever thou commest in my sight, thou shalt dye.

29 Then Moses said, Thou hast said wel: from henceforthe wil I se thy face no more.

5 And all the first borne in the land of Egypt shal dye, frō the firstborne of Pharaoh that sitteth on his throne, vnto the firstborne of the maid seruant, that is at the mille, & all the first borne of beastes.

6 Then there shal be a great crye throughout all the land of Egypt, suche as was neuer none like, nor shalbe.

7 But against none of the children of Israel shal a dog moue his tongue, nether against man nor beast, that ye may knowe that the Lord putteth a difference betwene the Egyptians and Israel.

8 And all these thy seruantes shal come downe vnto me, and fall before me, saying, Get thee out, and all the people that are at thy fete, & after this wil I depart. So he wēt out from Pharaoh very angry.

9 And the Lord said vnto Moses, Pharaoh shal not heare you, <sup>d</sup> that my wonders may be multiplied in the land of Egypt.

10 So Moses and Aaron did all these wonders before Pharaoh: but the Lord hardened Pharaohs heart, and he suffred not the children of Israel to go out of his land.

CHAP. XII.

1 The Lord instituteth the Passeouer. 26 The fathers must teache their children the myserie thereof. 29 The first borne are slaine. 31 The Israelites are driuen out of the land. 35 The Egyptians are spoiled. 37 The nombre that departeth out of Egypt. 40 How long they were in Egypt.

9 Eat not thereof rawe, boiled nor soddē in water, but roste with fyre, both his <sup>h</sup> head, his fete, and his purtenance.

10 And ye shal reserue nothing of it vnto the morning: but that, which remaineth of it vnto the morowe, shal ye burne with fyre.

11 And thus shal ye eat it; Your loynes girded, your shoes on your fete, & your staues in your hands, and ye shal eat it in haste: for <sup>i</sup> it is the Lords Passeouer.

12 For I wil passe through the land of Egypt the same night, and wil smite all the first borne in the land of Egypt, bothe mā and beast, and I wil execute iudgement vpon all the <sup>j</sup> gods of Egypt. I am the Lord.

13 And the blood shalbe a token for you vpon the houses where ye are: so when I se the blood, I wil passe ouer you, and the plague shal not be vpon you to destruction, when I smite the land of Egypt.

14 And this day shalbe vnto you a <sup>k</sup> remembrance: and ye shal kepe it an holy feast vnto the Lord, throughout your generations: ye shal kepe it holy by an ordinance <sup>l</sup> for euer.

16 And in the first day shalbe an holy <sup>m</sup> assemblie: also in the seuenth day shal be an holy assemblie vnto you: no worke shalbe done in them, saue about that which euerie man must eat: that onely may ye do.

17 Ye shal kepe also <sup>n</sup> the feast of vnleauened bread: for that same day I wil bring your armies out of the land of Egypt: therefore ye shal obserue this day, throughout your posteritie, by an ordinance for euer.

37 Then the * children of Israēl toke their iourney from <sup>a</sup> Rameses to Succōth about six hundreth thousand men of fote, beside children.

38 And <sup>r</sup> a great multitude of sundry for-tes of people went out with them, and shepe, and beues, & cattel in great abundance.

39 And thei baked the dowe which thei broght out of Egypt, & <sup>m</sup>ade vnleauened cakes: for it was not leauened, because thei were thrust out of Egypt, nerher colde they tary, nor yet prepare them selues vi-out of Egypt, out of the house of bondage: for by a mightie hand the Lord brought you out from thence: therefore no leavened bread shall be eaten.

This day come ye out in the month of Abib.

Now when the Lord hath brought thee into the land of the Canaanites, and Hittites, and Amorites, and Hivites, and Jebusites (which he sware unto thy fathers, that he would give thee, a land flowing with milke and hony) thou shalt kepe this seruice in this month.

Seven daies shalt thou eat unleavened bread, & the seventh day shall be the feast of the Lord.

Unleavened bread shall be eaten seven daies, & there shall no leavened bread be sene with thee, nor yet leaue be sene with thee in all thy quarters.

And thou shalt shewe thy sonne in y<sup>e</sup> day, saying, This is done, because of that which the Lord did unto me, when I came out of Egypt.

And it shall be a signe unto thee upon thine hand, & for a remembrance betwene thine eyes, that the Lawe of the Lord may be in thy mouth: for by a strong hand the Lord brought thee out of Egypt.

Kepe therefore this ordinance in his season appointed from yere to yere.

And when the Lord shall bring thee into the land of the Canaanites, as he sware unto thee and to thy fathers, & shall give it thee,

Then shalt thou set a parte unto the Lord all that first openeth the wombe: also euery thing that first doeth open the wombe, & commeth forth of thy beast: the males shall be the Lords.

But euery first foale of an asse, thou shalt redeme with a lambe: and if thou redeme him not, then thou shalt breake his necke: likewise all the first borne of man among thy sonnes shalt thou buye out.

And when thy sonne shall aske thee tomorrow, saying, What is this? thou shalt then say unto him, With a mightie hand the Lord brought vs out of Egypt, out of the house of bondage.

For when Pharaoh was hard hearted against our departing, the Lord slew all the firstborne in the land of Egypt: from the firstborne of man unto the firstborne of beast: therefore I sacrifice unto y<sup>e</sup> Lord all the males that first open the wombe, but all the firstborne of my sonnes I redeme.

And it shall be as a token upon thine hand, & as frontlets betwene thine eyes, that the Lord brought vs out of Egypt by a mightie hand.

Now when Pharaoh had let the people go, God carried them not by the way of the Philistines country, though it were nearer: (for God said, Lest y<sup>e</sup> people repent when they see warre, & turne againe to Egypt)

But God made the people to go about by y<sup>e</sup> way of the wilderness of the red Sea: and the children of Israel went vp armed out of the land of Egypt.

(And Moses took the bones of Ioseph with him: for he had made the children of Israel sweare, saying, *God will surely visite you, and ye shall take my bones away hence with you)

So they took their journey from Succoth, and camped in Etham in the edge of the wilderness.

And the Lord went before them by day in a pillar of a cloude to lead them the way, & by night in a pillar of fyre to giue them light, that they might go both by day and by night.

He took not away the pillar of the cloude by day, nor the pillar of fyre by night from before the people.

CHAP. XIII.

Pharaohs heart is hardened, and pursueth the Israelites. 11 The Israelites stricken with seare murmure against Moses. 21 He deuileth the Sea. 23. 27 The Egyptians followe and are drowned.

Then the Lord spake unto Moses, saying,

Speake to the children of Israel, that they returne & campe before Pi-hahiroth, betwene Migdol and y<sup>e</sup> Sea, ouer against Baal-zephon: about it shall ye campe by the Sea.

For Pharaoh will say of the children of Israel, They are tangled in the land: the wilderness hath shut them in.

And I will harden Pharaohs heart that he shall follow after you: so I will get me honour upon Pharaoh, and upon all his hoste: the Egyptians also shall knowe that I am the Lord: and they did so.

Then it was tolde the King of Egypt, that the people fled: & the heart of Pharaoh & of his seruants was turned against the people, and they said, Why haue we this done, & haue let Israel go out of our seruice?

And he made ready his charrets, & took his people with him,

And took six hundred chosen charrets, & all the charrets of Egypt, and captaines ouer euery one of them.

(For the Lord had hardened the heart of Pharaoh King of Egypt, and he followed after the children of Israel: but the children of Israel went out with an hye hand)

And the Egyptians pursued after them, & all the horses and charrets of Pharaoh, & his horsemen & his hoste ouertook them camping by the Sea, beside Pi-hahiroth, before Baal-zephon.

10 And when Pharaoh drewe nie, the children of Israel life vp their eies, and beholde, the Egyptians marched after the,

and they were sore afraid: wherefore the children of Israel cryed vnto the Lord.

f Thei, which a litle before in their deliuerance reioyced, being now in danger are afraid & murmure.

In this figure foure chief points are to be considered: first that the Church of God is ever subject in this worlde to the Crosse & to be afflicted after one sort or other. The second, that the ministers of God following their vocation shalbe euil spoken of, and murmured against, even of them that pretend the same cause and religion that thei do. The third, that God deliuereth not his Church incontinently out of dangers, but to exercise their faith and patience continueth their troubles, yea and often tymes augmenteth them as the Israelites were now in lesse hope of their liues then when thei were in Egypt. The fourth point is, that when the dangers are moste great, then Gods helpe is moste ready to succour: for the Israelites had on ether side the huge rockes & mountaines, before them the Sea, behinde them moste cruel enemies, so that there was no way left to escape to mans iudgement.

11 And thei said vnto Moses, Hast thou brought vs to dye in the wildernes, because there were no graues in Egypt? wherefore hast thou serued vs thus, to cary vs out of Egypt?

g She he is the impacience of the flesh, that it can not abide Gods appointed time.

h Or, deliuerance.

h Onely put your trust in God without grudging or doubting. i Thus intentions faith fighteth against the flesh, and cryeth with inward groanings to the Lord.

12 Did not we tel thee this thing in Egypt, saying, Let vs be in rest, that we may serue the Egyptians? for it had bene better for vs to serue the Egyptians, the than we shulde dye in the wildernes.

13 Then Moses said to the people, Feare ye not, stand stil, and beholde the saluacion of the Lord which he wil shewe to you this day. For the Egyptians, whome ye haue sene this day, ye shal neuer se them againe.

14 The Lord shal fight for you: therefore holde you your peace.

15 ¶ And the Lord said vnto Moses, Wherefore cryest thou vnto me? speake vnto the children of Israel that thei go forward:

16 And lift thou vp thy rod, & stretch out thine hand vpon the Sea & deuide it, and let the childre of Israel go on drye ground through the middes of the Sea.

17 And I beholde I wil harden the heart of the Egyptians that thei may followe the, and I wil get me honour vpon Pharaoh, & vpon all his hoste, vpon his charets, & vpon his horsemen.

18 Then the Egyptians shal knowe that I am the Lord, when I haue gotten me honour vpon Pharaoh, vpon his charets, & vpon his horsemen.

19 (And the Angel of God, which went before the hoste of Israel, remoued & went behinde them: also the pillar of the cloude went from before them, and stode behinde them, 20 And came betwene the campe of the Egyptians and the campe of Israel: it was bothe a cloude and darckenes, yet gaue it light by night, so that all the night log the one came not at the other)

21 And Moses stretched forth his hand vpon the Sea, and the Lord caused the Sea to runne backe by a strong East winde all the night, and made the Sea drye land: for the waters were deuided.

22 The children of Israel wet through the middes of the Sea vpon the drye ground, and the waters were a wall vnto them on the right hand, and on their left hand.

23 And the Egyptians pursued and went after them to the middes of the Sea, euen all Pharaohs horses, his charets, and his horsemen.

24 Now in the morning watche, when the Lord looked vnto the hoste of the Egyptians, out of the fry and cloudy pillar, he stroke the hoste of the Egyptians with feare.

25 For he toke of their charet wheles, and thei draue them with muche ado: so that the Egyptians euerie one said, I wil flee fro the face of Israel: for the Lord fighteth for them against the Egyptians.

26 ¶ Then the Lord said to Moses, Stretch thine hand vpon the Sea, that the waters may returne vpon the Egyptians, vpon their charets and vpon their horsemen.

27 Then Moses stretched forth his hand vpon vpon the Sea, and the Sea returned to his force early in the morning, & the Egyptians fled against it: but the Lord<sup>m</sup> ouerthrowe the Egyptians in the middes of the Sea.

28 So the water returned & couered y charrets and the horsen, even all the hoste of Pharaoh that came into the Sea after the: there remained not one of them.

29 But the children of Israél walked vpon drye land through the middes of the Sea, and the waters were a wall vnto them on their right hand, & on their left.

30 Thus y Lord saued Israél the same day out of the hand of the Egyptians & Israél sawe y Egyptians dead vpō y Sea backe.

31 And Israél sawe y mighty power, which the Lord shewed vpon the Egyptians: so the people feared the Lord and beleued y Lord, and his seruant Mosés.

1.20 Mosés with the men and women sing praises vnto God for their deliuerance. 23 The people murmure. 25 At the praier of Mosés the bitter waters are swete. 26 God teacheth the people obedience.

THE<sup>a</sup> sang Mosés & the childre of Israél this song vnto the Lord, and said in this maner, I wil sing vnto the Lord: for he hath triumphed gloriously: y horse and him that rode vpō him hath he ouerthrowen in the Sea.

8 And by y blast of thy nostrels the waters were gathered, the floods stode stil as an heape, the depths congeled together in the heart of the Sea.

9 The ennemie said, I wil pursue, I wil ouertake them, I wil deuide the spoile, my lust shalbe satisfied vpō them, I wil drawe my sworde, mine hand shal destroy them.

18 The Lord shal reigne for euer and euer.

19 For Pharaohs horsen went with his charrets and horsen into the Sea, and the Lord broght the waters of the Sea vpon them: but the children of Israél went on drye land in the middes of the Sea.

20 And Miriām the propheteesse sister of Aaron toke a timbrel in her hand, and all the women came out after her w timbrels and daunces.

21 And Miriām answered the men, Sing ye vnto the Lord: for he hath triumphed gloriously: the horse and his rider hath he ouerthrowen in the Sea.

22 Then Mosés broght Israél from the red Sea, and they went out into the wilderness of Shur: and they went thre dayes in the wilderness, & founde no waters.

23 And whē they came to Marah, they coulde not drinke of the waters of Marah, for they were bitter: therefore y name of the place was called Marah.

24 The people murmured against Mosés, saying, What shal we drinke?

25 And he cryed vnto the Lord, & y Lord shewed him a tre, which when he had cast into y waters, the waters were swete: there he made them an ordinance & a lawe, and there he<sup>m</sup> proued them,

1 The Israelites come to the desert of Sin, and murmur against Moses and Aaron. 13 The Lord sendeth quails and Manna. 27 The seventh day Manna ceaseth not to be found. 32 It is kept for a remembrance to the posterity.

Afterward all the Cōgregation of y<sup>e</sup> children of Israël departed from Elim, and came to the wilderness of <sup>a</sup> Sin, (which is betwene Elim and Sinai) the fiftenth day of the seconde moneth after their departing out of the land of Egypt. And the whole Cōgregaciō of the children of Israël murmured against Moses and against Aaron in the wilderness.

3 For the children of Israël said to them, Oh y<sup>e</sup> we had dyed by the hand of y<sup>e</sup> Lord in the land of Egypt, when we sate by y<sup>e</sup> flesh<sup>b</sup> pottes, when we ate bread our bellies ful: for ye haue broght vs out into this wilderness, to kil this whole companie with famine.

4 ¶ Then said the Lord vnto Moses, Beholde, I wil cause bread to raine frō heauen to you, and the people shal go out, & gather that y<sup>e</sup> is sufficient for euerie<sup>c</sup> day, that I may proue them, whether they wil walke in my Lawe or no.

5 But the sixt day they shal prepare that, which they shal bring home, and it shalbe twise as muche as they gather daiely.

6 Then Moses and Aaron said vnto all the children of Israël, At euen ye shal knowe, that the Lord broght you out of the land of Egypt:

7 And in the morning ye shal se the glorie of y<sup>e</sup> Lord: <sup>d</sup> for he hath heard your grudging against the Lord: and what are we y<sup>e</sup> ye haue murmured against vs?

8 Againe Moses said, At eue shal the Lord giue you flesh to eat, and in the morning your fil of bread: for y<sup>e</sup> Lord hath heard your murmurings, which ye murmur against him: for what are we? your murmurings are not against vs, but against the<sup>e</sup> Lord.

9 ¶ And Moses said to Aaron, Say vnto all the Cōgregation of the childre of Israël, Drawe nere before y<sup>e</sup> Lord: for he hath heard your murmurings.

10 Now as Aaron spake vnto the whole Cōgregation of the children of Israël, they looked toward the wilderness, and beholde, y<sup>e</sup> glorie of the Lord appeared<sup>e</sup> i<sup>n</sup> a cloude.

11 (For the Lord had spoken vnto Moses, saying,

12 * I haue heard y<sup>e</sup> murmurings of the children of Israël: tel them therefore, & say, At euen ye shal eat flesh, and in the morning ye shalbe filled with bread, and ye shal knowe that I am the Lord your God)

13 And so at eue the<sup>e</sup> quails came & couered the campe: & in the morning y<sup>e</sup> dewe laye rounde about the hoste.

14 * And when the dewe that was fallē was ascended, beholde, a smale rounde thing was vpon the face of the wilderness, smale as the hore frost on the earth.

15 And when the children of Israël sawe it, they said one to another, It is <sup>f</sup> M A N, for they wist not what it was. And Moses said vnto them, * This is the bread which the Lord hath giuen you to eat.

16 ¶ This is the thing which y<sup>e</sup> Lord hath commanded: gather of it euerie man according to his eating: an Omer<sup>g</sup> for<sup>h</sup> a mā according to the nombre of your persones: euerie man shal take for the which are in his tent.

17 And the children of Israël did so, & gathered, some more, some lesse.

18 And when they did measure it with an Omer, <sup>i</sup> he that had gathered muche, had nothing ouer, & he that had gathered little, had no<sup>h</sup> lacke: so euerie man gathered according to his eating.

19 Moses then said vnto them, Let no man reserue thereof til morning.

20 Notwithstanding thei obeid not Moses: but some of them reserued of it til morning, and it was ful of wormes, & <sup>j</sup> stanke: therefore Moses was angry with them.

21 And they gathered it euerie morning, euerie mā accordig to his eating: for when the heat of the sunne came, it was melted.

22 ¶ And the sixt day they gathered <sup>k</sup> twise so muche bread, two Omers for one man: then all the rulers of the Cōgregation came and tolde Moses.

23 And he answered the, This is that, which y<sup>e</sup> Lord hath said, To morowe is the rest of the holy Sabbath vnto the Lord: bake that to daie which ye wil bake, and sethe y<sup>e</sup> which ye wil sethe, and all that remaineth, lay it vp to be kept til y<sup>e</sup> mornig for you.

24 And they laied it vp til the morning, as Moses bade, and it stanke not, nether was there any worme therein.

25 Then Moses said, Eat that to day: for to day is the Sabbath vnto the Lord: to day ye shal not<sup>l</sup> finde it in the field.

26 Six dayes shal ye gather it, but in y<sup>e</sup> seuenth day is the Sabbath: in it there shalbe none.

27 ¶ Notwithstanding, there<sup>m</sup> went out some of the people in the seuenth day for to gather, and they founde none.

28 And the Lord said vnto Moses, How long refuse ye to kepe my commandements, & my lawes?

29 Beholde, how the Lord hath giue you the Sabbath: therefore he giue you the sixt day bread for two dayes: tary therefore euerie man in his place: let no man go out of his place the seuenth day.

30 So the people rested the seuenth day.

31 And the house of Israël called the name of it

1 The Israelites come into Rephidim and grudge for water. 6 Water is given them out of the rocke. 11 Moses holdeth up his hands, & they overcome the Amalekites.

ANd all the Congregaciō of the children of Israel departed from the wildernes of Sin, by their iourneis at the<sup>g</sup> commandemēt of the Lord, & camped in<sup>h</sup> Rephidim, where was no water for the people to drinke.

2 Wherefore the people contended with Moses, and said, Giue vs water that we may drinke. And Moses said vnto them, Why contend ye with me? wherefore do ye<sup>i</sup> tempt the Lord?

3 So the people thirsted there for water, & the people murmured against Moses, and said, Wherefore hast thou thus brought vs out of Egypt to kil vs and our children & our cattel with thirst?

4 And Moses cryed to the Lord, saying, What shal I do to this people? for they be almost ready to<sup>j</sup> stone me.

5 And y<sup>k</sup> Lord answered to Moses, Go before the people, and take with thee of the Elders of Israel: and thy rod, wherewith thou<sup>l</sup> smotest the riuer, take in thine hād, and go:

6 Beholde, I wil stād there before thee vpon the rocke in Horēb, & thou shalt smite on the rocke & water shal come out of it, that the people may drinke. And Moses did so in the sight of the Elders of Israel.

7 And he called the name of the place, Maſſah and<sup>m</sup> Meribāh, because of the contention of the children of Israel, and because they had tempted the Lord, saying, Is the

9 And Moses said to Ioshua, Chuse vs out men, and go fight w<sup>o</sup> Amalēk: to morowe I wil stand on the top of the<sup>p</sup> hil with the rod of God in mine hand.

10 So Ioshua did as Moses bade hī, & fought with Amalēk: & Moses, Aaron, and Hur, went vp to the top of the hil.

11 And when Moses held vp his hand, Israel preuailed: but when he let his hand<sup>q</sup> downe, Amalēk preuailed.

12 Now Moses hāds were heauy: therefore they toke a stone and put it vnder him, & he sate vpon it: and Aaron & Hur staid vp his hands, the one on the one side, and the other on the other side: so his hands were steady vntil the going downe of the sunne.

13 And Ioshua discomfited Amalēk and his people with the edge of the sworde.

15 (And Moses buylte an altar and called the name of it, Iehouāh-nissi)

16 Also he said, The Lord hath sworn, that he wil haue warre with Amalēk from generacion to generacion.

5 And Iethró Moses father in lawe came with his two sonnes, & his wife vnto Moses into the wildernes, where he camped by the<sup>y</sup> mount of God.

6 And he<sup>z</sup> said to Moses, I thy father in lawe Iethró am come to thee, & thy wife and her two sonnes with her.

and they came into the tent.

8 Then Moses tolde his father in law all that the Lord had done vnto Pharaoh, & to the Egyptians for Israels sake, and all the trauaile that had come vnto them by the way, and how the Lord deliuered the.

9 And Iethró reioyced at all the goodnes, which the Lord had shewed to Israël, and because he had deliuered them out of the hand of the Egyptians.

10 Therefore Iethró said, Blessed be the Lord who hath deliuered you out of the hand of y Egyptians, and out of y hand of Pharaoh: who hath also deliuered the people from vnder the hand of the Egyptians.

11 Now I knowe that the Lord is greater then all the gods: for as they haue dealt proudly with them, so are they recom-pensed.

12 Then Iethró Moses father in law roke burnt offrings and sacrifices to offre vnto God. And Aaron and all the Elders of Israël came to eat bread with Moses father in law before God.

13 ¶ Now on the morowe, when Moses sate to iudge the people, the people stode aboute Moses from morning vnto euen.

14 And when Moses father in law sawe all that he did to the people, he said, What is this that thou doest to the people? why sittest thou thy selfe alone, and all the people stand about thee from morning vnto euen?

15 And Moses said vnto his father in lawe, Because the people come vnto me to seke God.

16 Whē they haue a matter, they come vnto me, and I iudge betwene one and another, and declare the ordinances of God, and his lawes.

17 But Moses father in law said vnto him, The thing, which thou doest, is not wel.

18 Thou bothe weariest thy selfe greatly, & this people that is w thee: for the thing is to heauie for thee: thou art not able to do it thy selfe alone.

19 *Heare now my voyce, (I wil giue thee counsell, and God shalbe with thee) bethou for the people to Godwarde, & reporte thou the causes vnto God, 20 And admonish them of the ordinances, and of the lawes, & shewe them the way, wherein they must walke, & the worke y they must do.

21 Moreouer prouide thou among all the people men of courage, fearing God, men dealing truely, hating couerousnes: and appoint suche ouer them to be rulers ouer thousandes, rulers ouer hundreths, rulers ouer fifties, and rulers ouer tens.

22 And let them iudge the people at all seasons: but euerie great matter let the bring vnto thee, & let them iudge all smale causes: so shal it be easier for thee, when they shal beare the burden with thee.

23 If thou do this thing, (and God so commaunde thee) bothe thou shalt be able to endure, & all this people shal also go quietly to their place.

24 So Moses obeyed y voyce of his father in lawe, and did all that he had said:

25 And Moses chose men of courage out of all Israël, and made them heades ouer the people, rulers ouer thousandes, rulers ouer hundreths, rulers ouer fifties, and rulers ouer tens.

26 And they iudged the people at all seasons, but they broght the hard causes vnto Moses: for they iudged all smale matters them selues.

27 Afterward Moses let his father in lawe departe, and he went into his contrey.

1 The Israelites come to Sinai. 5 Israel is chosen from among all other nations. 8 The people promises to obey God. 12 He that toucheth the hill dyeth. 16 God appeareth vnto Moses vpon the mount in thunder and lightning.

1 IN the third moneth, after the childre of Israël were gone out of the land of Egypt, the same day came they into the wildernes of Sinai.

2 For they departed from Rephidim, and came to y desert of Sinai, & cāped in the wildernes: euen there Israël camped before the mount.

3 *But Moses wēt vp vnto God, for y Lord had called out of the mount vnto him, saying, Thus shalt thou say to the house of 6 Ye shalbe vnto me also a kingdome of *Priestes, and an holy nation. These are the wordes which thou shalt speake vnto the children of Israël.

7 ¶ Moses then came & called for the Elders of the people, and proposed vnto the all these things, which the Lord commanded him.

8 And the people answered altogether, & said, *All that the Lord hath commaunded, we wil do. And Moses reported the wordes of the people vnto the Lord.

9 And y Lord said vnto Moses, Lo, I come vnto thee in a thicke cloude, that the people may heare, whiles I talke with thee, & that they may also beleue thee for euer. (for Moses had tolde the wordes of the people vnto the Lord)

Go to the people, and sanctifie them to daie, and to morowe, and let them wash their clothes.

11 And let the be ready on the third daie: for the third daie the Lord wil come downe in the sight of all the people vpon mount Sinai:

12 And thou shalt set markes vnto the people rounde about, saying, Take hede to your selues that ye go not vp to the mount, nor touche the bordre of it: whosoever toucheth the mount, shall surely dye.

13 No hand shall touche it, but he shall be stoned to death, or stricken through with darts: whether it be beast or man, he shall not liue: when the horne bloweth long, thei shall come vp into the mountaine.

14 ¶ Then Moses went downe from the mount vnto the people, & sanctified the people, and thei washed their clothes.

15 And he said vnto the people, Be ready on the third daie, and come not at your wiues.

16 And the third daie, when it was morning, there was thunders & lightnings, & a thicke cloude vpon the mount, & the sound of the trumpet exceeding loude, so that all the people, that was in the campe, was afraid.

17 Then Moses brought the people out of the tents to mete with God, & thei stode in the nether part of the mount.

18 * And mount Sinai was all on smoke, because the Lord came downe vpon it in fire, and the smoke thereof ascended, as the smoke of a fornace, and all the mount trembled exceedingly.

19 And when the sound of the trumpet blew long, and waxed louder and louder, Moses spake, and God answered him by his voyce.

20 (For the Lord came downe vpon mount Sinai on the top of the mount) and when the Lord called Moses vp into the top of the mount, Moses went vp.

21 Then the Lord said vnto Moses, Go downe, charge the people, that thei breake not their boundes, to go vp to the Lord to gaze, lest manie of them perish.

22 And let the Priests also which come to the Lord be sanctified, lest the Lord destroye them.

23 And Moses said vnto the Lord, The people can not come vp into the mount Sinai: for thou hast charged vs, saying, Set markes on the mountaine, & sanctifie it.

24 And the Lord said vnto him, Go, get thee downe, and come vp, thou, & Aaron with thee: but let not the Priests & the people breake their boundes to come vp vnto the Lord, lest he destroye them.

25 So Moses went downe vnto the people, and tolde them.

2 * I am the Lord thy God, which haue brought thee out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage.

3 Thou shalt haue none other gods before me.

4 * Thou shalt make thee no graine image, nether anie similitude of things that are in heauen aboue, nether that are in the earth beneth, nor that are in the waters vnder the earth.

5 Thou shalt not bowe downe to them, nether serue them: for I am the Lord thy God, a ielouse God, visiting the iniquitie of the fathers vpon the children, vpon the third generation and vpon the fourth of them that hate me:

6 And shewing mercie vnto thousands to them that loue me and kepe my commandements.

7 * Thou shalt not take the Name of the Lord thy God in vaine: for the Lord wil not holde him guiltles that taketh his Name in vaine.

8 Remembre the Sabbath daie, & to kepe it holy.

9 * Six daies shalt thou labour, and do all thy worke,

10 But the seuenth daie is the Sabbath of the Lord thy God: in it thou shalt not do anie worke, thou, nor thy sone, nor thy daughter, thy man seruant, nor thy maid, nor thy beast, nor thy stranger that is within thy gates.

11 * For in six daies the Lord made the heauen and the earth, the sea, and all that in them is, & rested the seuenth daie: therefore the Lord blessed the Sabbath daie, and hallowed it.

12 ¶ Honour thy father and thy mother, that thy daies maie be prolonged vpon the land, which the Lord thy God giueth thee.

13 * Thou shalt not kill.

14 Thou shalt not commit adulterie.

15 Thou shalt not steale.

16 Thou shalt not beare false witness against thy neighbour.

17 * Thou shalt not couet thy neighbours house, nether shalt thou couet thy neighbours wife, nor his man seruant, nor his maid, nor his ox, nor his asse, nether any thing that is thy neighbours.

Temporal and ciuile ordinances, appointed by God, touching seruitude, murders, and wronges: the obseruatiō whereof doeth not iustifie a man, but are giuen to bridel our corrupt nature, which els wolde breake out into all mischief and crueltie.

1 NOW these are the lawes, which thou shalt set before them:
2 * If thou bye an Ebrewe seruant, he shal serue six yeres, and in the seuenth he shal go out fre, a for nothing.
3 If he came b him selfe alone, he shal go out him selfe alone: if he were married, the his wife shal go out with him.
4 If his master hathe giuen him a wife, & she hathe borne him sonnes or daughters, the wife and her children shal be her c masters, but he shal go out him self alone.
5 But if the seruant say thus, I loue my master, my wife and my children, I wil not go out fre,
6 Then his master shal bring him vnto the Iudges, and set him to the d dore, or to the poste, and his master shal bore his eare through with a nawle, & he shal ser-ue him for e euer.
7 ¶ Likewise if a man f sel his daughter to be a seruant, she shal not go out as the me seruants do.
8 If she please not her master, who hathe betrothed her to him selfe, then shal g he cause to bye her: he shal haue no power to sel her to a strange people, seing he despised her.

9 But if he hathe betrothed her vnto his sonne, he shal deale with her h according to the custome of the daughters.
10 If he take i him an other wife, he shal not diminish her fode, her rayment, and recompence of her virginie.
11 And if he do not these k thre vnto her,
the shal she go out fre, paying no money.
12 ¶ * He that smiteth a man, and he dye, shal dye the death.
13 And if a man hathe not laied waite, but l God hathe offred him into his had, * then I wil appoite thee a place whither he shal flee.
14 But if a man come presumptuously vp-on his neighbour to slaie him with guile, thou shalt take him from mine m altar, that he may dye.
15 ¶ Also he that smiteth his father or his mother, shal dye the death.
16 ¶ And he that stealeth a man, & selleth him, if it be founde with him, shal dye the death.
17 ¶ * And he that curseth his father or his mother, shal dye the death.

on his staffe, then shal he that smote him go o quite, saue onely he shal beare his charges p for his resting, and shal pay for his healing.
20 ¶ And if a man smite his seruant, or his mayd with a rod, & he dye vnder his hand, he shal be surely punished.
21 But if he continue a day, or two daies, he shal not p be punished: for he is his money.
22 ¶ Also if men strue and hurt a woman with childe, so that her childe departe fro her, & q death followe not, he shal be surely punished according as the womans housband shal appoint him, or he shal pay

S O V T H E.

These eleuen curtaines of goates heere were put aboue the other ten, and the eleuenth hanged before the entrie of the Tabernacle, like E. These also were 30. cubites long and the other but eight and twenty, and therefore on the Southe side they were a cubite longer then the other like A. and also another on the North side, that the boardes might be covered.

7 ¶ Also y<sup>e</sup> shalt make curtaines of goates heere, to be a<sup>d</sup> couering vpon the Tabernacle: thou shalt make them to the number of eleuen curtaines.

8 The length of a curtaine shalbe thirtie cubites, & the breadth of a curtaine foure cubites: the eleuen curtaines shalbe of one measure.

9 And thou shalt couple fise curtaines by them selues, and the six curtaines by them selues: but thou shalt double the <sup>e</sup> six curtaine vpon the fore fronte of the couering.

10 And thou shalt make fifty strings in the edge of one curtaine in the seluedge of the coupling, and fifty strings in the edge of the other curtaine in the seconde coupling.

11 Likewise thou shalt make fifty<sup>o</sup> taches of brasse, and fasten them on the strings, & shalt couple the couering together, that it may be one.

12 And the <sup>f</sup> renant that resteth in the curtaines of the couering, euen the halfe curtaine that resteth, shalbe left at the backe side of the Tabernacle, 13 That the cubite on the one side, and the cubite on the other side of that which is left in the length of the curtaines of the couering, may remaine on ether side of the Tabernacle to couer it.

14 Moreouer for that couering thou shalt make a <sup>g</sup> couering of rams skins died red, & a couering<sup>h</sup> of badgers skins aboue.

15 ¶ Also thou shalt make boardes for the Tabernacle of Shittim wood to stand vp.

f For these curtaines were two cubites longer then the curtaines of y<sup>e</sup> Tabernacle: so that they were sider by a cubite on bothe sides.

g To be put vpon the couering, y<sup>e</sup> was made of goates heere. h This was y<sup>e</sup> thirde couering for the Tabernacle.

THE TABERNACLE.

SOUTH.

A M Twentie boardes on the Southe side and twentie on the North side.

B K The length of euerie one ten cubites, & the breadth a cubite and an halfe.

16 Ten cubites shalbe the length of a boarde, and a cubite and an halfe cubite the breadth of one boarde.

17 Two tenons shalbe in one boarde set in ordre as the fere of a ladder, one against an other: thus shalt thou make for all the boardes of the Tabernacle.

18 And thou shalt make boardes for the Tabernacle, euen twentie boardes on the Southe side, euen ful Southe.

19 And thou shalt make fourtie<sup>o</sup> sockets of siluer vnder the twentie boardes, two sockets vnder one boarde for his two tenons,

E K & N I Declare that all the boardes ioyned together made thirtie cubites, which was the length of the Tabernacle. Iosephus writeth that euerie boarde was an handiul thicke.

& two sockets vnder an other boarde for his two tenons.

20 In like maner on the other side of the Tabernacle towarde the North side shalbe twentie boardes, 21 And their fourtie sockets of siluer, two sockets vnder one boarde, and two sockets vnder a nother boarde.

22 And on the side of the Tabernacle, toward the West shalt thou make six boardes.

23 Also two boardes shalt thou make in the corners of the Tabernacle in y<sup>e</sup> two sides.

24 Also they shalbe ioyned beneth, & likewise.

i The Ebbewe worde signifieth twines: declaring that they shalbe so perfect and well ioyned as were possible.

d Left raise and wether shulde marre it.

wife thei shalbe ioyned aboue to a ring: thus shal it be for them two: thei shalbe for the two corners.

25 So thei shalbe eight boardes hauing sockets of siluer, euē sixtene sockets, that is, two sockets vnder one boarde, & two sockets vnder an other boarde.

26 ¶ Then thou shalt make fīue barres of Shittim wood for the boardes of one side of the Tabernacle, 27 And fīue barres for the boardes of the other side of the Tabernacle: also fīue barres for the boardes of the side of the Tabernacle towarde the Westside.

28 And the middle barre shal go through the middes of the boardes, from end to end.

29 And thou shalt couer the boardes with golde, and make their rings of golde, for places for the barres, and thou shalt couer the barres with golde.

30 So thou shalt reer vp the Tabernacle * according to the facion thereof, which was shewed thee in the mount.

31 ¶ Moreouer thou shalt make a vaile of blewe filke, and purple, and skarlet, and fine twined linen: thou shalt make it of broyded worke with Cherubims.

32 And thou shalt hang it vpō foure pillers of Shittim wood couered with golde, (whose * hokes shalbe of golde) standing vpon foure sockets of siluer.

33 ¶ Afterward thou shalt hang the vaile " on the hokes, that thou maicst bring in thither, that is (within y vaile) the Arke of the Testimonie: and the vaile shal make you a separacion betwene the Holy place and the <sup>1</sup> moste Holy place.

34 Also thou shalt put the Merciseat vpon the Arke of the Testimonie in the moste Holy place.

35 And thou shalt set the Table <sup>m</sup> without the vaile, & the Candellsticke ouer against the Table on y Southside of the Tabernacle, and thou shalt set the Table on the Northside.

36 Also thou shalt make an <sup>n</sup> hanging for the dore of the Tabernacle of blewe filke, and purple, and skarlet, and fine twined linen wrought with needle.

37 And thou shalt make for the hanging fīue pillers of Shittim, and couer the with golde: their heades shalbe of golde, & thou shalt cast fīue sockets of brasie for them.

CHAP XXVII.

1 The altar of the burnt offering. 2 The court of the Tabernacle. 10 The lampes continually burning.

1 Moreouer thou shalt make y * altar of Shittim wood, fīue cubites long and fīue cubites broad: (the altar shalbe foure square) and the height thereof thre cubites.

2 And thou shalt make it hornes in the foure corners thereof: the hornes shalbe of it <sup>b</sup> selfe, and thou shalt couer it with brasie.

3 Also thou shalt make his ashpanes for his ashes and his besoms, and his basens, and his fleshokes, & his censers: thou shalt make all the instrumētts thereof of brasie.

THE ALTAR OF BURNT OFFERING.

A B The length containing fīue cubites.

A D The height thre cubites.

B C The breadth asmuch.

E The foure hornes or foure corners.

F The grate, which was put within the altar, and wherupon the sacrifice was burnt.

G Foure rings to lift vp the grate by, when thei auoided the ashes.

H The barres to cary the altar.

I The rings through the which the barres were put.

K Ashpans, besoms, fleshokes, basens & suche instrumētts appertaining to the altar.

4 And thou shalt make vnto it a grate like networke of brasie: also vpon that grate shalt thou make foure brasen rings vpon the foure corners thereof.

5 And thou shalt put it vnder the cōpasse of the altar beneth, that the grate may be in the middes of the altar.

6 Also thou shalt make barres for the altar, barres, I say, of Shittim wood, & shalt couer them with brasie.

7 And the barres thereof shalbe put in the rings, the which barres shalbe vpo the two sides of the altar to beare it.

8 Thou shalt make y altar holowe betwene the boardes: as God shewed thee in the mount, so shal they make it.

9 ¶ Also thou shalt make the cōcourte of y Tabernacle in the Southside, euen ful Southe: the courte shal haue curtaynes of fine twined linen, of an hundreth cubites long, for one side, 10 And it shal haue twentie pillers, with their twentie sockets of brasie: the heades of the pillers, & their <sup>d</sup> filets shalbe siluer.

11 Likewise on the Northside in length there shalbe hangings of an hundreth cubites long, & the twentie pillers thereof w their twentie sockets of brasie: the heades of y pillers and the filets shalbe siluer.

12 ¶ And the breadth of the courte on the Westside shal haue curtaynes of fiftie cubites, with their ten pillers & their ten sockets.

13 And the breadth of the courte, Eastward ful East shal haue c fiftie cubites.

15 Likewise on the other side shalbe hangings of fiftene cubites, with their thre pillers, and their thre sockets.

16 ¶ And in the gate of the courte shalbe a vaile of twentie cubites, of blewe silke, & purple, and skarlet, and fine twined linen wrought with needle, with the foure pillers thereof and their foure sockets.

17 All the pillers of the courte shal haue filets of siluer rounde about, with their heades of siluer, and their sockets of brasie.

18 ¶ The length of the court shalbe an hundreth cubites, and the breadth fiftie <sup>g</sup> at ether end, and the height fine cubites, and the hangings of fine twined linen, & their sockets of brasie.

19 All the vessels of the Tabernacle for all maner seruice thereof, & all the pins thereof, & all the pins of the courte shalbe brasie.

20 ¶ And thou shalt commande the childre of Israél, that they bring vnto thee pure oyle oliue <sup>h</sup> beaten for the light, that the lampes may alway burne.

21 In the Tabernacle of the Congregaciō without the vaile, which is before the Testimonie, shal Aaron and his sonnes dresse them from euening to morning before the Lord, for a statute for euer vnto their generacions to be obserued by the children of Israél.

CHAP. XXVIII.

1 The Lord calleth Aaron & his sonnes to the Priesthode. 2 Their garments 12-29 Aaron entreteth in to the Sanctuary in the name of the children of Israél. 30 Urim and Thummim. 38 Aaron beareth the iniquities of the Israelites offerings.

1 ANd cause thou thy brother Aaron to come vnto thee and his sonnes w him, from among the children of Israél, that he may serue me in the Priests office: I meane Aaron, Nadab, and Abihú, Eleazar, and Ithamar Aarons sonnes.

2 Also y shalt make holy garments for Aaron thy brother, a glorious & beautiful.

3 Therefore thou shalt speake vnto all cōning me, whome I haue filled with the spirit of wisdome, that they make Aarons garments to b consecrate him, that he may serue me in the Priestes office.

THE GARMENTS OF THE HIGH PRIEST.

A The Ephod, or vpmost coate, which was like cloth of golde and was girded vnto him, wherein was the breast plate with the twelue stones, which was tied about with two cheines to two onyx stones and beneath with two laces.

B The robe w was next vnder the Ephod, wherunto were ioined the pomegranates and belles of golde.

C The tunicle or broydred coate, which was vnder y robe and longer then it, and was also with out sleeves.

4 Now these shalbe y garments, w thei shal make, a breast plate, & a Ephod, & a robe, & k.ij.

<sup>e</sup> A short and streight coate without sleeves put vpon his garments to kepe the clost vnto him.

a broyded coat, a mitre, & a girdle. so the se holy garmets shal they make for Aaron thy brother, & for his sonnes, that he may serue me in the Priests office.

5 Therefore they shal take golde, & blewe silke, and purple, and skarlet, & fine linnen,

6 ¶ And they shal make the Ephod of golde, blewe silke, and purple, skarlet, & fine twined linnen of broyded worke.

7 The two shulders thereof shalbe ioyned together by their two edges: so shal it be closed.

8 And y<sup>a</sup> embroyded garde of the same Ephod, which shalbe vpon him, shalbe of y<sup>a</sup> selfe same worke and stuffe, <sup>euen</sup> of golde, blewe silke, and purple, and skarlet, and fine twined linnen.

9 And thou shalt take two onix stones, and graue vpon them the names of the children of Israel:

<sup>e</sup> As they were in age, so shulde they be grauen in order.

10 Six names of the vpon the one stone, & the six names that remaine, vpon the seconde stone, according to their generaciōs.

11 Thou shalt cause to graue y<sup>a</sup> two stones accordig to the names of y<sup>a</sup> childre of Israel by a grauer of signets, y<sup>a</sup> worketh and graueth in stone, and shalt make them to be set and embossed in golde.

13 So thou shalt make bosses of golde, 14 ¶ And two cheines of fine golde: at the endes, of wrethed worke shalt y<sup>a</sup> make them, & shalt fasten the wrethed cheines vpon the bosses.

15 ¶ Also thou shalt make the breast plate of iudgement with broyded worke: like the worke of the Ephod shalt thou make it: of golde, blewe silke, and purple, and skarlet, & fine twined linnen shalt y<sup>a</sup> make it.

16 Foure square it shalbe and double, an hand bred long and an hand bred broad.

17 Then thou shalt set it ful of places for stones, <sup>euen</sup> foure rowes of stones: y<sup>a</sup> ordre shalbe this, a<sup>a</sup> ruby, a topaze, and a<sup>a</sup> carbuncle in the first rowe.

18 And in the seconde rowe thou shalt set an<sup>a</sup> emeraude, a saphir, and a<sup>a</sup> diamond.

19 And in y<sup>a</sup> third rowe a turkeis, an achate, and an hematite.

20 And in the fourte rowe a<sup>a</sup> chrysolite, an onix, and a iasper: and they shalbe set in golde in their embossments.

21 And the stones shalbe according to the names of the childre of Israel, twelue, according to their names, grauen as signets, <sup>euerie</sup> one after his name, & they shalbe for the twelue tribes.

22 ¶ Then thou shalt make vpon the breast plate two cheines at the endes of wrethen worke of pure golde.

23 Thou shalt make also vpon the breast plate two rings of golde, and put the two rings on<sup>k</sup> the two endes of the breast plate.

24 And thou shalt put the two wrethe cheines of golde in the two rings in the endes of the breast plate.

25 And the other two endes of the two wrethen cheines, thou shalt fasten in the two embossments, and shalt put them vpon the shulders of the Ephod on y<sup>a</sup> fore side of it.

26 ¶ Also thou shalt make two rings of golde, which thou shalt put in the two other endes of the breast plate, vpon the border thereof, toward y<sup>a</sup> inside of y<sup>a</sup> Ephod.

27 And two other rings of golde thou shalt make, & put them on the two sides of the Ephod, beneth in the fore parte of it ouer against the coupling of it vpon the broyded garde of the Ephod.

28 Thus they shal binde the breast plate by his rings vnto the rings of the Ephod, w<sup>a</sup> a lace of blewe silke, that it may be fast vpon the broyded garde of the Ephod, & y<sup>a</sup> the breast plate be not losed fro y<sup>a</sup> Ephod.

29 So Aaron shal<sup>m</sup> beare the names of the childre of Israel in the breast plate of iudgement vpon his heart, when he goeth into the holy place, for a remembrance continually before the Lord.

<sup>m</sup> Aaron shal not entre into the holy place in his owne name, but in the name of all the children of Israel.

30 ¶ Also thou shalt put in the breast plate of iudgement the<sup>n</sup> Vrim & the Thumim, w<sup>a</sup> shalbe vpon Aarons heart, whe he goeth in before the Lord: and Aaron shal beare the iudgement of the children of Israel vpon his heart before the Lord continually.

31 ¶ And thou shalt make the robe of the Ephod altogether of blewe silke.

32 And the hole for his heade shalbe in the middes of it, hauig an edge of wouē worke rounde about y<sup>a</sup> collar of it: so it shalbe as y<sup>a</sup> collar of an habergeō that it ret not.

33 ¶ And beneth vpon the skirtes thereof y<sup>a</sup> shalt make pomgranates of blewe silke, & purple, & skarlet, round about the skirtes thereof and belles of golde betwene them round about:

34 That is, a golden bel and a pomgranate, <sup>Eccles. 45. 16</sup> a golden bel and a pomgranate rounde about vpon the skirtes of the robe.

35 So it shalbe vpon Aaron, when he ministrereth, and his sound shalbe heard, when he goeth into the holy place before the Lord, and when he commeth out, and he shal not dye.

36 ¶ Also thou shalt make a plate of pure golde, & graue therō, as signets are graued,

38 So it shalbe vpon Aarons forehead, that Aaron may<sup>p</sup> beare the iniquitie of y<sup>a</sup> of frings frings, which the childre of Israël shal offere in all their holy offrings: & it shalbe alwaies vpon his forehead, to make them acceptable before the Lord.

19 Likewise thou shalt embroydre the fine linen coat, and thou shalt make a mitre of fine linen, but thou shalt make a girdel of needle worke.

40 Also thou shalt make for Aarons sonnes coates, & thou shalt make the girdels, & bonets shalt thou make them for glorie and comelines.

41 And thou shalt put them vpon Aarón thy brother, & on his sonnes with him, & shalt anoint them, and fill their hands, and sanctifie them, y they may minstre vnto me in the Priests office.

42 Thou shalt also make them linen breeches to couer their priuities: fro the loynes vnto the thighs shal they reache.

43 And they shalbe for Aarón and his sonnes when they come into the Tabernacle of the Cōgregacion, or when they come vnto the altar to minister in y holy place, that they commit not iniquitie, & so dye. This shalbe a lawe for euer vnto him and to his sēde after him.

CHAP. XXIX.

1 The maner of consecrating the Priests. 38 The continual sacrifice. 45 The Lord promisseth to dwell among the children of Israël.

1 This thing also shalt thou do vnto the when thou cōsecratest them to be my Priestes, * Take a yong calf, and two rams without blemish,

2 And vnleauened bread & cakes vnleauened tempered with oyle, & wafers vnleauened anointed with oyle: (of fine wheat flower shalt thou make them)

3 The y shalt put the in one basket, & present them in the basket with the calf and the two rams,

4 And shalt bring Aarón and his sonnes vnto the dore of the Tabernacle of y Cōgregacion, and wash them with water.

5 Also thou shalt take the garments, & put vpon Aarón the tunicle, and the robe of the Ephod, and the Ephod, and the brest plate, and shalt close them to him with the broidred garde of the Ephod.

6 Then thou shalt put the mitre vpon his head, and shalt put the holy crowne vpon the mitre.

7 And thou shalt take the anointing oyle, and shalt powre vpon his head, and anoint him.

8 And thou shalt bring his sonnes, and put coates vpon them,

9 And shalt girde them with girdels, bothe Aarón & his sonnes: and shalt put the bonets on them, and the Priestes office shalbe theirs for a perpetual lawe: thou shalt also fill the hands of Aarón, and the hāds of his sonnes.

10 After, thou shalt present the calf before the Tabernacle of the Cōgregacion, * and Aarón and his sonnes shal put their hāds vpon the head of the calf.

11 So thou shalt kil the calf before y Lord, at the dore of the Tabernacle of the Cōgregacion.

12 Then thou shalt take of y blood of the calf, and put it vpon the hornes of the altar with thy finger, and shalt powre all the rest of the blood at the fote of the altar.

13 * Also thou shalt take all the fat that couereth the inwards, and the kall, that is on the liuer, and the two kidneis, and the fat that is vpon the, and shalt burne them vpon the altar.

14 But the flesh of the calf, and his skin, and his doug shalt thou burne with fire with out the holte: it is a sinne offering.

15 Thou shalt also take one ram, and Aarón and his sonnes shal put their hands vpon the head of the ram.

16 Then thou shalt kil the ram, and take his blood, and sprinkle it round about vpon the altar, 17 And thou shalt cut the ram in pieces, and wash y inwards of him and his legges, & shalt put them vpon the pieces thereof, and vpon his head.

18 So thou shalt burne the whole ram vpon the altar: for it is a burnt offering vnto the Lord for a swete sauour: it is an offering made by fire vnto the Lord.

19 And thou shalt take the other ram, and Aarón and his sonnes shal put their hands vpon the head of the ram.

20 Then shalt thou kil the ram, and take of his blood & put it vpon the lap of Aarons eare, and vpon the lap of the right eare of his sonnes, and vpon the thumbe of their right hand, & vpon the great toe of their right fote, and shalt sprinkle the blood vpon the altar round about.

21 And thou shalt take of the blood that is vpon the altar, and of the anointing oyle, and shalt sprinkle it vpon Aarón, and vpon his garments, and vpon his sonnes, and vpon the garments of his sonnes with him: so he shalbe halowed, and his clothes, and his sonnes, and the garments of his sonnes with him.

22 Also thou shalt take of the rams y fat & the rompe, euen the fat that couereth the inwards, and the kall of the liuer, and the two kidneis, and the fat that is vpon them, and the right shulder, (for it is the ram of consecration)

23 And one loaf of bread, and one cake of bread tempered with oyle, & one wafer, out of y basket of the vnleauened bread that is before the Lord.

24 And thou shalt put all this in the hāds of Aarón, and in the hāds of his sonnes, and shalt shake them to and fro before y<sup>e</sup> Lord.

25 Againe, thou shalt receiue them of their hands, and burne them vpon the altar besides the burnt offering for a swete sauour before the Lord: for this is an offering made by fire vnto the Lord.

26 Likewise thou shalt take the brest of the ram of the consecracion, which is for Aaron, and shalt shake it to <sup>h</sup> and fro before the Lord, and it shalbe thy parte.

27 And thou shalt sanctifie the brest of the shaken offering, & the shulder of the <sup>i</sup> heaue offering, which was shaken to and fro, & which was heaued vp of the ram of the consecracion, which was for Aaron, and which was for his sonnes.

28 And Aaron and his sonnes shal haue it by a statute for euer, of the children of Israel: for it is an heaue offering, and it shalbe an heaue offering of the children of Israel, of their <sup>k</sup> peace offerings, euen their heaue offering to the Lord.

29 ¶ And the holy garmets, which apperteyne to Aaron, shalbe his sonnes after him, to be anointed therein, and to be cōsecrat therein.

30 That sonne that shalbe Priest in his steede, shal put them on seuen dayes, when he cometh into the Tabernacle of the Congregation to minister in the holy place.

31 ¶ So thou shalt take the ram of y<sup>e</sup> cōsecracion, and sethe his flesh in the holy place.

32 ¶ And Aaron and his sonnes shal eat the flesh of the ram, and the bread that is in y<sup>e</sup> basket, at the dore of the Tabernacle of y<sup>e</sup> Congregation.

33 So they shal eat these things, <sup>i</sup> whereby their atonemēt was made, to cōsecrat thē, and to sanctifie thē: but a stranger shal not eat thereof, because they are holy things.

34 Now if ought of y<sup>e</sup> flesh of the cōsecraciō, or of y<sup>e</sup> bread remaine vnto the morning, then thou shalt burne the rest with fire: it shal not be eatē, because it is an holy thig.

35 Therefore shalt thou do thus vnto Aaron and vnto his sonnes, according to all things, which I haue commanded thee: seuen daies shalt thou <sup>h</sup> consecrat them, 36 And shalt offer euerie day a calf or a sinne offering, for <sup>m</sup> reconciliation: and thou shalt cleanse y<sup>e</sup> altar, when thou halt offred vpon it for reconciliation, & shalt anoint it, to sanctifie it.

37 Seuen daies shalt thou cleanse the altar, and sanctifie it, so the altar shalbe moste holy: and whatsoeuer toucheth the altar, shalbe holy.

38 ¶ Now this is y<sup>e</sup> which thou shalt present vpon the altar: euen two lābes of one yere olde, day by day continually.

39 The one lambe thou shalt present in the morning, and the other lambe thou shalt present at euen.

40 And with y<sup>e</sup> one lābe, a <sup>n</sup> tenth parte of fine floure mingled wth the fourte parte of an <sup>o</sup> Hin of beaten oile, and the fourte parte of an Hin of wine, for a drinke offering.

41 And the other lambe y<sup>e</sup> shalt present at euen: thou shalt do thereto according to the offering of the morning, & according to the drinke offering thereof, to be a burnt offering for a swete sauoure vnto the Lord.

42 This shal be a continual burnt offering in your generatiōs at the dore of the Tabernacle of the Cōgregacion before y<sup>e</sup> Lord, where I wil <sup>p</sup> make appointment with you, to speake there vnto thee.

43 There I wil appoint with the children of Israel, and the place shalbe sanctified by my <sup>p</sup> glorie.

44 And I wil sanctifie the Tabernacle of y<sup>e</sup> Cōgregacion & the altar: I wil sanctifie also Aaron & his sonnes to be my Priests, 45 And I wil <sup>d</sup> dwel among the children of Israel, and wil be their God.

46 Then shal they knowe that I am y<sup>e</sup> Lord their God, that brought them out of y<sup>e</sup> land of Egypt, that I might dwel among them: I am the Lord their God.

18 Thou shalt also make a lauer of brasse, & his fore of brasse to wash, and shalt put it betwene y Tabernacle of y Congregation & the altar, & shalt put water therein.

Signifying y he that cometh to God, must be washed from all sinne and corruption.

19 For Aarōn and his sonnes shal w wash their hands and their fete thereat.

20 When they go into the Tabernacle of the Congregation, or when they go vnto the altar to minister & to make y perfume of the burnt offering to the Lord, they shal wash the selues with water, lest they dye.

29 So thou shalt sanctifie them, and they shalbe moste holy: all y<sup>e</sup> shal touche them, shalbe holy.

30 Thou shalt also anoint Aaron and his sonnes, and shalt consecrat them, that they may minstre vnto me in the Priests office.

31 Moreouer thou shalt speake vnto y<sup>e</sup> children of Israel, saying, This shal be an holy ointing oyle vnto me, throughout your generacions.

32 None shal anoint p<sup>r</sup> mas flesh therewith, nether shal ye make any composition like vnto it: for it is holy, and shalbe holy vnto you.

33 Whosoeuer shal make y<sup>e</sup> like ointement, or whosoeuer shal put any of it vpon a stranger, euē he shalbe cut of from his people.

34 And the Lord said vnto Moses, Take vnto thee these spices, pure myrrhe & cleare gūme and galbanum, these odoures with pure frankincense, of eche like weight:

35 Then thou shalt make of them perfume composed after the arte of the apotecary, mingled together, pure & holy.

36 And thou shalt beate it to powder, and shalt put of it before the Arke of y<sup>e</sup> Testimonie in the Tabernacle of the Congregation, where I wil make appointment with thee: it shalbe vnto you moste holy.

37 And ye shal not make vnto you any composition like this perfume, which thou shalt make: it shalbe vnto thee holy for the Lord.

CHAP. XXXI.

2 God makerh Bezaleel & Aboliab mete for his worke.
 13 The Sabbath day is the signe of our sanctification.
 18 The tables written by the finger of God.

1 And y<sup>e</sup> Lord spake vnto Moses, sayig, Beholde, I haue called by name, Bezaleel, the sonne of Uri, the sonne of Hur of the tribe of Iudah,

3 Whome I haue filled with the Spirit of God, in wisdom, & in vnderstanding & in knowledge & in all workmanship:

4 To finde out curious workes to worke in golde, & in siluer, and in brasle,

5 Also in the art to set stones, and to carue in timber, and to worke in all maner of workmanship.

6 And beholde, I haue ioyned with hi Aboliab the sonne of Ahisamah of the tribe of Dan, & in the heartes of all that are wise hearted, haue I put wisdom to make all y<sup>e</sup> I haue commanded thee:

7 That is, y<sup>e</sup> Tabernacle of y<sup>e</sup> Congregation, and the Arke of the Testimonie, and the Merciseat that shalbe thereupon, with all instruments of the Tabernacle:

8 Also the Table and the instruments thereof, and the pure Candelsticke with all his instruments, and the Altar of perfume:

9 Likewise the Altar of burnt offering with all his instruments, and the Lauer with his fote:

10 Also the garmentes of the ministracion, and the holy garmets for Aaron y<sup>e</sup> Priest, and the garmets of his sonnes, to minister in the Priests office, 11 And the anointing oyle, and swete perfume for the Sanctuarie: according to all that I haue commaded thee, shal they do.

12 Afterward the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

13 Speake thou also vnto the children of Israel, & say, Notwithstanding kepe ye my Sabbaths: for it is a signe betwene me and you in your generations, that ye may knowe that I the Lord do sanctifie you.

14 Ye shal therefore kepe y<sup>e</sup> Sabbath: for it is holy vnto you: he that defileth it, shal dye y<sup>e</sup> death: therfore whosoeuer worketh therein, the same persone shalbe euen cut of from among his people.

15 Six dayes shal men worke, but in the seuenth day is the Sabbath of the holy rest to the Lord: whosoeuer doeth any worke in the Sabbath day, shal dye the death.

16 Wherefore the childre of Israel shal kepe the Sabbath, that they may obserue the rest through out their generations for an euerlasting couenant.

17 It is a signe betwene me and the children of Israel for euer: for in six dayes y<sup>e</sup> Lord made the heauen and the earth, and in the seuenth day he ceased, and rested.

18 Thus (when the Lord had made an end of comuning with Moses vpon mount Sinai) he gaue him two Tables of the Testimonie, euen tables of stone, written with the finger of God.

the golden earrings, which are in the eares of your wiues, of your sonnes, and of your daughters, and bring them vnto me.

3 Then all the people plucked from the selues the golden earrings, which were in their eares, and they brought them vnto Aarón.

4 * Who receiued them at their hands, and fashioned it with the grauing tole, & made of it a molten calf: then they said, * These be thy gods, O Israél, which brought thee out of the land of Egypt.

5 When Aarón sawe that, he made an altar before it: and Aarón proclaimed, saying, To morowe shall be the holy day of the Lord.

6 So they rose vp the next day in the morning, and offered burnt offerings, & brought peace offerings: also * the people sate them downe to eat and drinke, and rose vp to playe.

7 ¶ Then the Lord said vnto Moses, * Go, get thee downe: for thy people which thou hast brought out of the land of Egypt, hath corrupted their waies.

8 Thei are sone turned out of the way, which I commanded them: for thei haue made them a molten calf, & haue worshipped it, & haue offered thereto, sayig, * These be thy gods, O Israél, which haue brought thee out of the land of Egypt.

9 Again the Lord said vnto Moses, * I haue sene this people, and beholde, it is a stiffnecked people.

10 Nowe therefore let me alone, that my wrath may waxe hote against them, for I wil consume them: but I wil make of thee a mightie people.

11 ¶ But Moses praied vnto the Lord his God, and said, O Lord, why doest thy wrath waxe hote against thy people, which thou hast brought out of the land of Egypt, with great power and with a mightie hand?

12 * Wherefore shall the Egyptians speake, and say, He hath brought them out maliciously for to slay them in the mountaines, and to consume them from the earth: turne from thy ferece wrath, and change thy minde from this euil toward thy people.

13 Remembre s Abraham, Izhák, & Israél thy seruants, to whome thou swarest by thine owne selfe, and saidest vnto them, * I wil multiplie your sede, as the starres of the heauen, and all this land, that I haue spoken of, wil I giue vnto your sede, and thei shall inherit it for euer.

14 Then the Lord changed his minde from the euil, which he threatened to do vnto his people.

15 So Moses returned and went downe from the mountaine with the two Tables of the Testimonie in his hand: the Tables were writte on bothe their sides, euen on y one side & on the other were thei written. 16 And these Tables were the worke of God, and this writing was the writing of God grauen in the Tables.

17 And when Ioshua heard the noise of the people, as thei shewed, he said vnto Moses, There is a noise of warre in the hoste.

18 Who answered, It is not the noise of the that haue the victorie, nor the noise of the that are ouercome: but I do heare the noise of singing.

19 Nowe, as he came nere vnto the hoste, he sawe the calf and the dancing: so Moses wrath waxed hote, and he cast the Tables out of his hands, and brake them in peeces beneth the mountaine.

20 ¶ After, he toke the calf, which they had made, & burned it in the fire, and ground it vnto powder, and strowed it vpon the water, & made the childre of Israél drinke of it.

21 Also Moses said vnto Aarón, What did this people vnto thee, y thou hast brought so great a sinne vpon them?

22 The Aarón answered, Let not the wrath of my lord waxe ferece: thou knowest this people, that thei are enen set on mischief.

23 And thei said vnto me, Make vs gods to go before vs: for we knowe not what is become of this Moses (the man y brought vs out of the land of Egypt.)

24 The I said to them, Ye that haue golde, plucke it of: and thei brought it me, and I did cast it into the fire, and thereof came this calf.

25 Moses therefore sawe that the people were naked (for Aarón had made them naked vnto their shame among their enemies)

26 And Moses stode in the gate of the cap, and said, Who pertaineth to the Lord? let him come to me. And all the sonnes of Leui gathered them selues vnto him.

27 Then he said vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God of Israél, Put euerie man his sworde by his side: go to and fro, fro gate to gate, through the hoste, and slay euerie man his brother, and euerie man his companion, & euerie man his neighbour.

28 So the children of Leui did as Moses had commanded: and there fel of the people the same day about thre thousand me.

29 (For Moses had said, Consecrat your hands vnto the Lord this day, euen euerie man vpon his sonne, and vpon his brother, that there may be giuen you a blessing this day)

30 And when the morning came, Moses said vnto the people, Ye haue comitted a grieuous crime: but now I wil go vp to the Lord, if I may pacifie him for your sinne.

CHAP. XXXIII.

2 The Lord promiseth to send an Angel before his people. 4 They are sad because the Lord denieth to go vp with them. 9 Moses talketh familiarly with God. 13 He praisth for the people, 18 And desireth to see the glorie of the Lord.

1 Afterwarde the Lord said vnto Moses, Departe, a go vp fro hence, thou, and the people (which thou hast brought vp out of the land of Egypt) vnto the land which I sware vnto Abraham, to Izhak and to Iaakob, sayig, Vnto thy sede wil I giue it.

2 And I wil send an Angel before thee & wil cast out the Canaanites, y Amorites, and the Hittites, and the Perizzites, the Hiuites, and the Iebusites:

3 To a land, I say, that floweth with milke & hony: for I wil not go vp with thee, because thou art a stifnecked people, lest I consume thee in the way.

4 And when the people heard this euil tidings, they sorowed, & no man put on his best rayment.

5 (For the Lord had said to Moses, Say vnto the children of Israel, Ye are a stifnecked people, I wil come suddenly vpon thee, and consume thee: therefore now put thy costly rayment fro thee, that I may knowe what to do vnto thee.)

6 So the childre of Israel laied their good rayment from them, after Moses came downe from the mount Horeb.

7 Then Moses toke his tabernacle, & pitched it without the hoste far of from the hoste, and called it<sup>c</sup> Ohel-moed. And when anie did seeke to the Lord, he wet out vnto the Tabernacle of the Congregation, which was without the hoste.

8 And when Moses went out vnto the Tabernacle, all the people rose vp, and stode euerie man at his tent dore, and looked after Moses, vntil he was gone into the Tabernacle.

9 And as sone as Moses was entred into the Tabernacle, the cloudy pillar descended and stode at the dore of the Tabernacle, and the Lord talked with Moses.

10 Now when all the people sawe the cloudy pillar stand at the Tabernacle dore, all the people rose vp, & worshipped euerie man in his tent dore.

11 And the Lord spake vnto Moses, face to face, as a man speaketh vnto his friend. After he turned againe into the hoste, but his seruant Ioshua the sonne of Nun a yong man, departed not out of the Tabernacle.

12 ¶ Then Moses said vnto the Lord, Se, y saiest vnto me, Lead this people fourth, & thou hast not shewed me whome thou wilt send with me: thou hast said moreover, I knowe thee by<sup>e</sup> name, & thou hast also founde grace in my sight.

13 Now therefore, I pray thee, if I haue founde fauour in thy sight, shewe me now thy way, that I may knowe thee, and that I may finde grace in thy sight: consider also that this nation is thy people.

14 And he answered, My<sup>f</sup> presence shal go with thee, and I wil giue thee rest.

15 Then he said vnto him, If thy presence go not with vs, cary vs not hence.

16 And wherein now shal it be knowe, that I and thy people haue founde fauour in thy sight? shal it not be when thou goest with vs? so I, & thy people shal haue preeminence before all the people that are vpon the earth.

17 And the Lord said vnto Moses, I wil do this also that thou hast said: for thou hast founde grace in my sight, and I knowe thee by name.

18 Again he said, I beseeche thee, shewe me thy<sup>g</sup> glorie.

19 And he answered, I wil make all my<sup>h</sup> good go before thee, and I wil<sup>i</sup> proclaim the Name of the Lord before thee:

* for I wil shewe, k mercie to whome I wil shewe mercie, & wil haue compassion on whome I wil haue compassion.

20 Furthermore he said, Thou cast not se my face, for there shal no man se me, and I liue.

21 Also the Lord said, Beholde, there is a place by<sup>m</sup> me, and thou shalt stode vpon the rocke:

22 And while my glorie passeth by, I wil put thee in a cleft of the rocke, and wil couer thee with mine hand whiles I passe by.

18 ¶ The feaſt of vneleuened bread ſhalt y kepe: ſeuē dayes ſhalt thou eat vneleuened bread, as I commanded thee, in the time of the * moneth of Abib: for in the moneth of Abib thou cameſt out of Egypt.

19 * Euerie male, that firſt openeth y wombe ſhalbe mine: alſo all the firſt borne of thy flocke ſhalbe reconed mine, bothe of beues and ſhepe.

20 But the firſt of the aſſe thou ſhalt bye out with a lambe: and if thou redeme him not, then thou ſhalt breake his necke: all the firſt borne of thy ſonnes ſhalt thou redeme, and none ſhal appeare before me empty.

21 ¶ Six dayes thou ſhalt worke, and in the ſeuēth day thou ſhalt reſt: bothe in earing time, and in the harueſt thou ſhalt reſt.

22 ¶ Thou ſhalt alſo obſerue the feaſt of weekes in the time of y firſt frutes of wheat harueſt, and the feaſt of gathering frutes in the end of the yere.

23 ¶ Thrife in a yere ſhal all your me childre appeare before y Lord Iehouah God of Iſrael.

24 For I wil caſt out the nacions before thee, and enlarge thy coaſtes, ſo that no man ſhal deſire thy land, whe thou ſhalt come vp to appeare before the Lord thy God thrife in the yere.

25 Thou ſhalt not offer the blood of my ſacrifice with leauen, nether ſhal ought of the ſacrifice of the feaſt of Paſſeouer be leſt vnto the morning.

26 The firſt ripe frutes of thy land thou ſhalt bring vnto the houſe of the Lord thy God: yet ſhalt thou not ſethe a kid in his mothers milke.

27 And the Lord ſaid vnto Moſes, Write thou theſe wordes: for after the renoure of * theſe wordes I haue made a couenant with thee and with Iſrael.

28 So he was there with the Lord * fourtie daies and fourtie nights, and did nether eat bread nor drinke water: and he wrote in the Tables * the wordes of y couenant, euen the ten * commandements.

29 ¶ So when Moſes came downe fro mount Sinai, the two Tables of the Teſtimonie were in Moſes hand, as he deſcended from the mount: (now Moſes wiſt not that y ſkin of his face ſhone bright, after that God had talked with him)

30 And Aaron and all the childre of Iſrael looked vpon Moſes, and beholde, the ſkin of his face ſhone bright, and they were afraid to come nere him.

<sup>10</sup>Or, with the spirit of God.

31 And hath filled him<sup>a</sup> with an excellent spirit of wisdom, of vnderstanding, and of knowledge, and in all maner worke,

32 To finde out curious workes, to worke in golde, and in siluer, and in brasse, 33 And in grauing stones to set the, and in karuing of wood, euē to make anie maner of fine worke.

34 And he hath put in his heart that he may teache other: bothe he, and Aholiab y<sup>e</sup> sonne of Ahisamach of the tribe of Dan:

35 Them hath he filled with wisdom of heart to worke all maner<sup>b</sup> of conning<sup>c</sup> & broyded, & nedleworke: in blewe silke, and in purple, in skarlet, and in fine linen & weauing, euē to do all maner of worke and subtile inuentions.

CHAP. XXXVI.

1 The great readines of the people, insomuche that he commanded the to cease. 2 The curtaines made. 3 The couerings. 4 The boardes. 5 The barres, 6 And the waile.

1 Then wrought Bezaleel, and Aholiab, and all<sup>a</sup> conning men, to whome the Lord gaue wisdom, and vnderstanding, to knowe how to worke all maner worke for the seruice of the<sup>a</sup> Sanctuarie, according to all that the Lord had commanded.

2 For Mosés had called Bezaleel, & Aholiab, and all the wise hearted men, in whose hearts the Lord had giue wisdom, euē as manie as their heartes encouraged to come vnto that worke to worke it.

3 And they receiued of Mosés all y<sup>e</sup> offering which the children of Israél had brought for the worke of the seruice of the Sanctuarie, to make it: also<sup>b</sup> they brought stil vn- to him fre gifts euerie morning.

4 So all the wise men, that wrought all the holy worke, came euerie man fro his worke which they wrought,

5 And spake to Mosés, saying, The people bring to<sup>c</sup> muche, and more then ynough for the vse of the worke, which the Lord hath commanded to be made.

6 Then Mosés gaue a commandemēt, and they caused it to be proclaimed throughout the hoste, saying, Let nether man nor woman prepare anie more worke for the oblacion of the Sanctuarie. So the people were stayed from offering.

7 For the stuffe they had, was sufficient for all the worke to make it, and to muche.

8 *All the conning men therefore among the workemen, made for the Tabernacle ten curtaines of fine twined linen, and of blewe silke, and purple, and skarlet:

9 Cherubims of broyded worke made they vpon them.

10 The length of one curtaine was twenty and eight cubites, and the breadth of one curtaine foure cubites: and the curtaines were all of one cise.

Chap. 26. 4.

10 And he coupled fise curtaines together, and other fise coupled he together.

11 And he made strings of blewe silke by y<sup>e</sup> edge of one curtaine, in the seluedge of y<sup>e</sup> coupling: likewise he made on the side of the other curtaine in the seluedge in the seconde coupling.

12 *Fiftie strings made he in the one curtaine, and fiftie strings made he in the edge of the other curtaine, which was in the seconde coupling: the strings were set one against an other.

13 After, he made fiftie<sup>e</sup> taches of golde, & coupled the curtaines one to an other wth the taches: so was it one Tabernacle.

14 ¶ Also he made curtaines of goates heere for the<sup>f</sup> couering vpon the Tabernacle: he made them to the number of eleuen curtaines.

15 The length of one curtaine had thirty cubites, and the breadth of one curtaine foure cubites: the eleuen curtaines were of one cise.

16 And he coupled fise curtaines by them selues, and six curtaines by them selues:

17 Also he made fiftie strings vpon the edge of one curtaine in y<sup>e</sup> seluedge in the coupling, and fiftie strings made he vpon the edge of the other curtaine in the seconde coupling.

18 He made also fiftie taches of brasse to couple the couering that it might be one.

19 And he made a<sup>g</sup> couering vpon the paullion of rams skins died red, & a couering of badgers skins aboue.

20 ¶ Likewise he made the boardes for the Tabernacle of Shittim<sup>h</sup> wood to stand vp.

21 The length of a boarde was ten cubites, & the breadth of one boarde was a cubite, and an halfe.

22 One boarde had two tenons, set in ordre as the fete of a ladder, one against an other: thus made he for all the boardes of y<sup>e</sup> Tabernacle.

23 So he made twetic boardes for y<sup>e</sup> South side of the Tabernacle, euē ful South.

24 And fourtie sockets of siluer made he vnder the twetic boardes, two sockets vnder one boarde for his two tenons, & two sockets vnder another boarde for his two tenons.

25 Also for the other side of the Tabernacle toward the North, he made twetic boardes, 26 And their fourtie sockets of siluer, two sockets vnder one boarde, & two sockets vnder another boarde.

27 Likewise toward the West side of the Tabernacle he made six boardes.

28 And two boardes made he in the corners of the Tabernacle, for ether side, 29 And they were<sup>i</sup> ioyned beneth, and likewise were made sure aboue with a ring:

thus he did to bothe in bothe corners.

30 So there were eight boardes and their fixtene sockets of filuer, vnder euerie board two sockets.

Chap. 25, 27.

31 ¶ After, he made *barres of Shittim wood, fiue for the boardes in the one side of the Tabernacle, 32 And fiue barres for the boardes in the other side of the Tabernacle, and fiue barres for the boardes of the Tabernacle on the side toward the West.

33 And he made the middest barre to shote through the boardes, from the one end to the other.

34 He ouerlaied also the boardes with golde, and made their rings of golde for places for the barres, and couered the barres with golde.

h Which was betweene y<sup>e</sup> Sanctuary and y<sup>e</sup> Holiest of all.

35 ¶ Moreouer he made a<sup>h</sup> vaile of blewe silke, and purple, and of skarlet, and of fine twined linen: with Cherubims of broyred worke made he it:

36 And made thereunto foure pillars of Shittim, and ouerlaied them with golde: whose<sup>h</sup> hokes were also of golde, and he cast for them foure sockets of filuer.

Or, header.

i Which was betweene the court and the Sanctuary.

37 And he made an<sup>h</sup> hanging for the Tabernacle dore, of blewe silke, and purple, and skarlet, and fine twined linen, and nedle worke, 38 And the fiue pillars of it with their hokes, and ouerlaied their chapiters & their<sup>h</sup> filets with golde, but their fiue sockets were of brasle.

Or, granen bords.

1 The Arke. 6 The Merciseat. 10 The Table. 17 The Candellsticke. 25 The Altar of incense.

Chap. 25, 10

1 A Fter this, Bezaleel made the<sup>a</sup> Arke of Shittim wood, two cubites and an halfe long, and a cubite and an halfe broad, and a cubite and an halfe hie:

2 And ouerlaied it with fine golde within and without, and made a<sup>a</sup> crowne of golde to it round about, a Like battel-moens.

3 And cast for it foure rings of golde for y<sup>e</sup> foure corners of it: that is, two rings for y<sup>e</sup> one side of it, and two rings for the other side thereof.

4 Also he made barres of Shittim wood, & couered them with golde,

5 And put the barres in the rings by the sides of the Arke, to beare the Arke.

Chap. 25, 17.

6 ¶ And he made the<sup>a</sup> Merciseat of pure golde: two cubites and an halfe was the length thereof, and one cubite and an halfe the breadth thereof.

7 And he made two Cherubims of golde, vpon the two ends of the Merciseat: euen of worke beaten with the hammer made he them.

b Of the self same matter y<sup>e</sup> the Merciseat was.

8 One Cherub on y<sup>e</sup> one end, and an other Cherub on the other end: b of the Merciseat made he the Cherubims, at the two ends thereof.

9 And y<sup>e</sup> Cherubims spred out their wings on hie, and couered the Merciseat wth their wings, and their faces were one towardes an other: toward the Merciseat were the faces of the Cherubims.

10 ¶ Also he made the Table of Shittim wood: two cubites was the legth thereof, and a cubite the breadth thereof, and a cubite and an halfe the height of it.

11 And he ouerlaied it with fine golde, and made thereto a crowne of golde round about.

12 Also he made thereto a border of an<sup>h</sup> had breadth round about, and made vpon y<sup>e</sup> border a crowne of golde round about.

13 And he cast for it foure rings of golde, and put the rings in the foure corners that were in the foure fete thereof.

14 Against the border were the rings, as places for the barres to beare the Table.

15 And he made the barres of Shittim wood, and couered them with golde to beare the Table.

16 * Also he made the instruments for the Table of pure golde: dishes for it, & incens cups for it, and goblets for it, & coverings for it, wherewith it shulde be couered.

Chap. 25, 19.

17 ¶ Likewise he made the Candellsticke of pure golde: of worke beaten out with the hammer made he the Candellsticke: and his shaft, & his branche, his bolles, his knops, and his floures were of one piece.

18 And six branches came out of the sides thereof: thre branches of the Cadellsticke out of the one side of it, and thre branches of the Candellsticke out of the other side of it.

19 In one branche thre bolles made like almondes, a knop and a floure: and in an other branche thre bolles made like almondes, a knop & a floure: and so throughout the six branches that proceded out of the Candellsticke.

20 And vpon the Candellsticke were foure bolles after the facion of almondes, the knops thereof and the floures thereof:

21 That is, vnder euerie two branches a knop made thereof, and a knop vnder the secode branche thereof, and a knop vnder the third branche thereof, according to the six branches comming out of it.

22 Their knops and their branches were of the same: it was all one<sup>a</sup> beaten worke of pure golde.

23 And he made for it seuen lampes with y<sup>e</sup> snuffers, & snuffdishes thereof of pure gold.

24 Of a<sup>c</sup> talent of pure golde made he it with all the instruments thereof.

c Read chap. 25, 39.

25 Furthermore he made the<sup>a</sup> perfume altar of Shittim wood: the length of it was a cubite, and the breadth of it a cubite (it was square) and two cubites hie, and the hornes hörneshereof was of the same.

Chap. 30, 14.

26 And he couered it with pure golde, both the top and the sides thereof round about, and the hornes of it, and made vnto it a crowne of golde round about.

27 And he made two rings of golde for it, vnder the crowne thereof in the two corners of the two sides thereof, to put barres in for to beare it therewith.

28 Also he made the barres of Shittim wood, and ouerlaid them with golde.

29 And he made the holy * anointing oyle, & the swete pure incense after the apotaries arte.

CHAP. XXXVIII.

1 The Altar of burnt offerings. 2 The brasen Lauer. 3 The Courte. 24 The summe of that the people offered.

1 Also he made the altar of the burnt offering * of Shittim wood: five cubites was the length thereof, and five cubites the breadth thereof: it was square and thre cubites hie.

2 And he made vnto it hornes in the foure corners thereof: the hornes thereof were of the same, & he ouerlaid it with brasle.

3 Also he made all the instruments of the Altar: y<sup>e</sup> * ashpans, & the besomes, and the basins, y<sup>e</sup> fleshookes, & the censers: all the instruments thereof made he of brasle.

4 Moreouer he made a brasle grate wrought like a net to the Altar, vnder the compass of it beneth in the middes of it,

5 And cast foure rings of brasle for y<sup>e</sup> foure ends of the grate to put barres in.

6 And he made the barres of Shittim wood, and couered them with brasle.

7 The which barres he put into the rings on the sides of the altar to beare it withall, and made it holowe within y<sup>e</sup> boardes.

8 ¶ Also he made the Lauer of brasle, and the fote of it of brasle of the b<sup>e</sup> glasses of y<sup>e</sup> women that did assemble and came together at the dore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

9 ¶ Finally he made y<sup>e</sup> courte on the Southside ful Southe: the hangings of the courte were of fine twined linen, hauing an hundreth cubites.

10 Their pillers were twentie, & their brasen sockets twentie: the hokes of the pillers, and their filets were of siluer.

11 And on the Northside the hangings were an hundreth cubites: their pillers twentie, & their sockets of brasle twentie, y<sup>e</sup> hokes of y<sup>e</sup> pillers & their filets of siluer.

12 On the Westside also were hangings of fiftie cubites, their ten pillers with their ten sockets: y<sup>e</sup> hokes of the pillers and their filets of siluer.

13 And toward the Eastside, ful East, were hangings of fiftie cubites.

14 The hangings of the one side were fiftene cubites, their thre pillers, and their thre sockets:

15 * And of the other side of the courte gate on bothe sides were hangings of fiftene cubites, with their thre pillers and their thre sockets.

16 All the hangings of the courte round about were of fine twined linen:

17 But the sockets of the pillers were of brasle: the hokes of the pillers and their filets of siluer, and the couering of their chapiters of siluer: and all the pillers of the courte were hooped about with siluer.

18 He made also the hanging of the gate of the courte of nedle worke, blewesilke, and purple, and skarlet, and fine twined linen euen twentie cubites long, and five cubites in height & breadth, like the hängings of the courte.

19 And their pillers were foure with their foure sockets of brasle: their hokes of siluer, and the couering of their chapiters, and their filets of siluer.

20 But all the * pins of the Tabernacle and of the courte round about were of brasle.

21 ¶ These are the partes of the Tabernacle, I meane, of the Tabernacle of the Testimonie, which was appointed by the commandement of Moses for the office of y<sup>e</sup> Leuites by the hand of Ithamar sonne to Aaron the Priest.

22 So Bezaleel the sonne of Uri the sonne of Hur of the tribe of Iudah, made all y<sup>e</sup> the Lord commanded Moses.

23 And with him Aholiab sonne of Ahisamach of the tribe of Dan, a cunning workeman and an embroyderer and a worker of nedle worke in blewesilke, and in purple, and in skarlet, and in fine linen.

24 All the golde that was occupied in all y<sup>e</sup> worke wrought for the holy place (which was the golde of the offering) was nine & twentie talents, and seuen hundreth and thirtie shekels, according to the shekel of the Sanctuarie.

25 But the siluer of them that were nombred in the Cōgregation, was an hundreth talēts, and a thousand seuen hundreth seuentie and five shekels, after the shekel of the Sanctuarie.

26 A portion for a man, that is, halfe a shekel after the shekel of the Sanctuarie, for all them that were nombred from twentie yere olde and aboue, among six hundreth thousand, and thre thousand, & five hundreth and fiftie men.

27 Moreouer there were an hundreth talents of siluer, to cast the sockets of the Sanctuarie, and the sockets of the vaile: an hundreth sockets of an hundreth talents, a talent for a socket.

28 But he made the hokes for the pillers of a thousand seuen hundreth and seuentie & five shekels, and ouerlaid their chapiters,

29 Also the brasse of the offering was seuen-

30 Whereof he made y sockets to the dore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation and the brasen Altar, & the brasen grate which was for it, with all the instruments of the Altar,

CHAP. XXXIX.

Lord commanded, was made, and finished. <sup>43</sup> Moses blesseth the people.

for the Arke, & Candelsticke, the Altars & suche like.

Chap. 31, 10.
35, 19.

ministration to minstre in the Sanctuarie of blewe silke, and purple, & skar-let: thei made also the holy garments for Aaron, as the Lord had commanded Moses.

2 So he made the Ephod of golde, blewe silke, and purple, and skarlet, and fine twined linen.

3 And they did beate the golde into thin plates, and cut it into wiers, to worke it in the blewe silke & in the purple, and in the skarlet, & in the fine linen, with broyded worke.

4 For the which thei made sholders to couple together: for it was closed by the two edges thereof.

5 And the broyded garde of his Ephod that was vpon him, was of the same stuffe, and of like worke: <sup>euen</sup> of golde, of blewe silke, and purple, and skarlet, and fine twined linen, as the Lord had commanded Moses.

Chap. 28, 9.

<sup>b</sup> That is, of very fine and curious workmanship.

Chap. 28, 12.

6 And they wrought two onix stones closed in ouches of golde, and graued, as <sup>b</sup> sig-nets are grauen, with the names of the children of Israel,

7 And put the on the sholders of y Ephod, as stones for a remembrance of the children of Israel, as the Lord had commanded Moses.

8 Also he made the brest plate of broy-ded worke like the worke of the Ephod:
to wit, of golde, blewe silke, and purple, & skarlet, and fine twined linen.

9 They made the brest plate double, and it was square, an hand breadth long, and an hand breadth broad: it was also double.

10 And they filled it with foure rowes of stones. The ordre was thus, a ruby, a topaze, and a carbuncle in the first rowe.

which stone authors write that it commeth of the vrine of the beast called lion.

11 And in the seconde rowe, an emeraude, a saphir, and a diamond:

12 Also in the third rowe, a turkeis, an achate, and an hematite:

13 Likewise in the fourte rowe, a chrysolite, an onix, and a iasper: closed and set in ou-ches of golde.

14 So the stones were according to the names of the children of Israel, <sup>euen</sup> twelue after their names, grauen like signets e-uerie one after his name according to the twelue tribes.

erie tribe had his name written in a stone.

15 After, they made vpon the brest plate cheines at the endes, of wrethen worke of pure golde.

16 They made also two bosses of golde, & two golde rings, and put the two rings in the two corners of the brest plate.

17 And they put the two wrethen cheines of golde in the two rings, in the corners of the brest plate.

18 Also the two other endes of the two wre-then cheines they fastened in the two bosses, and put them on the sholders of the Ephod vpon the fore fronte of it.

19 Likewise they made two rings of golde, and put them in the two other corners of the brest plate vpon the edge of it, which was on the inside of the Ephod.

20 They made also two other golden rings, and put them on the two sides of the Ephod, beneth on the foreside of it and ou-er against his coupling about the broy-ded garde of the Ephod.

21 Then they fastened the brest plate by his rings vnto the rings of the Ephod, with a lace of blewe silke, that it might be fast vpon the broyded garde of the Ephod, and that the brest plate shulde not be losed from the Ephod, as the Lord had comanded Moses.

22 Moreouer he made the robe of the Ephod of wouen worke, altogether of blewe silke.

next vnder the Ephod.
<sup>f</sup> Where it shulde put through his head.

23 And the hole of the robe was in the middles of it, as y collar of an habergeon, with an edge about the collar, that it shul-de not rent.

24 And they made vpon the skirtes of the robe pomegranates, of blewe silke, & purple, and skarlet, and fine linen twined.

25 They made also belles of pure golde, & put the belles betwene the pomegranates vpon the skirtes of the robe rounde about betwene the pomegranates.

Chap. 28, 35.

26 A bel & a pomegranate, a bel & a pomegranate round about the skirtes of the robe to minister in, as the Lord had comanded Moses.

27 After, they made coates of fine line, of wouen worke for Aaron & for his sonnes.

28 And the mitre of fine linen, and goodlie bonnets of fine linen, and linen breches of fine twined linen,

Chap. 28, 41.

29 And the girdel of fine twined linen,
& of blewe silke, & purple, & skarlet, <sup>euen</sup> of needle worke, as the Lord had comanded Moses.

Chap. 26. 36.

30 ¶ Finally thei made the plate for the holy crowne of fine golde, and wrote vpon it a superscription like to the grauing of a signet, HOLINES TO THE LORD.

31 And thei tied vnto it a lace of blew silk to fasten it on hye vpon the mitre, as the Lord had commanded Moses.

Chap. 27. 21.

32 ¶ Thus was all the worke of the Tabernacle, even of the Tabernacle of the Congregation finished: & the children of Israel did according to all that the Lord had commanded Moses: so did thei.

33 ¶ Afterwarde thei broght the Tabernacle vnto Moses, the Tabernacle & all his instruments, his taches, his boardes, his barres, and his pillers, and his sockets, 34 And the couering of rāmes skins died red, & the couerings of badgers skinnes, and the g couering vaile.

CHAP. XL.

The Tabernacle with the appertinances is reared vp.
34 The glorie of the Lord appeareth in the cloude couering the Tabernacle.

Then the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

In the a first day of the first moneth in the very first of the same moneth shalt thou set vp the Tabernacle, called the Tabernacle of the Congregation:

And thou shalt put therein the Arke of the Testimonie, and couer the Arke with the vaile.

a After y Moses had bene 40. daies and 40 nights in y mount, that is, fro the beginning of August to the 10. of Sept. he came downe, & caused this worke to be done: which being finished, was set vp in Abib, which moneth cōtaineth halfe Marche and halfe April.

4 Also thou shalt bring in the *** Table, and set it in ordre as it doeth require: thou shalt also bring in the Candellsticke, and light his lampes;

5 And thou shalt set the incense Altar b of golde before the Arke of the Testimonie, and put the c hanging at the dore of the Tabernacle.

b That is, the altar of perfume, or to burne incense on. c This hāging or vaile was betwene the Sanctuarie and the courte.

6 Moreouer thou shalt set the burnt offering Altar before the dore of the Tabernacle, called the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

7 And thou shalt set the Lauer betwene the Tabernacle of the Congregation & the Altar, and put water therein.

8 Then thou shalt appoint the courte rōud about, and hang vp the hanging at the courte gate.

9 After, thou shalt take the anointing oyle, and anoint the Tabernacle, and all that is therein, and halowe it with all the instruments thereof, that it may be holye.

10 And thou shalt anoint the Altar of the burnt offering, and all his instruments, and shalt sanctifie the Altar, that it may be an altar moste holy.

11 Also thou shalt anoint the Lauer and his fote, and shalt sanctifie it.

12 Then thou shalt bring Aaron and his sonnes vnto the dore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation, & wash them with water.

13 And thou shalt put vpon Aaron the holy garments, and shalt anoint him, & sanctifie him that he may minister vnto me in the Priests office.

14 Thou shalt also bring his sonnes, and clothe them with garments, 15 And shalt anoint them as thou diddest anoint their father, that thei may minister vnto me in the Priests office: for their anointing shal be a signe, that y priesthode shalbe euerlasting vnto the throughout their generacions.

d Till bothe y priesthode and y ceremonies shulde ende, w was at Christs commig.

16 So Moses did according to all that the Lord had commanded him: so did he.

17 ¶ Thus was the Tabernacle reared vp the first day of the first moneth in e the seconde yere.

e After thei came out of Egypt, Nomb. 7. 1.

18 Then Moses reared vp the Tabernacle and fastened his sockets, and set vp the boardes thereof, and put in the barres of it, and reared vp his pillers.

19 And he spred the couering ouer the Tabernacle, and put the couering of that couering on hie about it, as the Lord had commanded Moses.

20 ¶ And he toke and put the f Testimonie in the Arke, and put the barres in the rings of the Arke, and set the Merciseat on hie vpon the Arke.

f That is, the tables of the Lawe, chap. 31. 18. & 34. 29.

21 He broght also the Arke into the Tabernacle, and hanged vp the *** couering vaile, Chap. 35. 12.

and couered the Arke of the Testimonie, as the Lord had commanded Moses, 22 ¶ Furthermore he put the Table in the Tabernacle of the Congregation in the Northside of the Tabernacle, without the vaile,
23 And set the bread in ordre before the Lord, as the Lord had commanded Moses.
24 ¶ Also he put the Candelsticke in the Tabernacle of the Congregation ouer against the Table towarde the Southside of the Tabernacle.
25 And he lighted the lampes before the Lord, as the Lord had commanded Moses.
26 ¶ Moreover he set the golden Altar in the Tabernacle of the Congregation before the vaile,
27 And burnt swete incense thereon, as the Lord had commanded Moses.
28 ¶ Also he haged vp the vaile at the dore
of the Tabernacle.
29 After he set the burnt offering Altar without the dore of the Tabernacle, called the Tabernacle of the Congregation, & of-fired the burnt offering and the sacrifice thereon, as the Lord had comāded Moses.
30 ¶ Likewise he set the Lauer betwene the Tabernacle of the Congregation & the Altar, and powred water therein to wash with.

31 So Moses, and Aaron, and his sonnes, washed their hands & their fete thereat.
32 When thei went into the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and when thei ap-proched to the Altar, thei washed, as the Lord had commanded Moses.
33 Finally he reared vp the court round about the Tabernacle and the Altar, and hanged vp the vaile at the court gate: so Moses finished the worke.
34 ¶ Then the cloude couered the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and the glorie of the Lord filled the Tabernacle.
35 So Moses colde not entre into the Tabernacle of the Congregation, because the cloude abode thereon, and the glorie of the Lord filled the Tabernacle.
36 Now when the cloude ascēded vp from the Tabernacle, the children of Israēl went forward in all their iourneis.
37 But if the cloude ascēded not, then thei iourneied not til the day that it ascēded.
38 For the cloude of the Lord was vpon the Tabernacle by day, and fire was in it by night, in the sight of all the house of Israēl, throughout all their iorneies.

Nomb. 9. 15.

presence of God preferred

THE THIRD BOKE OF Moses, called * Leuiticus.

* Because in this boke is chiefly intrea-ted of Le-uites, and of things pertaining to their office.

THE ARGUMENT.

AS God daily by most singular benefites declared him selfe to be mindeful of his Church: so he wolde not that thei shulde haue anie occasion to trust ether in them selues, or to depend vpon others for lacke of temporal things, or oght that belonged to his diuine seruice and religion. Therefore he ordained diuers kindes of oblations and sacrifices, to assure them of forgiuenes of their offenses. (if thei offred them in true faith and obedience) Also he appointed their Priests and Leuites, their apparel, offices, conuersation and portion: he shewed what feastes thei shulde obserue, and in what times. Moreo-uer he declared by these sacrifices & ceremonies that the reward of sinne is death, and that without the blood of Christ the innocent Lambe there can be no forgiuenes of sinnes. And because thei shulde giue no place to their owne inuentions (which thing God most detesteth as appeareth by the terrible example of Nadab and Abihu) he prescribed euen to the least things, what thei shulde do, as what beastes thei shulde offere and eat: what diseases were contagious and to be auoyded: what ordre thei shulde take for all maner of filthines and pollution: whose companie thei shulde see: what maria-ges were lausful: and what politike lawes were profitable. Which things declared, he promised fauour and blessing to them that kept his Lawes, and threatened his curse to them that transgressed them.

CHAP. I.

2 Of burnt offerings for particular persons. 3. 10. & 14 The maner to offere burnt offerings as wel of bullocks, as of shepe and birdes.

a Hereby Moses declareth that he taught nothing to the people but y.
which he re-ceiued of God

Now the Lord called Moses, and spake vnto him out of the Tabernacle of the Congrega-cion, saying,
2 Speake vnto the chil-dre of Israēl, & thou shalt say vnto the, If anie of you offer a sacrifice vnto the Lord, ye shal offer your sacrifice of cattel, as of beues and of the shepe.

3 * If his sacrifice be a burnt offering of the herde, he shal offer a male without blemish, presenting him of his owne voluntary wil at the dore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation before the Lord.

b So thei colde offere of no one other sort, but of those which were commanded.Exod. 29. 18.
c Meaning within the court of the Tabernacle.

4 And he shal put his hand vpon the head of the burnt offering and it shalbe accepted to the Lord, to be his atonement.

6 Then shal he fley the burnt offering and cut it in pieces.

7 So the sonnes of Aaron the Priest shal put fire vpon the altar, and lay the wood in ordre vpon the fire.

8 Then the Priestes Aarons sonnes shal lay the partes in ordre, the head and the <sup>g</sup> kall vpon the wood that is in the fire which is vpon the altar.

9 But the inwardes thereof and the legs thereof he shal wash in water, and the Priest shal burne all on the altar: for it is a burnt offering, an oblatiō made by fire, for a swete sauour vnto the Lord.

10 ¶ And if his sacrifice for <sup>h</sup> y burnt offrig be of the flockes (as of the shepe, or of <sup>i</sup> y goates) he shal offer a male without blemish,

11 And he shal kil it on the Northside of the altar <sup>h</sup> before the Lord, & the Priestes Aarons sonnes shal sprinkle the blood thereof round about vpon the Altar.

12 And he shal cut it in <sup>i</sup> pieces, separating his head and his <sup>g</sup> kall, and the Priest shal lay them in ordre vpon the wood that <sup>j</sup> lieth in the fire which is on the altar:

13 But he shal wash the inwardes, and the legs with water, and the Priest shal offer the whole & burne it vpon the altar: for it is a burnt offering, an oblatiō made by fire for a swete sauoure vnto the Lord.

14 ¶ And if his sacrifice be a burnt offering to the Lord of the foules, the he shal offer his sacrifice of the turtle doves, or of the yong pigeons.

15 And the Priest shal bring it vnto the altar, and <sup>k</sup> wring the necke of it a sunder, and burne it on the altar: and the blood thereof shal be shed vpon the side of the altar.

17 And he shal cleaue it with his wings, but not deuide it a sundre: and the Priest shal burne it vpon the altar vpon the wood that is in <sup>l</sup> y fire: for it is a burnt offering, an oblatiō made by fire for a swete sauour vnto the Lord.

CHAP. II.

1 The meat offering is after thre sortes: of fine flour vnbaken, 4 Of bread baken, 14 And of corne in the eare.

<sup>a</sup> Because the burnt offering shalbe cold, not be without the meat offering.

1 And whe anie wil offer a <sup>a</sup> meat offrig vnto the Lord, his offering shalbe of fine flour, and he shal poure oyle vpon it, and put incense thereon,

2 And shal bring it vnto Aarons sonnes the Priestes, and <sup>b</sup> he shal take thence his handfull of the flour, and of the oyle with all the incense, and the Priest shal burne it for a <sup>c</sup> memorial vpon the altar: for it is an offering made by fire for a swete sauour vnto the Lord.

3 *But the remnant of the meat offering shal be Aarons and his sonnes: for it is <sup>d</sup> moſte holy of the Lords offerings made by fire.

Eccl. 7.34.

4 ¶ If thou bring also a meat offering baken in the ouē, it shalbe an vnleauened cake of fine flour mingled with oyle, or an vnleauened wafer anointed with oyle.

5 ¶ But if thy <sup>e</sup> meat offering be an oblatiō of the fryng pan, it shalbe of fine flour vnleauened, mingled with oyle.

6 And thou shalt parte it in pieces, and powre oyle thereon: for it is a meat offering.

7 ¶ And if thy meat offering be an oblation made in the caudron, it shalbe made of fine flour with oyle.

8 After, thou shalt bring the meat offering (<sup>h</sup> y is made of these things) vnto <sup>h</sup> y Lord, & shalt present it vnto the Priest, and he shal bring it to the altar, 9 And the Priest shal take from the meat offering a <sup>i</sup> memorial of it, and shal burne it vpon the altar: for it is an oblation <sup>i</sup> made by fire for a swete sauour vnto the Lord.

Exod. 29.13.

10 But <sup>j</sup> y which is left of the meat offering, shalbe Aarons and his sonnes: for it is moſte holy of the offerings of the Lord made by fire.

11 All the meat offerings which ye shal offer vnto <sup>j</sup> y Lord, shalbe made without leauē: for ye shal nether burne leauen nor hony in any offering of the Lord made by fire.

12 ¶ In the oblation of the first frutes ye shal offer <sup>k</sup> them vnto the Lord, but they shal not be burnt vpon the altar for a swete sauour.

<sup>k</sup> That is, frutes, which are swete as hony, ye may offer. But reserved for <sup>j</sup> Priests.

Mar. 9.49.

13 (All the meat offerings also shalt thou season with <sup>l</sup> salt, nether shalt thou suffice the salt of the <sup>l</sup> couenant of thy God to be lacking from thy meat offering, but vpon all thine oblations thou shalt offer salt)

<sup>h</sup> Which they were bound (as by a couenat) to vse in all sacrifices, Nōb. 18. 19. cack. 43. 24: or it meaneth a sure and pure couenat.

Chap. 23. 14.

14 If then thou offer a meat offering of thy first frutes vnto the Lord, thou shalt offer for thy meat offering of thy first frutes <sup>l</sup> eares of corne dried by the fire, and wheat beaten out of <sup>l</sup> the grene eares.

15 After, thou shalt put oyle vpon it, and laie incense thereon: for it is a meat offering.

16 And the Priest shal burne the memorial of it, <sup>m</sup> even of that that is beaten and of the oyle of it with all the incense thereof: for it is an offering vnto the Lord made by fire.

CHAP. III.

*1 The manner of peace offerings, and beasts for the same.
17 The Israelites may neither eat fat, nor blood.*

a A sacrifice of thanksgiving offered for peace & prosperity, either generally or particularly.

b One part was burnt, another was to the Priests, & the third to him that offered.

Exod. 29. 29.

c In the peace offering it was indifferent to offer either male or female, but in the burnt offering only the male: so here, can be offered no birds, but in the burnt offering they might: all there was consumed with fire, and in the peace offering but a part.

d The burnt offering was wholly consumed, and of the offering made by fire only the inward parts &c. were burnt: the shoulder & breast, with the two claws and the maw were to the Priests, & the rest his that offered.

e Meaning at the Northside of the altar, chap. 1. 1.

Also if his oblation be a peace offering, if he wil offer of y<sup>e</sup> droue (whether it be male or female) he shal offer such as is without blemish, before y<sup>e</sup> Lord, And shal put his hand vpon the head of his offering, and kil it at the dore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation: & Aarons sonnes the Priests shal sprinkle the blood vpon the altar round about.

So he shal offer <sup>b</sup> parte of the peace offrings as a sacrifice made by fire vnto the Lord, <sup>euen</sup> the * fat that couereth the inwardes, and all the fat that is vpon the inwardes.

He shal also take away the two kidneis, and the fat that is on them, and vpon the flanks, and the kall on the liuer with the kidneis.

And Aarons sonnes shal burne it on the altar with the burnt offering, which is vpon the wood, that is on the fire: this is a sacrifice made by fire for a swete sauour vnto the Lord.

¶ Also if his oblation be a peace offering vnto the Lord out of the flocke, whether it be male or female, he shal offer it without blemish.

If he offer a lambe for his oblation, then he shal bring it before the Lord,

And lay his hand vpon the head of his offering, and shal kil it before the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and Aarons sonnes shal sprinkle y<sup>e</sup> blood thereof round about vpon the altar.

After, of the peace offerings he shal offer <sup>d</sup> an offering made by fire vnto y<sup>e</sup> Lord: he shal take away the fat thereof, & the rumpe altogether, hard by the backe bone, & the fat that couereth the inwardes, and all the fat that is vpon the inwardes.

Also he shal take away the two kidneis, with the fat that is vpon them, and vpon the * flanks, & the kall vpon the liuer with the kidneis.

The Priest shal burne it vpon the altar, as the meat of an offering made by fire vnto the Lord.

¶ Also if his offering be a goat, then shal he offer it before the Lord,

And shal put his hand vpon the head of it, and kil it before the Tabernacle of the Congregation, & the sonnes of Aaron shal sprinkle the blood thereof vpon the altar round about.

The he shal offer thereof his offering, <sup>euen</sup> an offering made by fire vnto the Lord, the fat that couereth the inwardes, and all the fat that is vpon the inwardes.

Also he shal take away the two kidneis, & the fat that is vpon them, and vpon the flanks & the kall vpon the liuer with the kidneis.

So the Priest shal burne them vpon the altar, as y<sup>e</sup> meat of an offering made by fire for a swete sauour: * all y<sup>e</sup> fat is the Lords. Chap. 7. 2. 5.

This shal be a perpetual ordinance for your generacions, through out all your dwellings, so that ye shal eat nether fat nor * blood.

CHAP. IIII.

1 The offering for finnes done of ignorance, 3 For the Priest, 13 The Congregation, 22 The ruler, 27 And the priuate man.

Mouer the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

Speake vnto the children of Israel, saying, If anie shal sinne through ignorance, in anie of the commandements of y<sup>e</sup> Lord (which ought not to be done) but shal do contrarie to anie of them,

If the Priest that is anointed do sinne (according to the sinne of the people) the shal he offer, for his sinne which he hath sinned, a yong bullocke without blemish vnto the Lord for a sinne offering,

And he shal bring the bullocke vnto the dore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation before the Lord, & shal put his hand vpon the bullocks head, and kil the bullocke before the Lord.

And the Priest that is anointed shal take of the bullocks blood, and bring it into y<sup>e</sup> Tabernacle of the Congregation.

Then the Priest shal dip his finger in the blood, and sprinkle of the blood seuen times before the Lord, before the vaile of the Sanctuarie.

The Priest also shal put some of the blood before the Lord, vpon the hornes of y<sup>e</sup> altar of swete incense, which is in y<sup>e</sup> Tabernacle of the Congregation, then shal he powre * all the rest of the blood of the bullocke at the fore of y<sup>e</sup> altar of burnt offering, which is at the dore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

And he shal take away all the fat of the bullocke for the sinne offering: to wit, y<sup>e</sup> fat that couereth the inwardes, and all the fat that is about the inwardes.

He shal take away also the two kidneis, and the fat that is vpon them, and vpon the flanks, & the kall vpon the liuer with the kidneis,

As it was taken away from the bullocke of the peace offerings, and the Priest shal burne the vpon the altar of burnt offering.

* But the skin of the bullocke, and all his flesh, with his head, and his legs, & his inwardes, and his dounge shal he beare out.

So he shal cary the whole bullocke out of the hoste vnto a cleane place, where y<sup>e</sup> ashes are powred, & shal burne him on y<sup>e</sup> wood in the fire: where the ashes are cast out, shal he be burnt.

¶ And if the whole Congregation of Israel

Chap. 5.

Israel shal sinne through ignorance, and the thing be * hid from the eies of the multitude, and haue done against anie of y<sup>e</sup> cōmandements of the Lord which shulde not be done, and haue offended:

14 When the sinne which they haue cōmitted shalbe knowen, then the Congregaciō shal offre a yong bullocke for the sinne, and bring him before the Tabernacle of the Congregation,

15 And the Elders of the Congregation shal put their hands vpon the head of the bullocke before the Lord, and he shal kil the bullocke before the Lord,

16 Then the Priest that is anointed, shal bring of the bullocks blood into the Tabernacle of the Congregation, 17 And the Priest shall dip his finger in the blood, and sprinkle it seuen times before the Lord, enen before the vaile.

19 And he shal take all his fat from him, & burne it vpon the altar.

20 And the Priest shal do with this bullocke, as he did with the bullocke for his sinne: so shal he do wth this: so the Priest shal make an atonement for them, and it shalbe forgien them.

21 For he shal carie the bullocke without y<sup>e</sup> hoste, and burne him as he burned the first bullocke: for it is an offering for the sinne of the Congregation.

22 ¶ When a ruler shal sinne, & do through ignorance against anie of the cōmandements of the Lord his God, which shulde not be done and shal offende;

23 If one shewe vnto him his sinne which he hathe cōmitted, then shal he bring for his offering an<sup>e</sup> he goat without blemish, 24 And shal lay his hand vpon the head of the he goat, & kil it in <sup>h</sup> the place where he shulde kil the burnt offering before the Lord: for it is a sinne offering.

25 Then the Priest shal take of the blood of the sinne offering with his finger, & put it vpon the hornes of the burnt offering altar, and shal powre the rest of his blood at the fote of the burnt offering altar, 26 And shal burne all his fat vpon the altar, as the fat of the peace offering: so y<sup>e</sup> Priest shal make an<sup>i</sup> atonement for him, concerning his sinne, and it shal be forgien him.

27 ¶ Likewise if anie of the<sup>e</sup> people of the land shal sinne through ignorance in doing against anie of the cōmandements of the Lord, which shulde not be done, & shal offend,

28 If one shewe him his sinne which he hathe cōmitted, then he shal bring for his offering<sup>e</sup> a she goat without blemish for his sinne which he hathe committed,

29 And he shal lay his hand vpon the head of the sinne offering, and slay the sinne offering in the place of burnt offering.

30 Then the Priest shal take of the blood thereof with his finger, and put it vpon the hornes of the burnt offering altar, & powre all the rest of the blood thereof at the fote of the altar, 31 And shal take away all his fat, as the fat of the peace offerings is taken away, and the Priest shal burne it vpon the altar for a swete sauour vnto the Lord, & the Priest shal make an atonement for him, and it shalbe forgien him.

32 And if he bring a lambe for his sinne offering, he shal brig a female without blemish, 33 And shal lay his<sup>1</sup> hand vpon the head of the sinne offering, and he shal slay it for a sinne offering in the place where he shulde kil the burnt offering.

34 Then the Priest shal take of the blood of the sinne offering with his finger, and put it vpon the hornes of the burnt offering altar, & shal powre all the rest of the blood thereof at the fote of the altar.

35 And he shal take away all y<sup>e</sup> fat thereof, as the fat of the lambe of y<sup>e</sup> peace offerings is taken away: then the Priest shal burne it vpon the altar<sup>m</sup> with the oblatiōs of the Lord made by fire, & the Priest shal make an atonement for him cōcerning his sinne that he hathe committed, and it shalbe forgien him.

CHAP. V.

1 Of him that testifieth not the trueth, if he heare another swear falsely. 4 Of him that voweth rashely. 15 Of him that by ignorance withdraweth anie thing dedicate to the Lord.

1 Also if<sup>1</sup> anie haue sinned, that is, if he haue heard y<sup>e</sup> voyce of an othe, & he can be a witnes, whether he hathe sene or<sup>a</sup> known of it, if he do not vtter it, he shal beare his iniquitie:

2 Either if one touche anie vnleane thing, whether it be a cariō of an vnleane beast, or a cariō of vnleane cattel, or a cariō of vnleane creeping things, & is not ware of it, yet he is vnleane, & hathe offended:

6 Also he shal bring for his trespassse vnto the Lord, a ram without blemish out of the flocke in thy estimation worthe two shekels for a trespassse offering vnto the Priest.

Chap. 5. 15.

7 And the Priest shal make an atonement for him before the Lord, & it shal be forgiven him, whatsoeuer thing he hath done, and trespassed therein.

8 ¶ Then y Lord spake vnto Moses, sayig, 9 Cōmāde Aaron and his sonnes, saying, This is the lawe of the burnt offering, (it is the burnt offering because it burneth vpon the altar all the night vnto the morning, and the fire burneth on the altar)

4 So Moses did as the Lord had commanded him, and the companie was assembled at the dore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

5 Then Moses said vnto the companie, *This is the thing which the Lord hath commanded to do.

6 And Moses brought Aaron and his sonnes, and washed them with water, 7 And put vpon him y coat, & girded him with a girdel, and clothed him with the robe, and put the Ephod on him, which he girded with the broyded garde of the Ephod, & bonde it vnto him therewith.

8 After he put the brest plate thereon, and put in the brest plate * the Vrim and the Thummim.

9 Also he put the mitre vpon his head, and put vpon the mitre on the fore fronte the golden plate, and the <sup>a</sup> holy crowne, as the Lord had commanded Moses.

10 (Now Moses had taken the anointing oyle, & anointed the <sup>b</sup> Tabernacle, and all that was therein, and sanctified them, d To offer for the finnes of the people. 16 Then he toke all the fat that was vpon the inwardes, and the kall of the liuer and the two kidneis, with their fat, which Moses burned vpon the Altar.

e In other burnt offerings, which are not of consecration, or offering for him selfe, & Priest hathe the sinne, Chap 7, 2. 17 But the bullocke and his hide, and his flesh, and his dounge, he burnt with fire without the hoste as the Lord had commanded Moses.

18 ¶ Also he brought the ram for the burnt offering, and Aaron & his sonnes put their hands vpon the head of the ram.

19 So Moses killed it, and sprinkled the blood vpon the Altar round about,

20 And Moses cut y ram in pieces, & burnt the head with the pieces, and the fat, 21 And washed the inwardes and the legs in water: so Moses burnt the ram euerie whit vpon the Altar. for it was a burnt offering for a swete sauour, which was made by fire vnto the Lord, as the Lord had commanded Moses.

Exod. 29, 31. 22 ¶ After, he brought y other ram, the ram of consecrations, and Aaron and his sonnes laied their hãds vpon the head of the ram, 24 Then Moses brought Aarons sonnes, & put of the blood on the lap of their right eares, & vpon the thumbes of their right hãds, & vpon the great toes of their right fete, and Moses sprinkled the rest of the blood vpon the Altar round about.

25 And he toke the fat and the rumpe, and all the fat that was vpon the inwardes, & the kall of the liuer, and the two kidneis with their fat, and the right shulder.

26 Also he toke of the basket of the vnleauened bread that was before the Lord, one vnleauened cake and a cake of oyled bread, and one wafer, and put them on the fat, and vpon the right shulder.

Exod. 29, 24. 27 So he put * all in Aarons hands, and in his sonnes hands, and shoke it to and fro before the Lord.

28 After, Moses toke the out of their hãds, and burnt the vpon the Altar for a burnt offering: for these were consecrations for a swete sauour which were made by fire vnto the Lord.

29 Likewise Moses toke the breast of the ram of consecrations and shoke it to and fro before the Lord: for it was Moses' portion, as the Lord had commanded Moses. Exod. 29, 26.

30 Also Moses toke of the anointing oyle, and of the blood which was vpon the Altar, and sprinkled it vpon Aaron, vpon his garments, and vpon his sonnes, and on his sonnes garments with him: so he sanctified Aaron, his garments, and his sonnes, and his sonnes garments with him.

31 ¶ Afterward Moses said vnto Aaron & his sonnes, Sethe the flesh at the dore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and there * eat it with the bread that is in the basket of consecrations, as I commanded, saying, Aaron and his sonnes shal eat it, g At the dore of the court. Exod. 29, 32. Chap. 28, 9.

32 But that which remaineth of the flesh & of the bread, shal ye burne with fire.

33 And ye shal not departe from the dore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation seuen daies, vntil the daies of your consecrations be at an end: * for seuen daies, Exod. 29, 35.

CHAP. IX.

8 The first offerings of Aaron. 22 Aaron blesteth the people. 23 The glorie of the Lord is shewed. 24 The fire commeth from the Lord.

1 AND in the eighth day Moses called Aaron and his sonnes, and the Elders of Israel:

2 *Then he said vnto Aaron, Take thee a yong calf for a sinne offering, & a ram for a burnt offering, both without blemish, and bring them before the Lord.

3 And vnto the childre of Israel thou shalt speake, saying, Take ye an he goate for a sinne offering, and a calf, & a lambe bothe of a yere olde, without blemish for a burnt offering:

a After their consecratiõ: for the seuen daies before, the Priests were consecrate.

Exod. 29, 1. b Aaron stretch into the possesio of y priesthode & offereth the foure principal sacrifices: the burnt offering, the sin offering, y peace offerings, & y meat offering.

4 Also a bullocke, and a ram for peace offerings, to offer before the Lord, & a meat offering mingled with oyle: for to day the Lord wil appeare vnto you.

5 ¶ Then they brought that which Moses commaded before the Tabernacle of the Congregation, & all the assemblie drewe nere and stode before the Lord.

c Before the altar, where his glorie appeared.

6 (For Moses had said, This is the thing, which the Lord commanded that ye shulde do, and the glorie of the Lord shal ap-peare vnto you)

7 Then Moses said vnto Aaron, Drawe nere to the Altar, & offer thy sin offering, and thy burnt offering, and make an atonement for <sup>d</sup> thee and for the people: offer also the offering of the people, and make an atonement for them, as the Lord hath commanded.

8 ¶ Aaron therefore went vnto the Altar, & killed the calf of the sin offering, which was for him self.

9 And the sonnes of Aaron brought the blood vnto him, and he dapt his finger in the blood, and put it vpon the hornes of the Altar, & powred the rest of the blood at the fote of the Altar.

10 But the fat and the kidneis and the kall of the liuer of the sin offering, he <sup>e</sup> burnt vpon the Altar, as the Lord had commanded Moses.

11 The flesh also and the hyde he burnt with fire without the hoste.

12 After, he slewe the burnt offering, & Aarons sonnes brought vnto him the blood, which he sprinkled round about vpon the Altar.

13 Also thei brought the burnt offering vnto him with the pieces thereof, and the head, and he burnt them vpon the Altar.

14 Likewise he did wash the inwardes and the legs, and <sup>f</sup> burnt them vpon the burnt offering on the Altar.

15 ¶ Then he offered the peoples offering, & toke a goat, which was the sin offering for the people, and slewe it, and offered it for sinne, as the first:

16 So he offered the burnt offering, & prepared it, according to the maner.

17 He presented also the meat offering, and filled his hand thereof, and * beside the burnt sacrifice of the morning he burnt this vpon the Altar.

18 He slewe also the bullocke, and the ram for the peace offrings, that was for the people, and Aarons sonnes brought vnto him the blood, which he sprinkled vpon the Altar round about, 19 With the fat of the bullocke, and of the ram, the rumpe, and that which couereth the inwardes and the kidneis, and the kall of the liuer.

20 So thei laied the fat vpon the breasts, and he burnt the fat vpon the Altar.

21 But the <sup>g</sup> breasts and the right shulder Aaron shoke to and fro before the Lord, as the Lord had commanded Moses.

22 So Aaron lift vp his hand towards the people, and blessed them, & <sup>h</sup> came downe from offering of the sinne offering, and the burnt offering, and the peace offrings.

23 After, Moses and Aaron went into the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and came out, and <sup>i</sup> blessed the people, * & the glorie of the Lord appeared to all the people.

24 ¶ And there came a fire out from the Lord, and consumed vpon the Altar the burnt offering and the fat: & when all the people sawe, thei gaue thakes, & fel on their faces.

CHAP. X.

2 Nadab & Abihu are burnt. 6 Israel mourneth for the. but the Priests might not. 9 The Priests are forbidden wine.

1 BVt Nadab and Abihu, the sonnes of Aaron, toke ether of them his censer, and put fire therein, and put incense thereupon, and offered a strange fire before the Lord, which he had not commanded them.

2 Therefore a fire went out from the Lord, & deuoured them: so thei dyed before the Lord.

3 Then Moses said vnto Aaron, This is it that the Lord spake, saying, I will be sanctified in them that come nere me, & before all the people I will be glorified: but Aaron helde his peace.

4 And Moses called Mishael and Elzaphan the sonnes of Vzziel, the vnckle of Aaron, and said vnto them, Come nere, cary your brethren from before the Sanctuarie out of the hoste.

5 Then thei went, & caryed them in their coates out of the hoste, as Moses had commanded.

6 After, Moses said vnto Aaron and vnto Eleazar and Ithamar his sonnes, <sup>c</sup> Vncover not your heades, nether rent your clothes, lest ye dye, and lest wrath come vpon all the people: but let your brethren, all the house of Israel bewaile the burning which the Lord hath kindled.

7 And go not ye out from the dore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation, lest ye dye: for the anointing oyle of the Lord is vpon you: and thei did according to Moses commandment.

8 ¶ And the Lord spake vnto Aaron, saying, 9 Thou shalt not drinke wine nor <sup>d</sup> strong drinke, thou, nor thy sonnes with thee, when ye come into the Tabernacle of the Congregation, lest ye dye: this is an ordinance for euer throughout your generacions,

10 That ye may put difference betwene the holy and the vnholie, and betwene the cleane and the vnckleane, 11 And that ye may teache the children of Israel all the statutes which the Lord hath commanded the by the hand of Moses.

12 ¶ Then Moses said vnto Aaron & vnto Eleazar and to Ithamar his sonnes that were left, Take the meat offering that remaineth of the offerings of the Lord, made by fire, & eat it without leauen beside the altar: for it is moste holy:

13 And ye shal eat it in the holy place, because it is thy duetie & thy sonnes duetie of 16 ¶ And Moses sought y goat that was offered for sinne, and lo, it was burnt: therefore he was angry with Eleazar and Ithamar the sonnes of Aaron, which were left alive, saying,

17 Wherefore have ye not eaten the sin offering in the holy place, seing it is moste holy? and God hath given it you, to beare the iniquitie of the Cōgregaciō, to make an atonement for them before the Lord.

18 Beholde, the blood of it was not broght within the holy place: ye shulde have eaten it in the holy place, * as I commaded.

CHAP. XI.

1 Of beastes, fishes and birdes, which be cleane, and which be vncleane.

1 After, the Lord spake vnto Moses & to Aaron, saying vnto them,

2 Speake vnto the children of Israël, and say, * These are the beastes which ye * shal eat, among all the beastes that are on the earth.

3 Whatsoever parteth the <sup>b</sup> loofe, and is clouen foted, and chaweth the cud among the beastes, that shal ye eat:

4 But of them that chewe the cud, or deuide the hoofe onely, of them ye shal not eat: as the camel, because he cheweth the cud, and deuiderh not the hoofe, he shalbe vncleane vnto you.

5 Likewise the conie, because he cheweth the cud & deuiderh not y hoofe, he shalbe vncleane to you.

6 Also the hare, because he cheweth the cud, & deuiderh not the hoofe, he shalbe vncleane to you.

7 * And the swine, because he parteth the hoofe and is clouen foted, but cheweth not the cud, he shalbe vncleane to you.

8 Of their * flesh shal ye not eat, and their carkeis shal ye not touche: for thei shalbe vncleane to you.

9 ¶ These shal ye eat, of all that are in the waters: whatsoeuer hath finnes & skales in the waters, in the seas, or in the riuers, them shal ye eat.

10 But all that haue not fins nor skales in the seas, or in y riuers, of all that <sup>d</sup> moueth in the waters & of all <sup>e</sup> liuing things that are in the waters, thei shalbe an abominacion vnto you.

11 Thei, I say, shalbe an abominacion to you: ye shal not eat of their flesh, but shal abhorre their carkeis.

12 Whatsoeuer hath not fins nor skales in the waters, that shalbe abominacion vnto you.

13 ¶ These shal ye haue also in abominaciō amōg the foules, thei shal not be eaten: for thei are an abominacion, the eagle, and the gofhauke, and the osprey:

14 Also the vultur, and the kite after his kinde,

15 And all rauens after their kinde:

16 The ostriche also, and the night crowe, and the scameawe, and the hauke after his kinde:

17 The litle owle also, and the cormorant, and the great owle.

18 Also the redshake and the pelicane, and the swanne:

19 The storke also, the heron after his kinde, and the lapwing, and the backe:

20 Also euerie foule that crepeth and goeth vpon all foure, suche shalbe an abominacion vnto you.

21 Yet these shal ye eat: of euerie foule that crepeth, and goeth vpon all foure which haue their fete and leggs all of one to leape withall vpon the earth, 22 Of them ye shal eat these, the grasshoper after his kinde, and the <sup>f</sup> solean after his kinde, the hargol after his kinde, and the hagab after his kinde.

23 But all other foules y crepe & haue foure fete, thei shalbe abominacion vnto you.

24 For by suche ye shalbe polluted: whosoever toucheth their carkeis, shalbe vncleane vnto the euening.

25 Whosoever also beareth of their carkeis, shal wash his clothes, and be vncleane vntil euen.

26 Euerie beast that hath claws deuiderh, and is not clouen foted, nor cheweth the cud, suche shalbe vncleane vnto you: euerie one y toucheth the, shalbe vncleane.

27 And whatsoeuer goeth vpon his pawes among all maner beastes that goeth on all foure, suche shalbe vncleane vnto you: who doeth touche their carkeis shalbe vncleane vntil the euen.

28 And he that beareth their carkeis, shal wash his clothes, and be vncleane vntil the euen: for suche shalbe vncleane vnto you.

the earth, the weasel, and the mouse, and the <sup>h</sup> frog, after his kinde:

30 Also the rat, and the lizard, and the cha-

31 These shalbe vncleane to you amōg all y crepe: whosoever doeth touche the when thei be dead, shalbe vncleane vntil the euen.

32 Also whatsoeuer anie of the dead car-

33 But euerie earthe vessel, whereinto anie

34 All meat also that shalbe eaten, if anie suche water come vpon it, shalbe vncleane:
and all drinke that shalbe dronke in all su-

35 And euerie thing that their carkeis fall vpon, shalbe vncleane: the fornais or the pot shalbe broken: for thei are vncleane, and shalbe vncleane vnto you.

36 Yet the fountaines & welles where there is plentie of water shalbe cleane: but that which <sup>k</sup> toucheth their carkeises shal be vncleane.

37 And if there fall of their dead carkeis vpon anie sede, which vseth to be sowen, it shalbe cleane.

38 But if anie <sup>l</sup> water be powred vpon the sede, and there fall of their dead carkeis thereon, it shalbe vncleane vnto you.

39 If also anie beast, whereof ye may eat, dye, he that toucheth the carkeis thereof shalbe vncleane vntil the euen.

40 And he that eateth of the carkeis of it, shal wash his clothes and be vncleane vntil the euen: he also that beareth the car-keis of it, shal wash his clothes, and be vncleane vntil the euen.

41 Euerie creping thing therefore that crecion, and not be eaten.

42 Whatsoeuer goeth vpon the breast, and whatsoeuer goeth vpon all foure, or that hathe manie fete amōg all creping things that crepe vpon the earth, ye shal not eat of them, for thei shalbe abominacion.

43 Ye shal not pollute your selues with anie thing y crepeth, nether make your selues vncleane w them, nether defile your selues thereby: ye shal not, I say, be defiled by the, fied therefore, and be <sup>m</sup> holy, for I am holy, and defile not your selues with anie creping thing, that crepeth vpon the earth.

45 For I am the Lord that brought you out of the land of Egypt, to be your God, and that you shulde be holy, for I am holy.

46 This is the lawe of beastes, & of foules, and of euerie liuing thing that moueth in the waters, and of euerie thing that cre-peth vpon the earth:

47 That there may be a difference betwene the vncleane and cleane, and betwene the beast that may be eaten, & the beast that ought not to be eaten.

CHAP. XII.

deliuerance.

1 And the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

2 Speake vnto the children of Israél, and say, When a woman hathe brought forth sede, and borne a manchild, she shal be vncleane <sup>a</sup> seuē daies, like as she is vnclea-ne whe she is put a parte for her <sup>*disease</sup>.

3 (* And in the eight day the foreskin of the childes flesh shalbe circumcised)

4 And she shal continue in the blood of her purifying thre <sup>b</sup> and thirty daies: she shal touche no <sup>c</sup> halowed thing, nor come in to the <sup>d</sup> Sanctuarie, vntil the time of her purifying be out.

5 But if she beare a maide childe, then she shalbe vncleane two <sup>e</sup> wekes, as when she hathe her disease: and she shal continue in the blood of her purifying thre score and six daies.

6 Now when the daies of her purifying are out, (whether it be for a sonne or for a daughter) she shal bring to the Priest a lambe of one yere olde for a burnt offring, and a yong pigeon or a turtle doue for a sin offering, vnto y dore of the <sup>f</sup> Tabernacle of the Congregation,

7 Who shal offer it before the Lord, and make an atonement for her: so she shalbe purged of the issue of her blood. this is y la-we for her y hathe borne a male or female.

8 But if she <sup>g</sup> be not able to bring a labe, she shal bring two * turtles, or two yong pigeons: the one for a burnt offering, and the other for a sin offering: and the Priest shal make an atonement for her: so she shalbe cleane.

c For it is not that contagious leprosie that infecteth, but a kinde of scirfe, which hath the not of flesh rawe as the leprosie.

me to be lower then the skin of his flesh, it is a plague of leprosie: therefore the Priest shall loke on him, and pronounce him vncleane:

4 But if the white spot be in y skin of his flesh, and seme not to be lower then the skin, nor the heere thereof be turned vnto white, then the Priest shall shut vp him that hath the plague, seven daies.

5 After, the Priest shall loke vpon him the seuenth day: & if the plague seme to him to abide stil, and the plague growe not in the skin, the Priest shall shut him vp yet seven daies more.

6 Then the Priest shall loke on him againe the seuenth day, and if the plague be darcke, and the sore growe not in the skin, then the Priest shall pronounce him cleane, for it is a skab: therefore he shall wash his clothes, and be cleane.

7 But if the skab growe more in the skin, after that he is sene of the Priest, for to be purged, he shall be sene of the Priest yet againe.

8 Then the Priest shall consider, and if the skab growe in the skin, then the Priest shall pronounce him vncleane: for it is leprosie.

9 ¶ When the plague of leprosie is in a man, he shall be brought vnto the Priest,

10 And the Priest shall se him: & if the swelling be white in the skin, & haue made y heere white, & there be rawe flesh in the swelling, 11 It is an olde leprosie in the skin of his flesh: and the Priest shall pronounce him vncleane, and shall not shut him vp, for he is vncleane.

12 Also if the leprosie breake out in the skin, and the leprosie couer all the skin of the plague, from his head euen to his fete, wheresoeuer the Priest loketh, 13 Then the Priest shall consider: and if the leprosie couer all his flesh, he shall pronounce y plague to be cleane, because it is all turned into whitenes: so he shall be cleane.

14 But if there be rawe flesh on him when he is sene, he shall be vncleane.

15 For the Priest shall se the rawe flesh, and declare him to be vncleane: for the rawe flesh is vncleane, therefore it is the leprosie.

16 Or if the rawe flesh change and be turned into white, then he shall come to the Priest, 17 And the Priest shall beholde him: and if the sore be changed into white, then the Priest shall pronounce the plague cleane, for it is cleane.

18 ¶ The flesh also in whose skin there is a bile and is healed,

19 And in the place of the bile there be a white swelling, or a white spot somewhat reddish, it shall be sene of the Priest.

20 And when the Priest seeth it, if it appeare lower then the skin, and the heere thereof be changed into white, the Priest shall pronounce him vncleane: for it is a plague of leprosie, broken out in the bile.

21 But if the Priest loke on it and there be no white heeres therein, & if it be not lower then the skin, but be darcker, then the Priest shall shut him vp seven daies.

22 And if it spread abroad in the flesh, the Priest shall pronounce him vncleane, for it is a sore.

23 But if the spot continue in his place, & growe not, it is a burning bile: therefore the Priest shall declare him to be cleane.

24 ¶ If there be anie flesh, in whose skin there is an hote burning, and the quicke flesh of the burning haue a white spot, somewhat reddish or pale,

25 Then the Priest shall loke vpon it: and if the heere in that spot be chaged into white, and if appeare lower then the skin, it is a leprosie broke out in the burning: therefore the Priest shall pronounce him vncleane: for it is the plague of leprosie.

26 But if the Priest loke on it, and there be no white heere in the spot, and be no lower then the other skin, but be darcker, then the Priest shall shut him vp seven daies.

27 After, the Priest shall loke on him the seuenth day: if it be growen abroad in the skinne, then the Priest shall pronounce him vncleane: for it is the plague of leprosie.

28 And if the spot abide in his place, not growing in the skin, but is darcke, it is a rising of the burning: the Priest shall therefore declare him cleane, for it is the drying vp of the burning.

29 ¶ If also a man or woman hath a sore on the head or in the beard, 30 Then the Priest shall se the sore: and if it appeare lower then the skin, and there be in it a smale yelow heere, then the Priest shall pronounce him vncleane: for it is a blacke spot, and leprosie of the head or of the beard.

31 And if the Priest loke on the sore of the blacke spot, and if it seme not lower then y skin nor haue anie blacke heere in it, then the Priest shall shut vp him, that hath the sore of the blacke spot, seven daies.

32 After, in the seuenth day the Priest shall loke on the sore: and if y blacke spot growe not, & there be in it no yelow heere, and the blacke spot seme not lower then the skin, 33 Then he shall be shauen, but the place of y blacke spot shall he not shau: but y Priest shall shut vp him, that hath the blacke spot, seven daies more.

34 And the seuenth day the Priest shall loke on the blacke spot: and if the blacke spot

g None were exempted, but if the Priest pronounced him vncleane, he was put out from among y people: as appeareth by Marie the prophetesse, Numb. 12, 14, and by King Ozias. 2. Chro. 26, 20.

h If he haue a white spot in that place, where the burning was, and was after healed.

i Of swelling.

j Which was not wont to be there, or els smaller then in any other parte of the body.

growe not in the skin, nor seme lower the the other skin, then y<sup>e</sup> Priest shal clese him, & he shal wash his clothes, and be cleane.

35 But if the blacke spot growe abroade in the flesh after his clensing,

36 Then the Priest shal loke on it: and if the blacke spot growe in the skin, y<sup>e</sup> Priest shal not <sup>k</sup> seke for the yelowc heere: for he is vncleane.

care whether the yelowc heere be the re, or no.

37 But if the blacke spot seme to him to abide, and that blacke heere growe therein, the blacke spot is healed, he is cleane, and the Priest shal declare him to be cleane.

38 ¶ Furthermore if there be manie white spots in y<sup>e</sup> skin of y<sup>e</sup> flesh of man or womā, 39 Then the Priest shal cōsider: and if the spots in the skin of their flesh be somewhat darcke and white withall, it is but a white spot broken out in the skin: therefore he is cleane.

40 And the man whose heere is fallen of his head and is balde, is cleane.

nes, or anie other inconuenience.

41 And if his head close the <sup>l</sup> heere on the fore parte, & be balde before, he is cleane.

42 But if there be in the balde head, or in the balde fore heade a white reddish sore, it is a leprosie springig in his balde head, or in his balde forehead.

43 Therefore the Priest shal loke vpon it, and if the rising of the sore be white reddish in his balde head, or in his balde forehead, appearing like leprosie in the skin of the flesh,

44 He is a leper and vncleane: therefore the Priest shal pronounce him altogether vncleane: for the sore is in his head.

sorowe and lamentation.
n Either in token of mourning, or for fe-are of infecting others.

45 The leper also in whome the plague is, shal haue his clothes <sup>m</sup> rent, and his head bare, and shal put a couering vpo his <sup>n</sup> lippes, and shal crye, I am vncleane, I am vncleane.

2. kin. 15. 2.

46 As long as the di sease shalbe vpon him, he shalbe polluted, for he is vncleane: he shal dwel alone, * without the campe shal his habitation be.

47 ¶ Also the garmēt that the plague of leprosie is in, whether it be a wollen garment or a linen garment,

48 Whether it be in the warpe or in the woofe of linen or of wollen, ether in a skin or in anie thing made of skin,

49 And if the sore be grene or somewhat reddish in the garment or in the skin, or in the warpe, or in the woofe, or in anie thig that is made of skin, it is a plague of leprosie & shalbe shewed vnto the Priest.

be garment, vessel, or instrument.

50 Then the Priest shal se the plague, and shut vp <sup>o</sup> that hathe the plague, seuē daies,

51 And shal loke on the plague the seuenth day: if the plague growe in the garment or in the warpe, or in the woofe, or in the skin, or in anie thing that is made of skin, that plague is a freating leprosie and vncleane.

52 And he shal burne the garment, or the warpe, or the woofe, whether it be wollen or linen, or anie thing that is made of skin, wherein the plague is: for it is a frea-ting leprosie, therefore it shalbe burnt in the fire.

53 If the Priest yet se that the plague gro-we not in the garment, or in the woofe, or in whatsoeuer thing of skin it be,

til in one place, as ver. 17.

54 Then the Priest shal commāde them to wash the thing wherein the plague is, & he shal shut it vp seven dayes more.

55 Againe the Priest shal loke on the plague, after it is washed: and if the plague haue not changed his colour, though the plague spred no further, it is vncleane:
thou shalt burne it in y<sup>e</sup> fire, for it is a frea-t inwarde, & whether the spot be in the bare place of the whole, or in parte thereof.

ne as it did before.

<sup>r</sup> Or whether it be in any bare place be-hinde.

56 And if the Priest se that the plague be darcker, after that it is washed, he shal cut it out of the garment, or out of the skin, or out of the warpe, or out of the woofe.

57 And if it appeare stil in the garment or in the warpe, or in the woofe, or in anie thing made of skin, it is a spreading leprosie:
thou shalt burne the thing wherein the plague is, in the fire.

58 If thou hast washed the garment or the warpe, or y<sup>e</sup> woofe, or whatsoeuer thing of skin it be, if the plague be departed therefrom, then shal it be washed <sup>r</sup> the seconde time, and be cleane.

he might be sure that the leprosie was departed and that all occasion of infection might be takē away.

59 This is the lawe of the plague of leprosie in a garment of wollen or linen, or in the warpe, or in the woofe, or in anie thing of skin, to make it cleane or vncleane.

6 After, he shal take the liue sparowe with the cedar wood, and the skarlet lace, and the hyssope, and shal dip them and the liuing sparowe in the blood of the sparowe slaine, ouer the pure water,

8 Then he that shalbe censed, shal wash his clothes, and shaue of all his heere, and wash him selfe in water, so he shalbe cleane: after that shal he come into the hoste, but shal tarie without his tent seuē dayes.

9 So in the seuenth day he shal shaue of all his heere, bothe his head, and his beard, & his eie browes: euen all his heere shal he shaue, & shal wash his clothes & shal wash his flesh in water: so he shalbe cleane.

10 Then in the eight day he shal take two he lambes without <sup>e</sup> blemish, and an ewe lambe of an yere olde without blemish, and thre tenth deales of fine floure for a meat offering, mingled with oyle, <sup>f</sup> and a pinte of oyle.

11 And the Priest that maketh him cleane shal bring the man which is to be made cleane, and those things, before the Lord, at the dore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

12 Then the Priest shal take one lambe, & offer him for a trespass offering, and the pinte of oyle, and * shake them to and fro before the Lord.

13 And he shal kil the lambe in the place where the sinne offering and the burnt offering are slaine, euen in the holy place: for as the * sin offering is the Priests, so is the trespass offering: for it is moste holy.

14 So the Priest shal take of the blood of the trespass offering, and put it vpon the lap of the right eare of him that shalbe censed, and vpon the thumbe of his right hand, and vpon the great toe of his right fote.

15 The Priest shal also take of the pinte of oyle, and powre it into the palme of his left hand, 16 And the Priest shal dip his <sup>right</sup> finger in the oyle that is in his left hād, & sprinkle of the oyle with his finger seven times before the Lord.

17 And of the rest of the oyle that is in his hand, shal the Priest put vpon the lap of the right eare of him that is to be censed, & vpon the thumbe of his right hand, and vpon the great toe of his right fote, <sup>where</sup> the blood of the trespass offering was put.

18 But the remnant of the oyle that is in the Priestes hand, he shal powre vpon the head of him that is to be censed: so the Priest shal make an atonement for him before the Lord.

19 And the Priest shal offer the sin offering and make an atonement for him that is to be censed of his vncleannes: the after shal he kil the burnt offering.

20 So the Priest shal offer the burnt offering & the meat offering vpon the altar: and the Priest shal make an atonement for him: so he shalbe cleane.

21 But if he be poore, & <sup>not</sup> able, then he shal bring one lābe for a trespass offering to be shakē, for his recōciliation, & a <sup>8</sup> tenth deale of fine floure mingled with oyle, for a meat offering, with a pinte of oyle.

22 Also two turtle doues, or two yong pigeons, as he is able, whereof the one shalbe a sin offering, and the other a burnt offering,

23 And he shal bring them the eight day for his censing vnto the Priest at the dore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation before the Lord.

24 Then the Priest shal take the lambe of the trespass offering, and the pinte of oyle, and the Priest shal <sup>4</sup> shake them to and fro before the Lord.

26 Also the Priest shal powre of the oyle into the palme of his owne <sup>left</sup> hand.

27 So the Priest shal with his right finger sprinkle of the oyle that is in his left hand, seven times before the Lord.

28 Then the Priest shal put of the oyle that is in his hand, vpon the lap of the right eare of him that is to be censed, and vpon the thumbe of his right hand, and vpon the great toe of his right fote: vpon the place of the blood of the trespass offering.

29 But <sup>y</sup> rest of the oyle that is in <sup>y</sup> Priests hād, he shal put vpon the head of him that is to be censed, to make an atonement for him before the Lord.

30 Also he shal present one of the turtle doues, or of the yong pigeons, <sup>i</sup> as he is able:

31 Suche, I say, as he is able, the one for a sin offering, and the other for a burnt offering with the meat offering: so the Priest shal make an atonement for him that is to be censed before the Lord.

32 This is the <sup>lawe</sup> of him which hath <sup>y</sup> plague of leprosie, who is not able in his censing to offre the whole.

33 ¶ The Lord also spake vnto Moses and to Aaron, saying,

34 When ye be come vnto the land of Canaan which I giue you in possession, if I send the plague of leprosie in an house of the land of your possession, 35 Then he that oweth the house, shal come and tel the Priest, saying, Me thinke there is like a plague of leprosie in the house.

empty the house before the Priest go into it to se the plague, that all that is in the house be not made vncleane, and then shall the Priest go in to se the house, 37 And he shal marke the plague: and if the plague be in the walles of the house, and that there be depe spots, greenish or reddish, which seme to be lower the wall,
 38 Then the Priest shal go out of the house to the dore of the house, and shal cause to shut vp the house seuen daies.
 39 So y<sup>e</sup> Priest shal come againe the seuenth day: and if he se that the plague be increased in the walles of the house, 40 Then the Priest shal commande them to take away y<sup>e</sup> stones wherein the plague is, and they shal cast them into a foule place without the citie.
 41 Also he shal cause to scrape the house within round about, and powre the dust, that they haue pared of, without the citie in an vncleane place.
 42 And they shal take other stones, and put the in y<sup>e</sup> places of those stones, & shal take other mortar, to plaister the house with.
 43 But if the plague come againe and breake out in the house, after that he hath taken away the stones, and after y<sup>e</sup> he hath scraped and plaistred the house,
 44 Then the Priest shal come and see: and if the plague growe in the house, it is a freating leprosie in the house: it is therefore vncleane.
 45 And he shal breake downe the house, with the stones of it, and the timber thereof, and all the mortar of the house, and he shal carie them out of the citie vnto an vncleane place.
 46 Moreouer he that goeth into the house all y<sup>e</sup> while that it is shut vp, he shalbe vncleane vntil the euen.
 47 He also that slepeth in the house shal wash his clothes: he likewise that eateth in the house, shal wash his clothes.
 48 But if the Priest shal come and se, that the plague hath spread no further in the house, after the house be plaistered, the Priest shal pronounce that house cleane, for the plague is healed.
 49 Then shal he take to purifie the house, two sparowes, and cedar wood, & skarlet lace, and hyssope.
 50 And he shal kil one sparowe ouer pure water in an earthen vessel, 51 And shal take the cedar wood, and the hyssope, and the skarlet lace with the liue sparowe, and dip them in the blood of the slaine sparowe, and in the pure water, and sprinkle the house seuen times:
 52 So shal he cleanse the house wth the blood of the sparowe and with the pure water, and with the liue sparowe, & with the cedar wood, and with the hyssope, and with the skarlet lace.

 53 Afterwarde he shal let go y<sup>e</sup> liue sparowe out of the towne into y<sup>e</sup> broade fieldes: so shal he make atonement for the house, and it shalbe cleane.
 54 This is the lawe for euerie plague of leprosie and blacke spot, 55 And of the leprosie of the garment, and of the house,
 56 And of the swelling, and of the skab, & of the white spot.
 57 This is the lawe of y<sup>e</sup> leprosie to teache when a thing is vncleane, and when it is cleane.

CHAP. XV.

2. 19 The manner of purging the vncleane issues bothe of me and women. 31 The children of Israel must be separate from all vncleannes.

1 Moreouer the Lord spake vnto Moses, and to Aaron, saying,
 2 Speake vnto the children of Israel, and say vnto them; Whosoever hath an issue from his flesh, is vncleane, because of his issue.
 3 And this shalbe his vncleannes in his issue: when his flesh auoideth his issue, or if his flesh be stopped from his issue, this is his vncleannes.
 4 Euerie bed whereon he lieth that hath y<sup>e</sup> issue, shalbe vncleane, & euerie thing whereon he sitteth, shalbe vncleane.
 5 Whosoever also toucheth his bed, shal wash his clothes, and wash him selfe in water, and shalbe vncleane vntil the euen.
 6 And he y<sup>e</sup> sitteth on anie thing, whereon he sate that hath the issue, shal wash his clothes, & wash him selfe in water, & shalbe vncleane vntil the euen.
 7 Also he that toucheth the flesh of him that hath the issue, shal wash his clothes, & wash him selfe in water, and shalbe vncleane vntil the euen.
 8 If he also, y<sup>e</sup> hath the issue, spit vp o<sup>f</sup> him that is cleane, he shal wash his clothes, & wash him selfe in water, & shalbe vncleane vntil the euen.
 9 And what saddle soeuer he rideth vpon, that hath the issue, shalbe vncleane,
 10 And whosoever toucheth anie thing that was vnder him, shalbe vncleane vnto the euen: and he that beareth those things, shal wash his clothes, and wash him selfe in water, and shalbe vncleane vntil the euen.
 11 Likewise whome soeuer he toucheth y<sup>e</sup> hath the issue (and hath not washed his hands in water) shal wash his clothes & wash him selfe in water, & shalbe vncleane vntil the euen.
 12 And the vessel of earth that he toucheth, which hath the issue, shalbe broken: and euerie vessel of wood shalbe rinsed in water.

Or, blacknes. or hollow stridnes.

Or, pollute d.

Chap. 6. 2.

e That is, he restored to his olde state, and be healed thereof.

13 But if he that hath an issue, be clen-sed of his issue, then shall he count him seven daies for his cleansing, and wash his clothes, and wash his flesh in pure water:
so shall he be cleane.

14 Then the eighth day he shall take vnto him two turtle doves or two yong pigeons, and come before the Lord at the dore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation, &
shall giue them vnto the Priest.

15 And the Priest shall make of the one of them a sinne offering, and of the other a burnt offering: so the Priest shall make an atonement for him before the Lord, for his issue.

16 Also if anie mans issue of sede departe from him, he shall wash all his flesh in water, and be vncleane vntil the euen.

17 And euerie garment, and euerie skin whereupon shall be issue of sede, shall be euen washed with water, & be vncleane vnto
the euen.

18 If he that hath an issue of sede, do lie with a woman, thei shall bothe wash them selues with water, and be vncleane vntil
the euen.

19 Also when a woman shall haue an issue, and her issue in her flesh shall be blood, she shall be put aparte seven daies: & whosoever toucheth her, shall be vncleane vnto
the euen.

20 And whatsoever she lieth vpon in her separacion, shall be vncleane, and euerie thing y she sitteth vpon, shall be vncleane.

21 Whosoever also toucheth her bed, shall wash his clothes, and wash him selfe with water, & shall be vncleane vnto the euen.

22 And whosoever toucheth anie thing that she sate vpon, shall wash his clothes, & wash him selfe in water, and shall be vncleane vnto the euen:

23 So that whether he touche her bed, or anie thing whereon she hath sit, he shall be vncleane vnto the euen.

24 And if a man lie with her, and she floures of her separacion touche him, he shall be vncleane seven daies, & all the whole bed whereon he lieth, shall be vncleane.

25 Also when a womans issue of blood runneth long time besides the time of her floures, or when she hath an issue, longer then her floures, all the daies of the issue of her vncleannes she shall be vncleane, as in the time of her floures.

26 Euerie bed whereon she lieth (as long as her issue lasteth) shall be to her as her bed of her separacion: and whatsoever she sitteth vpon, shall be vncleane, as her vncleannes when she is put aparte.

27 And whosoever toucheth these things, shall be vncleane, & shall wash his clothes, and wash him selfe in water, & shall be vncleane vnto the euen.

28 But if she be clenfed of her issue, then she shall counte her seven daies, & after, she shall be cleane.

29 And in the eighth day she shall take vnto her two turtles or two yong pigeons, and bring them vnto the Priest at the dore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

30 And the Priest shall make of the one a sinne offering, and of the other a burnt offring, & the Priest shall make an atonement for her before the Lord, for the issue of her vncleannes.

31 Thus shall ye separate the children of Israel from their vncleannes, that thei dye not in their vncleannes, if thei defile my Tabernacle that is among them.

32 This is the lawe of him that hath an issue, & of him from whome goeth an issue of sede whereby he is defiled:

33 Also of her that is sicke of her floures, & of him that hath a running issue, whether it be man or woman, and of him that lieth with her which is vncleane.

shall haue linen breeches vpon his flesh, and shall be girded with a linen girdel, and shall couer his head with a linen mitre:
these are the holy garments: therefore shall he wash his flesh in water, when he doeth put them on.

5 And he shall take of the Congregation of the children of Israel, two he goates for a sinne offering, and a ram for a burnt offring.

6 Then Aaron shall offer the bullocke for his sinne offering, & make an atonement

he goates: one lot for the Lord, and the other for the Scape goat.
 9 And Aaron shal offer the goat, vpon which the Lords lot shal fall, and make him a sinne offering.
 10 But the goat, on which the lot shal fall to be the Scape goat, shalbe presented alive before the Lord, to make reconciliation by him, & to let him go (as a Scape goat) into the wilderness.
 11 Thus Aaron shal offer the bullocke for his sinne offering, & make a reconciliation for him selfe, and for his house, and shal kil the bullocke for his sinne offering.
 12 And he shal take a censer full of burning coles from of the Altar before the Lord, & his handfull of sweet incense beat small, and bring it within the vaile, 13 And shal put the incense vpon the fire before the Lord, that the cloude of the incense may couer the Merciseat that is vpon the Testimonie: so he shal not dye.
 14 And he shal take of the blood of the bullocke, & sprinkle it with his finger vpon the Merciseat Eastward: and before the Merciseat shal he sprinkle of the blood with his finger seuen times.
 15 Then shal he kil the goat that is the peoples sinne offering, & bring his blood within the vaile, and do with that blood, as he did with the blood of the bullocke, & sprinkle it vpon the Merciseat, and before the Merciseat.
 16 So he shal purge the Holy place from the vncleannes of the children of Israel, & from their trespasses of all their sinnes: so shal he do also for the Tabernacle of the Congregation placed with them, in the middes of their vncleannes.
 17 And there shal be no man in the Tabernacle of the Congregation, when he goeth in to make an atonement in the Holy place, vntil he come out, & haue made an atonement for him selfe, & for his household, and for all the Congregation of Israel.
 18 After, he shal go out vnto the Altar that is before the Lord, & make a reconciliation vpon it, & shal take of the blood of the bullocke, and of the blood of the goat, and put it vpon the hornes of the Altar round about:
 19 So shal he sprinkle of the blood vpon it with his finger seuen times, and cleanse it, and halowe it from the vncleannes of the children of Israel.
 20 When he hath made an end of purging the Holy place, & the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and the altar, then he shal bring the liue goat:
 21 And Aaron shal put bothe his hands vpon the head of the liue goat, and confesse ouer him all the iniquities of the childre of Israel, & all their trespasses, in all their sinnes, putting the & vpon the head of the goat, and shal send him away (by the hand of a man appointed) into the wilderness.

 22 So the goat shal beare vpon him all their iniquities into the land that is not inhabited, and he shal let the goat go into the wilderness.
 23 After, Aaron shal come into the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and put of the linen clothes, which he put on when he went into the Holy place, & leaue the there.
 24 He shal wash also his flesh with water in the Holy place, and put on his owne raiment, and come out, and make his burnt offering, and the burnt offering of the people, and make an atonement for him self, and for the people.
 25 Also the fat of the sinne offering shal he burne vpon the Altar.
 26 And he that caryed for the goat, called the Scape goat, shal wash his clothes, and wash his flesh in water, and after that shal come into the hoste.
 27 Also the bullocke for the sinne offering, and the goat for the sinne offering (whose blood was brought to make a reconciliation in the Holy place) shal one cary out without the hoste to be burnt in the fire, with their skins, and with their flesh, and with their dounge.
 28 And he that burneth them shal wash his clothes, and wash his flesh in water, and afterwarde come into the hoste.
 29 So this shalbe an ordinance for euer vnto you: the tenth day of the seventh moneth, ye shal humble your soules, and do no worke at all, whether it be one of the same countrey or a stranger that sojourneth among you.
 30 For the day shal the Priest make an atonement for you to cleanse you: ye shal be cleane from all your sinnes before the Lord.
 31 This shalbe a Sabbath of rest vnto you, and ye shal humble your soules, by an ordinance for euer.
 32 And the Priest whom he shal anoint, and whome he shal consecrate (to minister in his fathers stede) shal make the atonement, and shal put on the linen clothes & holy vestments, 33 And shal purge the holy Sanctuary and the Tabernacle of the Congregation, & shal cleanse the Altar, & make an atonement for the Priests and for all the people of the Congregation.
 34 And this shalbe an euerlasting ordinance vnto you, to make an atonement for the childre of Israel for all their sinnes once a yere: and as the Lord commanded Moses, he did.

CHAP. XVII.

n All sacrifices muste be brought to the dore of the Tabernacle bernacle. 7 To deuils may they not offer. 10 They may not eat blood.

1 And the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

2 Speake vnto Aaron, and to his sonnes, & to all the children of Israel, and say vnto them, This is the thing which the Lord hath commanded, saying,

3 Whosoever he be of the house of Israel that killeth a bullocke, or labe, or goat in y<sup>e</sup> hoste, or that killeth it out of the hoste,

4 And bringeth it not vnto the dore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation to offer an offering vnto the Lord before the Tabernacle of the Lord, & blood shalbe imputed vnto that man: he hath shed blood, wherefore that man shalbe cut of from among his people.

5 Therefore the children of Israel shal bring their offerings, which they wolde offer abroad in the field, and present them vnto the Lord at y<sup>e</sup> dore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation by the Priest, & offer the for peace offerings vnto y<sup>e</sup> Lord.

6 Then the Priest shal sprinkle the blood vpon the altar of the Lord before the dore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and burne the fat for a swete sauour vnto the Lord.

7 And thei shal no more offer their offrings vnto deuils, after whome they haue gone a whoring: this shalbe an ordinance for euer vnto them in their generacions.

8 Also thou shalt say vnto them, Whosoever he be of the house of Israel, or of the strangers which sojourne among them, that offreth a burnt offering or sacrifice, 9 And bringeth it not vnto the dore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation to offer it vnto the Lord, euē that man shalbe cut of from his people.

10 Likewise whosoever he be of the house of Israel, or of the strangers that sojourne among them, that eateth anie blood, I will euen set my face against that persone that eateth blood, & will cut him of from among his people:

11 For the life of the flesh is in the blood, & I haue giuen it vnto you to offer vpon the altar, to make an atonement for your soyles: for this blood shal make an atonement for the soule.

12 Therefore I said vnto the childre of Israel, None of you shal eat blood: nether the stranger that sojourneth among you, shal eat blood.

13 Moreover whosoever he be of the children of Israel, or of the strangers that sojourne among them, which by hunting taketh anie beast or foule that maie be eatē, he shal powre out y<sup>e</sup> blood thereof, and couer it with dust:

14 For the life of all flesh is his blood, it is ioyned with his life: therefore I said vnto the children of Israel, Ye shal eat the blood of no flesh: for the life of all flesh is the blood thereof: whosoever eateth it, shal be cut of.

15 And euerie persone that eateth it which dyeth alone, or that which is torne with beasts, whether it be one of the same countrey or a stranger, he shal bothe wash his clothes, & washe him selfe in water, & be vncleane vnto y<sup>e</sup> euen: after he shalbe cleane.

16 But if he wash them not, nor wash his flesh, then he shal beare his iniquitie.

CHAP. XVIII.

3 The Israelites ought not to follow the manners of the Egyptians and Canaanites. 6 The marriages that are unlawful.

1 And the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

2 Speake vnto the children of Israel, and say vnto them, I am the Lord your God.

3 After the doings of the land of Egypt, wherein ye dwelt, shal ye not do: & after the maner of the land of Canaan, whither I wil bring you, shal ye not do, nether walke in their ordinances,

4 But do after my iudgements, & kepe mine ordinances, to walke therein: I am the Lord your God.

5 Ye shal kepe therefore my statutes, and my iudgements, which if a man do, he shal then liue in them: I am the Lord.

6 None shal come nere to anie of y<sup>e</sup> kindred of his flesh to vncouer her shame: I am the Lord.

7 Thou shalt not vncouer the shame of thy father, nor the shame of thy mother: for she is thy mother, thou shalt not discouer her shame.

8 The shame of thy fathers wife shalt y<sup>e</sup> not discouer: for it is thy fathers shame.

9 Thou shalt not discouer the shame of thy sister the daughter of thy father, or the daughter of thy mother, whether she be borne at home, or borne without: thou shalt not discouer their shame.

10 The shame of thy sonnes daughter, or of thy daughters daughter, thou shalt not, I say, vncouer their shame: for it is thy shame.

11 The shame of thy fathers wiues daughter, begotten of thy father (for she is thy sister) shalt thou not, I say, discouer her shame.

12 Thou shalt not vncouer the shame of thy fathers sister: for she is thy fathers kinswoman.

13 Thou shalt not discouer the shame of thy mothers sister: for she is thy mothers kinswoman.

14 Thou shalt not vncouer the shame of thy fathers brother: that is, thou shalt not go into his wife, for she is thine ante.

18 Also thou shalt not take a wife with her sister, during her life, to vex her, in vncovering her shame vpon her.

19 *Thou shalt not also go vnto a woman to vncover her shame, as long as she is put aparte for her disease.

20 Moreouer, thou shalt not giue thy selfe to thy neighbours wife by carnal copulation, to be defiled with her.

21 *Also thou shalt not giue thy children to offer them vnto <sup>1</sup> Molech, nether shalt thou defile the Name of thy God: for I am the Lord.

22 Thou shalt not lie with the male as one lieth with a woman: for it is abomination.

23 *Thou shalt not also lie with anie beast to be defiled therewith, nether shal anie woman stand before a beast, to lie downe thereto: for it is abomination.

24 Ye shal not defile your selues in anie of these things: for in all these the nacions are defiled, which I wil cast out before you:

25 And the land is defiled: therefore I wil visit the wickednes thereof vpon it, and the land shal vomit out her inhabitants.

26 Ye shal kepe therefore mine ordinances, and my iudgements, and commit none of these abominations, as wel he that is of the same countrey, as the stranger that sojourneth among you.

27 (For all these abominations haue the men of the land done, which were before you, and the land is defiled:

28 And shal not the land spue you out if ye defile it, as it spued out the people y<sup>e</sup> were before you?)

29 For whosoever shal commit anie of these abominations, the persones that do so, shal be cut of from among their people.

30 Therefore shal ye kepe mine ordinances that ye do not anie of the abominable customes, which haue bene done before you, and that ye defile not your selues therein: for I am the Lord your God.

CHAP. XIX.

1 A repetition of sondrie lawes and ordinances.

1 And the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

2 Speake vnto all the Congregation of the children of Israel, and say vnto them, *Ye shal be holy, for I the Lord your God am holy.

3 *Ye shal feare euerie man his mother & his father, and shal kepe my Sabbaths: for I am the Lord your God.

4 *Ye shal not turne vnto idoles, nor make you molten gods: I am the Lord your God.

5 *And when ye shal offer a peace offering vnto the Lord, ye shal offer it freely.

6 *It shal be eaten the day ye offer it, or on the morowe: & that which remaineth vntil the third day, shal be burnt in the fire.

7 For if it be eaten the third day, it shal be vncleane, it shal not be accepted.

8 Therefore he that eateth it, shal beare his iniquitie, because he hath defiled the halowed thing of the Lord, and that person shal be cut of from his people.

9 *When ye reape y<sup>e</sup> haruest of your land, ye shal not reape euerie corner of your field, nether shalt thou gather the gleanings of thy haruest:

10 Thou shalt not gather the grapes of thy vineyarde cleane, nether gather euerie grape of thy vineyarde, but thou shalt leaue them for the poore and for the stranger: I am the Lord your God.

11 *Ye shal not steale, nether deale falsely, nether lie one to another.

12 *Also ye shal not sweare by my Name falsely, nether shalt thou defile the Name of thy God: I am the Lord.

13 *Thou shalt not do thy neighbour wrong, nether robbe him. *The worckemans hire shal not abide with thee vntil the morning.

14 *Thou shalt not curse the deafe, nether put a stumbling blocke before the blinde, but shalt feare thy God: I am the Lord.

15 *Ye shal not do vniustly in iudgement.

*Thou shalt not fauour the persone of the poore, nor honour the persone of the mighty, but y<sup>e</sup> shalt iudge thy neighbour iustly.

But by his kinsema that is nere vnto him: to wit, by his mother, or by his father, or by his sonne, or by his daughter, or by his brother,

Or by his sister<sup>a</sup> maid, that is nere vnto him, which hathe not had a housband: for her<sup>b</sup> he may lament.

He shal not lament for the prince among his people, to pollute him selfe.

c Ebr. he may be defiled. c Only the Priest was permitted to mourne for his next kinned.

Thei shal not make<sup>c</sup> balde partes vpon their head, nor shauē of the lockes of their beard, nor make anie cuttrigs in their flesh.

Chap. 19. 27.

They shal be holy vnto their God, and not pollute the Name of their God: for the sacrifices of y<sup>g</sup> Lord made by fire, and the bread of their God thei do offer: therefore they shal be holy.

Thei shal not take to wife an whore, or one polluted, nether shal thei marie a woman diuorced from her housband: for such<sup>d</sup> one is holy vnto his God.

Thou shalt sanctifie him therefore, for he offereth the bread of thy God: he shal be holy vnto thee: for I the Lord, which sanctifie you, am holy.

¶ If a Priests daughter fall to playe the whore, she polluteth her father: therefore shal she be burnt with fire.

¶ Also y<sup>g</sup> hie Priest among his brethren, (vpon whose head the anointing oyle was powred, and hathe consecrated his hand to put on the garments) shal not vncouer his head, nor rent his clothes, Nether shal he go out of the Sanctuarie, nor pollute the holy place of his God: for the crowne of the anointing oyle of his God is vpon him: I am the Lord.

i For by his anointing he was preferred to the other Priests, & therefore coulde not lament the dead, lest he shuld haue polluted his holy ointing.

Also he shal take a maid vnto his wife:

But a widowe, or a diuorced woman, or a polluted, or an harlot, these shal he not mary, but shal take a maid of his owne people to wife:

¶ And y<sup>g</sup> Lord spake vnto Moyses, saying, Speake vnto Aarōn, and say, Whosoeuer of thy sede in their generacions hathe anie blemishes, shal not preace to offer the bread of his God:

34 But if the Priest be anie with money, he ſhal eat of it, alſo he that is borne in his houſe: they ſhal eat of his meate.

35 If the Priests daughter alſo be married vnto a ſtranger, ſhe may not eat of the holy offerings.

36 Notwithſtanding if the Priests daughter be a widow or diuorced, and haue no child, but is returned vnto her fathers houſe, ſhe ſhal eat of her fathers bread, as ſhe did in her youth: but there ſhal no ſtranger eat thereof.

37 ¶ If a man eat of the holy thing vnwittingly, he ſhal put the ſiſte parte therevnto, and giue it vnto the Priest with the halowed thing.

38 So they ſhal not defile the holy things of the children of Iſraél, which they offer vnto the Lord.

39 Nether cauſe the people to beare the iniquitie of their treſpas, while they eat their holy thing: for I the Lord do halow them.

40 ¶ And the Lord ſpake vnto Moſes, ſaying, 41 Speake vnto Aarón, and to his ſonnes, and to all the children of Iſraél, and ſay vnto them, Whoſoeuer he be of the houſe of Iſraél, or of the ſtrangers in Iſraél, that wil offer his ſacrifice for all their vowes, and for all their fre offerings, w<sup>h</sup> they uſe to offer vnto the Lord for a burnt offering, 42 Ye ſhal offer of your fre minde a male without blemish of the beues, of the ſhepe, or of the goates.

43 Ye ſhal not offer anie thing that hath a blemish: for ſhal not be acceptable for you.

44 * And whoſoeuer bringeth a peace offering vnto the Lord to accompliſh his vow, or for a fre offering, of the beues, or of the ſhepe, his fre offering ſhal be perfect, no blemish ſhal be in it.

45 Blinde, or broken, or maimed, or hauing a wenne, or ſkiruie, or ſkabbed: theſe ſhal ye not offer vnto the Lord nor make an offering by fire of theſe vpon the altar of the Lord.

46 Yet a bullocke, or a ſhepe that hathe anie mebre ſuperfluous, or lackiſg ſuche maielt thou preſent for a fre offering, but for a vowe it ſhal not be accepted.

47 Ye ſhal not offer vnto the Lord that which is bruised or cruſhed, or broken, or cut away, nether ſhal ye make an offering thereof in your land, 48 Nether of the hand of a ſtranger ſhal ye offer the bread of your God of anie of theſe, becauſe their corruption is in them, there is a blemish in the: therefore ſhal they not be accepted for you.

49 ¶ And the Lord ſpake vnto Moſes, ſaying, 50 Whē a bullocke, or a ſhepe, or a goat ſhal be brought forth, it ſhal be euē ſeuē daies vnder his damme: and from the eight day forth, it ſhal be accepted for a ſacrifice made by fire vnto the Lord.

51 As for the cowe or the ewe, ye ſhal not kil her, and her yong both in one day.

CHAP. XXIII.

1 The feasts of the Lord. 3 The Sabbath. 5 The passeouer. 6 The feast of vnleauened bread. 10 The feast of first frutes. 16 Witsentide. 24 The feast of blowing trumpets. 34 The feast of tabernacles.

1 And the Lord spake vnto Moses,
saying,

2 Speake vnto the children of Israel, and say vnto them, The feasts of the Lord which ye shal call the holy <sup>a</sup> assemblies, euen these are my feasts.

3 *Six daies <sup>b</sup>shal worke be done, but in the seuenth day shalbe the Sabbath of rest, an holy <sup>c</sup> conuocation: ye shal do no worke therein, it is the Sabbath of the Lord, in all your dwellings.

4 ¶ These are <sup>d</sup>ye feasts of the Lord, and holy conuocations, which ye shal proclame in their <sup>e</sup> seasons.

5 In the first moneth, and in the fourteenth day of the moneth at euening shalbe the Passeeouer of the Lord.

6 And on the fiftenth day of this moneth shalbe the feast <sup>f</sup>of vnleauened bread vnto the Lord: seuen daies ye shal eat vnleau-ened bread.

7 In the first day ye shal haue an holy conuocation: ye shal do no <sup>g</sup>seruile worke therein.

8 Also ye shal offer sacrifice made by fire vnto the Lord seuen daies, and in the <sup>h</sup>seuenth day shalbe an holy conuocation: ye shal do no seruile worke therein.

9 ¶ And <sup>i</sup>ye Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

10 Speake vnto the children of Israel, and say vnto the, When ye be come into the land, which I giue vnto you, and reape the haruest thereof, the ye shal bring <sup>j</sup>a sheafe of the first frutes of your haruest vnto the Priest,

11 And he shal shake the sheafe before the Lord, that it may be acceptable for you: the morowe after the <sup>k</sup>Sabbath, the Priest shal shake it.

12 And that day when ye shake the sheafe, shal ye prepare a lambe without blemish of a yere olde, for a burnt offering vnto the Lord:

13 And the meat offering thereof shalbe two tenth deales of fine floure mingled with oyle, for a sacrifice made by fire vnto the Lord of swete sauour: and the drinke offring thereof the fourth part <sup>l</sup>of an Hin of wine.

14 And ye shal eat nether bread nor parched corne, nor <sup>m</sup>grene eares vntil the selfe same day that ye haue broght an offring vnto your God: <sup>n</sup>this shal be a lawe for euer in your generacions and in all your dwellings.

15 ¶ Ye shal count also to you from the mo-rowe after the <sup>o</sup>Sabbath, euen from the day that ye shal bring the sheafe of the shake offering, seuen <sup>p</sup>Sabbaths, thei shalbe complete.

16 Vnto the morowe after the seuenth Sabbath shal ye nombre fifty daies: then ye shal bring a newe meat offering vnto the Lord.

17 Ye shal bring out of your habitacions bread for the shake offering: thei shalbe two <sup>q</sup>loaves of two tenth deales of fine
for first frutes vnto the Lord.

18 Also ye shal offer with the bread seuen lambes without blemish of one yere olde, and a yong bullocke and two rams:
thei shal be for a burnt offering vnto the Lord, with their meat offerings and their drinke offerings, for a sacrifice made by fire of a swete sauour vnto the Lord.

19 Then ye shal prepare an he goat for a sin offering, and two lambes of one yere olde for peace offerings.

20 And the Priest shal shake them to and fro with the bread of the first frutes before the Lord, and with the two lambes:
thei shalbe holy to the Lord, for the <sup>s</sup>Priest.

21 So ye shal proclame the same day, that it may be an holy conuocation vnto you:
ye shal do no seruile worke therein: it shal be an ordinance for euer in all your dwellings, throughout your generacions.

22 ¶ And when you reape the haruest of your land, thou shalt not rid cleane <sup>t</sup>ye corners of thy fiede when thou reapest, nether shalt thou make anie aftergathering of thy haruest, but shalt leau<sup>e</sup> them vnto the poore and to the stranger: I am the Lord your God.

23 ¶ And <sup>u</sup>ye Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

24 Speake vnto the children of Israel, and say, In the <sup>v</sup>seuenth moneth, and in the first day of the moneth shal ye <sup>w</sup>haue a Sabbath, for the remembrance of <sup>x</sup>blowing the trumpets, an holy conuocation.

25 Ye shal do no seruile worke therein, but offer sacrifice made by fire vnto the Lord.

26 ¶ And the Lord spake vnto Moses,
saying,

27 The <sup>y</sup>tenth also of this seuenth moneth shalbe a day of recociation: it shal be an holy conuocation vnto you, and ye shal humble your soules, & offer sacrifice made by fire vnto the Lord.

28 And ye shal do no worke that same day: for it is a day of reconciliacion, to make an atonement for you before the Lord your God.

32 This shalbe vnto you a Sabbath of rest, and ye shal hūble your soules: in the ninth day of the moneth at euen, from o euen to euen shal ye celebrate your Sabbath.

33 ¶ And y Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

34 Speake vnto the children of Israel, and say, *In the fiftieth day of this seuēth moneth shalbe for seuen daies the feast of Tabernacles vnto the Lord.

35 In the first day shalbe an holy conuocation; ye shal do no seruile worke therein.

36 Seuen daies ye shal offer * sacrifice made by fire vnto the Lord, and in the eight day shalbe an holy conuocation vnto you, and ye shal offer sacrifices made by fire vnto the Lord: it is the p solemne assemblie, ye shal do no seruile worke therein.

37 These are y feastes of the Lord (which ye shal call holy conuocations) to offer sacrifice made by fire vnto y Lord, as burnt offering, and meat offering, & sacrifice, and drinke offerings, euerie one vpon his day, 38 Beside the Sabbaths of the Lord, & beside your gifts, and beside all your vowes, and beside all your fre offerings, which ye shal giue vnto the Lord.

39 But in the fiftieth day of the seuenth moneth, whē ye haue gathered in the frute of the land, ye shal kepe an holy feast vnto the Lord seuen daies: in the first day shalbe a r Sabbath: likewise in the eight day shalbe a Sabbath.

40 And ye shal take you in the first day the frute of goodlie trees, branches of palme trees, and the boughes of o thicke trees, & willowes of the broke, and shal reioyce before the Lord your God seuen daies.

41 So ye shal kepe this fealt vnto the Lord seuen daies in the yere, by a perpetual ordinance through your generacions: in the seuenth moneth shal you kepe it.

42 Ye shal dwel in bootes seuen daies: all that are Israelites borne, shal dwel in bootes, 43 That your posteritie may knowe that I haue made the children of Israel to dwel in i bootes, when I broght them out of the lād of Egypt: I am y Lord your God.

44 So Moses declared vnto the children of Israel the feastes of the Lord.

CHAP. XXIII.

3 Without the vaile b of the Testimonie, in the Tabernacle of the Congregation, shal Aaron dresse them, bothe euen and morning before the Lord alwaies: this shalbe a lawe for euer through your generacions.

4 He shal dresse the lampes vpon the * pure Candellsticke before the Lord perpetually. Exod. 31, 8.

5 ¶ Also thou shalt take fine floure, & bake twelue * cakes thereof: two c tenth deales shal be in one cake. Exod. 25, 30.

6 And thou shalt set them in two rowes, six in a rowe vpon the pure table before the Lord. c That is, two Omers: read Exod. 16, 16.

7 Thou shalt also put pure incense vpo the rowes, that d in stede of the bread it may be for a remembrance, and an offering made by fire to the Lord. d For it was burnt euerie Sabbath when the bread was taken away.

8 Euerie Sabbath he shal put the in rowes before the Lord euermore, receiving them of the childre of Israel for an euerlasting couenant.

9 * And the bread shalbe Aarons & his sonnes, and thei shal eat it in the holy place: for it is moste holy vnto him of the offerings of the Lord made by fire by a perpetual ordinance. Exod. 29, 33. chap. 8, 31. mat. 12, 1.

10 ¶ And there went e out among the children of Israel the sonne of an Israelitish woman, whose father was an Egyptian: & this sonne of the Israelitish woman, and a man of Israel stroue together in the holte. e Out of his tent.

11 So the Israelitish womans sonne f blasphemed the Name of the Lord, and cursed, and thei broght him vnto Moses (his mothers name also was Shelomith, y daughter of Dibri, of the tribe of Dan) f By swearing, or despising God.

12 And thei * put him in ward, til he tolde them the minde of the Lord. Nomb. 15, 34

13 Then the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

14 Bring the blasphemer without the holte, and let all that heard him, * put their hands vpon his head, and let all the Congregation stone him. Deu. 17, 9. & 17, 7.

15 And thou shalt speake vnto the children of Israel, saying, Whosoever curseth his God, shal g beare his sinne.

16 And he that blasphemeth the Name of g shalbe punished. g Shalbe punished.

Exod. 12. 49.

22 Ye shal haue one lawe: it shalbe aswel for the stranger as for one borne in the countrey: for I am the Lord your God.

h Because the punishment was not yet appointed by the Lawe for the blasphemor, Moses consulted with the Lord, & tolde the people what God commanded.

23 ¶ Then Moses tolde the children of Israël, and thei broght the blasphemor out of the hoste, and stoned him with stones: so the children of Israël did as the Lord had commanded Moses.

CHAP. XXV.

The Sabbath of the seuenth yere. 3 The Iubile in the fiftieth yere. 14 Not to oppress their brethren. 23 The sale, and redeming of lands, houses and persones.

Exod. 23. 10.
"Ebr. shal rest a rest."
a The Iewes begā the count of this yere in September: for then all the frutes were gathered.

1 And the Lord spake vnto Moses in mount Sinai, saying,

2 Speake vnto the children of Israël, and say vnto them, When ye shal come into the land which I giue you, the land shal kepe Sabbath vnto the Lord.

3 Six yeres thou shalt sowe thy field, and six yeres thou shalt cut thy vineyard, and gather the frute thereof.

4 But the seuenth yere shalbe a Sabbath of rest vnto the land: in shalbe the Lords Sabbath: thou shalt nether sowe thy field, nor cut thy vineyarde.

b By reason of the corne y fel out of the eares the yere past.
c Or, which thou hast separated from thy selfe, and consecrated to God for the poore.
d That which y lād bringeth forth in her rest.

5 That which groweth of it owne accorde of thy haruest, thou shalt not reape, nether gather the grapes that thou halte left vnlaboured: for it shalbe a yere of rest vnto the land.

6 And the rest of the lād shalbe meat for you, euen for thee, & for thy seruant, & for thy maid, & for thy hyred seruant, and for the stranger that sojourneth with thee:

7 And for thy cattel, and for the beastes that are in thy land shal all the increase thereof be meat.

"Or, weekes."

8 ¶ Also thou shalt nomber seuen Sabbaths of yeres vnto thee, euen seuen times seuen yere: and the space of the seuen Sabbaths of yeres wil be vnto thee nine and fourty yere.

e In the beginning of the 50. yere was the Iubile, so called, because the ioyful tidings of libertie was publicly proclaimed by the sounde of a cornet.

9 ¶ Then thou shalt cause to blowe the trumpet of the Iubile in the tenth day of the seuenth moneth: euen in the day of the reconciliacion shal ye make the trumpet blowe, through out all your land.

10 And ye shal halowe that yere, euen the fiftieth yere, and proclaime libertie in the land to all the inhabitants thereof: it shal be the Iubile vnto you, and ye shal returne euerie man vnto his possession, and euerie man shal returne vnto his familie.

f Which were in bondage.

g Because the tribes shulde nether haue their possessions, or families diminished nor cōfounded.

11 This fiftieth yere shalbe a yere of Iubile vnto you: ye shal not sowe, nether reape that which groweth of it selfe, nether gather the grapes thereof, that are left vnlaboured.

12 For it is the Iubile, it shal be holy vnto you: ye shal eat of the increase thereof out of the field.

13 In the yere of this Iubile, ye shal returne euerie man vnto his possession.

14 And whē thou sellest ought to thy neighbour, or byest at thy neighbours hand, ye shal not oppresse one another:

h By deceit or otherwise.
i If the Iubile to come be nere, thou shalt sel better cheape: if it be farre of, dearer.

15 But according to the number of yeres after the Iubile thou shalt bye of thy neighbour: also according to the number of the yeres of the reuenues, he shal sel vnto thee.

16 According to the multitude of yeres, thou shalt encrease the price thereof, and according to the fewnes of yeres, thou shalt abate the price of it: for the number of frutes doeth he sel vnto thee.

k And not the full possession of the land.

17 Oppresse not ye therefore anie man his neighbour, but thou shalt feare thy God: for I am the Lord your God.

18 ¶ Wherefore ye shal obey mine ordinances, and kepe my lawes, and do them, and ye shal dwel in the land in safteie.

"Or, boldly without feare."

19 And the land shal giue her frute, and ye shal eat your fil, and dwel therein in safteie.

20 And if ye shal say, What shal we eat the seuenth yere, for we shal not sowe, nor gather in our increase?

21 I wil send my blessing vpon you in the sixt yere, and it shal bring forth the frute for thre yeres.

"Ebr. I will command."

22 And ye shal sowe the eight yere, and eat of the olde frute vntil the ninth yere: vntil the frute thereof come, ye shal eat the olde.

23 ¶ Also the land shal not be solde to be cut of from the familie: for the land is mine, and ye be but strangers and sojourners with me.

l It coulde not be solde for ever, but must returne to the familie in the Iubile.

24 Therefore in all the land of your possession ye shal grante a redemption for the land.

25 ¶ If thy brother be impouerished, & sel his possession, the his redemer shal come, euen his nere kinsman, and bye out that which his brother solde.

m Ye shal sel it on condition that it may be redeemed.

"Or, kinsman."

26 And if he haue no redemer, but hath gotten and founde to bye it out,

"Ebr. his hand hath gotten."

27 Then

<sup>n</sup> Abating the money of the yeres past, and paying for the rest of the yeres to come.

27 Then shal he counte the yeres of his sale, and restore the ouerplus to the man, to whome he solde it: so shal he returne to his possession.

28 But if he can not get sufficient to restore to him, then that which is solde, shal remaine in the had of him that hath bought it, vntil the yere of the Iubile: and in the Iubile it shal come out, and he shal returne vnto his possession.

29 Likewise if a man sel a dwelling house in a walled citie, he may bye it out againe within a whole yere after it is solde: within a yere may he bye it out.

30 But if it be not bought out within the space of a full yere, then the house that is in the walled citie, shalbe stablished, as cut of from the familie, to him that bought it, throughout his generacions: it shal not go out in the Iubile.

31 But the houses of villages, which haue no walles rounde about them, shalbe esteemed as the field of the countrey: they may be bought out againe, and shal go out in the Iubile.

32 Notwithstanding, the cities of the Leuites, and the houses of the cities of their possession, may the Leuites redeme at all seasons.

33 And if a mā purchase of the Leuites, the house that was solde, and the citie of their possession shal go out in the Iubile: for y houses of the cities of y Leuites are their possession among the children of Israel.

34 But the field of the suburbs of their cities, shal not be solde: for it is their perpetual possession.

35 Moreouer if thy brother be impouerished, and fallen in decay with thee, thou shalt releue him, and as a stranger and sojourner, so shal he liue with thee.

36 Thou shalt take no vsurie of him, nor vantage, but thou shalt feare thy God, that thy brother may liue with thee.

37 Thou shalt not giue him thy money to vsurie, nor lend him thy vitayles for increase.

38 I am the Lord your God, which haue brought you out of the land of Egypt, to giue you the land of Canaan, and to be your God.

39 If thy brother also that dwelleth by thee, be impouerished, and be solde vnto thee, thou shalt not compel him to serue as a bonde seruant, 40 But as an hyred seruant, and as a sojourner he shal be with thee: he shal serue thee vnto the yere of the Iubile.

41 The shal he departe from thee, lo he, and his children with him, and shal returne vnto his familie, and vnto the possession of his fathers shal he returne.

42 For they are my seruants, whome I brought out of the land of Egypt: they shal not be solde as bonde men are solde.

43 Thou shalt not rule ouer him cruelly, but shalt feare thy God.

44 Thy bonde seruant also, and thy bonde maid, which thou shalt haue, shalbe of the heathen that are rounde about you: of the shal ye bye seruants and maids.

45 And moreouer of the children of the strangers, that are sojourners among you, of them shal ye bye, and of their families that are with you, which they begate in your land: these shalbe your possession.

46 So ye shal take them as inheritance for your children after you, to possesse them by inheritance, ye shal vse their labours for euer: but ouer your brethren the children of Israel ye shal not rule one ouer another with crueltie.

47 If a sojourner or a stranger dwelling by thee get riches, and thy brother by him be impouerished, and sel him selfe vnto the stranger or sojourner dwelling by thee, or to the stocke of the strangers familie,

48 After that he is solde, he may be bought out: one of his brethren may bye him out, 49 Or his vntle, or his vntles sone may bye him out, or anie of the kinred of his flesh among his familie, may redeme him: either if he can get so muche, he may bye him selfe out.

50 Then he shal reken with his byer from the yere that he was solde to him, vnto the yere of Iubile: and the money of his sale shalbe according to the number of yeres: according to the time of an hyred seruant shal he be with him.

51 If there be manie yeres behinde, according to them he shal giue againe for his deliuerance, of the money that he was bought for.

52 If there remaine but fewe yeres vnto the yere of Iubile, the he shal couete with him, and according to his yeres giue againe for his redemption.

53 He shalbe with him yere by yere as an hyred seruāt: he shal not rule cruelly ouer him in thy sight.

54 And if he be not redeemed thus, he shal go out in the yere of Iubile, he, and his children with him.

 Iob 11, 19. 4 I wil then send you a raine in due season, and the land shal yelde her increase, and the trees of the field shal giue their frute.
 5 And your threshing shal reache vnto the vintage, and the vintage shal reache vnto sowing time, and you shal eat your bread in plenteousnes, and dwel in your land safely.
 6 And I wil send peace in the land, and ye shal slepe and none shal make you afraid: also I wil rid euil beasts out of the land, and the sworde shal not go through your land.
 7 Also ye shal chase your enemies, and they shal fall before you vpon the sworde.
 Ios. 23, 10. 8 * And siue of you shal chase an hundreth, and an hundreth of you shal put ten thousand to flight, and your enemies shal fall before you vpon the sworde.
 9 For I wil haue respect vnto you, & make you encrease, & multiplie you, and establish my couenant with you.
 10 Ye shal eat also olde store, and cary out olde because of the newe.
 11 * And I wil set my Tabernacle among you, and my soule shal not lothe you.
 12 Also I wil walke among you, and I wil be your God, and ye shal be my people.
 13 I am the Lord your God which haue brought you out of the land of Egypt, that ye shulde not be their bondmen, and I haue broken the bondes of your yoke, and made you go vpright.
 14 ¶ But if ye wil not obey me, nor do all these commandements, 15 And if ye shal despise mine ordinances, ether if your soule abhorre my Lawes, so that ye wil not do all my commandements, but breake my couenant,
 16 Then wil I also do this vnto you, I wil appoint ouer you fearfulness, a consumption, and the burning ague to consume the eiēs, and make the heart heauie, and you shal sowe your sēde in vaine: for your enemies shal eat it:
 17 And I wil set my face against you, and ye shal fall before your enemies, and they that hate you, shal reigne ouer you, and ye shal flee when none pursueth you.
 18 And if ye wil not for these things obey me, then wil I punish you seven times more, according to your sinnes, 19 And I wil breake the pride of your power, and I wil make your heauen as yre, & your earth as brasle:
 20 And your strength shal be spent in vaine: nether shal your land giue her increase, nether shal the trees of the land giue their frute.

 21 ¶ And if ye walke stubbornly against me, and wil not obey me, I wil then bring seven times more plagues vpon you, according to your sinnes.
 22 I wil also send wilde beastes vpon you, which shal spoile you, and destroy your cattel, and make you fewe in number: so your hye wayes shal be desolate.
 23 Yet if by these ye wil not be reformed by me, but walke stubbornly against me, 24 Then wil I also walke stubbornly against you, and I wil smite you yet seven times for your sinnes:
 25 And I wil send a sworde vpon you, that shal auenge my quarel of my couenant: and when ye are gathered in your cities, I wil send pestilence among you, and ye shal be deliuered into the hand of the enemy.
 26 When I shal breake the staffe of your bread, then ten womē shal bake your bread in one oven, and they shal deliuer your bread againe by weight, and ye shal eat, but not be satisfied.
 27 Yet if ye wil not for this obey me, but walke against me stubbornly, 28 Then wil I walke stubbornly in mine anger against you, & I wil also chastice you seven times more according to your sinnes.
 29 And ye shal eat the flesh of your sonnes, and the flesh of your daughters shal ye deuoure.
 30 I wil also destroye your hie places, and cut away your images, and cast your carkeises vpon the bodies of your idoles, & my soule shal abhorre you.
 31 And I wil make your cities desolate, and bring your Sanctuarie vnto nought, and wil not smel the sauour of your swete odoures.
 32 I wil also bring the land vnto a wilderness, & your enemies, which dwel therein, shal be astonished thereat.
 33 Also I wil scatter you among the heathē, and wil drawe out a sworde after you, and your land shal be waste, and your cities shal be desolate.
 34 Then shal the lād enioye her Sabbaths, as long as it lieth voyde, and ye shal be in your enemies land: then shal the land rest, and enioye her Sabbaths.
 35 All the daies that it lieth voyde, it shal rest, because it did not rest in your Sabbaths, when ye dwelt vpon it.
 36 And vpon them that are left of you, I wil send euen a faintenes into their hearts in the land of their enemies, & the founde of a lease shaken shal chase them, and they shal flee as fleeing from a sworde, & they shal fall, no man pursuing them.

CHAP. XXVII.

2 Of diuers vowes, and the redemption of the same.
28 A thing separate from the vse of man can not be solde, nor redeemed, but remaineth to the Lord.

1 Moreouer the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

2 Speake vnto y<sup>e</sup> childre of Israel, & say vnto the, If anie mā shal make a<sup>a</sup> vowe of a persone vnto y<sup>e</sup> Lord, by<sup>b</sup> thy estimaciō,

3 Then thy estimacion shal be thus: a male frō twenty yere olde vnto sixty yere olde shal be by thy estimacion euē fifty<sup>c</sup> shekels of siluer, after the shekel of the Sāctuarie.

4 But if it be a female, then thy valuacion shal be thirty shekels.

5 And from five yere olde to twenty yere olde thy valuacion shal be for the male twety shekels, & for y<sup>e</sup> female ten shekels.

6 But from a<sup>d</sup> moneth olde vnto five yere olde, thy price of the male shal be five shekels of siluer, and thy price of the female, thre shekels of siluer.

7 And from sixty yere olde and aboue, if he be a male, then thy price shal be fiftene shekels, and for the female ten shekels.

8 But if he be poorer<sup>e</sup> then thou hast esteemed him, the shal he present him selfe before the Priest, & the Priest shal value him, according to the abilitie of him y<sup>e</sup> vowed, so shal the Priest value him.

9 And if it be a<sup>f</sup> beast, whereof men bring an offering vnto the Lord, all that one giueth of such vnto the Lord, shal be holy.

10 He shal not alter it nor chāge it, a good for a bad, nor a bad for a good: and if he change beast for beast, then bothe this and y<sup>e</sup>, which was chāged for it, shal be<sup>g</sup> holy.

11 And if it be anie vnclean beast, of w<sup>h</sup> me do not offer a sacrifice vnto y<sup>e</sup> Lord, he shal then present the beast before the Priest.

12 And the Priest shal value it, whether it be good or bad: and as thou valuest it, which art the Priest, so shal it be.

13 But if he wil bie it againe, then he shal giue the fift parte of it more, aboue thy valuacion.

14 ¶ Also whē a man shal dedicate his house to be holy vnto y<sup>e</sup> Lord, the the Priest shal value it, whether it be good or bad, & as y<sup>e</sup> Priest shal prise it, so shal the value be.

15 But if he that sanctified it, wil redeme his house, then he shal giue thereto the fift parte of money more then thy estimacion, and it shal be his.

16 If also a man dedicate to the Lord anie groude of his inheritance, then shalt thou esteeme it according to the<sup>h</sup> sede thereof: an<sup>i</sup> Homer of barlie sede shal be at fiftie shekels of siluer.

17 If he dedicate his field immediately frō y<sup>e</sup> yere of Iubile, it shal be worthe as thou doest esteeme it.

18 But if he dedicate his field after y<sup>e</sup> Iubile, the the Priest shal rekē him the money according to the yeres that remaine vnto the yere of Iubile, and it shal be abated by thy estimacion.

19 And if he that dedicateth it, wil redeme the field, then he shal put the fift parte of the price, that thou esteemedst it at, thereunto, and it shal remaine his.

20 And if he wil not redeme the field, but the Priest<sup>k</sup> sel the field to another man, it shal be redeemed nomore.

21 But the field shal be holie to the Lord, when it goeth out in the Iubile, as a field separate from commune vses: the possession thereof shal be the Priestes.

22 If a man also dedicate vnto the Lord a field which he hath bought, which is not of the grounde of his inheritance,

THE ARGUMENT.

FOrasmuche as God hathe appointed that his Church in this worlde shalbe vnder the crosse, bothe because they shoulde learne not to put their trust in worldly things, and also fyle his comforte, when all other helpe faikth: he did not straight way bring his people, after their departure out of Egypt, into the land which he promised them: but led them to and fro for the space of fourtie yeres, and kept them in continual exercises before they enioyed it, to trye their faith, and to teache the to forget the worlde and to depend on him. Which tryal did greatly profit to discern the wisked and the hypocrites from the faithfull and true seruants of God, who serued him with pure heart, where as the other preferring their carnal affections to Gods glorie, and making religion to serue their purpose, murmured when they lacked to content their lustes, and despised them whome God had appointed rulers over them. By reason whereof they prouoked Gods terrible iudge-ments against them, and are set forth as a moste notable example for all ages to beware how they abuse Gods worde, preferre their owne lustes to his wil, or despise his ministers. Notwithstanding God is euer true in his promes, and gouerneth his, by his holy Spirit, that ether they fall not to si-che inconueniences, or els returne to him quickly by true repentance: and therefore he continueth his graces toward them, he giueth them ordinances and instructions, as wel for religion as out ward politic: he preserveth them against all craft and conspiracie, and giueth them manifold victories against their enemies. And to auoyd all controuersies that might arise, he taketh away the occasiō, by diuiding among all the tribes, bothe the land, which they had wonne, & that also which he had promised, as seemed best to his godlie wisdom.

Naphtali.

42 ¶ Of the childre of Naphtali, by their generacions, by their families, & by the houses of their fathers according to the number of their names, from twentie yere olde and aboue, all that went to the warre.

43 The number of them also of the tribe of Naphtali, was three and fiftie thousand, & foure hundred.

Or, ful counte.

44 These are the summes which Moses, & Aaron nombred, and the Princes of Israel: the twelue men, which were euerie one for the house of their fathers.

45 So this was all the summe of the sonnes of Israel, by the houses of their fathers, from twentie yere olde and aboue, all that wet to the warre in Israel, And all they were in nōber six hūdreth & thre thousand, five hundred and fiftie.

47 But the Leuites, after the tribes of their fathers were not nombred among them, For the Lord had spoken vnto Moses, and said,

49 Onely thou shalt not number the tribe of Leui, nether take the summe of them among the children of Israel:

50 But thou shalt appoint the Leuites ouer the Tabernacle of the Testimonie, and ouer all the instruments thereof, and ouer all things that belong to it: they shal beare the Tabernacle, and all the instruments thereof, and shal minister in it, and shal dwell round about the Tabernacle.

g Which were warriors, but were appointed to the vie of the Tabernacle.

Elc camp,

THE FIGURE OF THE TABERNACLE ERECTED, AND OF THE TENTES PITCHED ROVNDE ABOUT IT.

A B The length of the court, of an hundred cubites on the South side, which in this figure is called midi: in the space were twentie pillars of five cubites high, to which were tied curtains, to shut and close up the court: the North side called Septentrion was all alike.

C D The West side called Occident, was fiftie cubites broad, wherein were ten pillars of like height with the other, whereunto were fastened the curtains to close that side. The East side also called Orient was fiftie cubites broad. A B.

Thus the court was fiftie cubites longer then it was broad. They entered into the court on the East side and before the gate was an hanging of twentie cubites long. F G fastened on foure pillars, and on the sides thereof to make it close, were curtains of fiftie cubites long. E F & G H, which on euerie side were fastened on thre pillars, as this figure sufficiently declareth.

51 And when the Tabernacle goeth forth, the Leuites shall take it downe: and when the Tabernacle is to be pitched, the Leuites shall set it vp: for the <sup>h</sup> stranger that cometh nere, shall be slaine.

52 Also the children of Israël shall pitch their tents, euery man in his campe, and euery man vnder his stāderd throughout their armies.

53 But the Leuites shall pitch round about the Tabernacle of the Testimonie, lest vengeance <sup>i</sup> come vpon the Congregation of the children of Israël, & the Leuites shall take the charge of the Tabernacle of the Testimonie.

<sup>i</sup> By not having due regard to the Tabernacle of the Lord.

54 So the children of Israël did according to all that the Lord had commanded Moses: so did they.

CHAP. II.

2 The ordre of the tents, and the names of the captains of the Israelites.

1 And the Lord spake vnto Moses, & to Aaron, saying,

<sup>a</sup> In the twelve tribes were foure principal stāders, so that euery three tribes had their stāderd.

2 Euery man of the childre of Israël shall campe by his stāderd, and vnder the ensigne of their fathers house: farre of about the Tabernacle of the Congregation shall they pitch.

3 On the Eastside toward the rising of the sunne, shall they of the stāderd of the hoste of Iudā pitch according to their armies: & Nahshon the sonne of Amminadab shall be captaine of the sonnes of Iudā.

4 And his hoste and the number of them were seuen and foure thousand and six hundred.

5 Next vnto him shall they of the tribe <sup>b</sup> of Issachār pitch, and Nethaneel the sonne of Zuar shall be the captaine of the sonnes of Issachār:

6 And his hoste, and the number thereof were foure and fiftie thousand, and foure hundred.

7 Then the tribe of Zebulun, and Eliab the sonne of Helon, captaine ouer the sonnes of Zebulun:

8 And his hoste, and the number thereof seuen and fiftie thousand and foure hundred:

9 The whole number of the <sup>c</sup> hoste of Iudā are an hundred foure score and six thousand, & foure hundred according to their armies: they shall first set forth.

10 ¶ On the Southside shall be the stāderd of the hoste <sup>d</sup> of Reuben according to their armies, & the captaine ouer the sonnes of Reuben shall be Elizur the sonne of Shedeur.

11 And his hoste, and the number thereof six and fourtie thousand & fife hundred.

12 And by him shall the tribe of Simeon pitch, and the captaine ouer the sonnes of Simeon shall be Shelumiel the sonne of Zurishaddai:

13 And his hoste, and the number of them, nine and fiftie thousand & three hundred.

14 And the tribe of Gad, and the captaine ouer the sonnes of Gad shall be Eliasaph the sonne of Deuel:

<sup>Or, Reuēl.</sup>

15 And his hoste and the number of them were fife and fourtie thousand, six hundred and fiftie.

16 All the number of the campe of Reuben were an hundred and one and fiftie thousand, & foure hundred and fiftie according to their armies, and they shall set forth in the seconde place.

17 ¶ Then the Tabernacle of the Congregation shall go with the hoste of <sup>e</sup> Leuites, in the <sup>e</sup> middes of the campe as they haue pitched, so shall they go forward, euery man in his ordre according to their stāders.

<sup>e</sup> Because it might be in equal distance from each one, and all indifferently haue recours therunto.

18 ¶ The stāderd of the cape of Ephraim shall be toward the West accordig to their armies: and the captaine ouer the sonnes of Ephraim shall be Elishama the sonne of Ammihud:

19 And his hoste and the number of them were fourtie thousand and fife hundred.

20 And by him shall be the tribe of Manasseh, and the captaine ouer the sonnes of Manasseh shall be Gamliel the sonne of Pedahzur:

21 And his hoste and the number of them were two & thirtie thousand & two hundred.

22 And the tribe of Benjamin, & the captaine ouer the sonnes of Benjamin shall be Abidan the sonne of Gideon:

23 And his hoste, and the number of them were fife and thirtie thousand and foure hundred.

24 All the number of the campe of Ephraim were an hundred and eight thousand and one hundred according to their armies, and they shall go in the third place.

25 ¶ The stāderd of the hoste of <sup>g</sup> Dan shall be toward the North according to their armies: and the captaine ouer the children of Dan shall be Ahiezer the sonne of Ammishaddai:

26 And his hoste and the number of them were two & thre score thousand and seuen hundred.

27 And by him shall <sup>h</sup> the tribe of Asher pitch, and the captaine ouer the sonnes of Asher shall be Pagiél the sonne of Ocran.

28 And his hoste and the number of them were one and fourtie thousand and fife hundred:

29 ¶ The tribe of Naphtali, & the captaine ouer the children of Naphtali shall be Ahirah the sonne of Enan:

30 And his hoste & the number of them were thre and fiftie thousand and foure hundreth.

31 All the number of the hoste of Dan was an hundreth and seuen and fiftie thousand and six hundreth: thei shal go hinmoste with their standers.

32 ¶ These are the <sup>h</sup> summes of the childre of Israél by the houses of their fathers, all the number of the hoste, according to their armies, six hundreth and thre thousand, five hundreth and fiftie.

33 But the Leuites were not nombred amög the children of Israél, as the Lord had commanded Mosés.

34 And the children of Israél did according to all that the Lord had commanded Mosés: so thei pitched according to their standers, and so thei iourneyed euerie one with his families, according to the houses of their fathers.

<sup>i</sup> For vnder euerie one of the foure principal standers were diuers signes to kepe euerie bande in ordre.

CHAP. III.

6 The charge and office of the Leuites. 12. 35. Why the Lord separated the Leuites for him self. 16 Their number, families and captaines. 40 The firstborne of Israél is redemed by the Leuites. 47 The ouerplus is redemed by money.

1 These also were the <sup>a</sup> generacions of Aarón & Mosés, in the day that the Lord spake with Mosés in mount Sinái.

Exod. 6. 23.

2 So these are the names of the sonnes of Aarón, * Nadáb the firstborne, & Abihú, Eleazár, and Ithamar.

Exod. 27. 3.

3 These are the names of the sonnes of Aarón the anointed Priests, whome Mosés did * consecrate to minister in the Priests office.

Leui. 10. 1. chap. 26. 61.

4 * And Nadáb and Abihú dyed <sup>b</sup> before the Lord, when thei offred * strange fire before the Lord in the wilderness of Sinái, and had no children: but Eleazár and Ithamar serued in the Priests office in the sight of Aarón their father.

5 Thē the Lord spake vnto Mosés, saying, Bring the tribe of Leui, and <sup>d</sup> set them before Aarón the Priest that thei may serue him,

7 And take the charge with him, euen the charge of the whole Congregation <sup>e</sup> before the Tabernacle of the Congregation to do the seruice of the Tabernacle.

<sup>e</sup> Which appertained to the executig of the Priests commandement, to the ouer sight of the people, & to the seruice of the Tabernacle.

8 Thei shal also kepe all the instrumēt of the Tabernacle of the Congregation, & haue the charge of the children of Israél to do the seruice of the Tabernacle.

10 And thou shalt appoint Aarón and his sonnes to execute their Priests office: and the <sup>g</sup> stranger that commeth nere, shal be slaine.

¶ Also the Lord spake vnto Mosés, saying,

12 Beholde, I haue euētaken <sup>h</sup> Leuites frō among the children of Israél for all the firstborne, that openeth the mar:rice amög the children of Israél, & the Leuites shalbe mine, 13 Because all the firstborne are mine: for the same day, that I smote all the firstborne in the land of Egypt, * I sanctified vnto me all the firstborne in Israél, bothe man and beast: mine thei shalbe: I am the Lord.

Exod. 13. 1. & 34. 19. leui. 27. 26. chap. 8. 16. luk. 2. 23.

14 ¶ Moreouer the Lord spake vnto Mosés in the wilderness of Sinái, saying, 15 Number the children of Leui after the houses of their fathers, in their families: euerie male from a moneth olde & aboue shalt thou number.

16 * Then Mosés nombred them according to the worde of the Lord, as he was commanded.

Exod. 6. 17. chap. 20. 57. 1. Chron. 9. 11. & 23. 6.

17 And these were the sonnes of Leui by their names, * Gershón, and Koháth, and Merarí.

Gen. 46. 11.

18 Also these are the names of the sonnes of Gershón by their families: Libnì and Shimeí.

19 The sonnes also of Koháth by their families: Amráam, and Izehár, Hebrón, and Vzziel.

20 And the sonnes of Merarí by their families: Mahli and Mushi. These are the families of Leui, according to the houses of their fathers.

21 Of Gershón came the familie of the Libnites & the familie of the Shimeites: these are the families of the Gershonites.

22 The summe whereof ( <sup>h</sup> after the nōber of all the males from a moneth olde and aboue ) was counted seuen thousand and five hundreth.

23 ¶ The families of the Gershonites shal pitch behinde <sup>i</sup> Tabernacle Westwarde.

24 The captaine and <sup>i</sup> ancient of the house of the Gershonites shalbe Eliasaph the sonne of Laél.

25 And the charge of the sonnes of Gershón in the Tabernacle of the Congregation shalbe the <sup>i</sup> Tabernacle, & the pavilion, the covering thereof, & the vaile of the dore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation,

26 And the hanging of the courte, & the vaile of the dore of the courte, which is nere the Tabernacle, and nere the Altar round about, and the cordes of it for all the seruice thereof.

27 ¶ And o. Koháth came the familie of the Amramites, & the familie of the Izebarites, and the familie of the Hebronites, and the familie of the Vzzielites: these are the families of the Kohathites.

28 The number of all the males from a moneth olde & aboue was eight thousand and and six hundredth, hauing the <sup>k</sup> charge of <sup>y</sup> Sanctuarie.

29 The families of the sonnes of Kohath shal pitch on the Southside of the Tabernacle.

30 The captaine and ancient of the house, and families of the Kohathites shalbe Elizaphan the sonne of Vzziel:

31 And their charge shalbe the <sup>l</sup> Arke, and the table, and the candellsticke, and the altars, and the instruments of the Sanctuarie that they minister with, and the vaile, and all that serueth thereto.

32 And Eleazar the sonne of Aaron the Priest shalbe <sup>m</sup> chief captaine of the Leuites, hauing the ouersight of them that haue the charge of the Sanctuarie.

33 ¶ Of Merari came the familie of the Mahlites, and the familie of the Mushites: these are the families of Merari.

34 And the summe of them, according to the n<sup>o</sup>ber of all the males, from a moneth olde and aboue was six thousand and two hundredth.

35 The captaine and the anci<sup>e</sup>t of the house of the families of Merari shalbe Zuriel the sonne of Abihail: thei shal pitch on the Northside of the Tabernacle.

37 With the pillers of the court round about, with their sockets, and their pins & their cordes.

38 ¶ Also on the forefront of the Tabernacle, toward the East, before the Tabernacle, <sup>o</sup> say, of the Cōgregation Eastward shal Moses and Aaron and his sonnes pitch, hauing the charge of the Sanctuarie, <sup>o</sup> and the charge of the children of Israel: but the stranger that commeth nere, shalbe slaine.

40 ¶ And the Lord said vnto Moses, Number all the first borne that are males among the children of Israel, from a moneth olde and aboue, and take the number of their names.

<sup>p</sup> So that <sup>o</sup> now the Leuites shulde satisfie vnto the Lord for the first borne of Israel, for the 273, which were mo then the Leuites, for whome they payed money.

41 And thou shalt take the Leuites to me for all the first borne of the childr<sup>e</sup> of Israel (I am the Lord) and the cattel of the Leuites for all the first borne of the cattel of the children of Israel.

42 And Moses nombred, as the Lord commanded him, all the first borne of the children of Israel.

43 And all <sup>y</sup> first borne males rehearsed by name (from a moneth olde and aboue, according to their n<sup>o</sup>ber were two & twentie thousand, two hundredth seuentie & thre.

44 ¶ And the Lord spake vnto Moses, sayig,

45 Take the Leuites for all the first borne of the children of Israel, and the cattel of the Leuites for their cattel, & the Leuites shalbe mine, (I am the Lord)

46 And for the redeming of the two hundredth seuentie and thre, which are mo the Leuites of the first borne of the children of Israel)

47 Thou shalt also take fife shekels for euerie persone: after the weight of the Sanctuarie shalt thou take it: <sup>q</sup> the shekel containeth twentie gerahs.

Exod. 30. 13.

Leu. 27. 25.

chap. 18. 16.

Exod. 45. 12.

48 And <sup>y</sup> shalt giue the money, wherewith the odde number of them is redemed, vnto Aaron and to his sonnes.

49 Thus Moses toke the redempcion of them that were redemed, being mo then the Leuites:

50 Of the <sup>q</sup> firstborne of the children of Israel toke he the money: euen a thousand thre hundredth thre score and fife shekels after the shekel of the Sanctuarie.

<sup>q</sup> Of the two hundredth seuentie & thre, & were more then the Leuites.

51 And Moses gaue the money of the that were redemed, vnto Aaron & to his sonnes according to the worde of the Lord, as the Lord had commanded Moses.

CHAP. IIII.

46 The n<sup>o</sup>ber of the thre families of Kohath, Gershon, and Merari.

¶ And the Lord spake vnto Moses, and to Aaron, saying,

Take the summe of the sonnes of Kohath fro among the sonnes of Leui, after their families, & houses of their fathers, Fro <sup>a</sup> thirtie yere olde & aboue euen vntil fiftie yere olde, all that entre into the assemblie to do the worke in the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

<sup>a</sup> The Leuites were nombred after thre sorts: first at a moneth olde whe thei were consecrate to the Lord, next at 25 yere olde whe they were apointed to serue in <sup>y</sup> Tabernacle, & at 30 yere olde to beare the burthenes of the Tabernacle.

4 This shalbe the office of the sonnes of Kohath in the Tabernacle of the Cōgregation about the Holiest of all.

5 ¶ When the hoste remoueth, then Aaron & his sonnes shal come & take downe <sup>b</sup> the couering vaile, & shal couer the Arke of the Testimonie therewith.

6 And they shal put thereon a couering of badgers skins, and shal spread vpon it a cloth altogether of blew filke, and put to <sup>c</sup> the barres thereof:

<sup>c</sup> That is, put the vpon their shulders to carrie it: for the barres of the Arke colde neuer be remoued, Exod. 25. 15.

Exod. 25. 30.

8 And they shal spread vpon them a couering of skarlet, and couer the same with a couering of badgers skins, and put to the barres thereof.

Exod. 25. 17.
Exod. 25. 28.
9 Then they shal take a cloth of blew silk, and couer the * candelsticke of light with his lampes and his snuffers, * and his snoffedishes, and all the oyle vessels thereof, which they occupie about it.

10 So they shal put it, and all the instrumēt thereof in a couering of badgers skins, and put it vpon the * barres.

e The Ebrewe worde signifieth an instrumēt made of two stauces or barres
f Which was to burne incense
Exod. 25. 1.
11 Also vpon the golden altar they shal spreade a cloth of blew silk, and couer it with a couering of badgers skins, & put to the barres thereof.

12 And they shal take all the instruments of the ministerie wherewith they minister in the Sanctuarie, and put them in a cloth of blew silk, and couer them with a couering of badgers skins, & put them on the barres.

g Of the burnt offering.
13 Also they shal take away the ashes from the altar, & spread a purple cloth vpon it,

14 And shal put vpon it all the instruments thereof, which they occupie about it: the censers, the fleshhokes & the besomes, and the basens, euen all the instruments of the altar: & they shal spread vpon it a couering of badgers skins, & put to the barres of it.

h That is, in folding vp the things of the Sanctuarie, as the Arke, &c. i Before it be couered.
15 And whē Aarōn & his sonnes haue made an end of couering the Sanctuarie, and all the instruments of the Sanctuarie, at the remouing of the hoste, afterwarde the sonnes of Kohāth shal come to beare it, but they shal not touche anie holy thing lest they dye. This is the charge of the sonnes of Kohāth in the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

Exod. 30. 34. k Which was offered at morning and evening.
Exod. 30. 23.
16 ¶ And to the office of Eleazār the sonne of Aarōn the Priest perteineth the oyle for the light, and the * swete incense and the * dailie meat offering, and the * anointing oyle, with the ouersight of all the Tabernacle, and of all that therein is, to be in the Sāctuarie & in all the instrumēt thereof.

17 ¶ And the Lord spake vnto Moyses and to Aarōn, saying,

l Committing by your negligence that the holy things be not wel wrapped, and so they by touching thereof perish.
m Shewing what part euerie man shal beare.
18 Ye shal not cut of the tribe of y families of y Kohathites from among y Leuites:

19 But thus do vnto them, that they may liue & not dye, when they come nere to the moste holy things: let Aarōn and his sonnes come and appoint<sup>m</sup> them, euerie one to his office, and to his charge.

20 But let them not go in, to se when the Sanctuarie is folded vp, lest they dye.

21 ¶ And y Lord spake vnto Moyses, saying,

22 Take also the summe of the sonnes of Gershōn, euerie one by y houses of their fathers throughout their families:

a Which were receiued into the companie of them that ministered in the Tabernacle of the Congregation.
23 From thirtie yere olde and aboue, vntil fiftie yere olde shalt thou nōbre them, all that<sup>n</sup> entre into y assemblie for to do seruice in y Tabernacle of y Congregation.

24 This shalbe the seruice of the families of the Gershonites, to serue and to beare.

25 They shal beare y curtaines of the Tabernacle, & the Tabernacle of the Cōgregation, his couering, and the couering of badgers skins, that is on hie vpon it, and y vaile of the<sup>o</sup> dore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation:

o Which vaile hinged betwene y Sāctuarie and the court.

26 The curtaines also of the court, and the vaile of the entring in of the gate of the court, p which is nere the Tabernacle & nere the altar round about, with their cordes, and all the instrumentes for their seruice, and all that is made for them: so shal they serue.

p Which couer copassed bothe the Tabernacle of the Cōgregation & y altar of burnt offering.

27 At the commandement of Aarōn and his sonnes shal all the seruice of the sonnes of y Gershonites be done, in all their charges and in all their seruice, & ye shal appoint them to kepe all their charges.

28 This is the seruice of the families of y sonnes of the Gershonites in the Tabernacle of the Congregation, & their watch shalbe vnder the<sup>q</sup> hand of Ithamar the sonne of Aarōn the Priest.

q Vnder the charge and ouersight.

29 ¶ Thou shalt number the sonnes of Merari by their families, & by the houses of their fathers:

30 From thirtie yere olde & aboue, euen vnto fiftie yere olde shalt thou nōbre them, all that entre into the assemblie, to do the seruice of the Tabernacle of the Cōgregation.

31 And this is their office & charge according to all their seruice in the Tabernacle of the Congregation: the * boardes of the Tabernacle with the barres thereof, and his pillars, and his sockets.

Exod. 26. 18.

32 And the pillars round about the court, with their sockets and their pins, and their cordes, w<sup>h</sup> all their instrumentes, euen for all their seruice, & by<sup>r</sup> name ye shal reke the instrumentes of their office & charge.

r Ye shal make an inuention of all the things, w<sup>h</sup> ye comit to their charge.

33 This is the seruice of the families of the sonnes of Merari, according to all their seruice in the Tabernacle of the Congregation vnder the hād of Ithamar the sonne of Aarōn the Priest.

34 ¶ Then Moyses and Aarōn and the princes of the Congregation nombred the sonnes of y Kohathites, by their families and by the houses of their fathers, 35 Fro thirtie yere olde & aboue, euen vnto fiftie yere olde, all that entre into the assemblie for the seruice of the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

36 So the<sup>n</sup> numbers of them throughout their families were two thousand, seuen hundred and fiftie.

n Eke the number of them.

37 These are the numbers of the families of the Kohathites, all that serue in the Tabernacle of the Congregation, which Moyses and Aarōn did number according to the commandemēt of the Lord by the<sup>f</sup> hand of Moyses.

f God appointing Moyses to be y minister & exerceuter thereof.

38 Also the numbers of the sonnes of Gershon throughout their families and houses of their fathers, 39 From thirtie yere olde and vpward, euen vnto fiftie yere olde: all that entre into the assemblie for the seruice of the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

40 So the numbers of them by their families, & by the houses of their fathers were two thousand six hundred & thirtie.

41 These are the nōbers of y families of y sōnes of Gershon: of all that did seruice in the Tabernacle of the Congregation, whome Moses & Aaron did nōber according to the commandement of the Lord.

42 ¶ The nōbers also of the families of the sonnes of Merari by their families, & by the houses of their fathers, 43 Frō thirtie yere olde & vpward, eue vnto fiftie yere olde: all that entre into y assemblie for the seruice of the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

44 So the numbers of them by their families were thre thousand, & two hundred.

45 These are y summes of y families of the sonnes of Merari, whome Moses & Aaron nōbred according to the commandemēt of the Lord, by the hand of Moses.

46 So all the numbers of the Leuites, which Moses, & Aaron, & the princes of Israel nombred, by their families & by the houses of their fathers, 47 Frō thirtie yere olde & vpward, euen to fiftie yere olde, euerie one that came to do his duetie, office, seruice and charge in the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

48 So the numbers of them were eight thousand five hundred and foure score.

49 According to the cōmandement of y Lord by y hād of Moses did Aaron nōber the, euerie one according to his seruice, & according to his charge. Thus were thei of that tribe nōbred, as the Lord commāded x Moses.

CHAP. V.

2 The Leprous & the polluted shalbe cast forth. 6 The purging of sinne. 15 The tryal of the suspect wife.

1 And y Lord spake vnto Moses, sayig, 2 Commande the children of Israel y they put out of the hoste euerie leper, and euerie one y hathe * an issue, & whosoever is defiled by * the dead.

3 Bothe male and female shal ye put out: out of y hoste shal ye put the, that they defile not their * tētes amōg whome I dwel.

4 And the children of Israel did so, and put the out of y hoste, euen as y Lord had cōmanded Moses, so did y childre of Israel.

5 ¶ And y Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

6 Speake vnto the childre of Israel, * Whe a man or woman shal commit anie sinne b that men commit, and trāsgresse against the Lord, when that persone shal trespas,

7 Then they shal cōfesse their sinne which thei haue done, and shal restore the damage thereof * with his principal, and put the fift parte of it more thereto, and shal giue it vnto him, against whome he hathe trespassed.

8 But if the * man haue no kinsman, to whome he shulde restore the damage, the damage shalbe restored to the Lord for the Priests vse, besides the ram of the atonement, whereby he shal make atonement for him.

2 The lawe of the conſecration of the Nazarites. 24 The manner to bleſſe the people.

1 And the Lord ſpake vnto Moſes, ſaying,

2 Speake vnto the children of Iſrael, and ſay vnto them, When a man or a woman doeth ſeparate theſe ſelues to vowe a vowe of a Nazarite to ſeparate him ſelfe vnto the Lord,

3 He ſhal abſteine from wine & ſtrong drinke, and ſhal drinke no ſowre wine nor ſowre drinke, nor ſhal drinke anie licour of grapes, nether ſhal eat freſh grapes nor dried.

4 As long as his abſtinance endureth, ſhal he eat nothing y is made of the wine of y vine, nether the kernels, nor the huſke.

5 While he is ſeparate by his vowe, the razor ſhal not come vpon his head, vntil the dayes be out, in the which he ſeparateth him ſelfe vnto the Lord, he ſhal be holie, and ſhal let the lockes of the heere of his head growe.

6 During the time that he ſeparateth him ſelfe vnto the Lord, he ſhal come at no dead body:

7 He ſhal not make him ſelfe vncleane at the death of his father, or mother, brother, or ſiſter: for the conſecration of his God is vpon his head.

8 All the dayes of his ſeparacion he ſhal be holy to the Lord.

9 And if anie dye ſodely by him, or he be ware, then the head of his conſecration ſhal be defiled, and he ſhal ſhaue his head in the day of his clenſing: in the ſeuenth day he ſhal ſhaue it.

10 And in the eight day he ſhal bring two turtles, or two yong pigeons to the Priſt, at the dore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

11 Then the Priſt ſhal prepare the one for a ſin offering, and the other for a burnt offering, & ſhal make an atonement for him, becauſe he ſinned by the dead: ſo ſhal he halowe his head the ſame day, 12 And he ſhal conſecrate vnto the Lord the daies of his ſeparacion, and ſhal bring a lambe of a yere olde for a treſpaſs offering, and the firſt 8 daies ſhal be voyde: for his conſecration was defiled.

13 ¶ This then is the lawe of the Nazarite: When the time of his conſecration is out, he ſhal come to the dore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation,

14 And he ſhal bring his offering vnto the Lord, an he lambe of a yere olde without blemiſh for a burnt offering, and a ſhe labe of a yere olde without blemiſh for a ſin offering, and a ram without blemiſh for peace offerings,

CHAP. VII.

3 The heades or princes of Israél offere at the setting vp of the Tabernacle, 10 And at the dedicacion of the altar. 29 God speaketh to Moses fro the Merciseat.

1 NOW when Moses had finished the setting vp of the Tabernacle, and * anointed it and sanctified it, and all the instruments thereof, and the altar with all the * instrumets thereof, and had anointed them and sanctified them,

2 Then the princes of Israél, heades ouer the houses of their fathers (they were the princes of the tribes, who were ouer them that were nombred) offered,

3 And brought their offering before y Lord, six <sup>a</sup> couered charets, and twelue oxen: one charet for two princes, and for euerie one an ox, and they offered them before the Tabernacle.

4 And the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying, 5 Take <sup>b</sup> these of them, that they may be to do the <sup>b</sup> seruice of the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and thou shalt giue them vnto the Leuites, to euerie man according vnto his office.

6 So Moses toke the charets and the oxen, and gaue them vnto the Leuites:

7 Two charets and foure oxen he gaue to the sonnes of Gershón, according vnto their <sup>c</sup> office.

8 And foure charets and eyght oxen he gaue to y sonnes of Merari according vnto their office, vnder the hād of Ithamar the sonne of Aaron the Priest.

9 But to the sonnes of Kohath he gaue none, <sup>d</sup> because the charge of the Sanctuarie belonged to them, which they did beare vpon their shulders.

10 ¶ The princes also offered in the <sup>e</sup> dedicacion for the altar in the day that it was anointed: then the princes offered their offering before the altar.

11 And y Lord said vnto Moses, One prince one day, and another prince another day shal offer their offering, for the dedicacion of the altar.

12 ¶ So then on the first day did ¶ Nahshón <sup>¶ The offering of Nahshón.</sup> the sonne of Amminadáb of the tribe of Iudáh offer his offering.

13 And his offering was a siluer charger of an hundreth and thirty shekels weight, a siluer boule of seuentie shekels after the shekel of the Sanctuarie, bothe ful of fine floure, mingled with oyle, for a * meat offering, <sup>Leuit. 2. 1.</sup> an atonement for the children of Israël, that there be no plague among the children of Israël, when the children of Israël come nere vnto <sup>h</sup> the Sanctuarie.

<sup>10</sup> ¶ The Mosés and Aarón & all the Congregation of the children of Israël did with the Leuites, according vnto all that the Lord had commanded Mosés concerning the Leuites: so did the children of Israël vnto them.

CHAP. IX.

¶ And certeine men were defiled <sup>b</sup> by a dead man, that thei might not kepe the Passeouer the same day: and thei came before Mosés and before Aarón the same day.

<sup>7</sup> And those men said vnto him, We are defiled by a dead man: wherefore are we kept backe that we may not <sup>c</sup> offer an offering vnto the Lord in the time therunto appointed among the children of Israël?

<sup>8</sup> Then Mosés said vnto them, Stand still, and I wil heare what the Lord wil cōmande concerning you.

<sup>13</sup> But the man that is cleane and is not in a <sup>f</sup> iourney, and is negligent to kepe the Passeouer, the same persone shalbe cut of from his people: because he brought not the offering of the Lord in his due season, that man shal beare his <sup>g</sup> sinne.

<sup>14</sup> And if a stranger dwel among you, and wil kepe the Passeouer vnto the Lord, as the ordinance of the Passeouer, & as the maner thereof is, so shal he do: * ye shal haue one lawe bothe for the stranger, & for him that was borne in the same land.

<sup>16</sup> So it was alwaie: the cloude covered it <sup>ly</sup> day, & the appearance of fire by night.

CHAP. X.

<sup>9</sup> And when ye go to warre in your land against <sup>d</sup>ye enemie that vexeth you, ye shal blowe an alarme wth the trūpets, and ye shal be remēbred before the Lord your God, and shal be saued from your enemies.

<sup>10</sup> Also in the day of your <sup>e</sup>gladnes, and in your feast daies, and in the beginning of your monethes, ye shal also blowe the trūpets ouer your burnt sacrifices, and ouer your peace offrings, that they may be a remembrance for you before your God: I am the Lord your God.

12 And the children of Israél departed on their iourneis out of <sup>f</sup>desert of Sinai, and <sup>g</sup>cloude rested in the wildernes of Parán.

13 So they first toke their iourney at the cōmādemēt of the Lord, by <sup>h</sup>hād of Mosēs.

14 <sup>i</sup>In the first place wēt the stander of the hoste of the children of Iudáh, according to their armies: and <sup>j</sup>Nahshón the sonne of Amminadāb was ouer his bāde.

15 And ouer the bande of the tribe of the children of Issachār was Nethaneél the sonne of Zuár.

16 And ouer the bande of the tribe of the children of Zebulún was Eliáb the sonne of Helón.

17 When <sup>k</sup>Tabernacle was taken downe, then the sonnes of Gershón, and the sonnes of Merarí wēt forwarde bearing the Tabernacle.

18 After, departed the stāderd of the hoste of Reubén accordig to their armies, & ouer his bāde was Elizúr <sup>l</sup>sonne of Shedeúr.

19 And ouer the bande of the tribe of the childre of Simeón was Shelumiél the sonne of Surishaddái.

20 And ouer the bande of the tribe of the children of Gád was Eliasáph the sonne of Deuél.

21 The Kohathites also wēt forwarde and bare the <sup>m</sup>Sanctuarie, & the <sup>n</sup>former did set vp the Tabernacle against they came.

22 Then the stander of the hoste of the children of Ephráim went forwarde according to their armies, and ouer his bāde was Elishamá the sonne of Ammiúd.

23 And ouer the bande of the tribe of the sonnes of Manasséh was Gamliél the sonne of Pedazúr.

24 And ouer the bande of the tribe of the sonnes of Beniamín was Abidán the sonne of Gideoní.

25 Last, <sup>o</sup>stāderd of the hoste of <sup>p</sup>ye childre of Dan marched, <sup>q</sup>gatherig all the hostes according to their armies: & ouer his bāde was Abiezzer the sonne of Ammishaddái.

26 And ouer the bande of the tribe of the children of Asher was Pagiél the sonne of Ocrán.

27 And ouer the bande of the tribe of the children of Naphtalí was Ahirá the sonne of Enán.

28 These were the remouings of the children of Israél according to their armies, when they marched.

29 After, Mosēs said vnto <sup>r</sup>Hobab the sonne of Reuél <sup>s</sup>ye Midianite, the father in lawe of Mosēs, We go into the place, of <sup>t</sup>W<sup>h</sup> Lord said, I wil giue it you: Come thou with vs, and we wil do thee good: for the Lord hath promised good vnto Israél.

30 And he answered him, I wil not go: but I wil departe to mine owne countrey, and to my kinred.

33 ¶ So they departed from the<sup>a</sup> mount of the Lord, thre daies journey: and the Arke of the couenant of the Lord wēt before them in the thre daies journey, to searche out a resting place for them.

34 And the cloude of the Lord was vpon them by day, when they went out of the campe.

35 And when the Arke went forward, Moses said, * Rise vp, Lord, and let thine enemies be scattered, and let them that hate thee, flee before thee.

36 And when it rested, he said, Returne, O Lord, to the<sup>a</sup> manie thousands of Israël.

CHAP. XI.

The people murmureth, and is punished with fire. 4 The people lusteth after flesh. 6 They lothe Manna. 11 The weake faith of Moses. 16 The Lord deuiceth the burthen of Moses to seuentie of the Ancientes. 31 The Lord sendeth quailes. 33 Their lust is punished.

¶ WHē the people became<sup>a</sup> "murmurers," it displeased the Lord: and the Lord heard it, therefore his wrath was kindled, and the fire of the Lord burnt among them, and * consumed the vtmost parte of the hoste.

2 Then the people cryed vnto Moses: and when Moses prayed vnto the Lord, the fire was quenched.

3 And he called y<sup>e</sup> name of that place<sup>a</sup> Taberāh, because the fire of the Lord burnt among them.

4 ¶ And a number of<sup>a</sup> people that was among them, fel a lusting, and<sup>b</sup> turned away, and the children of Israël also wept and said, Who shal giue vs flesh to eat?

5 We remember the fish which we did eat in Egypt for<sup>c</sup> naught, the cucumbers, and the pepons, and the lekes, and the onions, and the garleke.

6 But now our soule is<sup>d</sup> dried away, we can se nothing but this M A N.

7 (The M A N also was as<sup>e</sup> coriāder sede, & his coulour like the coulour of<sup>e</sup> bdeliū.

8 The people went about and gathered it, and ground it in milles, or bet it in morters, and baked it in a cauldron, and made cakes of it, and the taste of it was like vnto the taste of fresh oyle.

9 And when the dew fel downe vpon the hoste in the night, the M A N fel with it)

10 ¶ Then Moses heard the people wepe throughout their families, euerie man in the dore of his tente, and the wrath of the Lord was grievously kindled: also Moses was grieved.

11 And Moses said vnto y<sup>e</sup> Lord, Wherefo-re hast thou vexed thy seruant? and why haue I not founde<sup>f</sup> fauour in thy sight, seing thou hast put the charge of all this people vpon me?

12 Haue I<sup>g</sup> conceived all this people? or haue I begotten them? that thou shuldest say vnto me, Cary them in thy bosome (as a nurse beareth y<sup>e</sup> sucking childe) vnto the<sup>h</sup> land, for the which thou swarest vnto their fathers?

13 Where shulde I haue flesh to giue vnto all this people? for they wepe vnto me, saying, Giue vs flesh that we may eat.

14 I am not able to beare all this people alone, for it is to heauie for me.

15 Therefore if thou deale thus with me, I pray thee, if I haue founde fauour in thy sight, kil me, that I beholde not my miserie.

16 ¶ Then y<sup>e</sup> Lord said vnto Moses, Gather vnto me seuentie men of the Elders of Israël, whome thou knowest, that they are the Elders of the people, & gouerners ouer them, and bring them vnto the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and let them stand there with thee, 17 And I wil come downe, & talke with thee there, * and take of the Spirit, which is vpon thee, and put vpon them, and they shal beare the burthe of the people with thee: so thou shalt not beare it alone.

18 Furthermore thou shalt say vnto the people, Be sanctified against tomorowe, and ye shal eat flesh: for you haue wept in the eares of the Lord, saying, Who shal giue vs flesh to eat? for we were better in Egypt: therefore the Lord wil giue you flesh, and ye shal eat.

19 Ye shal not eat one day nor two daies, nor fūe daies, nether ten daies, nor twenty daies, 20 But a whole moneth, vntil it come out at your nostrels, and be lothesome vnto you, because ye haue<sup>m</sup> contemned the Lord, which is<sup>n</sup> among you, and haue wept before him, saying, Why came we hither out of Egypt?

21 And Moses said, Six hundred thousand foremen are there of the people, * among whome I am: & thou saiest, I wil giue the flesh, that they may eat a moneth long.

22 Shal the shepe and the beues be slaine for them, to finde them? ether shal all the fish of the sea be gathered together for them to suffice them?

23 And the Lord sayd vnto Moses, Is<sup>o</sup> the Lords hand shortened? thou shalt se now whether my worde shal come to passe vnto thee, or no.

24 ¶ So Moses went out, and tolde the people the wordes of the Lord, and gathered seuentie men of the Elders of the people, and set the round about the Tabernacle.

25 The Lord came downe in a cloude, and spake vnto him, and toke of the Spirit, that was vpon him, and put it vpon the seuentie Anciet men: and when the Spirit rested vpon them, then they prophesied, and did not cease.

26 But there remained two of the men in the hoste: the name of the one was Eldád, and the name of the other Medád, and the Spirit rested vpon them, (for they were of them that were writen, and went not out vnto the Tabernacle) & they prophesied in the hoste.

27 Then there ran a yong man, and tolde Mosés, and said, Eldád and Medád do prophesie in the hoste.

28 And Ioshúa the sonne of Nun the seruant of Mosés one of his yong men, answered and said, My lord Mosés, forbid them.

29 But Mosés said vnto him, Enuyest thou for my sake? yea, wolde God that all the Lords people were Prophetes, & that the Lord wolde put his Spirit vpon them.

30 And Mosés returned into the hoste, he and the Elders of Israél.

31 Then there went forth a winde from the Lord, and broght quailes from the Sea, and let them fall vpon the campe, a daies iourney on this side, & a daies iourney on the other side, round about the hoste, and they were about two cubites about the earth.

32 Then the people arose, all that day, and all the night, and all the next day and gathered the quailes: he that gathered the least, gathered ten Homers ful, and they spread them abroad for their vse round about the hoste.

33 While the flesh was yet betwene their tethe, before it was chewed, euē the wrath of the Lord was kindled against the people, and the Lord smote the people with an exceeding great plague.

34 So the name of the place was called, Kibroth-hattaauáh: for there they buried the people that fel a lusting.

35 Fro Kibroth-hattaauáh the people toke their iourney to Hazeróth, and abode at Hazeróth.

CHAP. XII.

Aarón and Miriám grudge against Mosés. 10 Miriám is stricken with leprosie, and healed at the prayer of Mosés.

Afterward Miriám and Aarón spake against Mosés, because of the womā of Ethiopia whome he had married (for he had married a woman of Ethiopia)

And they said, What hath the Lord spoken but onely by Mosés? hath he not spoken also by vs? and the Lord heard this.

(But Mosés was a very meke man, about all the men that were vpon the earth)

And by and by the Lord said vnto Mosés, & vnto Aarón, & vnto Miriám, Come out ye thre vnto the Tabernacle of the Congregation: and they thre came forth.

Then the Lord came downe in the pillar of the cloude, and stode in the dore of the Tabernacle, & called Aarón and Miriám, and they bothe came forth.

And he said, Heare now my wordes, If there be a Prophet of the Lord among you, I wil be knowne to him by a vision, & wil speake vnto him by dreame.

My seruāt Mosés is not so, who is faithful in all mine house.

Vnto him wil I speake mouth to mouth, and by vision, & not in darke wordes, but he shal se y similitude of y Lord. wherefore then were ye not afraied to speake against my seruāt, euen against Mosés?

Thus the Lord was very angry with thē, and departed.

Also the cloude departed from the Tabernacle: & beholde, Miriám was leprous like snowe: and Aarón looked vpo Miriám, and beholde, she was leprous.

Then Aarón said vnto Mosés, Alas, my Lord, I beseeche thee, lay not the sinne vpo vs, which we haue foolishly committed & wherein we haue sinned.

Let her not. I pray thee, be as one dead, of whome the flesh is halfe consumed, whē he commeth out of his mothers wombe.

The Mosés cryed vnto the Lord, saying, O God, I beseeche thee, heale her now.

And the Lord said vnto Mosés, If her father had spit in her face, shulde she not haue bene ashamed seuen dayes? let her be shut out of the hoste seuen dayes, & after she shal be receiued.

So Miriám was shut out of the hoste seuen dayes, and the people remoued not, til Miriám was broght in againe.

 9 Of the tribe of Ephráim, Oshéa the sonne of Nun:
 10 Of the tribe of Beniamín, Paltí the sonne of Raphú:
 11 Of the tribe of Zebulún, Gaddiél the sonne of Sodí:

 15 Of the tribe of Naphtalí, Nahbí the sonne of Vophsí:
 16 Of the tribe of Gad, Geuél the sonne of Machí.
 17 These are the names of the <sup>e</sup>me, which Mosés sent to spie out the land: and Mosés called the name of Oshéa the sonne of Nun Iehoshúa.
 18 So Mosés sent them to spie out the land of Canaan, and said vnto the, Go vp this way toward the South, and go vp into the mountaines, 19 And consider the land what it is, and the people that dwel therein, whether they be strong or weake, ether few or many,
 20 Also what the land is that they dwel in, whether it be <sup>d</sup> good or bad: and what cities they be, that they dwel in, whether they dwel in tentes, or in walled townes:
 21 And what the land is: whether it be fat or leane, whether there be trees therein, or not. And be of good courage, and bring of the frute of the land (for then was the time of the first ripe grapes)
 22 ¶ So they went vp, & searched out the land, from the wilderness of <sup>e</sup> Zin vnto Rehób, to go to Hamáth, 23 And they ascended toward the South, and came vnto Hebrón, where were Ahimán, Sheshái and Talmái, the sonnes of <sup>f</sup> Anák. And <sup>g</sup> Hebrón was buylt seuen yere before Zoán in Egypt.
 24 ¶ The they came to the riuer of Eshcól, and cut downe thence a branche with one clustre of grapes, and they bare it vpon a barre betwene two, and brought of the pomegranates and of the figges.
 25 That place was called the <sup>h</sup>riuer Eshcól because of the clustre of grapes, which the children of Israël cut downe thence.
 26 Then after fourty daies they turned againe from searching of the land.

8 If the Lord loue vs, he wil bring vs into this land, and giue it vs, which is a land that floweth with milke and honie.

9 But rebel not ye against the Lord, neither feare ye the people of the land: for they are but bread for vs: their shielde is departed from them, and the Lord is with vs, feare them not.

f This is the condition of the that wolde perinade in Gods cause, to be persecuted of the multitude.

10 And all the multitude said, f Stone the with stones: but the glorie of the Lord appeared in the Tabernacle of the Congregation, before all the children of Israél.

11 And the Lord said vnto Mosés, How long wil this people prouoke me, and how long wil it be, yer they beleue me, for all the signes which I haue shewed among them?

47 Then Aaron toke as Moses commāded him, and ran into the middes of the Congregation, and beholde, the plague was begōne among the people, & he put in incens, & made an atonemēt for the people.

48 And when he stode betwene the dead, & the that were aliue, y<sup>e</sup> plague was stayed.

49 So they dyed of this plague fourtene thousand and seuen hundreth, beside the that dyed in the conspiracie of Kōrah.

50 And Aaron went againe vnto Moses before the dore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation, & the plague was stayed.

CHAP. XVII.

1 The twelue rods of the twelue princes of the tribes of Israel. 9 Aarons rod buddeth, and beareth blossoms. 10 For a testimonie against the rebellious people.

1 And the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

2 Speake vnto the childre of Israel, & take of euerie one of them a rod, after y<sup>e</sup> house of their fathers, of all their princes according to the familie of their fathers, euen twelue rods: and thou shalt write euerie mans name vpon his rod.

3 And write Aarons name vpon the rod of Leui: for euerie rod shalbe for the head of the house of their fathers.

4 And thou shalt put the in the Tabernacle of the Congregation, before the Arke of the Testimonie, where I wil declare my selfe to you.

5 And the mans rod, whome I chose, shal blossom: and I wil make cease from me the grudgings of the children of Israel, which grudge against you.

6 Then Moses spake vnto the children of Israel, & all their princes gaue him a rod, one rod for euerie prince, according to y<sup>e</sup> houses of their fathers, euen twelue rods, & the rod of Aaron was amōg their rods.

7 And Moses laid the rods before the Lord in the Tabernacle of the Testimonie.

8 And when Moses on the morowe went into the Tabernacle of the Testimonie, beholde, the rod of Aaron for the house of Leui was budded, and brought forth the budde, & brought forth the blossoms & bare ripe almondes.

9 Then Moses brought out all the rods fro before the Lord vnto all the children of Israel: and they looked vpon them, & toke euerie man his rod.

10 After, y<sup>e</sup> Lord said vnto Moses, Bring Aarons rod againe before the Testimonie to be kept for a tokē to the rebellious children, & thou shalt cause their murmurings to cease fro me, y<sup>e</sup> they dye not.

11 So Moses did as the Lord had commāded him: so did he.

12 And the children of Israel spake vnto Moses, saying, Beholde, we are dead, we perish, we are all lost:

13 Whosoever cometh nere, or approacheth to the Tabernacle of the Lord, shal dye: shal we be consumed and dye?

1 The office of Aaron & his sonnes. 2 With the Leuites. 8 The Priests parte of the offerings. 20 God is their portion. 26 The Leuites haue the tithes, and offer the tenthes thereof to the Lord.

1 And y<sup>e</sup> Lord said vnto Aaron, Thou, & thy sonnes and thy fathers house with thee, shal beare the iniquitie of the Sanctuarie: bothe thou & thy sonnes with thee shal beare y<sup>e</sup> iniquitie of your Priests office.

2 And bring also with thee thy brethren of the tribe of Leui of the familie of thy father, which shalbe ioyned with thee, and minister vnto thee: but thou, and thy sonnes with thee shal minister before the Tabernacle of the Testimonie.

3 And they shal kepe thy charge, euen the charge of all y<sup>e</sup> Tabernacle: but they shal not come nere the instruments of the Sanctuarie, nor to the altar, lest they dye, bothe they & you:

4 And they shal be ioyned with thee, & kepe the charge of the Tabernacle of the Congregation for all y<sup>e</sup> seruice of the Tabernacle: & no stranger shal come nere vnto you.

5 Therefore shal ye kepe the charge of the Sanctuarie, and the charge of the altar: so there shal fall no more wrath vpon the children of Israel.

6 For lo, I haue taken your brethren y<sup>e</sup> Leuites fro among y<sup>e</sup> children of Israel, which as a gift of yours, are giue vnto the Lord, to do the seruice of the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

7 But thou, & thy sonnes with thee shal kepe your Priests office for all things of the altar, and within the vaile: therefore shal ye serue: for I haue made your Priests office an office of seruice: therefore the sinner that commeth nere, shal be slaine.

8 Againe y<sup>e</sup> Lord spake vnto Aaron, Beholde, I haue giuen thee the keeping of mine offerings, of all the halowed things of the childre of Israel: vnto thee I haue giuen them for the anointings sake, and to thy sonnes, for a perpetual ordinance.

9 This shalbe thine of y<sup>e</sup> moste holie thigs, reserved from the fire: all their offering of all their meat offering, and of all their sin offering, and of all their trespass offering, w<sup>h</sup> they bring vnto me, that shalbe most holy vnto thee and to thy sonnes.

among the children of Israel.

21 For beholde, I haue giue the childre of Leui all the tenth in Israel for an inheri-

the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

22 Nether shall the children of Israel anie

23 But the Leuites shall do the seruice in y Tabernacle of y Congregation, & they shall beare <sup>n</sup> their sinne: it is a lawe for euer in your generacions, y among the childre of Israel they possesse none enheritance.

24 For the tithes of the children of Israel, which they shall offer as an offering vnto y Lord, I haue giuen the Leuites for an inheritance: therefore I haue said vnto the,
Among the childre of Israel ye shall pos-

26 Speake also vnto the Leuites & say vnto them, When ye shall take of the childre of Israel the tithes, w<sup>ch</sup> I haue giuen you of the for your inheritance, then shall ye take an shall receiue of the children of Israel, and ye shall giue thereof the Lords heauie offring to Aaron the Priest.

- 9 And a man, that is cleane, shal take vp the ashes of the kowe, & put them without the holte in a cleane place: and it shalbe kept for the Congregation of the children of Israel for <sup>e</sup> a sprinkling water: it is a sinne offering.

- 10 Therefore he that gathereth the ashes of the kowe, shal wash his clothes, and remaine vncleane vntil euen: and it shalbe vnto the children of Israel, and vnto the stranger that dwelleth among them, a statute for euer.

- 11 He that toucheth the dead bodie of anie man, shalbe vncleane euen seuen daies.

- 12 He shal purifie him selfe <sup>f</sup> therewith the third day, and the seuenth day he shalbe cleane: but if he purifie not him selfe the third day, then the seuenth day he shal not be cleane.

- 13 Whosoever toucheth the corps of anie man that is dead, and purgeth not him selfe, defileth <sup>g</sup> Tabernacle of the Lord, & that persone shalbe <sup>h</sup> cut of from Israel, because the sprinkling water was not sprinkled vpon him: he shalbe vncleane, and his vncleannes shal remaine stil vpon him.

- 16 Also whosoever toucheth one that is slaine with a sworde in <sup>j</sup> y fiede, or a dead persone, or a bone of a dead man, or a graue, shalbe vncleane seuen dayes.

- 17 Therefore for an vncleane persone thei shal take of the burnt ashes of the <sup>k</sup> sin offering, and <sup>l</sup> pure water shal be put thereto in a vessel.

- 18 And a <sup>m</sup> cleane persone shal take hyssope and dip it in the water, and sprinkle it vpon the tent, and vpon all the vessels, and on the persones that were therein, and vpon him that touched the bone, or <sup>n</sup> y slaine, or the dead, or the graue.

- 19 And the cleane persone shal sprinkle vpon the vncleane the third day, and the seuenth day, and he shal purifie him self the seuenth day, & <sup>o</sup> wash his clothes, & wash him selfe in water, & shalbe cleane at euē.

- 20 But the man that is vncleane and purifieth not him selfe, that persone shalbe cut of from amōg the Congregation, because he hath defiled the Sanctuarie of the Lord: and the sprinkling water hath not bene sprinkled vpon him: therefore shal he be vncleane.

- 21 And it shalbe a perpetual lawe vnto the, that he that sprinkleth the sprinkling water, shal wash his clothes: also he that toucheth the sprinkling water, shal be vncleane vntil euen.

- 22 And whatsoeuer the vncleane persone toucheth, shal be vncleane: and the persone that toucheth <sup>p</sup> him, shalbe vncleane vntil the euen.

CHAP. XX.

- 1 Miriam dyeth. 2 The people murmure. 3 They haue water out of the rocke. 14 Edom denyeth the Israelites passage. 25. 28 The death of Aaron, in whose roome Eleazar succedeth.

- 1 Then the children of Israel came with the whole Congregation to the desert of Zin in the first <sup>a</sup> moneth, and the people abode at Kadish: where <sup>b</sup> Miriam dyed, and was buried there.

- 2 But there was no water for the Congregation, and they <sup>c</sup> assembled them selues against Moses and against Aaron.

- 3 And the people chode with Moses, and spake, sayig, Wolde God we had perished, <sup>d</sup> when our brethren dyed before <sup>e</sup> y Lord.

- 4 <sup>f</sup> Why haue ye thus broght the Congregation of the Lord vnto this wildernes, <sup>g</sup> y both we, and our cattel shulde dye there?

- 5 Wherefore now haue ye made vs to come vp fro Egypt, to bring vs into this miserable place, which is no place of sede, nor figs, nor vines, nor pomgranates: nether is there anie water to drinke.

- 6 Then Moses and Aaron went from the assemblie vnto the dore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and fel vpon their faces: and the glorie of the Lord appeared vnto them.

- 7 <sup>h</sup> And <sup>i</sup> y Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

- 8 Take the <sup>j</sup> rod, and gather thou and thy brother Aaron the Congregation together, and speake ye vnto the rocke before their eies, & it shal giue forthe his water, and thou shalt bring them water out of the rocke: so thou shalt giue the Congregation, and their beastes drinke.

- 9 Then Moses toke the rod fro before the Lord, as he had commanded him.

- 10 And Moses and Aaron gathered <sup>k</sup> y Congregation together before the rocke, and <sup>l</sup> Moses sayd vnto them, Heare now, ye rebels: <sup>m</sup> shal we bring you water out of this rocke?

- 11 Then Moses lift vp his hand, and with his rod he smote the rocke twise, and the water came out abundantly: so the Congregation, and their beastes dranke.

- 12 <sup>n</sup> Agayne the Lord spake vnto Moses & to Aaron, Because ye beleued me not, to <sup>o</sup> sanctifie me in the presence of the children of Israel, therefore ye shal not bring this Congregation into the land which I haue giuen them.

14 ¶ Then Moses sent messengers from Kadesh vnto y King of Edom saying, Thus saith thy brother Israël, Thou knowest all the trauaile that we haue had,

15 How our fathers went downe into Egypt, and we dwelt in Egypt a long time, where the Egyptians handled vs euil & our fathers.

16 But when we cryed vnto the Lord, he heard our voyce, and sent an Angel, & hath brought vs out of Egypt, & beholde, we are in y citie Kadesh, in thine vtmost border.

17 I pray thee that we may passe through thy countrey: we wil not go through the fieldes nor the vineyardes, nether wil we drinke of the water of the welles: we wil go by the <sup>o</sup> kings way, and nether turne
we be past thy borders.

18 And Edom answered him, <sup>o</sup> Thou shalt not passe by me, lest I come out against thee with the sworde.

19 Then the children of Israël said vnto him, We wil go vp by the hie way: & if I and my cattel drinke of thy water, I wil then paye for it: I wil onely (without anie harne) go through on my fete.

20 He answered againe, Thou shalt not go through. The Edom came out against him with muche people, and with a mighty power.

21 Thus Edom denied to giue Israël passage through his coutrie: wherefore Israël turned away from him.

22 ¶ And when the children of Israël with all the Congregation departed from Kadesh, they came vnto the mount Hor.

23 And the Lord spake vnto Moses and to Aarón in the mount Hor nere the coste of the land of Edom, saying,

24 Aarón shalbe gathered vnto his people: for he shal not entre into the land, w
I haue giuen vnto the children of Israël, because ye <sup>d</sup>isobeyed my commandement at the water of Meribáh.

25 Take Aarón and Eleazár his sonne, & bring them vp into the mount Hor,

26 And cause Aarón to put of his garmets & put them vpon Eleazár his sonne: for Aarón shal be gathered to his fathers, and shal dye there.

27 And Moses did as the Lord had commanded: & they went vp into the mount Hor, in the sight of all the Congregation.

28 And Moses put of Aarons clothes, and put them vpon Eleazár his sonne: so Aa-rón dyed there in the top of the mount: and Moses and Eleazár came downe from of the mount.

29 When all the Congregation sawe that Aarón was dead, all the house of Israël wept for Aarón thirtie dayes.

3 Israël vanquisheth King Arad. 6 The fiery serpen-

1 W Hen King Arad the Canaanite, which dwelt toward the South, heard tel that Israël came by the waie of the spies, then fought he against Israël, and toke of them prisoners.

2 So Israël vowed a vowe vnto the Lord, and said, If thou wilt deliuer and giue this people into mine hand, then I wil vtterly destroye their cities.

3 And the Lord heard the voyce of Israël, and deliuered them the Canaanites: & they vtterly destroyed them and their cities, & called the name of the place Hormáh.

4 ¶ After, they departed from the mount Hor by the way of the red Sea, to <sup>b</sup> compasse the land of Edom: and the people were sore grieved because of the way.

5 And the people spake against God and against Moses saying, Wherefore haue ye brought vs out of Egypt, to dye in the wil-dernes? for here is nether bread nor water, and our soules lotheth this light bread.

6 ¶ Wherefore the Lord sent <sup>d</sup> fiery serpentes among the people which <sup>h</sup>og the peodied.

7 Therefore the people came to Moses and said, We haue sinned: for we haue spo-praye to the Lord, that he take away the serpents from vs: and Moses prayed for the people.

8 And the Lord said vnto Moses, Make thee a fiery serpent, and set it vp for a signe, that as manie as are bitten, may loke vpon
it, and liue.

9 ¶ So Moses made a serpent of brasse, and set it vp for a signe: and when a serpent had bitten a man, then he looked to the serpent of brasse, and liued.

the border of Moáb.

16 ¶ And from thence they turned to Beér: the same is the well where the Lord said vnto Moſes, Aſſemble the people, and I wil giue them water.

17 ¶ Then Iſraél ſang this ſong, <sup>o</sup> Rife vp well, ſing ye vnto it.

18 The princes digged this well, y<sup>e</sup> captaines of the people digged it, euen the ſawegiuers, with their ſtaues. And from the wildernes they came to Mattanáh, 19 ¶ And from Mattanáh to Nahaliél, and from Nahaliél to Bamóth, 20 ¶ And from Bamóth in the valley, that is in the plaine of Moáb, to the top of Piſgah that loketh toward Ierſhimón.

21 ¶ Then Iſraél ſent meſſengers vnto Sihón, King of the Amorites, ſaying, 22 *Let me go through thy land: we wil not turne aſide into the fields, nor into the vineyardes, neither drinke of the waters of y<sup>e</sup> welles: we wil go by the kings way, vntil we be paſt thy countrei.

23 *But Sihón gaue Iſraél no licence to paſſe through his countrey, but Sihón aſſembled all his people, and went out againſt Iſraél into the wildernes: and he came to Lahóz, and fought againſt Iſraél.

24 *But Iſraél ſmote him with the edge of the ſworde, and conquered his land, from Arnón vnto <sup>h</sup> Labók, euen vnto the childre of Ammón: for the border of the children of Ammón was ſtrong.

25 And Iſraél toke all theſe cities, & dwelt in all the cities of the Amorites in Heſhbón and in all the <sup>o</sup> villages thereof.

26 For <sup>k</sup> Heſhbón was the citie of Sihón the King of the Amorites, which had fought before time againſt the King of the Moabites, and had taken all his land out of his hand, euen vnto Arnón.

27 Wherefore they that ſpake in proverbes, ſay, Come to Heſhbón, let the citie of Sihón be buylt and repared:

28 For <sup>l</sup> a fire is gone out of Heſhbón, and a flame from the citie of Sihón, and hath consumed Ar of the Moabites, and the lords of Bamóth in Arnón.

29 Wo be to thee, Moáb: o people of <sup>m</sup> Chemóſh, thou art vndone: he hath ſuffered his ſonnes to be purſued, and his daughters to be in captiuitie to Sihón the King of the Amorites.

30 Their <sup>o</sup> empire is loſt from Heſhbón vnto Dibón, and we haue deſtroyed them vnto Nophah, which reacheth vnto Medabá:

31 ¶ Thus Iſraél dwelt in the land of the Amorites.

32 And Moſes ſent to ſearch out Iazér, and they toke the townes belonging thereto, and roted out the Amorites that were there.

33 ¶ And they turned and went vp toward Baſhán: & Og the King of Baſhán came out againſt them, he, and all his people, to fight at Edréi.

34 Then the Lord ſaid vnto Moſes, Feare him not: ſo I haue deliuered him into thine hand & all his people, and his land: *and thou ſhalt do to him as thou dideſt vnto Sihón the King of the Amorites, which dwelt at Heſhbón. <sup>Pſal. 135. 12.</sup>

35 They ſmote him therefore, and his ſonnes, and all his people, vntil there was none left him: ſo they conquered his land.

CHAP. XXII.

King Balák ſendeth for Balaám to curſe the Iſraelites. 12 The Lord forbiddeth him to go. 22 The Angel of the Lord meteth him, & his aſſe ſpeaketh. 33 Balaám proteſteth that he wil ſpeake nothing, but that which the Lord putteth in his mouth.

1 After, the children of Iſraél departed and pitched in the plaine of Moáb on the <sup>a</sup> other ſide of Iordén from Ierichó.

2 ¶ Now Balák the ſonne of Zippór ſawe all that Iſraél had done to the Amorites.

3 And the Moabites were ſore afraid of the people, becauſe they were manie, and Moáb <sup>o</sup> feared againſt the children of Iſraél.

4 Therefore Moáb ſaid vnto the <sup>b</sup> Elders of Midián, Now ſhal this multitude licken vp all that are rounde about vs, as an oxe licketh vp the graſſe of the field: and Balák the ſonne of Zippór was King of the Moabites at that time.

5 *He ſent meſſengers therefore vnto Balaám the ſonne of Beór to Perthór (which is by the <sup>c</sup> riuier of the land of the childre of his folke) to call him, ſaying, Beholde, there is a people come out of Egypt, which couer the face of the earth, and lie ouer againſt me.

6 Come now therefore, I pray thee, and curſe me this people (for they are ſtronger then I) ſo it may be that I ſhal be able to ſmite the and to driue them out of the land: for I knowe that he, whome thou bleſteſt, is bleſſed, and he whome thou curſeſt, ſhal be curſed.

7 And the Elders of Meáb, and the Elders of Midián departed, hauing <sup>d</sup> the rewardes of the ſoothſaying in their hand, and they came vnto Balaám, & tolde him the wordes of Balák.

8 Who answered them, Tary here this night, and I wil giue you an answer, as the Lord ſhal ſay vnto me. So <sup>e</sup> the princes of Moáb abode with Balaám.

9 Then God came vnto Balaám, and ſaid, What men are theſe with thee?

10 And Balaám ſaid vnto God, Balák the ſonne of Zippór, King of Moáb hath ſent vnto me, ſaying, <sup>a</sup> Being at Ierichó, it was beyonde Iordén: but where the Iſraelites were, it was on this ſide.

11 Beholde, there is a people come out of Egypt and couereth the face of the earth: come nowe, curse them for my sake: so it may be that I shal be able to ouercome them in battel, and to driue them out.

12 And God <sup>f</sup> said vnto Balaám, Go not thou with them, nether curse the people, for they are blessed.

13 And Balaám rose vp in the morning, and said vnto the princes of Balák, Returne vnto your land: for the Lord hath refused to giue <sup>g</sup> me leaue to go with you.

14 So the princes of Moáb rose vp, and wet vnto Balák, and said, Balaám hath refused to come with vs.

15 ¶ Balák yet sent againe mo princes, and more honorable then they.

16 Who came to Balaám, and said to him, Thus saith Balák the sonne of Zippór, Be not thou stayed, I pray thee, from coming vnto me.

17 For I wil promote thee vnto great honour, and wil do whatsoeuer thou sayest vnto me: come therefore, I pray thee, curse me this people.

18 And Balaám answered, and sayd vnto the seruantes of Balák, * If Balák wolde giue me his house ful of siluer and golde, I can not go beyonde the worde of the Lord my God, to do lesse or more.

19 But nowe, I pray you, tary here this night, that I may wit, what the Lord wil say vnto me <sup>i</sup> more.

20 And God came vnto Balaám by night, and said vnto him, If the me come to call thee, rise vp, and go with them: but onely what thing I say vnto thee, that shalt thou do.

21 So Balaám rose vp early, and saddled his asse, and went with the princes of Moáb.

22 And the wrath of God was kindled, because he <sup>k</sup> went: & the Angel of the Lord stode in the way to be against him, as he rode vpon his asse, and his two seruantes were with him.

23 And * when the asse sawe the Angel of <sup>l</sup> Lord stād in the way, and his sworde drawn in his hand, the asse turned out of <sup>waie</sup> and went into the field, but Balaám smote the asse, to turne her into the way.

24 ¶ Again the Angel of the Lord stode in a path of the vineyardes, hauing a wall on the one side, and a wall on the other.

25 And when the asse sawe the Angel of the Lord, she thrust her selfe vnto the wall, and dasht Balaams fote against the wall: wherefore he smote her againe.

26 Then the Angel of the Lord went further, and stode in a narowe place, where was no way to turne, either to the right hand, or to the left.

27 And when the asse sawe the Angel of the Lord, she lay downe vnder Balaám:

therefore Balaám was very wrath, and smote the asse with a staffe.

28 Then the Lord <sup>m</sup> opened the mouth of the asse, and she said vnto Balaám, What haue I done vnto thee, that thou hast smitten me nowe thre times?

29 And Balaám said vnto the asse, Because thou hast mocked me: I wolde there were a sworde in mine hand, for now wolde I kil thee.

30 And the asse said vnto Balaám, Am not I thine asse, which thou hast ridden vpon <sup>n</sup> since thy first time vnto this day? haue I vsed at anie time to do thus vnto thee? Who said, Nay.

31 And the Lord <sup>o</sup> opened the eies of Balaám, and he sawe the Angel of the Lord standing in the way with his sworde drawe in his hand: then he bowed him selfe, and fel flat on his face.

32 And the Angel of the Lord said vnto him, Wherefore hast thou now smitten thine asse thre times? beholde, I came out to withstand thee, because thy way is not straight before me.

33 But the asse sawe me, and turned from me now thre times: for els, if she had not turned from me, surely I had euē now slaine thee, and sauē her aliue.

34 Then Balaám said vnto the Angel of the Lord, I haue sinned: for I wist not that thou stodest in the way <sup>p</sup> against me: now therefore if it displease thee, I wil turne <sup>q</sup> home againe.

35 But the Angel said vnto Balaám, Go with the men: but <sup>r</sup> what I say vnto thee, that shalt thou speake. So Balaám went with the princes of Balák.

36 And when Balák heard that Balaám came, he went out to mete him vnto a citie of Moáb, which is in the <sup>r</sup> border of Arnón, euen in the vtmost coste.

37 Then Balák said vnto Balaám, Did I not send for thee to call thee? wherefore camest thou not vnto me? am I not able in dede to promote thee vnto honour.

38 And Balaám made answer vnto Balák, Lo, I am come vnto thee, & can I now say <sup>s</sup> anie thing at all? the worde that God putteth in my mouth, that shal I speake.

39 So Balaám went with Balák, and they came vnto the citie of Huzóth.

40 Then Balák offred bullockes, and shepe, and sent thereof to Balaám, and to <sup>t</sup> y princes that were with him.

41 And on the morow Balák toke Balaám, and brought him vp into the hie places of Baál, that thence he might se the vtmost parte of the people.

2 And Balák did as Balaám said, and <sup>a</sup> Ba-

3 Then Balaám said vnto Balák, Stand by the burnt offering, & I wil go, if so be that the Lord wil come and mete me: & whatsoeuer he sheweth me, I wil tel thee: so he went forthe alone.

4 And God <sup>b</sup> met Balaám, and Balaám said vnto him, I haue prepared seuen altars, & haue offred vpon enerie altar a bullocke and a ram.

5 And the Lord <sup>c</sup> put an answer in Balaás mouth, and said, Go againe to Balák, and say on this wise.

6 So when he returned vnto him, lo, he stode by his burnt offering, he, & all the princes of Moáb.

7 Then he vttered his <sup>d</sup> parable, and said, Balák the King of Moáb hathe broght me from <sup>e</sup> Arám out of the mountaines of the East, saying, Come, curse Iakób for my sake: come, and <sup>f</sup> detest Ifraél.

8 How shal I curse, where God hathe not curse? or how shal I detest, where <sup>g</sup> Lord hathe not detested?

9 For frō the top of the rocks I did se him, and from the hils I did beholde him: lo, the people shal dwel by them selues, and shal not be rekened among the <sup>h</sup> nacions.

10 Who can tel the <sup>i</sup> dust of Iakób, and the number of the fourth parte of Ifraél?
Let me <sup>j</sup> dye the death of the righteous, and let my last end be like his.

11 Then Balák said vnto Balaám, What hast thou done vnto me? I toke thee to curse mine enemies, and beholde, thou hast blessed them altogether.

12 And he answered, and said, Must I not take hede to speake that, which the Lord hathe put in my mouth?

13 And Balák said vnto him, Come, I pray thee, with me vnto an other place, whence thou maiest se them, and thou shalt se but the vtmost parte of them, and shalt not se them all: therefore curse the out of that place for my sake.

14 <sup>k</sup> And he broght him into <sup>l</sup> Sede-sophím to the top of Pisgáh and buylt seuen altars, & offred a bullocke, & a ram on enerie altar.

15 After, he said vnto Balák, Stand here by thy burnt offering, and I wil mete the Lord yonder.

16 And the Lord met Balaám, and <sup>m</sup> put an answer in his mouth, and said, Go agai-ne vnto Balák, and saie thus.

17 And when he came to him, beholde, he stode by his burnt offering, and the princes of Moáb with him: so Balák said vnto him, What hathe the Lord said?

18 And he vttered his parable, & said, Rise vp, Balák, and heare: hearken vnto me, thou sonne of Zippór.

19 <sup>n</sup> God is not as man, that he shulde lie, nether as the sonne of man that he shul-de repent: hathe he said, and shal he not do it? and hathe he spoken, and shal he not accomplish it?

20 Beholde, I haue receiued commandement to blesse: for he hathe blessed, & I can not alter it.

21 He seeth none iniquitie in Iakób, nor seeth no transgression in Ifraél: the Lord his God is with him, & the <sup>o</sup> ioyful shoute of a King is among them.

22 God broght them out of Egypt: their strength is as an vnicorne.

23 For there is no forcerie in Iakób, nor soothsaying in Ifraél: <sup>p</sup> according to this time it shalbe said of Iakób and of Ifra-él, What hathe God wrought?

24 Beholde, the people shal rise vp as a lió, and lift vp him-self as a yong lion: he shal not lie downe, til he eat of the praie, and til he drinke the blood of the slaine.

25 <sup>q</sup> Then Balák said vnto Balaám, Nether curse, nor blesse them at all.

26 But Balaám answered, and said vnto Ba-lák, Tolde not I thee, saying, All that the Lord speaketh, that must I do?

27 <sup>r</sup> Againe Balák said vnto Balaám, Come,
I pray thee, I wil bring thee vnto another place, if so be it wil please God, that thou maiest thence curse them for my sake.

28 So Balák broght Balaám vnto the top of Peór, that loketh toward Ieshmón.

29 Then Balaám said vnto Balák, Make me here seuen altars, and prepare me here seuen bullockes, and seuen rams.

30 And Balák did as Balaám had said, and offred a bullocke and a ram on enerie altar.

1 NOW whiles Israël abode in Shittím, the people began to cōmit whoredome with the <sup>a</sup> daughters of Moáb:

2 Which called <sup>b</sup> y<sup>e</sup> people vnto the sacrifice of their gods, & the people ate, & bowed downe to their gods.

3 And Israël <sup>b</sup> coupled him self vnto Báal Peór: wherefore the wrath of the Lord was kindled against Israël:

4 And the Lord said vnto Mosés, * Take all the heades of the people, & hang them vp <sup>c</sup> before the Lord <sup>e</sup> against the sunne, that the indignacion of the Lords wrath may be turned from Israël.

5 Then Mosés said vnto the Iudges of Is-raél, Euerie oñe slay his <sup>d</sup> men that were ioyned vnto Báal Peór.

6 ¶ And beholde, one of the children of Is-raél came and broght vnto his brethren a Midianitish woman in the sight of Mosés, and in the sight of all the Congregation of the children of Israël, <sup>e</sup> who wept before the dore of the Tabernacle of the b That is, their matter to be iudged, to knowe what he shulde determine, as he did all hard matters.

5 Then Mosés broght their <sup>b</sup> cause before the Lord.

6 And the Lord spake vnto Mosés, saying, 7 The daughters of Zelophehad speake right: thou shalt giue them a possession to inherit among their fathers brethren, and shalt turne the inheritance of their father vnto them.

8 Also thou shalt speake vnto the children of Israél, saying, If a man dye & haue no sonne, then ye shal turne his inheritance vnto his daughter.

9 And if he haue no daughter, ye shal giue his inheritance vnto his brethren.

10 And if he haue no brethren, ye shal giue his inheritance vnto his fathers brethren.

11 And if his father haue no brethren, ye shal giue his inheritance vnto his next kinsman of his familie, and he shal possesse it: and this shal be vnto the children of Israél a lawe of <sup>c</sup> iudgement, as the Lord hath commanded Mosés.

ye shal do no seruile worke therein, but ye shal kepe a feast vnto y Lord seuen dayes.

13 And ye shal offer a burnt offering for a sacrifice made by fire of swete sauour vnto the Lord, thirtene yong bullockes, two rams, & fourtene lambes of a yere olde: they shalbe without blemish.

14 And their meat offering shalbe of fine floure mingled with oyle, thre tenth deales vnto euery bullocke of y thirtene bullockes, two tenth deales to ether of y two rams,

15 And one tenth deale vnto eche of the fourtene lambes, 16 And one he goat for a sin offering, beside the continual burnt offering, his meat offering and his drinke offering.

The seconde day of y feast of Tabernacles.

17 ¶ And the seconde day ye shal offer twelue yong bullockes, two rams, fourtene lambes of a yere olde without blemish,

18 With their meat offering & their drinke offerings for the bullockes, for the rams, & for the lambes according to their number, after the maner, 19 And an he goat for a sin offering (beside the continual burnt offering and his meat offering) and their drinke offerings.

The third day.

20 ¶ Also the third day ye shal offer eleuen bullockes, two rams, and fourtene lambes of a yere olde without blemish,

21 With their meat offering & their drinke offerings, for the bullockes, for the rams, & for the lambes, after their number according to the s maner,

According to the ceremonies appointed thereunto.

22 And an he goat for a sin offering, beside the continual burnt offering, and his meat offering and his drinke offering.

The fourth day.

23 ¶ And the fourth day ye shal offer te bullockes, two rams, & fourtene lambes of a yere olde without blemish.

24 Their meat offering & their drinke offerings, for the bullockes, for the rams, and for the lambes according to their number after the maner,

25 And an he goat for a sin offering, beside the continual burnt offering, his meat offering and his drinke offering.

The fift day.

26 ¶ In the fift day also ye shal offer nine bullockes, two rams, and fourtene lambes of a yere olde without blemish,

27 And their meat offering and their drinke offerings for the bullockes, for the rams, & for the lambes according to their number, after the maner,

28 And an he goat for a sin offering, beside the continual burnt offering and his meat offering and his drinke offering.

The sixt day.

29 ¶ And in the sixt day ye shal offer eight bullockes, two rams, & fourtene lambes of a yere olde without blemish,

30 And their meat offering, & their drinke offerings for the bullockes, for the rams, & for the lambes according to their nōber, after the maner,

31 And an he goat for a sin offering, beside the continual burnt offering, his meat offering and his drinke offerings.

32 ¶ In the seuenth day also ye shal offer seuen bullockes, two rams & fourtene lambes of a yere olde without blemish,

The seuenth day.

33 And their meat offering and their drinke offerings for the bullockes, for the rams, & for the lambes according to their number, after their maner,

34 And an he goat for a sin offering, beside the continual burnt offering, his meat offering and his drinke offering.

35 ¶ In the eight day, ye shal haue a soleme assemblie: ye shal do no seruile worke therein,

The eighth day. Leui. 23, 36.

36 But ye shal offer a burnt offering, a sacrifice made by fire for a swete sauour vnto the Lord, one bullocke, one ram, & seuen lambes of a yere olde without blemish,

37 Their meat offering and their drinke offerings for the bullocke, for the ram, & for the lambes according to their number, after the maner,

38 And an he goat for a sin offering, beside the continual burnt offering, and his meat offering, and his drinke offering.

39 These things ye shal do vnto y Lord in your feastes, beside your h vowes, & your fre offerings, for your burnt offerings, & for your meat offerings, & for your drinke offerings and for your peace offerings.

h Beside y sacrifices y you shal vowe or offer of your owne mindes.

CHAP. XXX.

3 Concerning vowes. 4 The Vowe of the maid, 7 Of the wife, 10 Of the widow, or deuorced.

1 Then Moses spake vnto the childre of Israël according to all that the Lord had commanded him,

Ebr. Moser.

2 Moses also spake vnto the heades of the tribes concerning the children of Israël, saying, This is the thing which the Lord hathe commanded,

a Because they might declare them to the Israelites.

3 Whosoever voweth a vow vnto y Lord, or sweareth an othe to bide him selfe by a bonde, he shal not breake his promes, but shal do accordig to all that proceedeth out of his mouth.

Ebr. his soule. Ebr. violat his worde.

4 If a woman also vowe a vowe vnto the Lord, & bide her selfe by a bōde, being in her fathers house, in y time of her youth,

5 And her father heare her vowe & bōde, wherewith she hathe bounde her selfe, and her father holde his b peace concerning her, then all her vowes shal stand & euerie bonde, wherewith she hathe bounde her selfe, shall stand.

b For in so doing, he doeth approue her.

6 But if her father disallowe her the same daye that he heareth all her vowes & bondes, wherewith she hathe bounde her selfe, they shal not be of value, and the Lord wil forgieue her, because her father disallowed her.

c By not approving or consenting to her vowe.

Vowes.

- 7 And if she haue an housbād whē she voweth or <sup>d</sup> pronounceth oght with her lippes, wherewith she bindeth her selfe, 8 If her housband heard it and holdeth his peace cōcerning her, the same day he heareth it, then her vowe shal stand, and her bondes wherewith she bindeth her selfe shal stand in effect.
9 But if her housband disallowe her the same day that he heareth it, then shal he make her vowe which she hathe made, & that that she hathe pronouced with her lippes, wherewith she bonde her <sup>e</sup> selfe, of none effect: and the Lord wil forgiue her.
10 But euerie vowe of a widowe, and of her that is deuorced (wherewith she hathe bōde her selfe) shal stand in <sup>f</sup> effect with her.
11 And if she vowed in her housbandes house, or bōde her selfe strictly with an othe,
12 And her housband hathe heard it, & helde his peace concerning her, not disallowing her, then all her vowes shal stand, & euerie bonde, wherewith she bōd her selfe, shal stand in effect.
13 But if her housband disanulled them, the same day that he heard them, nothing that proceded out of her lippes concerning her vowes or concerning her bōdes, shal stand in effect: for her housband hathe disanulled them: and the Lord wil forgiue her.
14 So euerie vowe, and euerie othe or bon-de, made to <sup>h</sup> humble the soule, her housband may stablisch it, or her housband may breake it.
15 But if her housband holde his peace cōcerning her frō <sup>i</sup> day to day, thē he stablisheth all her vowes and all her bondes which she hathe made: he hathe cōfirmed them because he held his peace concerning her the same day that he heard them.
16 But if he <sup>k</sup> breake them after that he ha-the heard them, then shal he beare her iniquitie.
17 These are the ordināces which the Lord commanded Mosēs, betwene a man & his wife, & betwene the father and his daughter, being yong in her fathers house.

ing,
2 *Reuenge the children of Israël of the Midianites, & afterward shalt thou be gathered vnto thy people.
3 And Mosēs spake to the people, saying,

- the tribes of Israël, shal ye send to the warre.
5 So there were taken out of the thousands of Israël, twelue thousand prepared vnto warre, of euerie tribe a thousand.
6 And Mosēs sent them to the warre, <sup>euen</sup> a thousand of euerie tribe, and <sup>sent</sup> them with Phinehās the sonne of Eleazār the Priest to the warre & the holy instrumēt:
that is, the trumpets to blowe were in his

9 But the children of Israël toke the womē of Midian prisoners, and their children, & spoyled all their cattel, & all their floc-kes, and all their goods.
10 And they burnt all their cities, wherein they dwelt, and all their <sup>g</sup> villages with fire.
11 And they toke all the spoyle & all the praye <sup>bothe</sup> of men & beastes.
12 And they brought the <sup>d</sup> captiues and that which they had taken, and the spoyle vnto Mosēs and to Eleazār the Priest, and vnto the Congregation of the children of Is-raél, into the cāpe in the plaine of Moāb, which was by Iordén toward Ierichó.
13 ¶ Then Mosēs and Eleazār the Priest, & all the princes of the Congregation went out of the campe to mete them.
14 And Mosēs was angry with the captai-nes of the hoste, with the captaines ouer thousands, & captaines ouer hundreds, which came from the warre and battel.
15 And Mosēs said vnto them, What? haue ye saued all the <sup>e</sup> women?
16 Beholde, * these caused the children of Israél through the * counsel of Balaām to commit a trespas against the Lord, <sup>f</sup> as cōcerning Peór, and there came a plague a-17 Now therefore, * slay all the males a-that haue knowen man by carnal copulation.

18 But all the women children that haue

21 ¶ And Eleazár the Priest said vnto the men of warre, which went to the battel, This is the ordinance of the lawe which the Lord * commanded Mosés,

22 As for golde, and siluer, brasle, yron, tynne, and lead:

23 Even all that may abyde the fire, ye shal make it go through the fire, and it shalbe cleane: yet, it shalbe <sup>h</sup> purified with * the water of purification: and all that suffreth not the fire, ye shal cause to passe by the <sup>i</sup> water.

24 Ye shal wash also your clothes the seuenth day, and ye shalbe cleane: and afterward ye shal come into the Hoste.

25 ¶ And the Lord spake vnto Mosés, saying,

26 Take the summe of the praie that was taken, bothe of persones and of cattel, thou and Eleazár the Priest, & the chief fathers of the Congregation.

27 And deuide the praie || betwene the soldiers that went to the warre, and all the Congregation.

28 And <sup>y</sup> shalt take a tribute vnto the Lord of the <sup>k</sup> men of warre, which went out to battel: one persone of fise hundreth, bothe of the persones, and of the beues, & of the asses, and of the shepe.

29 Ye shal take it of their halfe and giue it vnto Eleazár <sup>y</sup> Priest, as an heaue offering of the Lord.

30 But of the halfe of the children of Israël thou shalt take <sup>l</sup> one, taken out of fiftie, bothe of the persones, of the beues, of the asses, and of the shepe, euē of all the cattel: and thou shalt giue them vnto the Leuites, which haue the charge of the Tabernacle of the Lord.

31 And Mosés and Eleazár the Priest did as the Lord had commanded Mosés.

32 And <sup>y</sup> bootye, to wit, the rest of the praie which the men of warre had spoiled, was six hundreth seuentie and fise thousand shepe,

33 And seuentie and two thousand beues,

34 And thre score and one thousand asses,

35 And two and thirtie thousand persones, in all of women that had <sup>lyen</sup> by no man.

36 And the halfe, to wit, the parte of them that went out to warre touching the number of shepe, was thre hundreth seuen and thirtie thousand, and fise hundreth.

37 And the <sup>m</sup> Lords tribute of the shepe was six hundreth and seuentie and fise.

38 And the beues were six and thirtie thousand, whereof the Lords tribute was seuentie and two.

39 And the asses were thirtie thousand and fise hundreth, whereof the Lords tribute was thre score and one:

40 And <sup>n</sup> of persones sixtene thousand, whereof <sup>y</sup> Lords tribute was two & thirtie persones.

41 And Mosés gaue <sup>y</sup> tribute of the Lords offering vnto Eleazár the Priest, as <sup>y</sup> Lord had commanded Mosés.

42 And of the <sup>o</sup> halfe of the children of Israël, which Mosés deuided from the men of warre, 43 (For the halfe that pertained vnto the Congregation) was thre hundreth thirtie and seuen thousand shepe and fise hundreth,

44 And six and thirtie thousand beues,

45 And thirtie thousand asses, and fise hundreth,

46 And sixtene thousand persones.

47 Mosés, I say, toke of the halfe that pertained vnto the <sup>p</sup> children of Israël, one taken out of fiftie, bothe of the persones & of the cattel, and gaue them vnto the Leuites, which haue the charge of the Tabernacle of the Lord, as the Lord had commanded Mosés.

48 ¶ Then the captaines which were ouer thousands of the hoste, the captaines ouer the thousands, and the captaines ouer the hundreds came vnto Mosés:

49 And said to Mosés, Thy seruants haue taken the summe of the men of warre which are vnder <sup>our</sup> autoritie, and there lacketh not one man of vs.

50 ¶ We haue therefore broght a present vnto the Lord, what euerie man founde of iewels of golde, bracelets, and cheines, rings, eare rings, and ornaments of the legs, to make an atonement for our soules before the Lord.

51 And Mosés and Eleazár the Priest toke the golde of them, and all wrought iewels.

52 And all the golde of <sup>y</sup> offering that they offred vp to the Lord, (of the captaines ouer thousands and hundreds) was sixtene thousand seuen hundreth & fiftie shekels,

53 (For the men of warre had spoiled, euerie man for him <sup>self</sup>)

54 And Mosés and Eleazár the Priest toke the golde of the captaines ouer the thousands, and ouer the hundreds, and broght it into the Tabernacle of the Congregation, for a <sup>memorial</sup> of the children of Israël before the Lord.

2 The request of the Reubenites and Gadites, 16 And their promise vnto Mosés. 20 Mosés granteth their request. 33 The Gadites, Reubenites, and halfe the tribe of Manassés, conquer and buyld cities on this side Iordan.

¶ NOW the children of <sup>a</sup> Reubén, and the children of Gád had an exceeding great multitude of cattel: and they sawe the land of Iazér, and the land of <sup>b</sup> Gileád, that it was an apt place for cattel.

dren of Reubén came, & spake vnto Moses and to Eleazar the Priest, and vnto the princes of the Congregation, saying,

3 The land of Ataróth, and Dibón, and Iazér, and Nimráh, and Heshbón, and Elealéh, and Shebám, and Nebó, and Beón,

4 Which countrey the Lord smote before the Congregation of Israël, is a land mete for cattel, and thy seruants haue cattel:

5 Wherefore, said thei, If we haue founde grace in thy sight, let this land be giuen vnto thy seruants for a possession, & bring vs not ouer Iordén.

6 And Moses said vnto the childre of Gad, and to the children of Reubén, Shal your brethien go to warre and ye tary here?

"Ebr. break."

7 Wherefore now? discourage ye y heart of the children of Israël, to go ouer into the land, which the Lord hath giuen the?

*Chap. 13, 24.
"Or, valley."*

8 Thus did your fathers when I sent them from Kadesh-barnea to see the land.
9 For * when they went vp euen vnto the ryuer of Eshcol, and sawe the land: they discouraged the heart of the children of Israël, that thei wolde not go into the lād, which the Lord had giuen them.

10 And the Lords wrath was kindled the same day, and he did sweare, saying,

*"Ebr. if any of the men."
Chap. 14, 28.*

11 "None of the men that came out of Egypt * from twentie yere olde and aboue, shal see the land for the which I swaie vnto Abraham, to Izhák, and to Iaakób, because thei haue not * wholie folowed me:

"Or, persecuted & sustained"

12 Except Caléb the sonne of Iephunnéh the Kenesite, & Ioshúa the sonne of Nun: for thei haue constantly folowed the Lord.

13 And the Lord was verie angry with Israël, and made them wander in the wilderness fortie yeres, vntil all the generacion that had done * euil in the sight of the Lord were consumed.

e Because thei murmured, neither wolde beleue their report, & tolde y truth as concerning y lād.

14 And beholde, ye are risen vp in your fathers steade as an increase of sinneful me, stil to augment the scarce wrath of the Lord, toward Israël.

15 For if ye turne away fró following him, he wil yet againe leaue the p. ople in y wilderness, and d ye shal destroye all this folke.

d By your occasion.

16 And thei went nere to him and said, We wil buylde shepe foldes here for d shepe, and for our cattel, and cities for our children.

17 But we our selues wil be ready armed to go before the children of Israël, vntil we haue broght them vnto their e place: but our children shal dwel in the defenced cities, because of the inhabitants of the land.

e In the land of Canaan.

18 We wil not returne vnto our houses, vntil the children of Israël haue inherited, euerie man his inheritance.

19 Nether wil we inherit with the beyode

Iordén and on that side, because our inheritance is fallen to vs on this side Iordén Eastward.

20 ¶ And Moses said vnto them, If ye wil do this thing, and go armed f before the Lord to warre:

*Iosh. 1, 13.
f Before the Arke of the Lord.*

21 And wil go euerie one of you in harnes ouer Iordén before the Lord, vntil he hath cast out his e enemies from his sight:

g That is, the inhabitants of the land.

22 And vntil the land be subdued before the Lord, then ye shal returne and be innocent toward the Lord, and toward Israël: and this land shalbe your possession h before the Lord.

h The Lord wil graunte you this land & ye require.

23 But if ye wil not do so, beholde, ye haue sinned against the Lord, and be sure, that your sinne i wil finde you out.

i Ye shal assuredly be punished for your sinne.

24 Builde you then cities for your children and foldes for your shepe, and do that ye haue spoken.

25 Then the children of Gad & the children of Reubén spake vnto Moses, sayig, Thy seruants wil do as my lord commandeth:

26 Our children, our wiues, our shepe, and all our cattel shal remaine there in the cities of Gileád, 27 But * thy seruants wil go euerie one armed to warre before the Lord for to fight, as my lord sayeth.

Iosh. 4, 12.

28 So concerning them, Moses * commanded Eleazar the Priest, & Ioshúa the sonne of Nun, and the chief fathers of the tribes of the children of Israël:

k Moses gave charge y his promises made to the Reubenites & others shal be performed after his death, so that thei breake not their.

29 And Moses said vnto them, If the children of Gad, and the children of Reubén, wil go with you ouer Iordén, all armed to fight before the Lord, then when the land is subdued before you, ye shal giue them the land of Gileád for a possession:

30 But if thei wil not go ouer with you armed, then thei shal haue their possessions among you in the land of Canaan.

31 And the children of Gad, and the children of Reubén answered, saying, As the Lord hath said vnto thy seruants, so wil we do.

l That is attributed to the Lord which his messenger speaketh.

32 We wil go armed before the Lord into the land of Canaan: that the possession of our inheritance may be to vs on this side Iordén.

33 * So Moses gaue vnto the, euen to the childre of Gad, & to the children of Reubén, & to half the tribe of Manasséh the sonne of Ioséph, y kingdome of Sihón King of the m Amorites, and the kingdome of Og, King of Bashán, the land with the cities thereof and coastes, euen the cities of the countrey round about.

*Deut. 3, 12.
Iosh. 13, 1 & 22, 4.*

34 ¶ Then the children of Gad buylt Dibón, and Ataróth, and Aroér, m The Amorites dwelled on both sides of Iordén: but here he maketh mention of them that dwelt on this side: & Iosh. 12, he speaketh of them that inhabited beyonde Iordén.

Unto the Levites are giuen cities and suburbs. 11 The cities of refuge. 16 The lawe of murder. 30 For one mans witnes shall no man be condemned.

1 And the Lord spake vnto Moses in y plaine of Moab by Iordan, toward Iericho, saying,

2 *Commande the children of Israel, that they giue vnto the Leuites of the inheritance of their possession, cities to dwell in: ye shall giue also vnto the Levites the suburbs of the cities round about them.

3 So they shall haue the cities to dwell in, & their suburbs shall be for their cattel, and for their substance, & for all their beastes.

4 And the suburbs of the cities, which ye shall giue vnto the Levites, from the wall of the citie outwarde, shall be a thousand cubites round about.

5 And ye shall measure without the citie of the Eastside, two thousand cubites: and of the Southside, two thousand cubites: & of the Westside, two thousand cubites: & of the Northside, two thousand cubites: & the citie shall be in the middes: this shall be the measure of the suburbs of their cities.

6 And of the cities which ye shall giue vnto the Levites, there shall be six cities for refuge, which ye shall appoint, that he which killeth, may flee thither: & to them ye shall adde two and fourty cities mo.

7 All the cities which ye shall giue to y Levites, shall be eight and fourty cities: them shall ye giue with their suburbs.

8 And concerning the cities which ye shall giue, of the possession of the children of Israel: of many ye shall take mo, and of fewe ye shall take lesse: euery one shall giue of his cities vnto the Levites, accord-ding to his inheritance, which he inheriteth.

9 ¶ And the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying, 10 Speake vnto the children of Israel, and say vnto them, * When ye be come ouer Iordan into the land of Canaan, 11 Ye shall appoint you cities, to be cities of refuge for you, that the slayer, which slayeth anie persone vnwares, may flee thither.

12 And these cities shall be for you a refuge from the auenger, that he which killeth, dye not, vntil he stand before the Congregation in iudgement.

13 And of the cities which ye shall giue, six cities shall ye haue for refuge.

14 Ye shall appoint thre * on this side Iordan, and ye shall appoint thre cities in the land of Canaan which shall be cities of refuge.

15 These six cities shall be a refuge for the children of Israel, and for the stranger, and for him that dwelleth among you, that euery one which killeth anie persone vnwares, may flee thither.

16 * And if one smite an other with an instrument of yron that he dye, he is a murderer, & the murderer shall dye y death.

17 Also if he smite him by casting a stone, wherewith he may be slaine, and he dye, he is a murderer, and the murderer shall dye the death.

18 Or if he smite him with an had weapon of wood, wherewith he may be slaine, if he dye, he is a murderer, and the murderer shall dye the death.

19 The reuenger of the blood him selfe shall slay the murderer: when he meteth him, he shall slay him.

20 But if he thrust him * of hate, or hurle at him by laying of wait, that he dye, 21 Or smite him through enemie with his hand, that he dye, he that smote him shall dye the death: for he is a murderer: the reuenger of the blood shall slay the murderer when he meteth him.

22 But if he pushed him vnadvisedly, and * not of hatred, or cast vpon him anie thing, without laying of wait,

23 Or anie stone (wherewith he might be slaine) and sawe him not, or caused it to fall vpon him, and he dye, & was not his enemie, neither sought him anie harme,

24 Then the Congregation shall iudge betwene the slayer & the auenger of blood according to these lawes.

25 And the Congregation shall deliuer the slayer out of the hand of the auenger of blood, and the Congregation shall restore him vnto the citie of his refuge, whither he was fled: and he shall abide there vnto the death of the hie Priest, which is anointed with the holy oyle.

a An ordre for the mariage of the daughters of Zelophehad: The inheritance colde not be giuen from one tribe to another.

Then a the chief fathers of the familie of the sonnes of Gilead, the sonne of Machir the sonne of Manasseh, of the families of the sonnes of Ioseph, came, and spake before Moses, and before the princes, the chief fathers of the children of Israel,

2. And said, * The Lord commanded b my lord to giue the land to inherite by lot to the children of Israel: and my lord was commanded by the Lord, to giue the inheritance of Zelophehad our brother vnto his daughters.

3. If they be married to anie of the sonnes of the other tribes of the children of Israel then shal their inheritance be taken away from the inheritance of our fathers, & shal be put vnto the inheritance of the tribe whereof they shalbe: so shal it be taken away from the lot of our inheritance.

4. Also when the Iubile of the children of Israel commeth, then shal their inheritance be put vnto the inheritance of the tribe whereof they shalbe. so shal their inheritance be take away from the inheritance of the tribe of our fathers.

5. Then Moses commanded the children of Israel, according to the worde of the Lord, saying, The tribe of the sonnes of Ioseph haue sayd wel.

6. This is the thing that the Lord hath commanded, concerning the daughters of Zelophehad, saying, They shal be wiues, to whome they thinke best, onely to the familie of the tribe of their father shal they mary:

7. So shal not the inheritance of the children of Israel remoue from tribe to tribe, for euerie one of the children of Israel shal ioine him selfe to the inheritance of the tribe of his fathers.

8. And euerie daughter that possesseth anie inheritance of the tribes of the children of Israel, shal be wife vnto one of the familie of the tribe of her father: that the children of Israel may enioye euerie man the inheritance of their fathers.

9. Nether shal the inheritance go about from tribe to tribe: but euerie one of the tribes of the children of Israel shal sticke to his owne inheritance.

10. As the Lord commanded Moses, so did the daughters of Zelophehad.

11. For * Mahlah, Tirzah, and Hoglah, and Milcāh, and Noāh the daughters of Zelophehad were married vnto their fathers brothers sonnes, 12. They were wyues to certaine of the families of the sonnes of Manasseh the sonne of Ioseph: so their inheritance remained in the tribe of the familie of their father.

THE FIFTH BOKE OF

Mosés, called* Deuteronomie.

THE ARGUMENT.

THe wonderfull loue of God toward his Church is lively set forth in this boke. For albeit through their ingratitude and sundry rebellions against God, for the space of forty yeres, Deu. 9, 7, they had deserved to haue bene cut off from the nōber of his people, and for euer to haue bene deprived of the vse of his holy wordes, & sacraments: yet he did euer preserue his Church euen for his owne mercies sake, and wolde stil haue his Name called vpon among them. Wherefore he bringeth them into the land of Canaan, destroyeth their enemies, giueth them their countrey, townes, and goodes, and exhorteth them by the example of their fathers (whose infidelitie, idolatrie, adulteries, murmurings and rebellion, he had moste sharply punished) to feare and obey the Lord, to embrace and kepe his Lawe without adding ther vnto or diminishing there from. For by his worde he wolde be knowē to be their God, and they his people: by his worde he wolde governe his Church, and by the same they shoulde learne to obey him: by his worde he wolde discerne the false Prophet from the true, light from darknes, error from knollage, and his owne people from all other nations and infiteles: teaching them therely to refuse and detest, destroy and abolish whatsoever is not agreeable to his holy wil: seme it otherwise neuer so good or precious in the eyes of man. And for this cause, God promised to raise vp Kings and gouernours for the setting forth of this worde and preseruation of his Church: giuing vnto them an especial charge for the executing thereof: whome therefore he willett to exercise them selues diligently in the continual studie and meditation of the same: that they might learne to feare the Lord, loue their subiects, abhorre conuocions and vice, and whatsoever offendeth the maiestie of God. And as he had to fore instructed their fathers in all things appertaining, both to his spiritual service, and also for the maintenance of that societie which is betwene men: so he prescribeth here anewe, all suche Lawes and ordinances, which ether concerne his Diuine service, or els are necessarie for a comon weale: appointing vnto euery estate and degre their charge and duetie: aswel, how to rule and lue in the feare of God, as to nourish friendship toward their neighbours, and to reserue that ordre which God hath established among men: threatening with all, moste horrible plagues to them that transgresse his commandements, and promising all blessings & felicitie to suche as obserue and obey them.

- 3 And it came to passe in the first day of the eleuenth moneth, in the forteth yere, that Mosēs spake vnto the children of Israel according vnto al that the Lord had giue him in commandement vnto them,
- 4 After that he had slaine Sihōn the King of y Amorites which dwelt in Heshbōn, and Og King of Bashān, which dwelt at Ashtarōth in Edrēi.
- 5 On this side Iordē in the land of Moāb begā Mosēs to declare this Law, saying,
- 6 The Lord our God spake vnto vs in Horēb, saying, Ye haue dwelt long ynough in this mount,
- 7 Turne you and departe, and go vnto the

- 8 Beholde, I haue set the land before you: go in and * possesse that land which the Lord sware vnto your fathers, Abraham, Izhāk, and Iaakōb, to giue vnto the and to their sede after them.
- 9 ¶ And I spake vnto you the same time, saying, I am not able to beare you my selfe alone:
- 10 The Lord your God hathe multiplied you: & beholde, ye are this day as the starres of heauen in number:
- 11 (The Lord God of your fathers make you a thousand times so manie mo as ye are, and blesse you, as he hathe promised you)
- 12 How cā I alone i beare your cumbrance and your charge, and your strife?
- 13 Bring you men of wisdom and of vnderstanding, and * knowen among your tribes, and I wil make them rulers ouer you:
- 14 Then ye answered me & said, The thing is good that thou hast cōmanded vs to do.
- 15 So I toke the chief of your tribes, I wise and knowen mē, and made the rulers ouer

<sup>14</sup> The <sup>g</sup> space also wherein we came from Kadesh-barnéa vntil we were come ouer the riuer Zeréd, <sup>h</sup> was eight and thirtie yeres, vntil all the generacion of the men of warre were wasted out from among the hoste, as the Lord sware vnto them.

<sup>15</sup> For in dede the <sup>i</sup> hand of the Lord was against them, to destroye them frö amög the hoste, til they were consumed.

<sup>17</sup> Then the Lord spake vnto me, saying, Thou shalt go through Ar the coast of Moäb this day:

<sup>26</sup> Then I sent messengers out of the wilderness of Kedemöth vnto Sihön King of Heshbön, with wordes of peace, saying,

<sup>28</sup> Thou shalt sel me meat for money, for to eat, and shalt giue me water for money for to drinke: onely I wil go through on my fote, <sup>29</sup> (As the <sup>m</sup> children of Esäu which dwelt in Seir, and the Moabites which dwelt in Ar, did vnto me) vntil I be come ouer Iordén, into the land which y Lord our God giueth vs.

<sup>30</sup> But Sihön the King of Heshbön wolde not let vs passe by him: for the Lord thy God had <sup>n</sup> hardened his spirit, and made his heart obstinat, because he wolde deliuer him into thine hand, as appeareth this day.

5 All these cities were fenced with hie walles, gates and barres, beside<sup>b</sup> vnwalled townes<sup>a</sup> a great many.

6 And we ouerthrew them, as we did vnto Sihón King of Heshbón, destroying euerie citie, with men, <sup>c</sup>women, & children.

CHAP. IIII.

An exhortacion to obserue the Lawe without adding thereto or diminishing. 6 Therein standeth our wisdom. 9 We must teache it to our children. 15 No image ought to be made to worship. 26 Threatenings against them that forsake the Law of God. 37 God chose the sede because he loued their fathers. 43 The three cities of refuge.

NOW therefore hearken, o Israel, vnto the ordinances and to the lawes w<sup>h</sup> I teache you to <sup>a</sup> do, that ye may liue and go in, & possesse the land, which the Lord God of your fathers giueth you.

2 Ye shal <sup>b</sup> put nothing vnto the worde which I commande you, nether shal ye take ought there from, that ye may kepe the commandements of the Lord your God which I commande you.

3 Your <sup>d</sup> eyes haue sene what the Lord did because of Baal-Peór, for all the men that followed Baal-Peór, the Lord thy God hath destroyed euerie one frō amōg you.

4 But ye that did cleaue vnto <sup>y</sup> Lord your God, are aliue euerie one of you this day.

5 Beholde, I haue taught you ordinances, and lawes, as the Lord my God commanded me, that ye shulde do euen so with in the land whither ye go to possesse it.

6 Kepe them therefore, and do them: for that is your <sup>f</sup> wisdom, and your vnderstanding in the sight of the people, which shal heare all these ordinances, and shal say, <sup>g</sup> Onely this people is wise, and of vnderstanding and a great nacion.

7 For what nacion is so great, vnto whome the gods come so nere vnto them, as the Lord our God is <sup>h</sup> nere vnto vs, in all that we call vnto him for?

8 And what nacion is so great, that hath ordinances and lawes so righteous, as all this Lawe, which I set before you this day?

9 But take hede to thy selfe, and <sup>i</sup> kepe thy soule diligently, that thou forget not the things which thine eyes haue sene, & that they departe not out of thine heart, all the daies of thy life: but teache the thy sonnes, and thy sonnes sonnes:

10 Forget not the day that thou stodest before the Lord thy God in Horéb, when <sup>y</sup> Lord said vnto me, Gather me the people together, and I wil cause them heare my wordes, that they may learne to feare me all the dayes that they shal liue vpon the earth, and that they may teache their children:

11 Then came you nere & <sup>k</sup> stode vnder the mountaine & the mountaine <sup>l</sup> burnt with fire vnto the middes of heauen, and there was darcknes, cloudes and mist.

12 And the Lord spake vnto you out of the middes of the fire, and ye heard the voyce of the wordes, but sawe no similitude, saue a voyce.

13 Then he declared vnto you his couenant which he commanded you to <sup>k</sup> do, euen the ten commandements, and wrote them vpon two tables of stone.

14 And the Lord commanded me that same time, that I shulde teache you ordinances and lawes, which ye shulde obserue in the land, whither ye go, to possesse it.

15 Take therefore good hede vnto your selues: for ye sawe no <sup>l</sup> image in the day that the Lord spake vnto you in Horéb out of the middes of the fire:

16 That ye corrupt not your selues, & make you a grauen image or representacion of anie figure: <sup>m</sup> whither it be the likenes of male or female,

17 The likenes of anie beast that is on earth or the likenes of anie fethered foule that flieth in the aire:

18 Or the likenes of anie thing that crepeth on the earth, or the likenes of anie fish that is in the waters beneth the earth, 19 And lest thou lift vp thine eyes vnto heauen, and when thou seest the sunne and the moone and the starres with all the hoste of heauen, shuldest be driuen to worship them and serue them, which the Lord thy God hath <sup>n</sup> distributed to all people vnder the whole heauen.

20 But the Lord hath take you and brought you out of the <sup>o</sup> yron fornace: out of Egypt to be vnto him a people and inheritance, as appeareth this day.

21 And the Lord was angry with me for your wordes, and sware that I shulde not go ouer Iordén, & that I shulde not go in vnto that good land, which the Lord thy God giueth thee for an inheritance.

22 For I must dye in this land, and shal not go ouer Iordén: but <sup>p</sup> ye shal go ouer, and possesse that good land.

23 Take hede vnto your selues, lest ye forget the couenant of the Lord your God w<sup>h</sup> he made with you, & lest ye make you anie grauen image, or likenes of anie thing, as the Lord thy God hath charged thee.

24 For the Lord thy God is a consuming fire, and a ielous God.

25 ¶ When thou shalt beget children and childrens children, and shalt haue remained long in the land, if ye corrupt your selues, and make anie grauen image, or likenes of anie thing, and worke euil in the sight of the Lord thy God, to prouoke him to angre,

26 I call heauen and earth to recorde against you this day, that ye shal shortly perish from the land, whereunto ye go ouer Iorden to possesse it: ye shal not prolong your daies therein, but shal vtterly be destroyed.

27 And the Lord shal scatter you among the people, & ye shalbe left fewe in number among the nacions, whether the Lord shal bring you:

28 And there ye shal serue gods, euen the worke of mans hand, wood, & stone, which nether se, nor heare, nor eat, nor smel.

29 But if from thence thou shalt seke the Lord thy God, thou shalt finde him, if thou seke him with all thine heart, and with all thy soule.

30 When thou art in tribulacion, and all these things are come vpon thee, at the length, if thou returne to the Lord thy God, and be obedient vnto his voyce, 31 (For the Lord thy God is a merciful God) he wil not forsake thee, nether destroye thee nor forget the couenant of thy fathers, which he sware vnto them.

32 For inquire now of the daies y are past, which were before thee, since the day that God created man vpon the earth, and aske from the one end of heauē vnto the other, if there came to passe suche a great thing as this, or whether anie suche like thing hath bene heard.

33 Did euer people heare y voyce of God speaking out of the middes of a fire, as thou hast heard, and liued?

34 Or hath God assayed to go & take him a nacion from among nacions, by tentacions, by signes, and by wonders, and by warre, and by a mighty hand, & by a stretched out arme, and by great feare, according vnto all that the Lord your God did vnto you in Egypt before your eyes?

35 Vnto thee it was shewed, that thou mightest knowe, that the Lord he is God, and that there is none but he alone.

36 Out of heauē he made thee heare his voyce to instruct thee, & vpo earth he shewed thee his great fire, and thou heardest his voyce out of the middes of the fire.

37 And because he loued thy fathers, therefore he chose their sede after them, and hath brought thee out of Egypt in his sight, by his mighty power, 38 To thrust out nacions greater and mightier the thou, before thee, to bring thee in, and to giue thee their land for inheritance: as appeareth this day.

39 Vnderstand therefore this day, and consider in thine heart, that y Lord, he is God in heauen aboue, and vpon the earth beneth: there is none other.

40 Thou shalt kepe therefore his ordinances, and his commandements which I commande thee this day, that it may go wel with thee, and with thy childre after thee, and that thou maiest prolong thy dayes vpon the earth, which the Lord thy God giueth thee for euer.

41 ¶ Then Moses separated thre cities on this side of Iorden toward the sonne rising:

42 That the slayer shulde flee thither, which had killed his neighbour at vnwares, and hated him not in time past, might flee, I say, vnto one of those cities, and liue:

43 That is, * Bézer in the wildernes, in the plaine countrey of the Reubenites: and Ramoth in Gilead among the Gadites: & Golán in Bashán among them of Manasséh.

44 ¶ So this is the lawe which Moses set before the children of Israël.

45 These are the witnesses, and the ordinances, and the lawes which Moses declared to the children of Israël after they came out of Egypt,

46 On this side Iorden, in the valey ouer against Beth-peór, in the land of Sihón King of the Amorites, which dwelt at Hesbón, whome Moses and the children of Israël smote, after they were come out of Egypt:

47 And they possessed his land, and the lād of * Og King of Bashán, two Kings of the Amorites, which were on this side Iorden toward the sonne rising:

48 From Aroér, which is by the banke of the riuer Arnón, euen vnto mount Sión, which is Hermón, 49 And all the plaine by Iorden Estward, euen vnto the Sea, of the plaine, vnder the * springs of pishgah.

8 And thou shalt binde them for a signe vpon thine hand, and they shalbe <sup>d</sup> as frontlets betwene thine eyes.

9 Also thou shalt write them vpon the <sup>d</sup> postes of thyne house, and vpon thy gates.

10 And when the Lord thy God hath brought thee into the land, which he swa-

12 ¶ For if ye hearken vnto these lawes, and obserue and do them, then the Lord thy God shal kepe with thee the couenant, & the <sup>f</sup> mercy which he sware vnto thy fathers.

13 And he wil loue thee, and blesse thee, & multiplie thee: he wil also blesse the frute of thy wombe, and the frute of thy land: thy corne and thy wine, and thine oyle & the increase of thy kine, and the flocks of thy shepe in the land, which he sware vnto thy fathers to giue thee.

14 Thou shalt be blessed aboue all people: *there shalbe nether male nor female barē among you, nor among your catrel.

15 Moreover, the Lord wil take away from thee all infirmities, and wil put none of the euil diseases of *Egypt (which y<sup>e</sup> knowest) vpon thee, but wil send them vpon all that hate thee.

16 Thou shalt therefore consume all people which the Lord thy God shal giue thee: <sup>g</sup> thine eie shal not spare them, nether shalt thou serue their gods, for that shalbe thy *destruction.

17 If thou say in thine heart, These nations are mo then I, how can I cast them out?

18 Thou shalt not feare them, but remember what y<sup>e</sup> Lord thy God did vnto Pha-araoh, and vnto all Egypt:

19 The great tentacions which thine eyes sawe, and the signes and wonders, and the mightie hand & stretched out arme, whereby the Lord thy God brought thee out: so shal the Lord thy God do vnto all the people, whose face thou fearest.

20 *Moreover, the Lord thy God wil send <sup>h</sup> hornettes among them vntil they that are left, and hide them selues from thee, be destroyed.

21 Thou shalt not feare them: for the Lord thy God is among you, a God mighty & dreadful.

22 And the Lord thy God wil roote out these nations before thee by litle and litle: thou maist not consume them at once, lest the <sup>i</sup> beastes of the field increase vpon thee.

23 But the Lord thy God shal giue them before thee, and shal destroy them with a mighty destruction, vntil they be brought to nought.

24 And he shal deliuer their Kings into thine hand, and thou shalt destroy their name from vnder heauen: there shal no man be able to stand before thee, vntil thou hast destroyed them.

25 The grauen images of their gods shal ye burne with fire, and *couet not the siluer and golde, that is on them, nor take it vnto thee, lest thou <sup>k</sup> be snared therewith: for it is an abomination before the Lord thy God.

26 Bring not therefore abomination into thine house, lest thou be accursed like it, but vtterly abhorre it, and counte it moste abominable: for it is *accursed.

6 Therefore shalt thou kepe the commandements of the Lord thy God, that thou maicst walke in his wayes, and feare him.

7 For the Lord thy God bringeth thee into a good land, a lād in the which are riuers of water and fountaines, & depths that spring out of valeis and mountaines:

8 A land of wheat and barley, and of vineyardes, and figtrees, & pomgranates: a lād of oyle oliue and honey:

9 A lād wherein thou shalt eat bread without scarcetie, nether shalt thou lacke anie thing therein: a lād whose stones are yro, & out of whose mountains thou shalt digge brasle.

10 And when thou hast eaten and filled thy self, thou shalt blesse the Lord thy God for the good land, which he hath giuen thee.

11 Beware that thou forget not the Lord thy God, not keping his commandemēts, and his lawes, and his ordinances, which I commande thee this day:

12 Left when thou hast eaten and filled thy self, & hast buylt goodly houses & dwelt therein,

13 And thy beastes, and thy shepe are increased, and thy siluer and golde is multiplied, & all that thou hast is encreased,

14 Then thine heart<sup>h</sup> be lifted vp and thou forget the Lord thy God, which brought thee out of the land of Egypt, from the house of bondage,

15 Who was thy guide in the great and terrible wildernes (wherein were firy serpēts, and scorpions, and drought, where was no water, who brought forth the water for thee, out of the rocke of flinte:

16 Who fed thee in y wildernes with*MAN, which thy fathers knewe not, ) to humble thee, and to proue thee, that he might do thee good at thy latter end.

17 Beware lest thou say in thine heart, My power, and the strength of mine owne hād hath prepared me this abundance.

18 But remember the Lord thy God: for it is he which<sup>i</sup> giueth thee power to get substance to establishe his couenāt which he sware vnto thy fathers, as appeareth this day.

19 And if thou forget the Lord thy God, and walke after other gods, & serue them, and worship them, I<sup>k</sup> testifie vnto you this day that ye shal surely perish.

20 As the naciōs which the Lord destroyeth before you, so ye shal perish, because ye wolde not be obedient vnto the voyce of the Lord your God.

4 God doeth them not good for their owne righteousness, but for his owne sake. 7 Moses putteth them in remembrance of their sinnes. 17 The two tables are broken. 26 Moses prayeth for the people.

1 H Eare o Israēl, Thou shalt passe o-uer Iordē<sup>a</sup> this day, to go in to possesse naciōs greater & mightier then thy selfe, & cities great & walled vp to heauen,

2 A people great and tall, euē the children of the Anakims, whome thou knowest, and of whome thou hast<sup>b</sup> heard say, Who can stand before the children of Anāk?

3 Vnderstand therefore that this day the Lord thy God is he which<sup>c</sup> goeth ouer before thee as a consuming fire: he shal destroy them, and he shal bring them downe before thy face: so thou shalt cast thē out and destroy them sodenly, as y Lord hath said vnto thee.

4 Speake not thou in thine heart (after that the Lord thy God hath cast them out before thee) saying, For my<sup>d</sup> righteousness y Lord hath brought me in, to possesse this land: but for y wickednes of these naciōs the Lord hath cast them out before thee.

5 For thou entrest not to inherit their land for thy righteousness, or for thy vpright heart, but for the wickednes of those naciōs, the Lord thy God doeth cast thē out before thee, and that he might perfourme the worde which the Lord thy God sware vnto thy fathers, Abraham, Izhāk, and Iakōb.

6 Vnderstand therefore, that the Lord thy God giueth thee not this good land to possesse it for thy righteousness: for thou art a<sup>e</sup> stifnecked people.

7 Remember, & forget not, how y prouokedst the Lord thy God to angre in the wildernes: since the day that thou didst depart out of the land of Egypt, vntil ye came vnto this place ye haue rebelled against the Lord.

8 Also in Horēb ye prouoked the Lord to angre so that y Lord was wroth with you, euē to destroy you.

9 When I was gone vp in to the mount, to receiue the tables of stone, the tables, I say, of y couenāt, which the Lord made with you: and I abode in the moūt forty dayes and fortie nightes, & I nether ate bread nor yet dranke water:

10 Then the Lord deliuered me two tables of stone, written with the<sup>g</sup> finger of God, and in them was contained according to all the wordes which the Lord had said vnto you in the mounte out of the middes of the fire, in the day of the assemblie.

11 And when the fortie dayes and fortie nightes were ended, the Lord gaue me the two tables of stone, the tables, I say, of the coue-

12 And the Lord said vnto me, * Arise, get thee downe quickly from hence: for thy people which thou hast brought out of Egypt, haue <sup>h</sup> corrupt their wayes: thei are sone turned out of the way, which I commanded them: thei haue made the a molten image.

13 Furthermore, the Lord spake vnto me, saying, I haue sene this people, and beholde, it is a stifnecked people.

14 Let me alone, that I may destroye the, and put out their name from vnder heauē, and I wil make of thee a mightie nation, and greater then thei be.

15 So I returned, and came downe from the Mount (& the Mount burnt with fire, and the two Tables of the couenāt were in my two hands)

16 Then I looked, & beholde, ye had sinned agāst the Lord your God: for ye had made you a moltē calf, and had turned quickly out of the * way which the Lord had commanded you.

17 Therefore I toke the two Tables, & cast them out of my two hands, and brake the before your eies.

18 And I sel downe before the Lord, fortie daies, and fortie nights, as before: I nether ate bread nor dranke water, because of all your sinnes, which ye had committed, in doing wickedly in the sight of y Lord, in that ye prouoked him vnto wrath.

19 (For I was afraied of the wrath and indignacion, wherewith the Lord was moued agāst you, euen to destroye you) yet the Lord heard me at that time also.

20 Likewise the Lord was verie angry with Aarōn, euen to <sup>1</sup> destroye him: but at that time I praied also for Aarōn.

21 And I toke your sinne, <sup>i</sup> meane the calfe which ye had made, and burnt him with fire, and stamped him and grounde him smale, euen vnto verie dust: and I cast the dust thereof into the riuer, that descended out of the <sup>m</sup> Mount.

22 Also * in Taberāh, and in * Massāh * and in Kibrothhattaauāh ye prouoked y Lord to angre.

23 Likewise when the Lord sent you from Kadesh-barnēa, saying, Go vp, and possesse the land which I haue giuen you, the ye <sup>n</sup> rebelled agāst the commandemēt of the Lord your God, and bekued him not, nor hearkened vnto his voyce.

24 Ye haue bene rebellious vnto the Lord, since the daie that I knewe you.

25 Then I sel downe before the Lord <sup>o</sup> fortie daies and fortie nights, as I sel downe before, because the Lord had said, that he wolde destroye you.

26 And I praied vnto the Lord, and said, O Lord God, destroye not thy people & thine inheritance, which thou hast redeemed through thy greatnes whome y hast brought out of Egypt by a mightie hand.

27 Remember thy seruants Abraham, Ishāk, and Iaakōb: loke not to the stuburnes of this people, nor to their wickednes, nor to their sinne, 28 Lest the countrey, whence thou broughtest them, say, * Because the Lord was not able to bring them into the land which he promised them, or because he hated them, he caried them out, to slaye them in the wilderness.

29 Yet thei are thy people, and thine inheritance, which thou broughtest out by thy mightie power, and by thy stretched out arme.

1 IN the same time the Lord said vnto me, * Hewe thee two Tables of stone lyke vnto the first, and come vp vnto me into the Mount, and make thee an Arke of wood,

2 And I wil write vpon y Tables the wordes that were vpon the first Tables, which thou brakest, and thou shalt put them in the Arke.

3 And I made an Arke of <sup>a</sup> shittim wood, and hewed two Tables of stone like vnto the first, and went vp into the Mountaine, and the two Tables in mine hand.

4 Then he wrote vpon the Tables according to the first writing (the ten commandements, which the Lord spake vnto you in the Mount out of the middes of the fire, in the daye of the <sup>b</sup> assemblie) and the Lord gaue them vnto me.

1 An exhortacion to loue God, and kepe his Lawe. 10 The praises of Canaan. 18 To meditate continually the worde of God. 19 To teache it vnto the children. 26 Blessing, and cursing.

¶ Therefore thou shalt loue the Lord thy God, and shalt kepe that, which he commandeth to be kept: that is, his ordinances, and his Lawes, and his commandements alwaie.

k Ye, which haue sene Gods graces w your eies, ought rather to be moued, the your children, w haue onely heard of the.

2 And a consider this day (for I speake not to your children, which haue nether knowne nor sene) the chastisement of the Lord your God, his greatnes, his mightie hand, and his stretched out arme,

3 And his signes, and his actes, which he did in the middes of Egypt vnto Pharaoh the King of Egypt and vnto all his land:

4 And what he did vnto the hoste of the Egyptians, vnto their horses and to their charrets, when he caused the waters of the red Sea to ouerfloe them, as thei pursued after you, and the Lord destroyed them vnto this day:

5 And b what he did vnto you in the wilderness, vntil ye came vnto this place:

b As wel concerning his benedictions, as his corrections.

6 And what he did vnto Dathan and Abiram the sonnes of Eliab the sonne of Reuben, when the earth opened her mouth, and swallowed them with their householdes and their tents, and all their substance that thei had in the middes of all Israél.

c Elr. was of their fen.

7 For your eies haue sene all the great actes of the Lord which he did.

8 Therefore shal ye kepe c all the commandements, which I commande you this day, that ye may be strong, and go in and possesse the land whether ye go to possesse it:

c Because ye haue teleboke his chastisements and his benedictions.

9 Also that ye may prolong your daies in the land, which the Lord swaue vnto your fathers, to giue vnto them and to their sede, even a land that floweth with milke and honie.

10 ¶ For the land whether thou goest to possesse it, is not as the land of Egypt, frō whence ye came, where thou sowedst thy sede, and wateredst it with thy d fete as a garden of herbes:

d Or, labour. d As by making gutters for the water to come out of the river Nile to water the land.

11 But the land whether ye go to possesse it, is a land of mountaines and valleis, & drinketh water of the raine of heauen.

12 This land doeth the Lord thy God care for: the eies of the Lord thy God are alwaies vpon it, from the beginning of the yere, even vnto the end of the yere.

13 ¶ If ye shal hearken therefore vnto my commandements, which I commande you this day, that ye loue the Lord your God & serue him with all your heart, and with all your soule, 14 I also wil giue raine vnto your land in due time, e the first raine and the latter, that thou maiest gather in thy wheat, and thy wine, and thine oyle.

e In the fode time, & toward harvest.

15 Also I wil sed grasse in thy fields for thy cattel, that thou maiest eat, and haue ynough.

16 But beware lest your heart f deceaue you, and lest ye turne aside, and serue other gods, and worship them, f By diuining to your selues foolish deuotions according to your owne fantasies.

17 And so y angre of the Lord be kindled against you, and he shut vp the heauen, that there be no raine, and that your land yelde not her frute, & ye perish quickly from from the good land, which the Lord giueth you.

18 ¶ Therefore shal ye lay vp these my wordes in your heart & in your soule, & binde them for a signe vpon your hand, y they maie be as a frontlet betwene your eyes, 19 And ye shal teache them your children, speaking of the, when thou sittest in thine house, and when thou walkest by the waie, and when thou liest downe, and when thou risest vp.

20 And thou shalt write them vpon the postes of thine house, & vpon thy gates, 21 That your dayes maie be multiplied, & the dayes of your children, in the land w the Lord sware vnto your fathers to giue them, as long as the heauens are about the earth.

22 ¶ For if ye kepe diligently all these commandements, which I commande you to do: that is, to loue the Lord your God to walke in all his waies, & to cleaue vnto hi, 23 Then wil the Lord cast out all these nations before you, and ye shal possesse great nations and mightier then you.

24 ¶ All the places where the soles of your fete shal treade, shalbe yours: your coast shalbe from the wildernes. and from Lebanon, and from the Riuer, even the riuer Perath, vnto the vttermost Sea.

25 No man shal stand against you: for the Lord your God shal cast the feare and dread of you vpon all the lād that ye shal tread vpon, as he hath said vnto you.

26 ¶ Beholde, I set before you this day a blessing and a curse:

27 ¶ The blessing, if ye obey the commandements of the Lord your God which I commande you this day:

28 And y curse, if ye wil not obey the commandements of the Lord your God, but turne out of the way, which I commande you this day, to go after other gods, w ye haue not knowen.

29 ¶ Whē the Lord thy God therefore hath brought thee into the land, whether thou goest to possesse it, then thou shalt put the blessing vpon mount Gerizim, and the curse vpon mount Ebāl.

30 Are they not beyende Iordē on y parte, where the sunne goeth downe in the land of the Canaanites, which dwel in the plaine ouer against Gilgāl, beside the groue of Morēh?

31 For ye shal passe ouer Iordē, to go in to possesse the land, which the Lord your God giueth you, and ye shal possesse it, & dwel therein.

32 Take hede therefore that ye do all the commandements and the lawes, which I set before you this day.

3 ¶ Also ye shal ouerthrowe their altars, & breake downe their pillers, & burne their groues with fire: & ye shal hewe downe the grauen images of their gods, & abolish their names out of that place.

4 Ye shal not so do vnto the Lord your God,

5 But ye shal seke the place which the Lord your God shal chose out of all your tribes, to put his Name there, & there to dwel, and thether thou shalt come,

6 And ye shal bring thether your burnt offrings, and your sacrifices, & your tithes, & the offering of your hands, & your vowes, & your fre offrings & the first borne of your kine & of your shepe.

8 Ye shal not do after all these things y we do here this day: that is, euerie man whatsoever semeth him good in his owne eyes.

9 For ye are not yet come to rest, & to y inheritace w the Lord thy God giueth thee.

11 When there shalbe a place which y Lord your God shal chose, to cause his Name to dwel there, thether shal ye bring all that I commande you: your burnt offrings, & your sacrifices, your tithes, and the offering of your hands, and all your special vowes which ye vow vnto the Lord:

12 And ye shal reioyce before y Lord your God, ye, & your sonnes & your daughters, & your seruants, and your maidens, and y Leuite that is within your gates: for he hath no parte nor inheritance with you.

13 Take hede that thou offer not thy burnt offrings in euerie place that thou seest:

When thou shalt go forth to warre against thine enemies, & shalt use horses and charrets, and people more than thou, be not afraid of them: for the Lord thy God is with thee, which brought thee out of the land of Egypt.

2 And when ye are come nere vnto the battel, then the Priest shall come forth to speake vnto the people,

3 And shall say vnto them, Heare, o Israel: ye are come this day vnto battel against your enemies: let not your hearts faint, neither feare, nor be amazed, nor adread of them.

4 For the Lord your God is goeth with you, to fight for you against your enemies, and to saue you.

5 ¶ And let the officers speake vnto y people, saying, What man is there that hath bought a newe house, and hath not dedicated it? let him go and returne to his house lest he dye in the battel, and another man dedicate it.

6 And what man is there that hath planted a vineyard, and hath not eaten of the frute? let him go and returne againe vnto his house, lest he dye in the battel, & another eat the frute.

7 And what man is there that hath betrothed a wife, and hath not taken her? let him go and returne againe vnto his house, lest he dye in battel, and another man take her.

8 And let the officers speake further vnto the people, & say, ¶ Whosoever is afraid and faint hearted, let him go and returne vnto his house, lest his brethrens heart faint like his heart.

9 And after y the officers haue made an end of speaking vnto the people, thei shall make captaines of the armie to gouerne the people.

10 ¶ When thou comest nere vnto a citie to fight against it, thou shalt offer it peace.

11 And if it answer thee againe peaceably, and open vnto thee, then let all the people that is founde therein, be tributaries vnto thee, and serue thee.

12 But if it wil make no peace with thee, but make warre against thee, then thou shalt besiege it.

13 And the Lord thy God shall deliuer it into thine hands, and thou shalt smite all the males thereof with the edge of the sworde.

14 Onely the women, and the children, & the cattel, and all that is in the citie, even all the spoile thereof shalt thou take vnto thy self, and shalt eat the spoile of thine enemies, which the Lord thy God hath giuen thee.

19 ¶ When thou hast besieged a citie long time, and made warre against it to take it, destroye not the trees thereof, by smiting an axe into them: for thou maiest eat of them: therefore thou shalt not cut them downe to further thee in the siege (for the tree of the field is mans life) maides virginie vnto the Elders of the citie to the gate.

16 And the maides father shal say vnto the Elders, I gaue my daughter vnto this mā to wife, and he hateth her:

17 And so he laieth slanderous things vnto her charge; sayig, I found not thy daughter a maid: lo, these are the tokens of my daughters virginie: and they shal spreade y<sup>e</sup> vesture before the Elders of the citie.

18 The Elders of the citie shal take that man and chastice him, 19 And shal condemne him in an hundred shekels of siluer, and giue them vnto the father of y<sup>e</sup> maid; because he hathe brought vp an euil name vpon a maid of Israël: & she shal be his wife, & he may not put her away all his life.

20 ¶ But if this thing be true, that the maide be not found a virgin, 21 Then they shal bring forth the maide to the dore of her fathers house, and the men of her citie shal stone her with stones to death: for she hathe wrought follie in Israël, by playing the whore in her fathers house: so thou shalt put euil away from among you.

22 ¶ If a man be found lying with a woman married to a man, then they shal dye euen bothe twaine: to wit, the man that lay with the wife, and the wife: so thou shalt put away euil from Israël.

23 ¶ If a maide be betrothed vnto an husband, and a man finde her in the towne and lie with her,

24 Then shal ye bring them bothe out vnto y<sup>e</sup> gates of the same citie, and shal stone them with stones to death: the maide because she cryed not, being in the citie, and y<sup>e</sup> man, because he hathe humbled his neighbours wife: so thou shalt put away euil from among you.

25 ¶ But if a man finde a betrothed maide in the field, and force her, and lye with her, then the man that lay with her, shal dye alone:

26 And vnto the maide thou shalt do nothing, because there is in the maide no cause of death: for as when a man riseth against his neighbour and wondeth him to death, so is this matter.

27 For he found her in the fields: the betrothed maide cryed, and there was no man to succour her.

28 ¶ If a man finde a maide that is not betrothed, and take her; and lye with her, & they be founde, 29 Then the man that lay with her, shal giue vnto the maides father fifty shekels of siluer: and she shal be his wife, because he hathe humbled her: he can not put her away all his life.

30 ¶ No man shal take his fathers wife, nor shal vncover his fathers skirt.

CHAP. XXIII.

1 What men might not be admitted to office. 2 What they ought to auoide when they go to warre. 3 Of the fugitiue seruant. 4 To flee all kinde of whoredome. 5 Of vsurie. 6 Of vovues. 7 Of the neighbours Vine and corne.

1 None that is hurt by buisling, or that hathe his priue membre cut of, shal entre into the Congregation of the Lord.

2 A bastard shal not entre into the Congregation of the Lord: euen to his tenth generacion shal he not entre into the Congregation of the Lord.

3 The Ammonites and the Moabites shal not entre into the Congregation of the Lord: euen to their tenth generacion shal they not entre into the Congregation of the Lord for euer,

4 Because they met you not with bread and water in the way, when ye came out of Egypt, and because they hired against thee Balaam the sonne of Beor, of Pethor in Aram-naharaim, to curse thee.

5 Neuertheles, the Lord thy God wolde not hearken vnto Balaam, but the Lord thy God turned the curse to a blessing vnto thee, because the Lord thy God loued thee.

6 Thou shalt not seke their peace nor their prosperitie all thy daies for euer.

7 ¶ Thou shalt not abhorre an Edomite: for he is thy brother, nether shalt thou abhorre an Egyptian, because thou wast a stranger in his land.

8 The children that are begotten of the in their third generacion, shal entre into the Congregation of the Lord.

9 ¶ When thou goest out with the hoste against thine enemies, kepe thee then from all wickednes.

10 ¶ If there be among you anie that is vncleane by that which commeth to him by night, he shal go out of the hoste, and shal not entre into the hoste, 11 But at euen he shal wash him selfe with water, and when the sunne is downe, he shal entre into the hoste.

12 ¶ Thou shalt haue a place also without the hoste whether thou shalt resort;

13 And thou shalt haue a paddle among thy weapōs, and when thou woldest sit downe without, thou shalt dig therewith, and returning thou shalt couer thine excrements.

14 For the Lord thy God walketh in the middes of thy campe to deliuer thee, and to giue thee thine enemies before thee: therefore thine hoste shal be holy, that he se no filthy thing in thee and turne away from thee.

15 ¶ Thou shalt not deliuer the seruant vnto his master, which is escaped from his master

1 Diuorcement is permitted. 5 He that is newly married is exempted from warre. 6 Of the pledge. 14 Wages must not be retained. 16 The good must not be punished for the bad. 17 The care of the stranger, fatherles and widowe.

1 WHEN a mā taketh a wife, and marieth her, if so be she finde no fauour in his eyes, because he hath espied some filthines in her, then let him write her a bil of diuorcement, and put it in her hand, and send her out of his house.

2 And whē she is departed out of his house, and gone her way, and mary with another man,

3 And if the later housband hate her, and write her a letter of diuorcement, and put it in her hād, and send her out of his house, or if the later man dye which toke her to wife:

4 Then her first housband, which sent her away, may not take her againe to be his wife, after that she is defiled: for that is abominacion in the sight of the Lord, and thou shalt not cause y<sup>e</sup> lād to sinne, which y<sup>e</sup> Lord thy God doeth giue thee to inherite.

5 ¶ When a man taketh a new wife, he shal not go a warfare, nether shalbe charged with anie busines, but shalbe fre at home one yere, and reioyce with his wife which he hath taken.

6 ¶ No man shal take the nether nor y<sup>e</sup> vpper millstone to pledge: for this gage is his liuing.

7 ¶ If anie man be found stealing anie of his brethren of the children of Israël, and maketh marchandise of him, or selleth him, that these shal dye. so shalt thou put euil away from among you.

8 ¶ Take hede of the plague of leprosie, that thou obserue diligently, & do according to all that the Priests of the Leuites shal teache you: take hede ye do as I commanded them.

9 Remember what the Lord thy God did vnto Miriām by the way after that yewe came out of Egypt.

10 ¶ When y<sup>e</sup> shalt aske againe of thy neighbour anie thing lent, thou shalt not goe into his house to fet his pledge.

11 But thou shalt stand without, and the mā that borrowed it of thee, shal bring y<sup>e</sup> pledge out of the dores vnto thee.

12 Furthermore if it be a poore bodie, thou shalt not slepe with his pledge, 13 But shalt restore him the pledge when y<sup>e</sup> sunne goeth downe, y<sup>e</sup> he may slepe in his rayment, & blesse thee: & it shalbe righteousness vnto thee, before y<sup>e</sup> Lord thy God.

14 ¶ Thou shalt not oppresse an hired seruant that is nedy and poore, neither of thy brethren, nor of the stranger that is in thy land within thy gates.

15 ¶ Thou shalt giue him his hire for his day, nether shal the sunne go downe vpon it: for he is poore, & therewith susteineth his life: lest he crye against thee vnto the Lord, and it be sinne vnto thee.

16 ¶ The fathers shal not be put to death for the children, nor the children put to death for the fathers, but euerie man shalbe put to death for his owne sinne.

17 ¶ Thou shalt not peruert the right of the stranger, nor of the fatherles, nor take a widowes raiment to pledge.

18 But remember that thou wast a seruant in Egypt, & how the Lord thy God deliuered thee thence, therefore I commande thee to do this thing.

19 ¶ When y<sup>e</sup> cuttest downe thine haruest in thy field, & hast forgotten a sheafe in the field, thou shalt not go againe to fet it, but it shalbe for the stranger, for the fatherles, & for the widow: that the Lord thy God may blesse thee in all the workes

21 The Lord shal make the pestilence cleaue vnto thee, vntil he hath consumed thee from the land, whether thou goest to possesse it.

<sup>2</sup> ¶ And Moses called all Israel, & said vnto them, Ye haue sene all that the Lord did before your eies in the land of Egypt vnto Pharaoh and vnto all his seruants, & vnto all his land,

<sup>4</sup> Yet the Lord hath not giuen you an heart to perceiue, and eies to se, and eares to heare, vnto this day.

<sup>6</sup> Ye haue eaten no bread, nether dronke wine, nor strong drinke, that ye might knowe, how that I am y Lord your God.

<sup>9</sup> ¶ Kepe therefore the wordes of this couenāt & do them, that ye may prosper in all that ye shal do.

<sup>11</sup> Your children, your wiues, & thy stranger that is in thy campe fro the hewer of thy wood, vnto the drawer of thy water,

<sup>12</sup> That thou shuldest passe into the couenāt of the Lord thy God, and into his othe which the Lord thy God maketh with thee this day, 21 And the Lord shal separate him vnto euil out of all the tribes of Israēl, according vnto all the curses of the couenant, that is written in the boke of this Lawe.

22 So that the <sup>d</sup> generacion to come, <sup>e</sup> euen your children, that shal rise vp after you, and the stranger that shal come from a far land, shal say, when they shal se the plagues of this land, and the diseases thereof, wherewith the Lord shal smite it:

23 (For all that lād shal burne with brimstone and salt: it shal not be sown, nor bring fourth, nor anie grasse shal growe therein, like as in the ouerthrowing of * Sodom, & Gomorāh, Admāh, & Zeboīm, which the Lord ouerthrewe in his wrath and in his angre)

24 Then shal all naciōs say, * Wherefore hathe the Lord done thus vnto this land? how feare is this great wrath?

25 And they shal answer, Because they haue forsaken the couenant of the Lord God of their fathers, which he had made with them, when he broght them out of the lād of Egypt,

26 And went and serued other gods & worshipped them: <sup>f</sup> euen gods which they knewe not, & which had giuen them nothing, 27 Therefore the wrath of the Lord waxed hote against this land, to bring vpon it euerie curse that is written in this boke.

28 And the Lord hathe rooted them out of their land in angre, and in wrath, and in great indignacion, and hathe cast them into another land, as appeareth this day.

29 The <sup>g</sup> secret things belong to the Lord our God, but <sup>h</sup> y things reueiled belong vnto vs, and to our children for euer, that we may do all the wordes of this Lawe.

3 That these evils are come upon them, because they forsooke me.

4 Ps. 1. 6.

5 Of thine idolatry, where thou shalt turne away from the doctrine contained therein.

6 As governors, judges, & magistrates.

7 By idolatry, worshipping images, & such like are the worke of your hands.

19 Now therefore write ye this song for you, and teach it the children of Israel: put it in their mouthes, that this song may be my witness against the children of Israel.

20 For I will bring them into the land (which I swore unto their fathers) that floweth with milke and honie, and they shall eat, and fill them selves, and waxe fat: then shall they turne unto other gods, and serve them, and contemne me, & breake my covenant.

21 And then when manie aduersities and tribulations shall come upon them, this song shall answer them to their face as a witness: for it shall not be forgotten out of the mouthes of their posteritie: for I knowe their imagination, which they go about euen now, before I haue brought them into the land which I swore.

22 Moses therefore wrote this song the same day and taught it the children of Israel.

23 And God gaue Ioshua the sonne of Nun a charge, and said, Be strong, and of a good courage: for thou shalt bring the children of Israel into the land, which I swore unto them, and I will be with thee.

24 And when Moses had made an end of writing the wordes of this Lawe in a booke vntill he had finished them,

25 Then Moses commanded the Leuites, which bare the Arke of the covenant of the Lord, saying, 26 Take the booke of this Law, and put ye it in the side of the Arke of the covenant of the Lord your God, that it may be there for a witness against thee.

27 For I knowe thy rebellion and thy stiffe necke: beholde, I being yet aliue with you this day, ye are rebellious against the Lord: how muche more then after my death?

28 Gather vnto me all the Elders of your tribes, and your officers, that I may speake these wordes in their audience, and call heauen and earth to recorde against them.

29 For I am sure that after my death ye will utterly be corrupt and turne from the way, which I haue commanded you: therefore euil wil come upon you at the length, because ye wil commit euil in the sight of the Lord, by prouoking him to angre through the worke of your hands.

30 Thus Moses spake in the audience of all the Congregation of Israel the wordes of this song, vntill he had ended them.

CHAP. XXXII.

1 The song of Moses concerning Gods benefites toward the people, 2 And their ingratitude toward him 30 God menaceth them, 31 And speaketh of the vocation of the Gentiles. 40 Moses commandeth to teach the Lawe to the childre. 49 God forewarneth Moses of his death.

1 Harken, ye heauens, and I wil speake: and let the earth heare the wordes of my mouth.

2 My doctrine shall drop as the raine, and my speache shall stial as doeth the dewe, as the showre vpon the herbes, and as the great raine vpon the grasse.

3 For I wil publishe the Name of the Lord: giue ye glorie vnto our God.

4 Perfect is the worke of the mighty God: for all his wayes are iudgement. God is true, and without wickednes: iust, & righteous is he.

5 They haue corrupted them selves toward him by their vice, not being his children, but a frowarde and crooked generacion.

6 Do ye so rewarde the Lord, o foolish people and vnwise? is not he thy father, that hath bought thee? he hath made thee, and proportioned thee.

7 Remember the dayes of olde: consider the yeres of so manie generacions: aske thy father, and he wil shewe thee: thine Elders, and they wil tel thee.

8 When the most hie God deuided to the nations their inheritance, when he separated the sonnes of Adam, he appointed the borders of the people according to the number of the children of Israel.

9 For the Lords porcion is his people: Iakob is the lot of his inheritance.

10 He founde him in the land of the wilderness, in a waste, and roaring wilderness: he led him about, he taught him, and kept him as the apple of his eye.

11 As an eagle stereth vp her nest, fluttereth ouer her birdes, stretcheth out her wings, taketh them, and beareth them on her wings, 12 So the Lord alone led him and there was no strange god with him.

13 He caried him vp to the hie places of the earth, that he might eat the frutes of the fields, and he caused him to sucke hony out of the stone and oyle out of the hard rocke:

14 Butter of kine, and milke of shepe with fat of the lambs, and rams fed in Bashan, and goates, with the fat of the graines of wheat, and the red licour of the grape hast thou dronke.

15 But he that shoulde haue bene vpright, when he waxed fat, spurned with his heele: thou art fat, thou art grosse, thou art laden with fatnes: therefore he forsoke God that made him, and regarded not the strong God of his saluacion.

16 They prouoked him with strange gods: they prouoked him to angre with abominacions.

17 They offered vnto deuils, not to God, but to gods whome they knewe not: newe

1 Moses before his death blesteth all the tribes of Israël.
26 There is no God like to the God of Israël, 29 Nor any people like vnto his.

NOW this is the * blessing wherewith Moses the man of God blessed the childre of Israël before his death, & said, The Lord came from Sinái, and rose vp from Seir vnto them, and appeared clearly from mount Parán, and he came with ten <sup>b</sup> thousands of Saintes, and at his right hand a fry Lawe for them.

Thogh he loue the people, yet <sup>c</sup> all thy Saintes are in thine hands: & they are humbled at <sup>d</sup> thy fere, to receiue thy wordes.

4 Moses commaded vs a Lawe for an <sup>e</sup> inheritance of the Cōgregation of Iaakób.

5 The<sup>e</sup> he was among the<sup>e</sup> righteous people, as King, when the heades of the people, and the tribes of Israël were assembled.

6 Let <sup>f</sup> Reubén lue, and not dye, thogh his men be a small nomber.

7 And thus he blest Iudáh, & said, Heare, o Lord, the voice of Iudáh, & bring him vnto his people: his hands shalbe <sup>g</sup> sufficient for him, if thou helpe him against his enemies.

8 And of Leuí he said, Let thy<sup>e</sup> Thúmím & thine Vrim be wth thine holy one, whome thou didest proue in Massáh, and didest cause him to striue at y<sup>e</sup> waters of Meribáh.

9 Who said vnto his father and to his mother, <sup>h</sup> I haue not sene him, nether knewe he his brethren, nor knewe his owne children: for they obserued thy worde, & kept thy couenant.

10 Thei shal teache Iaakób thy iudgemēts, and Israël thy Lawe: they shal put incens before thy face, & the burnt offering vpon thine altar.

11 Blesse, o Lord, his substance, and accept the worke of his hands: <sup>i</sup> smite through the loines of the<sup>e</sup> that rise against him, and of them that hate him, that they rise not againe.

12 Of Beniamín he said, The beloued of the Lord shal <sup>k</sup> dwel in safety by him: the Lord shal couer him all the day long, and dwel betwene his sholders.

13 And of Ioséph he said, Blessed of the Lord is his land for the swetenes of heauē, for the dewe, and <sup>l</sup> for the depth lying beneth,

14 And for the swete increase of the sunne, and for the swete increase of the moone,

15 And for the swetenes of the top of the ancient mountaines, and for the swetenes of the olde hilles,

16 And for the swetenes of the earth, & abundance thereof: & the good wil of him that dwelt in the <sup>m</sup> bushe, shal come vpon the head of Ioséph, and vpon the top of the head of him that was <sup>n</sup> separated from his brethren.

17 His beautie shalbe like his first borne bullocke, and <sup>o</sup> his hornes as the hornes of an vnicorne: with them he shal smite the people together, <sup>p</sup> enen the ends of the worlde: these are also the ten thousands of Ephráim, and these are the thousands of Manasséh.

18 And of Zebulún he said, Reioyce, Zebulún, in thy <sup>q</sup> going out, and thou, Issachár, in thy tentes.

19 They shal call the people vnto the<sup>e</sup> mountaine: there they shal offer the sacrifices of righteousness: for <sup>r</sup> they shal sucke of the abundance of the sea, and of the treasures hid in the sand.

20 And of Gad he said, Blessed be he that enlargeth Gad: he dwelleth as a lion, that catcheth for his pray y<sup>e</sup> arme wth the head.

21 And he looked to him selfe at the beginning, because there was a porcion of the <sup>s</sup> Lawe giuer hid: yet he shal come with the heads of the people, to execute the iustice of the Lord, & his iudgements with Israël.

22 And of Dan he said, Dan is a lions whelp: he shal leape from Bashán.

23 And of Naphtalí he said, o Naphtalí, satisfied with fauour, and filled with the blessing of the Lord, possesse <sup>t</sup> the West and the South.

24 And of Ashér he said, Ashér shalbe blessed with children: he shalbe acceptable vnto his brethren, and shal dip his fote in oyle.

25 Thy shooes shalbe <sup>u</sup> yron and brasse, and thy strength shal continue as long as thou liuest.

26 There is none like God, o righteous people, which rideth vpon the heauens for thine helpe, & on y<sup>e</sup> cloudes in his glorie.

27 The eternal God is thy refuge, and vnder his armes thou arte for euer: he shal cast out the enemy before thee, and wil say, Destroy them.

28 The Israël the founteine of Iaakób shal dwel alone in safety in a land of wheat & wine: also his heauē shal drop the dewe.

29 Blessed art thou, o Israël: who is like vnto thee, o people saued by the Lord, y<sup>e</sup> thy lde of thine helpe, & which is y<sup>e</sup> sworde of thy glorie: therefore <sup>v</sup> thine enemies shalbe in subiection to thee, & thou shalt tread vpon their hie places.

THE BOKE OF IOSHV A.

THE ARGUMENT.

In this boke the holy Gost setteth moste liuely before our eyes the accomplishment of Gods promes, who as he promised by the mouthe of Mosés, that a Prophet shulde be raised vp vnto the people like vnto him, whome he willith to obey, Deut. 18. 15: so he sheweth him selfe here true in his promes, as at all other times, and after the deathe of Mosés his faithfull seruant, he raiseth vp Ioshúa to be ruler and gouernour ouer his people, that neither they shulde be discouraged for lacke of a captaine, nor haue occasion to distrust Gods promises hereafter. And because that Ioshúa might be confirmed in his vocation, and the people also might haue none occasion to grudge, as though he were not approued of God: he is adorned with moste excellent giftes and graces of God, bothe to gouerne the people with counsail, and to defend them with strength, that he lacked nothing which ether belonged to a valiant capitaine, or a faithfull minister. So he ouercometh all difficulties and bringeth them in to the land of Canaan: the which according to Gods ordinance he deuident among the people & appointeth their borders: he establissheth lawes and ordinances, and putteth them in remembra-ce of Gods manifolde benefites, assuring them of his grace and fauour, if they obey God, and contra-riewise of his plagues and vengeance, if they disobey him. This historie doeth represent Iesus Christ the true Ioshúa, who leadeth vs into eternal felicitie, which is signified vnto vs by this land of Canaan. From the beginning of the Genesis to the end of this boke are contained 2597 yeres. For from Adam vnto the flood are 1656. from the flood vnto the departure of Abraham out of Caldea, 363. and from thence to the death of Ioseph 290. So that the Genesis containeth 2390. Exodus 140. the other thre bokes of Mosés, 40. Ioshúa 27. So the whole maketh 2597 yeres.

6 Be strong and of a good courage: for vnto this people shalt thou deuide the land for an inheritance, which I sware vnto their fathers to giue them.

7 Onely be thou strong, and of a moste valiant courage, that thou maiest obserue and do according to all the Lawe which Moses my seruant hath commaded thee: *thou shalt not turne away from it to the right hád, nor to the left, that thou maiest prosper whether soeuer thou goest.

8 Let not this boke of the Lawe departe out of thy mouth, but meditate therein day and night, that thou maiest obserue & do according to all that is written therein: for then shalt thou make thy way prosperous, & then shalt thou haue good successe.

9 Haue not I commanded thee, saying, Be strong and of a good courage, feare not nor be discouraged: for I the Lord thy God wil be with thee, whether soeuer thou goest.

10 ¶ Then Ioshúa commanded the officers of the people, saying,

11 Passe through the hoste, and commande the people, saying, Prepare your vitayles: for after thre daies ye shal passe ouer this Iordén, to go in to possesse the land, which the Lord your God giueth you to possesse it.

12 ¶ And vnto the Reubenites, and to the Gadites, and to halfe the tribe of Manasséh spake Ioshúa, saying, 13 *Remember the worde, which Moses the seruant of the Lord commaded you, saying, The Lord your God hath giuen you rest, and hath giuen you this land.

14 ¶ Your wiues, your childre, & your cattel shal remaine in the land which Moses gaue you on this side Iordén: but ye shal go out before your brethren armed, all that be men of warre, & shal helpe them, 15 Vntil the Lord haue giuen your brethren rest, as wel as to you, & vntil thei also shal possesse the land, which the Lord your God giueth them: then shal ye returne vnto the land of your possession and shal possesse it, which land Moses the Lords seruant gaue you on this side Iordén towarde the sunne rising.

16 Then thei answered Ioshúa, saying, All that thou hast commanded vs, we wil do, and whether soeuer thou sendest vs, we wil go.

17 As we obeyed Moses in all things, so wil we obey thee: onely the Lord thy God be with thee as he was with Moses.

18 Whosoever shal rebelle against thy commandement, and wil not obey thy wordes in all that thou commandest him, let him be put to death: onely be strong & of good courage.

1 Ioshúa sendeth mē to spie Ierichó, whome Raháb hideth. 11 She confesseth the God of Israél. 12 She requirerth a signe for her deliuerance. 21 The spies returne to Ioshúa with comfortable tidings.

1 Then Ioshúa the sonne of Nun sent out of Shittim two men to spie secretly, saying, Go, vewe the land, and also Ierichó: and thei went, and came into an harlors house, named Raháb, and lodged there.

2 Then reporte was made to the King of Ierichó, saying, Beholde, there came men hether to night, of the children of Israél, to spie out the countrey.

3 And the King of Ierichó sent vnto Raháb, saying, Bring forth the mē that are come to thee, and we are entred into thine house: for thei be come to searche out all the land.

4 (But the woman had taken the two men, and hid them.) Therefore said she thus, There came men vnto me, but I wist not whence thei were.

5 And whē thei shut the gate in the darcke, the men went out, whether the men went I wote not: followe ye after thē quickly, for ye shal ouertake them.

6 (But she had brought thē vp to the roofof the house, & hyd them with the stalkes of flaxe, which she had spread abroad vpon the roofof.)

7 And certeine men pursued after them, the way to Iordén, vnto the fourdes, and as sone as thei which pursued after them, were gone out, thei shut the gate.

8 ¶ And before thei were a slepe, she came vp vnto them vpon the roofof, 9 And said vnto the men, I knowe that the Lord hath giuen you the land, and that the feare of you is fallen vpon vs, and that all the inhabitants of the land faint because of you.

11 And when we hearde it, our heartes did faint, and there remained no more courage in anie because of you: for the Lord your God, he is the God in heauen aboue, and in earth beneth.

12 Now therefore, I pray you, sweare vnto me by the Lord, that as I haue shewed you mercie, ye wil also shewe mercie vnto my fathers house, and giue me a true token,

And commāded the people, saying, Whē ye se<sup>y</sup> the Arke of the couenant of the Lord your God, and the Priests of the Leuites bearing it, ye shall departe from your place, and go after it:

4 Yet there shall be a space betwene you & it, about two thousand cubites by measure: ye shall not come nere vnto it, that ye may knowe the way, by the which ye shall go: for ye haue not gone this way in times past.

5 (Now Ioshua had said vnto the people, * Sanctifie your selues: for tomorrow the Lord wil do wonders among you)

6 Also Ioshua spake vnto the Priests, saying, Take vp the Arke of the couenant, and go ouer before the people: so thei toke vp the Arke of the couenant, and went before the people.

7 ¶ Then the Lord said vnto Ioshua, This day wil I begin to magnifie thee in the sight of all Israel, which shall knowe, that* as I was with Moses, so wil I be with thee.

8 Thou shalt therefore comāde the Priests that beare the Arke of the couenant, saying, When ye are come to the brink of the waters of Iordan, ye shall stand still in Iordan.

9 ¶ Then Ioshua said vnto the children of Israel, Come hether, and heare the wordes of the Lord your God.

10 And Ioshua said, Hereby ye shall knowe that the liuing God is among you, & that he wil certainly cast out before you the Canaanites, and the Hittites, and the Hivites, and the Perizzites, and the Gergashites, and the Amorites, and the Iebusites.

11 Beholde, the Arke of the couenant of the Lord of all the worlde passeth before you into Iordan.

12 Now therefore take from among you twelve men out of the tribes of Israel, out of euery tribe a man.

13 And as sone as the soles of the fete of the Priests (that beare the Arke of the Lord God the Lord of all the worlde) shall stay in the waters of Iordan, the waters of Iordan shall be cut off: for the waters that come from aboue, shall stand still vpon an heape.

14 ¶ Then when the people were departed from their tentes to go ouer Iordan, the Priests bearing the* Arke of the couenāt, went before the people.

CHAP. IIII.

God comāded Iosh<sup>a</sup> to set vp twelue stones in Iordén.
18 The waters returne to their olde course. 20 Other twelue stones are set vp in Gilgāl. 21 This miracle must be declared to the posteritie.

1 ANd when all the people were wholly gone<sup>a</sup> ouer Iordén, (after the Lord had spoken vnto Ioshúa, saying,

2 Take you twelue men out of the people, out of euerie tribe a man,

3 And commande you them, saying, Take you hence out of the middes of Iordén, out of the place where the Priests stode in a<sup>a</sup> readines, twelue stones, which ye shal take away with you, and leaue them in the<sup>b</sup> lodging, where you shal lodge this night)

4 Then Ioshúa called the twelue mē, whom he had prepared of the children of Israél, out of euerie tribe a man,

5 And Ioshúa said vnto them, Go ouer before the Arke of the Lord your God, euē through the middes of Iordén, & take vp euerie man of you a stone vpō his shulder according vnto the number of the tribes of the children of Israél,

6 That this may be a signe among you, that when your<sup>c</sup> children shal aske their fathers in time to come, saying, What meane you by these stones?

7 Then ye may answer them, That the waters of Iordén were cut of before the Arke of the couenant of the Lord: for whē it passed through Iordén, the waters of Iordén were cut of: therefore these stones are a memorial vnto the children of Israél for euer.

8 Then the children of Israél did euē so, as Ioshúa had comāded, & toke vp twelue stones out of the middes of Iordén, as the Lord had said vnto Ioshúa, according to the nōber of the tribes of the children of Israél, & caried the away with them vnto the lodging, and layed them downe there.

9 And Ioshúa set vp<sup>d</sup> twelue stones in the middes of Iordén, in the place where the fete of the Priests, which bare the Arke of the couenant, stode, and there haue they continued vnto this day.

10 ¶ So the Priests, w<sup>h</sup> bare the Arke, stode in the middes of Iordén, vntil euerie thing was finished that the Lord had comāded Ioshúa to say vnto the people, according to all that Moses charged Ioshúa: then the people halted and went ouer.

11 When all the people were cleane passed ouer, the Arke of the Lord went ouer also, and the Priests<sup>e</sup> before the people.

12 * And the sonnes of Reubén, & the sonnes of Gad, and halfe the tribe of Manasséh went ouer before the children of Israél armed, as Moses had charged them.

13 Euen fourty thousand prepared for warre, went before the<sup>f</sup> Lord vnto battel, into the plaine of Ierichó.

14 That day the Lord magnified Ioshúa in the sight of all Israél, & they<sup>g</sup> feared him, as they feared Moses all dayes of his life.

15 And the Lord spake vnto Ioshúa, saying,

16 Commande the Priests that beare the Arke of the Testimonie, to come vp out of Iordén.

17 Ioshúa therefore comāded the Priests, saying, Come ye vp out of Iordén.

18 And when the Priests that bare the Arke of the couenant of the Lord were come vp out of the middes of Iordén, and as soone as y<sup>e</sup> soles of the Priests fete were set on the drye land, the waters of Iordén returned vnto their place, and flowed ouer all the bankes thereof, as they did before.

19 ¶ So the people came vp out of Iordén the tenth day of the<sup>h</sup> first moneth, and pitched in Gilgāl, in the Eastside of Ierichó.

20 Also the twelue stones, which they toke out of Iordén, did Ioshúa pitche i Gilgāl.

21 And he spake vnto the children of Israél, saying, When your children shal aske their fathers in time to come, and say, What meane these stones?

22 The ye shal shewe your childré, and say, Israél came ouer this Iordén on drye lād:

23 For y<sup>e</sup> Lord your God dried vp the waters of Iordén before you, vntil ye were gone ouer, as the Lord your God did the red Sea, * which he dried vp before vs, til we were gone ouer, 24 That all the people of the<sup>i</sup> world may know that the hād of the Lord is mightie, that ye might feare the Lord your God continually.

<sup>c</sup> Gilgal was so called, because they were there circumcised.

3 Then Ioshua made him sharpe kniues & circumcised the sonnes of Israel in the hil of the foreskinnes.

4 And this is the cause why Ioshua circumcised all the people, even the males that came out of Egypt, because all the men of warre were dead in the wilderness by the way after they came out of Egypt.

5 For all the people that came out were circumcised: but all the people that were borne in the wilderness by the way after they came out of Egypt, were <sup>d</sup> not circumcised.

<sup>d</sup> For they looked daily to remoue the Lords commandment: which thing they were newe circumcised, could not do without great danger.

Nom. 14. 23.

6 For the children of Israel walked fourty yeres in the wilderness, til all the people of the men of warre that came out of Egypt were consumed, because they obeyed not the voyce of the Lord: vnto whome the Lord sware, that he wolde not shewe the land, * which the Lord had sworn vnto their fathers, that he wolde giue vs, even a land that floweth with milke and honie.

7 So their sonnes whome he raised vp in their steade, Ioshua circumcised: for they were vncircumcised, because they circumcised them not by the way.

<sup>e</sup> For their sore was so grievous, that they were not able to remoue.

<sup>f</sup> By bringing you into this promised land contrary to the wicked opiniõ of the Egyptians: or the foreskin, whereby you were like to the Egyptians.

8 And when they had made an end of circumcising all the people, they abode in the places in the campe til they were whole.

9 After, the Lord said vnto Ioshua, This day I haue taken away the <sup>f</sup> shame of Egypt from you: wherefore he called the name of that place Gilgal, vnto this day.

10 ¶ So the childre of Israel abode in Gilgal, and kept the feast of the Passouer the fourteenth day of the moneth at euen in the plaine of Ierichó.

11 And they did eat of the corne of the lād, on the morow after the Passouer, vnleauened bread, and parched corne in the same day.

12 And the MAN ceased on the morowe after they had eaten of the corne of the land, nether had the children of Israel MAN anie more, but did eat of the frute of the land of Canaan that yere.

13 ¶ And when Ioshua was by Ierichó, he lift vp his eyes and looked: and beholde, there stode a * man against him, hauing a sworde drawn in his hand: and Ioshua went vnto him, & said vnto him, Art thou on our side, or on our aduersaries?

14 And he said, Nay, but as a captaine of the hoste of the Lord am I now come: the Ioshua felon his face to the earth, and did worship, and said vnto him, What saith my Lord vnto his seruant?

15 And the captaine of the Lords hoste said vnto Ioshua, * Lose thy shooe of thy foete: for the place whereon thou standest, is holy: and Ioshua did so.

CHAP. VI.

<sup>e</sup> That the conquest might not be assigned to mans power, but to the mecie of God, which weaketh things can overcome that, which seemeth might strong.

<sup>5</sup> And when they make a lōg blast with the rams horne, & ye heare the sounde of the trumpet, all the people shal shoute with a great shoute: then shal the wall of the citie fall downe flat, and the people shal ascend vp, euerie man streight before him.

<sup>8</sup> ¶ And when Ioshua had spoken vnto the people, the seuen Priests bare the seuen trumpets of rams hornes, and went forthe before the Arke of the Lord, and blew with the trōperts, and the Arke of the couenant of the Lord followed them.

<sup>9</sup> ¶ And the men of armes wēt before the Priests, that blew the trumpets: then the gathering hoste came after the Arke, as they went and blew the trumpets.

<sup>g</sup> Meaning the reuerward, wherein was the Arke of the tribe of Dan. Nomb. 10. 15.

<sup>10</sup> (Now Ioshua had commanded the people, saying, Ye shal not shoute, nether make anie noyse with your voice, nether shal a worde procede out of your mouth, vntil the day that I say vnto you, Shoute, then shal ye shoute)

<sup>13</sup> Also seuen Priests bare seuen trumpets of rams hornes, and went before the Arke of the Lord, and going blew with the trumpets: and the men of armes went before them, but the gathering hoste came after after the Arke of the Lord, as they went and blew the trumpets.

14 And the second day they compassed the citie once, and returned into the hoste: thus they did six dayes.

15 And when the seventh day came, they rose early, euē with the dawning of the day, and compassed the citie after the same maner <sup>k</sup> seven times: onely that day they compassed the citie seven times.

16 And when the Priests had blown the trumpets the seventh time, Ioshúa said vnto the people, Shoute: for the Lord hath giuen you the citie.

18 Notwithstanding be ye ware of the execrable thing, lest ye make your selues execrable, & in taking of the execrable thing, make also the hoste of Israël <sup>n</sup> execrable, and trouble it.

19 But all siluer, and golde, and vessels of brasle, and yron shalbe <sup>o</sup> consecrate vnto the Lord, and shal come into the Lords treasure.

20 So the people shouted, when they had blown trumpets: for whē the people had heard the sounde of the trompet, they shouted with a great shoute: and the <sup>p</sup> wall fel downe flat: so the people went vp into the citie, euerie man streight before him: <sup>q</sup> and they toke the citie.

21 And they utterly destroyed all that was in the citie, bothe man and woman, yong, and olde, and oxe, and shepe, and asse, with the edge of the sworde.

22 But Ioshúa had said vnto the two men that had spied out the countrey, Go into the harlots house, and bring out thence the woman, and all that she hath, <sup>r</sup> as ye sware to her.

23 So the yong men that were spies, <sup>s</sup> went in, and brought out Raháb, and her father and her mother, and her brethren, and all that she had: also they brought out all her familie, and put them <sup>t</sup> without the hoste of Israël.

24 After they burnt the citie with fire, and all that was therein: onely the siluer and the golde, and the vessels of brasle and yron, they put vnto the treasure of the <sup>u</sup> house of the Lord.

25 So Ioshúa saued Raháb the harlot, and her fathers householde, & all that she had, & she <sup>v</sup> dwelt in Israël euē vnto this day, because she had hid the messengers, which Ioshúa sent to spie out Ierichó.

26 ¶ And Ioshúa sware at y<sup>e</sup> time, saying, Cursed be the man before the Lord, that riseth vp, and buyldeth this citie Ierichó:

he shal lay the fundacion thereof in his eldest sonne, & in his yógest sonne shal he set vp the gates of it.

27 So the Lord was with Ioshúa, and he was famous through all the worlde.

CHAP. VII.

1 The Lord is angry with Achán. 4 They of Aí put the Israelites to flight. 6 Ioshúa prayeth to the Lord. 16 Ioshúa inquireth out him that sinned, and stoneth him & all his.

2 And Ioshúa sent men from Ierichó to <sup>c</sup> Aí, which is beside Bethauén, on the East side of Beth-él, and spake vnto them, saying, Go vp, and vewe the countrey. And the men went vp, and vewed Aí,

3 And returned to Ioshúa, and said vnto hī, Let not all y<sup>e</sup> people go vp, but let as it were two or thre thousand mé go vp, & smite Aí, and make not all the people to labour thether, for they are fewe.

4 So there went vp thether of the people about thre thousand men, & they fled before the men of Aí.

5 And the <sup>d</sup> men of Aí smote of them vpon a thirtie and six men: for they chased them from before the gate vnto Shebarím, and smote them in the going downe: wherefore the heartes of the people melted away like water.

6 ¶ Then Ioshúa rent his clothes, and fel to the earth vpon his face before the Arke of the Lord, vntil the euentide, he, and the Elders of Israël, and put dust vpon their heades.

7 And Ioshúa said, Alas, o Lord God, wherefore hast thou broght this people ouer Iordén, to deliuer vs into the hand of the Amorites, and to destroy vs? wolde God we had bene content to dwell on the <sup>e</sup> other side Iordén.

8 Oh Lord, what shal I say, whē Israël turne their backs before their enemies?

9 For the Canaanites, and all the inhabitants of the land shal heare of it, and shal compass vs, and destroy our name out of the earth: and what wilt thou do vnto thy mightie <sup>f</sup> Name?

10 ¶ And the Lord said vnto Ioshúa, Get thee vp: wherefore liest thou thus vpon thy face?

11 Israël hath sinned, and they haue transgressed my couenant, which I commanded them: for they haue euē taken of the excommunicate thing, and haue also stollen, and dissembled also, & haue put it euē with 16 ¶ So Ioshúa rose vp early in <sup>y</sup> morning & brought Israël by their tribes: & the tribe of Iudáh was taken.

17 And he brought the families of Iudáh, & toke the familie of the Zarhites, and he brought the familie of the Zarhites, man by man, and Zabdí was taken.

18 And he brought his household, man by man, and Achán the sonne of Carmí, the sonne of Zabdí, the sonne of Zérah of the tribe of Iudáh was taken.

22 ¶ Then Ioshúa sent messengers, which ran vnto the tent, and beholde, it was hid in his tent, and the siluer vnder it.

23 Therefore they toke them out of the tēt, and brought them vnto Ioshúa, and vnto all the children of Israël, and layed them before the Lord.

24 Then Ioshúa toke Achán the <sup>m</sup> sonne of Zérah, and the siluer, & the garment and the <sup>n</sup> wedge of golde and his <sup>n</sup> sonnes, & his daughters, and his oxen, and his asses, and his shepe, and his tent, and all that he had: and all Israël with him brought them vnto the valley of Achór.

25 And Ioshúa said, <sup>n</sup> In as much as thou hast troubled vs, the Lord shal trouble thee this day: and all Israël threw stones at him, and burned them with fire, & stoned them with stones.

3 ¶ Then Ioshúa arose, and all the men of warre to go vp against Aí: and Ioshúa chose out thirtie thousand strong men, and valiant, and sent them away by night.

4 And he commanded them, saying, Beholde, ye <sup>b</sup> shal lye in wait against the citie on the backside of the citie: go not very far frō the citie, but be ye all in a readiness.

<sup>b</sup> God wold not destroy Aí by miracle, as Ierichó, to the intent that other nations might feare <sup>y</sup> power & policie of his people.

5 And I and all the people that are with me, wil approche vnto the citie: and when they shal come out against vs, as they did at the first time, then wil we flee before them.

6 For they wil come out after vs, til we haue brought them out of the citie: for they wil say, They flee before vs as at the first time: so we wil flee before them.

7 Then you shal rise vp from lying in wait and <sup>d</sup> destroy the citie: for the Lord your God wil deliuer it into your hand.

8 And when ye haue taken the citie, ye shal set it on fire: according to the commādemēt of the Lord shal ye do: beholde, I haue charged you.

9 ¶ Ioshúa then sent them forth, and they went to lie in wait, and abode betwene Beth-él and Aí, on the Westside of Aí: but Ioshúa lodged that night among the people.

10 And

10 And Ioshúa rose vp early in y morning, and nombred the people: and he and the Elders of Israël went vp before the people against Aí.

11 Also all the men of warre that were with him wēt vp & drue nere, and came against the citie, & pitched on the Northside of Aí: and there was a valley betwene them and Aí.

12 And he toke about fīue thousand men, & set them to lie in wayt betwene Beth-él & Aí, on the Westside of the citie.

13 And the people set all the hoste that was on the Northside against the citie, & the liers in wayt on the West, against the citie: & Ioshúa went the same night into y middes of the valley.

14 ¶ And whē the King of Aí sawe it, then the men of the citie hastēd & rose vp early, and went out against Israël to battel, he & all his people at the time appointed, before the plaine: for he knewe not that anie lay in waite against him on the backside of the citie.

15 Then Ioshúa and all Israël & as beaten before thē, fled by the way of the wildernes.

16 And all the people of the citie were called together, to pursue after them: & they pursued after Ioshúa, and were drawn away out of the citie,

17 So that there was not a man left in Aí, nor in Beth-él, that went not out after Israël: and they left the citie open, & pursued after Israël.

18 Thē the Lord said vnto Ioshúa, <sup>b</sup> Stretch out the speare that is in thine hand towarde Aí: for I wil giue it into thine hand: and Ioshúa stretched out the speare that he had in his hand, toward the citie.

19 And thei that lay in waite, arose quickly out of their place, & ran as fast as he had stretched out his hand, and they entred into the citie, and toke it, and hastēd, and set the citie on fire.

20 And the men of Aí looked behinde thē, & sawe it: for lo, the smoke of the citie ascended vp to heauen, and they had no power to flee this way or that way: for y people that fled to the wildernes, turned backe vpon the pursuers.

21 When Ioshúa and all Israël sawe that they that lay in wait, had takē the citie, & that the smoke of the citie mounted vp, then they turned againe and slewe the me of Aí.

22 Also the other issued out of the citie against thē: so were they in the middes of Israël, these being on y one side, & y rest on y other side: & they slewe thē, so that they let none of them remaine nor escape.

23 And the King of Aí they toke alīue, & brought him to Ioshúa.

24 And when Israël had made an end of slaying all the inhabitants of Aí in y field, <sup>that is, in y wildernes</sup>, where they chased them, and when they were all fallen on the edge of the sword, vntil they were consumed, all the Israelites returned vnto Aí, & smote it with the edge of the sworde.

25 And all that fel that day, bothe of men and women, were twelue thousand, euen all the men of Aí.

26 For Ioshúa drew not his hand backe againe which he had stretched out with the speare, vntil he had utterly destroyed all y inhabitants of Aí.

27 *Onely the cattel & the spoyle of this citie, Israël toke for a pray vnto them selues, according vnto the worde of y Lord, which he commanded Ioshúa.

28 And Ioshúa burnt Aí, and made it an heape for euer, & a wildernes vnto this day.

29 And y King of Aí he hanged on a tre, vnto the euening: And as fast as y sunne was downe, Ioshúa cōmanded<sup>m</sup> that they shulde take his carkeis downe frō the tre, and cast it at the entring of the gate of the citie, and <sup>lay thereon</sup> a great heape of stones, that remaineth vnto this day.

30 ¶ Then Ioshúa buylt an altar vnto the Lord God of Israël, in mount Ebál, 31 As Moses the seruant of the Lord had commanded the children of Israël, as it is written in y boke of the Lawe of Moses, an altar of whole stone, ouer which no mā had lift an yron: and they offred thereon burnt offerings vnto the Lord, & sacrificed peace offerings.

32 Also he wrote there vpon the stones, a rehearal of the Lawe of Moses, which he wrote in the presence of the children of Israël.

33 And all Israël (and their Elders, and officers & their iudges stode on this side of the Arke, and on that side, before the Priests of the Leuites, which bare the Arke of the couenant of the Lord) aswel the stranger, as he that is borne in the countrey: halfe of them were ouer against mount Gerizim, and halfe of them ouer against mount Ebál, *as Moses the seruant of the Lord had commanded before, that they shulde blesse the people of Israël.

34 Then afterward he red all the wordes of the Lawe, the blessings and cursings, according to all that is written in the boke of the Lawe.

35 There was not a worde of all that Moses had commanded, which Ioshúa red not before all the Congregation of Israël, *aswel before the women and the children, as the stranger that was conuersant among them.

c Let Ioshúa shalde haue thought & God had sent this great power against him for his valiant league with Gibeón: & Lord here strengthen him.

d Ioshúa & all the children of Israel.

1 Now whē Adoni-zédek King of Ierusalém had heard how Ioshúa had taken Aí and had destroyed it, (* for as he had done to Ierichó and to the King thereof, so he had done to * Aí and to the King thereof) and how the inhabitants of Gibeón had made peace with Israél, and were among them,

2 Then thei feared exceedingly: for Gibeón was a great citie, as one of the roial cities: for it was greater then Aí, and all the men thereof were mightie.

Wherefore a Adoni-zédek King of Ierusalém sent vnto Hohám King of Hebrón, and vnto Pirám King of Iarmúth, and vnto Iapíá King of Lachísh, and vnto Debír King of Eglón, saying,

4 Come vp vnto me, and helpe me, that we may smite Gibeón: for thei haue made peace with Ioshúa and with the children of Israél.

5 Therefore the fiue Kings of the Amorites, the King of Ierusalém, the King of Hebrón, the King of Iarmúth, the King of Lachísh, and the King of Eglón gathered them selues together, & went vp, thei with all their hostes, & besieged Gibeón, and made b warre against it.

6 And the mē of Gibeón sent vnto Ioshúa, enē to the hoste to Gilgál, saying, Withdraw not thine hand fro thy seruants: come vp to vs quickly, and saue vs, and helpe vs: for all the Kings of the Amorites which dwel in the mountaines, are gathered together against vs.

7 So Ioshúa ascended from Gilgál, he, and all the people of warre with him, and all the men of might.

8 ¶ And the Lord said vnto Ioshúa, c Feare them not: for I haue giuen them into thine hand: none of them shal stand against thee.

9 Ioshúa therefore came vnto them sodenly: for he went vp from Gilgál all y night.

10 And the Lord discomfited them before Israél, & slewe them with a great slaughter at Gibeón, and chased them along the way that goeth vp to Beth horón, and smote them to Azekáh and to Makkedah.

11 And as thei fled fro before Israél, & were in the going downe to Beth-horón, & Lord cast downe great stones from heauē vpō them, vntil Azekáh, & thei dyed: thei were more that dyed with the d haylestones, then they whome the children of Israél slew with the sword.

14 And there was no day like that before it, nor after it, that the Lord heard the voyce of a man: for the Lord f fought for Israél.

15 ¶ After, Ioshúa returned, and all Israél with him vnto the campe to Gilgál:

16 But the fiue Kings fled and were hid in a caue at Makkedah.

17 And it was tolde Ioshúa, saying, The fiue Kings are foude hyd in a caue at Makkedah.

18 Then Ioshúa said, Roule great stones vpon the mouthe of the caue, and set men by it for to kepe them.

19 But stand ye not stil: followe after your enemies, and g smite all the hindemost, suffre them not to enter into their cities: for the Lord your God harhe giuen them into your hand.

20 And when Ioshúa and the children of Israél had made an end of slaying them with an exceding great slaughter til they were consumed, and the rest that remained of them were entred into walled cities, 21 Then all the people returned to the campe, to Ioshúa at Makkedah in h peace: no man moued his tongue against the children of Israél.

22 After, Ioshúa said, Open the mouthe of the caue, & bring out these fiue Kings vnto me forthe of the caue.

23 And thei did so, and broght out those fiue Kings vnto him forthe of the caue, euen the King of Ierusalém, the King of Hebrón, the King of Iarmúth, the King of Lachísh, and the King of Eglón.

24 And when thei had broght out those Kings vnto Ioshúa, Ioshúa called for all the men of Israél, and said vnto the chief of y men of warre, which went with him, Come nere, set your fete vpō the i neckes of these Kings: & thei came nere and set their fete vpon their neckes.

25 And Ioshúa said vnto them, Feare not, nor be faint hearted, but be strong and of a good courage: for thus wil the Lord do to all your enemies, against whome ye fight.

Isa. 21. 21.
Ezek. 46. 7.

1 NOW whē Adoni-zédek King of Ierusalém had heard how Ioshúa had taken Ai and had destroyed it, (* for as he had done to Ierichó and to the King thereof, so he had done to * Ai and to the King thereof) and how the inhabitants of Gibeón had made peace with Israël, and were among them,

2 Then thei feared exceedingly: for Gi-beón was a great citie, as one of the roial cities: for it was greater then Ai, and all the men thereof were mightie.

Wherefore a Adoni-zédek King of Ierusalém sent vnto Hohám King of Hebrón, and vnto Pirám King of Iarmúth, and vnto Iapía King of Lachish, and vnto Debír King of Eglón, saying,

4 Come vp vnto me, and helpe me, that we may smite Gibeón: for thei haue made peace with Ioshúa and with the children of Israël.

5 Therefore the fiue Kings of the Amorites, the King of Ierusalém, the King of Hebrón, the King of Iarmúth, the King of Lachish, and the King of Eglón gathered them selues together, & went vp, thei with all their hostes, & besieged Gibeón, and made b warre agaisst it.

6 And the mē of Gibeón sent vnto Ioshúa, enē to the hoste to Gilgál, saying, With-drawe not thine hand frō thy seruants: come vp to vs quickly, and saue vs, and helpe vs: for all the Kings of the Amorites which dwel in the mountaines, are gathered together agaisst vs.

7 So Ioshúa ascended from Gilgál, he, and all the people of warre with him, and all the men of might.

8 ¶ And the Lord said vnto Ioshúa, c Feare them not: for I haue giuen them into thine hand: none of them shal stand agaisst thee.

9 Ioshúa therefore came vnto them soden-ly: for he went vp from Gilgál all y night.

10 And the Lord discomfited them before Israél, & slewe them with a great slaugh-day when the Lord gaue the Amorites before the children of Israël, and he said in the sight of Israël, * Sunne, staie thou in Gibeón, and thou moone, in the valley vpō their enemies: (Is not this written in the boke of e Iashtér) so the sunne abode in the middes of the heauen, and hasted not to go downe for a whole day.

14 And there was no day like that before it, nor after it, that the Lord heard the voyce of a man: for the Lord f fought for Israël.

15 ¶ After, Ioshúa returned, and all Israël with him vnto the campe to Gilgál:

16 But the fiue Kings fled and were hid in a caue at Makkedah.

17 And it was tolde Ioshúa, saying, The fiue Kings are foude hyd in a caue at Mak-kedáh.

18 Then Ioshúa said, Roule great stones vpon the mouthe of the caue, and set men by it for to kepe them.

19 But stand ye not stil: followe after your enemies, and " smite all the hindemost, suffre them not to enter into their cities:
for the Lord your God hath giuen them into your hand.

20 And when Ioshúa and the children of Israél had made an end of slaying them with an exceeding great slaughter til they were consumed, and the rest that remained of them were entred into walled cities,

21 Then all the people returned to the cāpe, to Ioshúa at Makkedah in s peace: no man moued his tongue agaisst the children of Israël.

22 After, Ioshúa said, Open the mouthe of the caue, & bring out these fiue Kings vnto me forthe of the caue.

23 And thei did so, and broght out those fiue Kings vnto him forthe of the caue, euen the King of Ierusalém, the King of Hebrón, the King of Iarmúth, the King of Lachish, and the King of Eglón.

24 And when thei had broght out those Kings vnto Ioshúa, Ioshúa called for all the men of Israël, and said vnto the chief of y men of warre, which went with him, Come nere, set your fete vpō the h neckes of these Kings: & thei came nere and set their fete vpon their neckes.

25 And Ioshúa said vnto them, Feare not, nor be faint hearted, but be strong and of a good courage: for thus wil the Lord do to all your enemies, agaisst whome ye fight.

26 So then Ioshúa smote them, and slewe them, and hanged them on fiue trees, and thei hanged stil vpon the trees vntil the euening.

27 And at the going downe of the sunne, Ioshúa gaue commandement, that thei shulde take * them downe of the trees, & cast them into the caue (wherein thei had bene hid) and thei layed great stones vpō the caues mouthe, which remaine vntil this day.

¶ Divers Kings and cities, and countreis overcome by Ioshúa. 15 Ioshúa did all that Moses had commanded him. 20 God hardeneth the enemies heartes that they might be destroyed.

1 And when Iabín King of Hazór had heard this, then he ¶ sent to Iobab King of Madón, and to the King of Shimrôn, and to the King of Achshaph,

2 And vnto the Kings that were by the North in the mountaines, and plaines towards the Southside of ¶ Cinneróth, and in the valleis, and in the borders of Dor Westwarde,

3 And vnto the Canaanites, bothe by East, and by West, and vnto the Amorites, and Hittites, and Perizzites, and Iebusites in the mountaines, and vnto the Hiuites vnder ¶ Hermón in the land of Mizpéh.

4 And they came out and all their hostes with them, many people as the sand that is on the seashore for multitude, with horses and charets exceeding many.

5 So all these Kings met together, & came and pitched together at the waters of Me-róm, for to fight against Israël.

6 ¶ The Lord said vnto Ioshúa, Be not afraid for them: for to morowe about this time wil I deliuer them all slayne befo c Israël: thou shalt ¶ hough their horses, & burne their charets with fire.

7 Then came Ioshúa and all the men of warre with him against them by the wa-vntil thei had none remaining of them.

9 And Ioshúa did vnto them as the Lord bade him: he houghed their horses, and burnt their charets with fire.

10 ¶ At that time also Ioshúa turned backe, and toke Hazór, and smote the King thereof with the sworde: for Hazór beforeti-me was the head of all those kingdomes.

11 Moreover thei smote all the ¶ perones

- Now when Ioshúa was olde, & a stri-

Thou art olde & grown in age, & there remaineth exceeding much land to be possessed:
2 This is the land that remaineth, all the regions of the Philistims, & all Geshuri, 3 From Nilus which is in Egypt, euē vnto the borders of Ekrón Northward: this is counted of the Canaanites, euē fīue lordeshippes of the Philistims, the Azzithites, and the Ashdodites, the Eshkelonites, the Gittites, and the Ekronites, and the Avites:
4 From the Southe, all the land of the Canaanites, and the caue that is beside the Sidonians, vnto Aphék, and to the borders of the Amorites:
5 And the land of the Giblites, and all Le-banón, towarde the sunne rising from Ba-hal-gád vnder mount Hermón, vntil one come to Hamáth.
6 All the inhabitants of the mountaines fró Lebanón vnto Misrephothmáim, & all the Sidonians, I wil cast them out fró before the children of Israél: onely deu-ide thou it by lot vnto the Israelites, to inherit, as I haue commanded thee.
7 Now therefore deuide this land to inherit, vnto the nine tribes, and to the halfe tribe of Manasséh.
8 For with halfe thereof the Reubenites and the Gadites haue receiued their inheritāce, which Mosés gaue them beyond Iordén Eastward, euē as Mosés the seruant of the Lord had giuen them, 9 From Aroér that is on the brinke of the riuer Arnón, and from the citie that is in the middes of the riuer, and all the plaine of Medebá vnto Dibón,
10 And all the cities of Sihón King of the Amorites, which reigned in Heshbón, vnto the borders of the childre of Ammón, 11 And Gileád, & the borders of the Ges-hurites & of the Maachathites, & all mount Hermón, with all Bashán vnto Salcáh:
12 All the kingdome of Og in Bashán, w reigned in Ahtaróth and in Edréi: (who remained of the rest of the gyantes) for these did Mosés smite, and cast them out.

- 13 But the childre of Israél expelled not the Geshurites nor the Maachathites: but the Geshurites & the Maachathites dwel among the Israelites euē vnto this day.
14 Onely vnto the tribe of Leuī he gaue none inheritance, but the sacrifices of the Lord God of Israél are his inheritance, as he said vnto him.
15 Mosés then gaue vnto the tribe of the children of Reubén inheritance, according to their families.
16 And their coast was from Aroér, that is on the brinke of the riuer Arnón, & fró the citie that is in the middes of the riuer,
& all the plaine which is by Medebá:
17 Heshbón with all the cities thereof, that are in the plaine: Dibón and Bamoth-bá-al, and Beth-baal-meón:
18 And Lahazáh, & Kedemóth and Mepháath:
19 Kiriatháim also, & Sibmáh, & Zereth-shahar in the mount of Emék:
20 And Beth-peór, & Ashdod pifgáh, &
Beth-ieshimóth:
21 And all the cities of the plaine: and all the kingdome of Sihón King of the A-morites, which reigned in Heshbón, who-me Mosés smote with the Princes of Midián, Euí, and Rekém, and Zur, and Hur, and Réba, the dukes of Sihón, dwelling in the countrey.
22 And Balaám the sonne of Beór y southfayer did the children of Israél slaye with the sworde, among them that were slaine.
23 And the border of the children of Reubén was Iordén with the coastes. this was the inheritance of the children of Reubén according to their families, with the cities and their villages.
24 Also Mosés gaue inheritance vnto the tribe of Gad, euē vnto the children of Gád according to their families.
25 And their coastes were Iazér, and all the cities of Gileád and halfe the land of the children of Ammón vnto Aroér, which is before Rabbáh:
26 And from Heshbón vnto Ramóth, Mizpéh, and Betoním: and from Mahaná-im vnto the borders of Debír.
27 And in the valley Beth-arám, and Beth-nimráh, and Succóth, and Zaphón, the rest of the kingdome of Sihón King of Heshbón, vnto Iordén and the borders euē vnto the Sea coast of Cinéreth, & beyonde Iordén Eastward.
28 This is the inheritance of the children of Gad, after their families, with the cities and their villages.
29 Also Mosés gaue inheritance vnto the halfe tribe of Manasséh: and this belon-

CHAP. XIII.

2 The land of Canaan was deuised among the nine tribes and the halfe. 6 Caléb requesteth the heritage that was promised him. 13 Hebrón was giuen him.

1 These also are the places which the children of Israel inherited in the lād of Canaan, **which Eleazár the Priest, and Ioshúa the sonne of Nun and the chief fathers of the tribes of the children of Israel, distributed to them,*

2 **By the lot of their inheritance, as the Lord had commanded by the hand of Moses, to giue to the nine tribes, and the halfe tribe.*

3 For Moses had giuen inheritance vnto two tribes and an halfe tribe, beyonde Iordén: but vnto the Leuites he gaue none inheritance among them.

4 For the children of Ioséph were two tribes, Manasséh and Ephráim: therefore they gaue no parte vnto the Leuites in the lād, saue cities to dwel in, with the suburbs of the same for their beastes and their substance.

5 **As the Lord had commanded Moses, so the children of Israel did whé they deuied the land.*

6 ¶ Then the children of Iudáh came vnto Ioshúa in Gilgál: and Caléb the sonne of Iephúnéh the Kenezite said vnto him, Thou knowest what the Lord said vnto Moses the man of God, concerning me and thee in Kadesh barnéa.

7 Forty yere olde was I, when Moses the seruant of the Lord sent me from Kadesh-barnéa to espy the land, & I broght him worde againe, as I thought in mine heart.

8 But my brethren that went vp with me, discouraged the heart of the people: yet I followd stíl the Lord my God.

9 Wherefore Moses sware the same day, saying, Certainly the land whereon thy fete haue troden shal be thine inheritance, and thy childrens for euer, because thou hast followed constantly the Lord my God.

10 Therefore beholde now, the Lord hath kept me aliue, as he promised: this is the fourty and fift yere since the Lord spake this thing vnto Moses, while the children of Israel wandred in the wildernes: and now lo, I am this day fourscore and fife yere olde:

11 And yet am as **strong at this time, as I was whé Moses sent me: as strong as I was then, so strong am I now, ether for warre, or* for gouernement.

12 Now therefore giue me this mountaine whereof the Lord spake in y day (for thou heardest in that day how the Anakims were there, and the cities great and walled) **if so be the Lord will be with me, that I may driue them out, as the Lord said.*

13 Then Ioshúa blessed him, and gaue vnto Caléb the sonne of Iephúnéh, Hebrón for an inheritance.

14 **Hebrón therefore became y inheritance of Caléb the sonne of Iephunnéh the Kenezite, vnto this day: because he followed constantly the Lord God of Israel.*

15 And the name of **Hebrón* was beforetime, Kiriath-arbá: which Arbá was a great man among the Anakims: thus the land ceased from warre.

1 This then was the lot of the tribe of the children of Iudáh by their families: even to the border of Edóm and the wildernes of **Zin*, Southward on the Southcoast.

2 And their Southborder was the salt Sea coast, from **the point that loketh Southward.*

3 And it went out on the Southside toward Maalet-akrabbím, and went along to Zin, and ascended vp on the Southside vnto Kadesh barnéa, and went along to Hezrón, and went vp to Adár, and fet a compassse to Karkáa.

& the endes of this coast are to the Sea.

12 And the Westborder is to the great Sea:
fo this border shalbe the bondes of the childre of Iudah round about, according to their families.

13 ¶ And vnto Caléb the sonne of Iephúnéh did Ioshúa giue a parte amög the childre of Iudah, as the Lord commanded him, euen Kiriath-arbá of the father of Anák, which is Hebrón.

14 And Caléb droue thence thre sonnes of Anák, Shefhái, and Ahimán, and Talmái, the sonnes of Anák.

15 And he went vp thence to the inhabitáts of Debír: and the name of Debír before time was Kiriath-sépher.

16 Thē Caléb said, He y smiteth Kiriathsépher, & taketh it, eue to him wil I giue Achfáh my daughter to wife.

17 And Othniél, the sonne of Kenáz, the brother of Caléb toke it: and he gaue him
Achfáh his daughter to wife.

18 And as she wēt into him, she moued him, to aske of her father a field: & she lighted of her asse, & Caléb said vnto her, What wilt thou.

19 Thē she answered, Giue me a blefsing:
for thou hast giue me the South cōtrei:
giue me also fprigs of water. And he gaue her y fprings aboue & the fprigs benethe.

20 This shalbe the inheritance of the tribe of y children of Iudah according to their families.

21 And the vtmost cities of the tribe of y

61 ¶ In the wilderness were Beth-arabáh, Middín, and Secacáh, 62 And Nibshán, and the <sup>1</sup> citie of salt, and En-gedi: six cities with their villages.

63 Neuertheles, the Iebusites that were the inhabitants of Ierusalém, colde not the children of Iudáh cast <sup>m</sup> out, but the Iebusites dwel with the children of Iudáh at Ierusalém vnto this day.

CHAP. XVI.

1 The lot or parte of Ephraím. 10 The Canaanite dwelled among them.

And the lot fel to the <sup>a</sup> children of Ioséph fró Iordén by Ierichó vnto the water of Ierichó Eastwarde, & to the wilderness that goeth vp from Ierichó by the mount Beth-él:

2 And goeth out from Beth-él to * Luz, and runneth alóg vnto the borders of Archiaráoth,

3 And goeth downe Westward to the coaste of Iaphletí, vnto the coast of Beth-horón the nether, and to Gézer: and the ends <sup>b</sup> thereof are at the Sea.

4 So the children of Ioséph, Manasséh and Ephraím <sup>c</sup> toke their inheritance.

5 ¶ Also the borders of the children of Ephraím according to their families, euen the borders of their inheritáce on <sup>y</sup> East-side, were Atiódh addán, vnto Beth-horón the vpper.

6 And this border goeth out to the Sea vnto Michmetháh on the Northside, & this border returneth Eastwarde vnto Taa-náth shilón, and passeth it on the Eastside vnto Ianóhah, 7 And goeth downe from Ianóhah to Atároth, and Naa áth, and cometh to Ierichó, <sup>d</sup> and goeth out at Iordén.

8 And this border goeth from Tappúah Westward vnto the riuer Kanáh, and the ends thereof are at the Sea: this is the inheritance of the tribe of the children of Ephraím by their families.

9 And the <sup>e</sup> separate cities for the childré of Ephraím were among the inheritance of the children of Manasséh: all the cities with their villages.

10 And they cast not out the Canaanite that dwelt in Gézer, but the Canaanite dwel'eth amög the Ephraimites vnto this day, and serue vnder tribute.

CHAP. XVII.

1 The porcion of the halfe tribe of Manasséh. 3 The daughters of Zelophehad 13 The Canaanites are become tributaries. 14 Manasséh and Ephraím require a greater porcion of heritage.

¶ This was also the lot of the tribe of Manasséh: for he was the * first borne of Ioséph, to wit, of Machír <sup>y</sup> first borne of Manasséh, and the father of Gileád: now because he was a man of warre, he had Gileád and Bashán.

2 And also * of the <sup>a</sup> rest of the sonnes of Manasséh by their families, euen of the sonnes of Abiézer, and of the sonnes of Hélek, and of the sonnes of Azriél, and of the sonnes of Shéchem, and of the sonnes of Hépher, and of the sonnes of Shemidá: these were the males of Manasséh, the sonne of Ioséph according to their families.

3 ¶ But Zelophehad the sonne of Hépher, the sonne of Gileád, the sonne of Machír, the sonne of Manasséh, had no sonnes, but daughters: and these are the names of his daughters, Malháh, and Noáh, Hógláh, Milcháh and Tirzáh:

4 Which came before Eleazár the Priest, and before Ioshúa the sonne of Nun, and before the princes, saying, The Lord cōmanded Mosés to giue vs an inheritance among our <sup>b</sup> brethren: therefore according to the cōmandement of the Lord he gaue them an inheritance among the brethren of their father.

5 And there fel ten porcions to <sup>c</sup> Manasséh, beside the land of Gileád and Bashán, which is on the other side Iordén, 6 Because the daughters of Manasséh did inherit among his sonnes: and Manassehs other sonnes had the land of Gileád.

7 ¶ So the borders of Manasséh were from Ashér to Michmetháh <sup>y</sup> lieth before Shéchem, & this border goeth on <sup>y</sup> right hād, euen vnto the inhabitáts of En-tappúah.

8 The land of Tappúah belonged to Manasséh, but <sup>d</sup> Tappúah beside the border of Manasséh belongeth to the sonnes of Ephraím.

9 Also this border goeth downe vnto the riuer Kanáh Southward to the riuer: these cities of Ephraím are among the cities of Manasséh: and the border of Manasséh is on the Northside of the riuer, and the ends of it are at the <sup>e</sup> Sea,

10 The South pertaineth to Ephraím, and the North to Manasséh, and the Sea is his border: and they met together in Ashér Northward, and in Issachár Eastward.

11 And Manasséh had in Issachár and in Ashér, Beth-sheán, & her townes, & Ibleám, & her townes, & the inhabitants of Dor with the townes thereof, and the inhabitants of En-dór with the townes thereof, & the inhabitants of Thaanách with her townes, & the inhabitants of Megiddó w<sup>t</sup> the townes of the same, euen thre cōtreis.

12 Yet the childré of Manasséh could not destroy those cities, but the Canaanites dwelled stil in that land.

13 Neuertheles, when the children of Israél were strong, they put the Canaanites vnder tribute, but cast thē not out wholly.

14 Then the children of Ioseph spake vnto Ioshua, saying, Why hast thou giuen me but one lot, and one porcion to inherit, seeing I am a great people, for as much as the Lord hath <sup>h</sup> blessed me hether to?

<sup>i</sup> If this mount be not large ynough, why doest not thou get more by destroying Gods enemies, as he hath commanded?

15 Ioshua then answered them, If thou be muche people, get thee vp to the wood, & cut trees for thy selfe there in the land of the Perizzites, and of the gyats, <sup>i</sup> if mount Ephraim be too narrowe for thee.

16 Then the children of Ioseph said, The mountaine wil not be ynough for vs: and all the Canaanites that dwell in the lowe countrey haue charrets of yron, as wel they in Beth-shean, and in the townes of the same, as they in the valley of Izrael.

17 And Ioshua spake vnto the house of Ioseph, to Ephraim, & to Manasseh, saying, Thou art a great people, and hast great power, and shalt not haue one lot.

18 Therefore the mountaine shalbe thine: for it is a wood, and thou shalt cut it downe: and the ends of it shalbe thine, <sup>k</sup> & thou shalt cast out the Canaanites, though they haue yron charrets, and though they be strong.

<sup>k</sup> So that thou shalt enlarge thy porcion thereby.

CHAP. XVIII.

1 The Tabernacle set in Shiloh. 4 Certaine are sent to deuide the land to the other seuen tribes. 11 The lot of the children of Benjamin.

1 AND the whole Congregation of the children of Israel came together at Shiloh: for they set vp the <sup>a</sup> Tabernacle of the Congregation there, after the land was subiect vnto them.

<sup>a</sup> For they had now removed it from Gilgal and set it vp in Shiloh.

2 Now there remained among the children of Israel seuen tribes, to whome <sup>b</sup> they had not deuided their inheritance.

<sup>b</sup> As Eleazar, Ioshua & the heades of the tribes had done to Iudah, Ephraim and halfe of Manasseh.

3 Therefore Ioshua said vnto the children of Israel, How long are ye so slacke to entre and possesse the land which the Lord God of your fathers hath giuen you?

4 Giue from among you for <sup>c</sup> euery tribe thre men, that I may send them, and that they may rise, and walke through the land, and distribute it according to <sup>c</sup> their inheritance, and returne to me.

5 And that they may deuide it vnto them into seuen partes, (Iudah shal abide in his coast at the South, and the house of Ioseph shal <sup>d</sup> stand in their coastes at the North)

6 Ye shal describe the land therefore into seuen partes, & shal bring them hether to me, & I wil cast lottes for you here before the <sup>e</sup> Lord our God.

7 But the Leuites shal haue no part among you: for the <sup>f</sup> Priesthode of the Lord is their inheritance: also Gad and Reuben & halfe the tribe of Manasseh haue receiued their inheritance beyonde Iordan Eastward, which Moses the seruāt of the Lord gaue them.

8 ¶ Then the men arose, and went their way: and Ioshua charged them that went to describe the land, saying, Departe, and go through the land, and <sup>g</sup> describe it, and returne to me, that I may here cast lots for you before the Lord in Shiloh.

9 So the men departed, and passed through the land, and described it by cities into seuen partes in a booke, and returned to Ioshua into the campe at Shiloh.

10 ¶ Then Ioshua <sup>h</sup> cast lots for them in Shiloh before the Lord, and there Ioshua deuided the land vnto the children of Israel, according to their porcions.

11 ¶ And the lot of the tribe of the children of Benjamin came forth according to their families, and the coast of their lot lay <sup>i</sup> betwene the children of Iudah, and the children of Ioseph.

12 And their coast on the Northside was from Iordan, and the border went vp to the side of Iericho on the Northparte, & went vp through the mountaines Westward, and the ends thereof are in the wildernesses of Beth-auen:

13 And this border goeth along from thence to Luz, <sup>k</sup> ~~even~~ to the Southside of Luz (the same is <sup>k</sup> Beth-el) and this border descendeth to Atroth-addar, nere the mount, that lieth on the Southside of Beth-horon the nether.

<sup>k</sup> Which was in the tribe of Ephraim: another Beth-el was in the tribe of Benjamin.

14 So the border turneth, and compasseth the corner of the Sea Southward, from the mount that lieth before Beth-horon Southward: and the ends thereof are at Kiriath-baal (which is Kiriath-iearim) a citie of the children of Iudah: this is the West-quarter.

15 And the Southquarter is from the end of Kiriath-iearim, and this border goeth out <sup>l</sup> Westward, and cometh to the founteine of waters of Nephtoh.

17 And compasseth from the North, and goeth forth to <sup>n</sup> En-shemesh, & stretcheth to Geliloth, which is toward the going vp vnto Adummim, and goeth downe to the <sup>o</sup> stone of Bohan the sonne of Reuben.

Chap. 18, 14.

18 So it goeth along to the side ouer against the plaine Northward, and goeth downe into the plaine.

19 After, this border goeth along to the side of Beth-hoglah Northward: & the ends thereof, <sup>p</sup> that is, of the border, reache to the point of the salt Sea Northward, and to the <sup>p</sup> end of Iordan Southward: this is the Southcoast.

20 Also Iordén is the border of it on the Eastside: this is the inheritance of the children of Beniamín by the coastes thereof round about according to their families.

21 Now the cities of the tribe of the children of Beniamín according to their families, are Ierichó, and Beth-hoglah, and the valley of Keziz,

22 And Beth-arabah, and Zemaráim, and Beth-él,

23 And Auím, and Paráh, and Ophráh,

24 And Chephár, Ammonáim, and Ophní, & Gabá: twelue cities with their villages.

25 Gibeón, and Ramáh, and Beeróth,

26 And Mizpéh, and Chephiráh, and Mozáh,

27 And Rékem, and Irpeél, and Taraláh,

28 And Zelá, Eléph, and Iebusi, (which is Ierusalém) Gibeáth, and Kiriáth: fourtene cities with their villages: this is the inheritance of the children of Beniamín according to their families.

CHAP. XIX.

1 The porcion of Simeón, 10 Of Zebulún, 17 Of Issachár, 24 Of Ashér, 32 Of Naphtali, 40 Of Dan. 49 The possession of Ioshúa.

1 And the seconde lot came out to Simeón, even for the tribe of the children of Simeón according to their families: and their inheritáce was in the <sup>a</sup> middes of the inheritance of the children of Iudáh.

2 Now they had in their inheritance, Beer-sheba, & Sheba, and Moladáh,

3 And Hazar-shuál, and Baláh, and Azem,

4 And Eltolád, and Bethúl, and Hormáh,

5 And Ziklág, and Beth-marcabóth, and Hazar-susah,

6 And Beth-lebaóth, and Sharuhén: thirtene cities with their villages.

7 Ain, Remmón, and Ether, & Ashán: foure cities with their villages.

8 And all the villages that were round about these cities, vnto Baalathbeer, and <sup>a</sup> Ramáth Southwarde: this is the inheritance of the tribe of the children of Simeón according to their families.

9 Out of the porcion of the children of Iudáh came the inheritance of the childré of Simeón: for the parte of the children of Iudáh was to <sup>b</sup> muche for them: therefore the children of Simeón had their inheritance within their inheritance.

10 ¶ Also the third lot arose for the children of Zebulún according to their families: and the coastes of their inheritáce came to Saríd,

11 And their border goeth vp <sup>c</sup> Westwarde, even to Maraláh, and reacheth to Dabbásheth, & meteth with the riuér that lyeth before Iokneám,

12 And turneth from Saríd Eastwarde

towarde the sunne rising vnto the border of Chisloth tabór, & goeth out to Daberráth, and ascenderth to Iaphía, 13 And from thence goeth along Eastwarde towarde the sunne rising to Gittáh hépher to Ittáh kazín, and goeth forth to Rimmón, and turneth to Neáh.

14 And this border compasseth it on the Northside to Hannathón, and the ends thereof are in the valley of Iiphtah-él, 15 And Kattáth, and Nahallál, and Shírrón, and Idaláh, and <sup>d</sup> Beth-léhem: twelue cities with their villages.

16 This is the inheritance of the children of Zebulún according to their families: that is, these cities and their villages.

17 ¶ The fourthe lot came out to Issachár, even for the children of Issachár according to their families.

18 And their coast was Izreélah, and Cheshullóth, and Shuném, 19 And Hapharáim, and Shión, and Anaharáth,

20 And Harabbíth, & Kishión, and Abez,

21 And Reméth, and <sup>e</sup> En-ganním, and En-haddáh, and Beth-pazzéz.

22 And this coast reacheth to Tabór, and Shahazimáth, and Beth-shémesh, and the ends of their coast reache to Iordén: sixtene cities with their villages.

23 This is the inheritance of the tribe of the childré of Issachár according to their families: that is, the cities, and their villages.

24 ¶ Also the fifté lot came out for the tribe of the children of Ashér according to their families.

25 And their coast was Helcáth, and Halí, and Béten, and Achsháph, 26 And Alammélech, and Amád, & Misheál, and came to Carmél Westwarde, and to Shihór libnáth, 27 And turneth towarde the sunne rising to Beth-dagón, and commeth to <sup>f</sup> Zebulún, and to the valley of Iiphtah-él, towarde the Northside of Beth-emék, and Neiel, and goeth out on the left side of Cabúl, 28 And to Ebrón, and Rehób, and Hammon, and Kanáh vnto great Zidón.

29 Then the coast turneth to Ramáh & to the strong citie of <sup>g</sup> Zor, and this border turneth to Hofáh, and the ends thereof are at the Sea from Hebel to Achzib, 30 Vmmáh also and Aphék, and Rehób: two and twentie cities with their villages.

31 This is the inheritance of the tribe of the children of Ashér according to their families: that is, these cities and their villages.

32 ¶ The sixt lot came out to the childré of D.i.

<sup>e</sup> There was another citie of this name in the tribe of Iudáh: for vnder diuers tribes certeine cities had all one name, and were distinguished by the tribe onely.

Dans porcion.

Ioshúa.

Cities of refuge.

Naphtali, euen to the children of Naphtali according to their families.

h These cities were in the country of Zaanannim.

33 And their coast was from <sup>h</sup> Héleph, and from Allón in Zaanannim, and Adami nekeb, and Iabneél, euen to Lakúm, & the ends thereof are at Iordén.

34 So this coast turneth Westwarde to Aznoth tabór, and goeth out from thence to Hukkók, and reacheth to Zebulún on the Southside, & goeth to Ashér on the Westside, and to Iudáh <sup>h</sup> by Iordén towarde the sunne rising.

Or, euen vnto Iorden.

35 And the strong cities are Ziddim, Zer, & Hammáth, Rakkáth, and <sup>i</sup> Cinnéreth,

Of the which lake of Genezareth had his name.

36 And Adamáh, & Ramáh, and Hazór,

37 And Kédesht, and Edréi, and En-hazór,

38 And Irón, and Migdal-él, Horém, and Beth-anáh, and Beth-shémesh: nineteene cities with their villages.

39 This is the inheritance of the tribe of <sup>j</sup> childré of Naphtali according to their families: that is, the cities & their villages.

40 ¶ The seuéth lot came out for the tribe of the children of Dan according to their families.

41 And the coast of their inheritance was, Zoráh, and Eshtaól, and Ir-shémesh, 42 And Shaalabbín, and Aialón, & Ithláh,

43 And Elón, and Temnáthah, and Ek-rón,

44 And Eltekéh, & Gibbethón, & Baaláh,

45 And Iehúd, and Bene-berák, and Gath-rimmón,

h Called Ioppe.

46 And Me-iarkón, and Rakkón, with the border that lyeth before <sup>k</sup> Iápho.

47 But the coastes of the children of Dan fel out to liúe for them: therefore the childré of Dan went vp to <sup>l</sup> fight against Léshem, and toke it, and smote it with the edge of the sworde, and possessed it, and dwelt therein, and called Léshem, <sup>m</sup> Dan, after the name of Dan their father.

l According as Iakób had prophesied, Gen 49, 17. Iud. 18, 29.

48 This is the inheritance of the tribe of the children of Dan according to their families: that is, these cities and their villages.

49 ¶ When thei had made an end of deuinding the land by the coastes thereof, then the children of Israël gaue an inheritáçe vnto Ioshúa <sup>n</sup> y sonne of Nun among the.

50 According to the worde of the Lord thei gaue him the citie which he asked, eue <sup>o</sup> Timnath-seráh in mount Ephráim: and he buylt the citie and dwelt therein.

Chap. 34, 30.

Nomb. 34, 17

51 ¶ These are the heritages which Eleazár the Priest, and Ioshúa the sonne of Nun, and the chief fathers of the tribes of the children of Israël deuided by lot in Shilóh before the Lord at the dore of <sup>p</sup> Tabernacle of the Cōgregaciō: so thei made an end of deuinding the countrey.

CHAP. XX.

h The Lord commandeth Ioshúa to appoint cities of refuge. 3 The use thereof. 7 And their names.

1 The Lord also spake vnto Ioshúa, saying,

2 Speake to the children of Israël, and say, <sup>q</sup> Appoint you cities of refuge, whereof I spake vnto you by the hand of Mosés, Exod. 21, 13. Nomb. 35, 9. deut. 19, 2. a At vnwares, & bearing him no grudge.

3 That the slayer <sup>r</sup> y killeth any persone <sup>s</sup> by ignorance, and vnwittingly, may flee thither, & thei shal be your refuge from the auenger of blood.

4 And he that doeth flee vnto one of these cities, shal stand at the entring of the gate of the citie, and shal shewe his cause <sup>t</sup> to the Elders of the citie: and thei shal receiue him into the citie vnto them, and giue him a place, <sup>u</sup> y he may dwel w them.

Or, in the case of the citie.

5 And if the <sup>v</sup> auenger of blood pursue after him, thei shal not deliuer the slayer into his hand because he smote his neighbour ignorantly, nether hated he him beforetime:

b That is, the nearest kinne of him that is slayne.

6 But he shal dwel in <sup>w</sup> y citie vntil he stand before the Congregation in <sup>x</sup> iudgement, <sup>y</sup> or vntil the death of the hye Priest that shalbe in those daies: then shal the slayer returne, and come vnto his owne citie, and vnto his owne house, euen vnto the citie from whence he fled.

c Til his cause were proved.

Nomb. 35, 25.

7 ¶ Then thei appointed Kédesht in <sup>z</sup> Galil in mount Naphtali, & Shechém in mount Ephráim, and Kiriath-arbá, (which is Hebrón) in the mountaine of Iudáh.

Or, Galile.

8 And on the other side Iordén towarde Ierichó Eastwarde, thei appointed <sup>aa</sup> Bézer in the wildernes vpon the plaine, out of <sup>bb</sup> y tribe of Reubén, & Ramóth in Gileád, out of the tribe of Gad, and Golán in Bashán, out of the <sup>cc</sup> d tribe of Manasséh.

d Out of the half tribe of Manasséh beyond Iorden.

9 These were the cities appointed for all the children of Israël, and for the stranger that sojourned among them, that whosoever killed any persone ignorantly, might flee thither, & not dye by the hand of the auenger of blood, vntil he stode before the <sup>ee</sup> Congregation.

CHAP. XXI.

41 The cities giuen to the Leuites, in nōber eight & fouertie. 44 The Lord according to his promes gaue the children of Israël rest.

1 The came the <sup>ff</sup> principal fathers of the Leuites vnto Eleazár the Priest, and vnto Ioshúa the sonne of Nun, and vnto the chief fathers of the tribes of the children of Israël,

Or, the chief of the fathers.

2 And spake vnto the at Shilóh in the land of Canáa, sayig, <sup>gg</sup> The Lord cōmāded <sup>hh</sup> a by the hād of Mosés, to giue vs cities to dwel in, w the suburbes thereof for our cattel.

Nomb. 35, 2. a By Mosés, by whose ministerie God shewed his power.

3 So the children of Israël gaue vnto the Leuites, out of their inheritáçe at the cōmandement of the Lord these cities with their suburbes.

4 And the lot came out for the families of the <sup>ii</sup> Kohathites: & the childré of Aarón the Priest, which were of the Leuités, had

b He meaneth the that were Priests: for some were but Leuites.

by

by lot, out of the tribe of Iudáh, and out of the tribe of Simeón, and out of the tribe of Benjamin <sup>e</sup> thirtene cities.

And the rest of the children of Kohath <sup>had</sup> by lot out of the families of the tribe of Ephráim, and out of the tribe of Dan, and out of the halfe tribe of Manasséh, ten cities.

Also the children of Gershón <sup>had</sup> by lot out of the families of the tribe of Issachár, and out of the tribe of Ashér, and out of the tribe of Naphtali, and out of the halfe tribe of Manasséh in Bashán, thirtene cities.

The children of Merari according to their families <sup>had</sup> out of the tribe of Reubén, and out of the tribe of Gad, and out of the tribe of Zebulún, twelue cities.

So the childré of Israël gaue by lot vnto the Leuites these cities with their suburbes, as the Lord had commanded by the hand of Moses.

And they gaue out of ý tribe of ý childré of Iudáh, & out of the tribe of the childré of Simeón, these cities w are here named.

<sup>d</sup> For Aaron came of Kohath, and therefore the Priests office remained in ý familie.

And they were the children of <sup>d</sup> Aaron being of the families of the Kohathites, & of the sonnes of Leui, (for theirs was the first lot)

So they gaue the Kiriath-arbá of the father of Anók (which is Hebón) in the mountaine of Iudáh, with the suburbes of the same round about it.

Thus they gaue to the <sup>e</sup> childré of Aaron the Priest, a citie of refuge for the slayer, <sup>men</sup> Hebón with her suburbes, & Libnáh with her suburbes,

And Iattir with her suburbes, and Esthemóa and her suburbes,

And Holón with her suburbes, and Debír with her suburbes,

And Aín with her suburbes, and Iuttáh w her suburbes, Beth-shémesh w her suburbes: nine cities out of those two tribes.

All the cities of the children of Aaron Priests, were thirtene cities with their suburbes.

But to the families of the children of Kohath of the Leuites, <sup>g</sup> which were the rest of the children of Kohath (for the cities of their lot were out of the tribe of Ephráim)

<sup>h</sup> Hebón and Shechem were the two cities of refuge vnder the Kohathites.

They gaue them the citie of refuge for the slayer, <sup>h</sup> Shechem with her suburbes in mounte Ephráim, and Gézer with her suburbes,

And Kibzáim with her suburbes, & Bethhorón with her suburbes: foure cities.

And out of the <sup>i</sup> halfe tribe of Manasséh, Tanách with her suburbes, & Gath-rimón with her suburbes: two cities.

All the cities for the other families of the children of Kohath were ten with their suburbes.

Also vnto the children of Gershón of the families of the Leuites, they gaue out of ý halfe tribe of Manasséh, the citie of refuge for ý slayer, & Golán in Bashán with her suburbes, & Beeshteráh with her suburbes: two cities.

All the cities of the Gershonites according to their families, were thirtene cities with their suburbes.

Also vnto the families of the children of Merari the <sup>1</sup> rest of the Leuites, they gaue out of ý tribe of Zebulún, Iokneam with her suburbes, and Kartáh with her suburbes,

And out of ý tribe of Reubén, <sup>m</sup> Bézer w her suburbes, and Iahazáh w her suburbes,

And out of the tribe of Gad they gaue for a citie of refuge for the slayer, Ramóth in Gileád with her suburbes, and Mahanáim with her suburbes, Heshbón with her suburbes, and Iazér with her suburbes: foure cities in all.

So all the cities of the children of Merari according to their families (which were the rest of the families of the Leuites) were by their lot, twelue cities.

<sup>n</sup> Thus according to Iakobs prophetic, they were scattered throughout ý countrey, which God vied to this end, that his people might be instructed in the true religion.

And all the cities of the Leuites <sup>n</sup> within the possession of the children of Israël were eight and fourtie with their suburbes.

These cities lay euerie one <sup>seuerally</sup> with their suburbes rounde about them: so were all these cities.

43 ¶ So the Lord gaue vnto Israël all the land, which he had sworne to giue vnto their fathers: and they possessed it, and dwelt therein.

44 Also the Lord gaue them rest round about according to all that he had sworne vnto their fathers: and there stode not a man of all their enemies before them: for the Lord deliuered all their enemies into their hand.

Chap. 22, 15.

45 * There failed nothing of all the good things, which the Lord had said vnto the house of Israël, but all came to passe.

4 And now the Lord hathe giuen rest vnto your brethren as he promised them: therefore now returne ye and go to your têtes, to the land of your possession, which Moses the seruant of the Lord * hathe giuen you beyonde Iordén.

Deut. 10, 12. c He sheweth wherein consisteth the fulfilling of the Lawe.

5 But take diligent hede, to do the commandement and Lawe, which Moses the seruant of the Lord commanded you: that is, * that ye c loue the Lord your God, and walke in all his wayes, and kepe his commandements, and cleaue vnto him, and serue him with all your heart and with all your soule.

d He commanded the to God & prayed for them.

6 So Ioshúa d blessed them and sent them away, and they went vnto their tents.

7 ¶ Now vnto one halfe of the tribe of Manasseh Moses had giuen a possession in Bashán: and vnto the other halfe thereof gaue Ioshúa among their brethren on this side Iordén Westward: therefore whē Ioshúa sent them away vnto their têtes, and blessed them,

8 Thus he spake vnto the, saying, Returne with much riches vnto your tentes, and with a great multitude of cattel, with silver and with golde, with brasse and with yron, and with great abundāce of raimēt: deuide the spoyle of your enemies with your e brethren.

e Which remained at home and went not to the warfare, Nom. 31, 27. 1. sam. 30, 24.

9 ¶ So the children of Reuben, & the children of Gad, and halfe the tribe of Manasseh returned, and departed from the children of Israël from Shiloh (which is in the land of Canaan) to go vnto the countrey of Gilead to the land of their possession, which they had obtained, according to the worde of the Lord by the hand of Moses.

10 ¶ And when they came vnto the borders of Iordén (w̄ are in the land of Canaan) then the children of Reuben, and the children of Gad, & the halfe tribe of Manasseh, buyt f there an altar by Iordén, a great altar to se to.

g The Gilead, which countrey also was called Canaan because the Amorites dwelling there were called Canaanites.

f That is, beyonde Iordén: for some time the whole countrey on both sides of Iordén is men by Canaan.

11 ¶ Whē the children of Israël heard saie, Beholde, the children of Reuben, and the children of Gad, and the halfe tribe of Manasseh haue buyt an altar in the forefront of the land of Canaan vpo the borders of Iordén at the passage of the children of Israël:

12 When the children of Israël heard it, then the whole Congregation of the children of Israël gathered them together at Shiloh to go vp h to warre against them.

g Suche now was their zeale, that they wolde rather lose their liues, then suffer the true religion to be changed or corrupted.

13 Then the children of Israël sent vnto the children of Reuben, and to the children of Gad, and to the halfe tribe of Manasseh into the land of Gilead, Phinehas the sonne of Eleazar the Priest, 14 And with him ten princes, of euerie chief house a prince, according to all the tribes of Israël: for euerie one was chief of their fathers householde among the i thousandes of Israël.

h Or, multitude.

15 ¶ So they wēt vnto the children of Reuben, and to the children of Gad, and to the halfe tribe of Manasseh, vnto the land of Gilead, and spake with them, saying,

16 Thus saith h y whole Congregation of the Lord, What transgression is this that ye haue transgressed against the God of Israël, to turne away this day from the Lord, in that ye haue buyt you an altar for to rebel this day against the Lord?

i Not only of y princes, but also of the common people.

17 Haue we to litle for the wickednes * of Peor, whereof we are not i clenfed vnto this day, though a plague came vpon the Congregation of the Lord?

Nom. 25, 4.

18 Ye also are turned away this day from the Lord: & seing ye rebel to day against the Lord, euen tomorrow he wilbe wrath with all the Congregation of Israël.

i Meaning, God is not fully pacified, for as much as no punishment can be sufficient for such wickednes & idolatry.

19 Notwithstanding if the lād of your possession be k vncleane, come ye ouer vnto the land of the possessiō of the Lord, wherein the Lords Tabernacle dwelleth, and take possession among vs: but l rebel not against the Lord, nor rebel not against vs in buylding you an altar, beside the altar of the Lord our God.

k In your iudgement.

20 Did not Achán the sonne of Zerah trespass grievously in the execrable thing, & wrath fel on * all the Congregation of Israël

Israel: and this man alone <sup>m</sup> perished not in his wickednes.

21 ¶ Then the children of Reuben and the children of Gad, & halfe the tribe of Manasséh answered, and said vnto the heades ouer the thousandes of Israël, 22 The Lord God of gods, y Lord God of gods, he knoweth, and Israël him selfe shal knowe: if by rebellio, or by transgression against the Lord we haue done it, saue thou vs not this day.

23 If we haue buylt vs an altar to returne away from the Lord, ether to offer thereo burnt offering, or meat offering, or to offer peace offerings thereon, let y Lord <sup>a</sup> him selfe require it:

24 And if we haue not rather done it for feare of this thing, saying, In time to come your children might say vnto our childre, What haue ye to do with the Lord God of Israël?

25 For y Lord hath made Iordén a border betwene vs and you, ye children of Reuben, & of Gad: therefore ye haue no parte in the Lord: so shal your children make our children <sup>o</sup> cease from fearing the Lord.

26 Therefore we said, We wil now go about to make vs an altar, not for burnt offering, nor for sacrifice, 27 But for a <sup>a</sup> witnes betwene vs and you, and betwene our generacions after vs, to execute the seruice of the Lord before him in our burnt offerings, and in our sacrifices, and in our peace offerings, and that your children shulde not say to our children in time to come, Ye haue no parte in the Lord.

28 Therefore said we, If so be that they shulde so say to vs or to our <sup>p</sup> generacions in time to come, the wil we answer, Beholde the facion of the altar of the Lord, which our fathers made, not for burnt offering nor for sacrifice, but it is a witnes betwene vs and you.

29 God forbid, that we shulde rebel against the Lord, and turne this day away from the Lord to buyld an altar for burnt offering, or for meat offering, or for sacrifice, saue the altar of the Lord our God, that is before his Tabernacle.

30 ¶ And when Phineás the Priest, and the princes of the Congregation and heades ouer the thousandes of Israël which were with him, heard the wordes, that the children of Reuben, and children of Gad, and the children of Manasséh spake, they were wel content.

31 And Phineás the sonne of Eleazár the Priest said vnto the children of Reuben and to y children of Gad, & to the childre of Manasséh, This day we perceiue, that y Lord is <sup>q</sup> among vs, because ye haue not done this trespas against the Lord: now ye haue deliuered the children of Israël out of the hand of the Lord.

32 ¶ Then Phineás the sonne of Eleazár the Priest with the princes returned from the childre of Reuben, and from the children of Gad, out of the land of Gileád, vnto the land of Canaan, to the children of Israël, and broght them answer.

33 And the saying pleased the children of Israël: and the children of Israël blessed God, and minded not to go against the in battel, for to destroy the land, wherein the children of Reuben, and Gad dwelt.

34 Then the children of Reuben, and the children of Gad called the altar <sup>e</sup> Ed: for it shalbe a witnes betwene vs, that the Lord is God.

2 Then Ioshua said vnto all the people, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, *Your fathers dwelt beyonde the "flood in olde time, even Tera the father of Abrahám, and the father of Nachór, and serued o- ther gods.

3 And I toke your father Abrahám from beyode the flood, & broght him through all the land of Canaan, and multiplied his se- de, and *gaue him Izhák.

4 And I gaue vnto Izhák, Iaakób & Esáu: and I gaue vnto *Esáu mount Seir, to pos- sess it: but *Iaakób and his children wet downe into Egypt.

13 And I haue giuen you a land, wherein ye did not labour, and cities which ye buylt not, & ye dwel in them, & eat of the vineyardes and oliue trees, which ye plan- ted not.

14 Now therefore "feare the Lord, & ser- ue him in vprightenes and in trueth, and put away the gods, which your fathers ser- ued beyonde the flood and in Egypt, and serue ye the Lord.

f This is the true vie of Gods benefi- tes, to learne thereby to feare & serue him with an vpright con- science

THE BOKE OF IVDGES.

THE ARGUMENT.

Albeit there is nothing that more prouoketh Gods wrath, then mans ingratitude, yet is there nothing so displeasing and heinous that can turne backe Gods loue from his Church. For now when the Israelites were entred into the land of Canaan, and sawe the trueth of Gods promes performed, in stead of acknowledging his great benefites and giuing thanks for the same, they fell to moste horrible obliuion of Gods graces, contrarie to their sol. mne promes made vnto Ioshúa, and so prouoked his vengeance (as muche as in them stode) to their viter destruction. Whereof as they had moste euident signes by the mutabilitie of their state: for he suffered them to be moste cruelly vexed and tormented by tyrants: he pulled them from libertie, and cast them into slauerie, to the intent they might fele their owne miseries and so call vnto him and be deliuered. Yet to shewe that his mercies indure for euer, he raised vp from time to time suche as shulde deliuer them, and assure them of his fauour and grace, if they wolde turne to him by true repentance. And these deliuerers the Scripture calleth Iudges, because they were executers of Gods iudgements, not chosē of the people nor by succession, but raised vp, as it semed best to God, for the gouernance of his people. They were twelue in number besides Ioshúa, and gouerned from Ioshúa vnto Saul the first King of Israel. Ioshúa and these vnto the tyme of Saul ruled 336 yeres. In this boke are manie notable points declared, but two especially: first, the battel that the Church of God hath for the maintenance of true religion against idolatrie and superstition: next, what great danger that commune wealth is in, when as God giueth not a magistrate to reteine his people in the purenes of religion and his true seruice.

CHAP. I.

After Ioshua was dead, Iudáh was constituted captain. 6 Adoni-bézek is takē. 14 The request of Achsáh. 16 The children of Keni. 19 The Canaanites are made tributaries, but not destroyed.

a By the iudgement of V. rim: read Exo. 28, 30 nom. 27. 21. 1 sm. 28, 6. b Who shalbe our Captaine?

After Ioshua was dead, y childre of Israel asked the Lord, saying, b Who shal go vp for vs against the Canaanites, to fight first against them?

2 And the Lord said, Iudáh shal go vp: beholde, I haue giuen the land into his hand.

c For the tribe of Simeón had their inheritance within y tribe of Iudáh, Iosh. 19, 1.

3 And Iudáh said vnto Simeón his brother, Come vp with me into my lot, that we may fight against the Canaanites: and I likewise wil go with thee into thy lot: so Simeón went with him.

4 Then Iudáh went vp, and the Lord deliuered the Canaanites and the Perizzites into their hands, and they slewe of them in Bézek ten thousand men.

d Or, the lord of Bézek.

5 And they foude Adoni-bézek in Bézek: and they fought against him, and slew the Canaanites, and the Perizzites.

e This was Gods iust iudgement, as the tyrant him self confesseth, y as he had done, so did he receiue, Leuit. 24, 19.

6 But Adoni-bézek fled, and they pursued after him, and caught him, and d cut of the thumbes of his hands and of his fete.

7 And Adoni-bézek said, Seuentie Kings hauing the thumbes of their hands and of their fete cut of, gathered bread vnder my table: as I haue done, so God hath rewarded me, so they brought him to Ierusalém, and there he dyed.

8 (Now the children of Iudáh had fought against Ierusalém, and had takē it & smitten it with the edge of the sword, and had set the citie on fire)

f Which was after ward burnt againe, & possessed by y Iebusites, 2. Sam. 5, 6.

9 Afterwarde also the children of Iudáh went downe to fight against the Canaanites, that dwelt in y mountaine, and toward the South, and in the lowe countrey.

g Iosh. 13, 14.

h These thre were gyats, & the children of Anák.

10 And Iudáh wēt against the Canaanites, that dwelt in Hebrón, which Hebrón beforetime was called Kiriath-arbá: and they slewe f Sheshái, and Ahimán & Talmaí.

11 And from thence he went to the inhabitants of Debír, and the name of Debír in olde time was Kiriath-sépher.

12 And Caléb said, He y smiteth Kiriath-sépher, & taketh it, euen to him wil I giue Achsáh my daughter to wife.

13 And Othniél the sonne of Kenáz Calébs yonger brother toke it, to whome he gaue Achsáh his daughter to wife.

g Read Iosh. 15, 18.

14 And whē she came to him, she moued him to aske of her father a field, & she lighted of her asse, and Caléb said vnto her, What wilt thou?

15 And she answered him, Giue me a blessing: for thou hast giuen me a South con-trey, giue me also springs of water: and Caléb gaue her the springs aboue and the springs beneth.

16 ¶ And the children of h Kení Mosés father in lawe went vp out of the citie of the palmetrees with the children of Iudáh, into the wildernes of Iudáh, that lieth in the South of Arád, and went and dwelt among the people.

i This was one of the names of Mosés father in lawe, read Nom. 10, 29.

17 But Iudáh went with Simeón his brother, and they slewe the Canaanites that inhabited Zepháth, and vtterly destroyed it, and called the name of the citie *Hormáh.

Nom. 31, 3.

18 Also Iudáh toke i Azzáh with the coastes thereof, & Askelón with the coastes thereof, and Ekrón with the coastes thereof.

j These cities & others were after ward possessed of the Philistines, 1. Sam. 6, 17.

19 And the Lord was with Iudáh, and he possessed the mountaines: for he cold not driue out the inhabitants of the valleys, because they had charrets of yron.

20 And they gaue Hebrón vnto Caléb, as * Mosés had said, and he expelled thence the thre sonnes of Anák.

Nom. 14, 24.

Iosh. 14, 13.

g 15, 14.

21 But the children of Beniamín did not cast out the Iebusites, that k inhabited Ierusalém: therefore the Iebusites dwel with the children of Beniamín in Ierusalém vnto this day.

k For after y the tribe of Iudáh had burnt it, they built it againe.

22 ¶ They also that were of the house of Ioséph, went vp to Beth-él, and the Lord was with them,

23 And the house of Ioséph caused to vewe Beth-él (and the name of the citie beforetime was * Luz)

Gen. 28, 19.

24 And the spies sawe a man come out of the citie, & they said vnto him, Shewe vs, we pray thee, the way into the citie, * and we wil shewe thee mercie.

Iosh. 2, 14.

25 And when he had shewed them the way into the citie, they smote the citie with y edge of the sword, but they let the man & all his housholde departe.

26 Then the man went into the land of the Hittites, and buylt a citie, and called the name thereof Luz, which is the name thereof vnto this day.

27 ¶ Nether did Manasséh destroy Beth-sheán with her townes, nor Taanách with her townes, nor the inhabitants of Dor with her townes, nor the inhabitants of Ibleám with her townes, nether the inhabitants of Megiddó with her townes: but the Canaanites dwelled stil in that land.

l Wherefore God permitted the Canaanites to dwell stil in y land, read Chap. 3, 4.

28 Neuertheles when Israél was strōg, they put the Canaanites to tribute, and expelled them not wholly.

29 ¶ Likewise Ephráim expelled not the Canaanites that dwelt in Gézer, but the Canaanites dwelt in Gézer among them.

Iosh. 16, 10.

30 ¶ Nether did m Zebulún expel the inhabitants of Kitrón, nor the inhabitants of m That is the tribe of Zebulún, as is also to be vnderstand of y reth.

of Nahalól, but the Canaanites dwelt among them, and became tributaries.

31 ¶ Neither did Asher cast out the inhabitants of Acchó, nor the inhabitants of Zidon, nor of Ahlab, nor of Achzib, nor of Helbáh, nor of Aphik, nor of Rehób, 32 But the Asherites dwelt among the Canaanites the inhabitants of the land: for they did not drive them out.

33 ¶ Neither did Naphtali drive out the inhabitants of Beth-shémesh, nor the inhabitants of Beth-anáth, but dwelt among the Canaanites the inhabitants of the land: nevertheless the inhabitants of Beth-shémesh, and of Beth-anáth became tributaries vnto them.

34 And the Amorites droue the children of Dan into the mountaine: so that they suffered them not to come downe to the valley.

35 And the Amorites dwelt still in mount Héres in Aialón, and in Shalbim, and when the hand of Iosephs familie preuailed, they became tributaries:

36 And the coast of the Amorites was from Maaleh-akrabbim, euē from Sélah and vpwarde.

CHAP. II.

1 The Angel rebuketh the people, because they had made peace with the Canaanites. 11 The Israelites set to idolatry after Ioshuas death. 14 They are deliuered into the enemies hands. 16 God deliuereth them by Iudges. 22 Why God suffered idolaters to remaine among them.

And an Angel of the Lord came vp from Gilgál to Bochím, & said, I made you to go vp out of Egypt, & haue brought you vnto the land which I had sworne vnto your fathers, and said, I wil neuer breake my couenant with you.

2 *Ye also shal make no couenant with the inhabitants of this land, *but shal breake downe their altars: but ye haue not obeyed my voyce. Why haue ye done this?

3 Wherefore, I said also, I wil not cast the out before you, but they shalbe as thornes vnto your sides, and their gods shalbe your destruction.

4 And when the Angel of the Lord spake these wordes vnto all the children of Israël, the people lift vp their voyce, and wept.

5 Therefore they called the name of that place, Bochím, and offered sacrifices there vnto the Lord.

6 ¶ Now when Ioshúa had sent the people away, the children of Israël went euerie mā into his inheritance to possesse the land.

7 And the people had serued the Lord all the daies of Ioshúa, and all the daies of the Elders that outlyued Ioshúa, which had sene all the great workes of the Lord that he did for Israël.

8 But Ioshúa the sonne of Nun the seruāt of the Lord dyed, when he was an hūdreth and ten yeres olde:

9 And they buried him in the coastes of his inheritance, in Timnath-héres in mount Ephraím, on the Northside of mount Gáash.

10 And so all that generacion was gathered vnto their fathers, and an other generacion arose after them, which nether knewe the Lord, nor yet the workes, which he had done for Israël.

11 ¶ The children of Israël did wickedly in the sight of the Lord, and serued Baalim, 12 And forsoke the Lord God of their fathers, which brought them out of the land of Egypt, & followed other gods, euē the gods of the people that were round about them, and bowed vnto them, & prouoked the Lord to angre.

13 So they forsoke the Lord, & serued Baal and Ashtaróth.

14 And the wrath of the Lord was hote against Israël, and he deliuered them into the hands of spoilers, that spoiled them, & he sold them into the hands of their enemies round about the, so that they coulde no longer stand before their enemies.

15 Whether soeuer they went out, the hand of the Lord was sore against them, as the Lord had said, & as the Lord had sworne vnto them: so he punished them sore.

16 ¶ Notwithstanding, the Lord raised vp Iudges, which deliuered them out of the hands of their oppressors.

17 But yet they wolde not obey their Iudges: for they went a whoring after other gods, and worshipped them, & turned quickly out of the way, wherein their fathers walked, obeying the commandments of the Lord: they did not so.

18 And when the Lord had raised them vp Iudges, the Lord was with the Iudge, and deliuered them out of the hand of their enemies all the daies of the Iudge (for the Lord had compassion of their groanings, because of them that oppressed them & tormented them)

19 Yet when the Iudge was dead, they returned, and did worse then their fathers, in following other gods to serue them and worship them: they ceased not from their owne inuencions, nor from their rebellious way.

20 Wherefore the wrath of the Lord was kindled against Israël, & he said, Because this people hath transgressed my couenant, which I commanded their fathers, & hath not obeyed my voyce, 21 Therefore wil I no more cast out before them any of the nations, which Ioshúa left when he dyed, committed wickednes before the Lord.

13 And he gathered vnto him the children smote Israel, and thei possessed the cite of palmetrees.

14 So the children of Israel serued Eglón

15 But when the children of Israel cryed vnto the Lord, the Lord stirred them vp a sauiour, Ehúd the sonne of Gerá the 21 And Ehúd put for the his left hand, and toke the dagger from his right thigh, and thrust it into his belly,

22 So that the harte went in after the blade:
and the fat closed about the blade, so that he colde not drawe the dagger out of his belly, but the dirt came out.

23 Then Ehúd gáte him out <sup>l</sup> into the por-che, and shut the dores of the parler vpon him, and locked them.

and beholde, their lord was fallen dead on the earth.

26 So Ehúd escaped (while thei taryed) and was passed the quarris, and escaped vnto Seirath.

27 And when he came home, <sup>n</sup> he blewe a sages of Iorden toward Moab, and suffered not a man to passe ouer.

29 And they slew of the Moabites the same time about ten thousand me, all fed men, and all were warriours, and there escaped not a man.

30 So Moab was subdued that day, vnder the hand of Israël: and the land had rest fourescore yeres.

31 And after him was Shamgár the sonne of Anáth, which slewe of the Philistims fixe hundreth men with an oxe goade, & he also deliuered Israël.

CHAP. IIII.

Israël sinne and are giue into the hands of Iabin. 4 Deborah iudgeth Israël and exhorteth Barák to deliuer the people. 15 Siferá fleeth, 17 And is killed by Iaél.

And the children of Israël began againe to do wickedly in the sight of the Lord when Ehú was dead.

2 And the Lord solde them into the hand of Iabin King of Canaan, that reigned in Hazór, whose chief captaine was called Siferá, which dwelt in Haroshéth of the Gentiles.

Then the children of Israël cryed vnto the Lord: (for he had nine hundreth charrets of yron, and twennie yeres he had vexed the children of Israël very sore)

4 And at that time Deborah a Prophetesse the wife of Lapidóth iudgeth Israël.

5 And this Deborah dwelt vnder a palmtree, betwene Ramán and Beth-él in mount Ephraim, & the children of Israël came vp to her for iudgement.

6 Then she sent and called Barák the sonne of Abinóam out of Kédesh of Naphtalí, and said vnto him, Hathe not y Lord God of Israël commanded, saying, Go, and drawe toward mount Tabór, & take with thee ten thousand men of the children of Naphtalí and of the children of Zebulún?

7 And I wil drawe vnto thee to the riuer Kishón Siferá, the captaine of Iabins armie with his charrets, and his multitude, & wil deliuer him into thine hand.

8 And Barák said vnto her, If thou wilt go with me, I wil go: but if thou wilt not go with me, I wil not go.

9 Then she answered, I wil surely go with thee, but this iourney that thou takest, shal not be for thine honour: for y Lord shal sel Siferá into y had of a womán. And Deborah arose and went w Barák to Kédesh.

10 And Barák called Zebulún and Naphtalí to Kédesh, & he went vp on his fete with ten thousand men, and Deborah wét vp with him.

11 (Now Héber the Kenite, which was of the children of Hobáb the father in law of Moses, was departed from the Kenites, and pitched his tent vntil the plaine of Zaanáim, which is by Kédesh)

12 The they shewed Siferá, y Barák y sonne of Abinóá was gone vp to mount Tabór.

13 And Siferá called for all is charrets, euen nine hundreth charrets of yron, & all the people that were with him fró Haroshéth of the Gentiles, vnto the riuer Kishón.

14 Then Deborah said vnto Barák, s Vp: for this is y day that the Lord hathe deliuered Siferá into thine hand. Is not the Lord gone out before thee? so Barák went downe from mount Tabór, and ten thousand men after him.

15 And the Lord destroyed Siferá and all his charrets, & all his hoste with the edge of the sworde, before Barák, so that Siferá lighted downe of his charret, and fled away on his fete.

16 But Barák pursued after the charrets, & after the hoste vnto Haroshéth of the Gétiles: & all y host of Siferá fel vpon y edge of y sworde: there was not a mā left.

17 Howbeit, Siferá fled away on his fete to the tent of Iaél the wife of Héber the Kenite: (for peace was betwene Iabín the King of Hazór, and betwene the house of Héber the Kenite)

18 And Iaél wét out to mete Siferá, & said vnto him, Turne in, my Lord, turne into me: feare not. And when he had turned in vnto her into her tent, she couered him with a mantel.

19 And he said vnto her, Giue me, I pray thee, a litle water to drinke: for I am thirsty. And she opened a bottle of milke & gaue him drinke, and couered him.

20 Againe he said vnto her, Stande in the dore of the tent, and when anie man doeth come and enquire of thee, saying, Is anie man here? thou shalt say, Nay.

21 Then Iaél Hebers wife took a nayle of the tent, and toke an hammer in her hand, and went softly vnto him, and smote the naile into his temples, and fastened it into the ground, (for he was fast a slepe, and wearie) and so he dyed.

22 And beholde, as Barák pursued after Siferá, Iaél came out to mete him, and said vnto him, Come, and I wil shewe thee the mā, whome thou sekest: and whé he came into her tent, beholde, Siferá lay dead, and the naile in his temples.

23 So God brought downe Iabín the King of Canaan that day before the children of Israël.

24 And the hand of the children of Israël prospered, and preuailed against Iabín the King of Canaan, vntil they had destroyed Iabín King of Canaan.

3 When Israël had fowen, then came vp the Midianites, the Amalekites, and they of the East, and came vpon them,

4 And camped by them, and destroyed the frute of the earth, enen til thou come vnto Azzah, & left no foode for Israël, nether shepe, nor oxe, nor asse.

5 For they wēt vp, and their cattel, and came with their tentes as greshoppers in multitude: so that they and their camels were without number: and they came into the land to destroye it.

6 So was Israël exceedingly impouershed by the Midianites: therefore the children of Israël cryed vnto the Lord.

7 ¶ And when the children of Israël cryed vnto the Lord because of the Midianites,

8 The Lord sent vnto the children of Israël a Prophet, who said vnto them, Thus sayeth the Lord God of Israël; I haue brought you vp frō Egypt & haue brought you out of the house of bondage, 9 And I haue deliuered you out of the hād of the Egyptians, and out of the hand of all that oppressed you, and haue cast them out before you, and giuen you their land.

10 And I said vnto you, I am the Lord your God: * feare not the gods of the Amorites in whose land you dwel: but you haue not obeyed my voyce.

11 ¶ And the Angel of the Lord came, and fate vnder the oke which was in Ophāh, that pertained vnto Ioāsh the father of the Ezrites, and his sonne Gideón threatened wheat by the win presse, to hide it from the Midianites.

12 Then the Angel of the Lord appeared vnto him, and said vnto him, The Lord is with thee, thou valiant man.

13 To whome Gideón answered, Ah my Lord, if the Lord be with vs, why then is all this come vpon vs? and where be all his miracles which our fathers tolde vs of, and said, Did not the Lord bring vs out of Egypt? but now the Lord hath forsaken vs, and deliuered vs into the hand of the Midianites.

14 And the Lord looked vpon him, and said, Go in this thy might, & thou shalt saue Israël out of the hands of the Midianites: haue not I sent thee?

15 And he answered him, Ah my Lord, whereby shall I saue Israël? beholde, my father is poore in Manassēh, and I am the least in my fathers house.

16 Then the Lord said vnto him, I will therefore be with thee, and thou shalt smite the Midianites, as one man.

17 And he answered him, I pray thee, if I haue founde fauour in thy sight, then shewe me a signe, that thou talkest with me.

18 Depart not hence, I pray thee, vntil I come vnto thee, and bring mine offering, & lay it before thee. And he said, I wil tary vntil thou come againe.

19 ¶ Then Gideón went in, & made ready a kid, & vnleauened bread of an Ephāh of floure, and put the flesh in a basket, and put the broth in a pot, and brought it out vnto him vnder the oke, and presented it.

20 And the Angel of God said vnto him, Take the flesh and the vnleauened bread, and lay them vpon this stone, and powre out the broth: and he did so.

21 ¶ The Angel of the Lord put forth the end of the staffe that he held in his hand, and touched the flesh & the vnleauened bread: and there arose vp fire out of the stone, and consumed the flesh & the vnleauened bread: so the Angel of the Lord departed out of his sight.

22 And when Gideón perceiued that it was an Angel of the Lord, Gideón then said, Alas, my Lord God: * for because I haue sene an Angel of the Lord face to face, I shall dye.

23 And the Lord said vnto him, Peace be vnto thee: feare not, thou shalt not dye.

24 Then Gideón made an altar there vnto the Lord, and called it, Iehouāh shalom: vnto this day it is in Ophāh, of the father of the Ezrites.

25 ¶ And the same night the Lord said vnto him, Take thy fathers yong bullocke, & another bullocke * of seuen yeres olde, and destroy the altar of Bāal that thy father hath, and cut downe the groue that is by it,

26 And buyde an altar vnto the Lord thy God vpō the top of this rocke, in a plaine place: and take the seconde bullocke, and offer a burnt offering with the wood of the groue, which thou shalt cut downe.

27 Then Gideón toke ten men of his seruants, and did as the Lord bade him: but because he feared to do it by day for his fathers housholde and the men of the citie, he did it by night.

28 ¶ And when the men of the citie arose early in the morning, beholde, the altar of Bāal was broken, and the groue cut downe that was by it, and the seconde bullocke offered vpon the altar that was made.

29 Therefore they said one to another, Who hath done this thing? & when they inquired and asked, they said, Gideón the sonne of Ioāsh hath done this thing.

30 Then the men of the citie said vnto Ioāsh, Bring out thy sonne, that he may dye: for he hath destroyed the altar of Bāal, & hath also cut downe the groue that was by it.

<sup>d</sup> Then <sup>e</sup> Ierubbaal (who is Gideon) rose vpearly and all the people that were with him, and pitched beside the well of Harod, so that the hoste of the Midianites was on the Northside of them in the valley by the hil of Moréh.

2 And y<sup>e</sup> Lord said vnto Gideon, The people that are with thee, are to manie for me to giue the Midianites into their handes, lest Israel make their vante against me, and say, Mine hand hath saued me.

3 Now therefore proclayme in the audience of the people, & say, Whoso is timorous or feareful, let him returne, and departe early from mount Gilead. And there returned of the people which were at mount Gilead, two and twentie thousand: so ten thousand remained.

4 And the Lord said vnto Gideon, The people are yet to manie: bring the downe vnto the water, and I wil<sup>b</sup> trye them for thee there: and of whome I say vnto thee, This man shal go with thee, the same shal go with thee: and of whome soeuer I say vnto thee, This man shal not go with thee, the same shal not go.

5 So he brought downe the people vnto the water. And y<sup>e</sup> Lord said vnto Gideon, As manie as lappe the water with their tongues as a dog lappeth, them put by them selues, & euerie one that shal bowe downe his knees to<sup>c</sup> drinke, put aparte.

6 And the number of them that lapped by putting their hands to their mouthes, were thre hundred men: but all the remnant of the people kneeled downe vpon their knees to drinke water.

7 ¶ Then the Lord said vnto Gideon, By these thre hundred men that lapped, wil I saue you, and deliuer the Midianites into thine hand: and let all the other<sup>d</sup> people go euerie man vnto his place.

8 ¶ So the people toke vitayles<sup>e</sup> with the, and their trumpets: and he sent all the rest of Israel, euerie man vnto his rent, & retained the thre hundred men: and the hoste of Midian was beneth him in a valley.

9 ¶ And the same night the Lord said vnto him, Arise, & get thee downe vnto the hoste: for I haue deliuered it into thine had.

10 But if thou feare to go downe, then go thou, & Phurah thy seruant downe to the hoste, 11 And thou shalt hearken, what they say, and so shal thine hands be strong to go downe vnto y<sup>e</sup> hoste. The went he downe and Phurah his seruāt vnto the outside of the souldiars that were in the hoste.

12 ¶ And the Midianites, and the Amalekites and all<sup>f</sup> they of the East, lay in the valley like grasshoppers in multitude, & their camels were without number, as the sand which is by the seaside for multitude.

13 And when Gideon was come, beholde, a man tolde a dreame vnto his neighbour, and said, Beholde, I dreamed a dreame, & lo, a cake of barley bread tumbled from aboute into the hoste of Midian, and came vnto a tent, and smote it that it fel, and ouerturned it, that the tent fel downe.

14 And his fellowe answered, and said, This is nothing els saue the sworde of Gideon the sonne of Ioash a man of Israel: for into his had hath God deliuered Midian and all the hoste.

15 ¶ When Gideon heard the dreame tolde, and the interpretation of the same, he worshipped, and returned vnto the hoste of Israel, & said, Vpon for the Lord hath deliuered into your had y<sup>e</sup> hoste of Midian.

17 And he said vnto them, Loke on me, and do likewise, whē I come to the side of the hoste: euen as I do, so do you.

18 When I blowe with a trumpet and all that are with me, blowe ye with trumpets also on euerie side of the hoste, and say, For the Lord, and for Gideón.

19 ¶ So Gideón and the hundreth men that were with him, came vnto the outside of the hoste in the beginning of the middle watche, and they raised vp the watchmen, and they blew with their trumpets, and brake the pitchers that were in their háds.

20 And the three companies blew with trumpets and brake the pitchers, and held the lampes in their left hands, and the trumpets in their right hands to blowe withall: and they cryed, The <sup>a</sup> sword of the Lord and of Gideón.

21 And they stode, euerie man in his place rounde about the hoste: and all the hoste ranne, and cryed, and fled.

22 And the three hundreth blew with trumpets, & <sup>a</sup> the Lord set euerie mans sworde vpon his <sup>1</sup> neighbour, and vpon all the hoste: so the hoste fled to Beth-hashittáh in Zereráh, and to the border of Abél meholáh vnto Tabbáth.

23 Then the men of Israël being gathered together out of Naphtali, & out of Assiér, and out of all Manasséh pursued after the Midianites.

24 And Gideón sent messengers vnto all mount Ephráim, saying, Come downe against the Midianites, and take before the <sup>m</sup> waters vnto Beth-baráh, and Iordén. Then all the men of Ephráim gathered together and toke the waters vnto Beth-baráh, and Iordén.

25 And they toke two <sup>a</sup> princes of the Midianites, Oréb and Zeéb, and slewe Oréb vpon the rocke Oréb, and slewe Zeéb at <sup>a</sup> the winepresse of Zeéb, and pursued the Midianites, and broght the heades of Oréb & Zeéb to Gideón beyonde Iordén.

CHAP. VIII.

1 Ephráim murmureth against Gideón, 2 Who appeareth them. 4 He passeth the Iordén. 14 He reuengeth him selfe on them of Succóth and Penuél. 27 He maketh an Ephód which was the cause of idolatrie. 30 Of Gideons sonnes and of his death.

Then the men of Ephráim said vnto him, <sup>a</sup> Why hast thou serued vs thus that thou calledst vs not, when thou wentest to fight with the Midianites? and they chode with him sharply.

2 To whome he said, What haue I now done in comparison of <sup>b</sup> you? is not <sup>c</sup> the gleaning of grapes of Ephráim better, the vintage of Abiézer?

3 God hath deliuered into your hands the princes of Midián, Oréb and Zeéb: and what was I able to do in comparison of you? and when he had thus spoken, then their spirits abated toward him.

4 ¶ And Gideón came to Iordén to passe ouer, he, and the three hundreth men that were with him, weary, yet pursuing them.

5 And he said vnto the men of Succóth, Giue, I pray you, <sup>d</sup> morsels of bread vnto the people <sup>d</sup> that followe me <sup>d</sup> (for they be weary) that I may followe after Zébah, & Zalmunná Kings of Midián.

6 And the princes of Succóth said, Are the hands of Zébah and Zalmunná now in thine háds, that we shulde giue bread vnto thine armie?

7 Gideón then said, Therefore when the Lord hath deliuered Zébah & Zalmunná into mine hand, I wil <sup>e</sup> teare your flesh with thornes of the wildernes and with breers.

8 ¶ And he went vp thence to Penuél, and spake vnto them likewise, and the men of Penuél answered him, as the men of Succóth answered.

9 And he said also vnto the men of Penuél, When I come againe <sup>f</sup> in peace, I wil breake downe this towre.

10 ¶ Now Zébah and Zalmunná were <sup>g</sup> in Karkór, and their hostes with them, about fiftene thousand, all that were left of all <sup>g</sup> hostes of them of the East: for there was slayne an hundreth and twentie thousand men, that drew swordes.

11 ¶ And Gideón went through them that dwelt in <sup>h</sup> tabernacles on the Eastside of Nóbah & Iogbeháh, and smote the hoste: for the hoste was careles.

12 And when Zébah and Zalmunná fled, he followed after them, & toke the two Kings of Midián, Zébah and Zalmunná, and discomfited all the hoste.

13 ¶ So Gideón <sup>i</sup> sonne of Ioásh returned from battel, <sup>i</sup> the sunne being y<sup>e</sup> thie, 14 And toke a seruant of the men of Succóth, and inquired of him: and he <sup>j</sup> wrote to him the princes of Succóth & the Elders thereof, <sup>j</sup> enen seuentie and seven men.

15 And he came vnto the men of Succóth, and said, Beholde Zébah and Zalmunná, by whome ye vpbraided me, saying, Are <sup>k</sup> y hands of Zébah & Zalmunná already in thine háds, that we shulde giue bread vnto thy weary men?

16 Then he toke the Elders of the citie, & thornes of the wildernes & breers, & <sup>k</sup> did teare the men of Succóth with them.

17 Also he brake downe the towre of Penuél, and slewe the men of the citie.

23 And Gideón said vnto them, I wil not reigne ouer you, nether shal my childe reigne ouer you, but the Lord shal <sup>n</sup> reigne ouer you.

24 Againe Gideón said vnto them, I wolde desire a request of you, that you wolde giue me euerie man the earings of his praye (for they had golden earings because they were Ismaelites)

25 And they answered, We wil giue them. And they spred a garmēt, & did cast therein euerie man the earings of his praye.

26 And the weight of the golden earings that he required, was a thousand and seven hundredth <sup>o</sup> shekels of golde, beside collers, and iewels, and purple raiment that was on the Kings of Midián, and beside the cheines; that were about their camels neckes.

27 And Gideón made an <sup>o</sup> Ephód thereof, and put it in Ophráh his citie: & all Israël wēt a whoring there after it, which was the destruction of Gideón and his house.

1 Abimélech usurpeth the kingdome, and putteth his brethren to death. 7 Iotham proposeth a parable.

23 Hatred berweene Abimélech & the Shechemites.

26 Gaál conspireth against him, and is overcome.

53 Abimélech is wounded to death by a woman.

<sup>r</sup> They were vnmindful of God, and vnkinder toward him, by whom they had receyued so great a benefite.

<sup>d</sup> Which was as the towne house or comb hall, which he calleth the towne of Shechem. vers 49.

<sup>e</sup> By this parable he declareth, that those that are not ambitious, are most worthy of honour, and that the ambitious abuse their honour both to their owne destruction and others.

¶ Then Abimélech the sonne of Ierubbáal went to Shechem vnto his <sup>a</sup> mothers brethren, and comuned with them, and with all the familie, and house of his mothers father, saying,

2 Say, I pray you, in the audience of all the men of Shechem, whether is better for you, that all <sup>o</sup> y<sup>e</sup> sonnes of Ierubbáal, which are seuentie persones, reigne ouer you, ether that <sup>o</sup> one reigne ouer you? Remember also, that I am your <sup>b</sup> bone, and your flesh.

3 Then his mothers brethren spake of him in the audiēce of all the men of Shechem, all these wordes: and their heartes were moued to followe Abimélech: for said they, He is our brother.

4 And they gaue him seuentie pieces of siluer out of the house of Baal-berith, wherewith Abimélech hired <sup>c</sup> vaine and light fellows which followed him.

5 And he went vnto his fathers house at Ophráh, and <sup>c</sup> slewe his brethren, the sonnes of Ierubbáal, about seuentie persones vpon one stone: yet Iothám the yongest sonne of Ierubbáal was left: for he hid him selfe.

6 ¶ And all the men of Shechem gathered together with all the house of <sup>d</sup> Milló, and came and made Abimélech King in the plaine, where the stone was erected in Shechem.

7 And when they tolde it to Iothám, he went and stode in the top of mount Gerizim, and lift vp his voyce, and cryed, and said vnto them, Hearken vnto me, you men of Shechem, that God may hearken vnto you.

8 <sup>e</sup> The trees wēt forthe to anointe a King ouer them, and said vnto the oliue tre, Reigne thou ouer vs.

9 But the oliue tre said vnto them, Shulde I leaue my fatnes, wherewith by me they honour God and man, and go to auance me aboue the trees?

10 Then the trees said to the fig tre, Come thou, and be King ouer vs.

11 But the fig tre answered them, Shulde I forsake my swētenes, and my good frute, and go to auance me aboue the trees?

12 Then

12 Then said the trees vnto the vine, Come thou & be King ouer vs.

13 But the vine said vnto them, Shulde I leaue my wine, whereby I cheare God and man, and go to auance me about the trees?

14 The said all the trees vnto the bramble, Come thou and reigne ouer vs.

15 And the bramble said vnto the trees, If ye wil in dede anoint me King ouer you, come, & put your trust vnder my shadow: and if not, the fire shal come out of the bramble, and consume the cedres of Lebanon.

16 Now therefore, if ye do truely and vncorruptly to make Abimélech King, & if ye haue dealt wel with Ierubbáal & with his house, & haue done vnto him according to the deseruing of his hands, 17 (For my father fought for you, and aduentured his life, & deliuered you out of the hands of Midián.

18 And ye are risen vp against my fathers house this day, and haue slayne his children, about seuentie persones vpon one stone, & haue made Abimélech the sonne of his maideseruant, King ouer the men of Shechém, because he is your brother)

19 If ye then haue delt truely and purely with Ierubbáal, and with his house this day, then & reioyce ye with Abimélech, and let him reioyce with you.

20 But if not, let a fire come out from Abimélech, and consume the men of Shechém and the house of Milló: also let a fire come forthe frō the men of Shechém, & from the house of Milló, and consume Abimélech.

21 And Iorhám ranne away, and fled, & wēt to Beér and dwelt there for feare of Abimélech his brother.

22 So Abimélech reigned thre yere ouer Israël.

23 But God sent an euil spirit betwene Abimélech, and the men of Shechém: and the mē of Shechém brake their promes to Abimélech, 24 That the crueltie towarde the seuentie sonnes of Ierubbáal & their blood might come and be laide vpon Abimélech their brother, which had slayne them, and vpon y men of Shechém, which had aided him to kil his brethren.

25 So y men of Shechém set men in waite for him in the tops of the mountaines: who robbed all that passed that way by them: and it was tolde Abimélech.

26 Then Gáal the sonne of Ebéd came with his brethren, and thei went to Shechém: and the men of Shechém put their confidence in him.

27 Therefore thei went out into the field, & gathered in their grapes & rroade them, and made mery, and went into the house of their gods, and did eat & drinke, and cursed Abimélech.

28 The Gáal the sonne of Ebéd said, Who is Abimélech? and who is Shechém, that we shulde serue him? Is he not the sonne of Ierubbáal? & Zebúl is his officer? Serue rather the men of Hamór the father of Shechém: for why shulde we serue him?

29 Now wolde God this people were vnder mine hād: then wolde I put away Abimélech. And he said to Abimélech, Increase thine armie, and come out.

30 And when Zebúl the ruler of the citie heard the wordes of Gáal the sonne of Ebéd, his wrath was kindled.

31 Therefore he sent messengers vnto Abimélech priuely, saying, Beholde, Gáal the sonne of Ebéd and his brethren be come to Shechém, and beholde, thei fortifie the citie against thee.

32 Now therefore arise by night, thou and y people that is with thee, & lie in wayte in the field.

33 And rise early in the morning as soone as the sunne is vp, and assalt the citie: and when he and the people that is with him, shal come out agāst thee, do to him what thou canst.

34 So Abimélech rose vp, & all the people that were with him by night: and thei laie in waite agāst Shechém in foure bandes.

35 Then Gáal the sonne of Ebéd went out and stode in the entring of the gate of the citie: and Abimélech rose vp, and the folke that were with him, frō liyng in waite.

36 And when Gáal sawe the people, he said to Zebúl, Beholde, there come people downe from the tops of the mountaines: and Zebúl said vnto him, The shadowe of the mountaines seme men vnto thee.

37 And Gáal spake againe, & said, Se, there come folke downe by the middle of the land, & an other band cometh by the way of the plaine of Meonenim.

38 Then said Zebúl vnto him, Where is now thy mouth, that said, Who is Abimélech, that we shulde serue him? Is not this the people that thou hast despised? Go out now, I pray thee, and fight with them.

39 And Gáal went out before the men of Shechém, and fought with Abimélech.

40 But Abimélech pursued him, & he fled before him, and many were ouerthrowen and wounded, euen vnto the entring of the gate.

41 And Abimélech dwelt at Arumáh: and Zebúl thrust out Gáal and his brethren that thei shulde not dwel in Shechém.

42 And on the morowe, the people went out into the field: which was tolde Abimélech.

43 And he toke the people, and deuided them into thre bandes, and laid waite in 44 And Abimélech, and the bandes that were with him, rushed forward, & stode in the entring of the gate of y<sup>e</sup> citie: and y<sup>e</sup> two other bandes ranne vpon all the people that were in the field and slewe them.

45 And whē Abimélech had fought against the citie all that day, he toke the citie, and slewe the people that was therein, & destroyed the citie and sowed salt in it.

o That it shulde be vnfutefull and neuer serue to any v<sup>e</sup>.

p That is, of Baal-berith, as Chap. 3. 45.

46 ¶ And when all the men of the towre of Shechem heard it, thei entred into an holde of the house of the god<sup>p</sup> Berith.

47 And it was tolde Abimélech, that all the men of the towre of Shechem were gathered together.

48 And Abimélech gate him vp to mount Zalmón, he and all the people that were with him: and Abimélech toke axes with him and cut downe boughes of trees and toke them, and bare them on his shulder, and said vnto the folke that were with him, What ye haue sene me do, make haste, and do like me.

49 Thē all the people also cut downe euery man his bough, and followed Abimélech, & put them to the holde, and set the holde on fire wth them: so all the men of the towre of Shechem dyed also, about a thousand men and women.

q Meaning. y<sup>e</sup> all were destroyed, aswel thei in y<sup>e</sup> towre as the other.

50 ¶ Then went Abimélech to Tebéz, and besieged Tebéz, and toke it.

51 But there was a strong towre within the citie, and therher fled all the men and women, and all the chief of the citie, and shut it to them, and went vp to the top of the towre.

52 And Abimélech came vnto the towre & fought against it, and went hard vnto the dore of the towre to set it on fire.

2 Sam. 11. 21.

53 But a certaine woman * cast a piece of a millstone vpon Abimelechs head, & brake his braine pan.

54 Thē Abimélech called hastily his page that bare his harnes, and said vnto him, Drawe thy sworde & slay me; that mē say not of me, A woman slewe him. And his page thrust him through, and he dyed.

r Thus God by suche miserable death taketh vengeance on tyrants euen in this life.

55 And when the men of Israël sawe that Abimélech was dead, thei departed euery man vnto his owne place.

56 Thus God rendred the wickednes of Abimélech, which he did vnto his father, in slaying his seuentie brethern.

57 Also all the wickednes of the mē of Shechem did God bring vpon their heades. So vpon thē came the curse of Iothám the sonne of Ierubbáal.

s For making a tyrant their King.

2 Tolá dyeth. 5 Iair also dyeth. 17 The Israelites are punished for their sinnes. 10 Thei crye vnto God, 16 And hee hath the pitie on them.

1 After Abimélech there arose to defend Israël, Tolá, the sonne of Puáh, the sonne of Dodó, a man of Issachár which dwelt in Shamir in mount Ephraim.

Or, his velle.

2 And he iudged Israël thre and twentie yere and dyed, & was buryed in Shamir.

Or, gouerned.

3 ¶ And after him arose Iair a Gileadite, & iudged Israël two and twentie yere.

4 And he had thirtie sonnes that rode on thirty assecoltes, & thei had thirty citiēs, which are called Hauoth-Iair vnto this day, and are in the land of Gilead.

a Signifying, thei were men of autoritie.

Or, the thirtie of Iair, as Deu. 3. 14.

5 And Iair dyed, & was buryed in Kamón.

6 ¶ And the childre of Israël wrought wickednes againe in the sight of the Lord, & serued Baalim and Ashtaróth, and the gods of Arám, and the gods of Zidon, and the gods of Moáb, and the gods of the children of Ammón, and the gods of the Philistims, and forsoke the Lord and serued not him.

7 Therefore the wrath of the Lord was kindled against Israël, and he sold them into the hands of the Philistims, and into the hands of the children of Ammón:

Or, deliuered.

8 Who from that yere vexed and oppressed the children of Israël eightene yeres, b euen all the children of Israël that were beyonde Iordén, in the land of the Amorites, which is in Gilead.

b As the Reubenites, Gadites, & half tribe of Manassch.

9 Moreouer the children of Ammón went ouer Iordén to fight against Iudáh, and against Beniamin, and against the house of Ephraim: so y<sup>e</sup> Israël was sore tormented.

10 Then the children of Israël cryed vnto the Lord, saying, We haue sinned against thee, eue because we haue forsaken our owne God, and haue serued Baalim.

c Thei prayed to the Lord & confessed their sinnes.

11 And the Lord d said vnto the children of Israël, did not I deliuer you from the Egyptians & frō the Amorites, frō the children of Ammón & from the Philistims?

d By stirring them vp from Prophet, as Chap. 6. 1.

12 The Zidonians also, and the Amalekites, and the Maobites did oppresse you, & ye cryed to me and I saued you out of their hands.

13 Yet ye haue forsaken me, and serued other gods: wherefore I wil deliuer you nomore.

Deut. 32. 17. ierem. 2. 13.

14 Go, and crye vnto the gods which ye haue chosen: let them saue you in the time of your tribulacion.

15 And the children of Israël said vnto the Lord, We haue sinned: do thou vnto vs whatsoeuer please thee: onely we pray thee to deliuer vs this day.

e That is, frō this present danger.

f This is true repentance to put away the euil, & to serue God aright.

16 Then they put away y<sup>e</sup> strange gods frō among thē & serued y<sup>e</sup> Lord: & his soule was grieved for the miserie of Israël.

17 Then the childre of Ammón gathered thē selues together, & pitched in Gilead: and the children of Israël assembled them selues, selues, and pitched in Mizpéh.

- 18 And the people and princes of Gileád said one to an other, Whosoever wil begin the battel against the childre of Ammón, the same shal be *head ouer all the inhabitants of Gileád.

CHAP. XI.

- 1 Iphtáh being chased away by his brethren, was after made captaine ouer Israël. 30 He maketh a rash vow. 32 He vauquisheth the Ammonites. 39 And sacrificeth his daughter according to his vowe.

- 1 THEN Gileád begate Iphtáh, & Iphtáh the Gileadite was <sup>a</sup> a valiant man, but the sonne of an <sup>b</sup> harlot.

- 2 And Gileads wife bare him sonnes, and when <sup>c</sup> y womán childre were come to age, they thrust out Iphtáh, and said vnto him, Thou shalt not inherit in our fathers house: for thou art <sup>c</sup> y sonne of a <sup>d</sup> stráge womán.

- 3 Then Iphtáh fled from his brethren, and dwelt in the land of <sup>b</sup> Tob: and there gathered ydle fellows to Iphtáh, and <sup>c</sup> went out with him.

- 4 AND in proceffe of time the children of Ammón made warre with Israël.

- 5 And whē the children of Ammón fought with Israël, <sup>d</sup> the Elders of Gileád went to fet Iphtáh out of the land of Tob.

- 6 And they said vnto Iphtáh, <sup>e</sup> Come and be our captaine, that we may fight with the children of Ammón.

- 7 Iphtáh then answered the Elders of Gileád, Did not ye hate me, and <sup>f</sup> expel me out of my fathers house? how then come you vnto me now in time of your tribulation?

- 8 Then the Elders of Gileád said vnto Iphtáh, Therefore we turne againe to thee now, that thou maiest go with vs, & fight against the children of Ammón, & be our head ouer all the inhabitants of Gileád.

- 9 And Iphtáh said vnto the Elders of Gileád, If ye bring me home againe to fight against <sup>g</sup> y children of Ammón, if the Lord giue them before me, shal I be your head?

- 10 And <sup>g</sup> y Elders of Gileád said to Iphtáh, The Lord <sup>h</sup> be witnes betwene vs, if we do not according to thy wordes.

- 11 Then Iphtáh went with the Elders of Gileád, and the people made him head and captaine ouer them: and Iphtáh rehearsed all his wordes before the Lord in Mizpéh.

- 12 THEN Iphtáh sent messengers vnto the King of the children of Ammón, saying, What hast thou to do with me, that thou art come against me, to fight in my land?

- 13 And the King of the children of Ammón answered vnto the messengers of Iphtáh, *Because Israël toke my lād, whē they came vp frō Egypt, from Arnón vnto Iabbók, and vnto Iordén: now therefore restore those lands <sup>i</sup> quietly.

- 14 Yet Iphtáh sent messengers againe vnto the King of the children of Ammón,

- 15 And said vnto him, Thus saith Iphtáh, *Israél toke not the land of Moáb, nor the land of the children of Ammón. <sup>i</sup> Deut. 2. 9.

- 16 But when Israël came vp from Egypt, and walked through the wildernes vnto the red Sea, then they came to Kadésh.

- 17 AND Israël sent messengers vnto the King of Edóm, saying, Let me, I pray thee, go through thy lād: but the King of Edóm wold not consent: and also they sent vnto the King of Moáb, but he wolde not: therefore Israël abode in Kadésh. <sup>j</sup> Nomb. 20. 19.

- 18 Then thei went through the wildernes, and compassed the land of Edóm, and the land of Moáb, and came by the Eastside of <sup>k</sup> y lād Moáb, and pitched on the other side of Arnón, *and came not within <sup>k</sup> y coast of Moáb: for Arnón was <sup>k</sup> y border of Moáb. <sup>k</sup> Nomb. 21. 19, & 22. 24.

- 19 Also Israël <sup>l</sup> sent messengers vnto Sihón, King of the Amorites, the King of Heshbón, & Israël said vnto him, Let vs passe, we pray thee, by thy lād vnto our <sup>l</sup> place. <sup>l</sup> Or, countrey.

- 20 But Sihón <sup>m</sup> consented not to Israël, that he shulde go through his coast: but Sihón gathered all his people together, and pitched in Iaház, and fought with Israël. <sup>m</sup> He trusted the not to go through his countrey.

- 21 And the Lord God of Israël gaue Sihón and all his folke into the hands of Israël, and they smote the: so Israël possessed all the land of the Amorites, the inhabitants of that countrey:

- 22 And they possessed <sup>n</sup> all the coast of the Amorites, from Arnón vnto Iabbók, and from the wildernes euen vnto Iordén. <sup>n</sup> Deut. 2. 26.

- 23 Now therefore the Lord God of Israël hath cast out the Amorites before his people Israël, & shuldest thou possesse it?

- 24 Woldest not thou possesse that which Chemósh thy god giueth thee to possesse?

- So whome soeuer the <sup>o</sup> Lord our God driueth out before vs, them wil we possesse. <sup>o</sup> For we ought more to beleue and obey God, the: thou thane idoles.

- 25 AND art thou now farre better then Balák the sonne of Zippór King of Moáb: did he not strue with Israël and fight against them, <sup>o</sup> Nomb. 22. 2. & Deut. 23. 4. & 24. 2a.

- 26 When Israël dwelt in Heshbón and in her townes, and in Aroér & in her townes, and in all the cities that are by the coasts of Arnón, thre hundredth yeres: why did ye not then recouer <sup>p</sup> them in that space?

- 27 Wherefore, I haue not offended thee: but thou doest me wrōg to warre against me.

- The Lord the Iudge <sup>q</sup> be iudge this day betwene the children of Israël, and the children of Ammón. <sup>q</sup> To punish the offender.

- 28 Howebeit the King of the children of Ammón hearkened not vnto the wordes of Iphtáh, which he had sent him.

- 29 THEN the Spirit of the Lord came vpon Iphtáh, & he passed ouer to Gileád and to Manasséh, and came to Mizpéh in <sup>r</sup> <sup>r</sup> That is, the spirit of strength and valour.

Gilead, and from Mizpéh in Gileád he went vnto the children of Ammón.

30 And Iphtáh <sup>m</sup> vowed a vowe vnto the Lord, and said, If thou shalt deliuer the children of Ammón in to mine hands, 31 Thē that thing that commeth out of the dores of mine house to mete me, when I come home in peace from the children of Ammón, shal be the Lords, and I wil offer it for a burnt offering.

33 And he smote them from Aroér euē til <sup>y</sup> come to Minnith, twentie cities, and so forthe to <sup>r</sup> Abél of the vineyardes, with an exceeding great slaughter. Thus the childre of Ammón were humbled before the children of Israël.

34 ¶ Now whē Iphtáh came to Mizpéh vnto his house, beholde, his daughter came out to mete him with <sup>n</sup> timbrels and dances, which was his onely childe: he had none other sonne, nor daughter.

35 And when he sawe her, he <sup>o</sup> rent his clothes, and said, Alas my daughter, thou hast broght me low, & art of thē that trouble me: for I haue opened my mouthe vnto the Lord, and can not go backe.

36 And she said vnto him, My father, if thou haste opened thy mouthe vnto the Lord, do with me as thou hast promised, seing that the Lord hath auenged thee of thine enemies the children of Ammón.

37 Also she said vnto her father, Do thus muche for me: suffice me two monethes, that I may go to the mountaines, and <sup>p</sup> bewaile my virginities, I and my fellowes.

38 And he said, Go: and he sent her away two monethes: so she went with her companions, and lamented her virginities vpō the mountaines.

39 And after the end of two monethes, she turned againe vnto her father, who did with her according to his vowe which he had vowed, and she had knowen no man, and it was a custome in Israël.

40 The daughters of Israël went yere by yere to lament the daughter of Iphtáh the Gileadite, foure dayes in a yere.

CHAP. XII.

6 Iphtáh killeth two & fortie thousand Ephraimites. 8 After Iphtáh succedeth Ibzan, 11 Elón, 13 And Abdón.

¶ And the men of Ephraim gathered thē selues together, and went <sup>a</sup> Northward and said vnto Iphtáh, Wherefore wentest thou to fight against the children of Ammón, and didst not call <sup>b</sup> vs to go with thee? we wil therefore burne thine house vpon thee with fire.

¶ And Iphtáh said vnto thē, I and my people were at great strife with the children of Ammón, and when I called you, ye deliuered me not out of their hands.

3 So when I sawe <sup>y</sup> ye deliuered me not, <sup>e</sup> I put my life in mine hāds, & went vpon the children of Ammón: so <sup>y</sup> Lord deliuered them into mine hands. Wherefore thē are ye come vpō me now to fight against me?

4 Then Iphtáh gathered all the men of Gileád, and fought with Ephraim: & the men of Gileád smote Ephraim, because they said, Ye Giliadites are runagates of Ephraim <sup>d</sup> among the Ephraimites, and among the Manassites.

5 Also the Giliadites toke the passages of Iordén before the Ephraimites, and when the Ephraimites that were escaped, said, Let me passe, then the men of Gileád said vnto him, Art thou an Ephraimite? If he said, Nay,

6 Thē said they vnto him, Say now <sup>e</sup> Shibboleth: and he said, Sibboleth: for he coulde not so pronounce: then they toke him, and slewe him at the passages of Iordén: and there fel at that time of the Ephraimites two and forty thousand.

7 And Iphtáh iudged Israël six yere: then dyed Iphtáh the Giliadite, and was buried in one of the cities of Gileád.

8 ¶ After him <sup>f</sup> Ibzan of Beth-léhem iudged Israël, 9 Who had thirtie sonnes and thirtie daughters, which he sent out, and toke in thirtie daughters from abroad for his sonnes. and he iudged Israël seuen yere.

10 Then Ibzan dyed, and was buried at Beth-léhem.

11 ¶ And after him iudged Israël Elón, a Zebulonite, and he iudged Israël ten yere.

12 Then Elón the Zebulonite dyed, & was buried in Aialón in the countrey of Zebulun.

13 ¶ And after him Abdón <sup>y</sup> sonne of Hillél the Pirathonite iudged Israël.

14 And he had fortie sonnes & thirtie <sup>ne</sup> uews that rode on seuentie <sup>ne</sup> assecoltes: and he iudged Israël eight yeres.

15 Then dyed Abdón the sonne of Hillél <sup>y</sup> Pirathonite, and was buried in Pirathón, in the land of Ephraim, in the mount of the Amalekites.

a Signifying their deliuerance came only of God & not by mans power.

3 And the Angel of the Lord appeared vnto the woman, and said vnto her, Beholde now, thou art baren, and bearest not: but thou shalt conceiue, and beare a sonne.

Num. 6. 2.

4 And now therefore beware * that thou drinke no wine, nor strong drinke, nether eat anie vncleane thing.

1 Sam. 1. 11.

5 For lo, thou shalt conceiue and beare a sonne, & no razor shal * come on his head: for the childe shalbe a <sup>b</sup> Nazarite vnto God from his birth: and he shal begin to saue Israël out of the hands of the Philistims.

<sup>b</sup> Meaning, he shulde be separate from the worlde and dedicate to God.

6 ¶ Then the wife came, & tolde her housband, saying, A man of God came vnto me, and the facion of him was like the facion of y<sup>e</sup> Angel of God exceding <sup>c</sup> fearful, but I asked him not whence he was, nether tolde he me his name,

<sup>c</sup> If he sh<sup>d</sup> be not able to hide the sight of an Angel, how much lesse the presence of God?

7 But he said vnto me, Beholde, thou shalt conceiue, and beare a sonne, and now thou shalt drinke no wine, nor strong drinke, nether eat anie vncleane thing: for the childe shal be a Nazarite to God from his byrth to the day of his death.

himselfe ready to obey Gods wil, and therefore de-sireth to know we farther.

8 Then Manóah <sup>d</sup> prayed to the Lord and said, I pray thee, my Lord, let the man of God, whome thou sentest, come againe now vnto vs, and teache vs what we shal do vnto the childe when he is borne.

9 And God heard the voyce of Manóah, & the Angel of God came againe vnto the wife, as she sate in the field, but Manóah her housband was not with her.

10 ¶ And the wife made haste & ranne, and shewed her housband and said vnto him, Beholde, the man hath appeared vnto me, that came vnto me <sup>e</sup> to day.

<sup>e</sup> It seemeth y<sup>e</sup>
the Angel ap-her twice in one day <sup>f</sup> He calleth him man, be-me man.

11 And Manóah arose and went after his wife, and came to the <sup>f</sup> man, and said vnto him, Art thou the man that spakest vnto the woman? and he said, Yea.

12 Then Manóah said, Now let thy saying come to passe: but how shal we orde the childe, and do vnto him?

13 And y<sup>e</sup> Angel of the Lord said vnto Manóah, The woman must beware of all that I said vnto her.

14 She may eat of nothing that cometh of the vinetre: she shal not drinke wine nor strong drinke, nor eat anie <sup>g</sup> vncleane thing: let her obserue all that I haue commanded her.

forbidden by the Lawe.

15 Manóah then said vnto the Angel of the Lord, I pray thee, let vs retaine thee, vntil we haue made ready a kid for thee.

16 And the Angel of the Lord said vnto Manóah, Though thou make me abide, I wil not eat of thy bread, and if thou wilt make a burnt offering, offer it vnto the <sup>h</sup> Lord: for Manóah knewe not that it was an Angel of the Lord.

<sup>h</sup> Shewing y<sup>e</sup>
his owne ho-

17 Again Manóah said vnto y<sup>e</sup> Angel of y<sup>e</sup>

Lord, What is thy name, y<sup>e</sup> whē thy saying is come to passe, we may honour thee?

18 And y<sup>e</sup> Angel of the Lord said vnto him, Why askest y<sup>e</sup> thus after my name, which is <sup>i</sup> secret?

leaste?

19 Then Manóah toke a kid with a meat offring, and offred it vpon a stone vnto the Lord: and the Angel did <sup>j</sup> wonderously, heauen from the altar, the Angel of the Lord ascended vp in the flame of the altar, and Manóah and his wife beheld it, & fel on their faces vnto the ground.

21 (So the Angel of the Lord did no more appeare vnto Manóah and his wife) The Manóah knewe that it was an Angel of y<sup>e</sup>
Lord.

22 And Manóah said vnto his wife, * We shal surely dye, because we haue sene God.

23 But his wife said vnto him, If the Lord wolde kil vs, he wolde not haue receiued a burnt offering, and a meat offering of our hands, nether wolde he haue shewed vs all these things, nor wolde now haue tolde vs anie such.

<sup>l</sup> Or, so come vpon him at diuers times.

24 ¶ And the wife bare a sonne, and called his name Samsón: and the childe grewe, &
the Lord blessed him.

25 And the Spirit of y<sup>e</sup> Lord began to strēgthe him in the hoste of Dan, betwene Zo-

CHAP. XIII.

1 Samsón desireth to haue a wife of the Philistims.
6 He killeth a lyon. 12 He propoundeth a riddle. 19 He killeth thirtie. 20 His wife forsaketh him and taketh another.

1 NOW Samsón went downe to Tim-nath, and sawe a woman in Timnath of the daughters of the Philistims,

2 And he came vp and tolde his father and his mother, and said, I haue sene a woman in Timnath of the daughters of the Phil-istims: now therefore giue me her to wife.

<sup>m</sup> Or, take her for me to wife.

3 The his father and his mother said vnto him, Is there <sup>n</sup> neuer a wife among y<sup>e</sup> daughters of thy brethren, and among all my people, that thou must go to take a wife of the vncircūcised Philistims? And Samsón said vnto his father, Giue me her, for she pleaseth me wel.

parēts did iustly reprove him, yet it ap-peareth y<sup>e</sup> this was y<sup>e</sup> secret worke of the Lord, ver. 4.

4 But his father and his mother knewe not that it came of the Lord, that he shulde seke an occasion against the <sup>b</sup> Philistims:
for at that time the Philistims reigned ouuer Israël.

of Israël.

5 ¶ Then went Samsón and his father and his mother downe to Timnath, and came to y<sup>e</sup> vineyardes at Timnath: & beholde, a yong lyon roared vpon him.

6 And the Spirit of the Lord <sup>c</sup> came vpon him, and he tare him, as one shulde haue rent a kid, and had nothing in his hand, ne-

<sup>c</sup> Whereby he had strength & boldness.

ther tolde he his father nor his mother what he had done.

7 And he went downe, and talked with the woman which was beautiful in the eyes of Samson.

Or, is it her wife.

8 ¶ And within a few dayes, whē he returned to receiue her, he went aside to se the carkeis of the lyon: and beholde, there was a swarme of bees, and hony in the body of the lyon.

9 And he toke thereof in his hands, and went eating, and came to his father and to his mother, and gaue vnto them, and they did eat: but he tolde not them, that he had taken the hony out of the bodie of y<sup>e</sup> lyon.

10 So his father went downe vnto the woman, and Samson made there a feast: for so vsed the yong men to do.

*d Meaning, when he was married.
e That is, her parents or friends.*

11 And when they sawe him, they brought thirtie companions to be with him.

12 Then Samson said vnto them, I wil now put forthe a ridle vnto you: & if you can declare it me within seuen dayes of the feast, and finde it out, I wil giue you thirtie shetes, and thirtie change of garmets.

f To weare at feastes or solemne dayes.

13 But if you cannot declare it me, then shal ye giue me thirtie shetes, and thirtie change of garments. And they answered him, Put forthe thy ridle, that we may heare it.

14 And he said vnto them, Out of the eater came meat, and out of the strong came sweetenes: & they colde not in thre dayes expounde the ridle.

g Or, drewe nearer: for it was y<sup>e</sup> fourthe day.

15 And when the seuenth day was come, they said vnto Samsons wife, Entise thyne housband, that he may declare vs the ridle, lest we burne thee and thy fathers house with fire. Haue ye called vs, to possesse vs? is it not so?

h Or, is importunate vs.

16 And Samsons wife wept before him, and said, Surely thou hatest me and louest me not: for thou hast put forthe a ridle vnto the children of my people, and hast not tolde it me. And he said vnto her, Beholde, I haue not tolde it my father, nor my mother, and shal I tel it thee?

i Vnto them which are of my nation.

17 Then Samsons wife wept before him seuen dayes, while their feast lasted: and when the seuenth day came, he tolde her, because she was importunate vpon him: so she tolde the ridle to the children of her people.

j Or, to the seuenth day, beginning at the fourth.

18 And the men of the citie said vnto him the seuenth day before the sonne went downe, What is sweter, then honie: and what is stronger then a lyon? Then said he vnto them, If ye had not plowed wth my heiffer, ye had not founde out my ridle.

k If ye had not vsed the helpe of my wife.

19 And the Spirit of the Lord came vpon him, and he went downe to Ashkelon, and slewe thirtie men of them & spoiled the, and gaue change of garments vnto them, which expounded the ridle: & his wrath was kindled, and he went vp to his fathers house.

20 The Samsons wife was giuen to his companion, whome he had vsd as his friend.

CHAP. XV.

4 Samson tieth firebrades to the foxe tiales. 6 The Philistims burnt his father in lawe & his wife. 15 With the iawebone of an asse he killeth a thousand men. 19 Out of a great tothe in the iawe God gaue him water.

¶ Vt within a while after, in the time of wheat haruelt, Samson visited his wife with a kid, saying, I wil go into my wife into the chāber: but her father wolde not suffre him to go in.

a That is, I wil vse her as my wife.

2 And her father said, I thought that thou haddest hated her: therefore gaue I her to thy companion. Is not her yonger sister fairer then she? take her, I pray thee, in stead of the other.

3 The Samson said vnto them, Now am I more blameles the the Philistims: therefore wil I do them displeasure.

b For through his fathers lawes occasion, he was moued againe to take vengeance of the Philistims.

4 ¶ And Samson went out, & toke thre hundred foxes, and toke firebrands, & turned them taile to taile, and put a firebrand in the middes betwene two tiales.

5 And when he had set the brandes on fier, he sent them out into the standing corne of the Philistims, and burnt vp bothe the rickes & the standing corne with the vineyardes & oliues.

c Or, that was reaped & gathered.

6 Then the Philistims said, Who hathe done this? And they answered, Samson the sonne in lawe of the Timnite, because he had taken his wife, & giuen her to his companion. Then the Philistims came vp and burnt her and her father with fire.

7 And Samson said vnto them, Thogh ye haue done this, yet wil I be auenged of you, and then I wil cease.

*e So y<sup>e</sup> wicked punish not vice for lone of iustice, but for feare of dāgers. & els might come to them.
Or, heremi & fote mira.*

8 So he smote them hippe and thigh with a mighty plague: then he went and dwelt in the toppe of the rocke Etām.

9 ¶ Then y<sup>e</sup> Philistims came vp, & pitched in Iudāh, & were spred abroad in Léhi.

Or, camped.

10 And the men of Iudāh said, Why are ye come vp vnto ys? And they answered, To binde Samson are we come vp, and to do to him as he hathe done to vs.

f And so being our prisoner, to punish him.

11 Then thre thousand men of Iudāh wēt to the toppe of the rocke Etām, and said to Samson, Knowest thou not that y<sup>e</sup> Philistims are rulers ouer vs? Wherefore then hast y<sup>e</sup> done thus vnto vs? And he answered the, As they did vnto me, so haue I done vnto the.

g Suche was their grosse ignorance, that they judged Gods great benesse to be a plague vnto them.

12 Againe they said vnto hī, We are come to binde thee, and to deliuer thee into the hand of the Philistims. And Samson said vnto them, Swear vnto me, that ye wil not fall vpon me your selues.

h Thus they had rather betray their brother, then vse y<sup>e</sup> means that God had giue for their deliuerance.

13 And they answered him, saying, No, but we wil binde thee, and deliuer thee vnto their hand, but we wil not kil thee.

And

And they bound him with two newe cordes, and broght him from the rocke.

14 When he came to Léhi, the Philistims shouted against him, and the Spirit of the Lord came vpon him, and the cordes that were vpon his armes, became as flaxe that was burnt with fire: for the bandes losed from his hands.

<sup>i That is, of an asse lately slain.</sup> 15 And he found a newe iawebone of an asse, and put forth his hand, and caught it, and slewe a thousand men therewith.

16 Then Samson said, With the iawe of an asse are heapes vpon heapes: wth the iawe of an asse haue I slayne a thousand men.

17 And when he had left speaking, he cast away the iawebone out of his hand, & called that place, Ramath-Léhi.

<sup>Or, the lifting up of the iawe.</sup> 18 And he was fore a thirft, and <sup>k Whereby appeareth, y<sup>e</sup> he did these things in faith, & so wth a true zeal to glorifie God & deliuer his country.</sup> called on the Lord, and said, Thou hast giuen this great deliuerance into the hand of thy seruant: and now shal I dye for thirft, and fall into the hands of the vncircumcised.

<sup>Or, the thirft of him that prayed.</sup> 19 Then God brake the cheeke to the, that was in the iawe, and water came thereout: and when he had dronke, his Spirit came againe, and he was reuiued: wherefore the name thereof is called, En-hakkoré, w<sup>ch</sup> is in Léhi vnto this day.

20 And he iudged Israel in the dayes of y<sup>e</sup> Philistims twentie yeres.

CHAP. XVI.

<sup>g Samson carrieth away the gates of Azzah. 18 He was deceived by Delilah. 30 He pulleth downe the house vpon the Philistims, and dyeth with them.</sup>

<sup>That is, he lodged wth her.</sup> 2 And it was tolde to the Azzathites, Samson is come hether. And they went about, & layed wait for him all night in the gate of the citie, and were quiet all the night, saying, Abide til the morning earely, and we shal kil him.

<sup>Or, as the light of the morning.</sup> 3 And Samson slept til midnight, & arose at midnight, and toke the dores of the gates of the citie, and the two postes and lift them away with the barres, and put them vpon his shulders, and caried them vp to the top of the mountaine that is before Hebron.

<sup>Or, plain.</sup> 4 And after this he loued a woman by y<sup>e</sup> riuer of Sorék, whose name was Delilah:

5 Vnto whome came the princes of y<sup>e</sup> Philistims, and said vnto her, Entise him, and se wherein his great strength lieth, and by what meane we may ouercome him, that we may binde him, and punishe him, and euerie one of vs shal giue thee eleuen hundred <sup>c Of y<sup>e</sup> value of a shekel read Gen. 23, 15</sup> shekels of siluer.

6 And Delilah said to Samson, Tel me, I pray thee, wherein thy great strength lieth, and wherewith thou mightest be bounde, to do thee hurt.

7 Samson then answered vnto her, If they binde me with seuen<sup>e</sup> greene cordes that were neuer dried, the shal I be weake, and be as an other man.

8 And the princes of y<sup>e</sup> Philistims broght her seue greene cordes that were not drye, and she bound him therewith.

10 After Delilah said vnto Samson, Se, y<sup>e</sup> hast mocked me and tolde me lies. I pray thee now, <sup>f</sup> tel me wherewith y<sup>e</sup> mightest be bound.

<sup>f Though her falschood tended to make him, lose his life, yet his affection so blinded him y<sup>e</sup> he coulde not beware.</sup> 11 Then he answered her, If they binde me with newe ropes y<sup>e</sup> neuer were occupied, then shal I be weake, and be as another man.

12 Delilah therefore toke newe ropes, and bound him therewith, and said vnto him, The Philistims be vpon thee, Samson: (& men lay in wait in the chāber) & he brake them from his armes, as a threde.

13 Afterward Delilah said to Samson, Hether to thou hast beguiled me, and tolde me lies: tel me how thou mightest be bound. <sup>g It is impossible, if we giue place to our wicked affections, but at length we shal be destroyed.</sup> And he said vnto her, If thou plattedst seuen lockes of mine head with the threades of the woufe.

14 And she fastened it with a pinne, & said vnto him, The Philistims be vpon thee, Samson. And he awoke out of his slepe, and went away with the pinne of y<sup>e</sup> webbe <sup>Or, beame.</sup> and the woufe.

15 Again she said vnto him, How canst thou say, <sup>h For this Samson vsed to saye, I loue thee.</sup> I loue thee, when thine heart is not with me? thou hast mocked me these thre times, and hast not tolde me wherein thy great strength lieth.

16 And because she was importunate vpon him with her wordes continually, and vexed him, his soule was peined vnto y<sup>e</sup> death.

17 Therefore he tolde her all his heart, & said vnto her, There neuer came rasor vpon mine head: for I am a Nazarite vnto God frō my mothers wombe: therefore if I be shauen, my strength wil go from me, & I shal be weake, & be like all other men. <sup>i Thus his immoderate affection towards a wicked woman caused him to lose Gods excellent gifts, & become slaue vnto the, whom he shulde haue ruled.</sup>

18 And whē Delilah sawe that he had tolde her all his heart, she sent, & called for the Princes of y<sup>e</sup> Philistims, saying, Come vp once againe: for he hath shewed me all his heart. Then the princes of the Philistims came vp vnto her, and broght the money in their hands.

19 And she made him slepe vpon her knees, & she called a man, & made him to shauē of y<sup>e</sup> seuen lockes of his head, & she begā to vexe hī, & his strength was <sup>k</sup> gone frō hī. <sup>k Not for the losse of his heere, but for y<sup>e</sup> contempt of y<sup>e</sup> ordinance of God, w<sup>ch</sup> was y<sup>e</sup> cause y<sup>e</sup> God departed from him.</sup>

20 Then she said, The Philistims be vpon thee, Sāson. And he awoke out of his slepe, and thought, I wil go out now as at other times, & shake my selfe, but he knewe not that the Lord was departed from him.

21 Therefore the Philistims toke him, and put out his eies, and broght him downe to Azzáh, and bound him with fetters: and he did grinde in the prison house.

22 And the heere of his head begā to growe againe after that it was shaven.

23 Then the princes of the Philistims gathered them together for to offer a great sacrifice vnto Dagón their god, and to reioyce: for they said, Our god hath deliuered Samson our enemy into our hands.

24 Also when the people saw him, they praised their god: for they said, Our god hath deliuered into our hands our enemy and destroyer of our countrey, w<sup>h</sup> hath slaine manie of vs.

25 And when their heartes were mery, they said, Call Samson, that he may make vs pastime. So they called Samson out of the prison house, and he<sup>m</sup> was a laughing stocke vnto them, and they set him betwene the pillers.

26 Then Samson said vnto the seruant that led him by the hand, Lead me, that I may touche the pillers that the house standeth vpon, and that I may leane to them.

27 (Now the house was ful of men & women, and there were all the princes of the Philistims: also vpon the rooffe were about thre thousand men & women that behelde while Samson played)

28 Then Samson called vnto the Lord, and said, O Lord God, I pray thee, thinke vpon me: O God, I beseeche thee, strengthen me at this time onely, that I may be<sup>at</sup> once<sup>auenged</sup> of the Philistims for my two eyes.

29 And Samson layed holde on the two middle pillers whereup<sup>o</sup> the house stode, and on which it was borne vp: on the one with his right hand, and on the other with his left.

30 Then said Samson, Let me lose my life with the Philistims: and he bowed him w<sup>h</sup> all his might, and the house fel vpon the princes, and vpon all the people that were therein. so the dead which he slue at his death were mo then they which he had slayne in his life.

31 Then his brethren, and all the house of his father came downe and toke him, and broght him vp & buried him betwene Zoráh and Eshtaól, in the sepulchre of Manoáh his father: now he had iudged Israel twentie yeres.

CHAP. XVII.

3 Michahs mother according to her vowe made her sonne two idoles. 5 He made his sonne a Priest for his idoles, 10 And after he hired a Leuite.

1 There was a man of mount Ephraim, whose name was Michah,
2 And he said vnto his mother, The eleuen hundred shekels of siluer that were taken from thee, for the which thou cursedst, & spakedst it, euē in mine hearing, beholde, the siluer is with me, I toke it. Then his mother said, Blessed be my sonne of the Lord.

3 And when he had restored the eleuen hundred shekels of siluer to his mother, his mother said, I had dedicate y<sup>e</sup> siluer to y<sup>e</sup> Lord of mine hand for my sonne, to make<sup>a</sup> a grauen and molten image. Now therefore I wil giue it thee againe.

4 And whē he had restored the money vnto his mother, his mother toke two hundred shekels of siluer, and gaue them to the founder, which made thereof a graue and molten image, and it was in the house of Michah.

5 And this man Michah had an house of gods, & made an<sup>e</sup> Ephód, & Teraphim, and<sup>e</sup> consecrated one of his sonnes, who was his Priest.

6 In those daies there was no<sup>d</sup> King in Israel, but euerie man did that, which was good in his owne eies.

7 There was also a yong mā out of Bethléhem Iudáh, of the familie of Iudáh: who was a Leuite, and sojourned there.

8 And the man departed out of the citie, enū out of Bethléhem Iudáh, to dwel where he colde finde a place: and as he journeyed, he came to mount Ephraim to the house of Michah.

9 And Michah said vnto him, Whence comest thou? And the Leuite answered him, I come from Bethléhem Iudáh, and go to dwel where I may finde a place.

10 Then Michah said vnto him, Dwel w<sup>h</sup> me, and be vnto me a father and a Priest, and I wil giue thee ten shekels of siluer by yere, and a sute of apparel, & thy meat and drinke. So the Leuite went in.

11 And the Leuite was content to dwel w<sup>h</sup> the man, and the yong man was vnto him as one of his owne sonnes.

12 And Michah consecrated the Leuite, & the yong man was his Priest, and was in the house of Michah.

13 Then said Michah, Now I knowe that y<sup>e</sup> Lord wil be<sup>h</sup> good vnto me, seing I haue a Leuite to my Priest.

CHAP. XVIII.

1 The children of Dan send men to searche the land. 11 Then come the six hundred & take the gods, and the Priest of Michah awaie. 17 They destroy Laish. 28 They buyld it againe, 30 And set vp idolatrie.

1 In those dayes there was no<sup>a</sup> King in Israel, and at the same time the tribe of Dan soght them an inheritace to dwel in: for a Some thinke this historie was in y<sup>e</sup> time of Othniel, or as Iosephus writeth, immediately after Ioshua.

1 Yet had he not his strenght againe, til he had called vpon God, and reconciled his selfe.

b Contrary to the commandement of God and true religion practised vnder Ioshua, they forsake the Lord and fell to idolatrie.

Chap. 17. c He wolde serue both God & idoles. Gen. 31. 19. d For where there is no magistrat fearing God, there can be no true religion, nor order.

e Which Bethléhem was in the tribe of Iudáh.

f For in those daies y<sup>e</sup> seruice of God was corrupt in all estates and the Leuites were not looked vnto.

h Thus y<sup>e</sup> idolaters persuade the selues of Gods fauour, when in deede he doeth desett the.

i Meaning no ordinarie Magistrate, to punish the vice according to Gods worde.

for vnto that time all their inheritance had not fallen vnto them among the tribes of Israël.

2 Therefore the children of Dan sent of their familie, five men out of their coastes, even men expert in warre, out of Zoráh & Eshtaól, to vewe the land and searche it out, and said vnto them, <sup>b</sup> Go, and searche out the land. Then thei came to mount Ephraím to the house of Micháh and lodged there.

3 When thei were in the house of Micháh, thei knewe the <sup>c</sup> voyce of the yong man the Leuite: and being turned in thether, thei said vnto him, Who broght thee hether? or what makest thou in this place? & what hast thou to do here?

4 And he answered them, Thus and thus dealeth Micháh with me, and hath hired me, and I am his Priest.

5 Againe thei said vnto him, Aske counsel now of god, that we may knowe whether the way which we go, shal be prosperous.

6 And the Priest said vnto them, <sup>d</sup> Go in peace: for <sup>y</sup> Lord guideth your way which ye go.

7 Then the five men departed and came to Laísh, and sawe the people that were therein, which dwelt careles, after the manner of the Zidonians, quiet and sure, because no man <sup>e</sup> made any trouble in the land, or vsurped any dominion: also they were far from the Zidonians, and had no busines with other men.

8 ¶ So thei came againe vnto their brethré to Zoráh and Eshtaól: and their brethren said vnto them, What haue ye done?

9 And thei answered, Arise, that we may go vp against them: for we haue sene the land, and surely it is very good, and <sup>e</sup> do ye sit still? be not slouthful to go and enter to possesse the land.

10 ( If ye wil go, ye shal come vnto a careles people, and the countrey is large) for God hath giuen it into your hand. It is a place which doeth lacke nothing that is in the worlde.

11 ¶ Then there departed thence of the familie of the Danites, from Zoráh and from Eshtaól, six hundreth men appointed with instruments of warre.

12 And thei went vp, & pitched in Kiriáth iearím in Iudáh: wherefore they called that place, <sup>f</sup> Mahaneh-Dan vnto this day: and it is behinde Kiriáth iearím.

13 And thei went thence vnto mount Ephraím, and came to the house of Micháh.

14 Then answered the five men, that wēt to spie out the countrey of Laísh, and said vnto their brethren, <sup>f</sup> Knowe ye not, that there is in these houses an Ephód, & Teraphím, and a grauen and a molten image? Now therefore consider what ye haue to do.

15 And thei turned thetherwarde and came to the house of the yong man the Leuite, even vnto the house of Micháh, and saluted him peaceably.

16 And the six hundreth men appointed with their weapons of warre, which were of the children of Dan, stode by the entring of the gate.

17 Then the five men that went to spie out the land, went in thether, and toke the <sup>g</sup> grauen image and the Ephód, and the Teraphím, and the molten image: and the Priest stode in the entring of the gate with the six hundreth men, that were appointed with weapons of warre, 18 And the other went into Michahs house and fet the grauen image, the Ephód, and the Teraphím, and the molten image. Then said the Priest vnto them, What do ye?

19 And thei answered him, Holde thy peace: laye thine hand vpon thy mouth, and come with vs to be our father and Priest. Whether is it better that thou shuldest be a Priest vnto the house of one man, or that thou shuldest be a Priest vnto a tribe and to a familie in Israël?

20 And the Priests heart was glad, and he toke the Ephód and the Teraphím, and the grauen image, and went among the <sup>h</sup> people.

21 And they turned and departed, and put the children and the cattel, and the substance <sup>i</sup> before them.

22 ¶ When thei were farre of frō the house of Micháh, the men that were in the houses nere to Michahs house, gathered together, and pursued after the children of Dan, 23 And cryed vnto the children of Dan: who turned their faces, and said vnto Micháh, What ayleth thee, that thou makest an outcrye?

24 And he said, Ye haue taken away my <sup>k</sup> gods, which I made, and the Priest, and go your waies: & what haue I more? how then say ye vnto me, What aileth thee?

25 And the children of Dan said vnto him, Let not <sup>l</sup> thy voyce be heard amōg vs, lest <sup>m</sup> angry fellows runne vpon thee, & thou lose thy life with the liues of thine householde.

26 So the children of Dan went their waies: and when Micháh sawe that they were to strong for him, he turned, & went backe vnto his house.

27 And thei toke the <sup>n</sup> things which Micháh had made, and the Priest which he had, and came vnto Laísh, vnto a quiet people and without mistrust, and smote the with the edge of the sworde, & burnt a Leuites wife being an harlot, forsoke her husband, and he toke her againe. 25 At Gibeah she was moste wilenously abused to the death. 29 The Leuite cutteth her in pieces and sendeth her to the twelue tribes.

1 Also in those daies, * when there was no King in Israel, a certaine Leuite dwelt on the side of mount Ephraim, and toke to wife a * concubine out of Beth-lehem Iudah,

2 And his concubine played the whore there, and went away from him vnto her fathers house to Beth-lehem Iudah, and there continued the space of foure moneths.

3 And her husband arose and went after her, to speake friendly vnto her, and to bring her againe: he had also his seruant with him, and a couple of asses: and she broght him vnto her fathers house, and when the yong womans father sawe him, he reioyced of his comming.

4 And his father in lawe, the yong womans father reteined him: and he abode with him thie daies: so they did eat & drinke, and lodged there.

5 ¶ And when the fourth day came, thei arose early in the morning, & he prepared to departe: then the yong womans father said vnto his sonne in lawe, * Comforte thine heart with a morsel of bread, and then go your way.

6 So they sate downe, & did eat and drinke bothe of them together. And the yong womans father said vnto the man, Be content, I pray thee, and tary all night, & let thine heart be mery.

7 And when the mā rose vp to departe, his father in lawe * was earnest: therefore he returned, and lodged there.

8 And he arose vp early the fift day to departe, & the yong womans father said,

9 Comforte thine heart, I pray thee: and they taryed vntil after midday, and they bothe did eat.

9 Afterwarde when the man arose to departe with his concubine and his seruant, his father in lawe, the yong womans father said vnto him, beholde now, the day draweth toward euen: I pray you, tary all night: beholde the sunne goeth to rest: lodge here, that thine heart may be mery, & tomorowe get you early vpon your way, and go to thy tent.

10 But the man wolde not tary, but arose and departed, & came ouer against Iebus, (which is Ierusalem) and his two asses laden, and his concubine were with him.

11 When thei were nere to Iebus, the day was fore spent, and the seruant said vnto his master, Come, I pray thee, & let vs turne into this citie of the Iebusites, & lodge all night there.

12 And his master answered him, * We wil not turne into the citie of strangers that are not of the children of Israel, but we wil go forth to Gibeah.

13 And he said vnto his seruant, Come, and let vs drawe nere to one of these places, that we may lodge in Gibeah or in Ramah.

14 So they went forward vpon their way, and the sunne went downe vpon them nere to Gibeah, which is in Beniamin.

15 ¶ Then thei turned thether to go in and lodge in Gibeah: and when he came, he sate him downe in a strete of the citie: for there was no man that toke them into his house to lodging.

16 And beholde, there came an olde man from his worke out of the field at euen, and the man was of mount Ephraim, but dwelt in Gibeah: and the men of the place were the children of * Iemin.

17 And when he had lift vp his eyes, he sawe a wayfaring mā in the stretes of the citie: then this olde man said, Whether goest thou, and whence camest thou?

19 Although we haue strawe and prouandre for our asses, and also bread and wine for me and thine handmayd, and for the boy that is with thy seruant: we lacke nothing.

20 And the olde man said, * Peace be with thee: as for all that thou lackest, shalt thou finde with me: onely abide not in the strete all night.

1 The Israelites assemble in Mizpēh, to whome the Leuite declareth his wrong. 13 They sent for them that did the vilanie. 25 The Israelites are wisely overcome, 46 And at length get the victorie.

1 THen * all the childre of Israel wēt out and the Congregation was gathered together as a one man, from Dan to Beer sheba, with the land of Gilead, vnto the b Lord in Mizpēh.

2 And the c chief of all the people and all the tribes of Israel assembled in the Congregation of the people of God foure hundred thousand fotemen y drew sword.

3 (Now the children of Benjamin heard that the childre of Israel were gone vp to Mizpēh) Then the children of Israel d said, How is this wickednes committed?

4 And the same Leuite, the womans housband that was slaine, answered and said, I came vnto Gibeah that is in Beniamin with my concubine to lodge,

5 And the me of Gibeah arose against me, and beset the house round about vpon me by night, thinking to haue slaine me, and haue forced my concubine that she is dead.

6 Then I toke my concubine, and cut her in pieces, and sent e her through out all the countrey of the inheritance of Israel: for they haue committed abominacion and vilenie in Israel.

7 Beholde, ye are all children of Israel: giue your aduise, and counsel herein.

8 The all y people arose as one mā, saying, There shal not a man of vs go to his tent, nether anie turne into his f house.

9 But now this is that thing which we wil do to Gibeah: we wil go vp by lot against it,

10 And we wil take ten men of the hundred throughout all the tribes of Israel, and an hundred of the thousand, and a thousand of ten thousand to bring g vitaille for the people that they may do (when they come to Gibeah of Beniamin) according to all the vilanie, that it hathe done in Israel.

11 ¶ So all the men of Israel were gathered against the citie, knit together, as one mā.

12 And the tribes of Israel sent me through all the h tribe of Beniamin, saying, What wickednes is this y is committed amōg you?

13 Now therefore deliuer vs those wicked men which are in Gibeah, that we may put them to death, and put away euil from Israel: but the children of Beniamin wolde not obey the voyce of their brethren the children of Israel.

14 But the children of Beniamin gathered them selues together out of the cities vnto Gibeah, to come out and fight against the children of Israel.

15 ¶ And the children of Beniamin were nombred at that time out of the cities six and twentie thousand men that drew sword, beside the inhabitants of Gibeah, which were nombred seven hundred chosen men.

16 Of all this people were seven hundred chosen men; being *** left handed: all the se colde sling stones at an heere breadth, and not faile.

17 ¶ Also y men of Israel, beside Beniamin, were nombred foure hundred thousand me that drew sword, euen all men of warre.

18 And the children of Israel arose, & wēt vp to the house of God, & asked of God, sayig, Which of vs shal go vp first to fight against the children of Beniamin? And the Lord said, Iudāh shal be first.

19 Then the childre of Israel arose vp early and camped against Gibeah.

20 And the men of Israël went out to battel against Beniamín, and the men of Israël put the selues in array to fight against them beside Gibeáh.

21 And the children of Beniamín came out of Gibeáh, & slewe downe to the grounde of the Israelites that day <sup>1</sup> two and twentie thousand men.

<sup>1</sup> This God permitted, because the Israelites partly trusted to muche in their strength, and partly God wolde by this meane punish their finnes.

22 And the people, the men of Israël plucked vp their hearts, and set their battel againe in array in the place where they put them in array the first day.

23 (For the children of Israël had gone vp and wept before the Lord vnto <sup>1</sup> evening, and had asked of the Lord, saying, Shal I go againe to battel against the children of Beniamín my brethren? & the Lord said, Go vp against them)

24 ¶ Then the children of Israël came nere against the children of Beniamín the seconde day.

25 Also the seconde day Beniamín came forth to mete the out of Gibeáh, & slewe downe to the groude of the childre of Israël againe eightene thousand men: <sup>1</sup> all they colde handle the sworde.

26 Then all the children of Israël went vp & all the people came also vnto the house of God, & wept and sate there before the Lord & fasted that day vnto the euening, and offred burnt offerings & peace offerings before the Lord.

27 And the children of Israël asked the Lord (for <sup>m</sup> there was the Ake of the covenant of God in those dayes, 28 And Phineás the sonne of Eleazár, the sonne of Aarón <sup>n</sup> stode before it at that time) saying, Shal I yet go <sup>anie</sup> more to battel against the childre of Beniamín my brethren, or shal I cease? And the Lord said, Go vp: for tomorowe I wil deliuer them into your hand.

<sup>n</sup> Or, serued in the Priests office at those times: for the Iewes write, that he liued thre hundred yeres.

29 And Israël set men to lye in wait round about Gibeáh.

30 And the children of Israël went vp against the children of Beniamín the third day, and put them selues in array against Gibeáh, as at other times.

31 Then the children of Beniamín coming out against the people, were <sup>o</sup> drawe from the citie: and they began to smite of the people and kil as at other times, <sup>euen</sup> by the wayes in the field (whereof one goeth vp to the house of God, & the other to Gibeáh) vpon a thirtie men of Israël.

32 (For the childre of Beniamín said, They are fallen before vs, as at the first. But the children of Israël said, Let vs flee & plucke them away from the citie vnto the hie <sup>p</sup> wayes)

33 And all the men of Israël rose vp out of their place, & put them selues in array at Baál tamár: and the men that lay in waite of the Israelites came forth of their place, <sup>euen</sup> out of the medowes of Gibeáh, 34 And they came ouer against Gibeáh, ten thousand chosen men of all Israël, & the battel was sore: for they knewe not that the <sup>1</sup> euil was nere them.

35 ¶ And <sup>1</sup> Lord smote Beniamín before Israël, and the children of Israël destroyed of the Beniamites the same day fise and twentie thousand and an hundreth men: all they colde handle the sworde.

36 So the childre of Beniamín sawe that they were striken downe: for the men of Israël gaue place to the Beniamites, because they trusted to the men that lay in wait, which they had laid beside Gibeáh.

37 And they that lay in waite hasted, and brake forth towarde Gibeáh, and the embushment <sup>1</sup> drew them selues along, and smote all the citie with the edge of the sworde.

38 Also the men of Israël had appointed a certaine time with the embushments, that they shulde make a great flame, and smoke rise vp out of the citie.

39 And whē the men of Israël retired in the battel, Beniamín began to <sup>1</sup> smite and kil of the men of Israël about thirtie persons: for they said, Surely they are striken downe before vs, as in the first battel.

40 But when the flame began to arise out of the citie, as a pillar of smoke, the Beniamites looked backe, and beholde, the flame of the citie began to ascende vp to heauen.

41 Then <sup>1</sup> men of Israël turned <sup>1</sup> againe, and the men of Beniamín were astonied: for they saw that euil was nere vnto the.

42 Therefore they fled before the men of Israël vnto the way of the wildernes, but the battel ouertoke them: also they which <sup>1</sup> came out of the cities, slewe them among them.

43 Thus they compassed the Beniamites about, and chased them <sup>1</sup> at ease, and overran them, euen ouer against Gibeáh on the Eastside.

44 And there were slaine of Beniamín eightene thousand men, which were all men of warre.

45 And they turned and fled to the wildernes vnto the rocke of Rimmón: and the Israelites <sup>1</sup> glained of them by the way fise thousand me, & pursued after the vnto Gidóm, & slewe two thousand me of the,

46 So that all that were slaine that day of Beniamín, were <sup>1</sup> fise and twentie thousand men that drew sworde, which were all men of warre:

47 But six hundreth men turned & fled to the wildernes, vnto the rocke of Rimmón and abode in the rocke of Rimmón foure moneths.

48 Then

48 Then the men of Israël returned vnto the children of Beniamín, and smote the with the edge of the sworde frō the mē of the citie vnto the beasts, and all that came to hand: also they set on fire all the <sup>2</sup> cities that they colde come by.

CHAP. XXI.

Moreouer the men of Israël asware in Mizpéh, saying, None of vs shal giue his daughter vnto the Beniamites to wife.

<sup>2</sup> And the people came vnto the house of God & abode there til euen before God, and lift vp their voices, and wept with great lamentacion, <sup>3</sup> And said, O Lord God of Israël, why is this come to passe in Israël, that this day one tribe of Israël shulde want?

<sup>4</sup> And on the morowe the people rose vp and made there an <sup>b</sup> altar, and offred burnt offrings and peace offrings.

<sup>5</sup> Then the children of Israël said, Who is he amōg all y tribes of Israël, that came not vp with the Congregation vnto the Lord? for they had made a great othe concerning him that came not vp to the Lord to Mizpéh, saying, Let him dye the death.

<sup>6</sup> And the children of Israël were sorie for Beniamín their brother, & said, There is one tribe cut off from Israël this day.

<sup>7</sup> How shal we do for wiuēs to them that remaine, seing we haue sworne by y Lord, that we wil not giue them of our daughters to wiuēs?

<sup>8</sup> Also they said, Is there anie of the tribes of Israël that <sup>d</sup> came not vp to Mizpéh to the Lord? and beholde, there came none of Iabesh Gilead vnto the holte and to the Congregation.

<sup>9</sup> For when the people were vewed, beholde, none of the inhabitants of Iabesh Gilead were there.

<sup>11</sup> And this is it that ye shal do: ye shal vtterly destroy all the males and all the women that haue lien by men.

<sup>12</sup> And they founde among the inhabitants of Iabesh Gilead foure hundred maides, virgins that had knowen no man by lying with anie male: and they broght them vnto the holte to Shiloh, which is in the land of Canaan.

<sup>13</sup> ¶ Thē the whole Congregation sent & spake with the children of Beniamín that were in the rocke of Rimmōn, and called peaceably vnto them:

<sup>15</sup> And the people were sory for Beniamín, because the Lord had made a breache in the tribes of Israël.

<sup>16</sup> Therefore the Elders of the Congregation said, How shal we do for wiuēs to the remnant? for the women of Beniamín are destroyed.

<sup>17</sup> And they said, There must be an inheritance for them that be escaped of Beniamín, that a tribe be not destroyed out of Israël.

<sup>18</sup> Howbeit we may not giue them wiuēs of our daughters: for the children of Israël had sworne, saying, Cursed be he, that giueth a wife to Beniamín.

<sup>19</sup> Therefore they said, Beholde, there is a feast of the Lord euerie yere in Shiloh in a place, which is on the <sup>h</sup> Northside of Beth-él, and on the Eastside of the way that goeth vp from Beth-él to Shechem, and on the South of Lebonah.

<sup>20</sup> Therefore thei commanded the childrē of Beniamín, saying, Go, and lye in waite in the vineyardes.

<sup>21</sup> And when ye se that the daughters of Shiloh come out to dance in dances, then come ye out of the vineyardes, and cathe you euerie man a wife of the daughters of Shiloh, & go into the land of Beniamín.

<sup>22</sup> And <sup>i</sup> when their fathers or their brethren come vnto vs to complaine, we wil say vnto them, Haue pitie on the for our sakes, because we reserued not to eche mā his wife in the warre, and because ye haue not giuen vnto them hetherto, ye haue sinned.

<sup>23</sup> And the children of Beniamín did so, and toke wiuēs of them that dāced according to their <sup>k</sup> number: which they toke, and went away, and returned to their inheritance, and repaired the cities & dwelt in them.

THE BOKE OF RVTH.

THE ARGUMENT.

This boke is intituled after the name of Ruth: which is the principal persone spoken of in this treatise. Wherein also figuratively is set forth the state of the Church which is subiect to manifold afflictions, and yet at length God giueth good and ioyful issue: teaching vs to abide with patience til God deliuer vs out of troubles. Herein also is described howe Iesus Christ, who according to the flesh ought to come of Dauid, proceeded of Ruth, of whome the Lord Iesus did vouchsafe to come, notwithstanding she was a Moabite of base condicion, and a stranger from the people of God: declaring vnto vs thereby that the Gentiles shulde be sanctified by him and ioyned with his people, and that there shulde be but one shepfold, and one shepherde. And it semeth that this historie apperteineth to the time of the Iudges.

CHAP. I.

1. Elimélech goeth with his wife and childre into the land of Moab. 3 He and his sonnes dye. 19 Naomi and Ruth come to Beth-léhem.

N the time that the iudges ruled, there was a dearth in the land, and a mā of Beth-léhem<sup>b</sup> Iudáh went for to sojourne in the cōtrei of Moab, he, and his wife, and his two sonnes.

2. And the name of the mā was Elimélech, and the name of his wife, Naomi: and the names of his two sonnes, Mahlón, & Chilion, Ephrathites of Beth-léhem Iudáh: and when they came into the land of Moab, they continued there.

3. Then Elimélech the housbād of Naomi dyed, & she remained with her two sonnes, Which toke them wiues of the Moabites: the ones name was Orpáh, and the name of the other Ruth: and they dwelled there about ten yeres.

4. And Mahlón and Chilion dyed also bothe twaine: so the woman was left destitute of her two sonnes, & of her housbād.

5. ¶ Then she arose with her daughters in lawe, and returned from the countrey of Moab: for she had heard say in the countrei of Moab, that the Lord had<sup>d</sup> visited his people, and giuen them bread.

6. Wherefore she departed out of the place where she was, and her two daughters in lawe with her, and they wēt on their way to returne vnto the land of Iudáh.

7. The Naomi said vnto her two daughters in lawe, Go, returne eche of you vnto her owne mothers house: y Lord shewe fauour vnto you, as ye haue done with the dead, and with me.

8. The Lord grante you, that you may finde rest, ether of you in the house of her housbād. And when she kissed them, they list vp their voyce and wept.

9. And they said vnto her, Surely we will returne with thee vnto thy people.

10. But Naomi said, Turne againe, my daughters: for what cause wil you go with me? are there anie mo sonnes in my wombe, that they may be your housbands?

11. Turne againe, my daughters: go your way: for I am to olde to haue an housbād. if I shulde saie, I haue hope, & if I had an housbād this night: yea, if I had borne sonnes,

12. Wolde ye tary for them, til they were of age? wolde ye be differred for them from taking of housbands? nay my daughters: for it griueth me<sup>e</sup> muche for your sakes y the hād of y Lord is gone out against me.

13. ¶ Then they list vp their voyce, and wept againe, and Orpáh<sup>f</sup> kissed her mother in lawe, but Ruth abode stil with her.

14. And Naomi said, Beholde, thy sifter in lawe is gone backe vnto her people & vnto her gods: & returne y after thy sifter in law.

15. And Ruth answered, Intreat me not to leaue thee, nor to departe from thee: for whither thou goest, I wil go: and where thou dwellest, I wil dwel: thy people shal be my people, and thy God my God.

16. Where y dyest, wil I dye, and there wil I be buryed: the Lord do so to me & more also, if<sup>g</sup> but death departe thee & me.

17. ¶ When she sawe that she was stedfastly minded to go with her, she left speaking vnto her.

18. So they went bothe vntil they came to Beth-léhé: & whē they were come to Beth-léhé, it was<sup>h</sup> noised of them through all the citie, and thei said, Is not this Naomi?

19. And she answered the, Call me not Naomi, but call me Mará: for the Almighty hathe giuen me muche bitternes.

20. I wēt out ful, & y Lord hathe caused me to returne empty: why call ye me Naomi, seing the Lord hath hūbled me, & the Almighty hathe broght me vnto aduersitie.

21. So Naomi returned and Ruth y Moabitess her daughter in law with her, when she came out of the countrei of Moab: & they came to Beth-léhé in the beginning of barley haruest.

CHAP. II.

1. Ruth gathereth corne in the fieldes of Boaz. 15 The gentleness of Boaz toward her.

2 And Ruth y Moabitesse said vnto Naomí, I pray thee, let me go to y field, & b gather eares of corne after hí, in whose sight I find fauour. And she said vnto her, Go my daughter.

3 ¶ And she went, & came & gleaned in y field after the reapers, & it came to passe, that she met w the portion of the field of Bóaz, who was of y familie of Elimélech.

4 And beholde, Bóaz came from Beth-léhem, and said vnto the reapers, The Lord be with you: & thei answered him, The Lord blesse thee.

5 The said Bóaz vnto his seruāt y was appointed ouer y reapers, Whose maid is this?

6 And the seruāt that was appointed ouer the reapers, answered, and said, It is the Moabitish mayd, that came with Naomí out of the countrey of Móab:

7 And she said vnto vs, I pray you, let me gleane and gather after the reapers, amog the sheaues: so she came, and hath continued from that time in the morning vnto now, saue y she taried a litle in the house.

8 ¶ Then said Bóaz vnto Ruth, Hearest thou, my daughter? go to none other field to gather, nether go from hence: but abide here by my maidens.

9 ¶ Let thine eyes be on the field that they do reape, and go thou after the maidēs. Haue I not charged the seruants, that they touche thee not? Moreover when thou art a thirst, go vnto the vessels and brinke of that which the seruants haue drawn.

10 Then she fel on her face, and bowed herself to the ground, & said vnto im, How haue I found fauour in thine eyes, that y shuldest knowe me, seing I am d a stranger?

11 And Bóaz answered, and said vnto her, All is tolde and shewed me that y hast done vnto thy mother in law, since y death of thine housbād, and how thou hast left thy father and thy mother, and the land where thou wast borne, and art come vnto a people w thou knewest not in time past.

12 The Lord recompence thy worke and a ful reward be giuen thee of the Lord God of Israël, vnder whose e wings thou art come to trust.

13 Then she said, Let me finde fauour in thy sight, my lord: for y hast cōforted me, and spoken comfortably vnto thy maid, thogh I be not like to one of thy maids.

14 And Bóaz said vnto her, At y meale time come thou hither, and eat of the bread, & dip thy morsel in y vinegre. And she sate beside the reapers, and he reached her parched corne: and she did eat, and was sufficed, and f left thereof.

15 ¶ And when she aros to gleane, Bóaz cōmāded his seruants, saying, Let her gather among y sheaues, and do not rebuke her.

16 Also let fall some of the sheaues for her,

& let it lie, that she may gather it vp, and rebuke her not.

17 So she gleaned in the field vntil euening, and she threshed that she had gathered, and it was about an *Ephāh of barley. End. 16. st.

18 ¶ And she toke it vp, & went into the citie, and her mother in lawe saw what she had gathered: also she s toke forthe, and gaue to her that which she had reserved, when she was sufficed.

19 Then her mother in lawe said vnto her, Where hast thou gleaned to day? & where wroughtest thou? blessed be he, that knewe thee. And she shewed her mother in lawe, with whome she had wrought, & said, The mans name with whome I wrought to day, is Bóaz.

20 And Naomí said vnto her daughter in lawe, Blessed be he of the Lord: for he ceaseth not to do good to the liuing and to the h dead. Againe Naomí said vnto her, The mā is nere vnto vs, & of our affinitie.

21 And Ruth the Moabitesse said, He said also certainly vnto me, Thou shalt be w my seruāts, vntil they haue ended all mine haruest.

22 And Naomí answered vnto Ruth her daughter in lawe, It is best, my daughter, that thou go out with his maids, that thei mete thee not in an other field. Or, fall vpon thee.

23 The she kept her by the maids of Bóaz, to gather vnto the end of barley haruest, & of wheat haruest, and dwelt with her mother in lawe. Or, returned to her mother in lawe.

CHAP. III.

1 Naomí giueth Ruth counsel. 3 She slepeth at Bóaz fete.

12 He acknowledged him selfe to be her kinsman.

1 Afterward Naomí her mother in law said vnto her, My daughter, shal not I seke a rest for thee, that y maiest prosper?

2 Now also is not Bóaz our kinsman, with whose maids y wast? beholde, he winnoweth barley to night in the floore.

3 Wash thy selfe therefore, & anoint thee, & put thy raiment vpō thee, and get thee downe to y floore: let not y b mā knowe of thee, vntil he haue left eating & drinking.

4 And when he shal slepe, marke the place where he layeth him downe, & go, & vncouer the place of his fete, and lay thee downe, & he shal tel thee what y shalt do.

5 And she answered her, All that thou biddest me, I wil do.

6 ¶ So she went downe vnto the floore, & did according to all y her mother in lawe bade her.

7 And when Bóaz had eaten, and dronke, & echeared his heart, he went to lie downe at the end of the heape of corne, & she came softly, & vncouered the place of his fete, & lay downe.

8 And at midnight the man was afraied, & caught holde: & lo, a womā lay at his fete. Or, turned him selfe from one side to another.

CHAP. IIII.

¶ Bóaz ſpeaketh to Ruths next kinfman touching her marriage. 7 The ancient cuſtome in Iſraél. 10 Bóaz marryeth Ruth, of whome he begetteth Obéd. 18 The generation of Phárez.

¶ Then went Bóaz vp to the<sup>a</sup> gate, and ſate there, and beholde, the kinfman, of whome Bóaz had ſpoken, came by: and he ſaid, ¶ Ho, ſuche one, come, ſit downe here. And he turned, and ſate downe.

¶ Then he toke ten men of the Elders of y<sup>e</sup> citie, & ſaid, Sit ye downe here. And they ſate downe.

¶ And he ſaid vnto y<sup>e</sup> kinfman, Naomí, that is come againe out of y<sup>e</sup> cóuntry of Moáb, wil ſell a parcel of lād, which was our brother Elimélechs.

¶ And I thought to aduertife thee, ſaying, Bye it before the<sup>a</sup> aſſiſtans, and before the Elders of my people. If thou wilt redeme it, redeme it: but if thou wilt not redeme it, tel me: for I knowe that there is none<sup>e</sup> beſides thee to redeme it, & I am after thee. Then he answered, I wil redeme it.

¶ Then ſaid Bóaz, What day thou byeſt y<sup>e</sup> field of the hand of Naomí, thou muſt alſo bye it of Ruth y<sup>e</sup> Moabiteſſe the wife of the dead, to ſterre vp the name of the dead, vpon his<sup>d</sup> inheritance.

¶ And the kinfman answered, I can not redeme it, leſt I deſtroy mine owne inheritance: redeme my right to thee, for I cā not redeme it.

¶ Now this was the maner beforetime in Iſraél, concerning redeming and chāging, for to ſtabliſh all things: a man did plucke of his ſhooe, and gaue it to his neighbour, and this was a ſure<sup>e</sup> witnes in Iſraél.

¶ Therefore the kinfman ſaid to Bóaz, Bye it for thee: and he drue of his ſhooe.

¶ And Bóaz ſaid vnto the Elders and vnto all the people, Ye are witneſſes this day, that I haue boght all y<sup>e</sup> was Elimélechs, and all that was Chilion<sup>s</sup> & Mahlón<sup>s</sup>, of the hand of Naomí.

¶ And moreouer, Ruth the Moabiteſſe the wife of Mahlón, haue I boght to be my wife, to ſterre vp the name of y<sup>e</sup> dead vpon his inheritance, and that the name of the dead be not put out from among his brethren, and from the gate of his<sup>f</sup> place: ye are witneſſes this day.

THE FIRST BOKE OF Samuél.

THE ARGUMENT.

According as God had ordeined Deut. 17. 14. that when the Israelites shoulde be in the land of Canaan, he wolde appoint them a King: so here in this first boke of Samuel is declared the state of this people vnder their first King Saúl, who not content with that ordre, which God had for a time appointed for the gouernement of his Church, demanded a King, to the intent thei might be as other nations & in a greater assurance as thei thought: not because thei might the better thereby serue God, as being vnder the safegarde of him, which did represent Iesus Christ the true deliuerer: therefore he gaue them a tyrant and an hypocrite to rule ouer them, that they might learne, that the persone of a King is not sufficient to defend them, except God by his power preserue and kepe them. And therefore he punisheth the ingratitude of his people & sendeth the continual warres bothe at home and abroad. And because Saúl, whome of nothing God had preferred to the honour of a King, did not acknowledge Gods mercie towards him, but rather disobeyed the worde of God and was not zealous of his glorie, he was by the voyce of God put downe from his state, and Dauid the true figure of Messiah placed in his steade, whose pacience, modestie, constancie, persecution by open enemies, fained friends, and dissembling flatterers are left to the Church and to euery member of the same, as a paterne and example to beholde their state ad vocacion.

CHAP. I.

- 1 The genealogie of Elkanáh father of Samuél. 2 He had two wiues. 3 Hannáh was baren and praied to the Lord. 15 Her answer to Eli. 20 Samuél is borne. 24 She doeth dedicate him to the Lord.

Here was a man of one of the two<sup>a</sup> Ramatháim Zophim, of mou<sup>t</sup> Ephráim, whose name was Elkanáh the sonne of Ierohám, the sonne of Elihú, the sonne of Tóhu, the sonne of Zuph, an Ephrathite:

- 2 And he had two wiues: the name of one was Hannáh, and the name of the other Peninnáh: and Peninnáh had childrē, but Hannáh had no children.

- 3 * And this man went vp out of his citie euery yere, to worship & to sacrifice vnto the Lord of hostes in<sup>b</sup> Shilóh, where were the two sonnes of Eli, Hophní and Phinehás Priests of the Lord.

- 4 And on a day, whē Elkanáh sacrificed, he gaue to Peninnáh his wife and to all her sonnes and daughters porcions,

- 5 But vnto Hānāh he gaue a worthy<sup>c</sup> portion: for he loued Hannáh, and the Lord had made her baren.

- 6 ¶ And her aduersarie vexed her sore, for asmuche as she vpbraided her, because the Lord had made her baren.

- 7 (And so did he yere by yere) & as oft as she wēt vp to the house of<sup>y</sup> Lord, thus she vexed her, that she wept and did not eat.

- 8 Then said Elkanáh her housbād to her, Hannáh, why wepest thou? and why eatest thou not? & why is thine heart troubled? am not I better to thee then ten<sup>d</sup> sonnes? 9 So Hannáh rose vp after that they had eaten and dronke in Shilóh (and Eli the Priest sate vpō a stole by one of<sup>y</sup> postes of the<sup>e</sup> Temple of the Lord)

<sup>d</sup> Let this suffice thee, that I loue thee no lesse, then if<sup>y</sup> hadst many children.

- 10 And she was troubled in her minde, and praied vnto the Lord, and wept sore:

- 11 Also she vowed a vowe, & said, O Lord of hostes, if thou wilt loke on the trouble of thine handmayd, and remēber me, and not forget thine handmayd, but giue vnto thine handmayd a manchild, then I wil giue him vnto the Lord all the daies of his life, * and there shal no raser come vpon his head.

16 Count not thine handmaid "for a wicked woman: for of the abundance of my complaint and my grief haue I spoken hitherto.

17 Then Eli answered, and said, Go in peace, and the God of Israël grant thy petition that thou hast asked of him.

18 She said againe, Let thine handmaid finde <sup>f</sup> grace in thy sight: for the woman went her way, and did eat, and loked no more sad.

19 ¶ Then they rose vp early, and worshipped before the Lord, and returned, and came to their house to Ramáh. Now Elkanáh knewe Hannáh his wife, and the Lord <sup>g</sup> remembred her.

20 For in processe of time Hannáh conceiued, and bare a sonne, and she called his name Samuél, Because, <sup>f</sup> said she, I haue asked him of the Lord.

<sup>h</sup> This Elkanáh was a Leuite, 1 Chro. 6. 27. and as some write, once a yere they accustomed to appeare before the Lord wth their families.

21 ¶ So the man <sup>h</sup> Elkanáh & all his house went vp to offer vnto <sup>y</sup> Lord the yerelie sacrifice, and his vowe:

22 But Hannáh went not vp: for she said vnto her housbād, <sup>i</sup> I wil tary vntil the childe be weined, then I wil bring him that he may appeare before the Lord, & there abide for euer.

23 And Elkanáh her housband said vnto her, Do what semeth thee best: tary vntil thou hast weined him: onely the Lord accomplish his <sup>i</sup> worde. So the woman abode, and gaue her sonne sucke vntil she weined him.

24 ¶ And whē she had weined him, she toke him with her with thre bullockes and an <sup>e</sup> Ephāh of floure and a bottle of wine, and broght him vnto the house of the Lord in Shiloh, and the childe was <sup>y</sup> yong.

12 ¶ Now the sonnes of Eli were wicked men & <sup>k</sup> knewe not the Lord.

<sup>k</sup> That is, they neglected his ordinance.

13 For the Priests custome toward the people was this: when any mā offered sacrifice, the Priests <sup>l</sup> boy came, while the flesh was seething and a fleshoke with thre teth in his hand, 14 And thrust it into the kettle, or into the caldren, or into the pan, or into <sup>y</sup> pot: all that <sup>y</sup> fleshoke broght vp, the Priest toke for him self: thus thei did vnto all the Israëlites, that came thether to Shiloh.

very great before the Lord: for men abhorred the offering of the Lord.

18 ¶ Now Samuél being a yong childe ministred before the Lord, girded with a linen Ephód.

19 And his mother made him a litle coate, and broght it to him from yere to yere, when she came vp with her housband, to offer the yerely sacrifice.

20 And Eli blessed Elkanáh and his wife, & said, The Lord giue thee sede of this woman, for the petition that she asked of the Lord: and they departed vnto their place.

21 And the Lord visited Hannáh, so that she conceived, and bare thre sonnes, and two daughters. And the childe Samuél grewe before the Lord.

22 ¶ So Eli was very olde, & heard all that his sonnes did vnto all Israël, & how they laye with the women that assembled at the doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

23 And he said vnto thé, Why do ye suche things? for of all this people I heare euil reportes of you.

24 Do no more, my sonnes: for it is no good reporte that I heare, which is, that ye make the Lords people to trespasse.

25 If one man sinne against an other, the iudge shal iudge it: but if a man sinne against the Lord, who wil pleade for him? Notwithstanding they obeyed not the voyce of their father, because y Lord wolde slaye them.

26 ¶ (Now the childe Samuél profited and grewe and was in fauour bothe with the Lord, and also with men)

27 And there came a mā of God vnto Eli and said vnto him, Thus saith the Lord, Did not I plainly appeare vnto y house of thy father, when they were in Egypt in Pharohs house?

28 And I chose him out of all the tribes of Israël to be my Priest, to offer vpon mine altar, and to burne incense, and to weare an Ephód before me, and I gaue vnto the house of thy father all the offerings made by fire of the children of Israël.

29 Wherefore haue you kiked against my sacrifice and mine offering, which I commanded in my Tabernacle, and honorest thy children about me, to make your selues fat of the first frutes of all the offerings of Israël my people?

30 Wherefore y Lord God of Israël sayth, I said, y thine house & the house of thy father shulde walke before me for euer: but now the Lord saith, It shal not be so: for them that honour me, I wil honour, and they that despise me, shal be despised.

31 Beholde, the dayes come, that I wil cut of thine arme, and the arme of thy fathers house, that there shal not be an olde man in thine house.

32 And thou shalt se thine enemy in the habitation of the Lord in all things where-with God shal blesse Israël, and there shal not be an olde man in thine house for euer.

33 Neuertheles, I wil not destroy euery one of thine frō mine altar, to make thine eyes to faile, & to make thine heart sorowful: and all the multitude of thine house shal dye when they be men.

34 And this shalbe a signe vnto thee, that shal come vpon thy two sonnes Hophnî and Phinehás: in one day they shal dye bothe.

35 And I wil sterre me vp a faithful Priest, that shal do according to mine heart and according to my minde: and I wil buylde him a sure house, and he shal walke before mine Anoynted for euer.

36 And all that are left in thine house, shal come and bowe downe to him for a piece of siluer and a morsel of bread, and shal say, Appoint me, I pray thee, to one of the Priests offices, that I may eat a morsel of bread.

CHAP. III.

1 There was no manifest visio in the time of Eli. 4 The Lord calleth Samuél thre times, 11 And sheweth what shal come vpon Eli and his house. 18 The same declareth Samuél to Eli.

1 N Ow the childe Samuél ministred vnto the Lord before Eli: and the worde of the Lord was precious in those dayes: for there was no manifest visio.

2 And at that time, as Eli laye in his place, his eyes began to waxe dimme that he colde not se.

3 And yet the light of God went out, Samuél slept in the temple of the Lord, where the Arke of God was.

4 Then the Lord called Samuél: and he said, Here I am.

5 And he ran vnto Eli, and said, Here am I, for thou calledst me. But he said, I called thee not: go againe and slepe. And he went and slept.

6 And the Lord called once againe, Samuél. And Samuél arose, and went to Eli, & said, I am here: for thou didest call me. And he answered, I called the not, my sonne: go againe and slepe.

7 Thus did Samuél, before he knewe the Lord, and before the worde of the Lord was reueiled vnto him.

8 And the Lord called Samuél againe the third time: and he arose, and went to Eli, and said, I am here: for thou hast called me. Then Eli perceived that the Lord had called the childe.

9 Therefore Eli said vnto Samuél, Go and slepe: and if he call thee, then say, Speake

2 And y Philistims put them selues in array against Israël: and when they ioyned the battel, Israël was smitten downe before the Philistims: who slewe of the armie in the field about foure thousand men.

¶ For it may

3 So when the people were come into the campe, the Elders of Israël said, ¶ Wherefore hathe the Lord smitten vs this day before the Philistims? let vs bring y Arke of the couenant of the Lord out of Shiloh vnto vs, that when it commeth among vs, it may saue vs out of the hand of our enemies.

4 The people sent to Shiloh, & broght from thence the Arke of the couenant of the Lord of hostes, who dwelleth betweene the Cherubims: and there were the two sonnes of Eli, Hophni, & Phinehas, with the Arke of the couenant of God.

6 And when the Philistims heard the noise of the showte, they said, What meaneth the sounde of this mighty showte in the hoste of the Ebrewes? & they vnderstode, that the Arke of the Lord was come into the hoste.

7 And the Philistims were afraid, and said, God is come into the hoste: therefore said thei, ¶ Wo vnto vs: for it hathe not bene so heretofore.

Chap. 3, 2

16 And the man said vnto Eli, I came from the armie, and I fled this day out of the hoste: and he said, What thing is done, my sonne?

17 Then the messenger answered and said, Israël is fled before the Philistims, and there hathe bene also a great slaughter among among the people: and moreouer thy two sonnes, Hophni and Phinehas <sup>h</sup> are dead, and the Arke of God is taken.

18 ¶ And whē he had made mencion of the Arke of God, Eli fel from his seate backward by the side of the gate, & his necke was broken, and he dyed: for he was an olde mā and heauye: and he had iudged Israël fortie yeres.

19 And his daughter in lawe Phinehas wife was with childe nere her trauel: and when she heard the report that the Arke of God was taken, and that her father in lawe & her housband were dead, she bowed her selfe, and traueled: for her paines came vpon her.

20 And about the time of her death, the women that stode about her, said vnto her, Feare not: for thou hast borne a sonne: but she answered not, nor regarded it.

21 And she named the childe Ichabód, saying, The glorie is departed from Israël, because the Arke of God was taken, & because of her father in lawe and her housband.

22 She said againe, <sup>k</sup> The glorie is departed frō Israël: for the Arke of God is takē.

CHAP. V.

1 The Philistims bring the Arke into the house of Dagón, which idole fel downe before it. 6 The men of Ashdód are plagued. 8 The Arke is caryed into Gath and after to Ekron.

1 THEN the Philistims toke the Arke of God and caryed it from Eben-ézer vnto <sup>a</sup> Ashdód, 2 Euen the Philistims toke the Arke of God, and broght it into the house of <sup>b</sup> Dagón, and set it by Dagón.

3 And when they of Ashdód rose the next day in the morning, beholde, Dagón was fallen vpon his face on the grounde before the Arke of the Lord, and they toke vp Dagón, and set him in his place againe.

4 Also they rose vp early in the morning the next day, & beholde, Dagón was fallē vpon his face on the grounde before the Arke of the Lord, and the head of Dagón and the two palmes of his hands were cut of vpon the thresholde: onely the stumpe of Dagón was left to him.

5 Therefore the Priests of Dagón, and all that come into Dagon's house <sup>c</sup> treade not on the thresholde of Dagón in Ashdód, vnto this day.

6 But the hand of the Lord was heauy vpon them of Ashdód, and destroyed them, and smote them with <sup>e</sup> emerods, bothe Ashdód, and the coastes thereof.

7 And whē the men of Ashdód sawe this, they said, Let not the Arke of the God of Israël abide with vs: for his hand is sore vpon vs and vpon Dagón our god.

8 They sent therefore and gathered all the princes of the Philistims vnto them, and said, <sup>d</sup> What shal we do with the Arke of the God of Israël? And they answered, Let the Arke of the God of Israël be caryed about vnto Gath: & thei caryed the Arke of the God of Israël about.

9 And when they had caryed it about, the hand of the Lord was against the citie with a very great destruction, and he smote the men of the citie bothe small and great, & they had emerods in their secret partes.

10 ¶ Therefore they sent the Arke of God to Ekron: and as sone as the Arke of God came to Ekron, the Ekronites cryed out, saying, They haue broght the Arke of <sup>y</sup> God of Israël to vs to slay vs and our people.

11 Therefore they sent, and gathered together all the princes of the Philistims and said, Send <sup>e</sup> away the Arke of the God of Israël, and let it returne to his owne place, that it slay vs not and our people: for there was a destruction & death through out all the citie, & the hād of God was very sore there.

12 And the men that dyed not, were smittē with the emerods: and the crye of the citie went vp to heauen.

4 Then said they, What shalbe the sinne offering, which we shal giue vnto it? And they answered, Fiue golden emerods and fiue golden mice, according to the number of <sup>y</sup> Princes of the Philistims: for one plague was on you all, & on your princes.

5 Wherefore ye shal make the similitudes of your emerods, and the similitudes of your mice that destroye the lād: so ye shal giue glorie vnto the God of Israël, that he may take his hād from you, and from your gods, and from your land.

f The wicked attribute almost all things to fortune and chance, whereas in dede there is nothing done without Gods II providence & decree.

10 And the men did so: for they toke two kine that gaue milke, and tyed them to the carte and shut the calves at home.

11 So they set the Arke of the Lord vpon the carte, and the coffer with the mice of golde, and with the similitudes of their emerods.

12 And the kine went the streight way to Beth-shémesh, & kept one path and lowed as they went, & turned nether to the right hand nor to the left: also the princes of the Philistims went after s the, vnto the borders of Beth-shémesh.

15 And the Leuites toke downe the Arke of the Lord, and the coffer that was with it, wherein the iewels of golde were, & put them on the great stone, and the men of Beht-shémesh offred burnt offering, and sacrificed sacrifices that same day vnto the Lord.

16 And when the five princes of the Philistims had sene it, they returned to Ekrón the same day.

17 ¶ So these are the goldē emerods, which the Philistims gaue for a sinne offering to the Lord: for i Ashdód one, for Gazá one, for Askelón one, for Gath one, & for Ekron one, j These were the five principal cities of the Philistims which were not all conquered vnto the time of Dauid.

18 And goldē mice, according to the number of all the cities of the Pilistims, belonging to the five princes, borhe of walled townes and of townes vnwalled, vnto the great stone of Abél, whereon they set the Arke of the Lord: which stone remaineth vnto this day in the field of Ioshúa the Bethshemite.

k Or, the plaine, or lamentation.

19 And he smote of the men of Beth-shémesh, because they k had loked in the Arke of the Lord: he slewe euen among the people fiftie thousand men and thre score and ten men. and the people lamented, because the Lord had slaine y people with so great a slaughter.

k For it was not lausful to anie ether to touche or to se it, saue onely to Aaron his sonnes, Num. 4, 15 & 20.

20 Wherefore the men of Beth-shémesh said, Who is able to stand before this holy Lord God? and to whom shal he go from vs?

21 And they sent messengers to the inhabitants of Kiriath-iearím, saying, The Philistims haue brought againe the Arke of the Lord: come ye downe & take it vp to you.

CHAP. VII.

1 The Arke is brought to Kiriath-iearím. 3 Samuél exhorteth the people to forsake their sinnes and turne to the Lord. 10 The Philistims fight against Israél & are ouercome. 16 Samuél iudgeth Israél.

1 Then the men of a Kiriath-iearím came, and toke vp the Arke of the Lord, and brought it into the house of Abinadáb in the hil: and they sanctified Eleazar his sonne, to kepe the Arke of the Lord.

a A cite in y tribe of Iudá, called also Kiriath-baal, Iosh. 15, 60.

2 (For while the Arke abode in Kiriath-iearím, the time was long, for it was twētie yeres) and all the house of Israél lamented b after the Lord.

b Lamented for their sinnes & followed the Lord.

3 ¶ The Samuél spake vnto all the house of Israél, saying, If ye be come againe vnto the Lord with all your hearte, * put away the strange gods frō among you, & * Ash-taróth, and direct your hearts vnto the Lord, and serue him * onely, and he shal deliuer you out of the hand of the Philistims.

Iosh. 24, 15. Iudg. 2, 13.

4 Then the children of Israél did put away * Baalím and Ash-taróth, and serued the Lord onely.

Iudg. 2, 14.

5 And Samuél said, Gather all Israél to Mizpéh, and I wil pray for you vnto y Lord.

c For Shiloh was now desolare, because the Philistims had taken thence the Arke.

6 And they gathered together to Mizpéh, and d drewe water and powred it out before the Lord, and fasted the same day, & said there, We haue sinned against the Lord. And Samuél iudgeth the children of Israél in Mizpéh.

d The Chaldee text hath, y thei drewe water out of their heart: that is, wept abundantly for their sinnes.

7 When the Philistims heard that the children of Israél were gathered together to Mizpéh, the princes of the Philistims wēt vp against Israél: and when the children of Israél heard that, they were afraid of the Philistims.

8 And the children of Israél said to Samuél, Cease not to e crye vnto the Lord our God for vs, that he may saue vs out of the hand of the Philistims.

e Signifying y in the prayers of the godhe there ought to be a vehement zeale.

9 Then Samuél toke a sucking lambe, and offred it all together for a burnt offering;

vnto

vnto the Lord, and Samuél cryed vnto the Lord for Israël, and the Lord heard him.

10 And as Samuél offred the burnt offering, the Philistims came to fight against Israël: but the Lord <sup>f</sup> thundred with a great thundre that day vpon the Philistims, & scattered them: so they were slaine before Israël.

11 And the men of Israël went from Mizpéh and pursued the Philistims, and smote them vntil they came vnder Beth-car.

12 Then Samuél toke a stone and pitched it betwene Mizpéh and <sup>s</sup> Shen, and called y name thereof, Ebén ézer; and he said, Hitherto hath the Lord holpen vs.

13 ¶ So y Philistims were brought vnder, & they came nomore againe into the coastes of Israël: and the hand of the Lord was against the Philistims all the dayes of Samuél.

14 Also the cities which the Philistims had taken from Israël, were restored to Israël, from Ekrón euen to Gath: & Israël deliuered the coastes of the same out of the hands of the Philistims: & there was peace betwene Israël & the <sup>h</sup> Amorites.

15 And Samuél iudged Israël all the dayes of his life,

16 And went about yere by yere to Beth-él, and Gilgál and Mizpéh, and iudged Israël in all those places.

17 Afterward he returned to Ramáh: for there was his house, & there he iudged Israël: also he buylt an altar there vnto the Lord.

CHAP. VIII.

1 Samuél maketh his sonnes iudges ouer Israël, who followe not his steppes. 2 The Israelites aske a King. 11 Samuél declareth in what state they shulde be vnder the King. 15 Notwithstanding they aske one still, & the Lord willett Samuél to grant vnto them.

1 WHē Samuél was now become old, he <sup>a</sup> made his sonnes iudges ouer Israël.

2 (And the name of his eldest sonne was <sup>b</sup> Ioél, and the name of the seconde Abiáh) euen iudges in Beer-sheba.

3 And his sonnes walked not in his waies but turned aside after lucre and * toke rewardes, and peruertered the iudgement.

4 ¶ Wherefore all the Elders of Israël gathered them together, & came to Samuél vnto <sup>c</sup> Ramáh,

5 And said vnto him, Beholde, thou art old, and thy sonnes walke not in thy waies: * make vs now a King to iudge vs like all nacions.

6 But the thing <sup>d</sup> displeased Samuél, when they said, Giue vs a King to iudge vs: and Samuél prayed vnto the Lord.

7 And the Lord said vnto Samuél, Heare the voice of the people in all that they shal say vnto thee: for they haue not cast thee away, but they haue cast me away, that I shulde not reigne ouer them.

8 As thei haue euer done since I broght the out of Egypt euen vnto this day, (and haue forsaken me, and serued other gods) euen so do they vnto thee.

9 Now therefore hearkē vnto their voyce: howbeit yet <sup>e</sup> testifie vnto them & shewe the maner of the King that shal reigne ouer them.

10 ¶ So Samuél tolde all the wordes of the Lord vnto the people that asked a King of him.

11 And he said, This shalbe the <sup>f</sup> maner of the King that shal reigne ouer you: he wil take your sonnes, and appoint them to his charets, and to be his horsmen, and some shal runne before his charet.

12 Also he wil make them his captaines ouer thousandes and captaines ouer fifties, and to eare his grounde, and to reape his haruest, & to make instruments of warre, and the things that serue for his charets.

13 He wil also take your daughters and make them apoticaries, and cookes and bakers.

14 And he wil take your fieldes, and your vineyardes, and your best oliue trees, and giue them to his seruants.

15 And he wil take the tenth of your sede, and of your vineyardes, and giue it to his Eunuches, and to his seruants.

16 And he wil take your men seruants and your maid seruants, and the chief of your yong men, and your asses, and put them to his worke.

17 He wil take the tenth of your shepe, and ye shalbe his seruants.

18 And ye shal crye out at that day, because of your King, whome ye haue chosen you, and the Lord wil not <sup>g</sup> heare you at that day.

19 But y people wolde not heare the voyce of Samuél, but did say, Nay, but there shalbe a King ouer vs.

20 And we also wil be like all other nacions, and our King shal iudge vs, & go out before vs, and fight our battels.

21 Therefore when Samuél heard all the wordes of the people, he rehearsed them in the eares of the Lord.

22 And the Lord said to Samuél, <sup>h</sup> Hearken vnto their voyce, and make them a King. And Samuél said vnto the men of Israël, Go euerie man vnto his citie.

CHAP. IX.

1 Saul seeking his fathers asses, by the counsel of his seruant goeth to Samuél. 9 The Prophets called Seers. 15 The Lord reueileth to Samuél Sauls coming, commanding him to annoint him King. 22 Samuél bringeth Saul to the feast.

THere was now a man of Beniamín <sup>a</sup> mightie in power named * Kish the sonne of Abiél, the sonne of Zerór, y<sup>e</sup> sonne of Bechoráth, the sonne of Aphíah, the sonne of a man of Iemíní.

And he had a sone called Saúl, a <sup>b</sup> goodly yong man and a faire: so that among the children of Israél there was none goodlier then he: from the sholders vpward he was hier then anie of the people.

And the asses of Kish Saules father were lost: therefore Kish said to Saúl his sonne, Take now one of the seruants with thee, and arise, go, and <sup>c</sup> seke the asses.

So he passed through mount Ephráim & went through the land of Shalisháh, but they found them not. Then they went through the land of Shalím, and <sup>d</sup> there they were not: he went also through the land of Iemíní, but they found them not.

When they came to the land of <sup>e</sup> Zuph, Saúl said vnto his seruant that was with him, Come and let vs returne, lest my father leaue <sup>f</sup> the care of asses, and take thought for vs.

And he said vnto him, Beholde now, in this citie is a man of God, and he is an honorable man: all that he saith commeth to passe: let vs now go thither, if so be that he can shewe vs what way we may go.

Then said Saúl to his seruant, Wel then, let vs go: but what shal we bring vnto the man? For the <sup>g</sup> bread is spent in our vessels, and there is no present to bring to the mā of God: what haue we?

And the seruant answered Saúl againe, & said, Beholde, I haue found about me the fourth parte of a <sup>h</sup> shekle of siluer: that wil I giue the man of God, to tel vs our way.

(Beforetime in Israél when a man went to seke an answer of God, thus he spake, Come, & let vs go to the <sup>i</sup> Seer: for he that is called now a Piophet, was in y<sup>e</sup> olde time called a Seer)

Thē said Saúl to his seruant, Wel said, come, let vs go: so they went into the citie where the man of God was.

¶ And as thei were going vp the hie way to the citie, they founde maydes that came out to drawe water, and said vnto the, Is there here a Seer?

And they answered them, and said, Yea: lo, <sup>j</sup> he is before you. make haste now, for he came this day to the citie: for there is an offering of the people this day in the hie place.

When ye shal come into the citie, ye shal finde him streight way. yet he come vp to the hie place to eat: for the people wil not eat vntil he come, because he wil <sup>k</sup> bleſſe y<sup>e</sup> sacrifice: and then eat they that be bidden to the feast: now therefore go vp: for euē now shal ye finde him.

Then they went vp into the citie, and when they were come into the middes of the citie, Samuél came out against them, to go vp to the hie place.

¶ But the Lord had reueiled to Samuél <sup>l</sup> secretly (a day before Saúl came) saying, Tomorowe about this time I wil send thee a man out of the land of Beniamín: him shalt thou anoint to be gouernour ouer my people Israél, y<sup>e</sup> he may <sup>m</sup> saue my people out of the hands of the Philistims: for I haue looked vpon my people, & their crye is come vnto me.

When Samuél therefore sawe Saúl, the Lord answered him, Se, this is the man whome I spake to thee of, he shal rule my people.

Then went Saúl to Samuél in the middes of the gate, and said, Tel me, I pray thee, where the Seers house is.

And Samuél answered Saúl, and said, I am the Seer: go vp before me vnto the hie place: for ye shal eat with me to day. and tomorowe I wil let thee go, & wil tel thee all that is in thine <sup>n</sup> heart.

And as for thine asses y<sup>e</sup> were lost thre dayes ago, care not for them: for they are founde. and <sup>o</sup> on whome is set all the desire of Israél: is it not vpon thee and on all thy fathers house?

¶ But Saúl answered, and said, Am not I the sonne of Iemíní of the smaleſt tribe of Israél? & my familie is the least of all the families of y<sup>e</sup> tribe of Beniamín. Wherefore then speakest thou so to me?

And Samuél toke Saúl and his seruant, and broght them into the <sup>p</sup> chamber, and made them sit in the chiefeſt place among them that were bidden: which were about thirtie persones.

And Samuél said vnto the cooke, Bring forth the portion which I gaue thee, & whereof I said vnto thee, Kepe it with thee.

And the cooketoke vp the shoulder, & that <sup>q</sup> w<sup>as</sup> vpon it, & set it before Saúl. And Samuél said, Beholde, that which is left, set it before thee & eat: for hitherto hath it bene kept for thee, saying, Also I <sup>r</sup> haue called the people. So Saúl did eat with Samuél that day.

And whē they were come downe frō the hie place into y<sup>e</sup> citie, he communed with Saúl vpon the top of the house:

And whē they arose early about y<sup>e</sup> spring of y<sup>e</sup> day, Samuél called Saúl to the <sup>s</sup> top of the house, saying, Vp, that I may send thee away. And Saúl arose, and they went out, bothe he, and Samuél.

And when they were come downe to the end of the citie, Samuél said to Saúl, Bid the seruant go before vs, (and he went)

6 Saul is anointed King by Samuél. 9 God changeth Sauls heart and he prophecieth. 17 Samuél assemblith the people, and sheweth them their finnes. 21 Saul is chofen King by lot. 25 Samuél writeth the Kings of- fice.

Then Samuél toke a viose of a oyle and powred it vpon his head, & kised him, and said, Hathe not the Lord anointed thee to be gouernour ouer his inheritance?

2 When thou shalt departe from me this day, thou shalt finde two men by * Rahels sepulchre in the border of Beniamín, eué at Zelzáh, & thei wil say vnto thee, The <sup>b</sup> asses which y wentest to seke, are foude: & lo, thy father hathe left the care of the asses, and soroweth for you, saying, What shal I do for my sonne?

3 Then shalt thou go forthe from thence and shalt come to the <sup>c</sup> plaine of Tabór, and there shal mete thee thre mé going vp to God to Beth-el: one caryig thre kiddes, & another carying thre loaves of bread, and another carying a bottle of wine:

4 And thei wil aske thee "if all be wel, and wil giue thee the two <sup>d</sup> loaves of bread, which thou shalt receiue of their hands.

5 After that shalt thou come to the <sup>e</sup> hil of God, where is the garisons of the Philistims: and when thou art come thether to the citie, thou shalt mete a companie of Prophets comming downe from the hye place with a viose, and a tymbrel, and a pipe, and an harpe before them, and thei shal prophecie.

6 Then the Spirit of the Lord wil come vpon thee, and thou shalt prophecie with thé, & shalt be turned into another man.

7 Therefore when these signes shal come vnto thee, do as occasion shal serue: for God is with thee.

8 And thou shalt go downe before me to Gilgál: and I also wil come downe vnto thee to offer burnt offrings, & to sacrifice sacrifices of peace. * Tary for me seuen daies, til I come to thee and shewe thee what thou shalt do.

9 And whē he had turned his <sup>h</sup> backe to go from Samuél, God gaue him another heart: & all those tokens came to passe that same day.

10 ¶ And whē thei came thether to the hil, beholde, the companie of Prophets met him, and the Spirit of God came vpon him, and he <sup>i</sup> prophecied among them.

11 Therefore all the people that knewe him before, when thei sawe that he prophecied among the Prophets, said eche to other? What is come vnto the sonne of Kish? is Saúl also among the Prophets?

12 And one of the same place answered, and said, But who is their <sup>j</sup> father? Therefore it was a prouerbe, Is Saúl also among the Prophets?

13 And when he had made an end of propheciing, he came to the hie place.

14 And Sauls vnle said vnto him, and to his seruāt, Whether went ye? And he said, To seke the asses: and when we sawe that thei were no where, we came to Samuél.

15 And Sauls vnle said, Tel me, I pray thee, what Samuél said vnto you.

16 Then Saúl said to his vnle, He tolde vs plainly that the asses were founde: but concerning the kingdome whereof Samuél spake, tolde he him not.

17 ¶ And Samuél <sup>k</sup> assembled the people vnto the Lord in Mizpéh,

18 And he said vnto the children of Israél, Thus saith the Lord God of Israél, I haue broght Israél out of Egypt, and deliuered you out of the hand of the Egyptians, & out of the hands of all kingdomes that troubled you.

19 But ye haue this day cast away your God, who onely deliuereth you out of all your aduersities and tribulacions: and ye said vnto him, No, but appoint a Kíg ouer vs. Now therefore stand ye before the Lord according to your tribes and according to your thousands.

20 And when Samuél had gathered together all the tribes of Israél, the tribe of Beniamín was <sup>l</sup> taken.

21 Afterwarde he assembled the tribe of Beniamín according to their families, & the familie of Matri was taken. So Saúl the sonne of Kish was taken, and when thei soght him, he colde not be founde.

22 Therefore thei asked the Lord againe, if that man shulde yet come thether. And the Lord answered, Beholde, he <sup>m</sup> hathe hid him selfe among the stuffe.

23 And thei ranne, and broght him thence: and when he stode among the people, he was hier then any of the people from the shoulders vpwarde.

24 And Samuél said to all the people, Se ye not him, whome the Lord hathe chofen, that there is none like him among all the people? And all the people showed and said, God saue the King.

25 Then Samuél tolde the people <sup>n</sup> the duetie of the kingdome, and wrote it in a booke, and layed it vp before the Lord, & Samuél sent all the people away euery man to his house.

26 Saúl also went home to Gibeah, & there followed him a band of men, whose heart God had touched,

27 But the wicked men said, How shal he saue vs? So thei despised him, and broght him no presentes; but he <sup>o</sup> held his tógue.

1 Nahásh the Ammonite warreth against Iabésh Gileád, who asketh helpe of the Israelites. 6 Saúl promisseth helpe. 11 The Ammonites are slayne. 14 The kingdome is renued.

a After that Saul was chosen King: for feare of whome they asked a King, as Chap 12. 12.

Then Nahásh the Ammonite <sup>a</sup> came vp, and besieged Iabésh Gileád: and all the men of Iabésh said vnto Nahásh, Make a couenant with vs, and we wil be thy seruants.

<sup>b</sup> And Nahásh the Ammonite answered them, On this condicion wil I make a couenant with you, that I may thruste out all your <sup>b</sup> right eyes, & bring that shame vpon all Israël.

b This declarereth, that the more nere that tyrants are to their destruction, the more cruel they are.

To whome <sup>c</sup> Elders of Iabésh said, Giue vs seuen daies respet, that we may send messengers vnto all the coastes of Israël: & then if no man deliuer vs, we wil come out to thee.

<sup>d</sup> Then came the messengers to Gibeáh of Saúl, & tolde these tidings in the eares of the people: and all the people lift vp their voyces and wept.

e God gaue him the spirit of strength & courage to go against this tyrant.

Then the Spirit of God <sup>e</sup> came vpon Saúl, when he heard those tidings, and he was exceeding angry, <sup>f</sup> And tooke a yoke of oxen, and hewed them in pieces, and sent them throughout all the coastes of Israël by the hands of messengers, saying, Whosoeuer commeth not forthe after Saúl, and after <sup>f</sup> Samuél, so shal his oxé be serued. 18 Then Samuél called vnto the Lord, and the Lord sent thundre and raine the same day: and all the people feared the Lord & Samuél exceedingly.

3 The Philistims are smitten of Saúl & Ionathán. 13 Saúl being disobedient to Gods commandment is shewed of Samuél that he shal not reigne. 19 The great flauerie, wherein the Philistims kept the Israelites.

1 Saúl now had bene King a one yere, & she reigned b two yeres ouer Israël.

a While these things were done.

2 Then Saúl chose him thre thousand of Israël: & two thousand were with Saúl in Michmásh, and in mount Beth-él, and a thousand were with Ionathán in Gibeáh of Beniamín: and the rest of the people he sent euerie one to his tent.

b Before he toke vpon him the Rite of a King.

3 And Ionathán smote the garison of the Philistims, that was in the c hil: and it came to the Philistims eares: and Saúl blewe the d trumpet throughout all the land, saying, Heare, o ye Ebrewes.

ues to warre.

4 And all Israël heard say, Saúl hath destroyed a garison of the Philistims: wherefore Israël was had in abominaciō with the Philistims: and the people gathered together after Saúl to Gilgál.

5 ¶ The Philistims also gathered them selues together to fight with Israël, thirtie thousand charers and six thousand horsemē: for the people was like the sand which is by the seas side in multitude, and came vp, and pitched in Michmásh Eastwarde from e Beth-áuen.

e Which was also called Beth-él, in the tribe of Beniamin.

6 And whē the men of Israël sawe that they were in a straite (for the people were in distres- se) the people hid the selues in caues, & in holdes, & in rockes, & towres, & in pittes.

7 And some of the Ebrewes went ouer Iordén vnto the land of f Gad & Gileád: and Saúl was yet in Gilgál, and all the people for feare followed him.

f Where the 10 And as sone as he had made an end of offering the burnt offering, beholde, Samuél came: and Saúl went forth to mete him, to h salute him.

h Ebr. bless him

11 And Samuél said, What hast thou done? Then Saúl said, Because I sawe that the people was i scatred from me, and that thou camest not within the dayes appointed, and that the Philistims gathered the selues together to Michmásh, 12 Therefore said I, The Philistims will come downe now vpon me to Gilgál, and I haue not made supplicacion vnto the Lord. I was boldē therefore and offered a burnt offering.

13 And Samuél said to Saúl, Thou hast done foolishly: thou hast not kept the com- mandement of the Lord thy i God, which he commaded thee: for the Lord had now stablished thy kingdome vpon Israël for euer.

That is, David.

14 But now thy kingdome shal not continue: the Lord hath fought him a <sup>k</sup> man after his owne heart, and <sup>y</sup> Lord hath commaded him to be gouernour ouer his people, because thou hast not kept that which the Lord had commanded thee.

And went to his citie Ramah.

15 ¶ And Samuél arose, and gate him vp frō Gilgál in <sup>1</sup> Gibeáh of Beniamín: & Saúl nombred the people that were founde with him, about six hundreth men.

16 And Saúl and Ionathán his sonne, & the people that were founde with them, had their abiding in Gibeáh of Beniamín: but the Philistims pitched in Michmásh.

Or, the destruction of it was, the captiue came out with the bands.

17 And there came out of the hoste of the Philistims <sup>3</sup> thre bādes to destroy, one bāde turned vnto the way of Ophrah vnto the land of Shuál, m So that to mans iudgement these thre armies wold haue ouerrunne the whole country.

18 And another bande turned toward the way to Beth-horón, and the <sup>m</sup> thirde bāde turned toward the way of the coast that loketh toward the valley of Zeboím, toward the wildernes.

19 Thē there was no smith founde throughout all the land of Israël: for the Philistims said, Lest the Ebrewes make them swordes or speares.

20 Wherefore all the Israelites wēt downe to the Philistims, to sharpen euerie man his share, his mattocke, & his axe and his wedding hooke.

21 Yet they had a file for the shares, and for the mattockes, and for the pickforkes, & for the axes and for to sharpen the goades.

n To declare that the victorie onely came of God & not by their force.

22 So when the day of battel was come, there was nether <sup>n</sup> sworde nor speare founde in the hands of anie of the people that were with Saúl & with Ionathán: but onely with Saúl and Ionathán his sonne was there founde.

23 And the garison of the Philistims came out to the passage of Michmásh.

CHAP. XIII.

14 Ionathán and his armour bearer put the Philistims to flight. 24 Saúl bindeth the people by an othe, not to eat til evening. 33 The people eat with the blood. 35 Saúl wolde put Ionathán to death. 45 The people deliuer him.

a By this example God wold declare to Israël that the victorie did not consist in multitude or armour, but onely came of his grace.

1 Then on a day Ionathán the sonne of Saúl said vnto the yong man that bare his armour, <sup>a</sup> Come and let vs go ouer toward the Philistims garison, that is yonder on the other side, but he tolde not his father.

2 And Saúl taryed in the border of Gibeáh vnder a pomegranate tre, which was in Migrón, and the people that were with him, were about six hundreth men.

Chap. 4. 21.

3 And Abiáh the sonne of Ahitúb, * Ichabods brother, the sonne of Phinehás, the sonne of Elí, was the Lords Priest in Shiloh, and ware an Ephód: and the people knewe not that Ionathán was gone.

4 ¶ Now in the way whereby Ionathán fought to go ouer to <sup>y</sup> Philistims garison, there was a <sup>a</sup> sharpe rocke on the one side, and a sharpe rocke on the other side: the name of the one was called Bozéz, & the name of the other Seneh.

5 The one rocke stretched frō the North toward Michmásh, & the other was from the South toward Gibeáh.

6 And Ionathán said to the yong man that bare his armour, Come, and let vs go ouer vnto the garison of these <sup>b</sup> vncircumcised: it may be that the Lord wil worke with vs: for it is <sup>c</sup> not hard to the Lord <sup>d</sup> to saue with manie, or with fewe.

7 And he that bare his armour, said vnto him, do all that is in thine heart: go where it pleaseth thee: beholde, <sup>e</sup> I am with thee as thine heart desireth.

8 Then said Ionathán, Beholde, we go ouer vnto those men, and wil shewe our selues vnto them.

9 <sup>d</sup> If they say on this wise to vs, Tarie vntil we come to you, then we wil stand stil in our place, and not go vp to them.

10 But if they say, Come vp vnto vs, then we wil go vp: for * the Lord hath deliuered them into our hand: and this shalbe a signe vnto vs.

11 So they bothe shewed them selues vnto the garison of the Philistims: and the Philistims said, Se, the Ebrewes come out of <sup>e</sup> holes wherein they had hid the selues.

12 And the men of the garison answered Ionathán, & his armour bearer, and said, Come vp to vs: for we wil shewe you a thing. Then Ionathán said vnto his armour bearer, Come vp after me: for the Lord hath deliuered them into the hand of Israël.

13 So Ionathán went vp vpon <sup>f</sup> his hands <sup>g</sup> and vpon his fete, and his armour bearer after him: and some fel before Ionathán, & his armour bearer slewe others after him.

14 So the <sup>8</sup> first slaughter which Ionathán and his armour bearer made, was about twentie mē within that cōpasse, as it were within halfe an acre of land which two oxen plowe.

15 And there was a feare in the hoste, and in the field, and amōg all the people: the garison also, and they that went out to spoile, were afrayed them selues: and the earth <sup>h</sup> trembled: for it was stricken with feare by God.

16 ¶ Thē the watchmen of Saúl in Gibeáh of Beniamín sawe: and beholde, the multitude was discomfited, and smitten as they went.

17 Therefore said Saúl vnto the people that that were with him, Search now & se, who is gone from vs. And whē they had nombred, beholde, Ionathán and his armour bearer were not there.

18 And Saúl said vnto Ahiáh, Bring hither the Arke of God (for y<sup>e</sup> Arke of God was at that time with the children of Israël)

19 ¶ And while Saúl talked vnto the Priest, the noise, that was in the hoste of the Philistims, spred farther abroade, & encreased: therefore Saúl said vnto the Priest, Withdrawethine hand.

20 And Saúl was assembled with all the people that were with him, and they came to the battel: & beholde, * euerie mans sworde was against his fellowe, and there was a very great discomfiture.

21 Moreouer y<sup>e</sup> Ebrewes that were with the Philistims before time, & were come with them into all partes of the hoste. & uē they also turned to be with the * Israelites that were with Saúl and Ionathán.

22 Also all the men of Israël which had hid them selues in mount Ephraim when they heard, that the Philistims were fled, they followed after them in the battel.

23 And so the Lord saued Israël that day: and the battel continued vnto Beth-áuen.

24 ¶ And at that time the men of Israël were pressed with hunger: for Saúl charged the people with an othe, saying, <sup>1</sup> Cursed be the man y<sup>e</sup> eateth * foode til nyght, that I may be auenged of mine enemies: so none of the people tasted any sustenance.

25 And all they of the lād came to a wood, where hony lay vpon the ground.

26 And the people came into the wood, & beholde, the hony dropped, and no man moued his hād to his mouth: for the people feared the <sup>m</sup> othe.

27 But Ionathán heard not when his father charged the people with the othe: wherefore he put forth the end of the rod that was in his hād, and dipt it in an hony cōbe, and put his hand to his mouth, and his <sup>n</sup> eyes receyued sight.

28 Then answered one of the people, and said, Thy father made y<sup>e</sup> people to sweare, saying, Cursed be the man that eateth sustenance this day: and the people were faint.

29 Then said Ionathán, My father hathe troubled the land: se now how mine eyes are made cleare, because I haue tasted a litle of this hony:

30 How much more, if the people had eatē to day of the spoile of their enemies which they founde: for had there not bene now a greater slaughter among the Philistims?

31 ¶ And they smote y<sup>e</sup> Philistims that day, from Michmāsh to Aialōn: and the people were exceding faint.

32 So the people turned to the spoyle, and toke shepe, & oxen, and calues, & slewe thē on the ground, and the people did eat thē * with the blood.

33 Then men told Saúl, saying, Beholde, the people sinne against the Lord, in that thei eat with the blood. And he said, Ye haue trespassed: & roule a great stone vnto me this day.

34 Againe Saúl said, Go abroade among y<sup>e</sup> people, & bid them bring me euerie man his ox, and euerie mā his shepe, and slaye them here, and eate and sinne not against the Lord in eating with the blood. And the people broght euerie man his ox in his hand that night and slewe them there.

35 Then Saúl made an altar vnto the Lord, & that was the first altar that he made vnto the Lord.

36 ¶ And Saúl said, Let vs go downe after the Philistims by night, and spoyle them vntil the morning shine, and let vs not leaue a mā of them. And they said, Dowhatsoeuer thou thinkest best. Then said the Priest, Let vs draw nere hither vnto God.

37 So Saúl asked of God, saying, Shal I go downe after the Philistims? wilt thou deliuer them into the hands of Israël? But he answered him not at that time.

38 ¶ And Saúl said, * All y<sup>e</sup> chief of y<sup>e</sup> people, come ye hither, and knowe, and se by whome this sinne is done this day.

39 For as the Lord liueth, which saueth Israël, though it be done by Ionathán my sonne, he shal dye the death. But none of all the people answered him.

40 Then he said vnto all Israël, Be ye on one side, & I and Ionathán my sonne will be on the other side. And the people said vnto Saúl, Do what thou thinkest best.

41 Then Saúl said vnto the Lord God of Israël, Giue a perfet lot. And Ionathán & Saúl were taken, but the people escaped.

42 And Saúl said, Cast lot betwene me and Ionathán my sonne. And Ionathán was taken.

43 Then Saúl said to Ionathán, Tel me what thou hast done. And Ionathán told him, and said, I tasted a litle hony with y<sup>e</sup> end of the rod, that was in mine hand, & lo, I must dye.

44 Againe Saúl answered, God do so and more also, vnles y<sup>e</sup> dye y<sup>e</sup> death, Ionathán.

45 And the people said vnto Saúl, ¶ Shal Ionathán dye, who hathe so mightely deliuered Israël? God forbid. As y<sup>e</sup> Lord liueth there shal not one heere of his head fall to the ground: for he hathe wrought wth God this day. So the people deliuered Ionathán that he dyed not.

46 Thē Saúl came vp from the Philistims: & the Philistims wēt to their owne place.

47 ¶ So Saúl helde the kingdome ouer Israël, and foght against all his enemies on

CHAP. XV.

3 Saul is commanded to slay Amalék. 9 He spareth Agág & the best things. 19 Samuél reprobeth him. 28 Saul is reiected of the Lord, and his kingdome giuen to another. 33 Samuél beareth Agág in pieces.

1 A fterwarde Samuél said vnto Saúl, The Lord sent me to anoint thee King ouer his people ouer Israël: nowe therefore obey the voyce of the wordes of the Lord.

2 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, I remember what Amalék did to Israël, how they layed wait for them in the way, as they came vp from Egypt.

3 Nowe therefore go, and smite Amalék, & destroye ye all that pertaineth vnto them, and haue no cõpassion on them, but slay bothe man and woman, bothe infant and suckeling, bothe oxe, and shepe, bothe camel, and asse.

4 And Saúl assembled the people, and nombred them in Telaím, two hundred thousand foremen, and ten thousand men of Iudáh.

5 And Saúl came to a citie of Amalék, and set watch at the riuier.

6 And Saúl said vnto the Kenites, Go, departe, and get you downe from among the Amalekites, lest I destroy you with them: for ye shewed mercy to all the children of Israël, when they came vp frõ Egypt: and the Kenites departed from among the Amalekites.

7 So Saúl smote the Amalekites from Hauilah as thou comest to Shur, that is before Egypt, 8 And toke Agág the King of the Amalekites aliue, and destroyed all the people with the edge of the sworde.

9 But Saúl and the people spared Agág, & the better shepe, and the oxen, and the fat beastes, and the lambes, and all that was good, & they wolde not destroye the: but euery thing that was vile & noght worthe, that they destroyed.

10 ¶ The came the worde of the Lord vnto Samuél, saying,

11 It repenteth me that I haue made Saúl King: for he is turned frõ me, & hathe not performed my commandements. And Samuél was moued, & cryed vnto the Lord all night.

12 And whē Samuél arose early to mete Saúl in the morning, one tolde Samuél, saying, Saúl is gone to Carmél: and beholde, he hathe made him there a place, from whence he returned, and departed, and is gone downe to Gilgál.

13 ¶ The Samuél came to Saúl, & Saúl said vnto him, Blessed be y of the Lord, I haue fulfilled the cõmandement of the Lord.

14 But Samuél said, What meaneth then y bleating of the shepe in mine eares, & the lowing of the oxen which I heare?

15 And Saúl answered, Thei haue broght the from the Amalekites: for the people spared the best of the shepe, and of the oxen to sacrifice them vnto the Lord thy God, and the remnant haue we destroyed.

16 Againe Samuél said to Saúl, Let me tel thee what the Lord hathe said to me this night. And he said vnto him, Say on.

17 Then Samuél said, When thou wast little in thine owne sight, wast y not made the head of the tribes of Israël? for the Lord anointed thee King ouer Israël.

18 And the Lord sent thee on a iourney, & said, Go, and destroye those sinners the Amalekites, and fight against them, vntil thou destroye them.

19 Now wherefore hast thou not obeyed y voyce of the Lord, but hast turned to the praye, and hast done wickedly in the sight of the Lord?

20 And Saúl said vnto Samuél, Yea, I haue obeyd y voyce of the Lord, & haue gone y way which the Lord sent me, and haue broght Agág the King of Amalék, & haue destroyed the Amalekites.

21 But y people toke of the spoyle, shepe, & oxen, & the chiefest of the things which shulde haue bene destroyed, to offer vnto the Lord thy God in Gilgál.

22 And Samuél said, Hathe y Lord as great pleasure in burnt offrings & sacrifices, as whē the voyce of y Lord is obeyed? beholde, to obey is better then sacrifice, and to hearken is better then the fat of rammes.

23 For rebellion is as the sinne of witchcraft, and transgression is wickednes and idolatrie. Because thou hast cast away the worde of the Lord, therefore he hathe cast away thee from being King.

ned: for I haue transgressed the cōmandement of the Lord, & thy wordes, because I feared the people, & obeyed their voyce.

25 Now therefore, I pray thee, take away my sinne, and turne againe with me, that I may worship the Lord.

26 But Samuél said vnto Saúl, I wil not returne with thee: for thou hast cast awaye the worde of the Lord, & the Lord hath cast away thee, that thou shalt not be Kīg ouer Israél.

27 And as Samuél turned him selfe to go away, he caught y lap of his coat, & it rēt.

28 Then Samuél said vnto him, The Lord hath rent the kingdome of Israél from thee this day, & hath giuen it to thy neighbour, that is better then thou.

29 For in dede the strength of Israél wil not lie nor repent: for he is not a man that he shulde repent.

30 Then he said, I haue sinned: but honour me, I pray thee, before the Elders of my people, & before Israél, & turne againe w me, that I may worship the Lord thy God.

31 ¶ So Samuél turned againe, and followed Saúl: and Saúl worshiped the Lord.

32 Thē said Samuél, Bring ye hither to me Agág y King of the Amalekites: & Agág came vnto him pleasantly, and Agág said, Truly the bitterness of death is passed.

33 And Samuél said, * As thy sword hath made women childeles, so shal thy mother be childeles among other womē. And Samuél hewed Agág in pieces before the Lord in Gilgál.

34 ¶ So Samuél departed to Ramáh, and Saúl went vp to his house to Gibeáh of Saúl.

35 And Samuél came nomore to se Saúl vntil y day of his death: but Samuél mourned for Saúl, and the Lord repented that he made Saúl King ouer Israél.

CHAP. XVI.

1 Samuél is reproofed of God, & is sent to anoint Dauid. 7 God regardeth the heart. 13 The Spirit of the Lord commeth vpon Dauid. 14. The wicked spirit is sent vpon Saúl. 19 Saúl sendeth for Dauid.

1 The Lord the said vnto Samuél, How long wilt y mourne for Saúl, & seing I haue cast him away from reigning ouer Israél: fil thine horne with oyle and come, I wil send thee to Ishái the Bethlehemite: for I haue provided me a King among his sonnes.

2 And Samuél said, How can I go: for if Saúl shal heare it, he wil kil me. Then the Lord answered, Take an heifer w thee, & say, I am come to do sacrifice to y Lord.

3 And call Ishái to the sacrifice, and I wil shewe thee what y shalt do, & y shalt anoint vnto me him whome I name vnto thee.

4 So Samuél did y the Lord bade him, & came to Beth-léhem, and the Elders of the towne were astonied at his comming, & said, Commeth thou peaceably?

5 And he answered, Yea: I am come to do sacrifice vnto the Lord: sanctifie your selues, & come with me to the sacrifice. And he sanctified Ishái and his sonnes, and called them to the sacrifice.

6 And when they were come, he loked on Eliáb, and said, Surely the Lords Anointed is before him.

7 But the Lord said vnto Samuél, Loke not on his cōtinance, nor on the height of his stature, because I haue refused him: for God seeth not as man seeth: for man loketh on the outward appearance, but the Lord beholdeth the heart.

8 Then Ishái called Abinadáb, & made him come before Samuél. And he said, Nether hath the Lord chosen this.

9 Thē Ishái made Shāmáh come. And he said, Nether yet hath y Lord chosen hī.

10 Againe Ishái made his seuen sonnes to come before Samuél: & Samuél said vnto Ishái, The Lord hath chose none of these.

11 Finally Samuél said vnto Ishái, " Are there no more children but these? And he said, There remaineth yet a litle one behinde, y kepeth the shepe. Then Samuél said vnto Ishái, * Send and fet him: for we wil not sit downe, til he be come hither.

12 And he sent, and broght him in: and he was ruddie, and of a good countenance, & comelie visage. And y Lord said, Arise, & anoint him: for this is he.

13 Then Samuél toke the horne of oyle, & anointed him in the middes of his brethren. And the Spirit of the Lord came vpon Dauid, from that day forward: the Samuél rose vp, and went to Ramáh.

14 ¶ But the Spirit of the Lord departed from Saúl, and an euil spirit sent of the Lord vexed him.

15 And Sauls seruāts said vnto hī, Beholde now, y euil spirit of God vexeth thee.

16 Let our lord therefore commande thy seruants, that are before thee, to seke a man, that is a conning player vpon the harpe: that when the euil spirit of God commeth vpon thee, he may playe with his hand, & thou maiest be eased.

17 Saúl then said vnto his seruāts, Prouide me a man, I pray you, that can play wel, & bring him to me.

18 Then answered one of his seruants, and said, Beholde, I haue fene a sonne of Ishái, a Bethlehemite, that can playe, & is strōg, valiat & a mā of warr, & wise in matters, & a comely persone, & y Lord is with hī.

19 ¶ Wherefore Saúl sent messengers vnto Ishái, & said, Send me Dauid thy sonne, which is with the shepe.

20 And Ishái toke an asse laden with bread & a flagon of wine & a kid, & sent thē by

CHAP. XVII.

1 The Philistims make warre against Israël. 10 Goliath defieth Israël. 17 David is sent to his brethren. 34 The strength and boldenes of David. 47 The Lord saueh not by sword nor speare. 50 David killeth Goliath and the Philistims flee.

NOW the Philistims gathered their armies to battel, and came together to Shochóh, which is in Iudáh, & pitched betwene Shochóh and Azekáh, in the coast of Dammím.

Or, in Ephraim.

2 And Saül, and the men of Israël assembled, and pitched in the valley of Eláh, & put them selues in battel array to mete the Philistims.

Or, of the vale.

3 And the Philistims stode on a mountaine on the one side, and Israël stode on a mountaine on the other side: so a valley was betwene them.

a Betwene the two camps.

4 ¶ Then came a mā betwene them<sup>a</sup> bothe out of the tentes of the Philistims, named Goliath of Gath: his height was six cubits and an hand breadth,

Or, cast of plate.

5 And had an helmet of brasse vpō his head, and a brigandine vpon him: and the weight of his brigandine was five thousand shekels of brasse.

b That is, 156 lib. 4. ounces, after halfe an ounce the shekel & 600 shekels weight amounteth to 18 lib 3 quarters.

6 And he had bootes of brasse vpō his legges, & a shilde of brasse vpō his shoulders.

7 And the shafte of his speare was like a weauers beame: and his speare head weyed six hundreth shekels of yron: and one bearing a shilde went before him.

Or, greates.

8 And he stode, and cryed against the hoste of Israël, and said vnto them, Why are ye come to set your battel in array? am not I a Philistim, and you seruāts to Saül? chose you a mā for you, & let him come downe to me.

Or, fuisse me.

9 If he be able to fight with me, and kil me, then wil we be your seruāts: but if I ouercome him, and kil him, then shal ye be our seruāts, and serue vs.

10 Also the Philistim said, I defie the hoste of Israël this day: giue me a man, that we may fight together.

Or, had to bad.

11 When Saül and all Israël heard those wordes of the Philistim, they were discouraged, and greatly afayed.

Chap. 17.

12 ¶ Now this David was the sonne of an Ephrathite of Beth-léhem Iudáh, named Ishái, which had eight sonnes: and this mā was taken for an olde man in the dayes of Saül.

13 And the thre eldest sonnes of Ishái went and followed Saül to the battel: and the names of his thre sonnes that wēt to battel, were Eliab the eldest, & the next Abinadab, and the third Shammáh.

14 So David was the least: and the thre eldest went after Saül.

15 David also went, but he returned from Saül to fede his fathers shepe in Beth-léhem.

16 And the Philistim drewe nere in y morning, and euening, and continued fourtie dayes.

17 And Ishái said vnto David his sonne, Take now for thy brethren an Epháh of this parched corne, and these ten cakes, and runne to the hoste to thy brethren.

18 Also cary these ten fresh cheses vnto the captaine, and loke how thy brethren fare, and receiue their pledge.

19 (Then Saül and they, and all the men of Israël were in the valley of Eláh, fighting with the Philistims)

20 ¶ So David rose vp early in the mornig, and left the shepe with a keper, and toke and went as Ishái had commanded him, & came within the compasse of the hoste: & the hoste went out in array, and shewed in the battel.

21 For Israël and the Philistims had put them selues in array, armie against armie.

22 And David left the things, which he bare, vnder the hands of the keper of the cariage, and ran into the hoste, & came, and asked his brethren how they did.

23 And as he talked with them, beholde, the man that was betwene the two armies, came vp, (whose name was Goliath the Philistim of Gath) out of the armie of the Philistims, and spake suche wordes, & David heard them.

24 And all the men of Israël, when they sawe the man, ran away from him, & were sore afayed.

25 For euery man of Israël said, Sawe ye not this man that cometh vp? euen to reuile Israël is he come vp: and to him that killeth hī, wil the King giue great riches, and wil giue him his daughter, yea, and make his fathers house fre in Israël.

26 ¶ Then David spake to the men that stode with him, and said, What shalbedone to the man that killeth this Philistim, and taketh away the shame from Israël, for who is this vncircumcised Philistim, that he shulde reuile the hoste of the liuing God?

27 And the people answered him after this maner, saying, Thus shal it be done to the h This dishonour y he doeth to Israël.

the man that killeth him.

28 And Eliáb his eldest brother heard whē he spake vnto the men, & Eliáb was very angry with Dauid, and said, Why camest thou downe hether? and with whome hast y left those fewe shepe in the wildernes? I knowe thy pride and the malice of thine heart, that thou art come downe to se the battel.

29 Then Dauid said, What haue I now done? Is there not a cause?

For his fathers sending was a iuste occasion, & also he felt him self inwardly moued by Gods Spirit.

30 And he departed from him into the presence of another, and spake of the same maner, and the people answered him according to the former wordes.

31 ¶ And thei that heard the wordes which Dauid spake, rehearsed them before Saúl, which caused him to be broght.

32 So Dauid said to Saúl, Let no más heart faile him, because of him: thy seruant wil go, and fight with this Philistim.

Here Saúl seeth Dauids faith by the infidelitie of Saúl.

33 And Saúl said to Dauid, Thou art not able to go against this Philistim to fight with him: for thou art a boye, and he is a man of warre from his youth.

34 And Dauid answered vnto Saúl, Thy seruant kept his fathers shepe, and there came a lyon and likewise a beare, and toke a shepe out of the flocke, Dauid by the experience y he hath had in time past of Gods helpe, nothing doubteth to ouercome this danger, seeing he was zealous for Gods honour.

35 And I went out after him & smote him, & toke it out of his mouth: and when he arose against me, I caught him by the bearde, and smote him, and slewe him.

36 So thy seruant slewe bothe the lyon, and the beare: therefore this vncircumcised Philistim shalbe as one of them, seing he hath railed on y hoste of the liuing God.

For by these examples he sawe that the power of God was w him.

37 ¶ Moreouer Dauid said, The Lord that deliuered me out of the pawe of the lyon, and out of the pawe of the beare, he wil deliuer me out of the hand of this Philistim. Then Saúl said vnto Dauid, Go, and the Lord be with thee.

38 And Saúl put his rayment vpon Dauid, and put an helmet of brasle vpon his head, and put a brigandine vpon him.

Or, assayed.

39 The girded Dauid his sworde vpon his rayment, and began to go: for he neuer proued it: and Dauid said vnto Saúl, I can not go with these: for I am not accustomed, wherefore Dauid put them of him.

To y intent that by these weake meanes God might only be knowe to be y auer of this victorie.

40 Then toke he his staffe in his hand, and chose him fíue smothe stones out of a brooke, and put them in his shepherdes bag or skrippe, & his sling was in his hād, and he drewe nere to the Philistim.

41 ¶ And the Philistim came & drewe nere vnto Dauid, and the man that bare the shield went before him.

42 Now when the Philistim looked about and sawe Dauid, he disdeined him: for he was but yong, ruddy & of a comely face.

43 And the Philistim said vnto Dauid, Am

I a dog, that thou comest to me with staues? And the Philistim cursed Dauid by his gods.

He sware by his gods that he wolde destroye him.

44 And y Philistim said to Dauid, Come to me, and I wil giue thy flesh vnto the foules of the heauen, and to the beastes of the field.

45 ¶ The said Dauid to y Philistim, Thou comest to me with a sworde, and with a speare, and with a shield, but I come to thee in the Name of the Lord of hostes, the God of the hoste of Israél, whome thou hast railed vpon.

46 This day shal the Lord close thee in mine hand, and I shal smite thee, and take thine head from thee, and I wil giue the carkeises of the hoste of the Philistims this day vnto the foules of the heauen, & to the beastes of the earth, y all the worlde may knowe that Israél hath a God, Dauid being assured bothe of his cause & of his calling, prophecieth of the destruction of the Philistims.

47 And that all this assemblie may knowe, that the Lord saueh not with sworde nor with speare (for the battel is the Lords) & he wil giue you into our hands.

48 And when the Philistim arose to come and drawe nere vnto Dauid, Dauid hasted & ran to fight against the Philistim.

Being moued with a feruent zeale to be reuenged vpon this blasphemour of Gods Name.

49 And Dauid put his hand in his bag, and toke out a stone, & slang it and smote the Philistim in his forehead, that the stone sticked in his forehead, and he fel groueling to the earth.

50 So Dauid ouercame the Philistim with a sling and with a stone, & smote the Philistim, & slewe him, when Dauid had no sworde in his hand. Eccles. 47. 4. 1. Mac. 4. 30.

51 Then Dauid ran, and stode vpon the Philistim, and toke his sworde & drewe it out of his sheath, and slewe him, & cut of his head therewith. So whē the Philistims sawe, that their champion was dead, they fled.

52 And the men of Israél and Iudáh arose, and showed, and followed after the Philistims, vntil thei came to the valley, and vnto the gates of Ekrón: and the Philistims fel downe wounded by the way of Shaaráim, euen to Gath and to Ekrón.

Or, Oai, the river.

53 And the children of Israél returned from pursuing the Philistims, and spoiled their tents.

54 And Dauid toke the head of the Philistim, and broght it to Ierusalém, and put his armour in his tent.

Or, house as Beth léhem.

55 ¶ When Saúl sawe Dauid go forthe against the Philistim, he said vnto Abnér the captaine of his hoste, Abnér, whose sonne is this yong man? and Abnér answered, As thy soule liueth, o King, I can not tel.

That is, of what familie & tribe is he? or els, he had forgotten Dauid, albeit he had receiued so great a benefit by him.

56 The King said, Enquire thou whose sonne this yong man is.

57 And when Dauid was returned from the slaughter of y Philistim, the Abner toke him, & broght him before Saúl with the head of the Philistim in his hand.

58 And Saúl said to him, Whose sonne art thou, thou yong man? And Dauid answered, I am the sonne of thy seruant Ishai the Bethlehemite.

CHAP. XVIII.

The amitie of Ionathán and Dauid. 8 Saúl enuieith Dauid for the praise that the womē gaue him. 11 Saúl wolde haue slayne Dauid. 17 He promisseth him Merab to wife, but giueth him Michal. 27 Dauid deliuereth to Saúl two hundreth foreskinnes of the Philistims. 29 Saúl feareth Dauid, seing that the Lord is with him.

AND when he had made an end of speaking vnto Saúl, the <sup>a</sup> soule of Ionathán was knit with the soule of Dauid, and Ionathán loued him, as his owne soule.

2 And Saúl toke him that day, and wolde not let him returne to his fathers house.

3 Then Ionathán and Dauid made a couenant: for he loued him as his owne soule.

4 And Ionathán put of the robe that was vpon him, and gaue it Dauid, and his garments, euen to his sworde, & to his bowe, and to his girdle.

<sup>b</sup> That is, he prospered in all his doings.

5 And Dauid went out whether soeuer Saúl sent him, & behaued him selfe <sup>b</sup> wisely: so that Saúl set him ouer the me of warre, and he was accepted in the sight of all the people, and also in the sight of Sauls seruants.

6 ¶ When thei came againe, and Dauid returned from the slaughter of the <sup>c</sup> Philistim, the women came out of all cities of Israël, singing and dancing to mete King Saúl, with timbrels, with instruments of ioye, and with rebeckes.

<sup>d</sup> He answered, playing Chap. 21. 11. & 29. 5. eccles. 47. 5.

7 And the women sang by cours in their playe, & said, * Saúl hathe slayne his thousand, and Dauid his ten thousand.

8 Therefore Saúl was exceeding wrath, and the saying displeased him, & he said, Thei haue ascribed vnto Dauid tenthousand, & to me thei haue ascribed but a thousand, & what can he haue more saue the kigdome?

<sup>e</sup> That is, spake as a man beside him selfe: for so the people abused this warde, when thei colde not vnderstand.

9 Wherefore Saúl <sup>d</sup> had an eye on Dauid from that day forward.

10 ¶ And on the morowe, the euil spirit of God came vpon Saúl, & he <sup>e</sup> prophecied in the middes of the house: and Dauid plaid with his hand like as at other times, and there was a speare in Sauls hand.

11 And Saúl toke the speare, and said, I wil smite Dauid through to y wall. But Dauid auoyded twise out of his presence.

12 And Saúl was afraied of Dauid, because the Lord was with him, and was departed from Saúl.

<sup>f</sup> Meaning, he was captaine ouer y people.

13 Therefore Saúl put him from him, and made him a captaine ouer a thousand, and he went <sup>f</sup> out and in before the people.

14 And Dauid behaued him selfe wisely in all his waies: for the Lord was with him.

15 Wherefore when Saúl sawe that he was very wise, he was afraied of him.

16 For all Israël and Iudáh loued Dauid, because he went out and in before them.

17 ¶ The Saúl said to Dauid, Beholde mine eldest daughter Merab, her I wil giue thee to wife: onely be a valiant sonne vnto me, and fight the Lords battels: for Saúl thought, Mine hand shal not be vpon him, but the hand of the Philistims shalbe vpon him.

18 And Dauid answered Saúl, What am I and what is my life, or the familie of my father in Israël, that I shulde be sonne in lawe to the King?

19 Howbeit when Merab Sauls daughter shulde haue bene giue to Dauid, <sup>h</sup> she was giue vnto Adriel a Meholahite to wife.

<sup>h</sup> By whome he had the sonnes, which Dauid put to death at the request of the Gibeonites, 2. Sam. 21. 8.

20 ¶ Then Michal Sauls daughter loued Dauid: and thei shewed Saúl, & the thing pleased him.

21 Therefore Saúl said, I wil giue him her, that she may be a <sup>i</sup> snare to him, and that the had of the Philistims may be against hi. Wherefore Saúl said to Dauid, Thou shalt this day be my sonne in lawe in the one of the twaine.

22 And Saúl comanded his seruants, Speake with Dauid secretly, and say, Beholde, the King hathe a fauour to thee, and all his seruants loue thee: be now therefore the Kings sonne in lawe.

23 And Sauls seruants spake these wordes in the eares of Dauid. And Dauid said, <sup>k</sup> Semeth it to you a light thing to be a Kings sonne in lawe, seing that I am a poore man and of small reputacion?

24 And then Sauls seruants broght him worde againe, saying, Sache wordes spake Dauid.

25 And Saúl said, This wife shal ye say to Dauid, The King desireth no dowrie, but an hūdreth foreskinnes of the Philistims, to be auenged of the Kings enemies: for Saúl thought to make Dauid fall into the hands of the Philistims.

26 And when his seruants tolde Dauid these wordes, it pleased Dauid wel, to be the Kings sonne in lawe: and the daies were not expired.

27 Afterwarde Dauid arose with his men, and went and slewe of the Philistims two hundreth men: and Dauid broght their foreskinnes, and <sup>m</sup> thei gaue them wholly to the King that he might be the Kings sonne in lawe: therefore Saúl gaue him Michal his daughter to wife.

28 Then Saúl sawe, & vnderstode that the Lord was with Dauid, & that Michal the daughter of Saúl loued him.

<sup>n</sup> To be depreiued of his kingdome.

29 The Saúl was more & more <sup>n</sup> afraied of Dauid, and Saúl became alway Dauids enemy.

30 And when the princes of the Philistims went forth, at their going forth. Dauid behaued him selfe more wisely then all the seruantes of Saúl, so that his name was muche set by.

CHAP. XIX.

2 Jonathán declareth to Dauid the wicked purpose of Saúl. 11 Michal his wife saueth him. 18 Dauid cometh to Samuél. 23 The Spirit of prophecie cometh on Saúl.

1 Then Saúl spake to Jonathán his sonne, and to all his seruants, that they shulde kil Dauid: but Jonathán Saúls sonne had a great fauour to Dauid.

2 And Jonathán tolde Dauid, saying, Saúl my father goeth about to slaye thee: now therefore, I pray thee, take hede vnto thy selfe vnto the morning, and abide in a secret place, and hide thy selfe.

3 And I wil go out, and stand by my father in the field where thou art, and wil commune with my father of thee, and I wil se what he saith and wil tel thee.

4 ¶ And Jonathán spake good of Dauid vnto Saúl his father, and said vnto him, Let not the King sinne against his seruāt, against Dauid: for he hath not sinned against thee, but his workes haue bene to thee very good.

5 For he did put his life in danger, and slewe the Philistim, and the Lord wrought a great saluation for all Israel: thou sawest it, and thou reioycest: wherefore then wilt thou sinne against innocent blood, & slaye Dauid without a cause?

6 Then Saúl hearkened vnto the voyce of Jonathán, and Saúl sware, As the Lord liueth, he shal not dye.

7 So Jonathán called Dauid, and Jonathán shewed him all those wordes, & Jonathán brought Dauid to Saúl, and he was in his presence as in times past.

8 ¶ Againe the warre began, and Dauid wēt out and fought with the Philistims, and slewe them with a great slaughter, & they fled from him.

9 ¶ And the euil Spirit of the Lord was vpon Saúl, as he sate in his house hauing his speare in his hand, and Dauid played with his hand.

10 And Saúl entended to smite Dauid to the wall with the speare: but he turned aside out of Saúls presence, and he smote the speare against the wall: but Dauid fled, and escaped the same night.

11 Saúl also sent messengers vnto Dauids house, to watche him, and to slaye him in the morning: & Michal Dauids wife tolde it him, saying, If thou saue not thy self this night, tomorowe thou shalt be slaine.

12 So Michal let Dauid downe through a window: and he went, and fled, and escaped.

13 Then Michal took an image and layed it in the bed, and put a pillowe stuffed with goates heere vnder the head of it, and couered it with a cloth.

14 And when Saúl sent messengers to take Dauid, she said, He is sicke.

15 And Saúl sent the messengers againe to se Dauid, saying, Bring him to me in the bed, that I may slaye him.

16 And when the messengers were come in, beholde, an image was in the bed, with a pillowe of goates heere vnder the head of it.

17 And Saúl said vnto Michal, Why hast thou mocked me so, and sent away mine enemy, that he is escaped? And Michal answered Saúl, He said vnto me, Let me go, or els I wil kil thee.

18 ¶ So Dauid fled, and escaped, and came to Samuél to Ramah, and tolde him all that Saúl had done to him: and he and Samuél went and dwelt in Naióth.

19 But one tolde Saúl, saying, Beholde, Dauid is at Naióth in Ramah.

20 And Saúl sent messengers to take Dauid: and when they sawe a companie of Prophets prophecying, and Samuél standing as appointed ouer them, the Spirit of God fel vpon the messengers of Saúl, and they also prophecied.

21 And when it was tolde Saúl, he sent other messengers, and they prophecied likewise: againe Saúl sent the third messengers, and they prophecied also.

22 Then went he him selfe to Ramah, and came to a great well that is in Sechú, and he asked, and said, Where are Samuél and Dauid? and one said, Beholde, they be at Naióth in Ramah.

23 And he went thither, euen to Naióth in Ramah, and the Spirit of God came vpon him also, and he went prophecying vntil he came to Naióth in Ramah.

24 And he stript of his clothes, and he prophecied also before Samuél, and fel downe naked all that day and all that night: therefore they say, * Is Saúl also among the Prophetes?

CHAP. XX.

2 Jonathán comforteth Dauid. 3 They renew their league. 33 Saúl wolde haue killed Jonathán. 38 Jonathán aduertiseth Dauid by thre arrowes of his fathers fury.

1 And Dauid fled from Naióth in Ramah, and came and said before Jonathán, What haue I done? what is mine iniquitie? and what sinne haue I committed before thy father, that he seeketh my life?

2 And he said vnto him, God forbid, thou shalt not dye: beholde, my father wil do a That is Dauid had better successe against the Philistims then Saúl me.

a Before Saúl sought Dauids life secretly, but now his hypocritic bursteth forth in open cruelty.

b That I may giue thee warning what to do.

c Else he put his life in his hand. Iudg. 12. 3. 1 Sam. 27. 21. psal. 119. 109.

e Whatsoever he pretended outwardly, yet his heart was full of malice.

d He plaide on his harpe to mitigate the rage of the euil Spirit, as Chap. 16. 23.

e Thus God moued both the sonne and daughter of this tyrant to fauour Dauid against their father.

f Beholde, how y tyrants to accomplish their rage, neither regarde othe nor friendship, God nor man.

nothing great nor smale, but he wil shew it me: and why shulde my father hide this thing from me? he wil not do it.

<sup>b</sup> *I am in great
death.*

3 And Dauid sware againe and said, Thy father knoweth that I haue founde grace in thine eyes: therefore he thinketh, Ionathán shal not knowe it, lest he be sory: but in dede, as the Lord liueth, and as thy soule liueth, there is but a <sup>b</sup> steppe betwene me and death.

4 Then said Ionathán vnto Dauid, Whatsoeuer thy soule requireth, that I wil do vnto thee.

5 And Dauid said vnto Ionathán, Beholde, tomorrowe is the <sup>e</sup> first day of the moneth, and I shulde sit with the King at meat: but let me go, that I may hide my selfe in the fields vnto the third day at euen.

6 If thy father make mencion of me, then say, Dauid asked leaue of me, y he might go to Beth-léhé to his owne citie: for there is a <sup>d</sup> yerely sacrifice for all that familie.

*Chap. 18, 3.
& 23, 18.*

7 And if he say thus, It is wel, thy seruant shal haue peace: but if he be angry, be sure that wickednes is concluded of him.

8 So shalt thou shewe mercy vnto thy seruant: * for thou hast ioyned thy seruant into a couenant of the Lord with thee, & if there be in me iniquitie, slaye thou me: for why shuldest thou bring me to thy father?

<sup>e</sup> *That he were fully de-

9 ¶ And Ionathán answered, God kepe y from thee: for if I knewe that wickednes were <sup>e</sup> concluded of my father to come vpon thee, wolde not I tel it thee?

<sup>f</sup> If thy father do fauour me.

10 Thē said Dauid to Ionathán, Who shal tel me? how shal I knowe, if thy father answer thee cruelly?

11 And Ionathán said to Dauid, Come and let vs go out into the field: and they twaine went out into the field.

<sup>g</sup> The Lord punishe me more grieuou-ly.

12 Then Ionathán said to Dauid, O Lord God of Isráél, when I haue groped my fathers minde tomorrowe at this time, or with in this thre dayes, & if it be wel with Dauid, and I then send not vnto thee, and shewe it thee, 13 The Lord <sup>g</sup> do so & muche more vnto Ionathán: but if my father haue minde to do thee euil, I wil shewe thee also, & send thee away, that thou mayest go in peace: and the Lord be with thee as he hath bene with my father.

<sup>h</sup> *I knowe y
if thou werest now preferred to y kyngdome, thou wol-dest not destroy me, but shewe thy selfe friendly to my posteritie.*

14 Likewise I require not whiles I liue: for I dont not but thou wilt shewe me the mercy of the Lord, <sup>h</sup> that I dye not.

15 But I require that thou cut not of thy mercie from mine house for euer: no, not whē the Lord hath destroyed the enemies of Dauid, euerie one from the earth.

16 So Ionathán made a bonde with the house of Dauid, saying, Let the Lord require it at the hands of Dauids enemies.

17 And againe Ionathán sware vnto Dauid, because he loued him (for he loued him as his owne soule)

18 Thē said Ionathán to him, Tomorrowe is y first day of the moneth: and thou shalt be looked for, for thy place shalbe empty.

19 Therefore thou shalt hide thy selfe thre dayes, then thou shalt go downe quickly and come to the place where thou didest hide thy selfe, when this matter was in hand, & shalt remaine by the stone Ezél.

20 And I wil shoote thre arrowes on the side thereof, as thogh I shot at a marke.

21 And after I wil send a boy, saying, Go, seke the arrowes. If I say vnto the boy, Se, y arrowes are on this side thee, bring them, and come thou: for it is wel with thee, and no hurt, as the Lord liueth.

22 But if I say thus vnto the boy, Beholde, the arrowes are beyonde thee, go thy way: for the Lord hath sent thee away.

23 As touching the thing which thou and I haue spoken of, beholde, the Lord be betwene thee and me for euer.

24 ¶ So Dauid hid him selfe in the field: & when the first day of the moneth came, the King sate to eat meat.

25 And the King sate, as at other times vpo his seat, euen vpon his seat by the wall: & Ionathán arose, and Abner sate by Sauls side, but Dauids place was empty.

26 And Saúl said nothing that day: for he thoght, Some thing hath befallen him, thogh he were <sup>k</sup> cleane, or el, because he was not purified.

27 But on the morowe which was the secōd day of the moneth, Dauids place was emptye againe: and Saúl said vnto Ionathán his sonne, Wherefore commeth not the sonne of Ishái to meat, nether yesterday nor so day?

28 And Ionathán answered vnto Saúl, Dauid required of me, that he might go to Beth-léhém.

29 For he said, Let me go, I pray thee: for our familie offreth <sup>m</sup> a sacrifice in the citie, and my brother hath sent for me: therefore now if I haue found fauour in thine eyes, let me go, I pray thee, & se my <sup>n</sup> brethrē: this is the cause that he cometh not vnto the Kings table.

30 Then was Saúl angry with Ionathán, & said vnto him, Thou <sup>o</sup> sonne of the wicked rebellious woman, do not I knowe, that thou hast chosē the sonne of Ishái to thy confusion and to the confusion and shame of thy mother?

31 For as long as the sonne of Ishái liueth vpon the earth, thou shalt not be stablished, nor thy kingdome: wherefore now send and fet him vnto me, for he shal surely dye.

32 And Ionathán answered vnto Saúl his father,

<sup>a</sup> Which was in the tribe of Iudáh and neere to Beth-léhem. David therefore departed thence, and saved him selfe in the caue <sup>a</sup> of Adullám: and when his brethren and all his fathers house heard it, they went downe thither to him.

<sup>Or, captain.</sup> 2 And there gathered vnto him all mé that were in trouble and all men that were in det, & all those that were vexed in minde, and he was their prince, and there were with him about foure hundred men.

<sup>b</sup> For there was another so called in Iudáh. 3 And David went thence to Mizpéh in Moáb, and said vnto the King of Moáb, I pray thee, let my father and my mother come and abide with you, til I knowe what God wil do for me.

<sup>c</sup> For he feared the rage of Saul against his house. <sup>d</sup> That is, in Mizpéh, which was a strong holde. 4 And he brought them before the King of Moáb, and they dwelt with him all the while that David kept him selfe in <sup>d</sup> the holde.

5 And the Prophet Gad said vnto David, Abide not in the holde, but departe & go into the lād of Iudáh. Thē David departed and came into the forest of Háréth.

<sup>e</sup> That a great brute went on him. 6 And Saúl heard that David was <sup>e</sup> discouraged, and the men that were with him, and Saúl remained in Gibeáh vnder a tre in Ramáh, hauing his speare in his hand, and all his men stode about him.

<sup>f</sup> Ye that are of my tribe & lineage. 7 And Saúl said vnto his seruánts that stode about him, Heare now, ye sonnes <sup>f</sup> of Iemini, wil the sonne of Ishái giue euerie one of you fields and vineyardes? wil he make you all captaines ouer thousands, & captaines ouer hundredes?

8 That all ye haue cōspired against me, and there is none that telleth me that my sonne hath made a couenant with <sup>g</sup> y sonne of Ishái? & there is none of you that is fory for me, or sheweth me, that my <sup>g</sup> sonne hath stirred vp my seruant to lye in wait against me as appeareth this day.

<sup>h</sup> Hereby he wolde perswade the y this cōspiracie was moste horrible, where the sonne conspired against the father, and the seruante against his master. 9 Thē answered Doeg the Edomite (who was appointed ouer the seruants of Saúl) an <sup>h</sup> said, I sawe the sonne of Ishái when he came to Nob, to Ahimélech the sonne of Ahitúb,

10 Who asked counsel of the Lord for him & gaue him vitails, and he gaue him also the sworde of Goliáth the Philistim.

<sup>i</sup> Which were the remnant of the house of Eli, whose house God threatened to punish. 11 Then the King sent to call Ahimélech the Priest the sonne of Ahitúb, and all his fathers house, <sup>i</sup> to wit, <sup>h</sup> the Priests that were in Nob: and they came all to the King.

12 And Saúl said, Heare now thou sonne of Ahitúb. And he answered, Here I am, my lord.

13 Then Saúl said vnto him, Why haue ye conspired against me, thou and the sonne of Ishái, in that thou hast giuen him vitaille, and a sworde, and hast asked counsel of God for him, that he shulde rise against me, & lye in waite as appeareth this day?

14 And Ahimélech answered the King, & said, Who is so faithfull among all thy seruánts as David, being also the Kings sonne in lawe, & goeth at thy commandement, and is honorable in thine house?

<sup>i</sup> Have I not other times al so, whē he had great affayres, consulted the Lord for him? 15 Haue I this day first begon to aske counsel of God for him? be it far frō me, let not the King impute any thing vnto his seruant, nor to all the house of my father: for thy seruant knewe nothing of all this, lesse nor more.

16 Then the King said, Thou shalt surely dye, Ahimélech, thou, and all thy fathers house.

<sup>Or, seruants.</sup> 17 And the King said vnto the <sup>Or, seruants.</sup> sergents that stode about him, Turne, & slaye the Priests of the Lord, because their hand also is with David, and because they knewe when he fled, and shewed it not to me. But the seruánts of the King <sup>k</sup> wolde not moue their hands to fall vpon the Priests of the Lord.

<sup>k</sup> For thei knewe y thei ought not to obey y wicked cōmandement of the King in slaying innocents. 18 Thē the King said to Doeg, Turne thou and fall vpon the Priests. And Doeg the Edomite turned, and ran vpon the Priests, and slewe that same day foure score and siue persones that did weare a linen Ephód.

19 Also Nob the citie of the Priests smote he with the edge of the sworde, bothe man and woman, bothe childe and suckling, bothe oxe and asse, and shepe with the edge of the sworde.

20 But one of the sonnes of Ahimélech the sonne of Ahitúb (whose name was Abiathár) <sup>l</sup> escaped and fled after David.

<sup>l</sup> This was Gods providence, who according to his promes preterued some of the house of Eli, Chap. xxi. 21 And Abiathár shewed David, that Saúl had slaine the Lords Priests.

22 And David said vnto Abiathár, I knewe it the same day, when Doeg the Edomite was there, that he wolde tel Saúl. I am the cause of the death of all the persones of thy fathers house.

Then they tolde David, saying, Beholde, the Philistims fight against Keilah, and spoyle the barnes.

<sup>o</sup> Which was a citie in the tribe of Iudáh, Iosh. 15. 44. 2 Therefore David asked counsel of <sup>o</sup> y Lord, saying, Shal I go and smite these Philistims? And the Lord answered David, Go and smite the Philistims, and saue Keilah.

<sup>p</sup> That is, in the middes of Iudáh, muche more whē we come to y betters against our enemies, 3 And Davids men said vnto him, Se, we be afraied here in <sup>p</sup> Iudáh, how muche more if we come to Keilah against the hoste of the the Philistims?

4 Then Dauid asked counsel of the Lord againe. And the Lord answered him, and said, Arise, go downe to Keilah: for I wil deliuer the Philistims into thine hand.

5 ¶ So Dauid and his men went to Keilah, and fought with the Philistims, and broght away theyr cattel, and smote them with a great slaughter: thus Dauid saued the inhabitants of Keilah.

6 (And whē Abiathār the sonne of Ahimélech * fled to Dauid to Keilah, he broght an Ephód * with him)

7 ¶ And it was tolde Saúl that Dauid was come to Keilah, and Saúl said, God hathe deliuered him into mine hand: for he is shut in, seing he is come into a citie that hathe gates and barres.

8 Thē Saúl called all the people together to warre, for to go downe to Keilah, and to besiege Dauid and his men.

9 ¶ And Dauid hauing knowledge that Saúl imagined mischief against him, said to Abiathār the Priest, Bring the Ephód.

10 Then said Dauid, O Lord God of Israël, thy seruant hathe heard, that Saúl is about to come to Keilah to destroy the citie for my sake.

11 Wil the lords of Keilah deliuer me vp into his hād: and wil Saúl come downe, as thy seruant hathe heard? O Lord God of Israël, I beseeche thee, tel thy seruant. And the Lord said, He wil come downe.

12 Thē said Dauid, Wil the lords of Keilah deliuer me vp and the men that are with me, into the hand of Saúl? And the Lord said, They wil deliuer thee vp.

13 ¶ Then Dauid and his men, which were about six hundreth, arose, and departed out of Keilah, and went whither they colde. And it was tolde Saúl, that Dauid was fled from Keilah, and he left of his iourney.

14 And Dauid abode in the wilderness in holdes, and remained in a mountaine in the wilderness of Ziph. And Saúl fought him euerie day, but God deliuered him not into his hand.

15 And Dauid sawe that Saúl was come out for to seke his life: & Dauid was in the wilderness of Ziph in the wood.

16 ¶ And Ionathán Sauls sonne arose and went to Dauid into the wood, and comforted him in God, 17 And said vnto him, Feare not: for the hād of Saúl my father shal not finde thee, and thou shalt be King ouer Israël, and I shal be next vnto thee: and also Saúl my father knoweth it.

18 So they twaine made a couenant before the Lord: and Dauid did remaine in the wood: but Ionathán went to his house.

19 ¶ Then came vp the Ziphims to Saúl to Gibeáh, sayig, Doeth not Dauid hide him selfe by vs in holdes, in the wood in the hil of Hachilah, which is on the right side of Ieshimon?

20 Now therefore O King, come downe according to all that thine heart can desire, & our parte shalbe to deliuer him into the Kings hands.

21 Then Saúl said, Be ye blessed of the Lord: for ye haue had compassion on me.

22 Go, I pray you, and prepare yet better: knowe and se his place where he hanteth, and who hathe sene him there: for it is said to me, He is subtil, and crafty.

23 Se therefore, and knowe all the secret places where he hideth him selfe, & come ye againe to me with the certentie, and I wil go with you: and if he be in the hland, I wil searche him out throughout all the thousands of Iudah.

24 Thē they arose and went to Ziph before Saúl, but Dauid and his men were in the wilderness of Maón, in the plaine on the right hand of Ieshimon.

25 Saúl also and his men went to seke him, and they tolde Dauid: wherefore he came downe vnto a rocke, and abode in the wilderness of Maón. And when Saúl heard that, he followed after Dauid in y wilderness of Maón.

26 And Saúl and his men went on the one side of the mountaine, and Dauid and his men on the other side of the mountaine: and Dauid made haste to get from the presence of Saúl: for Saúl and his men cō passed Dauid & his men round about, to take them.

27 But there came a messenger to Saúl, saying, Haste thee, and come: for the Philistims haue inuaded the land.

28 Wherefore Saúl returned from pursuing Dauid, and went against the Philistims. Therefore they called that place, Sela-hammálekoth.

1 And Dauid went thence, and dwelt in a holdes at En-gédi.

2 When Saúl was returned from the Philistims, they tolde him, saying, Beholde, Dauid is in the wilderness of En-gédi.

3 Then Saúl took three thousand chosen men out of all Israël, and went to seke Dauid and his men vpon the rockes among the wilde goates.

4 And he came to the shepecoates by the way where there was a caue and Saúl wēt in to do his easement: and Dauid and his men sate in the inward partes of the caue.

6 And afterward Dauid was touched in his heart, because he had cut of the lappe which was on Sauls garment.

7 And he said vnto his me, The Lord kepe me from doing that thing vnto my master the Lords Anointed, to lay mine hand vpon him: for he is the Anointed of the Lord.

8 So Dauid ouercame his seruants w these wordes, & suffred them not to arise against Saúl: so Saúl rose vp out of the caue & wet away.

9 ¶ Dauid also arose afterward, & went out of the caue, and cryed after Saúl, saying, O my Lord y King. And when Saúl looked behinde him, Dauid inclined his face to the earth, and bowed him selfe.

10 And Dauid said to Saúl, Wherefore giuest thou an eare to mes wordes, that say, Beholde, Dauid seketh euil against thee?

11 Beholde, this day thine eyes haue sene, that the Lord had deliuered thee this day into mine hand in the caue, and some bade me kil thee, but I had compassio on thee, and said, I wil not lay mine hand on my master: for he is the Lords Anointed.

12 Moreouer my father, beholde: beholde, I say, the lappe of thy garmēt in mine hand: for whē I cut of the lappe of thy garmēt, I killed thee not. Vnderstand and se, that there is nether euil nor wickednes in me, nether haue I sinned against thee, yet thou huntest after my soule to take it.

13 The Lord be iudge betwene thee & me, and the Lord auenge me of thee, and let not mine hand be vpon thee.

16 The Lord therefore be iudge, & iudge betwene thee and me, and se, and pleade my cause, and deliuer me out of thine hand.

17 When Dauid had made an end of speaking these wordes to Saúl, Saúl said, Is this thy voyce, my sonne Dauid? and Saúl lift vp his voyce, and wept, 18 And said to Dauid, Thou art more righteous then I: for thou hast rendred me good, and I haue rendred thee euil.

19 And thou hast shewed this day, that thou hast dealt wel with me: forasmuche as whē the Lord had closed me in thine hands, thou killedst me not.

20 For who shal finde his enemy, and let him departe? fre: wherefore the Lord rendre thee good for that thou hast done vnto me this day.

21 For now beholde, I knowe that y shalt be King, and that the kingdome of Israél shalbe stablished in thine hand.

22 Swear now therefore vnto me by the Lord, that y wilt not destroy my seede after me, and that thou wilt not abolish my name out of my fathers house.

23 So Dauid sware vnto Saúl, and Saúl wet home: but Dauid and his men went vp vnto the holde.

CHAP. XXV.

1 Samuél dyeth. 3 Nabál & Abigáil. 38 The Lord killeth Nabál. 43 Abigáil & Ahimeam Dauids wines. 44 Michal is giuen to Phaltí.

1 ¶ Then Samuél dyed, and all Israél assembled, and mourned for him, & buried him in his owne house at Ramáh. And Dauid arose and went downe to the wildernes of Parán.

2 Now in Maón was a man, who had his possession in Carmél, and the man was exceding mighty and had thre thousand shepe, and a thousand goates: and he was shering his shepe in Carmél.

3 The name also of the man was Nabál, & the name of his wife Abigáil, and she was a woman of singular wisdom, and beautiful, but the man was churlish, and euil conditioned, and was of the familie of Caléb.

4 And Dauid heard in the wildernes, that Nabál did shere his shepe.

5 Therefore Dauid sent ten yong men, & Dauid said vnto the yong men, Go vp to Carmél, and go to Nabál, and aske him in my name how he doeth.

6 And thus shal ye say for salutation, Bothe y, and thine house, and all that thou hast, be in peace, welth, and prosperitie.

7 Beholde, I haue heard, that thou hast shepers: now thy shepherds were with vs, and we did them no hurt, nether did they misse anie thing all the while they were in Carmél.

8 Aske thy seruants & they wil shewe thee. Wherefore let these yōg mē finde sauour in thine eyes: (for we come in a good season) giue, I praye thee, whatsoever cometh to thine hand vnto thy seruants, & to thy sonne Dauid.

9 ¶ And when Dauids yong men came, they tolde Nabál all those wordes in the name of Dauid, and helde their peace.

10 Then Nabál answered Dauids seruants, and said, Who is Dauid? and who is the sonne of Ishái? there is manie seruants now a dayes, that breake awaye euery mā from his master.

11 Shal

11 Shal I then take my bread, & my water, & my flesh that I haue killed for my she-rers, and giue it vnto mé, whome I knowe not whence thei be?

12 ¶ So Dauids seruants turned their way, and went againe, and came, and tolde him all those things.

13 And Dauid said vnto his men, Girde euery man his sworde about him. And they girded euery man his sworde: Dauid also girded his sworde. And about foure hundred men went vp after Dauid, and two hundred abode by the "cariage".

14 Now one of the seruants tolde Abigáil Nabals wife, saying, Beholde, Dauid sent messengers out of the wildernes to salute our master, and he "rayled" on them.

15 Notwithstanding the men were very good "vnto vs", and we had no displeasure, nether missed we any thing as long as we were conuersant with them, when we were in the fields.

16 Thei were as a wall vnto vs bothe by night and by day, all the while we were with them keeping shepe.

17 Now therefore take hede, and se what thou shalt do: for euil "wil" surely come vpon our master, and vpon all his familie: for he is so wicked "y a man can not speake to him."

18 ¶ Then Abigáil made haste, and toke two hundred "cakes", and two bottles of wine, and fíue shepe ready dressed, & fíue measures of parched corne, and an hundred "frailes" of raisins, and two hundred of figges, and laded them on asses.

19 Then she said vnto her seruants, Go ye before me: beholde, I wil come after you: yet she tolde "not" her housband Nabál.

20 And as she rode on her asse, she came downe by a secret place of the mountaine, and beholde, Dauid and his men came downe against her, and she met them.

21 And Dauid said, In dede I haue kept all in vaine that this fellowe had in the wildernes, so that nothing was missed of all that pertained vnto him: for he hathe requited me euil for good.

22 So and more also do God vnto the enemies of Dauid: for surely I wil not leaue of all that he hathe, by the dawning of the day, any that "pisseth" against the wall.

23 And when Abigáil sawe Dauid, she hastened and lighted of her asse, & fel before Dauid on her face, and bowed her selfe to the grounde, 24 And fel at his fete, & said, Oh, my lord, I haue committed the iniquitie, and I pray thee, let thine handmaid speake "to thee", & heare thou the wordes of thine hádmayd.

25 Let not my lord, I pray thee, regarde this wicked man Nabál: for as his name is, so is he: "Nabál" is his name, and folly is with him: but I thine handmayd sawe not the yong men of my lord whome "y" sentest.

26 Now therefore my lord, as the Lord liueth, and as thy soule liueth (the Lord, I say, that hathe withholdē thee from coming to shed blood, and that "thine hand shulde not saue thee") so now thine enemies shalbe as Nabál, and thei that intende to do my lord euil.

27 And now, this "blesing" which thine handmayd hathe brought vnto my lord, let it be giuen vnto the yongmē, that "fol-lowe" my lord.

28 I pray thee, forgiue the trespassse of thine handmayd: for the Lord wil make my lord a "sure" house, because my lord fighteth the battels of the lord and none euil hathe bene founde in thee "in all thy life."

29 Yet "a man" hathe risen vp to persecute thee, and to seke thy soule, but the soule of my lord shalbe bounde in the "bundel" of life with the Lord thy God: and the soule of thine enemies shal God cast out, as out of the middle of a sling.

30 And when the Lord shal haue done to my lord all the good that he hathe promised thee, and shal haue made thee ruler ouer I Israél, 31 Then shal it be no grief vnto thee, nor offence of mynde vnto my lord, that he hathe not shed blood causes, nor that my lord hathe "not" preserued him selfe: & whē the Lord shal haue dealt wel with my lord, remember thine handmayd.

32 Then Dauid said to Abigáil, Blessed be the Lord God of I Israél, which sent thee this day to mere me.

33 And blessed be thy counsel, and blessed be thou, which haste kept me this day frō coming to shed blood, "and" that mine "hand" hathe not saued me.

34 For in dede, as the Lord God of I Israél liueth, "who" hathe kept me backe from hurting thee, except thou haddest hastened and met me, surely there had not bene left vnto Nabál by the dawning of the day, any that pisseth against the wall.

35 Then Dauid receiued of her hand that which she had brought him, & said to her, Go vp in peace to thine house: beholde, I haue heard thy voyce, and haue "granted" thy petition.

36 ¶ So Abigáil came to Nabál, & beholde, he made a feast in his house, like the feast of a King, and Nabals heart was mery within him, for he was very drōken: wherefore she tolde him "nothing", nether lesse nor more, vntil the morning arose.

37 Then in the morning when the wine was gone out of Nabál, his wife tolde him those wordes, & his heart dyed within him, and he was like a stone.

CHAP. XXVI.

Dauid was discouered vnto Saúl by the Ziphims. 12 Dauid taketh away Sauls speare, and a pot of water that stode at his head. 21 Saúl cōfesseth his sinne.

1 A Gaine the Ziphims came vnto Saúl to Gibeáh, saying, * Doeth not Dauid hide him selfe in the hil of Hachiláh before Ieshimón?

2 Then Saúl arose, and went downe to the wilderness of Ziph, hauing thre thousand chosen men of Israél with him, for to seke Dauid in the wilderness of Ziph.

3 And Saúl pitched in the hil of Hachiláh, which is before Ieshimón by the waye side. Now Dauid abode in the wilderness, and he sawe that Saúl came after him into the wilderness.

4 (For Dauid had sent out spies, & vnderstode, that Saúl was come in very dede)

5 Then Dauid arose, and came to the place where Saúl had pitched, and when Dauid beheld the place where Saúl lay, & Abnér the sonne of Ner which was his chief captain, (for Saúl lay in the forte, and the people pitched round about him)

6 Then spake Dauid, & said to Ahimélech the Hittite, and to Abishái the sonne of Zeruiáh, brother to Ioáb, saying, Who wil go downe with me to Saúl to the hoste? Then Abishái said, I wil go downe with thee.

7 So Dauid & Abishái came downe to the people by night: and beholde, Saúl laye sleping within the forte, & his speare did sticke in the grounde at his head: and Abnér and the people lay round about him.

8 ¶ Thé said Abishái to Dauid, God hath closed thineemie into thine hand this day: now therefore, I pray thee, let me smite him once with a speare to y earth, and I wil not smite him againe.

9 And Dauid said to Abishái, Destroye him not: for who can lay his hand on the Lords anointed, and be gilty?

10 Moreover Dauid said, As the Lord liueth, ether the Lord shal smite him, or his day shal come to dye, or he shal descende into battel, and perish.

11 The Lord kepe me from laying mine hand vpo the Lords anointed: but, I pray thee, take now the speare that is at his head, and the pot of water, and let vs go hence.

12 So Dauid toke the speare and the pot of water from Sauls head, & thei gate them away, and no man sawe it, nor marked it, nether did any awake, but thei were all asleepe: for the Lord had sent a dead slepe vpon them.

13 Then Dauid went into the other side, & stode on y toppe of an hil a far of, a great space being betwene them.

14 And Dauid cryed to the people, and to Abnér the sonne of Ner, saying, Hearest thou not Abnér? Then Abnér answered, and said, Who art thou that cryest to the King?

15 ¶ And Dauid said to Abnér, Art not y a man? and who is like thee in Israél? wherefore then hast thou not kept thy lord the King? for there came one of the folke in to destroye the King thy lord.

16 This is not wel done of thee: as the Lord liueth, ye are worthy to dye, because ye haue not kept your master the Lords Anointed: and now se where the Kings speare is, and the pot of water that was at his head.

17 And Saúl knewe Dauids voyce, & said, Is this thy voyce, & my sonne Dauid? And Dauid said, It is my voyce, my lord O King.

18 And he said, Wherefore doeth my lord thus persecute his seruant? for what haue I done? or what euil is in mine hand?

21 Now therefore let not my blood fall to the earth before the face of the Lord: for the King of Israél is come out to seke a flye, as one wolde hunt a partriche in the mountaines.

21 Then said Saül, I haue sinned: come againe, my sonne Dauid: for I wil do thee nomore harme, because my soule was precious in thine eyes this day: beholde, I haue done foolishly, and haue erred exceedingly.

22 Then Dauid answered, & said, Beholde the Kings speare, let one of the yong me come ouer and fet it.

23 And let the Lord rewarde euerie man according to his righteousnes & faithfulness: for the Lord had deliuered thee into mine hãds this daie, but I wolde not lay mine hand vpon the Lords anointed.

24 And beholde, like as thy life was muche set by this day in mine eyes: so let my life be set by in the eyes of the Lord, that he may deliuer me out of all tribulacion.

25 Then Saül said to Dauid, Blessed art thou, my sonne Dauid: for thou shalt do great things, and also preuaile. So Dauid went his way, and Saül returned to his place.

CHAP. XXVII.

2 Dauid fleeth to Achish King of Gath, who giueth him Ziklag. 3 Dauid destroyeth certeine of the Philistims. 10 Achish is decryed by Dauid.

1 And Dauid said in his heart, I shal now <sup>a</sup> perish one day by the hand of Saül: is it not better for me that I saue my selfe in the land of the Philistims, and that Saül may haue no hope of me to sike me anie more in all the coastes of Israël, and so escape out of his hand?

2 Dauid therefore arose, and he, and the six hundreth men that were with him, wēt vnto Achish the sonne of Maôch King of Gath.

3 And Dauid <sup>b</sup> dwelt with Achish at Gath, he, and his men, euerie man with his household, Dauid with his two wiues, Abinôam the Izreelite, and Abigail Nabals wife the Carmelite.

4 And it was tolde Saül that Dauid was fled to Gath: so he sought nomore for him.

5 And Dauid said vnto Achish, If I haue now founde grace in thine eyes, let them giue me a place in some <sup>c</sup> other citie of the countrey, that I may dwel there: for why shulde thy seruant dwel in the head citie of the kingdome with thee?

6 Then Achish gaue him Ziklag that same day: therefore Ziklag pertaineth vnto the Kings of Iudah vnto this day.

7 And the time that Dauid dwelt in the countrey of the Philistims, was foure moneths and certeine dayes.

8 Then Dauid and his men went vp, and inuaded the <sup>d</sup> Geshurites, and the Girzites and the Amalekites: for they inhabited the land from the beginning, from the way, as thou goest to Shur, euen vnto the land of Egypt.

9 And Dauid smote the land, & left nether man nor woman aliue, and toke shepe, & oxen, and asses, and camels, and apparel, and returned and came to Achish.

10 And Achish said, Where haue ye bene a rousing this day? And Dauid answered, Against the Southe of Iudah, and against <sup>e</sup> the Southe of the Ierameelites, & against the Southe of the Kenites.

11 And Dauid saued nether man nor woman aliue, to bring them to Gath, saying, Lest they shulde tel on vs, and say, So did Dauid, and so wil be his maner all the while that he dwelleth in the countrey of the Philistims.

12 And Achish beleued Dauid, saying, He hath made his people of Israël utterly to abhorre him: therefore he shal be my seruant for euer.

CHAP. XXVIII.

2 Dauid hathe the chief charge promised about Achish. 3 Saül consulteth with a witche, and she causeth him to speake with Samuël. 12 Who declareth his rusne.

1 Now at that time the Philistims assembled their bandes and armie to fight with Israël: therefore Achish said to Dauid, Be sure, thou shalt go out with me to the battel, thou, and thy men.

2 And Dauid said to Achish, Surely thou shalt knowe what thy seruant can do. And Achish said to Dauid, Surely I wil make thee keeper of mine head for euer.

3 (Samuël was then dead, and all Israël had lamented him, and buryed him in Ramah his owne citie: and Saül had <sup>b</sup> put away the forcerers, and the sothesayers out of the land.)

4 Then the Philistims assembled themselves, and came, and pitched in Shunem: and Saül assembled all Israël, & they pitched in Gilboa.

5 And when Saül sawe the hoste of the Philistims, he was afrayed, and his heart was fore astonied.

6 Therefore Saül asked counsel of <sup>c</sup> the Lord, & the Lord answered him not, nether by dreames, nor by <sup>c</sup> Vrim, nor yet by Prophetes.

7 Then said Saül vnto his seruants, Seke me a woman that hathe a familiar spirit, that I may go to her, and aske of her. And his seruants said to him, Beholde, there is a woman at Endor that hathe a familiar spirit.

8 Then Saül <sup>d</sup> changed him selfe, and put on other raiment, and he went, and two me with him, and they came to the woman by night: and he said, I pray thee, coniecture vnto me by the familiar spirit, and bring me him vp whome I shal name vnto thee.

11 Then said the womã, Whome shal I bring vp vnto thee? And he answered, Bring me vp * Samuél.

12 And when the woman sawe Samuél, she cryed with a loude voyce, and the woman spake to Saúl, saying, Why hast thou deceiued me? for thou art Saúl.

13 And the King said vnto her, Be not afrayed: for what sawest thou? And the woman said vnto Saúl, I sawe gods ascẽding vp out of the earth.

14 Then he said vnto her, What facion is he of? And she answered, An olde man cometh vp lapped in a mantel: and Saúl knewe that it was * Samuél, and he enclined his face to the ground, & bowed him selfe.

15 ¶ And Samuél said to Saúl, Why hast thou disquieted me, to bring me vp? Then Saúl answered, I am in great distresse: for the Philistims make warre against me, & God is departed frõ me, and answereth me no more, nether by Prophetes nether by dreames: therefore I haue called thee, that thou mayest tel me, what I shal do.

19 Moreover the Lord wil deliuer Israël with thee into the hãds of the Philistims: and tomorrow shalt thou and thy sonnes be with me, & the Lord shal giue the hoste of Israël into the hands of the Philistims.

20 Then Saúl fel streyght way all along on the earth, and was sore afrayed because of the wordes of Samuél, so that there was no strength in him: for he had eaten no bread all the day nor all the night.

21 Then the woman came vnto Saúl, and sawe that he was sore troubled, and said vnto him, Se, thine handmayd hathe obeyed thy voyce, & I * haue put my soule in mine hand, and haue obeyed thy wordes which thou saidest vnto me.

22 Now therefore, I pray thee, hearken thou also vnto the voyce of thine handmaid, and let me set a morsel of bread before thee, that thou mayest eat & get thee strength, and go on thy iourney.

23 But he refused, and said, I wil not eat: but his seruants and the woman together cõpelled him, & he obeyed their voyce: so he arose from the earth, and sate on the bed.

24 Now the woman had a fat calfe in the house, and she hasted, and killed it, and toke floure and kneaded it, and baked of it vnleauened bread.

25 Then she broght them before Saúl, and before his seruants: and when they had eaten, they stode vp, and went away the same night.

CHAP. XXIX.

4 The princes of the Philistims cause Dauid to be sent backe from the battel against Israël, because they distrust him.

1 SO the Philistims were gathered together with all their armies in Aphék: & the Israelites pitched by the founteine, which is in Izreél.

2 And the princes of the Philistims went forth by * hundreths and thousands, but Dauid and his men came behinde with Achish.

3 Then said the princes of the Philistims, What do these Ebrewes here? And Achish said vnto the princes of the Philistims, Is not this Dauid y seruant of Saúl the King of Israël, who hathe bene with me these dayes, or these yeres, and I haue founde nothing in him, since he dwelt with me vnto this day?

4 But the princes of the Philistims were wrothe with him, & the princes of the Philistims said vnto him, * Send this fellowe backe, that he may go againe to his place which thou hast appointed him, & let him not go downe with vs to battel, lest that in the battel he be an aduersarie to vs: for wherewith shulde he obtaine the fauour of his master? shulde it not be with the heads of these men?

5 Is not this Dauid, of whome they sang in dances, saying, * Saúl slewe his thousand, and Dauid his ten thousand?

6 ¶ The Achish called Dauid, & said vnto him, As the Lord liueth, thou hast bene vpright and good in my sight, when thou wentest out and in with me in the hoste, nether haue I founde euil with thee, since y camest to me vnto this daye, but the princes do not fauour thee.

7 Wherefore now returne, and go in peace, that thou displease not the princes of the Philistims.

8 ¶ And Dauid said vnto Achish, But what haue I done? and what hast thou founde in thy seruant as long as I haue bene with thee vnto this day, that I may not go & fight against the enemies of my lord the King?

CHAP. XXX.

1 The Amalekites burne Ziklág. 5 Dauids two wiues are taken prisoners. 6 The people woulde stone him. 8 He asketh counsel of the Lord and pursuing his enemies recovereth the praye. 24 He deuidenth is equally. 26 And sendeth parte to his friends.

12 BUt when Dauid and his men were come to Ziklág a the third day, the Amalekites had inuaded vpon the South, euen vnto Ziklág, and had b smitten Ziklág, and burnt it with fire, 13 And had taken the women that were therein prisoners, bothe small and great, and slewe not a man, but caryed them away, and went their wayes.

14 So Dauid and his men came to the citie, and beholde, it was burnt with fire, and their c wiues, and their sonnes, and their daughters were taken prisoners.

15 Then Dauid & the people that was with him, lift vp their voyces and wept, vntil they colde wepe nomore.

16 Dauids two wiues were taken prisoners also, Ahinóam the Izreelite, and Abigáil the wife of Nabál the Carmelite.

17 And Dauid was in great sorowe: for the people d entended to stone him, because the heartes of all the people were vexed euerie mā for his sonnes and for his daughters: but Dauid comforted him selfe in the Lord his God.

18 And Dauid said to Abiathár the Priest Ahimelechs sonne, I pray thee, bring me the Ephód. And Abiathár broght the Ephód to Dauid.

19 Then Dauid asked counsel at the Lord, saying, Shal I followe after this companie? shal I ouertake them? And he answered him, Followe: for thou shalt surely ouertake them, and e recouer all.

20 So Dauid and the six hundredth mé that were with him, wét, and came to the riuer Besór, where a parte of them abode:

21 But Dauid and foure hundredth men followed (for two hundredth abode behinde, being to wearye to go ouer y<sup>e</sup> riuer Besór)

22 And they founde an Egyptiá in the field, and broght him to Dauid, and gaue him f bread and he did eat, and they gaue him water to drinke.

23 Also they gaue him a fewe figs, and two clusters of raisins: and when he had eaten, his spirit came againe to him: for he had eaten no bread, nor dronke anie water in three dayes, and three nights.

24 And Dauid said vnto him, To whome belongest thou? and whence art thou? And he said, I am a yong má of Egypt, and seruuant to an Amalekite: and my master leste me thre daies ago, because I fellicke.

25 We roused vpon the South of Chéreth, & vpon the coast belonging to Iudáh, and vpon the South of Caléb, and we burnt Ziklág with fire.

26 And Dauid said vnto him, Canst thou bring me to this companie? And he said, g Swear vnto me by God, that thou wilt nether kil me, nor deliuer me into the hands of my master, and I wil bring thee to this companie.

27 And when he had broght him thither, beholde, they lay scatered abroad vpon all the earth, h eating and drinking, & dancing, because of all y<sup>e</sup> great pray that thei had taken out of the land of y<sup>e</sup> Philistims, and out of the land of Iudáh.

28 And Dauid smote them from the twilight, euen vnto the euening i of the next morowe, so that there escaped not a man of them, saue foure hundredth yong men, which rode vpon camels, and fled.

29 And Dauid recouered all that y<sup>e</sup> Amalekites had takē: also Dauid rescued his two wiues.

30 And thei lacked nothing, small or great, sonne or daughter, or of the spoyle of all that they had taken away: Dauid recouered them all.

31 Dauid also toke all the shepe, and the oxē, & they draue them before his cattel, and said, This is Dauids k praye.

32 And Dauid came to the two hundredth mé that were to wearie for to followe Dauid: whome they had made also to abide at the riuer Besór: and they came to mete Dauid, and to mete the people that were with him: so when Dauid came nere to the people, he saluted them.

33 Then answered all the euil and wicked of the mé that went with Dauid, and said, Because they went not with vs, therefore wil we giue them none of the praye, that we haue recouered, saue to euerie man his l wife and his children: therefore let them cary them away and departe.

34 Then said Dauid, Ye shal not do so, my brethren, with that which the Lord hathe giuen vs, who hathe preferued vs, and deliuered the companie that came against vs, into our handes.

35 For who wil obey you in this matter? but as his parte is that goeth downe to the battel, so shal his parte be, that tarieth by the stuffe: they shal partē alike.

36 So from that day forward hee made it a statute and a lawe in Israél, vntil this day.

m Some referre these wordes to Dauid, that hee fledged an olde custome & law, as if it were writ. It is bothe now and hath bene euer.

26 ¶ When Dauid therefore came to Ziklag, he sent of the pray vnto the Elders of Iudah & to his friends, saying, Se, there is a blessing for you of the spoyle of the enemies of the Lord.

27 He sent to them of Beth-él, and to them of South Ramóth, and to them of Iattír, 28 And to them of Aroér, and to them of Siphmóth, and to them of Eshtemóa, 29 And to them of Rachál, and to them of the cities of the Ierahmeelites, and to the cities of the Kenites,

THE SECONDE BOKE of Samuél.

THE ARGUMENT.

THIS boke and the former beare the title of Samuel, because they conteine the conception, natiuitie and the whole course of his life, and also the lines and actes of two Kings, to wit, of Saúl and Dauid, whome he anointed and consecrated Kings by the ordinance of God. And as the first boke conteineth those things, which God broght to passe among this people vnder the gouernement of Samuel and Saúl: so this seconde boke declareth the noble actes of Dauid, after the death of Saúl, when he began to reigne, vnto the end of his kingdome: and how the same by him was wonderfully augmented: also his great troubles & dangers, which he susteined bothe within his house and without: what horrible & dangerous insurrections, vprores, & treasons were wrought against him, partely by false counselors, fained friends & flatterers, and partely by some of his owne children and people: and how by Gods assistance he ouercame all difficulties, and enjoyed his kingdome in rest and peace. In the persone of Dauid, the Scripture seeth forth the Christ Iesus the chief King, who came of Dauid according to the flesh, and was persecuted on euery side without ward and inward enemies, as wel in his owne persone, as in his members, but at length he ouercometh all his enemies and giueth his Church victorie against all power bothe spiritual & temporal: and so reigneth with them, King for euermore.

f Psal. 107, 27.

After the death of Saúl, when Dauid was returned from the slaughter of the Amalekites and had bene two dayes in Ziklág, Beholde, a man came the third day out of the hoste from Saúl with his clothes rét, and earth vpon his head: & when he came to Dauid, he fel to the earth, and did obeisance.

Then Dauid said vnto him, Whence comest thou? And he said vnto him, Out of the hoste of Israël I am escaped.

And Dauid said vnto him, What is done? I pray thee, tel me. Thē he said, y the people is fled from the battel, and many of y people are ouerthrowen, and dead, and also Saúl and Ionathán his sonne are dead.

And Dauid said vnto the yong man, that tolde it him, How knowest thou that Saúl and Ionathán his sonne be dead?

Then the yong man that tolde him, answered, b As I came to mount Gilbóa, beholde, Saúl leaned vpon his speare. and lo, the charrets and horsemen followed hard after him.

And whē he loked backe, he sawe me, and called me. And I answered, Here am I.

And he said vnto me, Who art thou? And I answered him, I am an c Amalekite.

Then said he vnto me, I pray thee, come vpon me, and slaye me: for anguish is come vpon me, because my d life is yet whole in me.

So e I came vpon him, and slewe him, & because I was sure that he colde not liue, after that he had fallen, I toke the crowne that was vpon his head, and the bracelet that was on his arme, and brought thē hither vnto my lord.

Then Dauid toke holde on his clothes, & rent them, and likewise all the men that were with him.

And they mourned and wept, and fasted vntil euen, for Saúl and for Ionathán his sonne, and for the people of the Lord, and for the house of Israël, because they were slaine with the sworde.

f Afterward Dauid said vnto the yong man that tolde it him, Whence art thou? And he answered, I am the sonne of a stranger an Amalekite.

And Dauid said vnto him, * How wast thou not afraied, to put forth the thine hand to destroy the Anoynted of the Lord?

Then Dauid called one of his yong mē, & said, Go nere, and fall vpō him. And he smote him that he dyed.

16 Thē said Dauid vnto him, f Thy blood be vpon thine owne head: for thine owne mouth hath testified agāst thee, saying, I haue slaine the Lords Anoynted.

17 Then Dauid mourned with this lamentation ouer Saúl, and ouer Ionathán his sonne, 18 (Also he bade them teache the children of Iudá to shoote, as it is written in y boke of * Iasher)

19 O noble Israël, h he is slaine vpon thy hie places: how are the mighty ouerthrowen?

20 * Tel it not in Gath, nor publish it in the stretes of Ashkelón, lest the daughters of the Philistims reioyce, lest the daughters of the vncircumcised triumphe.

21 Ye mountaines of Gilbóa, vpon you be nether dewe nor raine, nor i be there fields of offrings: for there the shield of the mightie is cast downe, the shield of Saúl, as though he had not bene anoynted with oyle.

22 The bowe of Ionathán neuer turned backe, nether did the sworde of Saúl retorne empty from the blood of the slaine, and from the fat of the mighty.

23 Saúl and Ionathán were louely and pleasant in their liues, and in their deathes they were not k deuided: they were swifter the negles, they were strōge then lions.

24 Ye daughters of Israël; wepe for Saúl, which clothed you in skarlet, l with pleasures, and hanged ornaments of golde vpon your apparel.

25 How were the mighty slaine in the middes of the battel? o Ionathán, thou wast slaine in thine hie places.

26 Wo is me for thee, my brother Ionathán: very kinde hast thou bene vnto me: thy loue to me was wonderful, passing y loue of m women: how are the mighty ouerthrowen, and the weapons of warre destroyed?

After this Dauid asked counsel of the Lord, saying, Shal I go vp into anie of the citiēs of Iudá? And the Lord said vnto him, Go vp. And Dauid said, Whither shal I go? He thē answered, Vnto b Hebrón.

2 So Dauid went vp thither & his two wiues also, Ahinóam the Izreelite, and Abigail Nabals wife the Carmelite.

4 ¶ Then the men of Iudáh came, and there they anointed Dauid King ouer the house of Iudáh. And they tolde Dauid, saying, <sup>2 Sam. 37. 12.</sup> that the men of Iabésh Gileád buried Saúl.

5 And Dauid sent messengers vnto the me of Iabésh Gileád, & said vnto them, Bles- sed are ye of y Lord, that ye haue shewed suche kindenes vnto your lord Saúl, that you haue buried him.

6 Therefore now the Lord shewe mercie and <sup>d</sup>trueth vnto you: and I wil recom- pence you this benefite, because ye haue done this thing.

7 Therefore now let your hands be strög, and be you valiant: albeit your master Sa- ül be dead, yet neuertheless the house of Iudáh hathe anointed me <sup>e</sup> King ouer them.

8 ¶ But Abnér the sonne of Ner that was captaine of Sauls hoste, toke Ish-bósheth the sonne of Saúl, and broght him to Ma- hanáim, 9 And made him King ouer Gileád, and ouer the Ashurites, and ouer Izreél, and ouer Ephráim, and ouer Benjamin, and ouer <sup>f</sup>all Israél.

10 Ish-bósheth Sauls sonne was fourty yere olde when he began to reigne ouer Israél, and reigned two yere: but the house of Iudáh followed Dauid.

11 (And the time which Dauid reigned in Hebrón ouer the house of Iudáh, was seue yere and six monethes)

12 ¶ And Abnér the sonne of Ner, and the seruants of Ish-bósheth the sonne of Saúl went out of Mahanáim to Gibeón.

13 And Ioáb the sonne of Zeruiáh, and the seruants of Dauid went out and met one an other by the poole of Gibeón: and they sate downe, the one on the one side of the poole, and the other on the other side of the poole.

14 Then Abnér said to Ioáb, Let the yong men now arise, and <sup>h</sup> playe before vs. And Ioáb said, Let them arise.

15 Then there arose and went ouer twelue of Beniamín by number, which pertained to Ish-bósheth the sonne of Saúl, and twelue of the seruants of Dauid.

16 And euerie one caught <sup>i</sup> his fellowe by the head, & thrust his sworde in his fel- lowes side, so they fel downe together: wherefore the place was called <sup>j</sup> Helkath- hazzurim which is in Gibeón.

17 And the battel was exceeding sore that same day: for Abnér and the men of Israél <sup>k</sup> fel before the seruants of Dauid.

18 And there were thre sonnes of Zeruiáh there, Ioáb, and Abishái, and Afahél. And Afahél was as light on foote as a wilde- roc.

19 And Afahél followed after Abnér, & in going he turned nether to the right hand nor to the left from Abnér.

20 Then Abnér loked behinde him, & said, Art thou Afahél? And he answered, Yea.

21 Then Abnér said, Turne thee ether to y right hand or to the left, and take one of the yong men, and take thee his <sup>l</sup> weapons: but Afahél wolde not departe from him.

22 And Abnér said to Afahél, Departe frö me: <sup>m</sup> wherefore shulde I smite thee to the groude? how thē shulde I be able to holde vp my face to Ioáb thy brother?

23 And when he wolde not departe, Abnér with the hindre end of the speare smote him vnder the <sup>n</sup> fift rib, <sup>o</sup> that the speare came out behinde him: and he fel downe there, and dyed in his place. And as manie as came to the place where Afahél fel downe and dyed, stode stil.

24 Ioáb also and Abisháipursued after Ab- nér: and the sunne went downe, when they were come to y hil Ammáh, that lieth be- fore Gíah, by the way of the wildeynes of Gibeón.

25 And the children of Beniamín gathered them selues together after Abnér, & we- re on an heape and stode on the top of an hil.

26 Then Abnér called to Ioáb, and said, Shal the <sup>p</sup> sworde deuoure for euer? know- est thou not, that it wil be bitternes in the latter end? how long thē shal it be, or thou bid the people retorne frö following their brethren?

27 And Ioáb said, As God liueth, if thou haddest not <sup>q</sup> spoken, surely euen in the morning the people had departed euerie one backe from his brother.

28 ¶ So Ioáb blewe a trumpeter, and all the people stode stil, and pursued after Israél nomore, nether foght they anie more.

29 And Abnér and his men walked all that night through the <sup>r</sup> plaine, & wēt ouer Ior- den, & palt through all Bithrón til they came <sup>s</sup> to Mahanáim.

30 Ioáb also returned backe from Abnér: & whē he had gathered all the people toge- ther, there lacked of Dauids seruants ni- netene men and Afahél.

31 But the seruats of Dauid had smitten of Beniamín, and of Abners men, <sup>t</sup> so that thre hundred and thre score men dyed.

32 And they toke vp Afahél, and buried hi in the sepulchre of his father, which was in Beth-léhem: and Ioáb and his men wēt all night, and <sup>u</sup> when they came to Hebrón, the daie arose.

CHAP. III.

1 Long warre betwene the houses of Saúl and Dauid. 2 The children of Dauid in Hebrón 3 Abnér turneth to Dauid. 4 Ioáb killeth him.

Thar is, with our intermissi- induring two yeres, which was the whole reigne of Ish- bosheth.

Dauid: but Dauid waxed stronger, & the house of Saúl waxed weaker.

2 ¶ And vnto Dauid were children borne in Hebrón: and his eldest sonne was Amnon of Ahinóam the Izreelite, b Who is called also Dani-el. Chro 3.3.

3 And his secóde, was<sup>b</sup> Chileáb of Abigáil the wife of Nabál the Carmelite: and the third, Absalóm the sonne of Maacáh the daughter of Talmái the King of Geshúr,

4 And the fourth, Adonijáh the sonne of Aggith, and the fifth, Shephaciáh the sonne of Abital, c Within seuerall yeres and six moneths.

5 And the sixt, Ithreám by Egláh Dauids wife: these were borne to Dauid in Hebrón.

6 ¶ Now while there was warre betwene the house of Saúl and the house of Dauid, Abnér made all his power for y<sup>e</sup> house of Saúl.

7 And Saúl had a concubine named Rizpáh, the daughter of Aiiáh. And Ish-bósheth said to Abner, Wherefore hast thou gone in to my fathers concubine?

d Beest thou esteem me more then a dog, for all my seruice done to thy fathers house?

8 Thē was Abnér very wrothe for the wordes of Ish-bósheth, & said, Am I a<sup>d</sup> dogs head, which against Iudáh do shewe mercy this day vnto the house of Saúl thy father, to his brethren, & to his neighbours, and haue not deliuered thee into the hand of Dauid, that thou chargest me this day with a fault concerning this woman?

e We se how the wicked can not abide to be admonished of their fautes, but like their displeasure, & go about to bring them from their wickednes.

9 ¶ So do God to Abnér, and more also, except, as the Lord hathe sworne to Dauid, euen so I do to him,

10 To remoue the kingdome from the house of Saúl, that the throne of Dauid may be stablished ouer Israél, and ouer Iudáh, euen from Dan to Beer-sheba.

11 And he durst nomore answer to Abnér: for he feared him.

f Surely.

12 ¶ Then Abnér sent messengers to Dauid<sup>f</sup> on his behalfe, saying, Whose is the land? Who shulde also say, Make couenant with me, & beholde, mine hand shalbe with thee, to bring all Israél vnto thee.

13 Who said, Wel, I wil make a couenant with thee: but one thing I require of thee, that is, that y<sup>e</sup> se not my face except thou bring Michál Sauls daughter when thou comest to se me.

1. Sam. 18. 27.

14 ¶ Then Dauid sent messengers to Ish-bósheth Sauls sonne, saying, Deliuer me my wife Michál, which I married for* an hundred foreskinnes of the Philistims.

1. Sam. 23. 44.

15 And Ish-bósheth sent, and toke her from her housbād* Phaltiel the sonne of Láish.

16 And her housband went with her, and came weping behinde her, vnto Bahurím: then said Abnér vnto him, Go, & returne. So he returned.

g Rather for malice that he bare towards Ish-bósheth, then for loue he bare to Dauid.

17 ¶ And Abnér had<sup>g</sup> comunicaciō with the Elders of Israél, saying, Ye fought for Dauid in times past, that he might be your King.

18 Now then do it: for the Lord hathe spoken of Dauid, saying, By the hand of my seruant Dauid I wil saue my people Israél out of the hands of the Philistims, and out of the hands of all their enemies.

19 Also Abnér spake<sup>h</sup> to Beniamín, and afterwarde Abnér went to speake with Dauid in Hebrón, concerning all that Israél was content with, and the whole house of Beniamín.

i Who challenged the kingdome, because of their fathers Saúl.

20 So Abnér came to Dauid to Hebrón, hauing twenty men with him, and Dauid made a feast vnto Abnér, and to the men that were with him.

21 Then Abnér said vnto Dauid, I wil rise vp, and go gather all Israél vnto my lord y<sup>e</sup> King, that they may make a couenāt with thee, & that thou maiest reigne ouer all that thine heart desireth. Then Dauid let Abnér departe, who went<sup>i</sup> in peace.

22 ¶ And beholde, the seruants of Dauid and Ioáb came<sup>j</sup> from the cāpe, & broght a great pray with them (but Abnér was not with Dauid in Hebrón: for he had set him away, and he departed in peace) k From warre against the Philistims.

23 When Ioáb, and all the holste that was with him were come, men tolde Ioáb, saying, Abnér the sonne of Ner came to the King, and he hathe sent him away, and he is gone in peace.

24 Then Ioáb came to the King, and said, What hast thou done? beholde, Abnér came vnto thee, why hast thou sent him away, and he is departed?

l Here appeareth the malicious mide of Ioáb, who wolde haue had the King to slay Abner for his priuate grudge.

25 Thou knowest Abnér the sōne of Ner: for he came to disceiue thee, & to knowe thy outgoing and ingoing, and to knowe all that thou doest.

26 ¶ And when Ioáb was gone out from Dauid, he sent messēgers after Abnér, which broght him againe from the well of Siriáb vnknowing to Dauid.

27 And when Abnér was come againe to Hebrón, Ioáb toke him aside in the gate to speake with him<sup>m</sup> peaceably, and smote him vnder the fifth ribb, that he dyed, for the blood of* Asahél his brother.

Chap. 2. 23.

28 ¶ And when afterwarde it came to Dauids eare, he said, I and my kingdome are<sup>n</sup> gilty before the Lord for euer, concerning the blood of Abnér the sonne of Ner.

k The Lord knoweth that I did not consent to his death.

29 Let the blood fall on the head of Ioáb, and on all his fathers house, that the house of Ioáb be neuer without some y<sup>e</sup> haue running yssues, or lepre, or that leaneth on a staffe, or that doeth fall on the sworde, or that lacketh bread.

30 (So Ioáb and<sup>o</sup> Abishái his brother slewe Abnér, because he had slayne their brother Asahél at Gibeón in battel) l Abishai is said to say hi to Ioab, because he counselled so y<sup>e</sup> murders.

CHAP. IIII.

5 Baanáh and Recháb slaye Ish-bósheth the sonne of Saul. 12 Dauid commandeth them to be slayne.

And whē Sauls sonne heard y Abner was dead in Hebrón, then his hands were feble, and all Israël was afayed,

2 And Sauls sonne had two men that were captaines of bands: the one called Baanáh, and the other called Recháb, the sonnes of Rimmón a Beerothite of the children of Benjamin. (for Beeróth was reckened to Benjamin,

3 Because the Beerothites fled to Gitráim, and sojourned there, vnto this day)

4 And Ionathán Sauls sonne had a sonne that was lame on his feete: he was fife yere olde when the tidings came of Saul and Ionathán out of Israël: then his nurse toke him, and fled away. And as she made halte to flee, the childe fell, and began to halt, and his name was Mephibósheth.

5 And the sonnes of Rimmón the Beerothite, Recháb and Baanáh went and came in the heate of the day to the house of Ish-bósheth (who slept on a bed at noone)

6 And beholde, Recháb and Baanáh his brother came into the middes of the house, as they wolde haue wheat, and they smote him vnder the fifth rib, and fled.

7 For when they came into the house, he slept on his bed in his bedchamber, and they smote him, and slewe him, and beheaded him, and toke his head, and gate them away through the plaine all the night.

8 And thei broght the head of Ish bósheth vnto Dauid to Hebrón, and said to the King, Beholde the head of Ish-bósheth Sauls sonne thine enemy, who soght after thy life: and the Lord hathe auenged my lord the King this day of Saul and of his seed.

9 Then Dauid answered Recháb and Baanáh his brother, the sonnes of Rimmón the Beerothite, and said vnto them, As the Lord liueth, who hathe deliuered my soule out of all aduersitie,

10 When one tolde me, and said that Saul was dead, (thinking to haue broght good tidings) I toke him and slewe him in Ziklág, who thoght that I wolde haue giuen him a rewarde for histidings:

11 How much more, when wicked men haue slayne a righteous persone in his owne house, & vpon his bed: shal I not now therefore require his blood at your hand, and take you from the earth?

12 Then Dauid commanded his yong men, and they slewe them, and cut of their hands and their feete, & hanged them vpon the poole in Hebrón: but they toke the head of Ish-bósheth, and buryed it in the sepulchre of Abner in Hebrón.

3 So all the Elders of Israël came to the King to Hebrón: and King Dauid made a couenant with them in Hebrón before the Lord: and they anointed Dauid King ouer Israël.

4 Dauid was thirty yere olde when he began to reigne: and he reigned forty yere.

5 In Hebrón he reigned ouer Iudáh seue yere, and six months: and in Ierusalém he reigned thirty and thre yeres ouer all Israël and Iudáh.

of the land: who spake vnto Dauid, saying, Except thou take away the <sup>c</sup> blinde and the lame, thou shalt not come in hither: thinking y<sup>e</sup> Dauid colde not come thither.

7 But Dauid toke the forte of Ziôn: this is the citie of Dauid.

8 Now Dauid had said y<sup>e</sup> same day, Who-soeuer smiteth the Iebusites, & getteth vp to the gutters & smiteth the lame & blinde, which Dauids soule hateth, I wil prefferre him: * therefore they said, The blinde and the lame shal not <sup>d</sup> come into that house.

9 So Dauid dwelt in that forte, and called it the citie of Dauid, and Dauid buylt roud about it, from <sup>e</sup> Milló, and inwarde.

10 And Dauid prospered and grewe: for the Lord God of hostes was with him.

11 ¶ Hirám also King of Tyrus sent messengers to Dauid, and cedar trees, and carpenters, and masons for walles: and they buylt Dauid an house.

12 Then Dauid knewe, that the Lord had stablished him King ouer Israél, and that he had exalted his kingdome for his people Israels sake.

13 And Dauid toke him mo<sup>r</sup> concubines & wiues out of Ierusalém, after he was come from Hebrón, and mo<sup>r</sup> sonnes and daughters were borne to Dauid.

17 ¶ But when the Philistims heard that they had anointed Dauid King ouer Israél, all the Philistims came vp to seke Dauid: and when Dauid heard, he wēt downe to a forte.

18 But the Philistims came, and spred them selues in the valley of Repháim.

19 Then Dauid <sup>f</sup> asked counsel of the Lord, saying, Shal I go vp to the Philistims? wilt thou deliuer them into mine hands? And the Lord answered Dauid, Go vp: for I wil doutles deliuer the Philistims into thine hands.

20 ¶ Then Dauid came to Baal-perazím, and smote them there, & said, The Lord hath deuided mine enemies asondre before me, as waters be deuided asondre: therefore he called the name of that place, * Baal-perazím.

21 And there they left their images, & Dauid and his men * burnt them.

22 Againe the Philistims came vp, & spred them selues in the valley of <sup>g</sup> Repháim.

23 And when Dauid asked counsel of the Lord, He answered, Thou shalt not go vp, but turne about behinde the, & come vpon them ouer against the mulberry trees.

24 And whē thou hearest the noyse of one going in the toppes of the mulberry trees, then remoue: for then shal the Lord go out before thee, to smite the holte of the Philistims.

25 Then Dauid did so as the Lord had commanded him, and smote the Philistims frō Gēba, vntil thou come to <sup>h</sup> Gazer.

CHAP. VI.

3 The Arke is brought forth of the house of Abinadáb. 7 Vzzáh is striken, & dyeth. 14 Dauid dāceth before it. 16 And is therefore despised of his wife Michal.

3 And they put the Arke of God vpon a newe carte, and brought it out of the house of Abinadáb that was in <sup>b</sup> Gibeáh. And Vzzáh and Ahio the sonnes of Abinadáb did driue the newe carte.

4 And when they brought the Arke of God out of the house of * Abinadáb, that was at <sup>c</sup> Gibeáh, Ahio went before the Arke,

5 And Dauid and all the house of Israél <sup>c</sup> played before the Lord on all instruments made of firre, and on harpes, and on psalteries, and on timbrels, and on cornets, and on cymbals.

6 ¶ And whē they came to Nachons threshing floore, Vzzáh put his hād to the Arke of God, & helde it: for y<sup>e</sup> oxē did shake it.

7 And the Lord was very wrothe wth Vzzáh, & God <sup>d</sup> smote him in y<sup>e</sup> same place for his faute, & there he dyed by y<sup>e</sup> Arke of God.

8 And Dauid was displeased, because the Lord had <sup>e</sup> smitten Vzzáh: and he called the name of the place * Pérez Vzzáh vntil this day.

9 Therefore Dauid that day feared the Lord, and said, How shal the Arke of the Lord come to me?

10 So Dauid wolde not bring the Arke of the Lord vnto him into the citie of Dauid, but Dauid caryed it into the house of Obed-edóm <sup>f</sup> a Gittite.

11 And the Arke of the Lord continued in the house of Obed-edóm the Gittite, thre moneths, and the Lord blessed Obed-edóm, and all his householde.

12 ¶ And one tolde King Dauid, saying, * The Lord hath blessed the house of Obed-edóm, and all that he hath, because of the Arke of God: therefore Dauid went and <sup>g</sup> brought the Arke of God from the house of Obed-edóm into the citie of Dauid with gladnes.

14 And Dauid danced before the Lord with all his might, and was girded with a linen & Ephod.

g With a garment like to the Priests garment.

15 So Dauid and all the house of Israel, brought the Arke of the Lord with shouting, and sounde of trumpet.

16 And as the Arke of the Lord came into the citie of Dauid, Michal Sauls daughter looked through a window, and sawe King Dauid leape, and dance before the Lord, and she <sup>b</sup> despised him in her heart.

a The worldlings are not able to comprehend the motions that moue the childre of God.

17 And when they had brought in the Arke of the Lord, they set it in his place, in the middes of the tabernacle that Dauid had pitched for it: the Dauid offered burnt offrings, & peace offrings before the Lord.

18 And as sone as Dauid had made an end of offering burnt offrings & peace offrings, he * blessed the people in the Name of the Lord of hostes,

1. Chro. 16. 2.

19 And gaue among all the people, even among the whole multitude of Israel, as wel to the women as men, to euerie one a cake of bread, and a piece of flesh, and a bottel of wine: so all the people departed euerie one to his house.

i That is, to pray for his house, as he had done for the people.

20 ¶ Then Dauid returned to <sup>i</sup> bless his house, and Michal the daughter of Saul came out to mete Dauid, and said, O how glorious was the King of Israel this day, which was vncovered to day in the eyes of the maidens of his seruants, as a foole vncouereth him selfe.

k It was for no worldly affection, but onely for that zeale that I bare to Gods glorie.

21 Then Dauid said vnto Michal, <sup>k</sup> It was before the Lord, which chose me rather then thy father, and all his house, and commanded me to be ruler ouer all the people of the Lord, even ouer Israel: and therefore wil I play before the Lord, 22 And wil yet be more vile then thus, and wil be lowe in mine owne sight, and of the very same maid seruants, which thou hast spoken of, shal I be had in honour.

23 Therefore Michal the daughter of Saul had <sup>i</sup> no childe, vnto the day of her death.

l Which was a punishment, because she mocked & seruanted of God.

CHAP. VII.

2 Dauid wolde buyde God an house, but is forbidden by the Prophet Nathan & God putteth Dauid in minde of his benefites. 12 He promisseth continuance of his kingdome and posteritie.

1. Chro. 17. 2.

Afterwarde * whe the King sate in his house and the Lord had giuen him rest round about from all his enemies, 3 The King said vnto Nathan the Prophet, Beholde, now I dwel in an house of cedar trees, and the Arke of God remaineth within the <sup>a</sup> curtaines.

a Within the Tabernacle covered wth skinnedes, Exo. 26. 7.

4 Then Nathan said vnto the King, Go, and do all that is in thine heart: for the Lord is with thee.

5 ¶ And the same night the worde of the Lord came vnto Nathan, saying,

6 Go, and tel my seruāt Dauid, Thus saith the Lord, <sup>b</sup> Shalt thou buyld me an house for my dwelling?

b Meaning he shulde not yett Nathan speaking according to mans indgement and not by the Spirit of prophesie, permitted him.

7 For I haue dwelt in no house since the time that I broght the children of Israel out of Egypt vnto this day, but haue walked in a tent and tabernacle.

8 In all the places wherein I haue walked with all the children of Israel, spake I one worde with anie of the tribes of <sup>c</sup> Israel when I commanded the iudges to fede my people Israel: or said I, Why buyld ye not me an house of cedar trees?

c As concerning the buylding of an house: meaning that without Gods expresse worde nothing ought to be attempted.

9 Now therefore so say vnto my seruāt Dauid, Thus sayeth the Lord of hostes, I toke thee from the shepecote following the shepe, that thou mightest be ruler ouer my people, ouer Israel.

1. Sam. 16. 12. Psal. 78. 70.

10 And I was with thee wheresoeuer thou hast walked, and haue destroyed all thine enemies out of thy sight, and haue made thee a <sup>d</sup> great name, lyke vnto the name of the great men that are in the earth.

d I haue made thee famous through all the world.

11 (Also I wil appoint a place for my people Israel, and wil plant it, that they may dwel in a place of their owne, and moue <sup>e</sup> no more, nether shal wicked people trouble them anie more as before time, e He promisseth the quietnes, if they wil walke in his feare and obedience.

12 And since the time that I set iudges ouer my people of Israel) and I wil giue thee rest from all thine enemies: also the Lord telleth thee, <sup>y</sup> he wil make thee an house.

1. King 1. 34.

13 ¶ And when thy dayes be fulfilled, thou shalt slepe with thy fathers, & I wil set vp thy seede after thee, which shal procede out of thy body, and wil stablish his kingdome.

14 ¶ He shal buyld an house for my Name, and I wil stablish the throne of his kingdome for euer.

1. King 1. 34. & 9. 12. 1. Chro. 22. 10.

15 ¶ I wil be his father, & he shalbe my sonne: & * if he sinne, I wil chasten him with the <sup>f</sup> rod of men, and with the plagues of the children of men.

Ebr 1. 3. Psal. 89. 31.

16 But my mercy shal not departe away from him, as I toke it from Saul whome I haue put away before thee.

f That is, greatly, as fathers vse to chastise their childre.

17 And thine house shalbe stablished and thy kingdome for euer before thee, even thy throne shalbe <sup>g</sup> stablished for euer.

g This was begun in Solomon as a figure, but accomplished in Christ.

18 According to all these wordes, and according to all this vision, Nathan spake thus vnto Dauid.

19 Then King Dauid went in, and sate before the Lord, & said, Who am I, o Lord God, and what is mine house, that thou hast broght me hitherto?

20 And this was yet a small thing in thy sight, o Lord God, therefore thou hast spokē also of thy seruants house for a great while: but <sup>h</sup> doeth this apperteine to <sup>h</sup> mā, o Lord God

h Ebr. in this the house of man. h. Cometh not this rather of thy mercie, then of any worthines that can be in man.

21 And

20 And what can Dauid say more vnto thee for thou, Lord God, knowest thy seruant.
21 For thy wordes sake, and according to thine owne heart hast thou done all these great things, to make them known vnto thy seruant.

22 Wherefore thou art great, O Lord God: for there is none like thee, neither is there anie god besides thee, according to all that we haue heard with our eares.

23 * And what one people in y<sup>e</sup> earth is like thy people, like Israël whose God went & redeemed the to him selfe, that they might be his people, and that he might make him a name, & do for you great things, and terrible for thy *lād, O Lord, even for thy people, whome thou redemest to thee out of Egypt, from the nations, and their gods?

24 For thou hast ordeined thy people Israël to be thy people for euer: and thou Lord art become their God.

25 Now therefore, O Lord God, confirme for euer the worde that thou hast spoken concerning thy seruant and his house, and do as thou hast said.

26 And let thy Name be magnified for euer by them that shal say, The Lord of hostes is the God ouer Israël: and let the house of thy seruant Dauid be stablished before thee.

27 For thou, O Lord of hostes, God of Israël, hast reueiled vnto thy seruant, saying, I wil buyld thee an house: therefore ha the thy seruant bene bolde to pray this prayer vnto thee.

28 Therefore now, O Lord God, (for thou art God, and thy wordes be true, and thou hast tolde this goodnes vnto thy seruāt)

29 Therefore now let it please thee to blesse the house of thy seruant, that it may continue for euer before thee: for thou, O Lord God, hast spoken it: and let the house of thy seruant be blessed for euer, with thy blessing.

CHAP. VIII.

1 Dauid ouercommeth the Philistims, and maketh them tributaries to Israël.

1 A fter this now, Dauid smote the Philistims, and subdued them, & Dauid toke the bridle of bondage out of the hand of the Philistims.

2 And he smote Moab, and measured them with a corde, and cast them downe to the ground: he measured them with two cordes to put them to death, & with one ful corde to kepe them alieue: so became the Moabites Dauids seruants, and brought gifts.

3 Dauid smote also Hadadézer the sonne of Rehob King of Zobah as he went to recouer his border at y<sup>e</sup> riuer Euphrates.

4 And Dauid toke a thousand and seuen hundred horsemen, and twentie thousand footemen, and destroyed all the charrets, but he reserued an hundred charrets of them.

5 ¶ Then came the Aramites of Damések to succour Hadadézer King of Zobah, but Dauid slewe of the Aramites two and twentie thousand men.

6 And he put a garison in Arám of Damések: and the Aramites became seruants to Dauid, and brought giftes. And the Lord saued Dauid wheresoeuer he went.

7 And Dauid toke the shields of golde that belonged to the seruants of Hadadézer, and brought them to Ierusalém.

8 And out of Bétah, and Berothai (cities of Hadadézer) Dauid brought exceeding much brasse.

9 ¶ Then Tóí King of Hamáth heard how Dauid had smitten all the hoste of Hadadézer, 10 Therefore Tóí sent Iorám his sonne vnto King Dauid, to salute him, and to freioyce with him because he had fought against Hadadézer, and beaten him (for Hadadézer had warre with Tóí) who brought with him vessels of siluer, and vessels of golde & vessels of brasse.

11 And King Dauid did dedicate them vnto the Lord with the siluer and golde that he had dedicate of all the nations, which he had subdued:

12 Of Arám, & of Moáb, and of the children of Ammón, & of the Philistims, and of Amalék, and of the spoyle of Hadadézer the sonne of Rehob King of Zobah.

13 So Dauid gate a name after that he returned, and had slaine of the Aramites in the valley of salt eightene thousand men.

14 And he put a garison in Edóm: throughout all Edóm put he soldiers, and all they of Edóm became Dauids seruants: and y<sup>e</sup> Lord kept Dauid wheresoeuer he wēt.

15 Thus Dauid reigned ouer all Israël, and executed iudgement and iustice vnto all his people.

16 And Ioab the sonne of Zeruiáh was ouer the hoste, and Ioshaphát the sonne of Ahilud was recorder.

17 And Zadók the sonne of Ahitúb, and Ahimélech the sonne of Abiathár were y<sup>e</sup> Priests; and Seraráh the scribe.

18 And Benaiah the sonne of Iehoiadá & the Cherethites & the Pelethites, & Dauids sonnes were chief rulers.

CHAP. IX.

1 Dauid restoreth all the landes of Saúl to Miphbóseth the sonne of Ionathan. 2 He appointeth Ziba to be to the profit of his bandes.

1 A nd Dauid said, Is there yet any man left of the house of Saúl, that I may shewe him mercy for Ionathans sake?

3 Then the King said, Remaineth there yet none of the house of Saúl, on whome I may shewe the b mercy of God? Zibá then answered the King, Ionathán hath yet a sonne a lame of his feete.

4 Then the King said vnto him, Where is he? And Zibá said vnto y King, Beholde, he is in the house of Machír the sonne of Ammiél of Lo-debár.

c Who was also called Eliam, y father of Bath-sheba Dauids wife.

5 ¶ Then King Dauid sent, and toke him out of the house of Machír the sonne of Ammiél of Lo-debár.

6 Now when Mephibósheth the sonne of Ionathán, the sonne of Saúl was come vnto Dauid, he fell on his face, and did reuerence. And Dauid said, Mephibósheth? And he answered, Beholde thy seruant.

Or, lauds.

7 Then Dauid said vnto him, Feare not: for I wil surely shewe thee kindenes for Ionathán thy fathers sake, and wil restore thee all the f fields of Saúl thy father, and thou shalt eat bread at my table continually.

d Meaning, a despised person.

Or, serues.

8 And he bowed him selfe, and said, What is thy seruāt, that thou shuldest loke vpon suche a dead dog as I am?

9 Then the King called Zibá Sauls seruāt, and said vnto him, I haue giuen vnto thy masters e sonne all that pertained to Saúl and to all his house.

e Be ye proud: over-seers and governors of his lāds that they may be profitable.

10 Thou therefore and e thy sonnes, and thy seruants shal till the land for him, and bring in that thy masters sonne may haue foode to eat. And Mephibósheth thy masters sonne shal eat bread alway at my table (now Zibá had fiftene sonnes, and twentie seruants) f That Mephibósheth may haue all things at commandment as becometh a Kings sonne.

11 Then said Zibá vnto the King, According to all y my lord the King hath commanded his seruant, so shal thy seruāt do, f that Mephibósheth may eat at my table, as one of the Kings sonnes.

12 Mephibósheth also had a yōg sonne named Michá, & all that dwelled in y house of Zibá, were seruants vnto Mephibósheth.

13 And Mephibósheth dwelt in Ierusalēm: for he did eat cōtinually at the Kings table, and was lame on bothe his feete.

CHAP. X.

4 The messengers of Dauid are villainously entreated of the King of Ammón. 7 Ioáb is sent against the Ammonites.

1 After this, the a King of the children of Ammón dyed, & Hanún his sonne reigned in his stede.

2 Then said Dauid, I wil shewe kindenes vnto Hanún the sonne of Nahaśh, as his father a shewed kindenes vnto me. And Dauid sent his seruants to cōfōrt him for his father. So Dauids seruants came into the land of the children of Ammón.

a The child of God are vnmindful of a benefit receiued.

3 And the princes of the children of Ammón said vnto Hanún their lord, Thinkest thou y Dauid doeth honour thy father, that he hath sent comforters to thee? hath he not Dauid rather sent his seruants vnto thee, b to searche the citie, and to spie it out, and to ouerthrowe it?

b Ebr. In this eyes dark Dauid.

4 Wherefore Hanún toke Dauids seruants, and shaued of the halfe of their bearde, & cut of their garments in the middle, euen to their buttockes, and sent them away.

b Their arrogant malice would not suffer them to see the simplicity of Dauids heart: therefore their counsel turned to the destruction of their country.

5 ¶ When it was tolde vnto Dauid, he sent to mere them (for the men were exceedingly ashamed) and the King said, Tarie at Ierichó, vntil your beardes be grown, then returne.

6 ¶ And when the children of Ammón sawe that they c stanke in the sight of Dauid, the children of Ammón sent and hired the a Aramites of the house of Rehób, and the Aramites of Zobá, twentie thousand footemen, and of King Maacáh a thousand men, & of Ish-tób twelue thousand men.

c That they had defiled Dauids dishonour, for y murie done to his ambassadors.

7 And when Dauid heard of it, he sent Ioáb, and all the hoste of the strong men.

8 And the children of Ammón came out, & put their armie in array at the entring in of the gate: & the Aramites of d Zobá, and of Rehób, and of Ish-tób, and of Maacáh were by them selues in the field.

d These were diuers parts of the country of Syria, where by appaereth that the Syria serued, where they might haue intertainment, as now the Syrians do.

9 When Ioáb sawe that the fronte of the battel was against him before and behinde, he chose of all the choise of Israël, and put them in array against the Aramites.

10 And the rest of the people he deliuered into the hand of Abishái his brother, that he might put them in array against the children of Ammón.

11 And he said, If the Aramites be stronger then I, thou shalt helpe me, & if the children of Ammón be to strong for thee, I wil come and succour thee.

12 Be strong and let vs be valiant for e our people, and for the cities of our God, and let the Lord do that which is good in his eyes.

e Here is declared wherefore warre ought to be undertaken for the defence of true religion and Gods people.

13 Then Ioáb, & the people that was with him, ioyned in battel with the Aramites, who fled before him.

14 And when the children of Ammón sawe that the Aramites fled, they fled also before Abishái, and entred into the citie. So Ioáb returned from the children of Ammón, and came to Ierusalēm.

15 ¶ And when the Aramites sawe that they were smitten before Israël, they gathered them together.

16 And

16 And Hadarézer sent, and brought out the Aramites that were beyonde the Riuer: & they came to Helám, and Shobách ſ captain of the hoſte of Hadarézer went before them.

17 When it was ſhewed Dauid, then he gathered ſall Iſraél together, and paſſed ouer Iordén and came to Helám: and the Aramites ſet the ſelues in array againſt Dauid, and fought with him:

18 And the Aramites fled before Iſraél: & Dauid deſtroyed ſeuén hundreth charrets of the Aramites, & fourtie thouſand horſemen, and ſmote Shobách the captain of his hoſte, who dyed there.

19 And when all the Kings, that were ſeruáts to Hadarézer, ſawe that they fell before Iſraél, they made peace with Iſraél, and ſerued them. and the Aramites feared to helpe the children of Ammón anie more.

CHAP. XI.

1 The citie Rabbáh is beſeged. 4 Dauid committeth adulterie. 17 Vriah is ſlaine. 27 Dauid marieth Bathſheba.

1 And when the yere was expired in ſ time when Kings go forthe to battel, Dauid ſent Ioáb, and his ſeruants with him, & all Iſraél, who deſtroyed the children of Ammón, and beſieged Rabbáh: but Dauid remained in Ieruſalém.

2 And when it was euening tide, Dauid aroſe out of his bed, and walked vpon the rooſe of the Kings palace: and from the rooſe he ſawe a woman waſhing her ſelfe: and the womán was very beautiful to loke vpon.

3 And Dauid ſent and inquired what woman it was: and one ſaid, Is not this Bathſheba ſ daughter of Eliám, wiſe to Vriah the Hittite?

4 Then Dauid ſent meſſengers, and toke her away: and ſhe came vnto him and he lay with her: (now ſhe was puriſied from her vncleannes) and ſhe returned vnto her houſe.

5 And ſe womán cōceiued: therefore ſhe ſent & tolde Dauid, & ſaid, I am with childe.

6 Then Dauid ſent to Ioáb, ſaying, Send me Vriah the Hittite. And Ioáb ſent Vriah to Dauid.

7 And when Vriah came vnto him, Dauid demanded him how Ioáb did, & how the people fared, and how the warre proſpered.

8 Afterwarde Dauid ſaid to Vriah, Go downe to thine houſe, and waſh thy ſeete. So Vriah departed out of the Kings palace, & the King ſent a preſent after him.

9 But Vriah ſlept at the dore of the Kings palace with all the ſeruants of his lord, and went not downe to his houſe.

10 Then they tolde Dauid, ſaying, Vriah went not downe to his houſe: and Dauid ſaid vnto Vriah, Comeſt thou not from thy iourney? why didſt thou not go downe to thine houſe?

11 The Vriah answered Dauid, The Arke of Iſraél, and Iudáh dwel in tents: and my lord Ioáb and the ſeruants of my lord abide in the open fields: ſhal I then go into mine houſe to eat, and drinke, and lie with my wiſe? by thy life, & by the life of thy ſoule, I wil not do this thing.

12 Then Dauid ſaid vnto Vriah, Tarie yet this daye, and comorowe I wil ſend thee awaie. So Vriah abode in Ieruſalém that day, and the moro we.

13 Then Dauid called him, & he did eat and drinke before him, & he made him ſdröke: & at euen he went out to lie on his couche with the ſeruants of his lord, but went not downe to his houſe.

14 And on the morowe Dauid wrote a letter to Ioáb, and ſent it by the hand of Vriah.

15 And he wrote thus in the letter, Put ye Vriah in the forefront of the ſtrength of the battel, & recule ye backe from him, that he may be ſmitten, and dye.

16 So whe Ioáb beſieged ſ citie, he aſſigned Vriah vnto a place, where he knewe that ſtrong men were.

17 And the men of the citie came out, and fought with Ioáb: & there fell of the people of the ſeruants of Dauid, & Vriah the Hittite alſo dyed.

18 Then Ioáb ſent and tolde Dauid all the things concerning the warre, 19 And he charged the meſſenger, ſaying, When thou haſt made an end of telling the matters of the warre vnto the King,

20 And if the Kings angre ariſe, ſo that he ſay vnto thee, Wherefore approached ye vnto ſ citie to fight? knewe ye not that they wolde hurle from the wall?

21 Who ſmote Abimélech ſonne of Ierubéſeth? did not a woman caſt a piece of a millſtone vpon him from the wall, and he dyed in Thebéz? why went you nye the wall? Then ſay thou, Thy ſeruant Vriah the Hittite is alſo dead.

22 So the meſſenger went, and came and ſhewed Dauid all that Ioáb had ſent him for.

23 And the meſſenger ſaid vnto Dauid, Certainly the men preuailed againſt vs, and came out vnto vs into the field, but we purſued them vnto the entring of the gate.

24 But ſ ſhooters ſhot from the wall againſt thy ſeruants, and ſome of the Kings ſeruants be dead: and thy ſeruant Vriah the Hittite is alſo dead.

25 Then Dauid ſaid vnto the meſſenger, Thus ſhalt thou ſay vnto Ioab, Let not this thing trouble thee: for the ſworde de-

Heb. was enil in the eyes of the Lord.

27 So when the mourning was past, Dauid sent & toke her into his house, and she became his wife, and bare him a sonne: but the thing that Dauid had done, displeased the Lord.

CHAP. XII.

Dauid reproved by Nathán confesseth his sinne. 18 The childe conceived in adulterie dyeth. 24 Salomon is borne. 26 Rabbah is taken. 31 The citizens are grievously punished.

a Because Dauid lay now drowned in sinne, the loving mercie of God, which suffreth not his to perith, waken his conscience by this similitude, and bringeth him to repentance

1 Then the Lord sent Nathán vnto Dauid, who came to him, and said vnto him, There were two men in one citie, the one riche, and the other poore.

2 The riche man had exceeding many shepe and oxen:

3 But the poore had none at all, saue one litle shepe which he had bought, & nourished vp: and it grewe vp with him, and with his children also, and did eat of his owne morsels, & dranke of his owne cup, and slept in his bosome, and was vnto him as his daughter.

Or, wayfaring man. Or, spared.

4 Now there came a stranger vnto the riche mā, who refused to take of his owne shepe, and of his owne oxen to dresse for the stranger that was come vnto him, but toke the poore mans shepe, and drested it for the man that was come to him.

Heb. The anger of Dauid was kindled.

5 The Dauid was exceeding wrothe with the mā, and said to Nathán, As the Lord liueth, the man that hath done this thing, shall surely dye,

Heb. is the childe of death.

6 And he shall restore the labe <sup>four</sup> folde, because he did this thing, and had no pittie thereof.

3 Sam. 16. 13.

7 Then Nathán said to Dauid, Thou art the man. Thus sayth the Lord God of Israél, I anointed thee King ouer Israél, and deliuered thee out of the hand of Saúl, b For Dauid succeeded Saúl in his kingdome.

8 And gaue thee thy lords house, and thy lords wiues into thy bosome, and gaue thee the house of Israél, and of Iudáh, & wolde moreouer (if that had bene to litle) haue giuen thee <sup>suche</sup> and <sup>suche</sup> things.

9 Wherefore hast thou despised the commandement of the Lord, to do euil in his sight: thou hast killed Vriah the Hittite with the sworde, and hast taken his wife to be thy wife, and hast slaine him with the sworde of the children of Ammon.

d That is, greater things than these: for Gods loue and benefites increase toward him, if by their ingratitude they stay him not.

10 Now therefore the sworde shall neuer departe from thine house, because thou hast despised me, and taken the wife of Vriah the Hittite to be thy wife.

e Thou hast moke cruelly giuen him into the hands of Gods anger.

11 Thus saith the Lord, Beholde, I wil raise vp euil against thee out of thine owne house, and wil take thy wiues before thine eyes, & giue them vnto thy neighbour, and he shall lye with thy wiues in the sight of this sunne.

Deut. 31. 24 chap. 31. 24

12 For thou didest it secretly: but I wil do this thing before all Israél, and before the sunne.

f Meaning, openly, as at none dayes.

13 Then Dauid said vnto Nathán, I haue sinned against y Lord. And Nathán said vnto Dauid, The Lord also hath <sup>put</sup> away thy sinne, thou shalt not dye.

g For the Lord seeth but y sinners wolde turne to him.

14 Howbeit because by this dede thou hast caused the enemies of the Lord to blasphemie, the childe that is borne vnto thee shall surely dye.

h In saying, that the Lord hath appointed a wicked man to reigne ouer his people.

15 So Nathán departed vnto his house: and the Lord stroke the childe that Vriahs wife bare vnto Dauid, and it was sicke.

16 Dauid therefore besoght God for the childe, and fasted and went in, and laye all night vpon the earth.

i To wit, to his priuie chamber.

17 Then the Elders of his house arose to come vnto him, and to cause him to rise from the ground: but he wolde not, neither did he eat meate with them.

k Thinking by his inward paine that God wolde haue stored his childe, but God had otherwise determined.

18 So on the seventh day the childe dyed: & the seruants of Dauid feared to tel him that the childe was dead: for thei said, Beholde, while the childe was aliue, we spake vnto him, and he wolde not hearken vnto our voyce: now then shall we say vnto him, The childe is dead, to vex him more?

l Hebr. & he wolde him selfe enil.

19 But when Dauid sawe that his seruants whispered, Dauid perceiued that y childe was dead: therefore Dauid said vnto his seruants, Is the childe dead? And they said, He is dead.

20 Then Dauid arose from the earth, & washed and anointed him selfe, and changed his apparel, and came into the house of the Lord, and worshiped, & afterward came to his owne house, and bade that thei shulde set bread before him, and he did eat.

m Shewing that our lamentations ought not to be excessive, but moderate: and y we must praise God in all his doings.

21 Then said his seruants vnto him, What thing is this, that thou hast done? thou didest fast and wepe for the childe, while it was aliue, but while the childe was dead, thou didest rise vp, and eat meate.

n As they considered not that God giveth many things to the sabbes & reueres of faithfull.

22 And he said, While the childe was yet aliue, I fasted, and wept: for I said, Who can tel whether God wil haue mercie on me, that the childe may liue?

23 But now being dead, wherefore shulde I now fast? Can I bring him againe anie more? I shall go to him, but he shall not returne to me.

o By this consideration he appeased his sorrowe.

24 ¶ And Dauid comforted Bath-sheba his wife, and went in vnto her, and lay with her, and she bare a sonne, & he called his name Salomon: also y Lord loued hi.

Mat. 3. 17. o To wit, the Lord, i. Christ.

25 * Therefore

25 For the Lord had sent by Nathán the Prophet: therefore <sup>q</sup> he called his name Icdidiáh, because the Lord loved him.

26 ¶ Then Ioáb foght against Rabbáh of the children of Ammón, and toke the <sup>r</sup> citie of the kingdome.

27 Therefore Ioáb sent messengers to Dauid, saying, I haue foght against Rabbáh, and haue taken the citie of <sup>r</sup> waters.

28 Now therefore gather the rest of the people together, and besiege the citie, that thou maicst take it, lest <sup>r</sup> the victorie be attributed to me.

29 So Dauid gathered all the people together, and went against Rabbáh, and besieged it, and toke it.

30 *And he toke their Kings crowne from his head, (which wayed a <sup>r</sup> talent of golde, with precious stones) & it was set on Dauids head: and he broght away the spoile of the citie in exceding great abundance.

31 And he caryed away the people that was therein, and put them vnder <sup>r</sup> sawes, and vnder yron harowes, and vnder axes of yron, and cast them into the tyle kylne: euen thus did he with all the cities of the children of Ammón. Then Dauid and all the people returned vnto Ierusalém.

CHAP. XIII.

14 Amnón Dauids sonne defileth his sister Tamár.

19 Tamár is comforted by her brother Absalóm.

29 Absalóm therefore killeth Amnón.

1 NOW after this so it was, that Absalóm the sonne of Dauid hauing a faire sister, whose name was <sup>a</sup> Tamár, Amnón the sonne of Dauid loued her.

2 And Amnón was so sore vexed, that he fel sicke for his sister Tamár: for she was <sup>a</sup> <sup>b</sup> virgin, & it semed harde to Amnón to do any thing to her.

3 But Amnón had a friend called Ionadáb, the sonne of Shimeáh Dauids brother: and Ionadáb was a very subtile man.

4 Who said vnto him, Why art thou the Kings sonne so leane frō day to day? wilt thou not tel me? Then Amnón answered him, I loue Tamár my brother Absalós sister.

5 And Ionadáb said vnto him, Lye downe on thy bed, and make thy selfe sicke: and when thy father shal come to se thee, say vnto him, I pray thee, let my sister Tamár come, and giue me meat, and let her dresse meat in my sight, that I may se it, and eat it of her hand.

6 ¶ So Amnón laye downe, & made him selfe sicke: and when the King came to se him, Amnón said vnto the King, I pray thee, let Tamár my sister come, & make me a couple of <sup>d</sup> cakes in my sight, that I may receiue meat at her hand.

7 Then Dauid sent home to Tamár, saying, Go now to thy brother Amnóns house, and dresse him meat.

8 ¶ So Tamár went to her brother Amnons house, and he laye downe: and she toke <sup>r</sup> floure, and knead it, and made cakes in his sight, and did bake the cakes.

9 And she toke a panna, & <sup>e</sup> powred them out before him, but he wolde not eat. The Amnón said, Cause ye euery man to go out from <sup>f</sup> me: so euery man went out frō him.

10 Then Amnón said vnto Tamár, Bring the meat into the chamber, that I may eat of thine hand. And Tamár toke the cakes which she had made, and broght them into the chamber to Amnón her brother.

11 And when she had set them before him to eat, he toke her, and said vnto her, Come, lye with me, my sister.

12 But she answered him, Naye, my brother, do not force me: for no suche thing * ought to be done in Israël: commit not this folie.

13 And I, <sup>o</sup> whether shal I cause my shame to go: and thou shalt be as one <sup>s</sup> of the fooles in Israël: now therefore, I pray thee, speake to the King, for he wil not denye me vnto thee.

14 Howbeit he wolde not hearkē vnto her voyce, but being stronger then she, forced her, and lay with her.

15 Then Amnón hated her exceedingly, so that the hatred wherewith he hated her, was greater then the loue, wherewith he had loued her: and Amnón said vnto her, Vp, get thee hence.

16 And she answered him, <sup>o</sup> There is no cause: this euil (to put me away) is greater then the other that thou didest vnto me: but he wolde not heare her, 17 But called his <sup>o</sup> seruant that serued him, and said, Put this woman now out from me, and locke the dore after her.

18 ( And she had a garment of <sup>h</sup> diuers coulers vpon her: for with suche garmets were the Kings daughters that were virgins, appareled ) Then his seruant broght her out, and locked the dore after her.

19 And Tamár put ashes on her head & rent the garment of diuers coulers which was on her, and layed her hand on her head, & went her way crying.

20 And Absalóm her brother said vnto her, Hathe Amnón thy brother bene with thee? Now yet be <sup>i</sup> styl, my sister: he is thy brother: let not this thing grieue thine heatt. So Tamár remained desolate in her brother Absaloms house.

21 ¶ But when King Dauid heard all these things, he was very wrothe.

22 And Absalóm said vnto his brother Amnón nether good nor bad: for Absalóm hated Amnón, because he had forced his sister Tamár.

4 ¶ Then the woman of Tekóah ſpake vnto the King, and fel downe on her face to the ground, & did obeifance, and ſaid, Helpe, o King.

And he answered, As the Lord liuerh, there ſhal not one heere of thy ſonne fall to y earth.

12 Then the woman ſaid, I pray thee, let thine hádmáid ſpeake a worde to my lord the the King. And he said, Say on.

Why doest thou give contrary sentence in thy sonne Abfalom?

13 Then the woman said, Wherefore then halt thou & thought such a thing against the people of God? or why doest y King, as one which is faurie, speake this thing, that he wil not bring againe his banished?

Or, accept.

God hathe guided waies (as sanctuaries) to saue the oit times, whome man iudgeth worthy death. For I thoght they wolde kil this mine heir, 14 For we must nedes dye, & we are as water spilt on the ground, which can not be gathered vp againe: nether doeth God spare anie persone, yet doeth he appoint means, not to cast out from him him that is expelled.

15 Now therefore that I am come to speake of this thing vnto my lord the King, the cause is that the people haue made me afraide: therefore thine handmaid said, Now wil I speake vnto y King: it may be that the King wil performe the request of his handmaid.

16 For the King wil heare, to deliuer his handmaid out of the hand of the man that wolde destroye me, and also my sonne fro the inheritance of God.

Is of great wisdom to discern right from wrong.

17 Therefore thine handmaid said, The worde of my lord the King shal now be comfortable: for my lord the King is euen as an Angel of God in hearing of good & bad: therefore the Lord thy God be with thee.

18 Then the King answered, and said vnto the woman, Hide not fro me, I pray thee, the thing that I shal aske thee. And y woman said, Let my lord y King now speake.

I haue not thou done this by y counsel of Ioab?

19 And the King said, Is not the hand of Ioab with thee in all this? Then the woman answered, & said, As thy soul liueth, my lord the King, I wil not turne to the right hand nor to the left from ought that my lord the King hathe spoken: for euen thy seruāt Ioab bade me, & he put all these wordes in y mouth of thine handmaid.

By speaking rather in a payable the plainly.

Or, one can hide eyes from the King.

20 For to the intent that I shulde change the forme of speache, thy seruāt Ioab hathe done this thig: but my lord is wise according to the wisdom of an Angel of God to vnderstand all things that are in the earth.

I haue granted thy request.

21 And y King said vnto Ioab, Beholde now, I haue done this thing: go then, & bring the yong man Abfalom againe.

Elr. blessed.

22 And Ioab fel to the ground on his face, and bowed him selfe, and thanked the King. Then Ioab said, This day thy seruāt knoweth, that I haue founde grace in thy sight, my lord the King, in that the King hathe fulfilled the request of his seruāt.

Couering hereby his affection, and shewing some parte of iustice to please y people.

23 And Ioab arose, and went to. Geslur, and broght Abfalom to Ierusalém.

24 And the King said, Let him turne to his owne house, and not to my face. So Abfalom turned to his owne house, and sawe not the Kings face.

25 Now in all Israel there was none to be so muche praised for beautie as Abfalom: from the sole of his foote euen to the top of his head there was no blemish in him.

26 And whē he polled his head, (for at euerie yeres end he polled it: because it was to heauy for him, therefore he polled it) he weighed the heere of his head at two hundred & shekels by the Kings weight.

27 And Abfalom had thre sonnes, and one daughter named Tamár, which was a faire woman to loke vpon.

28 So Abfalom dwelt y space of two yeres in Ierusalém, & sawe not the Kings face.

29 Therefore Abfalom sent for Ioab to find him to the King, but he wolde not come to him: and when he sent againe, he wolde not come.

Or, possession.

q The wicked are impacient in their affections, & spare no vnlawful means to compass them.

30 Therefore he said vnto his seruants, Beholde, Ioab hathe a field by my place, & hathe barley therein: go, & set it on fire: & Abfaloms seruants set the field on fire.

31 Then Ioab arose, and came to Abfalom vnto his house, and said vnto him, Wherefore haue thy seruants burnt my field with fire?

32 And Abfalom answered Ioab, Beholde, I sent for thee, saying, Come thou hither, and I wil send thee to the King for to say, Wherefore am I come from Geslur? It had bene better for me to haue bene there stil: now therefore let me se y Kings face: and if there be anie trespass in me, let him kil me.

r If I haue offended by reuenging my sisters dishonour: thus the wicked iustifie them selues in their euil.

33 Then Ioab came to the King, and tolde him: and he called for Abfalom, who came to the King, and bowed him selfe to the ground on his face before the King, and the King kissed Abfalom.

7 ¶ And after <sup>e</sup> fortie yeres, Abfalóm said vnto the King, I pray thee, let me go to Hebrón, and rendre my vowe which I ha- ue vowed vnto the Lord.

8 For thy feruant vowed a vowe when I re- mained in Gefhúr, in Arám, faying, If the Lord fhall bring me againe in dede to Ie- rufalém, I wil <sup>f</sup> ferue the Lord.

9 And the King said vnto him, Go in pea- ce. So he arofe, and went to Hebrón.

10 ¶ Then Abfalóm fent spies throughout all the tribes of Israël, faying, When ye heare the founde of the trumpet, ye fhall fay, Abfalóm reigneth in Hebrón.

11 ¶ And with Abfalóm went two hundred men out of Ierufalém, that were <sup>g</sup> called: and they wét in their fimplicitie, knowing nothing.

12 Also Abfalóm fent for Ahithóphel the Gilonite Dauids counfeler, from his citie Gilóh, while he offred facrifices: and the treason was great: for the people <sup>h</sup> encrea- fed ftill with Abfalóm.

13 ¶ Then came a melfenger to Dauid, faying, The heartes of the men of Israël are turned after Abfalóm.

14 Then Dauid said vnto all his feruants that were with him at Ierufalém, Vp, and let vs flee: for we fhall not efcape fró <sup>h</sup> Ab- falóm: make fpede to departe, left he co- me fodenly and take vs, & bring euil vpó vs, and fmite the citie with the edge of the fworde.

15 And the Kings feruants said vnto him, Beholde, thy feruants <sup>i</sup> are ready to do accor- ding to all that my lord the King fhall appoint.

16 So the King departed and all his houf- holde <sup>j</sup> after him, and the King left ten concubines to kepe the houfe.

17 And the King went forth and all the people after him, and taryed in a <sup>k</sup> place farre of.

18 And all his feruants went about him, and all the <sup>k</sup> Cherethites and all the Pele- thites and all <sup>y</sup> Gittites, <sup>even</sup> fixe húdred men which were come after him fró Gath, went before the King.

19 Then said the King to <sup>l</sup> Ittái the Git- tite, Wherefore commeft thou alfo with vs? Returne and abide with the King, for thou art a ftranger: departe thou therefo- re to thy place.

20 Thou cameft yefterday, and fhulde I caufe thee to wander to day and go with vs? I wil go whither I can: therefore retur- ne thou, and cary againe thy <sup>m</sup> brethren: mercie and <sup>n</sup> trueth be with thee.

21 And Ittái answered the King, and said,

As the Lord liueth, & as my lord the King liueth, in what place my lord the King fhall be, whether in death or life, euen there furely wil thy feruant be.

22 Then Dauid said to Ittái, Come, & go forward. And Ittái the Gittite went, and all his men, and all the children that were with him.

23 And all the countrey wept with a loude voyce, and <sup>o</sup> all the people went forward, but the King, paffed ouer the brooke Ki- drón: and all the people wét ouer toward the way of the wildernes.

24 ¶ And lo, Zadók alfo <sup>p</sup> was there, and all the Leuites with hym, <sup>p</sup> bearing the Arke of the couenant of God: & they fet downe <sup>y</sup> Arke of God, and Abiathár wét <sup>q</sup> vp vntil the people were all come out of the citie.

25 Then the King said vnto Zadók, Carie the Arke of God againe into the citie: if I fhall finde fauour in the eyes of the Lord, he wil bring me againe, & fhewe me <sup>r</sup> both it, and the <sup>r</sup> Tabernacle thereof.

26 But if he thus fay, I haue no delite in thee, beholde, <sup>r</sup> here am I, let him do to me as femeth good in his eyes.

27 The King said againe vnto Zadók the Priest, Art not thou a <sup>s</sup> Seer? returne into the citie in peace, & your two fonnes with you: to wit, Ahimáaz thy fonne, and Iona- thán the fonne of Abiathár.

28 Beholde, I wil tarie in the fieldes of the wildernes, vntil there come fome worde from you to be tolde me.

29 Zadók therefore and Abiathár caryed the Arke of God againe to Ierufalém, and they taryed there.

30 And Dauid went vp the mount of oliues and wept as he went vp, and had his head <sup>t</sup> couered, and wét barefooted: and all the people that was with him, had euerie man his head couered, and as they went vp, they wept.

31 Then one tolde Dauid, faying, Ahithó- phel is one of them that haue confpired with Abfalóm: and Dauid said, ó Lord, I pray thee, turne the <sup>u</sup> counfel of Ahi- thóphel into foolifhnes.

32 ¶ Then Dauid came to the toppe of the mount where he worfhiped God: and be- holde, Hufháí the Archite came againft him with his coate torne, & hauing earth vpon his head.

whatsoever thou shalt heare out of the Kings house, thou shalt shewe to Zadók and Abiathár the Priests.

16 Beholde, there are with them their two sonnes: Ahimáaz Zadoks sonne, and Ionathán Abiathars sonne: by them also shal ye send me euerie thing that ye can heare.

17 So Hushái Dauids friend went into the citie: and Absalóm came into Ierusalém.

CHAP. XVI.

1 The infidelitie of Zibá. 5 Shimeí curseth Dauid. 16 Hushái cometh to Absalóm. 21 The counsel of Ahithóphel for the concubines.

1 WHen Dauid was a litle past the toppe of the hill, beholde, Zibá the seruant of Mephibósheth met him with a couple of asses saddled, and vpon them two hundreth cakes of bread, and one hundreth bunshes of raisins, & an hundreth of dryed figges, and a bottel of wine.

2 And y King said vnto Zibá, What meanest thou by these? And Zibá said, They be asses for the Kings householde to ride on, and bread and dryed figges for the yong men to eat, and wine, that the faint may drinke in the wilderness.

3 And the King said, But where is thy masters sonne? The Zibá answered the King, Beholde, he remaineth in Ierusalém: for he said, This day shal the house of Israël restore me the kingdome of my father.

4 Then said the King to Zibá, Beholde, thine are all that pertained vnto Mephibósheth. And Zibá said, I beseeche thee, let me finde grace in thy sight, my lord, & King.

5 ¶ And when King Dauid came to Bahurím, beholde, thence came out a man of the familie of the house of Saúl, named Shimeí the sonne of Gerá: and he came out, and cursed.

6 And he cast stones at Dauid, and at all the seruants of King Dauid: and all the people, and all the men of warre were on his right hand, and on his left.

7 And thus said Shimeí when he cursed, Come forthe, come forthe thou "murderer, and" wicked man.

8 The Lord hathe broght vpon thee all the blood of the house of Saúl, in whose stead thou hast reigned: and the Lord hathe deliuered the kingdome into the hand of Absalóm thy sonne: and beholde, thou art taken in thy wickednes, because thou art a murderer.

9 Then said Abishái the sonne of Zeruiáh vnto the King, Why doeth this dead dogge curse my lord the King? let me go, I pray thee, and take away his head.

10 ¶ But the King said, What haue I to do with you, ye sonnes of Zeruiáh: for he curseth, euen because the Lord hathe bidden him curse Dauid: who darre then say, Wherefore hast thou done so?

11 And Dauid said to Abishái, & to all his seruants, Beholde, my sonne w came out of mine owne bowels, seeketh my life: then how muche more now may this sonne of Ieminí? Suffre him to curse: for the Lord hathe bidden him.

12 It may be that the Lord wil loke on mine affliction, and do me good for his cursing this day.

13 And as Dauid and his men went by the way, Shimeí went by the side of the moûtaine ouer against him, and cursed as he went, and threwe stones against him, and cast dust.

14 Then came y King & all the people that were with him weary, and refreshed them selues there.

15 ¶ And Absalóm, and all the people, the men of Israël came to Ierusalém, & Ahithóphel with him.

16 And when Hushái the Archite Dauids friend was come vnto Absalóm, Hushái said vnto Absalóm, "God saue the King, God saue the King."

17 Then Absalóm said to Hushái, Is this thy kindenes to thy friend? Why wentest thou not with thy friends?

18 Hushái then answered vnto Absalóm, Nay, but whome the Lord, & this people, and all the men of Israël chuse, his wil I be, and with him wil I dwell.

19 And "moreouer vnto whome shal I do seruice: not to his sonne? as I serued before thy father, so wil I before thee.

20 ¶ Then spake Absalóm to Ahithóphel, Giue counsel what we shal do.

21 And Ahithóphel said vnto Absalóm, Go in to thy fathers concubines, which he hathe left to kepe the house: and when all Israël shal heare, that thou art abhorred of thy father, the hands of all that are with thee, shal be strong.

22 So they spred Absalóm a tent vpon the top of the house, and Absalóm went in to his fathers concubines in the sight of all Israël.

23 And the counsel of Ahithóphel which he counseled in those dayes, was like as one had asked counsel at the oracle of God: so was all the counsel of Ahithóphel bothe with Dauid and with Absalóm.

CHAP. XVII.

7 Ahithophels counsel is ouerthrowen by Hushái. 14 The Lord had so ordeined. 19 The Priests sonnes are hid in the well. 22 Dauid goeth ouer Iordan. 23 Ahithóphel hangeth him selfe. 27 They bring vitails to Dauid.

1 Moreouer Ahithóphel said to Absalóm, Let me chuse out now twelue thousand men, and I wil vp and follow after Dauid this night,

2 And I wil come vpo him: for he is weary, and weake handed: so I wil feare him, and all the people that are with him, shal flee, and I wil finite the King onely,

3 And I wil bring againe all the people vnto thee, and when all shal returne, <sup>b</sup> the man whome thou sekest being slaine all the people shalbe in peace.

4 And the saying <sup>c</sup> pleased Absalom wel, and all the Elders of Israel.

5 The said Absalom, Call now Hushai the Archite also, and let vs heare likewise what he sayeth.

6 So when Hushai came to Absalom, Absalom spake vnto him, saying, Ahithophel hathe <sup>e</sup> spoken thus: shal we do after his saying, or notel thou?

7 Hushai then answered vnto Absalom, The counsel that Ahithophel hathe giue, is not <sup>f</sup> good at this time.

<sup>f</sup> Hushai sheweth himselfe faithful to David, in that he reprobeth this wicked counsel and purpose.

8 For, said Hushai, thou knowest thy father, and his men, that they be strong me, and are chafed in minde as a beare robbed of her whelpes in the field: also thy father is a valiant warrior, and wil not lodge with the people.

9 Beholde, he is hid now in some caue, or in some place: and though some of them be ouerthrowen at the first, yet the people shal heare, and say, The people that followe Absalom, be <sup>h</sup> ouerthrowen.

10 Then he also that is valiant whose heart is as the heart of a lion, shal <sup>i</sup> shrinke and faint: for all Israel knoweth, that thy father is valiant, and they which be with him, stowte men.

11 Therefore my counsel is, that all Israel be gathered vnto thee, from Dan euen to Beer-sheba as the sand of the sea in number, and that thou go to battel in thine owne persone.

<sup>k</sup> Or, we wil cease against him.

12 So shal we come vpo him in some place, where we shal finde him, and <sup>k</sup> we wil vpo him as the dewe faileth on the ground: and of all the men that are with him, we wil not leaue him one.

13 Moreouer, if he be gotten into a citie, then shal all the men of Israel bring ropes to that citie, and we wil drawe it into the riuer, vntil there be not one smale stone found there.

<sup>n</sup> For by the counsel of Hushai he went to the battel where he was destroyed.

15 Then said Hushai vnto Zadok and to Abiathar the Priests, Of this and that manner did Ahithophel and the Elders of Israel counsel Absalom: and thus and thus haue I counseled.

16 Now therefore send quickly, and shewe

Dauid, saying, Tary not this night in the fieldes of the wildernes, but rather get thee <sup>o</sup> ouer, least the King be deuoured & all the people that are with him.

17 ¶ Now Ionathan and Ahimaz abode by En-rogel: (for they might not be sene to come into the citie) and a maid went, and tolde sthem, and they went and shewed King Dauid.

18 Neuertheles a yong man sawe them, and tolde it to Absalom. therefore they bothe departed quickly, & came to a mas house in Bahurim, who had a well in his court, into the which they went downe.

19 And <sup>r</sup> the wife toke and spred a couering ouer the welles mouth, and spred grounde corne thereon, that the thing shulde not be knowne.

20 And when Absaloms seruants came to the wife into the house, they said, Where is Ahimaz and Ionathan? And the woman answered them, They be gone ouer the <sup>s</sup> broke of water. And when they had sought them, and colde not finde them, they returned to Ierusalem.

21 And as sone as they were departed, the other came out of the well, and went and tolde King Dauid, and said vnto him, Vp, and get you quickly ouer the water: for <sup>t</sup> suche counsel hathe Ahithophel giuen against you.

22 Then Dauid arose, and all the people that were with him, and they went ouer Iordan <sup>u</sup> vntil the dawning of the day, so that there lacked not one of them, that was not come ouer Iordan.

<sup>u</sup> They traueled all night, & by morning had all their companie passed ouer.

23 ¶ Now when Ahithophel sawe that his counsel was not followed, he saddled his asse, and arose, and he went home vnto his citie, and put his household in ordre, and <sup>v</sup> hanged him selfe, and dyed, and was buried in his fathers graue.

<sup>v</sup> Gods iust vengeance eue in this life is poured on them, which are enemies, traitours, or persecuters of his Church.

24 ¶ Then Dauid came to Mahanaim. And Absalom passed ouer Iordan, he, and all the men of Israel with him.

25 And Absalom made Amasa capitaine of the hoste in the stead of Ioab: which Amasa was a mans sonne named Ithra an Israelite, that wet in to Abigail the daughter of <sup>w</sup> Nahash, sister to Zeruiah Iobas mother.

<sup>w</sup> Who was also called Ishai Dauids father.

26 So Israel and Absalom pitched in the land of Gilead.

27 ¶ And when Dauid was come to Mahanaim, Shobi the sonne of Nahash out of Rabbah of the children of Ammon, and Machir the sonne of Ammiel out of Lodebar, and Barzelai the Gileadite out of Rogel

28 <sup>x</sup> brought beds, and basens, and earthen vessels, and wheat, and barley, and floure, and parched corne, & beanes, and lentils, and parched corne.

<sup>x</sup> God sheweth his selfe moste liberale to his, when they seeme to be verely destitute.

29 And they broght hony, and butter, and shepe, and chese of kine for Dauid and for the people that were with him, to eat: for they said, The people is hungry, & weary, and thirstie in the wilderness.

CHAP. XVIII.

2 Dauid deuised his armie into thre partes. 9 Absalóm is hanged flaine, and cast in a pit. 33 Dauid lamenteth the death of Absalóm.

Then Dauid a nobred the people that were with him, & set ouer them captaines of thousands and captaines of hundredths.

2 And Dauid sent forthe the third parte of the people vnder the hand of Ioáb, and the third parte vnder the hand of Abishái Ioabs brother the sonne of Zeruiáh: and the other third parte vnder the hád of Ittái the Gittite. & the King said vnto the people, I wil go with you my selfe also.

3 But the people answered, Thou shalt not go forthe: for if we flee away, they wil not regarde vs, nether wil they passe for vs, thogh halfe of vs were flaine: but thou art now worthe tē thousand of vs: therefore now it is better that thou succour vs out of the citie.

4 Then the King said vnto them, What semeth you best, that I wil do. So y King stode by the gateside, and all the people came out by hundredths and by thousands.

5 And the King commanded Ioáb and Abishái, and Ittái, saying, Entreate the yong man Absalóm gently for my sake. and all the people hearde when the King gaue all the captaines charge concerning Absalóm.

6 So the people went out into the field to meete Israél, & the battel was in y wood of Ephraim:

7 Where the people of Israél were flaine before the seruants of Dauid: so there was a great slaughter that day, even of twentie thousand.

8 ¶ For the battel was skatred ouer all the countrey: and the wood deuoured muche more people that day, then did the sworde.

9 ¶ Now Absalóm met the seruants of Dauid, and Absalóm rode vpon a mule, and the mule came vnder a great thicke oke: and his head caught holde of the oke, and he was taken vp betwene the heauen and the earthe: & the mule that was vnder him went away.

10 And one that sawe it, tolde Ioáb, saying, Beholde, I sawe Absalóm hanged in an oke.

11 Then Ioáb said vnto the man that tolde him, And hast thou in dede sene? why then didest not thou there smite him to the ground, and I wolde haue giuen thee ten shekels of siluer, and a girdle?

12 Then the man said vnto Ioáb, Though I shulde receiue a thousand shekels of siluer in mine hád, yet wolde I not lay mine hád vpon the Kings sonne: for in our hearing the King charged thee, and Abishái, & Ittái, saying, Beware, lest anie touche the yong man Absalóm.

13 If I had done it, it had bene the danger of my life: for nothing can be hid frō the King: yea, y thy selfe woldest haue bene against me.

14 Then said Ioáb, I wil not thus tary with thee. And he toke thre dartes in his hand, & thrust them through Absalóm, while he was yet aliue in the middes of the oke.

15 And ten seruáts that bare Ioabs armour, compassed about and smote Absalóm, and slewe him.

16 Then Ioáb blew the trumpet, and the people returned from pursuing after Israél: for Ioáb helde backe the people.

17 And they toke Absalóm, and cast him into a great pit in the wood, and layed a mighty great heape of stones vpon him: and all Israél fled euerie one to his tent.

18 Now Absalóm in his life time had takē and reared him vp a pillar, which is in the Kings dale: for he said, I haue no sonne to kepe my name in remembrance. & he called y pillar after his owne name, and it is called vnto this day, Absaloms place.

19 ¶ Then said Ahimáaz the sonne of Zadók, I pray thee, let me runne, and beare the King tidings that the Lord hathe deliuered him out of the hand of his enemies.

20 And Ioáb said vnto him, Thou shalt not be y messenger to day, but thou shalt beare tidings another time, but to day thou shalt beare none: for the Kings sonne is dead.

21 Thē said Ioáb to Cushí, Go, tel the Kíng, what thou hast sene. And Cushí bowed him selfe vnto Ioáb, and ran.

22 Thē said Ahimáaz the sonne of Zadók againe to Ioáb, What, I pray thee, if I also runne after Cushí? And Ioáb said, Wherefore now wilt thou runne, my sonne, seing that thou hast no tidings to bring?

23 Yet what if I runne? Then he said vnto him, Rúne. So Ahimáaz ranne by the way of the plaine, and ouerwent Cushí.

24 Now Dauid sate betwene y two gates. And the watchman went to the toppe of the gate vpon the wall, & lift vp his eyes, and sawe, and beholde, a man came rúning alone.

25 And the watchman cryed, & tolde the King. And the King said, If he be alone, he bringeth tidings. And he came apase, and drewe nere.

For certain of y Reubenites, Gadites, & of the halie tribe, colde not beare the insolencie of y sonne against y father, & therefore ioyned with Dauid.

Signifying, y good gouernour ought to be so deare vnto his people, that they wil rather lose their liues, thē y oght shulde come vnto hi.

So called because y Ephraimites (as some say) fed their cattel beyōde Iordē in this wood.

This is a terrible example of Gods vengeance against them that are rebels or disobedient to their parents.

It semeth y God had punished hi, in taking away his children, Chap. 14. 27.

Ebr. iudged.

For Ioáb bare a good affection to Ahimáaz, & doubted how Dauid wold take the reporte of Absaloms death.

He sate in the gate of y citie of Mahanaim.

Ebr. tidings are in his mouth.

26 And the watchman sawe an other man running, and the watchman called vnto the porter, and said, Beholde, another man runneth alone. And the King said, He also bringeth tidings.

Ebr. I see the running.

27 And the watchman said, "Me thinketh the running of the for-most is liket he running of Ahimáaz the sonne of Zadók. Then the King said, He is a good man, & commeth with good tidings.

1 He had had experience of his fidelitie, Chap. 17. 21.

28 And Ahimáaz called, and said vnto the King, Peace be with thee; and he fel downe to the earth vpon his face before y King, and said, Blessed be the Lord thy God, who hath shut vp the men that lift vp their hands against my lord the King.

Or, deliuered 7p.

29 And the King said, Is the yong man Absalóm safe? And Ahimáaz answered, Whē Ioáb sent the Kings seruāt, and me tly seruāt, I sawe a great tumulte, but I knewe not what.

k To wit, Chusai, who was an Ethiopian.

30 And the King said vnto him, Turne aside, & stand here. so he turned aside and stode stil.

31 And beholde, Cushí came, and Cushí said, "Tidings, my lord the King: for the Lord hath deliuered thee this day out of the hand of all that rose against thee.

Ebr. tidings is brought.

32 Then the King said vnto Cushí, Is the yong man Absalóm safe? And Cushí answered, The enemies of my lord y King, & all that rise agaist thee to do thee hurt, be as that yong man is.

1 Because he considered bothe the iudgement of God against his sinne, & coldenot other wise but his fatherly affection toward his sonne.

33 And the King was moued, and went vp to the chamber ouer the gate, and wept: & as he went, thus he said, O my sonne Absalóm, my sonne, my sonne Absalóm: wolde God I had dyed for thee, o Absalóm, my sonne, my sonne.

CHAP. XIX.

7 Ioáb encourageth the King. 8 David is restored. 23 Shimei is pardoned. 24 Mephiboseth meeteth the King. 39 Barzilai departeth. 41 Israel striueth with Iudáh.

AND it was tolde Ioáb, Beholde, the King wepeth and mourneth for Absalóm.

Ebr. saluation, 2 Or, deliuerance.

Therefore the victorie of that day was turned into mourning to all the people: for the people heard say that day, The King sorroweth for his sonne.

Or, by Realitie.

3 And the people wēt that day into the citie secretly, as people confounded hide them selues when they flee in battel.

a As they do that mourne.

4 So the King hid his face, and the King cryed with a lowde voyce, My sonne Absalóm, Absalóm my sonne, my sonne.

b At Mahanah.

5 ¶ Then Ioáb came into the house to the King & said, Thou hast shamed this day the faces of all thy seruāts, which this day haue saued thy life, and the liues of thy sonnes and of thy daughters, and the liues of thy wiues, and the liues of thy concubines,

6 In that thou louest thine enemies, & hastest thy friendes: for thou hast declared this day, that thou regardest nether thy princes nor seruants: therefore this day I perceiue, that if Absalóm had liued, and we all had dyed this day, that thē it wolde haue pleased thee wel.

Or, captiuitie.

7 Now therefore vp, come out, and speake comfortably vnto thy seruāts: for I sweare by the Lord, except thou come out, there wil not tary one man with thee this night: and that wil be worse vnto thee, then all y euil that fel on thee from thy youthe hetherto.

Ebr. becometh in thine eyes.

Ebr. in the heart of thy seruants.

8 Then the King arose, & sate in the gate: and they tolde vnto all the people, saying, Beholde, the King doeth sit in the gate: & all the people came before the King: for Israel had fled euerie man to his tent.

c Where the moste reforme of the people wanted.

9 ¶ Then all the people were at strife throughout all the tribes of Israel, saying, The King saued vs out of the had of our enemies, & he deliuered vs out of the hand of the Philistims, and now he is fled out of the land for Absalóm.

d Euerie one blamed another & strou who shulde first bring him home.

10 And Absalóm, whome we anoited ouer vs, is dead in battel: therefore why are ye so slowe to bring the King againe?

11 But King David sent to Zadók and to Abiathár the Priests, saying, Speake vnto the Elders of Iudáh and say, Why are ye behind to bring y King againe to his house, (for the saying of all Israel is come vnto the King, euen to his house)

e That they shulde reprove the negligence of y Elders, seeing the people watcht forward.

12 Ye are my brethren: my bones and my flesh are ye: wherefore then are ye the last that bring the King againe?

13 Also say ye to Amasá, Art thou not my bone and my flesh? God do so, to me and more also, if thou be not capitaine of the hoste to me for euer in y troupe of Ioáb.

f By this pollicie David thought y by winning of the capitaine, he shulde haue y heartes of all the people.

14 So he bowed the heartes of all the men of Iudáh, as of one man: therefore they sent to the King, saying, Returne thou with all thy seruants.

15 ¶ So the King returned, & came to Iordén. And Iudáh came to Gilgál, for to go to meete the King, & to conduct him ouer Iordén.

16 ¶ And Shimei y sonne of Gerá, the sonne of Ieminí, which was of Bahurím, hastened & came downe with the men of Iudáh to meete King David, g Who had before reuiled him, Chap. 16. 23.

17 And a thousand men of Beniamín with him, and Zibá the seruāt of the house of Saúl, and his fiftene sonnes and twentie seruants with him: and they wēt ouer Iordén before y King.

Chap. 14. 2.

18 And there wēt ouer a bote to carie ouer the Kings housholde, and to do him pleasure. Then Shimei the sonne of Gerá fel before the King, when he was come ouer Iordén,

19 And

Chap. 16. 13.

<sup>h</sup> For in his aduersitie he was his moste cruell enemye, & now in his prosperitie seeketh by flatterie to creepe in to fauour
<sup>i</sup> By Ioseph he meaneth Ephraim, Manassé, and Benjamin (whereof he was) because these three were vnder one handerl, Numb 2. 18.

19 And said vnto <sup>y</sup> King, Let not my lord impute * wickednes vnto me, nor remember the thing that thy seruant did <sup>h</sup> wickedly when my lord the King departed out of Ierusalém, that <sup>y</sup> King shulde take it to his heart.

20 For thy seruāt doeth knowe, that I haue done amisse: therefore beholde, I am the first this day of all the house of <sup>i</sup> Ioséph, that am come to go downe to meete my lord the King.

21 But Abishai the sonne of Zeruiáh answered, and said, Shal not Shimeí dye for this, because he cursed the Lords anointed?

22 And Dauid said, What haue I to do with you, ye sonnes of Zeruiáh, that this day ye shulde be aduersaries vnto me? shal there anie man dye this day in Israél? for do not I knowe, that I am this day King ouer Israél?

23 Therefore the King said vnto Shimeí, Thou shalt not dye, and the King sware vnto him.

24 ¶ And Mephibósseth the sonne of Saúl came downe to meete the King, and had nether washed his feete, nor dressed his bearde, nor washed his clothes from the time the King departed, vntil he returned in peace.

25 And when * he was come to Ierusalém, & met the King, the King said vnto him, Wherefore wentest not thou with me, Mephibósseth?

26 And he answered, My lord the King, my seruant deceiued me: for thy seruant said, I wolde haue mine asse saddled to ride thereon for to go with the King, because thy seruant is lame.

Chap. 16. 3.

<sup>i</sup> Able for his wisdom to iudge in all matters.

27 And he hathe * accused thy seruant vnto my lord the King: but my lord <sup>y</sup> King is as an <sup>i</sup> Angel of God: do therefore thy pleasure.

28 For all my fathers house were <sup>m</sup> but dead men before my lord the King, yet didest thou set thy seruant among them <sup>y</sup> did eat at thine owne table: what right therefore haue I yet to crye anie more vnto the King?

29 And the King said vnto him, Why speakest thou anie more of thy matters? I haue said, Thou, and Zibá deuide the <sup>n</sup> lands.

30 And Mephibósseth said vnto <sup>y</sup> King, Yea, let him take all, seing my lord the King is come home in peace.

<sup>a</sup> Dauid did euil in taking his lands from him before he knewe <sup>y</sup> cause, but muche worse, that knowing the truth, he did not restore them.

31 ¶ Then Barzillái the Gileadite came downe from Rogelím, and went ouer Iordén with the King, to conduct him ouer Iordén.

32 Now Barzillái was a very aged man, euē fourescore yere olde, and he had prouided the King of sustenance, while he lay at Mahanaim: for he was a man of very great substance.

33 And the Kíg said vnto Barzillái, Come ouer with me, & I wil feede thee with me in Ierusalém.

34 And Barzillái said vnto <sup>y</sup> King, "How long haue I to lyue, that I shulde go vp with the King to Ierusalém?" <sup>He thought he not meete to receiue benefites of him to whome he was nor able to do seruice againe.</sup>

35 I am this day fourescore yere olde: and cá I discerne betwene good or euil? Hathe thy seruant anie taste in that I eat or in <sup>y</sup> I drinke? Can I heare anie more the voice of singing men and women? wherefore then shulde thy seruant be anie more a * burthen vnto my lord the King?

36 Thy seruant wil go a litle way ouer Iordén with the King, and why wil the King recompence it me with suche a rewarde?

<sup>4</sup> ¶ Thē said the King to <sup>e</sup> Amasá, Assemble me the mē of Iudáh within thre daies, and be thou here present.

<sup>5</sup> So Amasá wēt to assemble Iudáh, but he taried longer then the time which he had appointed him.

<sup>6</sup> Then Dauid said to Abishái, Now shal Shéba the sonne of Bichrí do vs more harme thē <sup>did</sup> Absalóm: take thou therefore thy flords seruants and followe after him, lest he get him walled cities, & escape vs.

<sup>7</sup> And there went out after him Iobabs mē, and the * Cherethites and the Pelethites, and all the mightie men: & thei departed out of Ierusalem, to followe after Shéba the sonne of Bichrí.

<sup>8</sup> Whē thei were at the great stone, which is in Gibeón, Amasá went before them, & Iobabs garment, that he had put on, was girded vnto him, & vpon it was a sworde girded, which hanged on his loines in the sheath, & as he went, it vsed to falle out.

<sup>9</sup> And Iobáb said to Amasá, Art thou in health, my brother? & Iobab toke Amasá by the beard with y<sup>e</sup> right hād to killē him.

<sup>10</sup> But Amasá toke no hede to the sworde that was in Iobabs hand: for therewith he smote him in the fift rib, and shed out his bowels to the ground, & <sup>11</sup> smote him not the seconde time: so he dyed. then Iobáb & Abishái his brother followed after Shéba the sonne of Bichrí.

<sup>12</sup> And Amasá wallowed in blood in the middes of the way: & when the man sawe that all the people stode stil, he remoued Amasá out of the way into y<sup>e</sup> field, & cast a cloth vpon him, because he sawe that euery one that came by him, stode stil.

<sup>13</sup> ¶ When he was remoued out of the way, euery man went after Iobáb, to followe after Shéba the sonne of Bichrí.

<sup>14</sup> And he went through all the tribes of Israel vnto Abél, and <sup>i</sup> Bethmaacháh and all places of Berim: and thei gathered together, and went also after him.

<sup>15</sup> So thei came, and besieged him in Abél, nere to Bethmaacháh: and thei cast vp a mount against the citie, & the people thereof stode on the ramper, and all the people that was with Iobáb, <sup>k</sup> destroyed and cast downe the wall.

<sup>16</sup> Then cryed a wise woman out of the citie, Heare, heare, I pray you, say vnto Iobáb, Come thou hither, that I may speake with thee.

<sup>17</sup> And when he came nere vnto her, the womā said, Art thou Iobáb? And he answered, Yea. And she said to him, Heare the wordes of thine handmayd. And he answered, I do heare.

<sup>19</sup> I am <sup>m</sup> one of them, that are peaceable & faithful in Israel: and thou goest about to destroye a citie, and a mother in Israel: why wilt thou deuoure the inheritance of the Lord?

<sup>20</sup> And Iobáb answered, & said, God forbid, God forbid it me, that I shulde deuoure, or destroye it.

<sup>21</sup> The <sup>n</sup> matter is not so, but a mā of mouēt Ephraím ( Shéba the sonne of Bichri by name ) hath lift vp his hand against the King, euen against Dauid: deliuer vs him onely, & I wil departe from the citie. And the woman said vnto Iobáb, Beholde, his head shalbe throwen to thee ouer the wall.

<sup>22</sup> Then the woman went vnto all the people with her wisdom, and thei cut of the head of Shéba the sonne of Bichrí, & cast it to Iobáb: then he blewe the trumpet, and <sup>23</sup> thei retired from the citie, euery man to his tent: and Iobáb returned to Ierusalem vnto the King.

3 And Dauid said vnto the Gibeonites, What shal I do for you, and wherewith shal I make the atonement, that ye may blesse the inheritance of the Lord?

4 The Gibeonites then answered him, We wil haue no siluer nor gold of Saúl nor of his house, nether for vs shalt thou kille anie man in Israël. And he said, What ye shal say, that wil I do for you.

5 Then they answered the King, The man that consumed vs and that imagined euil against vs, so that we are destroyed from remaining in anie coste of Israël,

6 Let seuen men of his sonnes be deliuered vnto vs, and we wil hang them vp vnto the Lord in Gibeáh of Saúl, the Lords chosen. And the King said, I wil giue them.

7 But the King had compassion on Mephibósseth the sone of Ionathán the sonne of Saúl, because of the Lords othe, that was betwene them, euen betwene Dauid and Ionathán the sonne of Saúl.

8 But the King toke the two sonnes of Rizpáh the daughter of Aiáh, whome she bare vnto Saúl, euen Armoni & Mephibósseth and the fiue sonnes of Michál, the daughter of Saúl, whome she bare to Abriél the sonne of Barzillái the Meholathite.

9 And he deliuered them vnto the hands of the Gibeonites, which háged them in the mountaine before the Lord: so they dyed all seuen together, and they were slaine in the time of haruest: in the first dayes, & in the beginning of barly haruest.

10 Then Rizpáh the daughter of Aiáh toke sackcloth & háged it vp for her vpō the rocke, from the beginning of haruest, vntil water dropped vpon them from the heauen, and suffred nether the birdes of the aire to light on them by day, nor beastes of the field by night.

11 And it was tolde Dauid, what Rizpáh the daughter of Aiáh the concubine of Saúl had done.

12 And Dauid went and toke the bones of Saúl and the bones of Ionathán his sonne from the citizens of Iabésh Gileád, which had stollen them from the strete of Bethshán, where the Philistims had handged them, when the Philistims had slaine Saúl in Gilbóa.

13 So he brought thence the bones of Saúl and the bones of Ionathán his sonne, and they gathered the bones of them that were hanged.

14 And the bones of Saúl and of Ionathán his sonne buried they in the countrei of Beniamín in Zeláh, in the graue of Kish his father: and when they had performed all that the King had commanded, God was then appeased with the land.

15 Againé the Philistims had warre with Israël: and Dauid went downe, and his seruants with him, and they foght against the Philistims, and Dauid fainted.

16 Then Ishi-benób which was of the sonnes of Harapháh (the head of whose speare wayed thre hundred shekels of brasse) eue he being girded with a newe sword, thought to haue slaine Dauid.

17 But Abishái the sonne of Zeruiáh succoured him, and smote the Philistim, and killed him. Then Dauids men sware vnto him, saying, Thou shalt go no more out with vs to battel, lest thou quenche the light of Israël.

18 And after this also there was a battel with the Philistims at Gob, then Sibbecháí the Hushathite slewe Saph, which was one of the sonnes of Harapháh.

19 And there was yet another battel in Gob with the Philistims, where Elhanáh the sonne of Iaare-oregím, a Bethlehemite slewe Goliath the Gittite: the staffe of whose speare was like a weauers beam.

20 Afterwarde there was also a battel in Gath, where was a man of a great stature, and had on euerie hand six fingers, and on euerie foote six toes, foure and twentie in number: who was also the sonne of Harapháh.

21 And when he reuiled Israël, Ionathán the sonne of Shimá the brother of Dauid slewe him.

22 These foure were borne to Harapháh in Gath, and dyed by the hand of Dauid and by the hands of his seruants.

Dauid after his victories praiseth God. & The angre of God toward the wicked. 44 He prophesieth of the reiectiō of the Iewes, and vocacion of the Gentiles.

1 And Dauid spake the wordes of this song vnto the Lord, what time the Lord had deliuered him out of the hands of all his enemies, and out of the hand of Saúl.

2 And he said, The Lord is my rocke and my fortresse, and he that deliuereth me.

3 God is my strength, in him wil I trust: my shield, and the horne of my saluacion, my hie towre and my refuge: my sauiour, thou hast saued me from violence,

4 I wil call on the Lord, who is worthy to be praised: so shal I be safe from mine enemies.

5 For the pangs of death haue compassed me: the floods of vngodlines haue made me afraide.

6 The sorowes of the graue compassed me about: the snares of death ouertoke me.

7 But in my tribulation did I call vpon the Lord, and crye to my God, & he did heare my voice out of his temple, & my crye did enter into his eares.

8 Then the earth trembled and quaked: the fundacions of the heauens moued, and shoke, because he was angry.

15 He shot arrowes also, and scatred them: <sup>i</sup> to wit, lightning, and destroyed them.

16 The <sup>i</sup> chanelles also of the sea appeared, <sup>h</sup> even the fundacions of the worlde were discouered by the rebuking of the Lord, and at the blast of the breath of his nostrels.

17 He sent from aboue, and toke me: he drew me out of manie waters.

18 He deliuered me from my strong enemy, and from thē that hated me: for they were to strong for me.

<sup>k</sup> I was so beset, that all my enemies seemed so faile.

19 They <sup>k</sup> preuented me in the day of my calamitie, but the Lord was my stay,

21 The Lord rewarded me according to my <sup>l</sup> righteousness: according to the purenes of mine hands he recompenced me.

22 For I kept the wayes of the Lord, and did not <sup>m</sup> wickedly against my God.

23 For all his lawes were before me, and his statutes: I did not departe therefrom.

24 I was vpriight also towarde him, and haue kept me from my wickednes.

25 Therefore the Lord did rewarde me, according to my righteousness, according to my purenes before his eyes.

26 With <sup>y</sup> godlie thou wilt shewe thy selfe godlie: with the vpriight man thou wilt shewe thy selfe vpriight.

27 With the pure thou wilt shewe thy selfe pure, and with the <sup>n</sup> frowarde thou wilt shewe thy selfe frowarde.

28 Thus thou wilt saue the poore people: but thine eyes are vpon the hautie to humble them.

29 Surely thou art my light, <sup>o</sup> Lord: and the Lord wil lighten my darknes.

30 For by thee haue I broken through an hoste, and by my God haue I leaped ouer a wall.

31 The way of God is <sup>o</sup> vncorrupt: the worde of the Lord is tryed in the fire: he is a shield to all that trust in him.

35 He teacheth mine hands to fight, so that a bowe of <sup>q</sup> brasse is broken with mine armes.

36 Thou hast also giuen me the shield of thy saluacion, and thy louing kindenes hath caused me to increase.

37 Thou hast enlarged my steppes vnder me, and mine heeles haue not slid.

38 I haue pursued mine enemies and destroyed them, and haue not turned againe vntil I had consumed them.

39 Yea, I haue consumed them and thrust them through, and they shal not arise, but shal fall vnder my feete.

40 For thou hast <sup>q</sup> girded me with power to battel, and them that arose against me, hast thou subdued vnder me.

<sup>q</sup> He acknowledged that God was the author of his victories, who gaue him strength.

41 And thou hast giuen me the neckes of mine enemies, that I might destroy them that hate me.

42 They looked about, but there was none to saue them, <sup>h</sup> even vnto the Lord, but he answered them not.

<sup>r</sup> The wicked in their needfullie are compelled to sit to God, but it is to late.

43 Then did I beate thē as small as the dust of the earth: I did tread them flat as the clay of the streete, and did spread them abroad.

44 Thou hast also deliuered me from the contēcions of my <sup>r</sup> people: thou hast preserved me to be the head ouer nacions: the people which I knewe not, do serue me.

45 Strangers <sup>r</sup> shalbe in subiection to me: as sone as they heare, they shal obey me.

46 Strangers shal shrinke away, and feare in their priue chambers.

47 Let the Lord liue, <sup>u</sup> and blessed be my strength: and God, <sup>h</sup> even the force of my saluacion be exalted.

THese also be the <sup>a</sup> last wordes of Dauid, Dauid the sonne of Ishái saith, euen the man who was set vp on hie, the Anointed of the God of Iakób, and the swete singer of Israél saith, <sup>a</sup> The Spirit of the Lord spake by me, and his worde was in my <sup>b</sup> tongue.

<sup>a</sup> For so shal not mine house be with God: for he hath made with me an euerlasting couenāt, perfite in all points, and sure: therefore all mine health and whole desire is, that he wil not make it <sup>d</sup> growe so.

<sup>d</sup> But that my kingdom may continue for euer accordig to his promes.

<sup>a</sup> But the wicked shal be euerie one as thornes thrust away, because they can not be taken with hands.

<sup>a</sup> But the man that shal touche them, must be defended with yron, or with the shaft of a speare: & they shal be burnt with fire in the same place.

<sup>a</sup> He arose and smote the Philistims vntil his hand was weary, and his hand <sup>g</sup> claue vnto the sworde: and the Lord gaue great victorie the same day, and the people returned after him onely to spoile.

<sup>a</sup> But he stode in the middes of the field, and defended it, and slewe the Philistims: so the Lord gaue <sup>h</sup> great victorie.

<sup>a</sup> And Dauid was then in an holde, and the garison of the Philistims was then in Beth-léhem.

<sup>a</sup> And Dauid <sup>i</sup> longed, and said, Oh, that one wolde giue me to drinke of the water of the well of Beth-léhem, which is by the gate.

<sup>a</sup> Thē the thre migty brake into the hoste of the Philistims, and drewe water out of the well of Beth-léhem that was by the gate, and toke & broght it to Dauid, who wolde not drinke thereof, but <sup>k</sup> powred it for an offring vnto the Lord, <sup>k</sup> Bridellg his affection, and also desiring God not to be offended for y<sup>e</sup> rash enterpri- se.

<sup>a</sup> And said, O Lord, be it far from me, that I shulde do this. Is not this y<sup>e</sup> blood of the men that wēt in ieopardy of their liues? therefore he wolde not drinke it. These things did these thre mighty men.

<sup>a</sup> And Abishái the brother of Ioáb, the sonne of Zeruiáh, was chief among y<sup>e</sup> thre, and he lifted vp his speare against thre hundred, and slewe them, and he had the name among the thre.

<sup>a</sup> For he was moste excellent of the thre, and was their captaine. but he attained not vnto the first thre.

<sup>a</sup> And Benaiáh the sonne of Iehoiadá the sonne of <sup>a</sup> a valiant man, which had done many actes, & was of Kabzeél, slewe two strong men of Moáb: he went downe also, and slewe a lion in the middes of a pit in the time of snowe.

David causeth the people to be nombred. 10 He repenteth, and chuseth to fall into Gods hands. 15 Seuentie thousand perish with the pestilence.

AND the wrath of the Lord was <sup>a</sup> againe kindled against Israél, and <sup>b</sup> he moued David against them, in that he said, Go, number Israél and Iudáh.

For the King said to Ioáb the captaine of the hoste, which was with him, Go speedely now through all the tribes of Israél, from Dan euen to Beer-sheba and number ye the people, that I may knowe the number of the people.

<sup>c</sup> Because he did this to trie his power and so to trust therein, it offended God, els it was lawfull to number y<sup>e</sup> people, Exod. 30. 12, Nomb. 1. 2.

And Ioáb said vnto the King, The Lord thy God increase the people an hundreth folde mo then they be, and that the eyes of my lord the King maye se it: but why doeth my lord the King desire this thing?

4 Notwithstanding the Kings worde preuailed against Ioáb & against the captaines of the hoste: therefore Ioáb & the captaines of the hoste went out from the presence of the King, to number the people of Israél.

5 And they passed ouer Iordén, and pitched in Aroer at the right side of the citie that is in the middes of the valley of Gad and toward Iazer.

6 Then thei came to Gileád, and to Tah-tim-hodshi, so they came to Dan Iaan, & so about to Zidon,

7 And came to the forteresse of Tyrus and to all the cities of the Hiuites and of the Canaanites, and went toward the South of Iudáh, euen to Beer-sheba.

8 So when they had gone about all the lād, they returned to Ierusalém at the end of nine moneths and twentie dayes.

<sup>g</sup> Accordig to Iobabs counte: for in all there were eleuen hundreth thousand, 1 Chro. 21. 5.

9 And Ioáb deliuered the number and summe of the people vnto the King: and there were in Israél <sup>d</sup> eight hundreth thousand strong men that drewe swordes, and the men of Iudáh were <sup>e</sup> fiue hundreth thousand men.

<sup>h</sup> Concluding vnder the Beniamites: for els they had but foure hundreth & seuen thousand, 1 Chro. 21. 5.

10 The Dauids heart smote him, after that he had nombred the people: and David said vnto the Lord, I haue sinned exceedingly in that I haue done: therefore now, Lord, I beseeche thee, take away the trespass of thy seruant: for I haue done very foolishly.

11 And when David was vp in the morning, the worde of the Lord came vnto the Prophet Gad Dauids seer, saying,

12 Go, and say vnto David, Thus sayth the Lord, I offre thee thre things, chose thee which of them I shal do vnto thee.

13 So Gad came to David, and shewed hi, and said vnto him, Wilt thou that s<sup>e</sup>uen yeres famine come vpon thee in thy land, or wilt thou flee thre moneths before thine enemies, they following thee, or that there be thre daies pestilence in thy land: now aduise thee, and se, what answer I shal giue to him that sent me.

<sup>k</sup> For 7 yeres of famine were past for the Gibionites: moneths was 4 yeres, to the which shalbe haue bene added other 3 yeres more, 1 Chro. 21. 12.

14 And David said vnto Gad, I am in a wonderful straite: let vs fall now into the hand of the Lord, (for his mercies are great) and let me not fall into the had of man.

15 So the Lord sent a pestilence in Israél, from the morning euen to the time appointed: and there dyed of the people from Dan euen to Beer-sheba seuentie thousand men.

16 And when the Angel stretched out his hand vpon Ierusalém to destroy it, the Lord repented of the euil, and said to the Angel that destroyed the people, It is sufficient, holde now thine hand. And the Angel of the Lord was by the threshing place of Araunáh the Iebusite.

17 And David spake vnto the Lord (when he sawe the Angel that smote the people) & said, Beholde, I haue sinned, yea, I haue done wickedly: but these shepe, what haue they done? let thine hand, I praye thee, be against me & against my fathers house.

<sup>o</sup> David sawe not y<sup>e</sup> iust cause, why God plagued y<sup>e</sup> people, & therefore he offered him selfe to Gods corrections, as the onely cause of this euil.

18 So Gad came the same day to David, and said vnto him, Go vp, reare an altar vnto the Lord in the threshing floore of Araunáh the Iebusite.

19 And David (according to the saying of Gad) went vp, as the Lord had commanded:

20 And Araunáh looked, and sawe the King and his seruants comming towarde him, and Araunáh went out, and bowed him selfe before the King on his face to the grounde, 21 And Araunáh said, Wherefore is my lord the King come to his seruant? Then David answered, To bye the threshing floore of thee, for to buyde an altar vnto the Lord, that the plague may cease from the people.

22 Then Araunáh said vnto David, Let my lord the King take and offer what semeth him good in his eyes: beholde the oxen for the burnt offering, and charrets, and the instruments of the oxen for wood.

23 All these things did Araunáh <sup>q</sup> as a King giue vnto the King: & Araunáh said vnto the King, The Lord thy God be fauorable vnto thee.

<sup>r</sup> That is, abundantly, for as some write, he was King of Ierusalém before Dauid came y<sup>e</sup> rowe.

24 Then

24 The King said vnto Araunáh, Not so, but I wil by it of thee at a price, & wil not offer burnt offering vnto the Lord my God of that which doeth cost me nothg. So Dauid bought the threshing floore, and the oxen for<sup>n</sup> fiftie shekels of siluer. And Dauid buylt there an altar vnto the Lord, and offered burnt offerings and peace offerings, & the Lord was appeased toward the land, & the plague cealed from Israél.

THE FIRST BOKE OF the Kings.

THE ARGUMENT.

BEcause the children of God shoulde loke for no continual rest and quietnes in this worlde, the holy Ghost setteth before our eyes in this boke the varietie and change of things, which came to the people of Israél from the death of Dauid, Salomón and the rest of the Kings, vnto the death of Ahab, declaring how that flourishing kingdomes, except they be preserved by Gods protection, (who then fauoreth them when his worde is truly set forth, vertue esteemed, vice punished and concorde mainteined) fall to decay and come to naught: as appeareth by the diuiding of the kingdome vnder Robohám, and Ierobohám, which before were but all one people, and now by the iuste punishment of God were made two, whereof Iudáh and Benjamin claue to Robohám: and this was called the kingdome of Iudáh, and the other ten tribes helde with Ierobohám, and this was called the kingdome of Israél. The King of Iudáh had his throne in Ierusalém, and the King of Israél in Samaria, after it was buylt by Amri Ahab's father. And because our Sauour Christ according to the flesh shoulde come of the stocke of Dauid, the genealogie of the Kings of Iudáh is here described, from Salomón to Ioram the sonne of Iosaphát, who reigned ouer Iudáh in Ierusalém, as Ahab did ouer Israél in Samaria.

CHAP. I.

3 Abihág kepeth Dauid in his extreme age. 5 Adoniah usurpeth the kingdome. 30 Salomón is anointed King. 50 Adoniah fleeth to the altar.

NOW when King Dauid was<sup>a</sup> olde, and stricken in yeres, they couered him wth clothes, but no<sup>b</sup> heate came vnto him.

Wherefore his seruáts said vnto him, Let there be sought for my lord the King a yong virgin, and let her stand before the King, and cherish him: & let her lye in thy bosome, that my lord the King may get heate.

3 So they sought for a faire yong maid throughout all the coastes of Israél, and founde one Abihág<sup>c</sup> a Shunammite, and brought her to the King.

4 And the maid was exceeding faire, & cherished the King, and ministred to him, but the King knewe her not.

5 ¶ Then Adoniah the sonne of Haggith exalted him selfe, saying, I wil be King. And he gaue him charcts and horsemen, & 50 men to runne before him.

6 And his father wolde not displease him fro his<sup>d</sup> childehode, to say, Why hast thou done so? And he was a very goodly mā, & his mother bare him next after Absalom.

7 And he toke counsel of Ioáb the sonne of Zeruiáh, and of Abiathár the Priest: & they<sup>e</sup> helped forward Adoniah.

8 But Zadók the Priest, and Benaiáh the sonne of Iehoiadá, and Nathán the Prophet, & Shimei, & Rei, & y<sup>e</sup> men of might w<sup>ere</sup> with Dauid, were not wth Adoniah.

9 Then Adoniah sacrificed shepe & oxen, and fat cattel by the stone of Zohéleth, which is by<sup>f</sup> En-rogel, and called all his brethren the Kings sonnes, & all the men of Iudáh the Kings seruants, 10 But Nathán the Prophet, & Benaiáh, and the<sup>g</sup> mighty men, and Salomón his brother he called not.

11 Wherefore Nathán spake vnto Bath-sheba the mother of Salomón, saying, Hast thou not heard, that Adoniah the sonne of Haggith doeth reigne, and Dauid our lord knoweth it not?

12 Now therefore come, & I wil now giue thee counsel, how to saue thine owne life, and the life of thy sonne Salomón.

13 Go, and get thee in vnto King Dauid, & say vnto him, didest not thou, my lord, o King, sweare vnto thine hádmaid, sayig, Assuredly Salomón thy sonne shal reigne after me, and he shal sit vpon my throne? why is then Adoniah King?

14 Beholde, while y<sup>e</sup> yet talkest there with the King, I also wil come in after thee, & h<sup>e</sup> confirme thy wordes.

15 ¶ So Bath-sheba went in vnto the King into y<sup>e</sup> chāber, & the King was very olde, and Abihág the Shunammite ministred vnto the King.

16 And Bath-sheba bowed and made obeisance vnto the King. And the King said, What is thy matter?

17 And she answered hi, My lord, thou swarest by the Lord thy God vnto thine handmaid, saying, Assuredly Salomón thy sonne shal reigne after me, and he shal sit vpon my throne.

18 And beholde, now is Adonijáh King, & now, my lord, o King, thou knowest it not.

19 And he hath offered many oxen, and fat cattel, and shepe, and hath called all the sonnes of the King, & Abiathár y Priest, & Ioáb the captaine of the hoste: but Salomón thy seruant hath he not bidden.

20 And thou, my lord, o King, knowest that the eyes of all Israël are on thee, that thou shuldest tel them, who shulde sit on the throne of my lord the King after him.

21 For els whē my lord the King shal slepe with his fathers, I and my sonne Salomón shal be reputed vile.

22 And lo, while she yet talked with the King, Nathán also the Prophet came in.

23 And they tolde the King, saying, Beholde, Nathán the Prophet. And when he was come in to y King, he made obeisance before the King vpon his face to the ground.

24 And Nathán said, My lord, o King, hast thou said, Adonijáh shal reigne after me, and he shal sit vpon my throne?

25 For he is gone downe this day, & hath slaine many oxen, and fat cattel, and shepe, and hath called all the Kings sonnes, & the captaines of the hoste, & Abiathár the Priest: and beholde, they eat & drinke before him, and say, "God saue King Adonijáh.

26 But me thy seruāt, and Zadók the Priest and Benaiáh the sonne of Iehoiadá, and thy seruāt Salomón hath he not called.

27 Is this thing done by my lord the King, & thou hast not shewed it vnto thy seruāt, who shulde sit on the throne of my lord the King after him?

28 ¶ Then King Dauid answered, & said, Call me Bath-sheba. And she came into y Kings presence, and stode before the King.

29 And the King sware, saying, As y Lord liueth, who hath redeemed my soule out of all aduersitie, 30 That as I sware vnto thee by the Lord God of Israël, saying, Assuredly Salomón thy sonne shal reigne after me, and he shal sit vpon my throne in my place, so wil I certainly do this day.

31 Then Bath-sheba bowed her face to the earth, & did reuerēce vnto y King, & said, God saue my lord King Dauid for euer.

32 ¶ And King Dauid said, Call me Zadók the Priest, and Nathán the Prophet, and Benaiáh the sonne of Iehoiadá. And they came before the King.

33 Then the King said vnto them, Take with you the seruants of your lord, and cause Salomón my sonne to ride vpon mine owne mule, & cary him downe to Gihón.

34 And let Zadók the Priest and Nathán the Prophet anoint him there King ouer Israël, and blowe ye the trumpet, and say, God saue King Salomón.

35 Then come vp after him, that he may come and sit vpon my throne: and he shal be King in my steade: for I haue appointed him to be prince ouer Israël and ouer Iudah.

36 Then Benaiáh the sonne of Iehoiadá answered the King, & said, So be it, & the Lord God of my lord the King ratifie it.

37 As the Lord hath bene with my lord y King, so be he with Salomón, & exalt his throne aboue the throne of my lord King Dauid.

38 So Zadók the Priest, and Nathán the Prophet, and Benaiáh the sonne of Iehoiadá, and the Cherethites & the Pelethites wēt downe, and caused Salomón to ride vpon King Dauids mule, and broght him to Gihón.

39 And Zadók the Priest toke an horne of poyl out of the Tabernacle, and anointed Salomón: and thei blew the trumpet, and all the people said, God saue King Salomón.

40 And all the people came vp after him, and the people piped with pipes & reioyced with great ioye, so that the earth rag with the sounde of them.

41 ¶ And Adonijáh and all the gestes that were with him, heard it: ( and they had made an end of eating ) and when Ioáb heard the sounde of the trumpet, he said, What meaneth this noise & vprore in the citie?

42 And as he yet spake, beholde, Ionathán the sonne of Abiathár the Priest came: & Adonijáh said, Come in: for y art a worthy man, and bringest good tidings.

43 And Ionathán answered, and said to Adonijáh, Verely our lord King Dauid hath made Salomón King.

44 And the King hath sent with him Zadók the Priest, and Nathán the Prophet, and Benaiáh the sonne of Iehoiadá, and the Cherethites, and the Pelethites, and they haue caused him to ride vpon the Kings mule.

45 And Zadók the Priest, and Nathán the Prophet haue anointed him King in Gihón: and thei are gone vp frō thence with ioye, and the citie is moued: this is the noise

47 And moreover the Kings seruants came to blesse our lord King Dauid, saying, God make the name of Salomón more famous then thy name, & exalt his throne aboue thy throne: therefore the King worshiped vpon the bed.

48 And thus said the King also, Blessed be the Lord God of Israel, who hath made one to sit on my throne this day, euen in my sight.

49 Then all the gesses that were with Adoniah, were affraid, and rose vp, & went euery man his waye.

50 And Adoniah fearing the presence of Salomón, arose and went, and toke holde on the hornes of the altar.

51 And one tolde Salomón, sayig, Beholde, Adoniah doeth feare King Salomón: for lo, he hath caught holde on the hornes of y altar, saying, Let King Salomón sweare vnto me this day, that he wil not slaye his seruant with the sworde.

52 The Salomón said, If he wil shewe him selfe a worthy man, there shal not an heere of him fall to the earth, but if wickednes be found in him, he shal dye.

53 The King Salomón sent, & thei broght him from the altar, and he came and did obeisance vnto King Salomón. And Salomón said vnto him, Go to thine house.

CHAP. II.

David exhorteth Salomón, and giueth charge concerning Ioáb, Barzillai, and Shimei. 10 The death of David. 17 Adoniah asketh Abishag to wife. 25 He is slayne. 35 Zadok was placed in Abiathars rounne.

Then the daies of Dauid drew nere that he shulde dye, and he charged Salomón his sonne, saying,

I go the waie of all the earth: be strong therefore, and shewe thy selfe a man,

And take hede to y charge of the Lord thy God, to walke in his waies, & kepe his statutes, & his comandements, & his iudgemets, & his testimonies, as it is written in the Lawe of Moses, that thou maiest prosper in all that thou doest, and in euery thing whereunto thou turnest thee,

That the Lord may confirme his worde which he spake vnto me, sayig, If thy sonnes take hede to their way, that thei walke before me in trueth, with all their hearts, and with all their soules, * thou shalt not (said he) want one of thy posteritie vpon the throne of Israel.

Thou knowest also what Ioáb the sonne of Zeruiáh did to me, and what he did to the two captaines of the hostes of Israel, vnto * Abner the sonne of Ner, and vnto * Amasa the sonne of Iether, whom he slewe, and shed blood of battel in peace, and * put the blood of warre vpon his girdle that was about his loynes, & in his shooes that were on his fecte.

Do therefore according to thy wisdom, and let thou nor his hoare head go downe to the graue in peace.

But shewe kindenes vnto the sonnes of * Barzillai the Gileadite, and let them be among them that eat at thy table: for so thei came to me when I fled from Absalom thy brother.

And beholde, with thee * Shimei the sonne of Gera, the sonne of Iemini, of Bahurim, which cursed me with an horrible curse in y day when I went to Mahanaim: but he came downe to meete me at Iordan, and I sware to him by the Lord, saying, I wil not slaye thee with the sworde. But thou shalt not count him innocent: for thou art a wise man, and knowest what thou oghdest to do vnto him: therefore y shalt cause his hoare head to go downe to the graue with s blood.

So * Dauid slept with his fathers, & was buried in the citie of Dauid.

And the daies which Dauid reigned vpon Israel, were fourtie yeres: seuen yeres reigned he in Hebron, and thirtie & thre yeres reigned he in Ierusalem.

And Adoniah the sonne of Haggith came to Bathsheba the mother of Salomón: and she said, Comcest thou peaceably? And he said, Yea.

He said moreover, I haue a sute vnto thee. And she said, Say on.

Then he said, Thou knowest that the kingdome was mine, and that all Israel set their faces on me, that I shulde reigne: howbeit the kingdome is turned away, & is my brothers: for it came to him by the Lord.

Now therefore I aske thee one request, refuse me not. And she said vnto him, Say on.

And he said, Speake, I pray thee, vnto Salomón the King, (for he wil not say thee naye) that he giue me Abishag the Shunammite to wife.

And Bathsheba said, Wel, I wil speake for thee vnto the King.

Bathsheba therefore went vnto King Salomón, to speake vnto him for Adoniah: and the King rose to meete her, and bowed him selfe vnto her, & sate downe on his throne: and he caused a seat to be set for the Kings mother, and she sate at his right hand.

Then she said, I desire a smale request of thee, say me not naye: Then the King said vnto her, Aske on, my mother: for I will not say thee naye. 21 She said the, Let Abishag the Shunamite be giue to Adonijah thy brother to wife. 22 But King Salomon answered and said vnto his mother, And why doest y<sup>e</sup> aske Abishag y<sup>e</sup> Shunamite for Adonijah aske for him the kingdom also: for he is mine elder brother, & hath for him bothe Abiathar the Priest, and Ioab the sonne of Zeruiab. 23 The King Salomon sware by the Lord, saying, God do so to me and more also, if Adonijah hath not spoken this worde against his owne life. 24 Now therefore as the Lord liueth, who hath established me, and set me on the throne of Dauid my father, who also hath made me an house, as he promised, Adonijah shall surely dye this day. 25 And King Salomon sent by the hand of Benaiab the sonne of Iehoiada, and he smote him that he dyed. 26 ¶ Then the King said vnto Abiathar the Priest, Go to Anathoth vnto thine owne fields: for thou art not worthy of death: but I wil not this day kil thee, because thou hast bareft the Arke of the Lord God before Dauid my father, & because thou hast suffred in all, wherein my father hath bene afflicted. 27 So Salomon cast out Abiathar from being Priest vnto the Lord, that he might fulfil the wordes of the Lord, which he spake against the house of Eli in Shiloh. 28 ¶ Then tidings came to Ioab: (for Ioab had turned after Adonijah, but he turned not after Abisalom) and Ioab fled vnto the Tabernacle of the Lord, & caught holde on the hornes of the altar. 29 And it was tolde King Salomon, that Ioab was fled vnto the Tabernacle of the Lord, & beholde, he is by the altar. The King Salomon sent Benaiab the sonne of Iehoiada, saying, Go, fall vpon him. 30 And Benaiab came to the Tabernacle of the Lord, & said vnto him, Thus saith the King, Come out. And he said, Naye, but I wil dye here. Then Benaiab broght the King worde againe, saying, Thus said Ioab, and thus he answered me. 31 And the King said vnto him, Do as he hath said, and smite him, & burye him, y<sup>e</sup> thou maiest take away the blood, which Ioab shed causeles, from me and from the house of my father. 32 And the Lord shall bring his blood vpon his owne head: for he smote two me more righteous & better then he, & slewe them with the sward, and my father Dauid knewe not: to wit, Abner y<sup>e</sup> sonne of Ner, captaine of the hoste of Israel, and Amasa the sonne of Iether captaine of the hoste of Iudah.

33 Their blood shall therefore returne vpon the head of Ioab, and on the head of his sedit for euer: but vpon Dauid, and vpon his sedit, and vpon his house, and vpon his throne shall there be peace for euer fro the Lord. 34 So Benaiab the sonne of Iehoiada went vp, and smote him, and slewe him, and he was buried in his owne house in the wilderness. 35 And the King put Benaiab the sonne of Iehoiada in his rouse ouer y<sup>e</sup> holste: & the King set Zadok the Priest in the rouse of Abiathar. 36 ¶ Afterwarde the King sent, and called Shimei, and said vnto him, Buylde thee an house in Ierusalem, and dwell there, & departe not thence anie whether. 37 For that day that thou goest out, & passest ouer the riuer of Kidron, knowe assuredly, that thou shalt dye the death: thy blood shall be vpon thine owne head. 38 And Shimei said vnto the King, The thing is good: as my lord the King hath said, so wil thy seruants do. So Shimei dwelt in Ierusalem many dayes. 39 And after thre yeres two of the seruants of Shimei fled away vnto Achish sonne of Maachah King of Gath: & thei tolde Shimei, saying, Beholde, thy seruants be in Gath. 40 And Shimei arose, and saddled his asse, and went to Gath to Achish, to seke his seruants: and Shimei went, and broght his seruants from Gath. 41 And it was tolde Salomon, that Shimei had gone from Ierusalem to Gath, & was come againe. 42 And the King sent and called Shimei, & said vnto him, Did I not make thee to sweare by y<sup>e</sup> Lord, & protested vnto thee, saying, That day that thou goest out, and walkest anie whether, knowe assuredly y<sup>e</sup> thou shalt dye the death? And thou saidest vnto me, The thing is good, that I haue heard. 43 Why then hast thou not kept the othe of the Lord, & the comendement wherewith I charged thee? 44 The King said also to Shimei, Thou knowest all the wickednes wherunto thine heart is priuie, that thou didest to Dauid my father: the Lord therefore shall bring thy wickednes vpon thine owne head. 45 And let King Salomon be blessed, and the throne of Dauid established before the Lord for euer. 46 So the King commanded Benaiab the sonne of Iehoiada: who went out & smote him that he dyed: And the kingdom was established in the hand of Salomon.

Ioab shall iustly punished for the blood that he hath cruelly shed.

And for toke the office of y<sup>e</sup> Priest fro the house of Eli, & restored it to y<sup>e</sup> house of Phinehas.

Thus God appointed the wages & merces to bring his iust iudgements vpon the wicked.

His conuictious minde moued him rather to venture his life, than to lose his worldly profit, which he had by his seruants.

For though y<sup>e</sup> wildest denie, yet thine owne conscience would accuse thee, for reuiling & doing wrong to my father, 2 Sam. 16. 5.

Salomon made affinitye with Pharaoh King of Egypt, and toke Pharaohs daughter, and brought her into the citie of David, vntil he had made an end of buylding his owne house, and the house of the Lord, and the wall of Ierusalem round about.

Onely the people sacrificed in the high places, because there was no house buylt vnto the Name of the Lord, vntil those dayes.

And Salomon loued the Lord, walking in the ordinances of David his father; onely he sacrificed and offered incense in the high places.

And the King went to Gibeon to sacrifice there, for that was the chief high place: a thousand burnt offerings did Salomon offer vpon that altar.

In Gibeon the Lord appeared to Salomon in a dreame by night: and God said, Aske what I shal giue thee.

And Salomon said, Thou hast shewed vnto thy seruant David my father great mercy, when he walked before thee in truth, & in righteousness, and in vprightnes of heart with thee: & thou hast kept for him this great mercy, and hast giuen him a sonne, to sit on his throne, as appeareth this day.

And now, O Lord, my God, thou hast made thy seruant King in stead of David my father: and I am but a yong childe, and knowe not how to go out and in.

And thy seruant is in the middes of thy people, which thou hast chosen, euen a great people which cannot be tolde nor numbered for multitude.

Giue therefore vnto thy seruant an vnderstanding heart, to iudge thy people, that I may discerne betwene good & bad: for who is able to iudge this thy & mighty people?

And this pleased the Lord wel, that Salomon had desired this thing.

And God said vnto him, Because thou hast asked this thing, & hast not asked for thy selfe long life, nether hast asked riches for thy selfe, nor hast asked thy life of thine enemies, but hast asked for thy selfe vnderstanding to heare iudgement, Beholde, I haue done according to thy wordes: lo, I haue giuen thee a wife and an vnderstanding heart, so that there hath bene none like thee before thee, nether after thee shal arise the like vnto thee.

And I haue also giuen thee that, which thou hast not asked, bothe riches and honour, so that among the Kings there shal be none like vnto thee all thy dayes.

And if thou wilt walke in my wayes, to kepe mine ordinances and my commandements, as thy father David did walke, I wil prolong thy dayes.

And when Salomon awoke, beholde, it was a dreame, and he came to Ierusalem, and stode before the Arke of the covenant of the Lord, and offered burnt offerings and made peace offerings, and made a feast to all his seruants.

Then came two harlots vnto the King, and stode before him.

And the one woman said, Oh my lord, I & this woman dwel in one house, & I was deliuered of a childe with her in my house.

And the third day after that I was deliuered, this woman was deliuered also: and we were in the house together: no stranger was with vs in the house, saue we twaine.

And this womans sonne dyed in the night: for she ouerlay him.

And she rose at midnight, and toke my sonne from my side, while thine handmaid slept, & layed him in her bosome, & layed her dead sonne in my bosome.

And when I rose in the morning to giue my sonne sucke, beholde, he was dead: and when I had wel considered him in the morning, beholde, it was not my sonne, whome I had borne.

Then the other woman said, Nay, but my sonne liueth, and thy sonne is dead: againe she said, No, but thy sonne is dead, & mine aliue: thus they spake before the King.

The said the King, She sayth, this that liueth is my sonne, & the dead is thy sonne: and the other sayth, Nay, but the dead is thy sonne, and the liuing is my sonne.

Then the King said, Bring me a sworde: & they brought out a sworde before the King.

And the King said, Deuide ye the liuing childe in twaine, and giue the one halfe to the one, and the other halfe to the other.

Then spake the woman, whose the liuing childe was, vnto the King, for her compassion was kindled toward her sonne, & she said, Oh my lord, giue her the liuing childe, and slay him not: but the other said, Let it be neither mine nor thine, but deuide it.

Then the King answered, & said, Giue her the liuing childe, and slay him not: this is his mother.

And all Israel heard the iudgement, which the King had iudged, and they feared the King: for they sawe that the wisdom of God was in him to do iustice.

The princes and rulers vnder Salomon. 23 The purveyance for his vittalles. 26 The number of his horses. 32 His books and writings.

1 And King Salomón was King ouer all Israël.

2 And these were his princes, b Azariáh the sonne of Zadók the Priest, a Elihóreph and Ahiáh the sonnes of Shishá scribes, Iehóshaphát the sonne of Ahilúd, the recorder,

3 And Benziáh the sonne of Iehoiadá was ouer the hoste, and Sadók and Abiathár Priests,

4 And Azariáh the sonne of Nathán was ouer the officers, and Zabúð the sonne of Nathán Priest was the Kings friend,

5 And Ahishár was ouer the housholde: & Adonirám the sonne of Abdá was ouer the tribute.

6 And Salomón had twelue officers ouer all Israël, which prouided vitailles for the King and his housholde: eche man had a moneth in the yere to prouide vitailles.

7 And these are their names: the sonne of Har in mount Ephráim:

8 The sonne of Dekár in Makáz, and in Shaaibím and Beth-shémesh, and 10r, Elón in Beth-anán. Elón and Beth-hanán:

9 The sonne of Héfed in Arubóth, to whome pertained Sochóh, & all the land of Hépher:

10 The sonne of Abinadáb in all the regiõ of Dor, which had Tapháth the daughter of Salomón to wife.

11 Baaná the sonne of Ahilúd in Taanách, and Megiddó, & in all Beth-sheán, which is by Zaitánah beneth Izreél, from Beth-sheán to Abel-meholáh, euen til beyonde ouer against Iokmeám:

12 The sonne of Géber in Ramóth Gilcád, & his were the townes of d Iair, the sonne of Manasséh, which are in Gileád, and vnder him was the regiõ of Argób which is in Bashán: threescore great cities with walles and barres of brasle.

13 Ahinadáb the sonne of Iddó had to Mahanáim:

14 Ahimáaz in Naphtalí, and he toke Basmath the daughter of Salomón to wife:

15 Baaná the sonne of Hushái in Ashér and in Alóth:

16 Iehoshaphát the sonne of Parúah in Issachár.

17 Shimeí the sonne of Eláh in Beniamín:

18 Góber the sonne of Vrí in the countrei of Gileád, the land of Sihón King of the Amorites, and of Og King of Bashán, and was officer alone in the land.

19 Iudáh and Israël were manie, as the sand of the sea in number, f eating, drinking, and making meary.

20 And Salomón reigned ouer all kingdomes, from the g Riuer vnto the land of the Philistims, and vnto the border of Egypt, and they brought presentes, and serued Salomón all the dayes of his life.

21 And Salomons vitailles for one day were thirtie measures of fine floure, and threescore measures of meales

22 Ten fat oxen, and twentie oxen of the pastures, and an hundreth shepe, beside hartes, and buckes, and bugles, and fat foule.

23 For he ruled in all the region on the other side of the Riuer, from Tiphsáh euen vnto Azzáh, ouer all the Kings on the other side the Riuer: & he had peace rōde about him on euerie side.

24 And Iudáh and Israël dwelt without feare, euerie man vnder his vine, and vnder his figtre, from Dan, euen to Beer-sheba, all the dayes of Salomón.

25 And Salomón had fortie thousand stables of horses for his charrets, and twelue thousand horsemen.

26 And these officers prouided vitaille for King Salomón, and for all that came to King Salomons table, euerie man his moneth, and they suffred to lacke nothing.

27 Barly also and strawe for the horses and mules broght they vnto the place where the officers were, euerie man according to his charge.

28 And God gaue Salomón wisdome and vnderstanding exceeding muche, and a large heart, euen as the sand that is on the sea shore.

29 And Salomons wisdome excelled the wisdome of all the children of the East and all the wisdome of Egypt.

30 For he was wiser then anie man: yea, then were Ethán the Ezrahite, then Hemán, then Chalcól, then Dardá the sonnes of Mahól: and he was famous throughout all nacions rōde about.

31 And Salomón spake thre thousand proverbes: and his songs were a thousand and fise.

32 And he spake of trees, from the cedar tre that is in Lebanón, euen vnto the hyssope that springeth out of the wall: he spake also of beastes, and of foules, and of creping things, and of fishes.

33 And there came of all people to heare the wisdome of Salomón, frō all Kings of the earth, which had heard of his wisdome.

4 But now the Lord my God hath giuen me<sup>a</sup> rest on euerie side, so that there is neither aduersarie, nor euil to resiste.

5 And beholde, I purpose to buylde an house vnto the Name of the Lord my God, as the Lord spake vnto Dauid my father, saying, Thy sonne, whome I wil set vpon thy throne for thee, he shal buylde an house vnto my Name.

6 Now therefore comande, that they hewe me cedar trees out of Lebanón, and my seruants shal be with thy seruants, and vnto thee wil I giue the<sup>b</sup> hire for thy seruants, according to all that thou shalt appoint: for thou knowest that there are none amōg vs, that can hewe timbre like vnto the Sidonians.

7 ¶ And when<sup>c</sup> Hirám heard the wordes of Salomón, he reioyced greatly, and said, Blessed be the Lord this day, which hath giuen vnto Dauid a wise sonne ouer this mightie people.

8 And Hirám sent to Salomón, saying, I haue considered the things, for the which thou sentest vnto me, and wil accomplish all thy desire, concerning the cedar trees and firre trees.

9 My seruants shal bring them downe from Lebanón to the sea: and I wil conuie the<sup>b</sup> by sea<sup>d</sup> in rafts vnto the place that thou shalt shewe me, and wil cause them to be discharged there, and thou shalt receyue them: now thou shalt do me a pleasure to minister foode for<sup>e</sup> my familie.

10 So Hirám gaue Salomón cedar trees & firre trees, euen his ful desire.

11 And Salomón gaue Hirám twētie thousand<sup>f</sup> measures of wheat for foode to his housholde, and twētie measures of<sup>g</sup> beaten oyle. Thus muche gaue Salomón to Hirám yere by yere.

12 ¶ And y<sup>h</sup> Lord gaue Salomón wisdome as he<sup>i</sup> promised him. And there was peace betwene Hirám and Salomón, and they<sup>j</sup> two made a couenant.

13 ¶ And King Salomón raised a summe out of all Israël, and the summe was thirty thousand men:

14 Whome he sent to Lebanón, ten thousand a moneth by course: they were a moneth in Lebanón, & two moneths at home. And<sup>k</sup> Adonirám was ouer the summe.

15 And Salomón had seuentie thousand that bare burdens, & fourescore thousand masons in the mountaine, appointed ouer the worke, euen thre thousand and thre hundred, which ruled the people that wrought in the worke.

17 And the King commanded them, & they brought great stones and costly stones to make the fundacion of the house, euen hewed stones.

18 And Salomons workemen, & the workemen of Hirám, and the<sup>m</sup> masons hewed & prepared timbre and stones for the buylding of the house.

CHAP. VI.

1 The buylding of the Temple and the forme thereof.
12 The promises of the Lord to Salomón.

1 And<sup>n</sup> in the foure hundredth and foure score yere (after the children of Israël were come out of the land of Egypt) and in the fourth yere of the reigne of Salomón ouer Israël, in the moneth<sup>o</sup> Zif<sup>p</sup> (which is the seconde moneth) he buylt the<sup>q</sup> house of the Lord.

2 And the house which Kig Salomón buylt for the Lord, was thre score cubites long, & twentie broade, and thirty cubites hie.

3 And the<sup>r</sup> porche before the Temple of the house was twentie cubites long according to the breadth of the house, and ten cubites broade before the house.

4 And in the house he made windowes, broade without, and narowe within.

5 And by the wall of the house he made<sup>s</sup> galleries rounde about, euen by the walles of the house rounde about the Temple and<sup>t</sup> the oracle, and made chambres rounde about.

6 The nethermost gallerie was fiue cubites broade, and the middlemost six cubites broade, & the thirde seuē cubites broade: for he made<sup>u</sup> restes rounde about without the house, that the beames shulde not be fastened in the walles of the house.

7 And whē the house was buylt, it was buylt of stone perfit, before it was brought, so that there was neither hammer, nor axe, nor any toole of yron heard in the house, while it was in buylding.

8 The dore of the middle<sup>v</sup> chambre was in the right side of the house, & men went vp with winding steires into the middlemost, and out of the middlemost into the third.

9 So he buylt the<sup>w</sup> house and finished it, & cieled the house being vawted with cieiling of cedar trees.

10 And he buylt the galleries vpon all the wall of the house of fiue cubites height, & they were ioyned to the house with beames of cedar.

11 And the worde of the Lord came to Salomón, saying,

16. And he buylt twentie cubites in the sides of the house with bordes of cedre, from the floore to the walles, and he prepared a place within it for the oracle, <sup>enro</sup> the moste holy place.

17. But the house, that is, the temple before it was fourtie cubites long.

18. And the cedre of the house within was kerued with knoppes, and grauen with flowres: all was cedre, so that no stone was sene.

19. Also he prepared the place of the oracle in the middes of the house within, to set the Arke of the couenant of the Lord there.

20. And the place of the oracle within was twentie cubites long, and twentie cubites broad, and twentie cubites hie, and he couered it with pure golde, and couered the altar with cedre.

21. So Salomon couered the house within with pure golde: and he shut the place of the oracle with chaines of golde, and couered it with golde.

22. And he ouerlaid the house with golde, vntil all the house was made perfite. also he couered the whole altar, that was before the oracle, with golde.

25 Also the other Cherub was of ten cubites: bothe y Cherubims were of one measure and one syse.

26 For the height of the one Cherub was ten cubites, and so was the other Cherub.

27 And he put the Cherubims within the inner house, and the Cherubims stretched out their wings, so that the wing of y one touched the one wall, and the wing of the other Cherub touched the other wall: and their other wings touched one another in the middes of the house.

28 And he ouerlaid the Cherubims with 32 The two dores also were of oliue tre, & he graued them with grauing of Cherubims and palme trees, and grauen flowres, and couered the with golde, & laied thin golde vpon the Cherubims and vpon the palme trees.

33 And so made he for the dore of the Temple postes of oliue tre four square.

34 But the two dores were of firre tre, the two sides of the one dore were rounde, & the two sides of y other dore were round.

G In y middes were two rowes of pomegranates: y rest is the networke & flowre delices of roses.

17 He made grates like networke, & wroth worke like chaines for the chapters that were on the toppe of the pillars, euen seven for the one chapter, & seven for the other chapter.

18 So he made the pillars and two rowes of pomegranates rounde about in the one grate to couer the chapters that were vpon the toppe. And thus did he for the other chapter.

19 And the chapters that were on y toppe of the pillars were after <sup>k</sup> lilye worke in the porche, foure cubites.

20 And the chapters vpon the two pillars had also aboue, <sup>l</sup> ouer against the bellie within y networke pomegranates: for two hundreth pomegranates were in the two rankes about vpon ether of the chapters.

21 And he set vp the pillars in the <sup>1</sup> porche of y Temple. And when he had set vp the right pillar, he called the name thereof <sup>m</sup> Iachin: and when he had set vp the left pillar, he called the name thereof <sup>n</sup> Boaz.

22 And vpon the top of the pillars was worke of lilyes: so was the workemanship of the pillars finished.

23 ¶ And he made a molten <sup>o</sup> sea ten cubites wide from brim to brim, round in compass, and five cubites hie, and a line of thirtie cubites did compass it about.

3 And it was couered aboue with cedre vpon the beames, that lay on the fourtie & fiue pillars, fiftene in a rowe.

4 And the windowes were in thre rowes, & windowe was <sup>c</sup> against windowe in thre rankes.

5 And all the dores, and the side postes with the windowes were foure square, & windowe was ouer against windowe in thre rankes.

6 And he made a porche of pillars fiftie cubites long, and thirtie cubites broade, and the porche was before <sup>d</sup> them, euen before them were thirtie pillars.

7 ¶ Then he made a porche <sup>e</sup> for the throne, where he iudged, euen a porche of iudgement, & it was cieled with cedre from pauement to pauement.

8 And in his house, where he dwelt, was an other hall more inwarde then the porche w was of the same worke. Also Salomon made an house for Pharaohs daughter (<sup>f</sup> whome he had taken to wife) like vnto this porche.

9 All these were <sup>g</sup> of costely stones, hewed by measure, and sawed with sawes within and without, from the fundacion vnto <sup>h</sup> the stones of an hand breadth, & on the outside to the great court.

10 And the fundacio was of costely stones, & great stones, euen of stones of ten cubites, and stones of eight cubites.

11 & Aboue also were costely stones, squared by rule, and boardes of cedre.

12 ¶ And the great court round about was with thre rowes of hewed stones, and a rowe of cedre beames: <sup>h</sup> so was it to the inner court of the house of the Lord, & to the porche of the house.

13 ¶ Then King Salomon sent, and set one Hiram out of <sup>i</sup> Tyus.

14 He was a widowes sonne of the tribe of Naphtali, his father being a ma of Tyus, and wrought in brasie: <sup>j</sup> he was ful of wisdom, and vnderstanding, & knowledge to worke all maner of worke in brasie: who came to King Salomon, and wrought all his worke.

15 ¶ For he cast two pillars of brasie: the height of a pillar was eightene cubites, & a threade of twelue cubites did compass ether of the pillars.

16 And he made two <sup>k</sup> chapters of molten brasie to set on the toppes of the pillars: the height of one of the chapters was fiue cubites, and the height of the other chapter was fiue cubites.

32 And vnder the borders were foure wheles, and the axeltrees of the wheles ioyned to the base: and the height of a whele was a cubite and halfe a cubite.

33 And the facion of the wheles was like the facion of a charret whele, their axeltrees, and their naues and their felloes, & their spokes were all molten.

34 And foure vnder setters were vpon the foure corners of one base: & the vnder setters thereof were of the base it selfe.

47 And Salomón left to weigh all the vessels because of the exceding abundance, nether colde the weight of the brasle be counted.

48 So Salomón made all the vessels that pertained vnto the house of the Lord, the golden altar, and the golden table, whereon the shewbread was,

49 And the candelstickes, siue at the right side, and siue at the left, before the oracle of pure golde, and the flowres, and the lápes, and the snuffers of golde,

4 The Arke is borne into the Tēple. 10 A cloude filleth the Temple. 15 The King blisseth the people.

¶ Then King Salomón assembled the Elders of Israél, euen all the heads of the tribes, the chief fathers of the childre of Israél vnto him in Ierusalém, for to bring vp the Arke of the couenant of the Lord from the citie of David, which is Zión.

2 And all the mē of Israél assembled vnto King Salomón at the feast in the moneth of Ethanim, which is the seuēth moneth.

3 And all the Elders of Israél came & the Priests toke the Arke.

4 They bare the Arke of the Lord, and thei bare y Tabernacle of the Congregation, & all the holy vessels that were in the Tabernacle: those did the Priests & Leuites bring vp.

5 And King Salomón and all the Congregation of Israél, that were assembled vnto him, were with him before the Arke, offering shepe & beeces, which colde not be tolde, nor nombred for multitude.

13 I haue buylt thee an house to dwel in, an habitation for thee to abide in for <sup>f</sup> euer.

14 ¶ And the King turned his face, & blessed all the Congregation of Israel: for all the Congregation of Israel stode <sup>there</sup>.

15 And he said, Blessed be the Lord God of Israel, who spake with his mouth vnto Dauid my father, and hath with his hād fulfilled it, saying, 16 Since the day that I brought my people Israel out of Egypt, I chose no citie of all <sup>y</sup> tribes of Israel, to buylde an house that my Name might be there: but I haue chosen * Dauid to be ouer my people Israel.

17 And it was in the heart of Dauid my father to buylde an house to the Name of the Lord God of Israel.

18 And the Lord said vnto Dauid my father, Where as it was in thine heart to buylde an house vnto my Name, thou didst wel, that thou wast so minded:

19 Neuertheles thou shalt not buylde the house, but thy sonne, that shal come out of thy loynes, he shal buylde the house vnto my Name.

20 And the Lord hath made <sup>g</sup> good his worde that he spake: and I am risen vp in the rōume of Dauid my father, and sit on <sup>y</sup> throne of Israel, as the Lord promised, and haue buylt the house for the Name of the Lord God of Israel.

21 And I haue prepared therein a place for the Arke, wherein is the <sup>g</sup> couenant of the Lord which he made with our fathers, whē he brought the out of <sup>y</sup> lād of Egypt.

22 ¶ Then Salomōn stode before * the altar of the Lord in the sight of all the Congregation of Israel, and stretched out his hands toward heauen,

23 And said, * O Lord God of Israel, there is no god like thee in heauen aboue, or in the earth beneth, thou that kepest couenāt & mercy with thy seruants that walke before thee with <sup>h</sup> all their heart, 24 Thou that hast kept with thy seruant Dauid my father, that thou hast promised him: for thou spakest with thy mouth & hast fulfilled it with thine hand, as appeareth this day.

25 Therefore now, Lord God of Israel, kepe with thy seruāt Dauid my father that thou hast promised him, saying, * Thou shalt not want a man in my sight to sit vpon <sup>y</sup> throne of Israel: so that thy children take hede to their way, that they walke before me, as thou hast walked in my sight.

26 And now, <sup>o</sup> God of Israel, I pray thee, let thy worde be verified, which thou spakest vnto thy seruant Dauid my father.

27 <sup>i</sup> Is it true in dede that God wil dwel on the earth: beholde, the heauens, & the heuens of heauens are not able to containe thee: how muche more <sup>v</sup>nable is this house that I haue buylt?

28 But haue thou respect vnto the prayer of thy seruant, and to his supplication, <sup>o</sup> Lord, my God, to heare the crye & prayer which thy seruant prayeth before thee this day:

29 That thine eyes may be open toward this house, night and day, <sup>e</sup>uen toward the place whereof thou hast said, * My Name shal be there: that thou mayest hearken vnto the prayer which thy seruāt prayeth in this place.

30 Heare thou therefore the supplication of thy seruant, and of thy people Israel, which pray in this place, and heare thou <sup>i</sup>n the place of thine habitation, <sup>e</sup>uen in heauen, and when thou hearest, haue mercy.

31 ¶ When a man shal trespasse against his neighbour, and * he lay vpon him an othe to cause him to sweare, and <sup>h</sup> the swearer shal come before thine altar in this house, 32 Then heare thou in heauen, and <sup>i</sup> do & iudge thy seruants, that thou cōdemne the wicked to bring his way vpon his head, & iustifie the righteous, to giue him according to his righteousness.

44 ¶ When thy people shal go out to batel against their enemy by the way that thou shalt send them, and shal pray vnto the Lord <sup>toward</sup> the way of y citie which thou hast chosen, & <sup>toward</sup> the house that I haue buylt for thy Name, 45 Heare thou then in heauen their prayer and their supplication, and iudge their cause.

46 If they sinne against thee (for there is no man that sinneth not) & thou be angry with them, & deliuer them vnto the enemies, so that they carie them away prisoners vnto the land of the enemies, ether farre or nere,

47 Yet if they turne againe vnto their heart in the land (to the which they be carryed away captiues) and returne and pray vnto thee in the land of them that carryed them away captiues, saying, We haue sinned, we haue transgressed, and done wickedly,

48 If they turne againe vnto thee with all their heart, and with all their soule in the land of their enemies, which led the away captiues, and pray vnto thee <sup>toward</sup> the way of their land, which thou gauest vnto their fathers, & <sup>toward</sup> y citie which thou hast chosen, and the house, which I haue buylt for thy Name, 49 Then heare thou their prayer and their supplication in heauē thy dwelling place, and iudge their cause,

50 And be merciful vnto thy people that haue sinned against thee, & vnto all their iniquities (wherein they haue transgressed against thee) and cause that they, which led them away captiues, may haue pitie and compassion on them:

51 For they be thy people, and thine inheritance, which thou broghest out of Egypt from the middes of the yron furnace.

52 Let thine eyes be open vnto the prayer of thy seruant, and vnto the praier of thy people Israēl, to hearken vnto them, in all that they call for vnto thee.

53 For thou didest separate them to thee from among all people of the earth for an inheritance, as thou saidest by the hand of Moses thy seruant, whē thou broghest our fathers out of Egypt, O Lord God.

54 And when Salomōn had made an end of praying all this prayer and supplication vnto the Lord, he arose from before the altar of the Lord, from kneeling on his knees, and stretching of his hands to heauen,

55 And stode and blessed all the Congregation of Israēl with a loude voice, saying, 56 Blessed be the Lord that hathe giuen rest vnto his people Israēl, according to all y he promised: there hathe not failed one worde of all his good promes which he promised by the hand of Moses his seruant.

57 The Lord our God be with vs, as he was with our fathers, that he forsake vs not, nether leaue vs, 58 That he may bowe our hearts vnto hī, that we may walke in all his waies, & kepe his commandements, and his statutes, and his lawes, which he commanded our fathers.

CHAP. X.

The queene of Sabá commeth to heare the wisdom of Salomón. 18 His royal throne. 23 His power and magnificence.

1 And the * queene of * Shebá hearing the fame of Salomón (concerning the Name of the Lord) came to proue him with hard questions,

2 And she came to Ierusalēm with a very great traine, & camels that bare swete odors, and golde exceeding muche, & precious stones: and she came to Salomón, and communed with him of all that was in her heart.

3 And Salomón declared vnto her all her questions: nothing was hid frō the King, which he expounded not vnto her.

4 Then the queene of Shebá sawe all Salomons wisdom, and the house that he had buylt.

5 And the * meat of his table, and the sitting of his seruants, and the ordre of his ministers, & their apparel, & his drinking vessels, and his burnt offrings, that he offered in the house of the Lord, and she was greatly astonied.

6 And she said vnto the King, It was a true worde that I heard in mine owne land of thy sayings, and of thy wisdom.

7 Howbeit I beleued not this reporte, til I came, and had sene it with mine eyes: but lo, the one halfe was not tolde me: for thou hast more wisdom and prosperitie, the I haue heard by reporte.

8 Happy are thy men, happy are these thy seruants, which stand euer before thee, and heare thy wisdom.

9 Blessed be the Lord thy God, which dloved thee, to set thee on the throne of Israël, because the Lord loued Israël for euer and made thee King, to do equitie and righteousness.

10 And she gaue the King six score talents of golde, and of swete odors exceeding muche, and precious stones. There came no more suche abundance of swete odors, as the queene of Shebá gaue to King Salomón.

11 The nauie also of Hiram (that caried golde from Ophír) broght likewise great plenty of * Almuggim trees from Ophír and precious stones.

12 And the King made of the Almuggim trees pillars for the house of the Lord, & for the Kings palace, and made harpes & psalteries for singers. There came no more suche Almuggim trees, nor were anie more sene vnto this day.

13 And King Salomón gaue vnto the queene of Shebá, whatsoeuer she wolde aske, besides that, which Salomón gaue her of his kinglie liberalitie: so she returned & went to her owne countrey, bothe she, and her seruants.

14 ¶ Also the weight of golde, that came to Salomón in one yere, was six hundred thre score and six * talents of golde, 15 Besides that he had of marchant men and of the marchandises of them that solde spices, and of all the Kings of Arabia, & of the princes of the cōuntry.

16 And King Salomón made two hundred targats of beaten golde, six hundred shekels of golde went to a targat:

17 And thre hundred shields of beaten golde, thre pounce of golde went to one shield: and the King put them in y<sup>e</sup> house of the wood of Lebanón.

18 ¶ Then the King made a great throne of yuerie, and couered it with the best golde.

19 And the throne had six steps, and the top of the throne was round behinde, & there were staves on ether side on the place of the throne, and two lions standing by the staves.

20 And there stode twelue lions on the six steps on ether side: there was not the like made in any kingdome.

21 And all King Salomons drinking vessels were of golde, and all the vessels of the house of the wood of Lebanón were of pure golde. none were of siluer: for it was nothing esteemed in the daies of Salomón.

22 For the King had on the sea the nauie of Tharshish with the nauie of Hiram: once in thre yere came y<sup>e</sup> nauie of<sup>h</sup> Tharshish, & broght golde and siluer, yuerie, & apes and peacockes.

h. By Tharshish is ment Cilicia, w<sup>ch</sup> was abundant in varietie of precious things.

23 So King Salomón exceded all y<sup>e</sup> Kings of the earth bothe in riches and in wisdom.

25 And thei broght euery man his present, vessels of siluer, and vessels of golde, and raiment, and armour, and swete odors, horses and mules, from yere to yere.

1 Salomón hathe a thousand wiues and concubines, which bring him to idolatrie. 2 His God raiseth up aduersaries against him. 3 He dyeth.

1 BVt Kig Salomón loued<sup>a</sup> many<sup>a</sup> outlandish women: bothe the daughter of Pharaóh, & the women of Moáb, Ammón, Edóm, Zidón and Heth,

3 And he had seuen hundred wiues, that were<sup>a</sup> princesses and thre hundred<sup>b</sup> concubines, and his wiues turned away his heart.

*a. Or, quere.
b To whom appertained no dowry.*

4 For when Salomón was olde, his wiues turned his heart after other gods, so y<sup>e</sup> his heart was not<sup>c</sup> perfitt with the Lord his God, as was the heart of Dauid his father.

c He serued not God with a pure heart.

5 For Salomón followed<sup>a</sup> Ashtaróth the god of y<sup>e</sup> Zidonians, &<sup>d</sup> Milcóm the abominacion of the Ammonites.

*Indg. 2. 13.
d Who was al so called Moloch ver. 7. read. 2. King. 23. 10.*

6 So Salomón wrought wickednes in the sight of the Lord, but continued not to follow the Lord, as did Dauid his father.

7 Then did Salomón buylde an hie place for

for Chemósh the <sup>e</sup> abominaciō of Moáb, in the mountaine that is ouer against Ierusalém, and vnto Mólech the abomination of the children of Ammón.

8 And so did he for all his outlādish wiues, which burnt incense and offred vnto their gods.

9 Therefore the Lord was angry with Salomón, because he had turned his heart from the Lord God of Israël, * which had appeared vnto him twise,

10 And had giuen him a * charge concerning this thing, that he shulde not followe other gods: but he kept not that, which the Lord had commanded him.

11 Wherefore the Lord said vnto Salomón, Forasmuche as <sup>f</sup> this is done of thee, and thou hast not kept my couenant, and my statutes ( which I commanded thee ) * I wil surely rent the kingdome frō thee, and wil giue it to thy seruant.

12 Notwithstanding in thy daies I wil not do it, because of Dauid thy father, but I wil rent it out of the hand of thy sonne:

13 Howbeit I wil not rent all <sup>g</sup> kingdome, but wil giue ones tribe to thy sonne, because of Dauid my seruant, and because of Ierusalém, which I haue chosen.

14 <sup>h</sup> Then the Lord stirred vp an aduersarie vnto Salomón, <sup>euen</sup> Hadád the Edomite, of the Kings <sup>h</sup> seede, which was in Edóm.

15 * For when Dauid was in Edóm, & Ioáb the captaine of the hoste had smitten all the males in Edóm, and was gone vp to bury the <sup>i</sup> slayne,

16 (For six moneths did Ioáb remaine there, and all Israël, til he had destroyed all the males in Edóm)

17 Then this Hadád * fled and certeine other Edomites of his fathers seruants with him, to go into Egypt, Hadád being yet a litle childe.

18 And they arose out of Midián, & came to Parán, and toke men with them out of Parán, and came to Egypt vnto Pharaóh King of Egypt, which gaue him an house, and appointed him vitales, and gaue him land.

19 So Hadád <sup>l</sup> founde great fauour in the sight of Pharaóh, & he gaue him to wife the sister of his owne wife, <sup>euen</sup> the sister of Tahpenés the quene.

20 And the sister of Tahpenés bare him Genubáth his sonne, whome Tahpenés wayned in Pharaóhs house: & Genubáth was in Pharaóhs house among the sonnes of Pharaóh.

21 And when Hadád heard in Egypt, that Dauid slept with his fathers, & that Ioáb the captaine of the hoste was dead, Hadád said to Pharaóh, Let me departe, that I may go to mine owne countrey.

22 But Pharaóh said vnto him, What hast thou lacked with me, that thou woldest thus go to thine owne countrey? And he answered, Nothing, but in any wise let me go.

23 <sup>q</sup> And God stirred him vp another aduersarie, Rezon the sonne of Eliadá, which <sup>m</sup> fled from his lord Hadádzer King of Zobáh.

24 And he gathered men vnto him, & had bene captaine ouer the companie, when Dauid slewe them. And thei went to Damascus, and dwelt there, <sup>n</sup> and thei made him King in Damascus.

25 Therefore was he an aduersarie to Israël all the daies of Salomón: besides the euil that Hadád <sup>did</sup>, he also abhorred Israël, and reigned ouer Arám.

26 <sup>q</sup> And Ieroboám <sup>g</sup> sonne of Nebát an Ephrathite of Zeréda Salomons seruant ( whose mother was called Zeruáh a widowe ) lift vp his hand against the King.

27 And this was the cause that he lift vp his hand against the King, <sup>when</sup> Salomón buylt Milló, he repared the broken places of the citie of Dauid his father.

28 And this man Ieroboám was a man of strength and courage, and Salomón seeing that the yong mā was mete for the worke, he made him <sup>o</sup> ouerseer of all the laboure of the house of Ioséph.

29 And at that time, when Ieroboám went out of Ierusalém, the Prophet Ahiiáh the Shilonite founde him in the way, hauing a newe garment on him, and thei two were alone in the field.

30 Then Ahiiáh caught the newe garment that was on him, and <sup>p</sup> rent it in twelue pieces, 31 And said to Ieroboám, Take vnto thee ten pieces: for thus sayth the Lord God of Israël, Beholde, I wil rét the kingdome out of the hands of Salomón, & wil giue ten tribes to thee.

32 But he shal haue one tribe for my seruāt Dauids sake, and for Ierusalém the citie, which I haue chosen out of all the tribes of Israël, 33 Because thei haue forsaken me, and haue worshiped Ashtaróth the god of the Zidonians, & Chemósh the god of the Moabites, and Milcóm the god of the Ammonites, & haue not walked in my wayes (to do right in mine eyes, and my statutes, & my lawes) <sup>as did</sup> Dauid his father.

34 But I wil not take the whole kingdome out of his hád: for I wil make him prince all his life long for Dauid my seruants sake, whome I haue chosen, & who kept my commandments and my statutes.

35 * But I wil take the kingdome out of his sonnes hand, and wil giue it vnto thee, <sup>euen</sup> the ten tribes.

42 The time that Salomón reigned in Ierusalem ouer all Israél, was fourtie yere.

1 Rehoboám succedeth Salomón. 2 He refuseth the counsel of the Ancients. 3 Ieroboám reigneth ouer Israél. 21 God commandeth Rehoboám not to fight. 28 Ieroboám maketh golden calves.

2 Chron. 10. 1.

1 And Rehoboám went to Shechem: for all Israél were come to Shechem, to make him King.

2 And when Ieroboám the sonne of Nebát heard of it (who was yet in Egypt) whether Ieroboám had fled from King Salomón, and dwelt in Egypt,

3 Then thei sent and called him: and Ieroboám and all the Congregation of Israél came, and spake vnto Rehoboám, saying,

4 Thy father made our yoke grieuous: now therefore make thou the grieuous seruitude of thy father, and his foreyoke which he put vpon vs, a lighter, & we wil serue thee.

5 And he said vnto them, Departe yet for thre dayes, then come againe to me. And the people departed.

6 And King Rehoboám toke counsel with the olde men that had stande before Salomón his father, while he yet liued, and said, What counsel giue ye, that I may make an answer to this people?

7 And thei spake vnto him, saying, If thou be a seruant vnto this people this day, and serue them, and answer them, and speake kinde wordes to them, thei wil be thy seruants for euer.

8 But he forsoke the counsel that the olde men had giuen him, and asked counsel of the yong men, that had bene brought vp with him, and waited on him.

9 And he said vnto them, What counsel giue ye, that we may answer this people, which haue spoken to me, saying, Make the yoke, which thy father did put vpon vs, lighter?

10 Then the yong men that were brought vp with him, spake vnto him, sayig, Thus shalt thou say vnto this people, that haue spoken vnto thee, and said, Thy father hath made our yoke heauie, but make thou it lighter vnto vs: eue thus shalt thou say vnto the, My least parte shalbe bigger then my fathers loynes.

11 Now where as my father did burde you with a grieuous yoke, I wil yet make your yoke heauier: my father hath chastised you with rods, but I wil correct you with scourges.

12 ¶ Then Ieroboám and all the people came to Rehoboám the third day, as the King had appointed, sayig, Come to me againe the third day.

13 And the King answered the people sharply, and left the olde mens counsel that thei gaue him, 14 And spake to them after the counsel of the yong men, saying, My father made your yoke grieuous, and I wil make your yoke more grieuous: my father hath chastised you with rods, but I wil correct you with scourges.

15 And the King hearkened not vnto the people: for it was the ordinance of the Lord, that he might performe his saying, which the Lord had spoken by Ahiah the Shilonite vnto Ieroboám the sonne of Nebát.

16 So when all Israél sawe that the King regarded them not, the people answered the King thus, saying, What porciō haue we in Dauid? we haue none inheritance in the sonne of Ithái. To your tents, O Israél: now se to thine owne house, Dauid. So Israél departed vnto their tents.

17 Howbeit ouer the children of Israél, which dwelt in the cities of Iudáh, did Rehoboám reigne, still.

18 ¶ Now the King Rehoboám sent Adoram the receiuer of the tribute, and all Israél stoned him to death: then King Rehoboám made spede to get him vp to his charret, to flee to Ierusalem.

19 And Israél rebelled against the house of Dauid vnto this day.

Ieroboám is reprehended of the Prophet. 4 His hand dryeth vp. 15 The Prophet is seduced. 24 And is killed of a Lyon. 33 The obstinacie of Ieroboám.

1 And beholde, there came <sup>a</sup> a man of <sup>a</sup> God out of Iudáh (by the commandement of the Lord) vnto <sup>b</sup> Beth-él, and Ieroboám stood by the altar to offer incense.

2 And he cryed against the altar by the commandement of the Lord, and said, O altar, altar, thus sayth § Lord, Beholde, a childe shal be borne vnto the house of Dauid, * Iosiah by name, and vpon thee shal he sacrifice the Priests of the hie places that burne incense vpon thee, and they shal burne mens bones vpon thee.

3 And he gaue a signe § same time, saying, This is the <sup>c</sup> signe, that the Lord hath spoken, Beholde, the altar shal rent, and the ashes that are vpon it, shal fall out.

4 And whē the King had heard the saying of the man of God, which he had cryed against § altar in Beth-él, Ieroboám stretched out his hand from the altar, saying, <sup>d</sup> Lay holde on him: but his hand which he put forthe against him, dried vp, & he coulde not pull it in againe to him.

5 The altar also claued asunder, & the ashes fel out from the altar, according to the signe, which the man of God had giuen by the <sup>e</sup> commandement of the Lord.

6 Then the King answered, and said vnto the man of God, <sup>e</sup> I beseeche thee, pray vnto the Lord thy God, and make intercession for me, that mine hand may be restored vnto me. And the man of God besought the Lord, and the Kings hand was restored, and became as it was afore.

<sup>e</sup> Though the wicked humble themselves for a time, whē they see Gods iudgements, yet after they returne to their olde malice & declare that they are but vile hypocrites. <sup>Or, take sustenance.</sup>

7 Thē the King said vnto the mā of God, Come home with me, that thou maist dine, and I wil giue thee a rewarde.

8 But the man of God said vnto the King, If thou woldest giue me halfe thine house, I wolde not go in with thee, neither wolde I eat bread nor drinke water in this place.

9 For so<sup>o</sup> was it charged me by the worde of the Lord, saying, <sup>f</sup> Eat no bread nor drinke water, nor turne againe by the same way that thou camest.

<sup>f</sup> Or, he charged me: to wit, an Angel.

<sup>f</sup> Seeing he had the expresse worde of God, he ought not to haue declined therefrom, neither for the persuation of man nor Angel.

10 So he went another way & returned not by the way that he came to Beth-él.

11 ¶ And an olde Prophet dwelt in Beth-él & his sonnes came, & tolde him all § workes, § the mā of God had done that day in Beth-él, & the wordes which he had spokē vnto the King, tolde they their father.

12 And their father said vnto them, What way went he and his sonnes? shewed him <sup>g</sup> what way the man of God went, which came from Iudáh.

Ebr. I am.

g This he did of a simple minde, thinking it his due to declare friendship to a Prophet.

15 Then he said vnto him, & Come home with me, and eat bread.

16 But he answered, I may not returne with thee, nor go in with thee, nether wil I eat bread nor drinke water with thee in this place.

17 For it was charged me by the worde of the Lord, saying, Thou shalt eat no bread, nor drinke water there, nor turne againe to go by the way that thou wentest.

18 And he said vnto him, I am a Prophet also as thou art, and an Angel spake vnto me by the worde of the Lord, saying, Bring him againe with thee into thine house, that he may eat bread and drinke water: but he lied vnto him.

h His faure is here double: first in y he suffreth not the Prophet to obey Gods expresse comandement: and next, that he faineth to haue a reuelation to the contrary.

19 So he went againe with him, and did eat bread in his house, and dranke water.

20 And as they sate at the table, the worde of the Lord came vnto the Prophet, that brought him againe.

21 And he cryed vnto the man of God that came from Iudáh, saying, Thus saith the Lord, i Because thou hast disobeyed the mouth of the Lord, and hast not kept the commandemēt which the Lord thy God commanded thee, i God wolde reprove his folly by him, who was the occasion to bring him into error.

22 But camest backe againe, and hast eaten bread & dronke water in the place (whereof he did say vnto thee, Thou shalt eat no bread nor drinke anie water) thy carkeis shal not come vnto the sepulchre of thy fathers.

23 And when he had eaten bread and drōke, he saddled him the asse, to wit, to the Prophet whome he had brought againe.

k By this careful exāple, God setteth forth, how dangerous a thing it is for men to behave them selues coldely, or deceitfully in their charge whereunto God hath called them.

24 And when he was gone, & a lyon met him by the way, and slewe him, and his bodie was cast in the way, and the asse stode thereby: the lyon stode by the corps also.

25 And beholde, men that passed by, sawe the carkeis cast in the way, and the lyon standing by the corps: and they came and tolde it in the towne where the olde Prophet dwelt.

26 And when the Prophet, that brought him backe againe from the way, heard thereof, he said, It is the man of God, who hath bene disobedient vnto the commandemēt of the Lord: therefore the Lord hath deliuered him vnto the lyon, which hath rent him and slaine him, according to the worde of the Lord, which he spake vnto him.

27 And he spake to his sonnes, saying,

Saddle me the asse. And they saddled him.

28 And he went and founde his body cast in the way, and the asse and the lyon stode by the corps: and the lyon had <sup>l</sup> not eaten the body, nor torne the asse.

l To declare that this was onely the iudgement of God: for if the lyon had done it for hūgre, he wolde also haue deuoured the body.

29 And y Prophet toke vp the body of the man of God, and layed it vpon the asse, and brought it againe, and the olde Prophet came to the citie, to lament and bury him.

m Which he had prepared for him selfe.

30 And he layed his body in his <sup>n</sup> owne graue, & they lamented ouer him, saying, Alas, my brother.

31 And when he had buryed him, he spake to his sonnes, saying, When I am dead, bury ye me also in the sepulchre, wherein the man of God is buryed: laye my bones beside his bones.

32 For that thing which he cryed by the worde of the Lord against the altar that is in Beth-él, and against all the houses of the hie places, which are in the cities of Samaria, shal surely come to passe.

33 Howbeit after this, Ieroboām <sup>n</sup> conuerted not from his wicked way, but turned againe, and made of the lowest of the people Priests of the hie places. Who wolde, might <sup>o</sup> cōsecrate him selfe, and be of the Priests of the hie places.

n So the wicked profit not by Gods threatenings, but go backwarde to become worse, 1. Tim. 3. 6. Ebr. sh. hit hand.

11 The dogs shal eat him of Ieroboams stocke that dyeth in the citie, and the foules of the aire shal eat him that dyeth in the field: for the Lord hath said it.

12 Vp therefore & get thee to thine house: for whē thy feete entre into the citie, the childe shal dye.

13 And all Israél shal mourne for him, and bury him: for he onely of Ieroboám shal come to the graue, because in him there is founde <sup>k</sup> some goodnes towardē y Lord God of Israél in the house of Ieroboám.

14 Moreouer, the Lord shal stir him vp a King ouer Israél, which shal destroy the house of Ieroboám in that day: <sup>l</sup> what? yea, euen now.

15 For the Lord shal smite Israél, as when a rede is shaken in the water, and he shal wede Israél out of this good land, which he gaue to their fathers, and shal scatere them beyonde the <sup>m</sup> Riuer, because they haue made them groues, prouoking the Lord to angre.

16 And he shal giue Israél vp, because of the sinnes of Ieroboám, who did sinne, and made Israél to sinne.

17 And Ieroboams wife arose, and departed, and came to Tirzáh, and when she came to the threshold of the house, the yōg man dyed, 18 And they buried him, and all Israél lamented him, according to the worde of the Lord, which he spake by the hand of his seruant Abiiáh the Prophet.

19 And the rest of Ieroboams actes, how he warred, & how he reigned, beholde, they are written in the boke of the Chronicles of the Kings of Israél.

20 And the dayes which Ieroboám reigned, were two and twentie yere: and he slept with his fathers, & Nadáb his sonne reigned in his steade.

21 Also Rehoboám the sonne of Salomón reigned in Iudáh. Rehoboám was one and fourtie yere olde, when he begā to reigne, and reigned seuentene yere in Ierusalém the citie, which the Lord did chuse out of all the tribes of Israél, to put his Name there: and his mothers name was Naamáh an Ammonite.

22 And Iudáh wrought wickednes in the sight of the Lord: & they prouoked him more w<sup>t</sup> their sinnes, which thei had committed, then all that which their fathers had done.

23 For they also made them hie places, and images, and groues on euery hie hil, and vnder euerie grene tre.

24 There were also Sodomites <sup>q</sup> in y land, they did according to all the abominations of the nations, which the Lord had cast out before the children of Israél.

25 And in the fift yere of King Rehoboám, Shishák King of Egypt came vp against Ierusalém, 26 And toke the treasures of the house of y Lord, & the treasures of the Kings house, and toke away all: also he caried away all the shields of golde which Salomón had made.

27 And King Rehoboám made for them brasen shields, and committed them vnto the hands of the chief of the garde, which waited at the dore of the Kings house.

28 And when the King went into the house of the Lord, the garde bare them, and broght them againe into the garde chamber.

29 And the rest of y actes of Rehoboám, & all that he did, are they not written in the boke of the Chronicles of the Kings of Iudáh?

30 And there was warre betwene Rehoboám and Ieroboám continually.

31 And Rehoboám slept with his fathers, & was buried with his fathers in the citie of Dauid: his mothers name was Naamáh an Ammonite. And Abiiám his sonne reigned in his steade.

ther, which he had done before him: and his heart was not perfit with the Lord his God as the heart of Dauid his father.

4 But for Dauids sake did y<sup>e</sup> Lord his God giue him a <sup>b</sup> light in Ierusalém, and set vp his sonne after him, and established Ierusalém,

5 Because Dauid did that which was right in the sight of the Lord, and turned from nothing that he commanded him, all the dayes of his life, * saue onely in the matter of Vriah the Hittite.

6 And there was warre betwene Rehoboám and Ieroboám as long as he liued.

7 The rest also of the actes of Abiám, and all that he did, are they not written in the *boke of the Chronicles of the Kings of Iudáh: there was also warre betwene Abiám, and Ieroboám.

8 And Abiám slept with his fathers, & they buryed him in the citie of Dauid: & Afá his sonne reigned in his steade.

9 ¶ And in the twentie yere of Ieroboám King of Israél reigned Afá ouer Iudáh.

10 He reigned in Ierusalém one & fourtie yere, and his mothers name was Maacháh, the daughter of Abishalom.

11 And Afá did right in y<sup>e</sup> eyes of the Lord, as did Dauid his father.

12 And he toke away the Sodomites out of the land, and put away all the idoles that his fathers had made.

13 And he <sup>d</sup>put downe Maacháh his mother also from her estate, because she had made an idole in a groue: & Afá destroyed her idoles, & burnt the by the broke Kidrón.

14 But they put not downe the hie places. Neuertheles Afas heart was <sup>e</sup> vpright with the Lord all his dayes.

15 Also he brought in the holy vessels of his father, & the things that he had dedicate vnto the house of the Lord, siluer, & golde and vessels.

16 ¶ And there was warre betwene Afá and Baashá King of Israél all their dayes.

17 Then Baashá King of Israél went vp against Iudáh, and buylt <sup>f</sup> Ramáh, so that he wolde let none go out or in to Afá King of Iudáh.

18 Then Afá toke all the siluer & the gold y<sup>e</sup> was left in the treasures of the house of the Lord, and the treasures of the Kings house, and deliuered them into the hands of his seruants, and King Afá sent them to *Ben-hadád the sonne of Tabrimón, the sonne of Hezión King of <sup>g</sup> Arám that dwelt at Damascus, saying,

19 There is a couenant betwene me and thee, and betwene my father and thy father: behold, I haue sent vnto thee a present of siluer, and golde: come, breake thy couenant with Baashá King of Israél, that he may <sup>h</sup> departe from me.

20 So Ben-hadád hearkened vnto King Afá, and sent the captaines of the hostes, which he had against the cities of Israél, and smote Iiód, and Dan, and Abélbethmaacháh, and all Cinneróth, with all the land of Naphtali.

21 And when Baashá heard thereof, he left buylding of Ramáh, and dwelt in Tirzáh.

22 Then King Afá assembled all Iudáh, <sup>i</sup> none excepted. & they toke the stones of Ramáh, & the timber thereof, wherewith Baashá had buylt, & King Afá buylt with them Géba of Beniamín and Mizpáh.

23 And the rest of all the actes of Afá, and all his might and all that he did, and the cities which he buylt, are they not writé in the boke of the Chronicles of y<sup>e</sup> Kings of Iudáh: but in his olde age he was diseased in his <sup>j</sup> feete.

24 And Afá slept with his fathers, and was buryed with his fathers in the citie of Dauid his father. And Iehoshaphát his sonne reigned in his steade.

25 And Nadáb the sonne of Ieroboám began to reigne ouer Israél the secóde yere of Afá King of Iudáh, and reigned ouer Israél two yere.

26 And he did euil in the sight of the Lord, walking in the way of his father, & in his sinne wherewith he made Israél to sinne.

27 And Baashá the sonne of Abiáh of the house of Issachár conspired against him, & Baashá slewe him at Gibbethón, which belonged to the Philistims: for Nadáb & all Israél laied siege to Gibbethón.

28 Euen in the third yere of Afá King of Iudáh did Baashá slay him, and reigned in his steade.

29 And when he was King, he <sup>k</sup> smote all the house of Ieroboám, he left none aliue to Ieroboám, vntil he had destroyed him, according to the *worde of y<sup>e</sup> Lord which he spake by his seruant Ahiráh the Shilonite, 30 Because of y<sup>e</sup> sinnes of Ieroboám which he committed, and wherewith he made Israél to sinne, by his <sup>l</sup> prouocation, wherewith he prouoked the Lord God of Israél.

31 And the residue of the actes of Nadáb and all that he did, are they not written in the boke of the Chronicles of the Kings of Israél?

32 And there was warre betwene Afá & Baashá King of Israél, all their dayes.

33 In the third yere of Afá King of Iudáh, began Baashá the sonne of Abiáh to reigne ouer all Israél in <sup>m</sup> Tirzáh, and reigned foure and twentie yeres.

34 And he did euil in the sight of the Lord, walking in the way of Ieroboám, & in his sinne, wherewith he made Israél to sinne.

CHAP. XVI.

1 Of Baasha, 6 Eláh, 9 Zimrí, 16 Omrí. 31 Acháb married Izabel. 34 Iericho is buylt againe.

1 Then the worde of the Lord came to Iehú the sonne of Hanáni against Baasha, saying,

2 Forasmuch as I exalted thee out of the dust, & made thee captaine ouer my people Israël, and thou hast walked in the way of Ieroboám, and hast made my people Israël to sinne, to prouoke me with their sinnes,

3 Beholde, I wil take away the posteritie of Baasha, and the posteritie of his house, and wil make <sup>b</sup> thine house like the <sup>a</sup> house of Ieroboám the sonne of Nebát.

4 He that dyeth of Baashas stocke in the citie, him shal the dogs eat: and that man of him which dyeth in the fields, shal the fowles of the ayre eat.

5 And the rest of the actes of Baasha and what he did, and his <sup>a</sup> power, are they not written in the booke of the <sup>a</sup> Chronicles of the Kings of Israël?

6 So Baasha slept with his fathers, & was buried in Tirzáh, & Eláh his sonne reigned in his steade.

7 And also by the hand of Iehú the sonne of Hanáni the Prophet came the worde of the Lord to Baasha, & to his house, that he shulde be like the house of Ieroboám, euen for all the wickednes that he did in the sight of the Lord, in prouoking him with the worke of his hands, and because he killed <sup>d</sup> him.

8 In the six and twentie yere of Asá King of Iudáh began Eláh the sonne of Baasha to reigne ouer Israël in Tirzáh, & reigned two yere.

9 And his seruant Zimrí, captaine of halfe his charers conspired against him, as he was in Tirzáh drinking, til he was drunken in the house of <sup>c</sup> Arzá stuarde of his house in Tirzáh.

10 And Zimrí came & smote him & killed him in the seuen and twenty yere of Asá King of Iudáh, & reigned in his steade.

11 And when he was King, and sate on his throne, he slewe all <sup>y</sup> house of Baasha, not leauing thereof one to pisse against a wall, nether of his kinsfolkes nor of his friends.

12 So did Zimrí destroy all the house of Baasha, according to the worde of <sup>y</sup> Lord which he spake against Baasha by the hand of Iehú the Prophet, 13 For all the sinnes of Baasha, and sinnes of Eláh his sonne, which they sinned and made Israël to sinne, and prouoked the Lord God of Israel with their vanities.

14 And the rest of the actes of Eláh, and all that he did, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of the Kings of

Israél

15 In the seuen and twentie yere of Asá King of Iudáh did Zimrí reigne seuen dayes in Tirzáh, and the people was then in the hostes besieging Gibbethón, which belonged to the Philistims.

16 And the people of the hoste heard say, Zimrí hath conspired, & hath also slaine the King. Wherefore all Israël made Omrí the captaine of the hoste King ouer Israël that same day, euen in the hoste.

17 Then Omrí went vp from Gibbethón, and all Israël with him, and they besieged <sup>b</sup> Tirzáh.

18 And when Zimrí sawe, that the citie was taken, he went into the palace of the Kings house, and burnt him selfe and the Kings house with fire, & so dyed, 19 For his sinnes which he sinned, in doing that which is euil in the sight of the Lord, in walking in the way of Ieroboám, and in his sinnes which he did, causing Israël to sinne.

20 And the rest of the actes of Zimrí, and his treason that he wrought, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of the Kings of Israël?

21 The were <sup>y</sup> people of Israël deuided into two partes: for <sup>i</sup> half <sup>y</sup> people followed Tibní the sonne of Ginath to make him King, & the other halfe followed Omrí.

22 But the people that followed Omrí, preuailed against the people that followed Tibní the sonne of Ginath: so Tibní dyed, and Omrí reigned.

23 In the one and thirtie yere of Asá King of Iudáh began Omrí to reigne ouer Israël, & reigned twelue yere. Six yere reigned he in Tirzáh.

24 And he bought the mountaine <sup>a</sup> Samaria of <sup>a</sup> one Shémér for two talents of siluer, and buylt in the mountaine, and called the name of the citie, which he buylt, after the name of Shémér, lord of the mountaine Samaria.

25 But Omrí did euil in the eyes of the Lord, and did <sup>a</sup> worse then all that were before him.

26 For he walked in all the way of Ieroboám the sonne of Nebát, and in his sinnes where with he made Israël to sinne in prouoking the Lord God of Israël with their vanities.

27 And the rest of the actes of Omrí, that he did, and his strength that he shewed, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of the Kings of Israël?

28 And Omrí slept with his fathers, & was buried in Samaria: and Aháb his sonne reigned in his steade.

29 Now Aháb the sonne of Omrí began to reigne ouer Israël, in the eight and thirtie yere of Asá King of Iudáh.

ouer againſt Iordén;

4 And thou ſhalt drinke of the riuier: and I haue commanded the<sup>e</sup> rauens to feede

5 So he went and did according vnto the worde of the Lord: for he went, and re-

6 And the rauens brought him bread & fleſh

7 And after a while, the riuier dried vp, be-

19 And he ſaid vnto her, Giue me thy ſon-ne. and he toke him out of her boſome, & caried him vp into a chamber, where he abode, and laied him vpon his owne bed.

20 Thē he called vnto the Lord, & ſaid, O
Lord my God, haſt thou<sup>l</sup> puniſhed alſo

18 And he answered, I haue not troubled Israel, but thou, and thy fathers house, in that ye haue forsaken the cōmandements of the Lord, and thou hast followed Baalim.

19 Now therefore send, and gather to me all Israel vnto mount Carmel, and the prophetes of Báal foure hundred & fiftie, & the prophetes of the groues foure hundred, which eat at Iezabels table.

20 ¶ So Aháb sent vnto all the children of Israel, & gathered the prophetes together vnto mount Carmel.

21 And Eliáh came vnto all the people, & said, How long halt ye betwene two opinions? If the Lord be God, followe him: but if Báal be he, then go after him. And the people answered him not a worde.

22 Then said Eliáh vnto y<sup>e</sup> people, I onely remaine a Prophet of the Lord: but Baals prophetes are foure hundred & fiftie me.

23 Let them therefore giue vs two bullocks, and let them chuse the one, and cut him in pieces, and laye him on the wood, but put no fyre vnder, and I wil prepare the other bullocke, and laye him on the wood, and wil put no fyre vnder.

24 Then call ye on the name of your god, and I wil call on the Name of the Lord: and the God that answereth by fyre, let him be God. And all the people answered, and said, It is wel spoken.

25 And Eliáh said vnto the prophetes of Báal, Chuse you a bullocke, and prepare him first, (for ye are many) & call on the name of your gods, but put no fyre vnder.

26 So thei toke the one bullocke, y<sup>e</sup> was giuen them, & thei prepared it, & called on y<sup>e</sup> name of Báal, from morning to noone, saying, O Báal, heare vs: but there was no voyce, nor anie to answer: and thei leapt vpon the altar that was made.

27 And at noone Eliáh mocked them, and said, Crye loude: for he is a <sup>k</sup> god: ether he talketh or pursueth his enemies, or is in his iourney, or it may be that he slepeth, and must be awaked.

28 And they cryed loude, and cut them selues as their maner was, with kniues and lancets, til the blood gushed out vpon them.

29 And when mydday was passed, and thei had prophecied vntil the offering of the evening sacrifice, there was nether voyce, nor one to answer, nor anie that regarded.

30 And Eliáh said vnto all the people, Come to me. And all y<sup>e</sup> people came to him. And he repared the altar of the Lord that was broken downe.

31 And Eliáh toke twelue stones, accordig to the number of the tribes of the sonnes
S.i.

1 After many daies, the worde of the Lord came to Eliáh, in the third yere, saying, Go, shewe thy selfe vnto Aháb, and I wil send raine vpon the earth.

2 And Eliáh went to shewe him selfe vnto Aháb, and there was a great famine in Samaria.

3 And Aháb called Obadiáh the gouernour of his house: (and Obadiáh feared God greatly)

4 For when Iezébel destroyed the Prophetes of the Lord, Obadiáh toke an hundred Prophetes, & hid them, by fiftie in a caue, and he fed them with bread and water.

5 And Aháb said vnto Obadiáh, Go into the land, vnto all the fountaines of water, and vnto all the riuers, if so be that we may finde grasse to saue the horses & the mules aliue, lest we deprive the land of the beastes.

6 And so thei deuided the land betwene them to walke through it. Aháb went one way by him selfe, and Obadiáh went another way by him selfe.

7 ¶ And as Obadiáh was in the way, beholde, Eliáh met him: & he knewe him, and fel on his face, and said, Art not thou my lord Eliáh?

8 And he answered him, Yea, go tel thy lord, Beholde, Eliáh is here.

9 And he said, What haue I sinned, that thou woldest deliuer thy seruant into the hand of Aháb, to slaye me?

10 As the Lord thy God liueth, there is no nacio<sup>n</sup> or kingdome, whether my lord hathe not sent to seke thee: and when thei said, He is not here, he toke an othe of y<sup>e</sup> kingdome and nacio<sup>n</sup>, if thei had not founde thee.

11 And now thou saist, Go, tel thy lord, Beholde, Eliáh is here.

12 And when I am gone fro<sup>m</sup> thee, the Spirit of the Lord shal cary thee into some place that I do not knowe: so when I come and tel Aháb, if he can not finde thee, then wil he kil me: but I thy seruant feare the Lord from my youth.

13 Was it not tolde my lord, what I did when Iezébel slewe the Prophetes of the Lord, how I hidde an hundred men of the Lords Prophetes by fifties in a caue, & fed them with bread and water?

14 And now thou saiest, Go, tel thy lord, Beholde, Eliáh is here, that he may slaye me.

15 And Eliáh said, As the Lord of hostes liueth, before whome I stand, I wil surely shewe my selfe vnto him this day.

16 ¶ So Obadiáh went to mete Aháb, and tolde him: and Aháb wēt to mete Eliáh.

17 And when Aháb sawe Eliáh, Aháb said

f The true ministers of God ought not onely not to suffer trust to be vnjustly slandered, but to reprove boldly y<sup>e</sup> wicked slanderers without respect of persons.

of Iaakob, (vnto whome the worde of the Lord came, saying, * Israēl shalbe thy name)

32 And with the stones he buylt an altar in the Name of the Lord: & he made a ditch rounde about the altar, as great as wolde containe two measures of sede.

33 And he put the wood in order, & hewed the bullocke in pieces, and layed him on the wood, 34 And said, Fil foure barels with water, & powre it on the burnt offering and on the wood. Againe he said, Do so againe. And thei did so the seconde time. And he said, Do it the third time. And thei did it the third time.

35 And the water ran rounde about the altar: & m he filled the ditch w water also.

36 And when they shulde offer the evening sacrifice, Eliāh the Prophet came, & said, Lord God of Abraham, Izhāk and of Israēl, let it be knowne this day, that thou art the God of Israēl, and that I am thy seruant, and that I haue done all these things at thy commandement.

37 Heare me, o Lord, heare me, and let this people knowe that thou art y Lord God, and that thou hast turned their heart againe n at the last.

38 Then the fyre of the Lord fel, and consumed the burnt offering, and the wood, & the stones, and the dust, and licked vp the water that was in the ditch.

39 And when all the people sawe it, thei fel on their faces, and said, The Lord is God, the Lord is God.

40 And Eliāh said vnto them, Take the prophetes of Bāal, let o not a man of them escape. And they toke them, and Eliāh broght them to the broke Kishōn, & slewe them there.

41 ¶ And Eliāh said vnto Ahāb, Get thee vp, eat and drinke, for there is a sounde of muche raine.

42 So Ahāb went vp to eat and to drinke, and Eliāh went vp to the top of Carmēl: and he crouched vnto the earth, and put his face betwene his knees, 43 And said to his seruant, Go vp now and loke towarde the way of the Sea. And he went vp, and loked, and said, There is nothing. Againe he said, Go againe p seuen times.

44 And at y seuenth time he said, Beholde, there ariseth a litle cloude out of the sea like a mans hand. Then he said, Vp, and say vnto Ahāb, Make readie thy charet, and get thee downe, that the raine stay thee not.

45 And in the meane while the heauen was blacke with cloudes & winde, & there was a great raine. Then Ahāb went vp & came to Izreēl.

46 And the hād of the Lord was on Eliāh, and he girded vp his loynes, and ran q before Ahāb til he came to Izreēl.

CHAP. XIX.

5 Eliāh fleing from Iezēbel, is nourished by the Angel of God. 15 He is commanded to anoint Hazael, Jehu, and Elishā.

1 NOW Ahāb tolde Iezēbel all that Eliāh had done, & how he had slayne all the a prophetes with the sworde.

2 Then Iezēbel sent a messenger vnto Eliāh, saying, b The gods do so to me and more also, if I make not thy life like one of their liues by to morowe this time.

3 ¶ When he sawe that, he arose, and went for his life, & came to Beer-sheba, which is in Iudāh, and left his seruant there.

4 But he went a daies iourney into the wilderness, and came and sate downe vnder a iuniper tre, & desired that he might dye, and said, It is now ynough: o Lord, c take my soule, for I am no better, then my fathers.

5 And as he laie and slept vnder the iuniper tre, beholde now, an Angel touched him, and said vnto him, Vp, & eat.

6 And when he loked about, beholde, there was a cake baken on the coles, and a pot of water at his head: so he did eat and drinke, and returned and slept.

7 And the Angel of the Lord came againe the seconde time, and touched him, and said, Vp, & eat: for d thou hast a great iourney.

8 ¶ Then he arose, and did eat and drinke, and walked in the strength of that meat fourtie daies & fourtie nights, vnto Horēb the mount of God.

9 And there he entred into a caue, & lodged there: and beholde, the Lord spake to him, and said vnto him, What doest thou here, Eliāh?

10 And he answered, I haue e bene very ielous for the Lord God of hostes: for the children of Israēl haue forsaken thy couenant, broken downe thine altars, and slayne thy Prophetes with the sworde, & I onely am left, and thei seke my life to take it away.

11 And he said, Come out, and stand vpon the mount before the Lord. And beholde, the Lord went by, and a mightie strong winde rent the mountaines, and brake the rockes before the Lord: f but the Lord was not in the winde: and after the winde came an earthquake: g but the Lord was not in the earthquake:

12 And after the earthquake came fyre: h but the Lord was not in the fyre: & after the fyre came a stil and soft voyce.

there came a voyce vnto him, and said,
What doest thou here, Eliáh?

14 And he answered, I haue bene very ie-lous for y Lord God of hostes, & because the children of Israël haue forsakē thy couenant, cast downe thine altars and slaine thy Prophetes with the sworde, & I onely am left, and they seeke my life to take it away.

15 And the Lord said vnto him, Go, retur-ne by the wilderness vnto Damascus, and when thou comest there, anoynt Hazael King ouer Arám.

16 And Iehú the sonne of Nimshi shalt thou anoint King ouer Israël: & Elishá the sonne of Shaphat of Abél Meholáir shalt thou anoynt to be Prophet in thy roume.

17 And him that escapeth frō the sworde of Hazael, shal Iehú slaye: and him that escapeth from the sworde of Iehú, shal Elisha slay.

18 Yet wil I leaue seuē thousand in Israël, euen h all the knees that haue not bowed vnto Bál, and euerie mouthe that hathe not kissed him.

19 So he departed thence, and founde Elishá y sōne of Shaphat who was plowing with twelue yoke of oxen before him, and was with the twelst: & Eliáh went towards him, and cast his mantel vpon him.

20 And he left the oxen, & ran after Eliáh, and said, Let me, I pray thee, kisse my father and my mother, and then I wil followe thee. Who answered him, Go, retur-

21 And when he wēt backe againe frō him, he toke a couple of oxen, and slawe them, and sod their flesh with the instruments of the oxen, and gaue vnto the people, & they did eat: then he arose and went after Eliáh, and ministred vnto him.

CHAP. XX.

Samaria is besieged. 13 The Lord promiseth the vi-ctorie to Aháb by a Prophet. 31 The King of Israël made peace with Ben-hadád, and is reprobred therefore by the Prophet.

1 Then Bē-hadád the King of Arám assembled all his armie, and two and thirtie Kings with him, with horses, & charets, and went vp, and besieged Samaria, and foght against it.

2 And he sent messengers to Aháb King of Israël, into the citie,
3 And said vnto him, Thus sayeth Ben-hadád, Thy siluer and thy golde his mine:
also thy women, and thy faire children are mine.

4 And the King of Israël answered, and said, My lord King, according to thy saying, I am thine, and all that I haue.

5 And when the messengers came againe, they said, Thus comendeth Ben-hadád, & sayth, When I shal send vnto thee, and comande, thou shalt deliuer me thy siluer & thy golde, & thy women, & thy childre,

6 Or els I wil send my seruants vnto thee by to morow this time: and they shal fear-che thine house, and the houses of thy ser-uants: and what soeuer is pleasant in thine eyes, they shal take it in their hands, and bring it away.

7 Then the King of Israël sent for all the Elders of the land, and said, Take hede, I pray you, and se how he seeketh mischief:
for he sent vnto me for my wiues, and for my children, and for my siluer, and for my golde, and I denyed him not.

8 And all the Elders, & all the people said to him, Hearekē nor vnto him, nor cōfēt.

9 Wherefore he said vnto the messengers of Ben-hadád, Tel my lord the King, All that thou didest send for to thy seruant at the first time, that I wil do, but this thig
I may not do. And the messengers departed, and broght him an answer.

10 And Ben-hadád sent vnto him, & said,
The gods do so to me & more also, if the dust of Samaria be ynough to all y people y followe me, for euerie mā an hādful.

11 And the King of Israël answered, and said, Tel him, Let not him that girdeth his harnes, boast nī selfe, as he y putteth it of.

12 And when he heard y tidings, as he was with the Kings drinking in the pavilions, he said vnto his seruants, Bring forth the engines, and thei set them against the citie.

13 And beholde, there came a Prophet vnto Aháb King of Israël, saying, Thus saith y Lord, Haft thou sīne all this great multitude? beholde, I wil deliuer it into thine hand this day, that y maifest knowe, s that I am the Lord.

14 And Aháb said, By whome? And he said, Thus saith the Lord, By the seruants of the princes of the prouinces. He said again, Who shal ordre the battel? And he answered, Thou.

15 Then he nombred the seruants of the princes of the prouinces, and they were two hundreth, two and thirtie: & after thē he nombred the whole people of all the children of Israël, euen seuē thousande.

16 And they wēt out at noone: but Ben-hadád did drinke til he was drunken in the tents, bothe he & the Kings: for two & thirtie Kings helped him.

17 So the seruants of the princes of the prouinces went out first: & Ben-hadád sent out, and they shewed him, saying, There are men come out of Samaria.

18 And he said, Whether they be come out for peace, take them aliue: or whether they be come out to fight, take them yet aliue.

19 So they came out of the citie, to wit, the ser-uants of the princes of the prouinces, and the hoste which followed them.

e He wolde not accept his answer, except he did out of hand deliuer whatsoeuer he

<sup>21</sup> And the King of Israel went out, and smote the horses and charets, and with a great slaughter slewe he the <sup>4</sup> Aramites.

<sup>22</sup> (For there had come a Prophet to the King of Israel, & had said vnto him, Go, be of good courage, and consider, and take hede what thou doest: for when the yere is gone about, the King of Aram wil come vp against thee)

<sup>23</sup> ¶ The seruants of the King of Aram said vnto him, Their <sup>5</sup> gods are gods of the mountaines, and therefore they ouercame vs: but let vs fight against them in the plaine, and douteles we shal ouercome them.

<sup>24</sup> And this do, Take the Kings away, euerie one out of his place, and place captaynes for them.

<sup>25</sup> And number thy selfe an armie, like the armie that thou hast lost, with suche horses, and suche charets, and we wil fight against them in the plaine, and douteles we shal ouercome the: and he hearkened vnto their voyce, and did so.

<sup>26</sup> And after the yere was gone about, Ben-hadad nombred the Aramites, and went vp to Aphék to fight against Israel.

<sup>27</sup> And the children of Israel were nombred, and were all <sup>6</sup> assembled and went against them, and the children of Israel pitched before them, like two litle flockes of kiddes: but the Aramites filled the countrey.

<sup>28</sup> And there came a man of God, and spake vnto the King of Israel, saying, Thus sayth the Lord, Because the Aramites haue said, The Lord is the God of the mountaines, and not God of the valleis, therefore wil I deliuer all this great multitude into thine hand, and ye shal knowe that <sup>7</sup> I am the Lord.

<sup>29</sup> And they pitched one ouer against the other seuen dayes, & in the seuenth day the battel was ioyned: and the children of Israel slewe of the Aramites an hundreth thousand foremen in one day.

<sup>30</sup> But the rest fled to Aphék into the citie: and there fel a wall vpon seuen & twentie thousand men that were left: and Ben-hadad fled into the citie, and came into <sup>8</sup> a secret chamber.

<sup>31</sup> ¶ And his seruantes said vnto him, Beholde now, we haue heard say that the Kings of the house of Israel are merciful Kings: we pray thee, let vs put sackcloth about our <sup>9</sup> loynes, and ropes about our heades, and go out to the King of Israel: it may be that he wil saue thy life.

loynes, and put ropes about their heades, and came to the King of Israel, and said, Thy seruant Ben-hadad saith, I pray thee, let me liue: and he said, Is he yet aliue? he is my brother.

<sup>33</sup> Now the men toke diligent hede, <sup>10</sup> if they colde catche <sup>11</sup> any thing of him, and made haste, & said, Thy brother <sup>12</sup> Ben-hadad. And he said, Go, bring him. So Ben-hadad came out vnto him, and he caused him to come vp vnto the charet.

<sup>34</sup> And Ben-hadad said vnto him, The cities, which my father toke fro thy father, I wil restore, and thou shalt make stretes for thee in <sup>13</sup> Damascus, as my father did in Samaria. Then said Ahab, I wil let thee go with this couenant. So he made a couenant with him, and let him go.

<sup>35</sup> ¶ Then a certein man of the <sup>14</sup> children of the Prophetes said vnto his neighbour by the comandement of the Lord, <sup>15</sup> Smite me, I pray thee. But the man refused to smite him.

<sup>36</sup> Then said he vnto him, Because thou hast not obeyed the voyce of the Lord, beholde, as sone as thou art departed from me, a lyon shal <sup>16</sup> slay thee. So when he was departed from him, a lyon found him and slewe him.

<sup>37</sup> Then he found another man, and said, Smite me, I pray thee. And the man smote him, and in smiting wounded him.

<sup>38</sup> So the Prophet departed, and waited for the King by the way, and disguysed him selfe with ashes vpon his face.

<sup>39</sup> And when the King came by, he cryed vnto the King, and said, Thy seruant went into the middes of the battel: and beholde, there went away a man, whome <sup>17</sup> another man broght vnto me, & said, Kepe this man: if he be lost, and want, thy life shal go for his, or els thou shalt paye a talent of siluer.

<sup>40</sup> And as thy seruant had here and there to do, he was gone: and the King of Israel said vnto him, So shal thy iudgement be: thou hast giuen sentence.

<sup>41</sup> And he hasted, and toke the ashes away from his face: & the King of Israel knew him that he was of the Prophetes:

<sup>42</sup> And he said vnto him, Thus saith the Lord, <sup>18</sup> Because thou hast let go out of thine hands a man whome I appointed to dye, thy life shal go for his life, and thy people for his people.

<sup>43</sup> And the King of Israel went to his house heavy and in displeasure, and came to <sup>19</sup> Samaria.

After these things Nabóth the Izreelite had a vineyard in Izreél, hard by the palace of Aháb King of Samaria.

And Aháb spake vnto Nabóth, saying, Giue me thy vineyard, that I may make me a garden of herbes thereof, because it is nere by mine house: and I wil giue thee for it a better vineyard then it is: or if it please thee, I wil giue thee the worthe of it in money.

And Nabóth said to Aháb, The Lord kepe me from giuing the inheritace of my fathers vnto thee.

Then Aháb came into his house heauy & in displeasure, because of the worde which Nabóth the Izreelite had spoké vnto him. for he had said, I wil not giue thee the inheritance of my fathers, and he lay vpon his bed and turned his face and wolde eat no bread.

Then Iezébel his wife came to him and said vnto him, Why is thy spirit so sad? thou eatest no bread?

And he said vnto her, Because I spake vnto Nabóth the Izreelite, and said vnto him, Giue me thy vineyard for money, or if it please thee, I wil giue thee another vineyard for it: but he answered, I wil not giue thee my vineyard.

Then Iezébel his wife said vnto him, Doest thou now gouerne the kingdome of Israél? vp, eat bread, and be of good chere, I wil giue thee the vineyard of Nabóth the Izreelite.

So she wrote letters in Ahabs name, & sealed them with his seale, and sent the letters vnto the Elders, and to the nobles that were in his citie dwelling w Nabóth.

And she wrote in the letters, saying, Proclaime a fast, and set Nabóth amog the chief of the people,

And set two wicked men before him, and let the witnes against him, saying, Thou didest blaspheme God and the King: the cary him out, and stone him that he may dye.

And the men of his citie, euen the Elders and gouernours, which dwelt in his citie, did as Iezébel had sent vnto them: as it was writé in the letters, which she had sent vnto them.

They proclaimed a fast, and set Nabóth among the chief of the people,

And there came two wicked men, & sate before him: and the wicked men witnessed against Nabóth in the presence of the people, saying, Nabóth did blaspheme God and the King. The they caryed him away out of the citie, and stoned him with stones, that he dyed.

Then they sent to Iezébel, saying, Nabóth is stoned and is dead.

And when Iezébel heard that Nabóth was stoned and was dead, Iezébel said to Aháb, Vp, & take possession of the vineyard of Nabóth the Izreelite, which he refused to giue thee for money: for Nabóth is not aliue, but is dead.

And when Aháb heard that Nabóth was dead, he rose to go downe to the vineyard of Nabóth the Izreelite, to take possession of it.

And the worde of the Lord came vnto Eliáh the Tishbite, saying,

Arise, go downe to mete Aháb King of Israél, which is in Samaria. lo, he is in the vineyard of Nabóth, whether he is gone downe to take possession of it.

Therefore shalt thou say vnto him, Thus saith the Lord, Hast thou killed, and also gotten possession? And thou shalt speake vnto him, saying, Thus sayth the Lord, In the place where dogs licked the blood of Nabóth, shal dogs licke eué thy blood also.

And Aháb said to Eliáh, Hast thou founde me, o mineemie? And he answered, I haue founde thee: for thou hast solde thy selfe to worke wickednes in the sight of the Lord.

* Beholde, I wil bring euil vpon thee, & wil take away thy posteritie, and wil cut of from Aháb him that *pisseth against y wall, aswel him that is * shut vp, as him that is left in Israél,

And I wil make thine house like y house of Ieroboám the sonne of Nebát, & like the house of Baashá the sonne of Ahiiáh, for the prouocation wherewith thou hast prouoked, and made Israél to sinne.

And also of Iezébel spake the Lord, saying, *The dogs shal eat Iezébel, by the wall of Izreél.

The dogs shal eat him of Ahabs stocke, that dyeth in the citie: and him that dyeth in the fields, shal the foules of the ayre eat.

But there was none like Aháb, who did sell him selfe, to worke wickednes in the sight of the Lord: whome Iezébel his wife prouoked.

For he did exceedig abominably in following idoles, accordig to all that the Amorites did, whome the Lord cast out before the children of Israél.

Now when Aháb heard those wordes, he rent his clothes, and put sackcloth vpon him and fasted, and lay in sackcloth and went softly.

And the worde of the Lord came to Eliáh the Tishbite, saying,

Seest thou how Aháb is humbled before me? because he submitteth him selfe before me, I wil not bring that euil in his dayes, but in his sonnes dayes wil I bring euil vpon his house.

AND * they continued a thre yere without warre betwene Aram and Iſrael.

And in the third yere did Iehoshaphat the King of Iudah come downe to the King of Iſrael.

(Then the King of Iſrael ſaid vnto his ſeruants, Knowe ye not that Ramoth Gilead was ours, and we ſtaye, and take it not out of the hand of the King of Aram?)

And he ſaid vnto Iehoshaphat, Wilt thou go with me to battel againſt Ramoth Gilead? And Iehoshaphat ſaid vnto the King of Iſrael, I am as thou art, my people as thy people, and mine horſes as thine horſes.

Then Iehoshaphat ſaid vnto the King of Iſrael, Aſke counſel, I pray thee, of the Lord to day.

Then the King of Iſrael gathered the Prophetes vpon a foure hundreth men, and ſaid vnto them, Shal I go againſt Ramoth Gilead to battel, or ſhal I let it alone? And they ſaid, Go vp: for the Lord ſhal deliuer it into the hands of the King.

And Iehoshaphat ſaid, Is there here neuer a Prophet of the Lord more, that we might inquire of him?

And the King of Iſrael ſaid vnto Iehoshaphat, There is yet one man (Michaiiah the ſonne of Imlah) by whome we may aſke counſel of the Lord, but I hate him: for he doeth not prophetic good vnto me, but euil. And Iehoshaphat ſaid, Let not the King ſay ſo.

Then the King of Iſrael called an Eunuche, & ſaid, Call quickly Michaiiah the ſonne of Imlah.

And the King of Iſrael & Iehoshaphat the King of Iudah ſate ether of them on his throne in their apparel in the voyde place at the entring in of the gate of Samaria, and all the Prophetes propheticd before them.

And Zidkiah the ſonne of Chenaanah made him hornes of yron, & ſaid, Thus ſayth the Lord, With theſe ſhalt thou push the Aramites, vntil thou haſt conſumed them.

And all the Prophetes propheticd ſo, ſaying, Go vp to Ramoth Gilead, & prosper: for the Lord ſhal deliuer it into the Kings hand.

And the meſſenger that was gone to call Michaiiah ſpake vnto him, ſaying, Beholde now, the wordes of the Prophetes

And Michaiiah ſaid, As the Lord liueth, wharſoeuer the Lord ſayth vnto me, that wil I ſpeake.

So he came to the King, and the King ſaid vnto him, Michaiiah, ſhal we go againſt Ramoth Gilead to battel, or ſhal we leaue of? And he answered him, Go vp, & prosper: and the Lord ſhal deliuer it into the hand of the King.

And the King ſaid vnto hi, How oft ſhal I charge thee, that thou tel me nothig but that which is true in the Name of y Lord.

Then he ſaid, I ſawe all Iſrael ſcattered vpon the mountaines, as ſheep that had no ſhepherd. And the Lord ſaid, Theſe haue no maſter, let euery man returne vnto his houſe in peace.

(And the King of Iſrael ſaid vnto Iehoshaphat, Did I not tel thee, that he wolde prophetic no good vnto me, but euil.)

Againe he ſaid, Heare thou therefore y worde of the Lord. I ſawe the Lord ſit on his throne, & all the hoſte of heauen ſtoode about him on his right hand and on his left hand.

And the Lord ſaid, Who ſhal entife Ahab that he may go and fall at Ramoth Gilead? And one ſaid on this maner, and another ſaid on that maner.

Then there came forth a ſpirit, & ſtoode before the Lord, and ſaid, I wil entife him. And the Lord ſaid vnto him, Where-with?

And he ſaid, I wil go out, and be a falſe ſpirit in the mouthe of all his prophetes. Then he ſaid, Thou ſhalt entife him, & ſhalt alſo preuaile: go forth, and do ſo.

Now therefore beholde, the Lord hathe put a lying ſpirit in the mouthe of all theſe thy prophetes, and the Lord hathe appointed euil againſt thee.

Then Zidkiah y ſonne of Chenaanah came nere & ſmote Michaiiah on y cheke, and ſaid, When went the Spirit of the Lord from me, to ſpeake vnto thee?

And Michaiiah ſaid, Beholde, y ſhalt ſe in that day, when thou ſhalt go from chamber to chamber to hide thee.

And the King of Iſrael ſaid, Take Michaiiah, & cary hi vnto Amon y gouernour of y citie, and vnto Ioſh the Kings ſonne,

And ſay, thus ſayth the King, Put this man in the priſon houſe, & fede him with bread of affliction, & with water of affliction, vntil I returne in peace.

And Michaiiah ſaid, If y returne in peace, the Lord hathe not ſpoken by me. And he ſaid, Hearken all ye people.

King of Iudáh wēt vp to Ramóth Gileád.

30 And the King of Israél said to Iehoshaphát, I wil change mine apparel, and wil entre into the battel, but put thou on thine apparel. And the King of Israél changed him selfe, and went into the battel.

31 And the King of Arám commanded his two & thirtie captaines ouer his charrets, saying, Fight nether with smal, nor great, saue onely against the King of Israél.

32 And when the captaines of the charets sawe Iehoshaphát, they said, Surely it is y King of Israél, & they turned to fight against him: and Iehoshaphát cryed.

33 And when the captaines of the charets sawe that he was not the King of Israél, they turned backe from him.

34 Then a certeine man drue a bowe mightely and smote the King of Israél betwene the ioyntes of his brigádine. Wherefore he said vnto his charet man, Turne thine hád & cary me out of the hoste: for I am hurt.

35 And the battel encreased that day, and the King stode stil in his charet against the Aramites, and dyed at euen: and the blood ran out of the woude into the middes of the charet.

36 And there went a proclamatiō through out y hoste about the going downe of the sunne, saying, Euery man to his citie, and euery man to his owne countrei.

37 So the King dyed, and was broght to Samaria, & they buried y King in Samaria.

38 And one washed the charet in the poole of Samaria & the doggs licked vp his blood (& they washed his armour) accordig vnto the worde of the Lord w he spake.

39 Concerning the rest of the actes of Aháb & all that he did, & y yuorie house, which he buylt, & all the cities that he buylt, are they not written in the boke of the Chronicles of the Kings of Israél?

40 So Aháb slept with his fathers, & Ahaziáh his sonne reigned in his steade.

41 And Iehoshaphát the sonne of Asá began to reigne vpon Iudáh in the fourth yere of Aháb King of Israél.

42 Iehoshaphát was fíue and thirtie yere olde, when he began to reigne, and reigned fíue and twentie yere in Ierusalém. And his mothers name was Azubáh the daughter of Shilhí.

43 And he walked in all the wayes of Asá his father, and declined not therefrom, but did that which was right in the eyes of the Lord. Neuertheles the hie places were not taken away: for the people offred stil and burnt incense in the hie places.

44 And Iehoshaphát made peace with the King of Israél.

45 Concerning the rest of the actes of Iehoshaphát, and his worthie dedes that he did, and his battels which he foght, are they not written in the boke of the Chronicles of the Kings of Iudáh?

46 And the Sodomites, which remained in the dayes of his father Asá, he put cleane out of the land.

47 There was then no King in Edóm: the deputie was King.

48 Iehoshaphát made shippes of Tharshish to saile to Ophír for golde, but they wēt not, for the shippes were broken at Eziōn Gáber.

49 Then said Ahaziáh the sonne of Aháb vnto Iehoshaphát, Let my seruáts go with thy seruáts in y shippes. But Iehoshaphát wolde not.

50 And Iehoshaphát did slepe with his fathers, & was buryed with his fathers in the citie of Daud his father and Iehorám his sonne reigned in his steade.

51 Ahaziáh the sonne of Aháb began to reigne ouer Israél in Samaria, the seuententh yere of Iehoshaphát King of Iudáh, & reigned two yeres ouer Israél.

52 But he did euil in the sight of the Lord, and walked in the way of his father, & in the way of his mother, and in the way of Ieroboám the sonne of Nebát, which made Israél to sinne.

53 For he serued Báal and worshipped him, & prouoked the Lord God of Israél vnto wrath, according vnto all that his father had done.

a Meaning. y he was led an error, thinking that they might still sacrifice to the Lord in those places, as well as thei did before the Temple was buylt.

b In the time of this King Idumea was subiect to Iudáh & was gouerned, by whome thei of Iudáh appointed. c By Tharshish the Scripture meaneth Cilicia & all y Sea called Mediterraneum d Iosephus writeth that Ophir is in India, where the Egyptians & Arabians trafike for golde.

THE SECONDE BOKE of the Kings.

THE ARGUMENT.

This seconde boke containeth the actes of the Kings of Iudáh and Israél: to wit, of Israél, from the death of Aháb vnto the last King Hoshea, who was imprisoned by the King of Assyria, & his citie Samaria taken, & the tē tribes ly the iuste plague of God for their idolatrie & disobedience to God led into captiuitie. And also of Iudáh, frō the reigne of Iehorám sonne of Iehoshaphát vnto Zedechiá who for contemning the Lords comandement by his Prophetes, & neglecting his sundry admonitions, by famine & other meanes was taken by his enemies, sawe his sonnes moste cruelly slaine before his face, & his owne eyes put out, as the Lord had declared to him before by his Prophet Ieremie: and also by the iuste vengeance of God for contempt of his worde Ierusalém was destroyed, the Temple burnt, and he

And all his people were led away captiues into Babylon. In this booke are notable examples of Gods fauour towards those rulers and people which obey his Prophetes and imbrace his worde: and contrary wise of his plagues towards those commande weales which neglect his ministers and do not obey his commandments.

CHAP. I.

3 Ahaziah by a fall falleth sick & cōsulteth with Baalzebub. 3 He is reprov'd by Eliiah. 10 The captaines ouer fiftie were sent to Eliiah, whereof two were burnt with fire frō heauen by his prayer. 17 Ahaziah dyeth, and Iehorám his brother succedeth him.

Then Moab rebelled against Israel after the death of Aháb:

And Ahaziah fell through the lattesse window in his upper chamber which was in Samaria: so he was sicke: then he sent messengers, to whome he said, Go, & enquire of Baalzebub the god of Ekron, if I shal recover of this my disease.

Then the Angel of the Lord said to Eliiah the Tishbite, Arise, & go vp to mete the messengers of the King of Samaria, and say vnto them, Is it not because there is no God in Israel, that ye go to inquire of Baalzebub the god of Ekron?

Wherefore thus sayth the Lord, Thou shalt not come downe from the bed on which thou art gone vp, but shalt dye the death. So Eliiah departed.

And the messengers returned vnto him, to whome he said, Why are ye now returned?

And they answered him, There came a man and met vs, and said vnto vs, Go, and returne vnto the King which sent you, and say vnto him, Thus sayth the Lord, Is it not because there is no God in Israel, that thou sendest to enquire of Baalzebub the god of Ekron? Therefore thou shalt not come downe from the bed, on which thou art gone vp, but shalt dye the death.

And he said vnto them, What maner of man was he which came and met you, and tolde you these wordes?

And they said vnto him, He was an heerie man, and girded with a girdle of lether about his loynes. Then said he, It is Eliiah the Tishbite.

Therefore the King sent vnto him a captaine ouer fiftie with his fiftie men, who went vp vnto him: for beholde, he sate on the toppe of a mountaine, & he said vnto him, O man of God, the King hathe commanded that thou come downe.

But Eliiah answered, & said to the captaine ouer the fiftie, If that I be a man of God, let fyre come downe frō the heauē, and deuoure thee and thy fyrie. So fyre came downe from the heauen and deuoured him and his fiftie.

11 Againe also he sent vnto him another captaine ouer fiftie, with his fiftie. Who spake, and said vnto him, O man of God, thus the King commandeth, Come downe quickly.

12 But Eliiah answered & said vnto them, If I be a man of God, let fyre come downe from the heauen, and deuoure thee and thy fiftie. So fyre came downe from the heauen, and deuoured him and his fiftie.

13 Yet againe he sent the third captaine ouer fiftie wth his fiftie. And the third captaine ouer fiftie went vp & came, & fel on his knees before Eliiah, & besoght him, & said vnto him, O man of God, I pray thee, let my life and the life of these thy fiftie seruantes be precious in thy sight.

14 Beholde, there came fyre downe from the heauen and deuoured the two former captaines ouer fiftie with their fifties: therefore let my life now be precious in thy sight.

15 And the Angel of the Lord said vnto Eliiah, Go downe wth him, be not afraid of his presence. So he arose, and wēt downe with him vnto the King.

16 And he said vnto him, Thus saith the Lord, Because thou hast sent messengers to inquire of Baalzebub the God of Ekron, (was it not because there was no God in Israel to inquire of his worde) therefore thou shalt not come downe of the bed, on which thou art gone vp, but shalt dye the death.

17 So he dyed according to the worde of the Lord which Eliiah had spoken. And Iehorám begā to reigne in his steade, in the seconde yere of Iehorám the sonne of Iehoshaphát King of Iudáh, because he had no sonne.

18 Concerning the rest of the actes of Ahaziah, that he did, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of the Kings of Israel?

CHAP. II.

1 Eliiah deuiceth the waters with his cloke. 11 He is taken vp into heauen. 13 Elisha taketh his cloke & deuiceth Iordan. 20 The bitter and venomous waters are healed. 23 The children that mocke Elisha, are rent in pieces with beares.

And when the Lord wolde take vp Eliiah into heauē by a whirle wind, Eliiah went with Elisha from Gilgál.

Then Eliiah said to Elisha, Tary here, I pray thee: for the Lord hathe sent me to Beth-él. But Elisha said, As the Lord liueth, & as thy soule liueth, I wil not leaue thee. So they came downe to Beth-él.

And

a So that he was punished for his idolatrie after two sortes: for the Moabites, & he fel downe at a grate & was vpon his house to giue light benethe. b The Philistines, & dwelt at Ekron, worshipping this idole, & signified by god of flies, thinking that he coulde preserve them from the biting of flies: or els he was so called, because flies were increased in great abundance of the blood of sacrifices that were offered to that idole. c He sheweth that idolaters haue not the true God, for els they wolde seke to none but to him alone. d Ignorance is the mother of error and idolatrie.

e Some thinke this is meant of his garments & were rough & made of beere.

f To wit, Carmel. g He declareth what power Gods worde hathe in the mouth of his seruantes, when they threaten Gods iudgements against the wicked.

h He spake this in mockerie, & therefore provoked Gods wrath muche the more. i Measur, that God wolde shewe by effects, whether he was a true Prophet or not.

k Which benediction my selfe before God & his seruants. l That is, spare my life & let me not dye at the other mans.

m Thus the Lord giueth boldnes to his seruants they feare not the threatning of tyrants, & otherwise of them seruants are afraid to do Gods will.

n Iehoshaphat going to battle against the Syrians, made his sonne Iehorám King in the 17 yere of his reigne, and in the 18 yere, & was the seconde yere of his sonne, Iehorám & sonne of Ahaziah reigned in Israel: and in the 4. yere of this Iehorám Iehoshaphat dyed, & the kingdome of Iudáh was confirmed to his sonne.

o Which was a place where the children of Israel were circumcised: after they came out of Iordan & had bene fourtie yeres in wilderness, as Iudh. 5.

And the <sup>b</sup> children of the Prophetes that were at Beth-él, came out to Elishá, and said vnto him, Knowest thou that <sup>ŷ</sup> Lord wil take thy master from <sup>e</sup> thine head this day? And he said, Yea, I <sup>d</sup> knowe it; holde ye your peace.

Againe Eliáh said vnto him, Elishá, tary here, I pray thee: for the Lord hathe sent me to Ierichó. But he said, As <sup>ŷ</sup> Lord liueth, and as thy soule liueth, I wil not leaue thee. So thei came to Ierichó.

And the children of the Prophetes that were at <sup>e</sup> Ierichó, came to Elishá, & said vnto him, Knowest thou, that the Lord wil take thy master from thine head this day? And he said, Yea, I knowe it: holde ye your peace.

Moreover Eliáh said vnto him, Tary, I pray thee, here: for the Lord hathe sent me to Iorden. But he said, As the Lord liueth, & as thy soule liueth, I wil not leaue thee. So they went bothe together.

And fiftie men of the sonnes of the Prophetes went and stode on the other side a-farre of, and thei two stode by Iorden.

¶ Then Eliáh toke his cloke, and wrapt it together, and smote the <sup>f</sup> waters, and they were deuided hether and thether, & thei twaine went ouer on the drye land.

Now when thei were passed ouer, Eliáh said vnto Elishá, Aske what I shal do for thee before I be taken from thee. And Elishá said, I pray thee, Let thy Spirit <sup>g</sup> be double vpon me.

And he said, Thou hast asked an hard thing: yet if thou se me when I am taken from thee, thou shalt haue it so: & if not, it shal not be.

And as thei went walking and talking, beholde, there appeared a charer of fyre, and horses of fyre, and did separate them twaine. * So Eliáh went vp by a whyrlewinde into <sup>h</sup> heauen.

And Elishá sawe it, and he cryed, My father, my father, the charer of Israël, and the horsemen thereof: & he sawe him no more: and he toke his owne clothes, & rent them in two pieces.

¶ He toke vp also the cloke of Eliáh that fel from him, and returned, and stode by the banke of Iorden.

After, he toke the cloke of Eliáh, that fel from him, and smote the waters, and said, Where is the Lord God of Eliáh, and he him selfe? Againe also he smote the waters, and thei were separated this waye and that waye: and Elishá went ouer.

And when the children of the Prophetes, which were at Ierichó, sawe him on the other side, they said, <sup>i</sup> The Spirit of Eliáh doeth rest on Elishá: and they came to mete him, & fel to the grounde before him,

And said vnto him, Beholde now, there be with thy seruants fiftie strong men: let them go, we pray thee, and seke thy <sup>k</sup> master, if so be the Spirit of the Lord hathe taken him vp, and cast him vpon some mountaine, or into some valley. But he said, <sup>l</sup> Ye shal not send.

Yet they were instant vpon him, til he was ashamed: wherefore he said, Send. So thei sent fiftie mē, which soght thre daies, but founde him not.

Therefore thei returned to him, (for he taried at Ierichó) and he said vnto them, Did not I say vnto you, Go not?

¶ And the men of the citie said vnto Elishá, Beholde, we pray thee: the situation of this citie is pleasant, as thou, my lord, seest, but the water is noght, & the groude <sup>m</sup> baren.

Then he said, Bring me a newe cruse, & put salt therein. And they brought it to him.

And he went vnto the spring of the waters, and cast there <sup>n</sup> the salt, and said, Thus saith the Lord, I haue healed this water: death shal no more come thereof, nether barennes to the grounde.

So the waters were healed vntil this day, according to <sup>o</sup> ŷ worde of Elishá which he had spoken.

¶ And he wēt vp from thēce vnto Beth-él. And as he was going vp the waye, litle children came out of the citie, and mocked him, and said vnto him, Come vp, thou balde head, come vp, thou balde head.

And he turned backe, & loked on them, and <sup>p</sup> cursed them in the Name of the Lord. And two beares came out of the forest, and tare in pieces two and fourtie children of them.

So he went from thence to mount Carmél, and from thence he returned to Samaria.

5 But when Aháb was deade, the King of Moáb rebelled against the King of Israël.

6 Therefore King Iehorám went out of Samaria the same season; and nombred all Israël,

7 And went, and sent to Iehoshaphát King of Iudáh, saying, The Kíng of Moáb hathe rebelled against me: wilt thou go with me to battel against Moáb? And he answered, I wil go vp: for <sup>d</sup> I am, as thou art, my people, as thy people, and mine horses as thine horses.

8 Then said he, What way shal we go vp? And he answered, The way of the wilderness of Edóm.

9 <sup>e</sup> So went the King of Israël & the King of Iudáh, and the <sup>e</sup> King of Edóm, and when they had compassed the way seven daies, thei had no water for the hoste, nor for the cattel that followed them.

10 Therefore the King of Israël said, Alas, that <sup>y</sup> Lord hathe called these thre Kíngs, to giue them into the hand of Moáb.

11 But Iehoshaphát said, Is there not here a Prophet of the Lord, that we may inquire of the Lord by him? And one of the King of Israels seruants answered, & said, Here is Elishá <sup>y</sup> sonne of Shaphát, which <sup>f</sup> powred water on the hands of Eliáh.

12 Then Iehoshaphát said, <sup>g</sup> The worde of the Lord is with him. Therefore the King of Israël, and Iehoshaphát, and the King of Edóm went downe to him.

13 And Elishá said vnto the King of Israël, <sup>h</sup> What haue I to do with thee? Get thee to the Prophetes of thy father and to the Prophetes of thy mother. And the King of Israël said vnto him, <sup>i</sup> Naye: for the Lord hathe called these thre Kings, to giue them into the hand of Moáb.

14 Then Elishá said, As the Lord of hostes liueth, in whose sight I stand, if it were not, that I regarde the presence of Iehoshaphát the King of Iudáh, I wolde <sup>k</sup> not haue loked towarde thee, nor sene thee.

15 But now bring me a minstrel. And when the minstrel <sup>l</sup> played, the hand of the Lord came vpon him.

16 And he said, Thus saith the Lord, Make this valley ful of dýches.

17 For thus saith the Lord, Ye shal nether se winde nor se raine, yet the valley shal be filled with water, that ye may drinke, <sup>m</sup> bothe ye and your cattel, and your beastes.

18 But this is a <sup>n</sup> small thing in the sight of the Lord: for he wil giue Moáb into your hand.

19 And ye shal smite euerie strong towne and euerie chief citie, and shal sel euerie saye tre, and shal stop all the fountaines of water, and <sup>o</sup> marre euerie good field with stones.

10 And in the morning when the meat offering was offred, beholde, there came water by the way of Edóm: and the countrey was filled with water.

21 And when all the Moabites heard that the Kings were come vp to fight against them, thei gathered all that was able <sup>p</sup> to put on harness, and vpwarde, and stode in their border.

22 And thei rose early in the morning, whē the sunne arose vpō the water, & the Moabites sawe the water ouer against them, as red as blood.

23 And thei said, <sup>q</sup> This is blood: <sup>q</sup> Kings are surely slayne, and one hathe smiten another: now therefore, Moáb, to <sup>y</sup> spoile.

24 And when thei came to the hoste of Israël, the Israelites arose vp, and smote the Moabites, so that thei fled before them, but they <sup>r</sup> inuaded them, and smote Moáb.

25 And they destroyed the cities: and on all the good field euerie mā cast his stone, & filled them, & thei stopte all the fountaines of water, and felled all the good trees: onely in <sup>q</sup> Kir-haráseth left they the stones thereof: howbeit thei wēt about it with slings, and smote it.

26 And when the King of Moáb sawe that the battel was to fore for him, he toke with him seven hundredth men that drew the sword to breake through vnto the King of Edóm: but thei colde not.

27 Thē he toke his eldest sonne, that shulde haue reigned in his steade, & <sup>r</sup> offred him for a burnt offering vpon the wall: so that Israël was sore grieved, and thei departed from him, and returned to their countrey.

<sup>e</sup> The Prophet declareth hereby vnto her, that God neuer faileth to provide for his seruants, their wiues & children, if they trust in him.

5 So she departed from him, and shut the doore vpon her, and vpon her sonnes. And they brought to her, and she powred out.

6 And when the vessels were full, she said vnto her sonne, Bring me yet a vessel. And he said vnto her, There is no more vessels. And the oyle ceased.

To augment and increase in the vessels.

7 Then she came and tolde the man of God. And he said, Go, and fel the oyle, & pay them that thou art in debt vnto, and liue thou and thy children of the rest.

God here did not only promise for his seruāt, that his dōr shuld be payed, & to kepe his doctrine and prouision without flāder, but also for his wife and children. Which shuld be separate from the rest of the house, that he might more commodiously giue himselfe to study and prayers.

8 ¶ And on a time Elisha came to Shunē, & there a woman of great estimation constrained him to eat bread: and as he passed by, he turned in thether to eat bread.

9 And she said vnto her housband, Beholde, I knowe now, that this is an holie man of God that passeth by vs continually.

10 Let vs make him a little chamber, I pray thee, with wāllies, and let vs set him there a bed and a table & a stole, and a candlestick, that he may turne in thether whē he commeth to vs.

11 ¶ And on a day, he came thether and turned into the chamber, and laye therein.

12 And said to Gehazi his seruāt, Call this Shunammite: and when he called her, she stood before him.

13 Then he said vnto him, Say vnto her now, Beholde, thou hast had all this great care for vs, what shal we do for thee? Is there anie thing to be spokē for thee to the King or to the captaine of the hoste? And she answered, I dwell among mine owne people.

Thus the seruants of God are not vnthankful for the benēfits they receiue.

I am content with that that God hathē for me, and can want nothing that one cā do for another.

Gen. 17. 10.

14 Againē he said, What is then to be done for her? Then Gehazi answered, In dede she hathē no sonne, and her housband is olde.

15 Thē said he, Call her. And he called her, and she stood in the dore.

16 And he said, At this time appointed, according to the time of life, thou shalt embrace a sonne. And she said, Oh my lord, thou man of God, do not lye vnto thine handmaid.

17 So the womā conceiued, and bare a sonne at that same season, according to the time of life, that Elisha had said vnto her.

18 ¶ And when the childe was growen, it fel on a day, that he went out to his father, & to the reapers.

His head ached sore, and therefore he cryed thus.

19 And he said to his father, Mine head, mine head. Who said to his seruāt, Beare him to his mother.

20 And he toke him and brought him to his mother, & he sate on her knees til noone, and dyed.

21 Then she went vp, and layed him on the bed of the man of God, and shut the dore vpon him, and went out.

22 ¶ Then she called to her housband, and said, Send with me, I pray thee, one of the young mē & one of the asses: for I wil haste to the man of God, and come againe.

23 And he said, Wherefore wilt thou go to him to day? it is nether newe moone nor Sabbath day. And she answered, All shalbe wel.

For at such times the people were wont to resort to the Prophetes for doctrine and consolation.

2 Ebr. pract.

24 Then she saddled an asse, and said to her seruāt, Dryue, and go forward: itay not for me to get vp, except I bid thee.

25 ¶ So she went, & came vnto the man of God to mount Carmel. And whē the man of God saw her ouer against him, he said to Gehazi his seruāt, Beholde, the Shunammite.

Or, far off.

26 Runn now, I say, to mete her, and say vnto her, Art thou in helthe? is thine housband in helthe? & is the childe in helthe? And she answered, We are in helthe.

27 And when she came to the man of God vnto the mountaine, she caught him by his fete: and Gehazi went to her, to thrust her away: but the man of God said, Let her alone: for her soule is vexed within her: and the Lord hathē hid it from me, and hathē not tolde it me.

Is taken of humilitie and ioy that she had met with him.

2 Ebr. her soule is in bitterness.

28 Then she said, Did I desire a sonne of my lord? did I not say? Discerne me not.

29 Thē he said to Gehazi, Girde thy loynes, and take my staffe in thine hand, and go thy way: & if thou mete anie, salute him not: and if anie salute thee, answer him not: and lay my staffe vpon the face of the childe.

Make such speche that nothing may let thee in 5 way.

Luk. 10. 4.

30 And the mother of the childe said, As the Lord liueth, and as thy soule liueth, I wil not leaue thee. Therefore he arose, and followed her.

31 But Gehazi was gone before thē, & had layed the staffe vpon the face of the childe, but he nether spake nor heard: wherefore he returned to mete him and tolde him, saying, The childe is not waken.

32 ¶ Then came Elisha into the house, and beholde, the childe was dead, and layed vpon his bed.

33 He went in therefore, and shut the dore vpon them twaine, and prayed vnto the Lord.

34 After he went vp, and lay vpon the childe, and put his mouth on his mouth, and his eyes vpon his eyes, and his hands vpon his hands, and stretched him selfe vpon him, & the flesh of the childe waxed warme.

The like did Elisha to the widowes sonne at Sarephā. 1. King. 17. 21. and St. Paul Act. 20. to signifyng care that ought to be in them, that beare the worde of God and are distributors of the spiritual life.

r Meaning, of certaintie.

35 And he wēt from him, and walked vp and downe in the house, & went vp and spread him selfe vpon him: then the childe needed seuentimes, and opened his eyes.

36 Then he called Gehazi, and said, Call this Shunammite. So he called her, which came in vnto him. And he said vnto her, Take thy sonne.

37 And she came, and fel at his fete, and bowed her selfe to the ground, and toke vp her sonne, and went out.

38 Afterwarde Elishá returned to Gilgál, and a famine was in the land, and the childre of the Prophetes dwelt with him. And he said vnto his seruant, Set on the great pot, and see the pottage for the children of the Prophetes.

39 And one went out into the field, to gather herbes, and founde, as it were, a wilde vine, and gathered thereof wilde gourdes his garment ful, and came and shred them into the pot of pottage: for they knewe it not.

40 So they powred out for the men to eat: and when they did eat of the pottage, they cryed out, and said, O thou man of God, death is in the pot: and they colde not eat thereof.

41 Thē he said, Bring meale. And he cast it into the pot, and said, Powre out for the people, that they may eat: & there was none euil in the pot.

42 ¶ Then came a man from Baal-shalisha, and broght the man of God bread of the first frutes, euen twentie loaues of barley, & ful eares of corne in y huske. And he said, Giue vnto the people, that they may eat.

43 And his seruant answered, How shulde I set this before an hundred men? He said againe, Giue it vnto the people that they may eat: for thus sayth the Lord, They shal eat, and there shal remaine.

44 So he set it before them, and thei did eat, and left ouer, according to the worde of the Lord.

CHAP. V.

1 Naamán the Syrian is healed of his leprosie. 16 Elishá refuseth his gifts. 27 Gehaz is striken with leprosie, because he toke money, & raimēt of Naamán.

NOW was there one Naamán captaine of the hoste of the King of Arám, a great man, and honorable in the sight of his lord, because that by him y Lord had deliuered the Aramites. He also was a mightie man and valiant, but allepre.

2 And the Aramites had gone out by bandes, & had taken a litle maid of the land of Israél, and she serued Naamans wife.

3 And she said vnto her mastres, Wolde God my lord were with the Prophet that is in Samaria. he wolde soone deliuer him of his leprosie.

4 And he went in, and tolde his lord, saying, Thus and thus saith the maid that is of the land of Israél.

5 And the King of Arám said, Go thy way thether, and I wil send a letter vnto the King of Israél. And he departed, and toke with him ten talents of siluer, and six thousand pieces of golde, and ten charge of raiments,

6 And broght the letter to the King of Is-raél to this effect, Now when this letter is come vnto thee, vnderstand, that I haue sent thee Naamán my seruāt, that thou mayest heale him of his leprosie.

7 And when the King of Israél had red the letter, he rent his clothes, and said, Am I God, to kil and to giue life, that he doeth send to me, that I shulde heale a man from his leprosie? wherefore confidre, I pray you, and se how he seeketh a quarel against me.

8 But when Elishá the man of God had heard that the King of Israél had rent his clothes, he sent vnto the King, saying, Wherefore hast thou rēt thy clothes? Let him come now to me, and he shal knowe, that there is a Prophet in Israél.

9 ¶ Then Naamán came with his horses, & with his charets, and stode at the dore of the house of Elishá.

10 And Elishá sent a messenger vnto him, saying, Go and wash thee in Iordén seuen times, and thy flesh shal come againe to thee, and thou shalt be cleansed.

11 But Naamán was wroth & went away, and said, Beholde, I thought with my selfe, He wil surely come out, and stand, and call on the Name of the Lord his God & put his hand on the place, and heale the leprosie.

12 Are not Abanáh and Pharpár, riuers of Damascus, better then all the waters of Israél: may I not wash me in them, and be cleansed? So he turned, and departed in displeasure.

13 But his seruants came, and spake vnto him, and said, Father, if the Prophet had comāded thee a great thing, woldest thou not haue done it: how muche rather then, whē he saith to thee, Wash, and be cleane?

14 Then went he downe, and washed himselfe seuen times in Iordén, according to the saying of the mā of God: and his flesh came againe, like vnto the flesh of a litle childe, and he was cleane.

15 ¶ And he turned againe to the man of God, he, and all his companie, and came & stode before him and said, Beholde, now I know that there is no God in all y worlde, but in Israél: now therefore, I pray thee, take a rewarde of thy seruant.

16 But he said, As the Lord liueth (before whome I stād) I wil not receiue it. And he wolde haue constrained him to receiue it, but he refused.

17 Moreouer Naamán said, Shal there not be giue to thy seruant two mules loades of this earth: for thy seruant wil henceforth offer nether burnt sacrifice, nor offering vnto anie other god, saue vnto the Lord.

18 Herein the Lord be merciful vnto thy seruant, that when my master goeth into the house of Rimmón, to worship there, and c That is, Naamán tolde it to the King of Syria.

d To giue this as a present to the Prophet. e Ebr is his and.

e The Prophet rebuketh the King because he did not consider that God was true in his promises & therefore wolde not leaue his Church destitute of a Prophet, whose prayers he wolde heare, and to whose other shulde he haue recourse for comfort. f Many reasons murmureth, when it considereth only the signes and outward things & hath not regarde to the worke of God, which is there contained.

g This declarereth that seruants ought to reuerence and loue their masters as children their fathers, and likewise masters toward their seruants muste be affectioned as toward their children.

h So the Lord commandeth that they that receiue freely shulde giue also freely. i He seleteth his conscience willed in being present at idoles service, and therefore deliuereth God to forgive him, lest others by his example might fall to idolatrie: for as for his owne parte he couldesteth that he wil neuer serue any, but the true God.

and leaneth on mine hand, and I bowe my selfe in the house of Rimmón: when I do bowe downe, I say, in the house of Rimmón, the Lord be merciful vnto thy seruant in this point.

Vnto whome he said, Go in peace. So he departed fró him about halfe a daies iourney of grounde.

And Gehazí the seruant of Elishá the má of God said, Beholde, my master hath spared this Aramite Naamán, receiuing not those things at his hád that he broght: as the Lord liueth, I wil run after him, and take somewhat of him.

So Gehazí followed spedely after Naamán. And when Naamán sawe him running after him, he light downe from the charet to mete him, and said, Is all wel?

And he answered, All is wel: my master hath sent me, saying, Beholde, there be come to me, euen now from mounte Ephraím two yóng men of the children of the Prophetes: giue them, I pray thee, a talent of siluer, and two chäge of garmets.

And Naamán said, Yea, take two taléts: and he compelled him, and bounde two talents of siluer in two bags, with two change of garments, and gaue them vnto two of his seruants, that they might beare them before him.

And when he came to the towre, he toke them out of their háds, and layed them in the house, and sent away the men: and they departed.

Then he went in, and stode before his master. And Elishá said vnto him, Whence comest thou, Gehazí? And he said, Thy seruant went no whether.

But he said vnto him, Went not mine heart with thee when the man turned againe from his charet to mete thee? Is this a time to take money, and to receiue garments, and oliues, and vineyardes, and shepe, and oxen, and men seruants, and maid seruants?

The leprosie therefore of Naamán shal cleaue vnto thee, & to thy seede for euer. And he wét out from his presence a lepre white as snowe.

CHAP. VI.

Elishá maketh yro to swimme aboue the water. He discloseth the King of Syriacounsel to the King of Israel. Who sending certaine to take him, were kept fast in Samaria. Samaria is besieged and endureth extreme famine.

And the childre of the Prophetes said vnto Elishá, Beholde, we pray thee, the place where we dwel with thee, is to litle for vs.

Let vs now go to Iordén, that we may take thence euerie man a beame, and make vs a place to dwel in. And he answered, Go.

And one said, vouchsafe, I pray thee, to go with thy seruants. And he answered, I wil go.

So he went with them, and when they came to Iordén, they cut downe wood.

And as one was felling of a tre, the yron fel into the water: the he cryed, & said, Alas master, it was but borrowed.

And the man of God said, Where fel it? And he shewed him the place. Then he cut downe a piece of wood, and cast in thether, and he caused the yron to swimme.

Then he said, Take it vp to thee. And he stretched out his hand, and toke it.

Then the King of Arám warred against Israel and toke counsel with his seruants, and said, In suche and suche a place shal be my campe.

Therefore the man of God sent vnto the King of Israel, saying, Beware thou go not ouer to suche a place: for there the Aramites are come downe.

So the King of Israel sent to the place which the man of God tolde him, & warned him of, and saued him selfe from thence, not once, nor twise.

And the heart of the King of Arám was troubled for this thing: therefore he called his seruants and said vnto them, Wil ye not shew me, which of vs bewraith our counsel to the King of Israel?

Then one of his seruants said, None, my lord, o King, but Elishá the Prophet that is in Israel, telleth the King of Israel, euen the wordes that thou speakest in thy priuie chamber.

And he said, Go, and espie where he is, that I may send and fetch him. And one tolde him, sayig, Beholde, he is in Dothán.

So he sent thether horses, and charets, and a mightie hoste: and they came by night, and compassed the citie.

And when the seruant of the má of God arose early to go out, beholde, an hoste compassed the citie with horses and charets. Then his seruant said vnto him, Alas master, how shal we do?

And he answered, Feare not: for they that be with vs, are mo then they that be with them.

Then Elishá prayed, & said, Lord, I beseeche thee, opé his eyes, that he maie see. And the Lord opened the eyes of the seruant, & he looked, & beholde, the mountaine was ful of horses & charets of fyre round about Elishá.

So they came downe to him, but Elishá prayed vnto the Lord, & said, Smite this people, I pray thee, with blindness. And he smote them with blindness, according to the worde of Elishá.

And Elishá said vnto them, This is not the way, neither is this the citie: followe me, and I wil lead you to the man whome ye seke. But he led them to Samaria.

10 And when they were come to Samaria, Elisha said, Lord, open their eyes that they may see. And the Lord opened their eyes, and they sawe, and beholde, they were in the middes of Samaria.

11 And the King of Israël said vnto Elisha when he sawe them, My father, shalt I smite them, shalt I smite them?

12 And he answered, Thou shalt not smite them: dost thou not smite them that thou hast taken with thy sworde, & with thy bowe? but set bread and water before the, that they may eat and drinke and go to their master.

13 And he made great preparation for the: & when they had eaten & drunken, he sent them away: and they went to their master. So the bands of Aram came no more into the land of Israël.

14 But afterwarde Ben-hadad King of Aram gathered all his hoste, and went vp, & besieged Samaria.

15 So there was a great famine in Samaria: for lo, they besieged it vntil an asses head was at foure score pieces of siluer, and the fourth parte of a kab of dooues a doug at five pieces of siluer.

16 And as the King of Israël was going vpon the wall, there cryed a woman vnto him, saying, Helpe, my lord, o King.

17 And he said, Seeing the Lord doeth not succour thee, how shulde I helpe thee with the barne, or with the wine presse?

18 Also y King said vnto her, What aileth thee? And she answered, This woman said vnto me, Giue thy sonne, that we may eat him to day, and we wil eat my sonne to morowe.

19 So we sod my sonne, and did eat him: and I said to her the day after, Giue thy sonne, that we may eat him, but she hath hid her sonne.

20 And when the King had heard y wordes of the woman, he rent his clothes, (and as he went vpon the wall, the people looked, and beholde, he had sackcloth within vpon his flesh)

21 And he said, God do so to me and more also, if the head of Elisha the sone of Shaphat shall stand on him this day.

22 (Now Elisha sate in his house, and the Elders sate with him) And the King sent a man before him: but before the messenger came to him, he said to the Elders, Se ye not how this murderer hath sent to take away mine head? take hede when the messenger cometh, & shut the dore, and handle him roughly at the dore: is not the sound of his masters fete behind him?

23 While he yet talked with the, beholde, the messenger came downe vnto him, & said, Beholde, this euil cometh of y Lord: shulde I attend on the Lord any longer?

CHAP. VII.

1 Elisha prophesieth plentie of vitaille and other things to Samaria. 6 The Syrians runne away and haue no man following them. 17 The prince that wolde not beleue the worde of Elisha is troden to death.

1 Then Elisha said, Heare ye the worde of the Lord: thus saith the Lord, Tomorrow this time a measure of fine flour shalbe solde for a shekel, and two measures of barley for a shekel in the gate of Samaria.

2 Then a prince, on whose hand the King leaned, answered the man of God, and said, Though the Lord wolde make windows in the heauens, coulde this thing come to passe? And he said, Beholde, thou shalt see it with thine eyes, but y shalt not eat thereof.

3 Now there were foure leprouse men at y entering in of y gate: and they said one to another, Why sit we here vntil we dye?

4 If we say, We wil entre into the citie, the famine is in the citie, & we shal dye there: and if we sit here, we dye also. Now therefore come, and let vs fall into the campe of the Aramites: if they saue our liues, we shal liue: & if they kil vs, we are but dead.

5 So they rose vp in the twilight, to go to the campe of the Aramites: and when they were come to the vtmoste parte of the campe of the Aramites, lo, there was no man there.

6 For the Lord had caused the campe of y Aramites to heare a noise of charrets & a noise of horses, & a noise of a great armie, so y they said one to another, Beholde, the King of Israël hath hired against vs the Kings of the Hittites, & the Kings of the Egyptians to come vpon vs.

7 Wherefore they arose, and fled in the twilight, & left their tentes & their horses, & their asses, euen the campe as it was, and fled for their liues.

8 And when these lepers came to y vtmost part of the campe, they entred into one tent, and did eat and drinke, and caried thence siluer and golde, and raiment, and went and hid it: after they returned, and entred into another tent, & caried thence also, and went, and hid it.

9 Then said one to another, We do not wel: this day is a day of good tidings, and we holde our peace. if we tary til day light, some mischief wil come vpon vs. Now therefore come, let vs go, and tel the Kings householde.

10 So they came, & called vnto the porters of the citie, & tolde the, saying, We came to the campe of the Aramites, & lo, there was no man there, nether voyce of man, but horses

r So the wicked fall into a rage & desperation, if they finde not some remedie against their afflictions.

e For it was commanded in the Lawe that they shulde dwell apart, not among the brethren, Leui. 13. 46.

f Thus God nedeth no great preparation to destroy the wicked, though they be neuer so many for he can scatter them with a small noise or shaking of a leaf.

Or, we shalbe put to shame.

horses tyed and asses tyed: and the tentes are as they were.

11 And the porters cryed and declared to the Kings house within.

12 Then the King arose in the night, and said vnto his seruants, <sup>b</sup> I wil shewe you now, what the Aramites haue done vnto vs. They knowe that we are affamished, therefore they are gone out of the campe to hide them selues in the field, saying, When thei come out of the citie, we shal catche them aliue, and get into the citie.

13 And one of his seruants answered, and said, Let men take now fiue of the horses that remaine, & are left in the citie, (beholde, they are euen as all the multitude of Israël that are left therein: beholde, <sup>c</sup> say, they are as the multitude of the Israelites that are consumed) & we wil send to se.

14 So they toke two charets of horses, and the King sent after the hoste of the Aramites, saying, Go and se.

15 And they went after them vnto Iordén, and lo, all the way was full of clothes and vessels which the Aramites had cast from them in their haste: & the messengers returned, and tolde the King.

16 Then the people went out and spoiled the campe of the Aramites: so a measure of fine floure was at a shekel, and two measures of barley at a shekel <sup>d</sup> according to y<sup>e</sup> worde of the Lord.

17 And the King gaue the prince (on whose hand he leane) the charge of the gate, & the people trode vpon him in the gate, and he dyed, as the man of God had said, which spake it, when the King came downe to him.

18 And it came to passe, as the man of God had spoken to the King, sayig, Two measures of barley at a shekel and a measure of fine floure shalbe at a shekel, tomorrowe about this time in the gate of Samaria.

19 But the prince had answered the man of God, and said, Though the Lord wolde make windowes in the heauen, colde it come so to passe? And he said, Beholde, y<sup>e</sup> shalt se it with thine eies, but thou shalt not eat thereof.

20 And so it came vnto him: for the people trode vpon him in the gate, and he dyed.

<sup>k</sup> Then spake Elisha vnto the woman, whose sonne he had restored to life, saying, Vp, and go, thou, and thine house, and sojourne where thou canst sojourne: for the Lord hath called for a famine, & it cometh also vpon the land seven yeres.

2 And the woman arose, and did after the saying of the man of God, and went bothe she & her housholde and sojourned in the land of the Philistims seven yeres.

3 And at the seven yeres end, the woman returned out of the land of the Philistims and went out <sup>b</sup> to call vpon the King for her house and for her land.

4 And the King talked with Gehazi the seruāt of the man of God, saying, Tel me, I pray thee, all the great actes, that Elisha hath done.

5 And as he tolde <sup>c</sup> the King, how he had restored one dead to life, beholde, the woman, whose sonne he had raised to life, called vpon the King for her house & for her land. Then Gehazi said, My lord, o King, this is the woman, and this is her sonne, whome Elisha restored to life.

6 And when the King asked the womā, she tolde him: so the King appointed her an Eunuche, saying, Restore thou all that are hers, and all the <sup>d</sup> frutes of her landes since y<sup>e</sup> day she left the land, eue vntil this time.

7 Then Elisha came to Damascus, & Benhadad the King of Arām was sicke. & one tolde him, saying, The man of God is come hether.

8 And the King said vnto Hazaél, Take a present in thine hand, and go mete the man of God, that thou maiest inquire of the Lord by him, saying, Shal I recouer of this disease?

9 So Hazaél went to mete him, and toke the present in his hand, and of euerie <sup>e</sup> good thing of Damascus, euen the burden of fourty camels, and came and stode before him, and said, Thy sonne Benhadad King of Arām hath sent me to thee, saying, Shal I recouer of this disease?

10 And Elisha said to him, Go, & say vnto him, Thou shalt recouer: howbeit y<sup>e</sup> Lord hath shewed me, that he shal surely dye.

11 And he looked vpon him stedfastly til Hazaél was ashamed, and the man of God wept.

12 And Hazaél said, Why wepeth my lord? And he answered, Because I knowe the euil that thou shalt do vnto the children of Israël: for their strong cities shalt thou set on fyre, and their yōg men shalt thou slay with the sword, and shalt dash their infants against the stones, & rent in pieces their women with childe.

13 Then Hazaél said, What is thy seruāt a dog, that I shulde do this great thing? And Elisha answered, The Lord hath shewed me, y<sup>e</sup> thou shalt be King of Arām.

14 So he departed from Elisha, and came to his master, who said to him, What said Elisha to thee? And he answered, He tolde me that thou shuldest recouer.

27 And he walked in the way of the house of Aháb, and did euil in the sight of the Lord, like the house of Aháb: for he was the sonne in lawe of the house of Aháb.

28 And he went with Iorám the sonne of Aháb to warre against Hazaél King of Arám in <sup>p</sup> Ramóth Gileád, and the Aramites smote Iorám.

29 And King Iorám returned to be healed in <sup>q</sup> Izreél of the wounds which the Aramites had giuen him at Ramáh, when he fought against Hazaél King of Arám. And Ahaziáh the sonne of Iehorám King of Iudáh went downe to se Iorám the

CHAP. IX.

1 Then Elishá the Prophet called one of the children of the Prophetes, and said vnto him, * Girde thy loynes and take this boxe of oyle in thine hand, and get thee to Ramóth Gileád.

2 And when thou comest thether, loke where is Iehú the sonne of Iehoshaphát, the sonne of Nimshi, and go, and make him arise vp from among his brethren, & lead him <sup>r</sup> to a secret chamber.

3 Then take the boxe of oyle, and powre it on his head, & say, Thus sayeth the Lord, I haue anointed thee for King ouer Israël. then open the dore, and flee without anie tarying.

4 So the seruant of the Prophet gate him to Ramóth Gileád.

5 And when he came in, beholde, the captaines of the armie were sitting. And he said, I haue a message to thee, <sup>o</sup> captaine. And Iehú said, Vnto which of all vs? And he answered, To thee, <sup>o</sup> captaine.

6 And he arose, and went into the house, and he powred the oyle on his head, and said vnto him, Thus saith the Lord God of Israël, I haue <sup>b</sup> anointed thee for King ouer the people of the Lord, <sup>euen</sup> ouer Israël.

7 And thou shalt smite the house of Aháb thy master, that I may auenge the blood of my seruants the Prophetes, & the blood of all the seruants of the Lord * of the hand of Iezébel.

8 For the whole house of Aháb shall be destroyed: and * I wil cut of from Aháb, him that maketh water against the wall, as wel him that is shut vp, as him that is left in Israël.

9 And I wil make the house of Aháb like the house * of Ieroboám the sonne of Nebát, & like the house * of Baashá the sonne of Ahíah.

10 And the dogs shall eat Iezébel in the field of Izreél, and there shall be none to burye her. And he opened the dore, and fled.

11 ¶ Then Iehú came out to the <sup>e</sup> seruants of his lord. And one said vnto him, Is all wel? wherefore came this <sup>d</sup> mad fellowe to thee? And he said vnto them, Ye knowe the man, and what his talke was.

13 Then they made haste, and toke euerie man his garment, and put it vnder him on the top of the staires, and blew the trumpet, saying, Ichú is King.

14 So Ichú the sonne of Iehoshaphát the sonne of Nimshí cōspired against Iorám (Now Iorám kept Ramóth Gileád, he & all Israhel because of Hazaél Kíng of Arám.

15 And * King Iorám returned to be healed in Izreel of the woundes, which the Aramites had giuen him, when he foght with Hazaél King of Arám, and Ichú said, If it be your mindes, let no man departe and escape out of the citie, to go & tel in Izreel.

18 So there went one on horse backe to mete him, and said, Thus saith the King, Is it peace? And Ichú said, What hast thou to do with peace? turne behinde me. And the watchman tolde, saying, The messenger came to them, but he commeth not againe.

19 Then he sent out another on horsebacke, which came to them, and said, Thus saith the King, Is it peace? And Ichú answered, What hast thou to do with peace? turne behinde me.

20 And the watchman tolde, saying, He came to them also, but commeth not againe, and the marching is like the marching of Ichú the sonne of Nimshí: for he marcheth furiously.

21 Then Iehorám said, Make readie: and his charet was made readie. And Iehorám King of Israhel and Ahaziáh King of Iudáh went out ether of them in his charet against Ichú, and met him in the field of Nabóth the Izreelite.

22 And when Iehorám sawe Ichú, he said, Is it peace, Ichú? And he answered, What is peace? the whoe domes of thy mother Iezébel, and her witchcraftes, are yet in great number.

23 Then Iehorám turned his hand, & fled, and said to Ahaziáh, O Ahaziáh, there is treason.

24 But Ichú toke a bowe in his hand, and smote Iehorám betwene the sholders, that the arrowe went through his heart: and he fel downe in his charet.

25 The said Ichú to Bidkár a captaine, Take, & cast him in some place of the field of Nabóth the Izreelite: for I remember that when I and thou rode together after Aháb his father, the Lord layed this burden vpon him.

26 * Surely I haue sene yesterday the blood of Nabóth, and the blood of his sonnes, said the Lord, and I wil render it thee in this field, saith the Lord: now therefore take and cast him in the field, according to the worde of the Lord.

28 And his seruants caryed him in a charet to Ierusalem, & buried him in his sepulchre with his fathers in y<sup>e</sup> citie of Dauid.

29 And in the * eleventh yere of Iorám the sonne of Aháb, begā Ahaziáh to reigne ouer Iudáh.
